Editorial

THE SCROLL resumes publication after the usual four-month summer period of inaction. During this time the sons of Phi Delta Theta have brought further glory to her name. As stated elsewhere in this issue, we have a new United States Senator in the person of Thomas T. Connally, Texas, '00, who was returned winner in the recent Texas primary. He will make the fourth Phi representative in the Senate, which we think is an enviable record for one fraternity to hold.

In addition the summer has brought forth the announcement of three new Phi college presidents. They are: the President of the General Council, Dr. John J. Tigert, Vanderbilt, '04, elected to head the University of Florida; Dr. Edmund D. Soper, Dickinson, '98, of Ohio Wesleyan University, and the Reverend King Vivion, Southern Methodist, '16, of Southwestern University. The announcement that Phis are continuing to take a prominent part in the academic field is very heartening as we feel that there can be no more honored recognition of the educated man.

The congratulations of the fraternity at large go out to these brothers and to the chapters which helped train them to take these positions.

The new assistant editor of THE SCROLL is Russell H. Fitzgibbon, Hanover, '94, who will, for the present, look after the alumni section of the magazine and try to build it up to the point that it ought to be within the limits of the space permitted by our present budget.

We do not know a Phi with a more genuine interest in his fraternity than Brother Fitzgibbon. This interest is not one which bubbles over at banquets and meetings, only to subside in the interim. It is an every-day interest which goes through his entire life. He is one of those Phis who can be counted on to serve the fraternity in any way he can at any time, even at the sacrifice of his own personal affairs. Such a man was the late Walter B. Palmer and such men does it require to keep Phi Delta Theta in the position that it must maintain.

You can help Brother Fitzgibbon and The Scroll greatly by sending him items of interest concerning the alumni. His address is Hanover College, Hanover, Indiana, where he is a member of the faculty.

On June 16 there was held in Chicago the Midwest Regional Conference of the College Fraternity Editors' Association. An innovation was the inviting of the editors from that section representing the professional fraternities and the sororities, several of whom were present.

There were two committees appointed at the conference: one to arrange for the next year's meeting and also to plan for a large gathering of fraternity people in Chicago during the World's Fair of 1933. This is composed of Dr. Francis W. Shepardson, Beta Theta Pi, Chester W. Cleveland, Sigma Chi, and Mrs. Wilma Smith Leland, Alpha Omicron Pi.

The other committee composed of Dr. George Starr Lasher, Theta Chi, Harrold P. Flint, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Amy O. Parmelee, Delta Delta Delta, was requested to "prepare and circulate suggestions to editorial staffs for the development of a general educational policy throughout the Greek publication world." The committee has announced that it is not its idea to dictate the editorial policy of the publications, but that because the Greek-letter magazines have great potential power in helping to improve conditions that exist on college campuses it feels that if the various publications treat similar topics simultaneously it might "build up a consensus that will be an important factor in solving the problems."

The subjects follow:

Should fraternity and sorority chapters actively discourage various forms of intellectual dishonesty prevalent on college campuses, such as cheating in examinations, handing in term papers or daily assignments that are not legitimately prepared by the students who hand them in, and getting more able "brothers" or "sisters" to write final examinations in large classes where such deception is possible? Should chapters maintain files of term papers, themes, notebooks, reports, etc., that have won high grades so that such material may serve as "inspiration" for brothers or sisters who are weak scholastically, or too busy with campus affairs to meet their classroom obligations completely? All will agree that the ideal is a campus on which it is "simply not the thing" to countenance any form of intellectual dishonesty. Could fraternities and sororities by concerted action help in the achievement of that ideal and thereby do a great service to the educational institutions of which they are a part?

Should fraternity houses be permitted to be the center of gambling? Alumni and friends of members as well as actives sometimes furnish money to be wagered on athletic contests. Often there is a considerable sum placed upon a contest by chapters representing the opposing colleges, and bitterness not infrequently results. Poker games in which alumni and actives participate, and sometimes outsiders, are often played in chapter houses. Occasionally one hears of chapters accused of fleecing guests because guests in the house lost money in poker games.

Should fraternities and sororities attempt to discipline chapters in whose houses liquor laws are violated, even in cases where there has been no publicity? Should alumni be held strictly responsible for their part in the violation of liquor laws?

alumni be held strictly responsible for their part in the violation of liquor laws?

Should a campaign be waged against paddling, disgusting, sometimes obscene practices, and humiliating experiences, as a part of freshman training and the pre-initiatory program? Should all forms of public initiation and public pre-initiatory activities be thoroughly discouraged as beneath the dignity of college Greek-letter organizations?

The need for further education on the subject of asinine initiation stunts is further brought home by the recent tragedy at the University of Texas. The life of another American boy has been taken because a fraternity chapter persisted in continuing a vicious, senseless, unmanly custom. In addition to the death of the boy, the old sore spot has been reopened between the regents of the University of Texas and the fraternity system. The authorities at Texas have never been particularly sympathetic with the Greeks. Instead of working with the fraternities they have merely tolerated them and there have been unfriendly bills introduced in the legislature on more than one occasion.

A newspaper clipping says of the present situation:

Former Federal Judge R. L. Batts of Austin, a member of the board of regents and author of the resolution which asked the faculty committee to determine if all "boarding" Greek-letter organizations should be eliminated as rapidly as dormitories can be provided for students, vigorously criticized the fraternity system as it now exists. The judge is a fraternity man himself as are all but two of the other members of the board.

The regents indicated the McElroy case in itself did not necessarily furnish the basis for criticism of fraternities, but that it had served to bring out an under-current of sentiment in the board against them.

Isn't a general program of education in order? Is it right that Phi Delta Theta lose a splendid chapter because of the indiscretion of a chapter of another fraternity? We do not mean to hold our own chapters up as models; we are simply using one case as an example. Unfortunately there are still chapters of Phi Delta Theta where a tragedy like that in Texas can still happen and we call upon those chapters here and now to cease the continuance of their barbarous adjuncts to initiation. They have no right to make the entire system suffer for their foolishness.

Several lessons might be drawn from two letters received recently by Brother Karl Zwick of Oxford, Ohio. An alumnus of Ohio Alpha had written him asking about the amount of the notes he yet owed on a house pledge, explaining that he had been in bed for thirty months past due to a war disability. Brother Zwick replied offering to recommend cancellation of the notes if payment of them would work any hardship. The alumnus wrote back that he desired very much to make the payments as specified. He explained that early in 1925 it had been necessary for him to quit work entirely due to a tubercular vertebra, that for seventeen months he was in a plaster cast, that even yet he is allowed only very brief periods of exercise, that he must wear a steel back brace and special shoes. But, "I'm feeling fine," he wrote, "and am truly thankful for being alive and able to look forward to some years of usefulness."

It is perhaps trite to say it, but with a spirit like that of this young Ohio Alpha alumnus in the breasts of thirty thousand Phis, what could our Fraternity not go on to accomplish?

The SCROLL carries elsewhere a news item concerning Howard K. Lewis, Idaho, '08, who was just recently promoted from Lieutenant Commander to the rank of Commander in the United States Navy. Whether or not "geographical determinism" is any important factor in ordaining the concentration of talent is a question which might well be left for some Phi research worker, but it is worthy of note that this same University of Idaho chapter has now produced its second Commander in the Navy, that it has at least two majors in the army, a prominent Congressman from the Northwest, and the chief justice of the Idaho Supreme Court, among other luminaries. As a prominent official of the Fraternity said: "If any chapter has justified its establishment it is Idaho Alpha."

BUTLER UNIVERSITY MOVES

By Russell Townsend, Butler, '31

CEPTEMBER 17 marked the dawn of a new era in the progress and development of Butler University of Indianapolis, for on that day the school opened its doors on the new Fairview campus. For the past fiftyseven years classes have met in the old buildings in Irvington, a suburb in the eastern part of the city, but on account of the rapid expansion of the university, the board of directors in 1923 decided to seek a new location. The necessity of a large tract of land, on which the school might expand, was apparent, and after careful consideration the directors purchased Fairview Park from the Indianapolis Street Railway Company.

Fairview, a beautiful tract of two

Fairview, a beautiful tract of two hundred and fifty acres in the northern section of the city, offers an ideal location for Butler. Through its years of service as a park, the trees and gardens are in excellent condition and even now the new campus is one of beauty. The historic Indianapolis canal borders the grounds on the western side and Sunset Avenue on the eastern. The campus extends from Forthy-fourth Street to Fifty-second Street, and the residential district surrounding is one of the finest in the

The architects for the university have made full use of the beauty of the surroundings to enhance the artistic beauty of the new school. A definite plat of all the buildings, present and future, has been made, so that Butler will probably be the best planned school in the state, having the advantage of a specific building plan.

The Arthur Jordan Memorial Building, first unit of the new Butler, was started in 1927, and was completed for the opening of school this fall. Thomas Hibben, nationally known architect. made an exhaustive study of university buildings in America and also in Europe before deciding on a plan for the Butler buildings, and the accepted plan has evoked the highest commendations from leading architects and builders throughout the country. The dormitories, science buildings. chapel, and all other structures have the same plan and style of architecture. Carolina granite and Indiana limestone have been used exclusively in the Jordan building, which accommodates 2,500 students.

Within the past few years, Butler has become affiliated or associated with several institutions in Indianapolis. In addition to the College of Liberal Arts, the university is affiliated with the Metropolitan School of Music, The John Herron Art Institute, Indiana College of Music and Fine Arts, The Teachers' College of Indianapolis, and the Claire Ann Shover Nursery School. The College of Missions of the Churches of Christ and the Indiana Law School are associated with Butler University. Dr. Robert J. Aley is president of Butler University.

The athletic department of the school is now housed in its new plant. The Butler field house is the largest structure also houses the largest swimming pool in the state. Several practice basketball floors and gym floors are in the field house.

Adjoining the field house is the huge Butler bowl. The stadium is located in a natural ampitheater, and at the present time accommodates 35,000 spectators. When completed, 70,000 seats will be available. The

The Indiana High School Athletic Association leased the building for a period of ten years in order to provide a place for the annual state high school basketball tournament, the greatest event of its kind in the country. The first tourney was held in the latter part of March, and 17,000 spectators were easily seated. The first game will be held on October 13 with Franklin, Illinois University will play Butler in the dedicatory contest.

While the university has been building, the Greek-letter organizations have not been idle. Practically every fraternity and sorority has inaugurated a building campaign and has purchased lots in either fraternity or sorority row. $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ has been among the foremost in planning a new chapter house, and as the first fraternity installed at Butler (1859) it had the first choice in selecting a lot. The ground bought by Indiana Gamma is the very axis of the entire fraternity row and is on a corner location.

Plans have been made and contracts awarded for the new house. The same architect who designed the university structures was employed to design the first floor will contain two large living-rooms which may be combined into one for dances and social events, an office room, matron's room and guest room with adjoining baths, and a large linen closet. The second floor provides for ten bedrooms, each for two men, with two closets in each room. Four bedrooms of the same size will be located on the third floor,

Indiana Gamma is indebted to the whole-hearted support of the alumni of the chapter, which has made the new house possible. The Mothers' Club has very generously contributed time, funds, and unequalled interest in the new home, and the active chapter has worked diligently to meet the Lovers of music will be interested to know that the "Phi Delta Theta Dream Girl," a song with Uke arrangement by Jack Stone and Fred Thompson of Montgomery, Alabama, has been recorded by the Columbia Record people and is now on sale. The record is played by Jan Garber and sung by Seeger Ellis.

This song was published in 1927 and dedicated to Alabama Alpha Chapter, Phi Delta Theta. The publishers are the Stone-Thompson Company, Shepherd Building, Montgomery, Alabama. Any chapter that has not tried out the music will be interested in ordering a copy since it appeared too late to be included in the last song book.

THE BEGINNINGS OF MAINE ALPHA

By RICHARD ALSTON METCALF, A.B., A.M., L.H.D., Colby, '86

PORTY-SIX years ago this fall a banded themselves together as the nucleus of a local literary club called Legonia. There were at the time three chapters of national Greek letter fraternities at Colby, A K E, Z W, and Δ Y. The last named was known as a non-secret fraternity. The other two were, of course, "secret." The male students who were not members of any of these fraternities were called neuters.

It was the writer's understanding that the "barbarians" remained barbarian chiefly by virtue of their nonsocial proclivities. But it was conspicuously evident that the nuclei of Legonia were of the herding variety of the genus homo. The writer can bear witness to the truth that some thirteen of them, if not all, received, bids from the established fraternities. There were, therefore, other reasons than the cost of joining one of them that prevented them from doing so. Even the freshmen, sometimes, are able to exercise discretion and discrimination. If the writer, for example, had chosen to accept his inheritance, he would have joined one of those fraternities, for no other reason than the fact that two of his uncles had been fratres in it,-one at Colby and the other at Bowdoin.

So good a number of congenial spirits composed the new society that accretions of the most desirable character were secured from the classes of 1886 and 1887. Respectability and solidarity characterized that group of fourteen men who in the spring of 1884 petitioned for a charter from the Φ Δ Θ Fraternity. The classes which contributed to the membership of Legonia up to the time that it was metamorphosed into Maine Alpha of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ were as follows: '83, one; '84, two; '85, two; '86, five; '87, four. Of these fourteen charter members all but three are living. One, Rufus Moulton, '84, died shortly after receiving his M.D. from the Harvard Medical College, Edward Fuller, '85, who was indisputably the most brilliant poet, wit, and scholar of his generation in Colby, also died a few years after graduation. The third man to die was Henry Atherton Smith, '86, who received his M.D. from Bowdoin in 1890. Harry was one of the most conscientious boys in college. To please his mother he faithfully adhered to her request that he would daily enter in a notebook the gist of his assigned reading. Harry also rode a high wheeled bicycle-the only one seen on the Colby campus. So he was quite up among his confreres. In spite of his handi-

Woodman Bradbury, A.B., D.D., man to win the summa cum laude graduating honor, is the professor of homiletics, Newton Theological Institution. Everett Edwin Burleigh, A.B., '87, is a prominent engineer at Houlton, Maine. Walter Bates Farr, A.B., A.M., LL.B. (Harv.), '87, is a consulting attorney-at-law in Boston. William Franklin Watson, A.B., A.M., Sc.D., '87, devotes his abilities to writing and lecturing, after having been a college professor for many years. He lives at Athens, Georgia. The blessings of strength of character as well as of robust physique appear to have been the guardian angels of these charter men.

In addition, the catalogue of the fraternity also records the names of the initiates from the classes of 1883, 1884, 1885, 1886, and 1887. From '83 came Horace Getchell Gates, A.B., M.D., for many years the leading surgeon of Los Angeles, now dead; Benjamin Jason Hinds, A.B., A.M., master of the Washington School, Boston, Massachusetts; Charles Edward Tilton, A.B., A.M., who up to the time of his death a few years ago was superintendent of the Bangor, Maine, schools. From '85 came Frederick Barton, A.B., who practiced law in Massachusetts, I have understood, and then retired to a well-earned period of ease at his home in Sidney, Maine. From '86 one more man was accepted, Irving Townsend, A.B., who became a prominent superintendent of schools in California, his adopted state. From '87 there were four more splendid fellows,--Orris Lyford Beverage, A.B., A.M., a school principal at Dorchester. Massachusetts, now dead; Frederick Raymond Bowman, A.B., M.D., (Harvard) a practicing physician of Boston; Preston Burleigh, A.B., a prominent engineer at Houlton, Maine, and Roscoe William Harvey, A.B., a business man of Augusta, Maine, his native town.

In the April, 1884, Scroll appeared the following editorial comment which announced to the Greek-letter world the birth of Maine Alpha:

Just before going to press with this form we learn that Maine Alpha at Colby University, Waterville, Maine, was chartered on March 22. The charter members are fourteen in number, and all, we learn, are of excellent standing in college. They have been oganized as a local society called "Legonia" for two years, and they will be initiated into Φ Δ θ by Brother Bassett before this reaches our readers. We assure this far eastern chapter that it is warmly welcomed into the fraternity. Our best wishes are with it. We expect a full report from it for our next issue.

The first chapter report that I can find was published in the November, 1884, Scroll. It was written by Edward Fuller who was then a senior. It ran as follows:

The little band way down among the pine trees has been through the fight, and come off with victorious colors. On Friday night, October 10, occurred the initiation and banquet, when one alumnus (a former member of Legonia), and five freshmen took the oath of fidelity to the Bond of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$. At midnight all adjourned to the dining hall of the Williams House, where a bountiful banquet was in waiting. Every face was beaming; every eye was bright. The charter members looked into each others' eyes with a glance that said plainer than words, "Our fondest hope is realized, and Maine Alpha of Φ Δ Θ is an assured success."

The seniors saw that the interest of the chapter would be left in willing, zealous hands and hearts, and the initiates saw and felt the bond of friendship entwining each heart and uniting all into an eternal circle. At the right of the toastmaster sat Brother H. W. Bell, of Vermont Alpha, who had come over into Maine to be present at the joyful occasion and to remain in our midst until the following week. This visit will be long remembered with pleasure, and Maine Alpha will always welcome his with joy, and herewith sends an invitation to the whole chapter.

Bottom Row—Lufkin, Sansone, Towne, Stiegler, McCroary, Grearson, Fiedler, Bernhardt, Ricci. MAINE ALPHA, COLBY COLLEGE ACTIVE CHAPTER, 1927-28

At the close of the banquet, the following toasts were responded to:

"Greeting-De Amicitia," Charles Carroll. '85.

"Our Initiates-Dextram," W. F. Wat-

"Phi Delta Theta—From Sea to Sea," George E. Googins, '86.

"Old Colby—Fond Memories 'Round Thee Twine," W. E. Frentz, '86.

"The Bond—The Sword and Shield; The White and Blue; Go Forth, Protect, Be Just and True," W. Bradbury, 87.

Brother Carroll will be prophet next commencement, and was elected as one of the two business editors of the Oracle.

Your reporter is again the poet of the class and is also toastmaster.

Brother Smith, '86, has won a junior part in the coming senior exhibition.

Brother Googins, '86, orator last year, was re-elected, and, by the way, he delivered the Fourth of July oration in his native town.

Brother Bruce, '86, is at home this term, but will come in again in the winter. The reporter is the delegate to Nashville, October 15, 1884—EDWARD FULLER.

Thus were the foundations of Maine Alpha auspiciously laid. The hearts of the charter members still throb with pride over their adoption by the grandest of the college fraternities and their parent-interest in the welfare of the chapter which they nourished and disciplined while they were in college is still at high water mark.

TAU PROVINCE INITIATES' CONVENTION

By Robert St. Clair, Idaho, '30

DAHO ALPHA CHAPTER at the 1 University of Idaho entertained delegates of Tau province at the first initiates' convention to be held in the province. The convention was held May 20, 1928, at the Idaho chapter house, with delegates attending from Montana Alpha, Washington Beta, Washington Gamma, and Idaho Alpha. The convention was honored by the presence of our executive secretary, Arthur R. Priest, De Pauw, '91, of Oxford, Ohio, and also by E. E. Ruby, Indiana, '97, Dean at Whitman Col-Walla Walla, Washington. Brother Ruby is president of Tau province.

The convention started Sunday morning, May 20, with Brother Ruby presiding. Brother St. Clair of Idaho Alpha was named to act as secretary of the meeting. Brother Ruby opened the meeting with a short address in which he congratulated Idaho Alpha and Idaho's system of courtesy and of handling of freshmen. He stated that the purpose of the meeting was to bring about closer relations between chapters in the province and to examine the Idaho system of taking care of freshmen, along with such important matters as scholarship.

Brother Ruby's talk was followed by a short address of welcome to the delegates by Burton L. Moore, president of Idaho Alpha. He extended, on behalf of the chapter, greetings to the delegates and placed the chapter at their disposal.

Harry Jones, Idaho Alpha, outlined, in his talk, the career of a man during his four-year life at the chapter house. He started with rushing, showing that the Idaho system of rushing gives the freshman a chance to see Idaho Alpha as it is every day without the chapter attempting to put on a front for the rushing days. He discussed the matter of discipline for freshmen stating that Idaho holds its freshmen down as closely as possible. He told of Idaho's system of instructing pledges so that they are made acquainted with university affairs, heads of schools and colleges, and given instruction in the $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ fraternity. The regular duties of the pledges are carried on each day, these duties including housework and general around the work Pledges at Idaho are instructed to place the university ahead of the fraternity when it comes to most things related to campus life, Jones said. At the end of the first semester, or just prior to initiation, pledges of Idaho Alpha are required to pass an examination covering the things studied during the year. A passing grade is required before the pledge may be initiated.

Brother Jones told the delegates of Idaho's "Scrapping" system, which is one of the methods used to correct faults of various members of the chapter. "Scrapping" is done during the final roll call and only constructive criticisms are allowed. Freshmen are scrapped after regular meetings by any member of the chapter, preferably upperclassmen, however, while scrapping during meetings is done by upperclassmen. Use of the paddle as a means of discipline was brought out as one of the devices employed by Idaho upperclassmen.

The life of the pledge, and on through the remaining three years of college life was then discussed by Jones. He suggested to the upperclassmen present that "by commanding the respect of the freshmen, we can better our fraternity."

Brother Romer Teller, Idaho Alpha freshman, in a short talk, gave his impressions of the effect of the system employed in handling freshmen. He said that "the only flaw in the routine of instructing freshmen is that it is too just." Open discussion followed and views on various systems used in the province were aired. Brother Priest participated in the discussion and brought out that the main fault with the average freshman is that he becomes discouraged too easily. He indicated many ways of strengthening those who become discouraged. Members of the chapter can exert the proper effort and be the cause of some discouraged freshman staging a real "come back," Priest said. In this connection, Ruby said that upperclassmen must set the example, if they expect the freshmen to become good Phis. "Fundamentally, personal esteem is based upon mutual respect," he said.

Ted Turner, Idaho, '25', now assistant dean of men at Idaho, gave a talk on selecting Phi Delt material. In looking over rushees, we should place the family foremost, he said, with personal merits second and scholarship third. He proposed giving the "down but never out" high school boys a chance in college. He suggested the fraternity as a means of guiding these boys to success. In closing he said: "Remember that everything is not on the surface when judging rushees."

Brother Priest, in the principal talk of the meeting, opened his address by discussing the national officers and their accomplishments. He paid them a just tribute when he told of their tactfulness, sincerity and loyalty to $\Phi \Delta \Theta$. He also praised the survey commission and its work. He said that it is gratifying to know that we belong to that organization in which everyone is striving to contribute something for its benefit and general Brother Priest, in giving welfare. various opinions of outsiders on the workings of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, said that, "it is one of the most thought of organizations in the United States and that one who wears the pin of Φ Δ Θ cannot lose."

Brother Priest took the convention back to the first meetings of our founders at Miami University. In a few words he sketched a picture of these distinguished gentlemen. In summing up his talk, Priest instructed the freshmen to go into the world as good Phi Delts and live up to the principles which they have been taught, and to make people realize that $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ is something more than just a college organization. Brother Priest then gave the delegates instruction in the secret and unwritten work of the fraternity.

After a short discussion the meeting adjourned, following the ritualistic form

At twelve-thirty o'clock that afternoon the delegates were the guests of Idaho Alpha at a banquet in the chapter house. Ted Turner acted as toastmaster. Two important talks were given at the banquet, one by Brother Priest and the other by Mark Bradford, Whitman, '28,

Brother Bradford talked on "How Best to Handle Freshmen." He appealed to the freshmen to keep their heads up. "That," he explained, "makes the fresh material in a chapter ready for active work when it becomes more deeply interested in $\Phi \Delta \Theta$." He stressed the fact that $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ tends to send "polished gentlemen" out into the world, and freshmen should get as much out of college and the fraternity as possible. "A man can regard his fraternity as an eating establishment or he can regard it as a true home based upon lasting friendships," he said. "The strength of the wolf is the pack, but the strength of the pack is the wolf," Brother Bradford brought out, indicating that men make the fraternity, but the fraternity is typified by its men!

Brother Priest then magnified Brother Bradford's remarks by giving two interesting examples of freshmen who were discouraged. He ended by making that old statement that "A man may be down, but never out."

Brother Issacs, Washington Gamma and former province president, gave his report as chairman of the resolutions committee. The committee commented and thanked Idaho Alpha for making it possible to hold such a convention and went on record favoring such initiate's gatherings for each year. The report was accepted and the convention brought to a close.

PRESIDENT TIGERT GOES TO FLORIDA

By W. M. Pepper, Jr., Florida, '20

THE very busy president of the University of Florida is Dr. John James Tigert, Vanderbilt, '04, who resigned his position as United States commissioner of education to take up his new work on September 1. Broth-Tigert's appointment to succeed the late Dr. Albert Alexander Murphree, was heralded by the press of Florida and the people of the state generally as an assurance that the progressive policies instituted by Dr. Murphree would be carried on and that the institution would be able to achieve new heights under the leadership of an educator and an executive of Brother Tigert's ability.

It was considered extreme good fortune that the board of control persuaded Dr. Tigert to leave his position in Washington. A meeting with him in July, held at Jacksonville, was apparently without avail. When interviewed shortly after his arrival in Gainesville, Dr. Tigert stated that his decision to come to Florida was made only after he had thought the matter through from all angles. He stated that he finally went into the office of the secretary of the interior and told him that he "did not choose to be commissioner of education."

The University of Florida is one of the younger institutions of the country, but last year numbered twentyfive hundred young men of the state in its student body. It is not coeducational. Young women of Florida attend the Florida State College for Women located at Tallahassee, some one hundred fifty miles distant. The University, which is located at Gainesville, was founded in 1905, under the Buckman Act, which consolidated six or seven state institutions into the University and the State College for Women, Dr. Murphree, whose untimely death last December left the institution without a chief executive, came here in 1901 from Tallahassee, where he had previously headed the women's institution. At the close of the 1908-09 session there were only forty-seven students enrolled. The rapid rise in attendance, buildings and equipment was due in part to the general growth of Florida and in part to the farsightedness of Dr. Murphree. The feeling is general that Brother Tigert will lead the university as rapidly and certainly and efficiently as did Dr. Murphree.

Shortly after his arrival in Gainesville, Dr. Tigert visited the chapter house of Florida Alpha, now located about two blocks from school, on University Avenue. There he met the brothers and spent some time chatting and talking over the progress of this new chapter. He inquired as to the rushing season and seemed pleased that Florida Alpha was securing many of those men who promised to be outstanding in student activities and athletics in the class of 1932.

Brother Tigert has not yet located a residence in Gainesville and therefore has not moved his family here. He hopes to get his young son and daughter in the public schools of Gainesville as shortly after their opening September 17 as will be possible. He expressed himself to the writer as being very much pleased with Florida and its possibilities. He said that he selected this state as his future home because it is rapidly rising in economic and cultural advantages. He has already made several addresses before civic clubs in various parts of the state and plans to carry the message of education to all of its people as quickly as possible.

Because of Dr. Tigert's exceptionally fine record as an educator and because of his splendid administration of the office of United States commissioner of education during the seven years he occupied it, the mention of his name for the presidency of the University received immediate applause in Florida. No efforts were spared by educational leaders to secure him. Members of Φ Δ Θ throughout the state were particularly active. The negotiations with Brother Tigert very quickly took on the proportions of a statewide campaign. Letters and telegrams were sent to him by prominent people in all parts of the state.

Brother Tigert lost no time in assuming the active duties of president upon his arrival in Gainesville. He immediately went into conference with the deans of the various colleges and outlined his policies. He then had a long conference with the business manager of the university and with B. C. Riley, Westminster, '11 regarding the conduct of WRUF, Florida's new five kilowatt broadcasting station located on the campus, of which Brother Riley is active director.

SENATOR ARTHUR R. ROBINSON, Chicago, '13 JUDGE SOLON J. CARTER, De Pauw-Miami, '09

TWO PHIS IN INDIANA PRIMARY

IN THE Indiana primary election held May 8, United States Senator Arthur R. Robinson and Judge Solon J. Carter, members of Φ Δ Θ, contended for the Republican nomination Senator Robinson was for senator. nominated, receiving a majority of the votes cast.

Senator Robinson was elected to his present seat in 1926 as junior Senator from Indiana. He began his college career at Ohio Northern University at Ada, but later entered Chicago University, where he was initiated into $\Phi \Delta \Theta$. He was graduated in 1901, and soon entered the practice of law. Senator Robinson was a major of infantry during the World War, and after the war held several political positions in Indiana, until his appointment to the senate to fill an unexpired term.

Judge Carter attended the now extinct De Pauw University preparatory school, where he was initiated into the fraternity in 1906. He took his college work at Miami, graduating in 1909. He has been a prominent figure in political and legal circles for a number of years.

In spite of the fact that they were opponents in the primary, the two men are close personal friends and have joined forces to work for the Republican party's success at the polls in November. Charles Jewett, also a Phi, was a candidate for nomination for governor in the primary. In 1926, another Phi, Clarice Adams, ran against Senator James Watson for the long-term senatorship, but was defeated.

FRED J. MILLIGAN, Ohio State, '28

A NEW ASSISTANT SECRETARY

By Arthur R. Priest, De Pauw, '91

THE occasion often produces the man; it is also true that the occasion often discovers the man. This summer Φ Δ Θ needed an assistant secretary to step into the place made vacant by the transfer of Reuben Ball to supervise the endowment work. The occasion discovered the man in Frederick J. Milligan, Ohio State, '28. He will begin his work of chapter visitation this fall.

By training and disposition he is well fitted for the position. In the Daily Chief of Upper Sandusky, Ohio, of July 7 last, appeared a sketch of Brother Milligan that shows how his home town feels about him.

At General Headquarters we are prepared to think that the writer of this newspaper article was too restrained in what he had to say. Fred is an unassuming, genuine Phi Delt, whom the boys in the active chapters will quickly learn to love.

Here is the article from the Daily Chief:

Frederick J. Milligan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Milligan of this city, will be graduated with the bachelor of arts degree from Ohio State University, Columbus, Monday. He has been chosen ivy orator at the ivy planting at the Ohio Union Building, Monday morning at eight o'clock. This will be the opening event of class day. Commencement exercises begin Monday evening at six o'clock at Ohio stadium where William Oxley Thompson, president emeritus of Ohio State University, will give the annual address.

Graduating from the Upper Sandusky High School with the Class of 1924, Mr. Milligan entered the university the following September. When he is graduated next Monday he will have terminated a four-year college career crowded with the highest honors the institution was able to bestow. Diligently and entusiastically this brilliant young man pursued his studies and with equal diligence and enthusiasm he participated in the divers activities the university offered.

He was recognized on the campus as a representative student. A magnetic personality and an aversion to shifting responsibility placed him with the scholars and the leaders and today, as he is about to step from the ranks at Ohio State, he is invested with the title of the highest office in student government as well as with many other honorary appointments. In sharing these honors Fred is very modest. He prides himself rather on the fact that the last two years in college he worked his way by representing the Union Clothing Company of Columbus, and by acting as treasurer of the Φ Δ Θ fraternity, to which he was pledged and initiated in his freshman year. Upper Sandusky is proud of young men such as Mr. Milligan. He is to be congratulated on his attainments.

These will bear witness that his four years at Ohio State were not in vain. The first year he was initiated into Φ Δ Θ fraternity, named freshman football manager, elected member of Student Council. In his second year he was chosen sophomore football manager, was on sophomore dance committee, member of sophomore debate team, on men's Student Council, elected to Bucket and Dipper (junior men's honorary society), on sophomore Y.M.C.A. council. The junior year saw him elected junior football manager, general chairman of Junior Prom, on Boost Ohio committee, elected to Sphinx (senior men's honorary_society), secretary of men's Student Council, "Y" cabinet member, member of Ohio Union board of overseers, and on the Makio (Ohio State year book) staff.

At the beginning of his senior year Mr. Milligan was named president of the Y.M.C.A. president of the Student Senate, one of the eight representative students on the campus, chairman of the Makio board, senior football manager, ivy orator, Senior Prom committee, Y.M.C.A. advisory board, vice-president of Scarlet Key Association (composed of senior managers of various sports), member of varsity "O" assocation. As president of the Student Senate Mr. Milligan gave the address from radio station KDKA at Pittsburgh on Ohio State day. Mr. Milligan also presented the state high school basketball trophy to the Dayton Stivers, the state high school basketball championship team.

THE ARMY OF PENNSYLVANIA THETA

By H. L. STUART, Penn State, '21

"A LUMNI DAY" at the different colleges and universities came into vogue after the World War and is now observed by most schools, the fall being the most popular time. A football game with an old rival is usually scheduled and such has been the case at Penn State, where "Alumni Day" was first observed in 1920.

The active chapter of Pennsylvania Theta passed a rule before the first Alumni Day that under no circumstances were the returning alumni to be asked for donations or payments on past due notes, and this rule has been kept inviolate. The alumni, appreciating the action of the active chapter, under the guidance of the late A. K. "Kem" Cosgrove, Penn State, '13, who was a guest of his brother, J. C. Cosgrove, '07, decided that they would raise money for 'the chapter in a way that no one could take offense or feel that the rule of the active chapter was being violated. Accordingly "The Army" was started and has flourished ever after.

"Kem" Cosgrove conceived the idea of using a derby hat, painted a golden color, as the insignia of "The Army" and each alumnus was allowed to wear the "Sacred Derby," providing he made a contribution to the treasury of "The Army" and he could wear it until the next contribution was made. The alumni realized that an ideal way of raising money without begging or cajoling had been found and everyone entered into the spirit of "The Army" and gave money for the help of the active chapter. There was no set amount that one could give but the average amount was ten dollars, with some of the alumni giving more and others enrolling their wives and children at the rate of five dollars The "Rush Sergeants" would bring each returning alumnus before the generalissimo and announce that their victim was desirous of wearing the "Sacred Derby," which he was allowed to do after seeing the treasurer. The receipts of the first two yearsof "The Army" were used for the purchase and installation of two large showerbaths on the second floor of the house and these have a plate on them with the following inscription:

From "Kem" Cosgrove and his "Army"

"The Army" has helped the active chapter with the purchase of necessary furniture from time to time and the money is to be used in a way to lighten the burden of the undergraduates. A contribution is always made to the caterer for the meals provided for the alumni, this being authorized at the annual meeting of "The Army" and then plans are discussed for the spending of the money in the treasury. In 1927 over six hundred dollars was collected and this is to be used to help the boys in the remodeling of the chapter house, for some special purpose, such as re-finishing the chapter room or furnishing the guest suite.

PHIS IN COLLEGE ACTIVITIES, 1927-28

By E. CROWDER, De Pauw, '30

THE record for the 1927-28 school year is one of which $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ can well be proud. A total of seventy-two captains in the various fields of athletics can be equalled by few other fraternities.

The balance of activities is very noticeable. Fifteen editors of college annuals, fourteen editors of college papers and nine editors of magazines is a splendid showing.

The outstanding attainment of the year for Φ Δ Θ is the number of student body presidents that were Phis. There were nineteen—almost exactly 20 per cent of the number of chapters we have. Besides this, there were eighty-four other members of various student councils. These honors, added to fifty-six class presidents show the political power of the fraternity.

political power of the fraternity. $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ has always prided itself upon its athletics. This year there is a reason. Four hundred and sixty-four letters for work in the four major sports were awarded Phis in the past year. Two hundred and twenty of these were in football.

This report is not quite complete. A few chapters failed to respond to the questionnaires. For this reason, some of the honors held by those chapters may not be listed.

Following is a chart of the various activities of each chapter.

CALIFORNIA GAMMA'S ATHLETIC CAPTAINS, LOS ANGELES

143

LOS ANGELES HAS MANY CAPTAINS

By H. L. Rose, Jr.

ALIFORNIA GAMMA claims the distinction of having the captains of six sports in a single year. They are, reading to the right, Scribner Birlenback, football; Paul Frugh-ling, baseball; Rodman Houser, ten-nis; Harvey Tafe, ice-hockey; Jack Ketchum, basketball; Brownie Diehl, swimming. Five of these men are seniors in the house; Rod Houser being selected in his junior year because of his marked ability. Five of these men have been elected to Thanic Shield, the highest honor that the university can bestow to upperclassmen who have served her. All have been active in numerous fields. Birlenback has lettered in two other sports, been president of the chapter, and is a member of the senior board of control, in addition to maintaining a high standard of scholarship. Frughling has also lettered in basketball and is an officer of the chapter. Rod is president of Δ Θ Δ , honorary pre-legal, a member of Scimtar and Key, the traditions committee, the activities and scholarship committees, and was a candidate for president of the student body. Tafe is the present head of the house, a reader in the economics department, and assistant to the general manager of the university. Diehl was an officer in Vigilantes, a member of Circle C, and of Sophomore Service. Ketchum has been chairman of the Interfraternity Council. numerous class committees, and has been rush captain in the house for two years in a most capable manner.

The chapter is proud of the class of '28, of these men, and all that they stand for in both the university and fraternity.

THOMAS T. CONNALLY, Texas, '00

NEW U. S. SENATOR FROM TEXAS A PHI

By George S. Ward, Illinois,'10

TO THE three Phis now in the United States Senate, Fletcher of Florida, Robinson of Indiana, and Thomas of Oklahoma, can now be added the name of Thomas Terry Connally, Texas, '00, who recently received the Democratic nomination for Senator from the state of Texas. In Texas nomination on the Democratic ticket at a primary is equivalent to election so when Brother Connally defeated Senator Mayfield at the polls he assured himself of a seat beside his illustrious brothers from Florida, Indiana, and Oklahoma.

Brother Connally is a native of Texas, having secured his education at the university where he became a member of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ and was active in its affairs during his college days, being the final orator of the Athenaeum literary society, editor in fact of the University of Texas Magazine, associate editor of the Texan and a member of the university debating team. His college work was interrupted by service with the Second Texas Volunteer Infantry during the war with Spain in which Brother Connally was a Sergeant-Major. After the war he returned to college and finished his law course. He was immediately elected as a member of the Texas house of representatives, where he served from 1901 to 1903. From 1906 to 1910 he was prosecuting attorney for Falls County. Texas. In 1916 he was elected to Congress from the Central Texas district where he has served continuously since that date with the exception of the time he volunteered for service in the World War with the Eleventh Division of the United States Army.

Brother Connally is a recognized leader of the Democratic party and is one of the outstanding debaters in that body. He is a member of the committee on foreign affairs.

Brother Connally is married and has one son.

HEADS PEERLESS MOTOR CAR CORP.

By Frederick J. Milligan, Ohio State, '28

THE General Council has repeatedly expressed its appreciation for the fine work of the Walter B. Palmer Foundation Endowment Fund trustees and justly so, for it appears to us that it would be no easy task to shoulder the responsibility of handling a sum, which at the present totals $62,135.71, especially when the administration of that fund requires so much personal supervision and responsibility in making the loans so as to keep the principal continually at work.

We have read the reports of the trustees and have been amazed at the growth of the fund since 1922 which marked the date of its inception. While the success of the fund has been a tribute to the board still it has always been our desire to know something more about the lives of the members of the board of trustees. Perhaps others have had the same desire for it is quite evident that such men must be successes in their various lines of endeavor aside from their work in the fraternity.

It has been our privilege to learn something of the life of Robert Martin Calfee, Roanoke, '93, who along with George S. Case, Case, '04, and H. C. Robinson, Ohio Wesleyan, '91, has served on the board continuously since 1924. Brother Calfee's life has been one great achievement after another. We can best draw our conclusions as to his ability and manhood after we relate the most important facts concerning his life.

R. M. CALFEE, Roanoke, '93 144

Robert Martin Calfee was born at Pulaski, Virginia, April 13, 1876. He was initiated into $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ by Virginia Alpha at Roanoke College, September, 1889, which means that Brother Calfee, at the time of his initiation, was only thirteen years and five months of age. There are very few instances in the history of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ when any member was so young when initiated, and of course, such a thing would be impossible today under the Code.

Brother Calfee, in 1893 at the age of seventeen, graduated from Roanoke College with an A.B. cum laude. He attended George Washington University and from there secured an LL.B. in 1901 at the age of twenty-four. Since 1902 he has practiced law in Cleveland, Ohio, but he has never allowed his practice to lessen his interest in civic and fraternal affairs.

He has manifested from time to time a wholesome interest in any movement which promoted the welfare of his city, state and nation. During the World War he served as one of the special legal advisors in the war department. He has been interested in public health work and since 1917 has served as one of four members of the Ohio Public Health Council, which together with the director of health, constitutes the Ohio state department of health. Since 1926 he has served as president of the Associated Charities of Cleveland which is the largest single family relief organization in the United States. He is likewise trustee of Roanoke College and a member of the following clubs: Cleveland; Mayfield Union Club, Country Club; Shaker Heights Country Club; Aintree Hunt Club; University Club of New York and University Club of Washington.

In spite of all these time consuming activities and responsibilities he devotes a fair share of his time to his family and to his favorite sports; namely, riding, hunting, and golfing. He likewise finds time to serve as chairman of the board of directors of the Peerless Motor Company. Brother Calfee lives at 2755 Berkshire Road, Cleveland Heights, and has a family of four boys who, we hope, will follow in the footsteps of their father. Brother Calfee is heartily convinced that there are many advantages to be derived from membership in $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ and he counts as among his valued friends those whose acquaintance he made largely by reason of the fact that they belong to that fraternity.

Anyone in meeting Brother Calfee is immediately impressed with his forceful personality, his sharp wit, and legal mind. For a man of his age his achievements have been pronounced and lasting. His contribution to Φ Δ Θ as a member of the Walter B. Palmer Foundation Endowment Fund trustees has given us a greater appreciation of his value to the fraternity and we feel quite sure that any city would be proud to claim him as a resident. $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ is surely proud of a man like Robert Martin Calfee. May his success be even greater as he continues his life of service

PENN STATE SENIORS MAKE RECORD

By Howard G. Kurtz, Jr., Historian

THE Senior class of Pennsylvania Theta holds the unusual distinction of remaining intact throughout its four years in college. Eleven entered as freshmen in 1924 and one transferred from the Pittsburgh chapter the following year. The same twelve are now drawing their senior year to a fitting close without losing a man.

The group is represented widely in nearly every activity and honorary society on the campus, and has done much to make Φ Δ Θ recognized as a leader in the college. Its members have been cited for exceptional ability in scholastic circles and acknowledged honor men in extra-curricular work.

Edwin T. Eggers of Rutherford, New Jersey, was a member of the world's championship shuttle relay team, and a member of the varsity track team for three years. He was elected to Druids, an honorary sophomore society, and Skull and Bones, a selective upperclass society. He is also a member of the glee club and the varsity quartet.

Robert C. Quigley of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, is another honor man, being elected to Skull and Bones, Blue Key, an honorary managerial society. His greatest work was done as varsity wrestling manager, and, in addition, he was elected secretary and treasurer of the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association. He was also a staff member of La Vie, the Junior class year book.

Harold E. Hastings of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, has been the most prominent Phi on the campus in years, and, as a climax, has recently been elected Barrel Man, one of three honor men of his class. He was a varsity football player for three years, varsity boxer one year, and varsity lacrosse player one year. Of especial honor he was elected president of the Student Athletic Association; president of Parmi Nous, upperclass honorary society, and president of Lion's Paw, the exclusive senior society. He is a member of T B II, honorary scholastic engineering fraternity, and has been a member of Student Council. He has been chairman of several important committees and as a sophomore was elected to Druids. He has made a mark in scholastics, athletics, and extra-curricular activities.

William Ward Nichols of Rutherford, New Jersey, besides being a member of the Thespian Club, a group of talented musical actors, is vice-president of the glee club, and a member of the select musical fraternity, Φ M A. As an architect he has been honored further by membership in Scarab, a national professional architectural fraternity.

Earl E. Hewitt of Homer City, Pennsylvania, also has a varied history for his four years. He was a member of Druids, and played varsity football and golf. He was editor-in-chief of the official college humorous publication, Froth, and, as such, was elected to II A E, honorary journalistic fraternity. Membership in Student Tribunal for three years and the vice-presidency of the Junior class are added to his record.

Scudder H. Darragh of Monongahela, Pennsylvania, a varsity football and lacrosse player, has been honored by membership in Parmi Nous. D.C., also a Reserve officer, is captain of the varsity tennis team.

William T. Neff of Indiana, Pennsylvania, is well known as the magician and has been Thespian stage manager during the last season.

James G. Dunsmore, Jr., of Dunloe, Pennsylvania, was a member of the committee in charge of the largest social function of the year, the Junior Prom.

NAMED DEAN AT PENN STATE

By H. L. STUART, Penn State, '21

The appointment of Captain Edward Steidle as Dean of the School of Mines at Penn State comes as a very pleasant announcement to me. It is a well merited honor bestowed on a man who has won every right to the distinction.

Two days after the armistice it fell to my lot to be sent to A.R.C. Military Hospital, No. 3 in Paris suffering from an attack of appendicitis. I was assigned to a word in which I found already one occupant. During the course of the day I discovered that this occupant was an officer suffering from a very painful injury received three days before the armistice. Very quickly we discovered that we were both Phi Delts and during the subsequent three weeks we helped each other pass the time as pleasantly as could be expected under the circumstances. In this short time I came to have a very high regard for Captain Steidle.

Subsequent to the war when I discovered him as professor or mining and engineering at Carnegie Institute I was delighted to renew the acquaintance. Now that he is back on his own campus I shall look forward with increased pleasure to the thought of visiting our chapter at Penn State. Another dean has been added to the long list of honors belonging to $\Delta \Delta \tag{\text{\text{0}}}.

EDWARD STRIDLE, Penn State, 11 146

THE appointment of Captain Edward Steidle, Penn State, '11, as dean of the school of mines and metallurgy at Penn State marks the fourth graduate of the college to be granted the position of dean.

Dean Steidle was born in Williamsport, June 23, 1887. After graduating from the Williamsport High School he came to Penn State where he graduated in mining engineering in 1911 receiving his professional degree as engineer of mines from the college in 1914.* During the summer vacations he worked as a miner in the silver mines with the Nipissing Mining Company, Ltd., Cobalt, Canada, and for a year following graduation was a miner and millman in gold mining work for the Sicorro Mining Company, Mogol-lon, New Mexico. In October, 1912, he joined the forces of the U. S. Bureau of Mines moving steadily upward in the ranks of mining engineering and attained experience in the Lake Superior district, Pittsburgh-West Virginia district, north west district, until he became assistant to the chief mining engineer in Washington, D.C. in 1916. In 1915 he was assistant mining engineer in San Fransico and at that time constructed and supervised the Bureau of Mines exhibits and "The Mine" at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, to such an extent that he was given a gold medal by the Government. In 1917 Mr. Steidle served as mining engineer in the Utah-Nevada-California district and in that year received his commission as First Lieutenant with the Twentieth Engineers.

From that December until May, 1918, he was attached to Special Brigade. Royal Engineers, British Expeditionary Forces, being wounded in action once during this period. ceiving his commission in May, 1918, as Captain, U.S.A., he served with the First Gas Regiment and was wounded once in action in November, 1918. In February, 1919, he was in command of the First Battalion, First Gas Regiment and was mustered out at Lakehurst, New Jersey. His excellent military service brought him the Victory Medal with six service bars covering the Somme defensive, Aisne, Oise-Ainse, St. Mihiel, Meuse-Argonne, and Defensive sector.

In May, 1919, Dean Steidle was appointed consulting mining engineer for the U. S. Bureau of Mines, with his appointment renewed yearly. At the same time he became associated with the Carnegie Institute of Technology and associate professor of mining engineering in charge of mining work and organized the co-operative research fellowship work with the Bureau of Mines and mining and metallurgical industries in western Pennsylvania. At the same time he also served as secretary to the Mining and Metallurgical Advisory Boards.

Dean Steidle is the author of some twenty-three technical society papers and bulletins and is a member of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers; Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania; Coal Mining Institute of America; Pittsburgh Coal Mining Institute; National Mine Rescue Association; member of the executive committee, Pittsburgh Section, American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers; member National Engineering Educational Committee of same society. He is also a member Θ T, and Druid fraternities.

Dean Steidle was married on July 29, 1920, to Miss Ellen May Girsham and the family consists of Edward, Ir., and Howard.

PRESIDENT OF OHIO WESLEYAN

By DEAN M. HOFFMAN, Dickinson,' 02

THE Reverend Edmund Davison Soper, D.D., Dickinson, '98, was this summer elected president of Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, Ohio. He left the position of dean of the school of religion at Duke University, Durham, North Carolina, to take his new office. His election came about because he is one of the outstanding men in religious education and one of the outstanding figures of Methodism, North and South.

At Duke University he had a man's job and it was four-fold. His main task was to be dean of the school of religion which opened its doors for the first time last September, the formal opening took place November 9, 1926. He was also professor of the history of religion, though he gave time to teach only two courses each semester. He was vice-president of the university, being in charge of the student life division, in which are included all extra-curriculum activities. He was also college preacher.

Despite his busy life, Dr. Soper has found time to write another book just now coming off the press entitled What May I Believe? He is the author of The Faiths of Mankind, 1918, and The Religions of Mankind, 1921.

Born in Tokyo, Japan, he was brought to America when five years of age. His father, the Reverend Julius Soper, D.D., belongs to a Maryland family which came over from England late in the seventeenth century. His mother's maiden name was Mary Frances Davison and her ancestors came to northern New Jersey in 1730 from County Antrim, Ireland.

DR. EDMUND D. SOPER, Dickinson, '98

Coming to America in 1881, the five year old lad spent five years before his parents took him back to Japan, where he lived in Tokyo until 1891 when the family returned to this country and at fifteen years of age he entered the old Dickinson Preparatory School. He entered College in 1894 and was graduated with membership in $\Phi$ B K fraternity in 1898. Upon his graduation and until 1901 he was Student Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. He then entered Drew Theological Seminary and in the fall of 1902, his physician declared that he had to remain out of school for a year. He spent several months of that year on a sailing vessel along the Atlantic coast, going from New York to Charleston and coming back to Baltimore. After Christmas of that year he went to northern Montana and remained there on a ranch for six months. In telling of his experiences at that time, Dr. Soper recently said, "Out there I raised whiskers and took on the aspect of an old man—happily, temporarily."

Dr. Soper received his B.D. from Drew in 1905 and on June 15 of that year he married Miriam Alice Belt, of Wellsville, Pennsylvania. The newly married couple sought to go to Japan immediately as missionaries but were prevented by physicians' orders. Each venture to the Far East was vetoed and they were compelled to give it up. From 1905 until 1910, Dr. Soper was field secretary of the Missionary Education Movement.

His teaching experience began at Ohio Wesleyan University in 1910. It was at the invitation of president (now Bishop) Herbert Welch that Dr. Soper went to the Delaware, Ohio, institution. His work was to organize the department of missions and comparative religion, and he was there four years until in 1914 he was called to the same chair at Drew Theological Seminary where he served until 1919. It was during these years, Dr. Soper has stated that while at Ohio Wesleyan his chief emphasis was upon missions, his mind turned more and more to comparative religion, especially in its historical aspect and that though he has never lost interest in the teaching of missions for many years he has given most of his attention to the non-Christian religions, especially Buddhism.

While he was a professor at Drew, Dickinson College conferred a degree of Doctor of Divinity upon him in 1913, and in 1919, Dr. Soper became professor of the history of religion at Northwestern University where he served until called to Duke University in 1925. While at Northwestern, Dr. Soper taught a large Sunday School class with an average attendance of one hundred of the university students and he also taught at Garrett Biblical Institute.

Almost every summer in recent years, Dr. Soper has taught and spoken in summer conferences of the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., Missionary Education Movement and other organizations. During the academic year, he is in demand as a speaker to all sorts of organizations and he has been the speaker at many school and college commencements.

During 1918-19, Dr. Soper made a seven months' tour of Japan, Korea, and China as one of a commission sent out to bring home the latest information for the use of the Methodist Centenary. In 1910 he was a delegate of the Methodist Episcopal Church to the World Missionary Conference held in Edinburgh, Scotland. A few weeks ago, he was appointed a member of the World Conference on Faith and Order which will be held in Lausanne, Switzerland, in August of this year.

BANQUET FOR DR. SANDERS

By CONRAD E. THORNQUEST, Michigan, '30

ON MAY 5, 1928, the main dining-room of the Michigan Union was given over to the Michigan Alpha and its alumni in order that they could pay tribute to Dr. Henry A. Sanders, '90, official advisor to the chapter for over thirty years. The opportunity was not neglected, and everyone combined to pay Michigan Alpha's grand old man a perfect tribute. The committee, under the guidance of E. Jay Wohlgemuth, '04, of Cincinnati, was able to arrange the affair in such a manner as to give everyone an opportunity to show their appreciation to Dr. Sanders. The speakers of the evening, led by Roy Dikeman Chapin, '03, of Grosse Pointe, presented a program which could not easily be duplicated by any group. It was generally accepted that never in the annals of the chapter was any man given a greater ovation than Dr. Sanders was on that night.

The chapter house was thrown open to the alumni on that day, and men from all over the country, representing practically every class from 1888, gathered there to renew old acquaintances, and to make new ones. Some of the men who returned had never been back to the house since the day they graduated from the university. It was indeed a great day for Michigan Alpha. In the afternoon Mrs. Henry A. Sanders entertained at her house with a tea, and practically all those who returned made it a point to pay their respects to Mrs. Sanders.

Dr. Sanders has been official advisor to the chapter at Michigan for over thirty-seven years, and during that time he has exerted a great influence on the men that were associated with the chapter during that time. His resignation from that capacity came as a direct result of his acceptance of the permanent directorship of the American Academy of Classical Studies at Rome. He will spend at least eight months in Rome every year, where he will live in a home furnished him by the Academy. He will take up his new duties next fall. As a token of their appreciation for the work he has done here, and of the honor he has brought to the chapter, the alumni presented Dr. Sanders with a handsome watch, and the active chapter gave him a traveling case. The chapter will feel his loss greatly, and realize that his work here can never be duplicated.

The following brothers of the fraternity were instrumental in making the banquet a success and the chapter wishes to thank them for their aid.

ARIZONA ABOLISHES ROUGH INITIATION

By LAWSON SMITH, Arizona, '28

PEELING that she has taken a step which is of great importance to the chapter and which the other chapters of the fraternity should know about, Arizona Alpha at her last meeting of the past year voted to abolish completely the rough or informal initation, and in its place to lay before the neophytes some constructive work to do. This is a matter which has come up every year for the past several years in the chapter, and the number of men favoring the elimination of any rough initiation has increased yearly. In taking this step there were some fine points brought out which the Arizona chapter feels should be passed on to her sister chapters.

In the first place, it was the sentiment of the chapter that the rough initiations were in no way in keeping with the spirit of the Bond. The high ideals and purposes of the fraternity as depicted in the Bond cannot be denied, and it was the almost unanimous sentiment of Arizona Alpha that any informal initiation detracts from the appreciation of the Bond and of the fraternity rather than adds to it, as many have argued in the past.

In addition to the high purposes brought out in the Bond, it was felt that the beauty and impressiveness of the ritualistic ceremony were seriously hampered by any crude, physical punishments administered to prospective Phis. It must be remembered that the first real impressions which a man forms relative to his fraternity are gained at the time of his initiation. It is an accepted fact that "first impressions count." Accepting this to be true, there is no real fraternity man who would like to have a new brother in any way judge his fraternity by the impressions he receives during an informal initiation.

The matter was also discussed from a very practical angle. Several brothers asked that the chapter think what could be accomplished if the time and energy which are put forth on informal initiations by both the members and candidates was put to some useful work. Informal initiations take time from the entire chapter. If the men want to devote this time to something which would work for the good of the fraternity, why not put their minds and bodies to some constructive tangible work, which, when the time was up, there would be something to show for it? It was such an argument as this which appealed to some of the members of the chapter.

It has been argued in the past that unless a candidate was given a rough initiation before entering the portals of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ he would not have as high regard for the fraternity. Some have said that it would make him think that it was too easy to become a Phi and consequently his respect would be decreased. The members of Arizona felt that rather than increase one's respect for Φ Δ Θ an informal initiation would lessen that respect. fact was very definitely established when several freshmen who had just thirty-nine] received a rather mild informal were called upon. It was their feeling that they would have thought a little more of the fraternity had they not been forced to take a rough initiation.

Early last fall the General Council sent out an appeal to the chapters that they make their informal initiations mild, so that they would in no way detract from the benefits to be derived from the formal initiation. been the conclusion of Arizona Alpha that the "half-way" point in this mat-ter is rather difficult to determine. In other words, some of the brothers asked, what is meant by mild initia-Some felt that some stunts were too severe, while others felt that they were perfectly all right. zona's informal initiation was mild, but the chapter felt that there should be no half-way course. Only two ways lie before chapters of the fraternity, felt Arizona Alpha, those two courses being inclusion of an informal initiation ceremony or the complete abolishment of such. The chapter is proud that it has elected the latter course.

It might be worth noting that in the past Arizona Alpha has found that, for the most part, opposition to the elimination of an informal initiation has come from underclassmen who had only recently been made Phis. There seemed to be the spirit of "I got it and I want to pass it on to next year's freshmen." Upperclassmen, who had been separated from their initiation by three or four years, almost invariably favored its elimination. Is not this fact rather significant?

This may seem like a bold step for so young a chapter to be taking, but points in favor of an informal initiation were found lacking in view of the points brought out above. Arizona Alpha feels that the action is going to work out for the good of the chapter, and we hope to be able to make a favorable report to the fraternity relative to the results of this action next year.

James Hess, Alabama, '29

Brother James Hess is gone, but the memory of him will linger long in the minds of those who knew him, for to know him was to like him. Jimmie came to us in 1925 from his home in Elmira, New York, and was initiated by Alabama Alpha of Φ Δ Θ . From his early enrollment at the University of Alabama, he took an active part in campus activities and was extremely popular throughout his three years. He was a member of the Key Ice Club, Blackfriars and was a mainstay in the glee club. His striking looks, winning smile, and magnetic personality won for him the admiration of all who knew him.

His death came as a shock to us all when he was killed suddenly in an automobile accident in Texas. The car in which he was riding ran off the ferry into the river and he was drowned on June 13, 1928. There were others in the car but all escaped without serious injury.

We wish to pay the highest respects to his mother for the careful training he received and which was exemplified in the manly traits he possessed. Also to offer to her the most heartfelt sympathy due from his brother Phis

We mourn at the loss of Jimmie for it behooves us to believe that if his life had not been cut short, and his potentialities had had a chance to materialize, his achievements would have been ones of importance and service to his fellowmen. For in all his efforts he exemplified the virtues and ability of a true and loyal Phi.

Richard Adair Clark, Ohio, '26

Richard Adair Clark, Ohio, '26, died in Tucson, Arizona, on August 21, following a long illness. He was afflicted with tuberculosis of the throat, which developed while he was a student at Harvard, and was confined to his bed in the Arizona town for over a year.

To the brothers in Arizona Álpha who knew him, Clark's fight against the plague was amazing. At no time did his case seem hopeful, yet Clark fought to keep alive with the grim determination of a man who hates to leave this world while in the prime of life.

Brother Clark was one of the outstanding men graduated from Ohio University in recent years. His home was in Athens since he was a small boy. After graduating from the public schools he entered the university and from the very beginning was an A student and at the same time prominent in campus activities. He was a member of $\Delta \Sigma \Pi$, honorary commercial fraternity, Torch, men's honorary organization. He was manager of the Green and White in his junior year and in his senior year editor of the university Year Book.

After graduating from Ohio he entered Harvard School of Business Administration where he continued his excellent record of scholarship.

At the close of the school year of 1926-27 he obtained work at the Hood Rubber Company which would have given him credit to apply on his second year at Harvard. Before reporting for work, however, his health broke and he returned home and after two months rest at home went to Arizona. The loss of such a man as Dick Clark at the very beginning of his career is a heavy blow to Ohio Gamma and to the entire fraternity.

Brother Clark was a true Φ Δ Θ , and whoever went to see him, always saw him as a cheerful, all-around, good fellow. While his death was merciful, the brothers who knew him will feel a pang of sorrow when they think of him in the great "Chapter Grand."—Allen Stewart, Arizona, '20

CLARENCE W. WALLS, Oregon, '12

Carl D. Garlough, Hillsdale, '88

Professor Carl D. Garlough, Hillsdale, '88, registrar of Wheaton College, Illinois, and head of the department of mathematics, died Friday, November 25, at the home of his son, Jay H. Garlough, in Davenport, Iowa, where with Mrs. Garlough and his daughter, Marguerite, had gone to spend Thanksgiving.

Although he had not enjoyed good health for several years, and was sixty-four years of age, Professor Garlough seemed to be unusually well during the past two or three weeks, and his death was a severe shock to his family and many friends.

Carl D. Garlough was born in Springfield, Ohio, on October 16, 1863. Educated in the public schools of Springfield, he took preparatory work in Wittenburg College. In 1887 he received the Ph.B. degree, and in 1888 his A.B. degree from Hillsdale College. On December 24 of that year he married Martha T. Bolser. Later an M.A. degree was conferred upon him by the University of Illinois.

On being graduated from the latter institution Professor Garlough taught for three years at Williamsburg Institute, Williamsburg, Kentucky, a school which when he taught there had no endowment and is now a flourishing college. The following year he spent farming at Springfield, Ohio, and then he went into public school work, starting as a rural teacher and working up to the position of superintendent of public schools. He also held principalships at Medway, Ohio, and Stanford. In 1905 he was superintendent of schools at Delevan, Illinois.

From the position of instructor in mathematics in the Illinois State Normal University, Professor Garlough went to Wheaton College in 1914 to head the mathematics department, and the following year was made registrar of the college, in which capacity he has served for twelve years.—Hillsdale Alumni Bulletin

The record of the extra-curricular work of Elliott A. Johnson, Chicago, '28, reads like the official list of University of Chicago activities-if there is such a list. Brother Johnson re-ceived his Ph.B. degree last June and prior to that time had made an enviable record for himself in chapter and campus life. During his first year he was on the freshman football and wrestling teams and also maintained the highest freshman average in the chapter. In his sophomore year he was on the varsity football and wrestling squads but was forced off of them in his third year because of an injured knee. Brother Johnson was responsible for raising the intramural standing of Illinois Beta from thirtieth to twelfth on the Chicago campus. He managed a university plan for introducing the freshmen to the campus and did it so successfully that the university has made it a permanent feature. Among other activities Brother Johnson was a member of the Y.M.C.A. cabinet, member of the interfraternity council, team captain of the Senior class memorial drive, etc. He was instrumental in obtaining for Chicago a chapter of A K W, national commerce fraternity. His chapter work was as varied and important. At various times he served as warden, rush chairman, house manager, delegate to the General Convention, president. etc.

The fraternity recently added another Phi to its list of rear admirals when Captain Wat Tyler Cluverius, Tulane, '95, was promoted to that rank on May 30, 1928. Brother Cluverius was assigned on July 2 to the command of the navy yard at Norfolk, Virginia. His latest promotion comes as a step in a long and distinguished career in the U.S. Navy. Brother Cluverius' second assignment after his graduation from Annapolis in 1896 was to the U.S.S. Maine and he was on board that vessel when it was blown up in Havana harbor February 15, 1898. In connection with his service in the war Brother Cluverius was decorated with the Distinguished Service Medal for exceptionally meritorious service in a duty of great responsibility as commanding officer of the U.S.S. Shawmut, engaged in laying mines in the North Sea. He also received the Order of Leopold from the Belgian government.

The war department announced last month that the Distinguished Service Cross has been awarded to Major Burdette S. Wright, Purdue, '15, for extraordinary heroism in action in France in September, 1918. Brother Wright was then a first lieutenant in the air service. In an attempt to 1ocate a certain sector of American front line trenches and the relative position of a German machine gun nest it was necessary for him to maneuver his plane to the dangerously low altitude of fifty meters. The location of the enemy machine guns was marked on a map which Brother Wright then returned to headquarters. After this the plane returned and discharged over four hundred rounds at the enemy position thereby driving the machine gunners away and permitting an American advance. Brother Wright, now a major in the air corps reserve, is a native of New Albany, Indiana.

Dr. Charles A. Eastman, Dartmouth, '87, spent two months in England during the past spring lecturing to school children on Indian customs and their relation to the Caucasian. Brother Eastman is a native Sioux Indian, born in Redwood Falls, Minnesota. He was a charter member of New Hampshire Alpha, and after finishing his course at Dartmouth took a medical degree at Boston University. Brother Eastman is a recognized authority on Indian law and history and in his lectures attempts to further the cause of world peace through a better understanding among nations. He is a member of the national council of the Boy Scouts of America and has written a number of books on Indian literature and lore. Several of these have been translated into foreign languages. Brother Eastman's home is at Munsonville, New Hampshire.

Fred K. Craig, Denison, '29, has been dumfounding the psycologists of America's leading universities as well as mystifying vaudeville audiences all over the country by his feats of mental gymnastics. Like Cæsar he has made a name for himself by being able to do some six or eight things at once. It is mere routine with Brother Craig to read a newspaper upside down and backwards, write headlines upside down and backwards, add two six-figure numbers, keep up a steady conversation, name the principal streets of any large American city, and do two or three other things all at the same time. He is not a "freak" but has developed such ability through constant practice from his schoolboy days. The peculiar and unique talent has resulted in long and lucrative vaudeville engagements for Brother Craig.

The new dean of Columbia University law school is Young B. Smith, Georgia, '09. Brother Smith reaches this exceptionally high position in his profession at the age of thirty-nine. He received his law degree at Columbia in 1912 after which he practiced law for four years at Atlanta. In 1916 he was called to the law faculty of Columbia and his promotion on May 7 of this year to the deanship comes as the climax of a rapid elevation in the law school. Brother Smith has written a number of works on public utilities law and is considered as an expert on torts. In 1927 he served as a visiting professor at Yale and recently was named as one of a group including John W. Davis, Charles Evans Hughes, Dean Roscoe Pound and a few others who are to broadcast a series of interpretive addresses on the fundamentals of law.

To take this place he leaves a fouryear pastorate at the Second Baptist Church of Atlanta, Georgia. Brother Jones has made many addresses at gatherings of Phis in various parts of the country and is one of the most forceful speakers in the fraternity. For fifteen years he was a pastor at a large Baptist church in Louisville. Kentucky. In his work in New Orleans Brother Jones will be only one block from the Tulane campus which will keep him in close touch with student life as he was at Louisville and at Atlanta.

One of the ways for a modern newspaper to keep modern, according to Time, is to buy an airplane. This is what the newspaper organization headed by Gardner Cowles, Iowa Wesleyan, '82, did recently as chronicled in the weekly news magazine. Brother Cowles and his son publish the two newspapers of Des Moines. Iowa, the Register, a morning and Sunday paper, and the Tribune-Capital, an evening paper. The airplane is to be used to get news and pictures for the papers, and to promote aviation in Iowa. It has an enclosed cabin for six passengers, wings that can be folded, a dark room for developing of photographs, etc.

Donald Armstrong, Columbia, '09, has been detailed for duty in the office of the assistant secretary of war at Washington. Following the World War, Brother Armstrong, a major in the ordnance department, stayed in France as assistant military attaché at the American embassy in Paris. In 1922-23 he was president of the Bond Club of New York.

When it was necessary recently for the Chicago Tribune to relieve Richard Henry Little, Illinois Wesleyan, '95, of the editing of his famous column, A Line o' Type or Two, due to his poor health, his place was taken temporarily by the other one of that famous duet of Phi columnists on the Tribune, Harvey T. Woodruff, Chicago, '99. Brother Woodruff in his quaint style explained the change to the readers of the Tribune and solicited their continued help for the column. "When an old friend and fraternity brother calls," wrote Brother Woodruff, "what can a fellow do?"

Forest de Bernardi, Westminster-Missouri, '23, who has received mention in The Scroll before for his phenomenal basketball ability, brought himself to national notice again last spring when he saved a close game for his team, the Cook's Painters of Kansas City, Missouri, in the National A. A. U. tourney. An enthusiastic bunch of Phis met for the regular monthly luncheon at the Statler restaurant and we noticed two new faces—Brothers Edwin O. Schroetter, Cincinnati, '07, now located with the Larkin Company, and James Hedrick, Knoz,'24, with Purina mills. We are looking forward to a beach dinner which will be held on the Canadian shore at the summer home of Brother Rosengren some time in June.

We are now glad to report that our president, Brother Rosengren, is a full-fledged lawyer, having just been admitted to the bar. Also note that Brother Harold J. Adams has been honored by being made president of the Buffalo Athletic Club, a very strong and influential organization here in Buffalo. Congratulations to both!

The Harrisburg Alumni Club entertained at dinner, Tuesday evening, June 1r, Dr. William Mather Lewis, president of Lafayette College and a well known member of our fraternity. The dinner was held at the University Club with about twenty-five or thirty members present. Brother Don Huber, the president, president,

A short talk was given by Dr. H. B. Walter on what he gets on coming to the alumni dinners. Dean Hoffman, just re-elected president of Gamma Province, then welcomed the speaker and in turn introduced him.

Brother Lewis gave a most interesting talk on how the alumni groups might perform a great service by interesting themselves in helping new graduates to find positions, immediately after graduation, to which they are best fitted. Dr. Lewis said, "There has been much criticism of the college because some of the graduates just drift into a job upon graduation instead of securing some permanent position for which they are best fitted. They flounder around three or four years before getting permanently located. This might be avoided if the college through personnel methods arranges to place these boys before granting them diplomas." In support of this idea, he used his present college as an example, where such a board exists which gets in touch with the personnel and employment bureaus of large corporations within a hundred miles of Easton, Pennsylvania, requesting them to come there to look over their graduates at commencement. Dr. Lewis informed the club that, of this year's class at Lafayette, every man had been provided with a permanent position.

The third and final golf tournament of the Indianapolis Alumni Club was held on the Coffin golf course, Saturday, September 22. Twenty-seven of the brothers participated and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent by all. H. H. Wheeler, Dartmouth, shot a 79 for first prize, followed by Dr. E. D. Lukenbill, Indiana, with an 82. H. O. Goett and Harry Hungate, both of Butler, were fortunate enough to have blind par smile on them. Cliff Courtney, Butler, was also among the prize winners. The committee has found that a very effective way to award prizes is, where the winners have not paid their dues, to give them their membership cards as their rewards. also a great help to the treasurer. The committee in charge of the tournament was L. H. Ridgway and Frank M. Moorman.

It is planned during the winter months to have one evening a month devoted to bowling, and by making teams of the various schools have some real competition.

J. E. Lewis, Butler, '14, manager of the bond department of the Ætna Insurance Company, has been transferred from the Indianapolis office to the Philadelphia office in the same capacity.

Leavens Cady, Purdue, '16, has been transferred from the Indianapolis office of the Indiana Bell Telephone Company to the Evansville, Indiana, office. Indianapolis alumni regret the loss of both of these brothers, but since both have received promotions we wish them the best of luck. FRANK M. MOORMAN

Jacksonville, Florida

The Jacksonville Alumni Club met at the home of Brother J. L. Kirby-Smith the night of September 14 and election of officers was first on the program. Brother Olin E. Watts was elected president, Brother R. K. Slade was elected vicepresident, and Brother E. H. Vrieze, Jr., was elected secretary and treasurer.

The meeting then proceeded under the guiding hand of Brother Watts and an advisory board was appointed by him composed of Brother J. L. Kirby-Smith, Tennessee Beta, '99, as chairman, Brother Frank Norris, Brother W. W. Carson, Georgia Gamma, 'or, Brother McCrory, Georgia Alpha, '12, and Brother Kingman Moore, Georgia Gamma, '08. With such outstanding men as those named above to help them the Jacksonville Club should make a good record in the coming year. The club will meet the first Tuesday in each month at a twelve-thirty luncheon to be held at the Hotel George Washington. Adams and Julia Streets.

The club is now planning on having two large meetings a year, one to be held in Gainesville in conjunction with Florida Alpha on Founders' Day, and the other to be held in Jacksonville, time to be announced later. The club is also planning on visiting Florida Alpha in a body, Homecoming Day, which is October 20.

Plans are now on foot to tender a ban-quet in honor of Brother John J. Tigert, newly appointed president of the University of Florida. This banquet will be in Jacksonville and will be given by the Phis of Jacksonville.

The roster of the club is as follows: The roster of the club is as follows: Dr. J. Lee Kirby-Smith, W. M. McCrory, Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, Dr. T. S. Fields, Dr. Edward Jelkes, Edward W. Lane, Dr. Sam R. Norris, Dr. R. A. Rhodes, Frank Norris, Kingman Moore, Dr. G. C. Gillette, Dr. A. M. Blackford, Dr. W. W. Carson, Allen B. Wright, Frank S. Wright, James R. Boyd, Ham C. Davis, R. H. Bass, James Houser, T. B. Slade, Jr., Elliott Adams, Frank Upchurch.

An interesting event to take place in the near future is the marriage of Brother Allen B. Wright to Miss Evelvn Edmondson, a beautiful young debutante of this city. Brother Wright is connected with the Westinghouse Electric Company's branch office here.

New York, New York

(Received too late for May number) Reporting the activities of the New York Alumni Club for April is about like reading the "Doings About Town" column of the New Yorker. Encouraged by the success of previous supper dances, the entertainment committee planned two more during April and each proved more successful than the former. An unusually large attendance was had at the last one and they are to be made a regular event at the Biltmore the third Wednesday of every month. In order that some estimate of those attending may be made, it is suggested that the dollar cover charge be sent to Thornton W. Allen, in care of the club several days in advance. Each party then pays his own check.

Luncheon attendance has increased considerably during the past week. This may be attributable to spring weather but the largest contributing factor is the speaker program. Colonel Dedman, stationed at the Castle Point Veterans Hospital, briefly reviewed the activities of the Veterans Bureau and what the government is doing for veterans who have contracted disease. Their progress in controlling tuberculosis, treating diseases, and discovering new causes and cures for many of the most fatal diseases is indeed a romance. A most enjoyable half hour was spent, listening to a very brief and colorful portrayal of the progress of medical science by Brother Dedman.

For the summer, a full program for sports and activities is being completed. Tennis is to be added to the list and it is hoped that a large number of Phis will be interested in it.

The club is continually on a membership drive. Although the membership has been materially increased, there are still hundreds who do not belong. The club is concerned in getting in touch with every Phi in and about New York, to acquaint him with its activities. are those of us who do not care to join. These we cordially invite to come to our functions when they can, regardless of membership. We feel certain, however, that many have a real use for a club of this type and the increasing activity and privileges available to members places a delightful and inexpensive midtown club at convenient disposal upon many occasions. One can entertain with the convenience afforded by an expensive town club in an extremely inexpensive man-These brothers we seriously urge to come around and get acquainted. No pressure is ever exerted on anyone to join. The club sells itself to this last group of men, and guest privileges are extended for limited periods of time to those who care to investigate the situation.

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

We welcome as new members of the Pittsburgh Alumni Club the following Phis who have recently come to Pittsburgh: Bertram D. Quarrie, Case, 'or, president of the Oliver Iron and Steel Company; Edwin P. Crowell, Syracuse, '12, connected with the Westinghouse interests; W. G. Gude, Purdue, '25, with the Penton Publishing Company; Howell Van Blarcom, Missouri, '94, who returns to Pittsburgh from Philadelphia, with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

Two former active members of the club have left us for other cities. Victor A. Jevon, Pittsburgh, '19, a past president, has been transferred to Chicago by the Bethlehem Steel Company, where he becomes their district manager. Ivan A. Bickelhaupt, Wisconsin, '14, has left the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Company, to enter business in Richmond, Virginia.

A recent all-Phi wedding was of interest to members of the club. Robert B. Davidson, Pittsburgh, '25, married Miss Frances Keonig, K A O, on September 1. They were married by Dr. William R. Farmer, Washington and Jefferson, '92, and Harbaugh Miller, Pittsburgh, '22, was best man.

The club through its reporter will be glad to act as an exchange for rushing prospects, particularly for Washington and Jefferson, Pittsburgh, Allegheny, and West Virginia. Any recommendations made to the club will be transmitted to the proper parties. Pittsburgh inaugurates second semester rushing this year.

HARBAUGH MILLER, Reporter

Portland, Oregon

(Received too late for May number)

The Portland Alumni Club had been gathering steam all spring. This stored up potential energy finally burst upon an astonished province with a province convention, the like of which it had not previously been our privilege to witness. We hitched our wagon to a star, and rather to our surprise we achieved heights undreamed of. Now we are taking time out for breath, but already some of the brothers are looking around for new worlds to conquer. Province conventions may come and go. It is probable that the ultimate in that direction has not yet been achieved although we believe that we have set a new mark at which to aim. But there are those in this body who will not rest content until the fraternity knows us as well nationally as the province now does locally.

On April 27 and 28, delegates from Washington Alpha, Oregon Alpha, and Oregon Beta met with us at the Multnomah Hotel for the first convention of Pi Province. The details of the business transacted may be obtained from the minutes as published in the Palladium. Perhaps the most unusual feature of the business meetings was the number of alumni that attended. It was the first time most of the local group has had the opportunity of attending a convention. The number that availed themselves of the privilege, and the interest they displayed in the problems under discussion speaks well for the strength of the fraternity.

We were sorry to lose Harry Dorman as province president. He has done so much for the fraternity during his one term of office that there was no one but wished that he would serve again. But it was not to be; he did "not choose to run," and in this case there was no mistaking the meaning of those famous words. We want to thank Harry Dorman through these pages for the work he has done, for the harmony he has built, for the standards he has set, and for the interest he has created. What the province has lost as president, the Portland Alumni Club still retains as member. With that we may yet go far. C. W. Walls, Orgon, '12, also of Portland, will be president of Pi Province for the next two years. Brother Walls steps into shoes not easily filled, but he has the support of the past-president and the entire membership of an enthusiastic club. We have no fear but that the work well started will go forward.

The province is a small one, and the work of a convention is correspondingly short. In anticipation of this fact and also with a desire to cement social ties this club has planned some social features to augment the occasion. Brother Ball's splendid article in the April Scroll rather threw cold water on social features at conventions, and it is possible that had not our plans been so far advanced the convention might have been more austere. But those older brothers not already familiar with the intricacies of the varsity drag had been practicing for weeks, and not unnaturally desired an opportunity to display the skill so laboriously won.

Accordingly ten unofficial delegates as well as the two official delegates were invited from each chapter to attend with us at a formal dinner and dance on the Saturday night closing the convention. This made thirty-six delegates in all. None were allowed to supply their own dates: instead a committee was appointed to secure thirty-six of Portland's fairest and finest, and they were not so far removed from college days but that they did their duty well. Programs were arranged in advance by colors, each girl being provided with a set of colors to serve as identification. Names were not necessary. Alumni brought their wives and arranged their own programs.

We think the party was a success. Certainly the soft moon shining across the billowing fairways of the Columbia Country Club and upon the lisping waters of the Columbia River did not militate against us. True, none of these couples had ever met before-presumably-but we have ample testimony that friendships ripened fast. And with good food, good music, a beautiful setting, and the best of company, what party could have been otherwise than a success?

Two delegates from the Seattle Alumni Club were in attendance. Next year it will be their turn to have the province convention, and they have made promises that will be hard to fulfill. But if the alumni in Seattle display one-half the enthusiasm that the Portland alumni did we may be looking for bigger and better province conventions every year.

We believe that the convention did much to make a closer knit fraternity. Certainly the bond between the active chapters and this club is stronger than it has ever been before. And the social side of the convention played no small part in accomplishing this end.

We are looking to Seattle for the next move. But in the meantime the Portland Alumni Club is marching on, and our silence should not be construed as meaning the death of our initiative. You will hear of us again.

Washington, D. C.

Our club loses Dr. Tigert, who goes in a few days to the presidency of the University of Florida, relinquishing the office of U. S. Commissioner of Education. We are glad and proud to have had him here for the last seven years, and so we had a "Tigert Day," August 23. After the regular lunch at the Hotel LaFayette we went to the grounds of the Washington Golf and Country Club, where the afternoon was spent on the links, under pleasant skies and with delightful temperature. Then came dinner at the club house, reminiscent conversation, home to the city, and good-bys. We wish Dr. John J. Tigert success at his new station, and all through his life.

Editorial

The thoughts of Phis generally are turned toward the coming biennial general convention to be held in Nashville, Tennessee, December 26-30.

No spot so rich in Phi tradition and sentiment could have been selected for the meeting. The home of Tennessee Alpha, probably the most successful year in and year out of any of our chapters, the country about Nashville is filled with the spirit of warmth and cordiality toward Phi Delta Theta. No chapter in the fraternity has turned out so many distinguished men and one of the features of the coming convention will be the appearance on the banquet program of a complete list of Tennessee Alpha stars. The list includes Justice James C. McReynolds, '83, of the United States Supreme Court; Duncan U. Fletcher, '80, United States Senator from Florida; Justice Stirling Price Gilbert, '83, of the Supreme Court of Georgia; Judge John H. DeWitt, '94, of the Court of Appeals of Tennessee; John J. Tigert, '04, president of the University of Florida, and Grantland Rice, '01, premier sport writer of the country.

With such a setting it is hoped that the convention will make a distinct contribution to the welfare of the fraternity. The active chapters can help by selecting their delegates with extreme care. When possible, chapter presidents should be sent; in no case is it wise to have as a representative an athletic star or a boy who makes a good appearance unless, by chance, he might have an intimate knowledge of fraternity affairs and be in a position to aid the convention in its work and deliberations. The modern convention is an expensive affair and it is only justified if it performs its proper function as the law making body of the fraternity. We sometimes fear that the social side is stressed too much and that some of the delegates do not give serious attention to the real purpose of the meeting.

One of the matters to be brought up for serious consideration at Nashville is the changing of the time for holding the general convention. It is to be hoped that a date which will not make it necessary for so large a number of men to be away from home on Christmas Day can be agreed upon.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTION OF 1884

By Jesse Wills, Vanderbilt, '22

PHI DELTA THETA in convention assembled is returning to Nashville. Forty-four years, twenty conventions, half the life time of the fraternity ago it met in National convention, as it was then called, in the capital of Tennessee on November 11, 12, 13, and 14, 1884. H. U. Brown, Butler, '80, was president of General Council, A. A. Stearns, Buchtel. '79, Historian, and Charles A. Foster. Wisconsin. '81. Treasurer. Delegates from forty-five chapters. and seven alumni clubs were present. Nine chapters were unrepresented but visitors brought the total attendance to over a hundred.

 Φ Δ Θ was then thirty-six years old with a membership of about thirty-five hundred. Even at that date, however, the convention orator, Judge Phillips, Centre, '55, could recall the good old days, and other speakers could paint pictures of rapid growth, and prosperity, and prophecy a future which has proved even brighter than they dreamed.

Judging from the account in Walter Palmer's history and from the memories of survivors it was a very happy occasion. Literary exercises, a feature which has disappeared from conventions as it has largely from present day chapter meetings, were held in the hall of the house of representatives of the capitol where it is planned to hold the sessions of the thirtyeighth convention. The banquet and ball were held in the old Tulane Hotel. "Over sixty ladies" were present at the last. It must have been a particularly happy occasion for the members of the Young Vanderbilt chapter. Founded only eight years before, it has existed sub rosa until 1883, when, largely through its efforts, the anti-fraternity ban had been lifted by the faculty. Now a year later it had the pleasure of hearing Chancellor Garland publicly welcome the convention to chapel exercises.

It is the ambition of the committee in charge of the present convention to have return to Nashville every living member present in 1884. Fourteen of these are living here, including prominent attorneys, physicians, and business men, and we endeavored to get a group picture of them all for THE SCROLL. Unfortunately only four were able to be present. These are, from left to right, Robert F. Jackson, attorney, who delivered the address of welcome in 1884, Percy D. Maddin, another well-known attorney, T. Leigh Thompson, vice-president of the National Life and Accident Insurance Company, and Will R. Manier, secretary of the Nashville Chamber of Commerce, one of the best loved men of the city and a father in Φ Δ Θ. One son, Will Manier, Ir., Vanderbilt, '08, is general chairman of arrangements for the thirty-eighth convention, and another, Miller Manier, Vanderbilt, '17, is a former president of the old Gamma Province.

We plan as much as possible to parallel the features of the 1884 convention, though not in everything. There is a tradition that one of the brothers fell from the dome of the capitol without being hurt, a feat too great for any of a less hardy generation. Wednesday, December 26, will be the eightieth anniversary of the founding of Φ Δ Θ . There will be a dance that evening at the chapter house of Tennessee Alpha in honor of the early arrivals, and the occasion will be commemorated in some

SIXTY YEARS A PHI

By D. H. POTTENGER, Miami, '73, Virginia, '75 (A.B. '73, M.A. '87 Miami University; B.L. University of Virginia, '75)

I WAS fifteen years old when I completed the first year of the Intermediate School in Cincinnati in the spring of 1867. I had decided to go to Miami University and entered the two year preparatory course for students not yet prepared to enter college. Being quite small for my age and with what appeared inadequate requirements, I had to face the faculty in the President's office for an oral examination before I was actually admitted to this department in the fall of 1867. After answering a number of questions from the different members of the faculty one of them propounded the question, "Did you ever spell much with a t?" Upon answering in the negative I was admitted "cum laude."

D. H. POTTENGER, Miami, '73, Virginia, '75

In the month of November, 1868, my second year of the preparatory school, I was initiated into Φ Δ Θ , and because I had not yet entered college, I remained a sub rosa member for a year or more.

It was not customary to initiate a candidate before entering college, but when receiving the bid I would not accept unless I was initiated at once. I presume I made this request because the upperclassmen would give one or two beginners each year a sham initiation into some alleged fraternity that had no existence except in the imagination of the conspirators. This initiation was somewhat similar to Hell Week of the present day for pledges to a fraternity.

One of the alleged fraternities was known as A \(\Sigma \), and the "members" wore their badges with much honor oftimes with a crèpe around them in memory of a deceased foreign brother. One young initiate wore his pin with a great deal of pride on his visit home, but his father, being up on the fraternity question, told his son that he was surely good material for such a fraternity.

One of the stunts pulled off by these fake fraternities was to blindfold the candidate, lead him to a gutter and tell him that he was on the banks of Four Mile Creek. To the surprise of the conspirators he replied, "Don't push me in for my sweetheart's sake," but over he went. Perhaps some of the fraternities do such things in these days.

Knowing it was not the custom to initiate a "pledge" before he had entered the college proper, I was still of the opinion that I might be a victim, and especially so when they informed me of the trail to the fraternity hall through dark alleys and back streets. I concluded I would be prepared and borrowed from one of my classmates a very formidable looking revolver and started on my lonely iournev about 9:00 P.M. for the place of meeting-a hall on High Street above a bakery, and was very agreeably surprised at the reception I received and the ceremonies of the order. It made on me a pleasant and lasting impression and the scene is as livid in my memory at the present time as it was the night in November, 1868, when I pledged my fidelity and loyalty to the Bond of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$. This account of my preparation for initiation is given because it amused my two sons, who are also members of Φ Δ Θ.

At the time I entered college there were four Greek fraternities, viz., $A \Delta \Phi, B \Theta \Pi, \Delta K E$, and $\Phi \Delta \Theta$. $\Delta \Upsilon$ came in about 1870.

There was more politics among the students at Miami than there is in a presidential election in this country at the present time. A Δ Φ and Φ Δ Θ were united against Δ K E and Δ Γ , and the party that got the "barbarians" on its side was sure of an election in class or in the college at large. B Θ Π was not active, having only one or two members in the chapter at that time.

During my time in the university the chapter held weekly meetings opened with prayer and followed by discussions of interest to our fraternity. Initiation fee, as I recollect, was five dollars, dues practically nothing, inasmuch as the rent for the hall was twenty-five or thirty dollars a year. Assessments took care of special entertainments or dances.

Members lined up with Erodelphian and Miami Union Literary Societies where our activities were spent in debates which were entertaining and instructive to all of us. Baseball was the only collegiate game indulged in, sans gloves, and trips were made to nearby towns. The usual college pranks were played, putting in fresh cut grass in the Greek room in the evening, a cow in at night, and being compelled to use the room the next day as a result of our escapade. Each student heated his own room and it was quite a trick after purchasing a supply of coal to see that said supply was not made away with unlawfully. The last three years spent at Miami was across the hall from where Φ Δ Θ was founded, the room at that time not being used for sleeping quarters.

I remember with gratitude the interest the President and the members of the faculty took in the students of sixty years ago, and I doubt not that we learned and were as well prepared to face the problems of the world from a faculty of six members as the student of today with a faculty of more than one hundred members.

In the fall of 1874, Tack Gilmore. a Phi Delt and a classmate, and Jeff Claypool, a Deke, went to the University of Virginia-Jack and myself for the Law School, and Claypool in the Liberal Arts, upon the recommendation of President Hepburn of Miami. I received the degree of B.L. with the Class of '75, but Gilmore who was in poor health did not attempt to get the degree. Beta located at the University of Virginia was re-organized with the aid of Gilmore and myself, and two of the members whom we helped to initiate were Professors Bohannon and Preston, now deceased, who were in the mathematics department at Ohio State for some time. It has remained since then an active chapter.

I attended at Miami University the celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the founding of our fraternity, but the active members and recent alumni were too lively for me. I was on the program, and it was about 2:00 a.m. when I was called upon for my little "say," and the sun came up before we retired for sleep. The surviving members of the class of 1873 are H. R. Buckingham and myself, who were two of the six Phis graduating in that year.

Among others I took an active part in procuring Ohio Theta for Cincinnati University and was present when the chapter was installed by Walter B. Palmer, President of the General Council, and I understand that the charter for this chapter is the only one signed by this distinguished and lovable Phi.

I have not attended any of the "celebrations" since then, but did have with Mrs. Pottenger, while passing through Oxford, a pleasant visit and a fine dinner at the chapter house some four years ago, and can say I was well pleased with the fine set of boys then constituting the chapter.

PHI STARS IN THE BIG LEAGUES

By MURRAY S. SMITH, Knox, '25

IF YOU encounter a baseball fanatic in your rushing next season—here's a little dope that will probably do the trick and swing him to Φ Δ Θ .

During the recently finished baseball season there were five Phis playing stellar ball on various American and National League teams. Lou Gehrig, New York Yanks; Muddy Ruel, Washington Senators; Carl Reynolds, Chicago White Sox; Charlie Berry, Boston Red Sox; and Howard Williamson, St. Louis Cardinals. You have already heard of the prowess of Gehrig and Ruel so this story will be devoted to the Phi rookies exclusively. Reynolds and Williamson are both Southern boys—the former hailing from Texas Gamma at Southwestern and the latter from Texas Beta at Texas University. Both these men starred on the school Varsity and worked their way up through the minor leagues to later become recognized by the Big Show. Berry is now the regular catcher for the Boston Red Sox and has a wonderful career ahead of him. Williamson was just acquired by the Cards at the close of this season and was on their roster during the recent World Series but did not break into the line-up.

Carl Reynolds is heralded by the critics as one of the outstanding "finds" of the season. He played regularly in right field for the White Sox and led the regulars in batting. His fielding and throwing were almost on a par with his batting. These youngsters should all become stars during the next season and add more glory to the already brilliant Phi Delt athletic record.

THE MAN YOU CAN'T MAKE MAD

By Russell H. Fitzgibbon, Hanover, '24

HUMAN interest in generous quantities has attached itself to the career of William Earl Hunter, Hanover, '02. Some of it has been of lyric quality, other bits reflect a tragic tone, practically all of it has been dramatic. Brother Hunter is located just about as close as he could be to the institution of Φ Δ Θ and still be outside of 209 High Street, Oxford. He is now the University pastor at Miami University with the Memorial Presbyterian church in that town as headquarters.

It was as a fourteen-year-old boy that Brother Hunter went down to Hanover. Whether by way of contrast with his youth, whether it was some display of extreme precocity, or whatever the reason, he soon became "dad" to everyone in school and the name stuck until during his World War work in a French "Y" camp the soldiers dubbed him "the man you can't make mad."

Prior to the war Brother Hunter held a pastorate at Columbia City, Indiana. A number of prominent men were members of his church there. Vice-president Thomas R. Marshall was one. Chief Justice Adams of the Indiana Supreme Court was another; Representative McNagny of Indiana and Secretary King of the Indiana State Board of Health were others. The war came on. Delay in the appointment of army chaplains caused Brother Hunter to go to France in the capacity of a Y.M.C.A. secretary. While in Camp Meucon, with some 24,000 soldiers in the camp, Brother Hunter was instrumental in organizing a large Masonic club. Naturally his experiences in France were thickly coated with both the glamor and the pathos of the "Y" secretary's life.

After returning to America Brother Hunter entered upon an almost continuous association with college students in his work as a minister. At times it was more or less indirect but he attributed much of the stimulus of his work to the contacts he has had with student bodies. At first he was located at Crawfordsville, Indiana, where the association was with Wabash College. Later, at Aberdeen, South Dakota, he had a second touch with college work in his contacts with the students of a state normal school located there. When it was necessary to leave South Dakota on account of his wife's health he accepted the college pastorate at the State College of New Mexico. He is now continuing his fine work as the student pastor at Miami. All sorts of problems, religious, philosophical, moral, have been laid before Brother Hunter by students in the various colleges. He has acted in almost every capacity from that of employment agency to that of banker in his work with the Surely participation in a war-and we will all admit that it was a pretty good sized war-and close contacts with the students of four widely different and widely separated colleges ought to give a Phi his share of experiences.

KAPPA PROVINCE MEETS AT HANOVER

By Russell H. Fitzgibbon, Hanover, '24

WITH six of the seven chap-ters in the Province represented, the annual convention of Kappa Province was held October 27 and 28 with Indiana Epsilon at Hanover College, Hanover, Indiana. No elaborate social program was planned although a smoker and dance were held on Saturday evening.

The business sessions of the convention were held at the chapter house on Sunday, October 28. Barrett M. Woodsmall, Indiana, '24, Province president, presided, and Arthur R. Priest and Reuben C. Ball from the General Headquarters were in attendance. All the chapters of the state with the exception of Indiana Zeta at De Pauw were represented by one or more delegates, and two chapters had their chapter advisers present. Delegates from two alumni clubs were in attendance but took no formal part in the meetings. The morning session of the convention was devoted to reports from the various chapters on such general and common problems as scholarship, finances, "hell week," housing conditions, etc.

Discussions and reports were continued in the afternoon with Brother Priest giving a preliminary report on plans for the General Convention at Nashville and Brother Ball reporting on the work of the Palmer Trustees. In the election for the Province presidency for the coming year the office went to Harold H. Hungate, Butler, '24. Brother Hungate was formerly chapter president at Indiana Gamma and was one of the most outstanding athletes produced at Butler in many years. The convention next year is to be held at Greencastle with Indiana Zeta acting as host.

A partial list of delegates and others in attendance follows: Indiana Alpha, Bates, delegate, and Lambert; Indiana Beta, Settle, delegate, and Robinson and Davis; Indiana Gamma, Pitt, delegate; Indiana Delta, Ballard, delegate, and Graham, chapter adviser; Indiana Epsilon, Bishop, delegate, and Fitzgibbon, chapter adviser; Indiana Theta, Schultz, delegate. Brothers Leland Ridgeway and Jay C. Taff represented the Indianapolis and Hanover-Madison Alumni Clubs respec-

BACK TO THE ALTAR

I wonder if, with this great organization of ours, this thing which we may justly picture—every one of our fraternities as a great soul—it can be possible that we haven't an altar? I am thinking of the things that were in the hearts of the men who founded every one of our fraternities. If we can take the idealism that is in who founded every one of our fraterintes. If we can take the recassing man is in every college fraterinty back in the innermost shrine and say to those boys, "Here is the thing our fraternity stands for," then we won't have to discuss rushing rules, deferred pledging, or deferred initiation; we won't have to discuss scholarship, finances, or any of the other questions. But we must get them to go back and stay at the altar long enough to get the real idea of the fraternity.

Chapter Grand

Andrew C. Moore, South Carolina,' 87

Andrew C. Moore, South Carolina, '87, died suddenly from the effects of a heart attack September 17, 1928. Brother Moore was the very distinguished dean of the department of biology of the University of South Carolina. His initiation into the Chapter Grand closes the door upon the last of a trio of three prominent Phis who were connected with the University of South Carolina. liam W. Ball, a classmate of Brother Moore's, resigned as head of the department of journalism to enter newspaper work in Charlestown, and William T. Aycock, South Carolina, '89, was recently killed in an automobile accident. The other two members of Brother Moore's class are John B. Patton, a retired commander of the U. S. Navy, and David F. Houston, former Secretary of Agriculture and Secretary of the Treasury.

Brother Moore had not been feeling well for a few days before his death but his passing was entirely unexpected and cast a pall of gloom over the university and the city of Columbia. The opening of the university, which was scheduled for the day of his death, was postponed one day in deference to his memory. Brother Moore was not only one of the most noted educators in his field in higher education but he also took a very active part in the work of the public schools in Columbia, South Carolina. He was chairman of the controlling board of the city schools. On two occasions Brother Moore served as acting president of the university and at other times he was chairman of the faculty and dean of the university. After his graduation from South Carolina in 1887 he did graduate work in the University of Chicago. He also held the degree of LL.D. from Wofford College.

Silas M. Haight, Lafayette, '08

A victim of an automobile accident, Silas M. Haight, Lafayette, '08, met death September 29, 1928, when his car skidded on a slippery highway near the village of Liverpool, Pennsylvania.

Brother Haight, whose home was in Elmira, New York, left there at noon of that day accompanied by Miss Charlotte Lowe, a friend, to drive to Lancaster, Pennsylvania. He was making the trip to meet a business appointment in connection with his duties as research and sales engineer for Sweet's Steel Company of Williamsport.

There were no eye-witnesses of the tragedy, which also took the life of Miss Lowe. Marks on the highway indicated that the car had slued, run down an embankment, through a fence and into a tree. Brother Haight was thrown from the car by the impact and was instantly killed, death being due to a fractured skull.

He was born in Elmira and attended the public schools there. Upon going to Lafayette College, where he was made a member of Φ Δ Θ , he enrolled in the Engineering School and during the summers worked as a member of the Engineering Department of the City of Elmira. He enlisted in the U. S. Army during the World War and because of his engineering qualifications, was assigned to the air service. He went overseas, being stationed for many months in England assisting in the construction of airports.

Brother Haight was a Mason and a member of the Institute of Civil Engineers.

The burial took place in Elmira.

Reverend Oliver H. Melchoir, Gettysburg, '76

(Charter Member)

They are passing. Another charter member of one of the oldest Phi chapters is gone, leaving a record of service and good citizenship which is characteristic of those who planted $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ in all parts of the country.

Death resulted from a stroke of paralysis, his illness lasting several weeks. Had he lived a few months longer, he would have celebrated his golden anniversary as pastor of the Springfield Lutheran charge Springtown, Pennsylvania. Brother Melchoir served this charge during the entire period of his pastorate, and was a general favorite throughout the community. He had baptized 2,715 children and adults, united in marriage 829 couples and officiated at 1.739 burials. Membership in his congregation was three times as large at his death as when he took charge in 1879.

Brother Melchoir was born in Bedminster Township, Pennsylvania, December 23, 1848. He received his A.B. at Gettysburg in 1876 and graduated from the Theological Seminary in Gettysburg in 1879. He is survived by his wife and four children.

John Henry Wagner, Jr., Brown, '28, died June 10, 1928, at the Baptist Memorial Hospital in Memphis, Tennessee. He was a victim of an acute attack of Bright's Disease, which was the culmination of a lengthy period of ill health.

ninety-three]

Brother Wagner was born in Water Valley, Mississippi, October 27, 1903 and received his early education there. Later he attended the Freehold Military Academy of Freehold, New York, where he graduated with honor, and then went to St. John's Military School of Manlius, New York, where he also graduated with honors, receiving medals for scholarship, deportment and high marks of excellence.

Upon graduation from St. John's, Brother Wagner went to Brown University. Here he became a Phi, but was unable to continue beyond his junior year because of the condition of his health.

He was very popular with his brothers in Rhode Island Alpha and with the students and faculty at Brown.

A friend said of him, "He possessed all the finer attributes of a noble character—he was a kind and obedient son, faithful and true to friends, conscientious and faithful to his church—loved flowers, music and the beautiful things of life."

Fletcher Arnold Quillian, Emory, '84

Fletcher Arnold Quillian, Emory, '84, became an initiate of the Chapter Grand on October 7, 1928, when he succumbed to an extended illness culminating in a stroke of paralysis. Brother Quillian was one of the most prominent attorneys of Atlanta, Georgia, and for many years had been a leader in civic affairs. He was born in White County, Georgia, September 13, 1859, and at the time of his death had lived in Atlanta for more than a quarter of a century. He was graduated from Emory University in 1884 and participated in many activities while a student there.

Brother Quillian had served as a city councilman, city alderman, mayor pro tem, chairman of the first bond commission in Atlanta, and in other positions of responsibility and trust. He was very prominent in the work of the Methodist church in Atlanta. Funeral services were held for Brother Quillian on October 9 with some of the most outstanding members of the Atlanta bar acting as an honorary escort.

Raymond E. Dustin, California, '26

Raymond Edward Dustin was killed April 21, 1928, at Fresno, California, when the airplane in which he was receiving flying instruction crashed.

Brother Dustin, or "Buddy" as he was better known, was graduated in 1926 from the University of California with the degree of A.B. While in college he was very popular, both in the fraternity and on the campus. He was a member of the varsity basketball squad for three years, and was otherwise active on the campus.

At the time of his death, "Buddy" was employed by the Southern Pacific Company in the engineering department, and was taking up aviation as an amusement. After leaving college he was in Berkeley for two years, and took a great interest in the active chapter's affairs, and was well known.

Brother Dustin's death was a shock both to the alumni and the active members, who will always cherish a memory of being associated with him. $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ was better for "Buddy" Dustin.

Thomas S. Parrott, Sewanee, '95

Thomas S. Parrott, Sewanee, '95, died suddenly on the morning of October I at his home at Newnan, Georgia. His death was the result of a heart attack. Brother Parrott was one of the leading capitalists and business men of the Georgia city. He had been an outstanding figure in many lines of activity in Newnan for many years. He was a director of the First National Bank of that city.

prominently connected with the Arnco mills and also with the Newnan Building and Loan Association. Brother Parrott was a member and past president of the Newnan Rotary Club and also had been active in the Masonic order. He was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Brother Parrott had served on the city council of Newnan and had been a member of the board of education. During the Spanish-American War he served as captain of a company of guards. He was very much interested in athletics and was one of the incorporators of the Newnan Country Club.

Jack L. Mulgardt, California, '29

Jack Louis Christian Mulgardt was killed September 22, 1928, when the airplane which he was flying fell at Carmel, California. Brother Mulgardt retired from college in May, 1927, to take up flying, entering the Naval Reserve, receiving his flying instruction at Sand Point, Washington. At the time of his death he was engaged in aviation work at Carmel.

"Mulgy," as he was familiarly known, was very popular as a student at the University of California, being active on the campus, making many friends for himself and the fraternity. He was a proficient swimmer and diver, sports which he learned in Honolulu, his former home.

While Brother Mulgardt has gone, leaving a vacancy which no other can fill, he has left California Alpha and all $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ richer by their association with him.—PHILIP M. WAZY

Franklin V. Bugbee, California, '01

In Coelo Quies Est

Not all of the news happens in Georgia and Indiana, although such a peculiar fact might be indicated from a survey of the news items included in the Alumni Section of this issue of THE SCROLL. The explanation is simple: the assistant editor lives in Indiana and has access to the Indianapolis newspapers. The most prolific correspondent of this department is Joseph M. Clark, Jr., Vanderbilt, '16, who lives in Georgia and has access to the Atlanta newspapers. THE SCROLL is glad—even anxious—to report what Phis from all sections of the country are doing, but the magazine does not subscribe to all of the country's newspapers and so for our clipping service we must depend on interested, volunteer reporters from all the localities where Phis are doing things—and that is just about everywhere. Will you help us?

A scientist who believes that "the most important, the most enduring thing anyone could do would be to write four perfect lines of poetry," is Wade W. Oliver, Michigan, '12. In such a way was Brother Oliver characterized by the Michigan Alumnus in its issue of October 20. The quotation was Brother Oliver's own. and the tribute to him was included in the "Who's Who in the Alumni University" section of the university magazine. Brother Oliver in 1916 was sent by the Rockefeller International Health Foundation to assist in a hookworm survey in Brazil. In 1917 he was appointed professor of bacteriology at the Long Island College Hospital, Brooklyn, which position he still holds. "But getting back to the really important thing, in Dr. Oliver's opinion," the Michigan Alumnus says "he is the author of Sky-Rider, a volume of poems recently reviewed." One of the poems included in this volume recently was awarded two national prizes.

Dr. Henry Louis Smith, Virginia, '87, resigned early in October as president of Washington and Lee University at Lexington, Virginia.

Brother Smith's resignation is due to his advanced age and his desire to retire from active educational work. It will take effect July 1, 1929, according to announcement of the board of trustees of the university. Brother Smith received his A.B. degree in 1881 from Davidson College, the degree of A.M. in 1886 from the same college, and the Ph.D. degree in 1891 from the University of Virginia. In 1906 he was given the degree of LL.D. by the University of North Carolina. From 1901 to 1912 Brother Smith served as president of Davidson, his alma mater, and since that time has been at Washington and Lee. He is known as one of the most distinguished educators in the entire South.

A most unusual and clever departure in dramatic circles has been undertaken in Indianapolis by Robert C. Winslow, Pennsylvania, '19, and Mrs. Winslow. Brother and Mrs. Winslow fitted out a small theater over the garage of their home in north Indianapolis, named it "The Littlest Theater," and have entered upon a program of production of some of the best of the modern plays. Some of these are written by Mrs. Winslow and by friends of the couple. Brother and Mrs. Winslow plan to make The Littlest Theater a sort of laboratory to try out new plays written by themselves and their friends and also to use for the showing of motion pictures which they have taken. Both Brother and Mrs. Winslow are active in the Players and in the Little Theater Society of Indianapolis.

Herschel Williams, Northwestern, '95, has recently returned from a year's trip to Europe, where he has been gathering material and preparing manuscript for a new juvenile book called Children of the Clouds. This is to be published by Thomas Nelson & Sons, the well-known publishers of children's books.

Brother Williams is a very successful writer of juvenile stories. The Jolly Old Whistle, published in 1927, is a leading juvenile library seller and has been recommended by the American Library Association. His work is much out of the ordinary, as his stories are based on folk-lore and children's literature of many different nationalities. They are a distinct contribution to the juvenile literature world and will no doubt live long in the hearts of juvenile readers.

The recent publication of a new issue of Who's Who in America has produced numerous comments on those included in this standard biographical dictionary. Carl S. Hansman, Northwestern, '20, has noted that four members of the St. Louis Alumni Club of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ have been included in this new issue. The four Phis included are: the Reverend William Crowe, Central (Kentucky), '92, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of St. Louis; Carl G. Rathman, Missouri, '76, assistant superintendent of instruction, Board of Education Building, St. Louis; Guy A. Thompson, Missouri, '95, attorney; Judge Frank A. Thompson, Missouri, '04. Brothers Guy and Frank Thompson are brothers and members of one of the leading law firms of St. Louis.

Illinois Eta in its publication of The Shout on October 27 has made a very interesting contribution to chapter journalism. The Shout is a well-printed six-page paper carrying feature stories on the Illinois homecoming game, the winning of the huge intramural trophy offered by the university, and the high place gained by Illinois Eta in scholarship. Robert Z. Hickman, Illinois, '29, is a potential Rhodes scholar at Oxford, according to a story in The Shout. Brother Hickman was listed in the April Scroll among the "Undergraduates of Achievement." Among his more notable accomplishments are his work in football, his winning of a Φ B K key, and his gaining of the rank of student colonel in the R.O.T.C.

President Coolidge may be a member of $\Phi \Gamma \Delta$, but at least he has an efficient and original substitute in the ranks of Φ Δ Θ in the person of Francis M. Russell, Iowa State, '19, assistant secretary of agriculture. Some admirer sent the President a crate of grapes during the recent "Na-tional Grape Week." The crate was delivered at the department of agriculture and the insistent expressman required a receipt in harmony with the address on the crate. Brother Russell then very obligingly signed the receipt, "The President of the United States, F. M. Russell." The incident was recently given publicity in Frederick William Wiles' column in the Washington Star.

Algernon H. Speer, Wooster, '01, is associated with the extension department of the University of Minnesota beginning with the fall of 1928. Brother Speer until this past summer was educational director of the Minneapolis Y.M.C.A. and in that capacity he had direction of the night classes conducted by the "Y." In his new work Brother Speer will have charge of contact work between the night classes of the university and the business firms of the city. He will also be in direction of the correspondence school courses. Brother Speer is a member of the history committee of Φ Δ Θ .

The Reverend King Vivion, Southern Methodist, '16, recently chosen president of Southwestern University, took over the direction of the university when it opened about the middle of September. Brother Vivion in addressing the faculty of the institution stated that he favored a policy of restricting the student body to a relatively small number of hand-picked students bent upon the very highest academic endeavor. As president he has plans under way which will place Southwestern in the front rank, both financially and academically, of all institutions maintained by the Methodist Church.

Two Phis had prominent parts in the program of dedication of the new $200,000 Barnes Science Hall at Franklin College on October 20. The principal address on the program was given by Dr. Otis W. Caldwell, Franklin, '94. Brother Caldwell is a nationally known scientist and educator and is director of the Lincoln school of education of Columbia University. He spoke on the subject "Science for All." The building was received for the college by Grafton Tohnson. Franklin, '87, president of the board of directors of the college.

"What we need for international peace is more human sympathy and appreciation of human beings with loyalty to mankind," Dr. William Mather Lewis, Knox, '00, recently told a large group of high school teachers at South Bend, Indiana. Brother Lewis, president of Lafayette College and former president of George Washington University, was scheduled as one of the principal speakers at the annual meeting of the North Central Indiana Teachers' Association.

Elmer Davis, Franklin, '10, has attained further literary recognition in the selection of his recent novel," Giant Killer, as the "Book Selection" sponsored by the American Booksellers' Association. Each month an outstanding book is selected to receive this award as a means of stimulating public interest in book reading. Brother Davis, a former Rhodes scholar at Oxford University, has received wide notice in recent years for his articles, short stories, and novels.

One of the most spectacular features of the recent campaign was furnished by the campaign made against Governor Smith by William Allen White, Kansas, '90. Charges made by Brother White early in the campaign furnished an introductory wedge which he followed up with a vigorous speaking tour in favor of the election of the Republican nominees. Brother White, self-styled "country newspaper man," is the editor of the nationally known Emporia (Kansas) Gazette.

William H. Beck, Jr., Georgia, '20, was chosen president of the Elks organizations of the State of Georgia at a meeting of the state executive committee on October 21. Brother Beck had previously served as vice-president in charge of District One of the state. As president of the organization he will be in charge of the state convention to be held in Atlanta next Iune.

Hugh M. Willet, Mercer, '78, was re-elected president of the board of trustees of Mercer University at a meeting of the board on September 28. The position is one of particular importance at this time due to the program of expansion in the law school which the university plans. Brother Willet is general agent of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company at Atlanta, Georgia.

A new public library at Hagerstown, Indiana, is to be the gift of Lothair Teetor, Wisconsin, '21, and other members of his family. Brother Teetor is an official of a large piston ring company at Hagerstown. The corner stone of the building was laid on October 13. The building will contain a community room and will be surrounded with terraced grounds.

Howard Robinson, Franklin-Indiana, '23, was appointed a member of the committee on permanent organization of the recent convention of the American Legion at San Antonio, Texas. Brother Robinson is a practicing attorney at Franklin, Indiana, and has served as deputy prosecutor for that judicial circuit.

Harold Ladd Plumley, Williams, '25, was married on October 1 to Miss Lois Studley Phelps of Meriden, Connecticut. Brother Plumley is a member of the University Club of Hartford, Connecticut and of the Williams Club. He is connected with the Travelers Insurance Company at Meriden, Connecticut.

George H. Sessions, Georgia Tech, '26, was married recently to Miss Nelle Lynn Johnson, the service being performed by Bishop Warren A. Candler. Among the groomsmen at the wedding were Arthur B. Edge, Jr., Georgia Tech, '26, and Albert M. Wright, Georgia Tech, '25. Brother Sessions is prominently connected with the Bibb Manufacturing Company of Columbus, Georgia.

Morton B. Howell, III, Vanderbilt, '07, has severed his connection with Neely-Harwell and Company, wholesale drygoods merchants of Nashville, Tennessee, and is now connected with the Travelers Insurance Company at Nashville. Brother Howell is a member of the Belle Meade Country Club and other Nashville organizations.

Byron Price, Wabash, '12, Chief of the Washington Bureau of The Associated Press, covered the political conventions of the two major parties for the A. P. His signed articles appeared in all of the papers in the country carrying the Associated Press service and were favorably commented on by newspaper men everywhere.

Michael E. Foley, Wabash, '99, delivered an address on the subject of "Criminology" on October 24 before a branch of the American Association of University Women at Michigan City, Indiana. For many years Brother Foley was a member of the board of trustees of the Indiana state prison.

Hilton U. Brown, Butler, '80, has taken a leading part in the various ceremonies attending the opening of the new Butler University this fall. Brother Brown, managing editor of the Indianapolis News, is chairman of the board of directors of Butler University.

Joseph M. Jones, Emory-Georgia, '23, recently became associated with the law firm of George and John L. Westmoreland in Atlanta, Georgia. Brother Jones was for two years secretary to Judge R. C. Bell of the Georgia State Court of Appeals. He is a member of Φ B K.

The University of Missouri Alumnus in its June issue carried the picture of Arthur D. Bond, Missouri, '25, a Rhodes scholar at Oxford. The picture, taken at Granada, Spain, showed Brother Bond and another Missouri Rhodes scholar who were visiting Spain during their vacation.

J. Wesley McAfee, Missouri, '25, is president of the St. Louis Alumni Association of the University of Missouri. Brother McAfee is an attorney with offices in the Central National Bank Building.

Harlan Striff, three-year veteran and listed among the country's most consistent broad jumpers, and Lee Hanson, sophomore miler and winner of that event at the Pacific coast conference meet last spring, were O.S.C.'s only representatives at the national collegiate meet in Chicago. The pair brought back a total of 12 points. Hanson later competed for the Los Angeles Athletic club in the Olympic trials at Boston but was unable to duplicate previous performances on that occasion. His fastest official time in his varsity season was 4:19. Other Phis who easily won the coveted varsity letter were Ralph Twitchell, hurdler; William Joos, and William Wood, sprinters. MacMahon also was a member of the squad. As a group of tracksters in competition, Oregon Beta's quintet of lettermen were able to amass a large share of the total number of points. In a duel meet with the University of Oregon, 771/2 points were scored by Oregon State. Of these, 351/2 were earned by Phis of Oregon Beta. A total of 32 points was scored in the Pacific coast conference

This fine work, supervised by Mort Carragher has started the school year off with zest and vigor, and the find themselves brothers splendidly housed.

Supplementing the fine work of the Alumni has been the annual deluge of gifts made possible by the generosity of the Mothers Club. A new dining room table, new drapes, several equisite tapestries and a huge mirror in the dining room mark the very fine magnaminity and interest of Washington Alpha's Mothers Club.

It is yet a bit early to forecast Washington Alphas' activities on the campus this year. However, we launch forth into October with Smith Troy, President of the Student Body, and a host of returning big W winners who are back to further glorify Washington on the athletic field. It is especially fitting that the name of Charley Carroll be prominently mentioned, as this fall marks the swan song of Washington's second worthy candidate for All-American honors in a decade. His work on the gridion this season will be closely followed by every lover of the sport in this sector.

Steve Anderson, National High Hurdle Champion, and winner of second place at the Olympic Games in Amsterdam, has returned to college.

Alumni Personals: Much valuable rushing work was engineered by Alumni of this chapter and various chapters throughout the country. Alumni brothers Harv Cassill, Scot Cassill, and Putt Turner contributed generously to the work that secured Washington's Alpha one of her finest pledge classes in years. Thanks to the generosity of the parents of Alumni Brothers, Laurie and Starr Calvert, the country home of the family was used as the scene of several effective rushing parties.

Alumni Clubs

Fort Wayne, Indiana

The Fort Wayne Alumni Club, after being more or less indifferent for the past few years, was revived on the night of September 26, 1928.

Twenty-three were seated at the large round table in the new Chamber of Commerce building where a most excellent banquet was served. In order to promote $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ in the several universities and colleges which were to receive freshmen from the Fort Wayne High Schools, a committee was appointed to look into the standing of certain young men about so embark. Scholarship, athletic ability and general fitness for college were considered as well as financial conditions. The result was that we had boiled down the large list to six mighty fine boys. They were much interested in our meeting and most excellent talks given to us by Brothers Priest, Ball and Milligan, who had motored over from Oxford to spend that evening with us. We were also pleased to have with us Brothers A. B. Pavne and V. N. Raiser of Wabash College, Brother H. E. Grundman of Iowa State and Willard J. Buntin of Northwestern who were visiting in the city at the time of our meeting.

It is the belief of the Fort Wayne Alumni Club that general good may be done in the national organization by the alumni clubs if a few young men were entertained each fall at a dinner wherein these "students to be" may have a slight insight into the fraternity spirit which has been cherished by us since our college days. It not only gives a boost to the fraternity but tends to put the freshman more or less at ease when he arrives on the campus. Moreover, it makes him feel that others are interested in his welfare and there are always many questions which these fellows have worrying them and which we can easily answer.

At the close of the meeting the following officers were elected for the new year: president, Merlin S. Wilson, Illinois Alpha; vice-president, Dr. Paul P. Bailey, Indiana Alpha; secretary-treasurer, George J. Wyss, Illinois Alpha.

Alpha.

As the Fort Wayne Phis are very active in other luncheon and dinner clubs, it was thought best not to have weekly or monthly meetings. We will, however, have three banquet meetings each year—one in the fall before the active brothers return to college, which will be a rushing meeting; one during the holidays and one in the spring.

A surprisingly intense interest was shown by many of the older men present at the banquet and the feeling of good fellowship prevailed through the entire meeting which is evidenced by the fact that we sat down to dinner at 6:45 and remained about the table until 10:30 discussing old times and other matters for the good of the Phi Delta Theta.

The officers of the Fort Wayne Alumni Club will be very glad to receive calls from any of the brothers who are in the city at any time.

Philadelphia Pennsylvania

The Phi Delta Theta Alumni Club of Philadelphia held the first regular fall meeting on September 19. This was designated as Pennsylvania Day and Dr. H. H. Parcher was chairman.

Wilson Durham, Pennsylvania, '20, gave a real talk—instructive and interesting. He is the radio engineer for station WCAU, and one of the leading radio men in Philadelphia. His talk dealt with the development of radios, particular larly the broadcasting station.

The second special luncheon of the year was for the brothers from Pittsburgh, Allegheny, Washington and Jefferson, and Ohio. This was held on October 17, and Politics, with a capital "P" was the order of the day. Honorable Wm. H. Albright was the speaker, and if you weren't a staunch Hoover man at the beginning of the meeting, you were at the end. There was a good attendance.

The annual golf tournament with the New York Alumni Club is scheduled for October 19. New York has chosen the Canoe Brook Country Club at Summit, New Jersey, and there will be several car loads of Philadelphia Phis driving up for the day.

Under the direction of President Tyler and due largely to his energetic work things are moving along in good shape in the Philadelphia Club, and we are looking forward to some fine meetings this winter.

PAUL D. SUMMERS, Secretary

San Antonio, Texas

San Antonio Alumni Club is holding its meetings regularly each month when we get together for luncheon.

About forty-five are on our roll and the number is steadily on the increase.

On October 5 we had the great pleasure of having Brother Fred Milligan, Ohio State, '28, traveling secretary, visit us. Brother Milligan gave us a very interesting talk on the present status of the general fraternity and threw a search light upon the activities and standing of the various chapters in this province. We appreciate Brother Milligan's visit very much and hope we will have him with us again soon.

Our biggest meeting of each year, of course, is the one held on Founders' Day.

In 1927 our Founders' Day services were held at a ranch house in the hills some sixty miles from here, and in 1928 a banquet with appropriate and informal talks commemorated the day for us.

Should any Phi happen to be in San Antonio on our meeting day, we want him to drop in and have luncheon with

New officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: president, William Winerich, Pennsylvania, '22; vice-president, Harold Kayton, Chicago, '12; secretary-treasurer, Glenn Alvey, Texas, '19; recorder, John A. James, Texas, '12.

Standardized China and Silver

Is being supplied to an everincreasing and ever-satisfied group of chapters.

Ware that lasts only a comparatively short time is expensive, no matter how low its original cost. A standardized service is a true investment and always a delight to look upon.

Write us or General Headquarters and ask for prices—the ware lasts forever and is very reasonable.

Editorial

Just a word to convention delegates. It is a great privilege and a great responsibility to be sent as a representative of your chapter to a general convention. The fraternity goes to large expense to bring you to Nashville and you owe it to your chapter mates and to yourself to give earnest thought and undivided attention to the business affairs of the meetings.

Go back to your chapters with an intelligent report of what has happened and fully justify their confidence in you.

A recent editorial in the Milwaukee Journal concerns our own Dr. William Mather Lewis, Knox, 'oo. Because it covers a subject which is a fraternity problem we are reprinting it. If the suggestion of Dr. Lewis is valid then fraternities ought not to be blamed to the extent they now are for the shortcomings of some of their members.

A challenge is hurled at the good faith of parents by Dr. William Mather Lewis, president of Lafayette College. And the thrust goes home.

"As a man who deals with 1,000 boys daily," says Dr. Lewis, "I think that if more fathers would stop talking about the problems of youth and their carrying of flasks and would instead take out the liquor from their lockers in the country clubs, it would make the tasks of teachers easier."

We all think we have seen a decided change in youth of which we do not approve. We have condemned youth and the school to which youth goes. If a bottle of liquor got into the school which our child attended, we were in action at once. What was in our own lockers was another matter.

But Dr. Lewis reveals the hypocrisy of this. More than that, he shows the damage that hypocrisy does. It nullifies the effort the school makes and the effort anyone else may make. For surely there is no parent so simple-minded as not to know that youth knows what parents are doing.

Dr. Lewis goes a little farther. Why do parents act this way? Why do they fail to see their own responsibility? Why do they indulge in acts that they want their children to avoid? The answer, he thinks, lies in the current philosophy of prosperity. A fortunate stroke of business is a signal for a "celebration." Much money made means more leisure, and more leisure means not only a club locker but something to go in it. Pretty soon the swirl engulfs the parent and he ceases to see that his own acts bear a direct relation to the acts of his child.

Now there is the challenge and there is the road. If we don't like what the oncoming generation is doing, the least we can do is to cease to be contributing agents to what we call their derelictions. If we want them to have a better moral fiber, we shall have to stiffen our own backbones. If we want them to use wisely the leisure and freedom we give them, we shall have to use our own leisure and freedom wisely. In short, we must have a better conception of life than the false clinical thermometers. Such statistics are not needed here. Native Nashvillians tend to take most pride in the facts that theirs is still a city of homes, a good place to live, that new comers from other sections have been absorbed without changing its distinctive southern atmosphere, and that ten thousand non-resident students, annually come to its schools.

There is an area to the west of the city which is practically one continuby gifts from many sources, the Vanderbilt family continuing especially generous; and then a sudden boom following the war. Since 1920 the School of Medicine has moved to a new and magnificent plant, the finest in the South and one of the best in the country, on the same campus with the rest of the university. Five other new buildings have been erected in recent years, three of them being used for the first time this fall. Vanderbilt University comprises six schools. Art and Science, Religion, Engineering, Law, Medicine, and Nursing, each with its own faculty. It has assets of $14,300,000, entrance requirements and a curriculum equal to any university in the United States, and has drawn students from every state in the Union and twelve foreign countries. library numbers over 100,000 volumes. The student body including all departments now averages between thirteen and fourteen hundred and will never be much greater since the ideal of the university is to train a select group of leaders for the South rather than to go in for a quantity production of graduates.

Tennessee Alpha has been almost co-existent with the university. A charter was granted January 20, 1876, to Lytton Taylor who had been initiated a short time previously by Kentucky Alpha, but because of strong faculty opposition the chapter was not really started until late in 1877. For Starting with a very strong group of men and having no opposition for several years, the chapter experienced an early prosperity which has suffered little dimunition in the half century that has since passed. It has had its faults and weaknesses, its ups and downs. But these fluctuations have been less violent than those the average fraternity chapter experiences. A strong body of local alumni has been ever watchful to keep things steady, helping out in emergencies as in 1918 when practically the entire chapter had gone to war. Fifty per cent of every Freshman class consists of Nashville boys. Many of these are sons or relatives of Phis, but the chapter is always careful to seek new blood.

Nashville is a Phi town with Pallas as guardian in her house, the Parthenon. Nashville, Vanderbilt, Tennessee Alpha, alumni, old and young, the members of the active chapter await eagerly the coming of the 38th General Convention. We cannot guarantee our weather to be southern, for December sometimes turns nasty with a mean sodden cold, but we seek to prove that, though the phrase "southern hospitality" has grown cliché, the spirit behind it remains very real.

THE WHITMAN LOG CABIN

By Frederick J. Milligan Ohio State, '28

E IGHTEEN miles from Walla Walla, in Mill Creek Canyon, in the heart of the Blue Mountains, is located the cabin of Washington Beta, a little log cabin, surrounded by firs, spruce, and pine, situated on a ten-acre plot owned by the chapter. The construction of this cabin and the history since its existence is especially interesting to a stranger in this part of the country.

The idea of constructing a log cabin for the use of the chapter first presented itself to the minds of about six men in the Washington Beta chapter in 1916. A ten-acre lot was purchased which had originally been the site of one of the earliest sawmills in the Northwest. Plans for building the cabin were laid by the chapter during the winter months of 1916, and during the spring recess of 1917 twenty-one members of the active chapter camped in the canyon and started constructing the building. High waters in the valley made it necessary for the group to confine most of their activities on higher ground, and as a result, the lumber and building supplies had to be carried nearly a half a mile to the cabin site. Among those participating in the building of the cabin were Edward E. Ruby, now president of Tau Province and registrar of Whitman College, who served as cook during the construction period, and "Nig" Borleske, now coach at Whitman Col-This little group was induslege. triously at work on Good Friday, when word was brought to them that war had been declared. A large number of the men went into the service after having seen only the beginning of the building. At least two of them never returned. During that week of recess, logs were cut down from the mountainside and the cabin was partially finished when school again opened. The remainder of the cabin was completed by a number of the alumni during the summer of 1917, and it has ever since been the joy and pride of Washington Beta,

The site of the cabin is valuable, for it is situated on the pipe-line of the city water works and it immediately adjoins the Weeriaha National Forest. The cabin is composed entirely of logs cut from the chapter property. It is a one-story structure, twenty by forty, and has an annex twenty feet square. It is equipped with bunks, cooking facilities, and many of the conveniences of a home. It is used by the chapter for weekend parties and probably best of all for a good rushing stunt. The chapter will inform you that the atmosphere there is conducive to good rushing and that very few rushees return from the cabin without being thoroughly imbued with the spirit of Φ Δ Θ. A number of the men spend several days at the cabin each year enjoying the wonderful scenery and appreciating this opportunity to see the deer, trout, grouse, and pheasants which are in abundance around the surrounding country.

The cabin is a lasting tribute to its builders, who have all long since become prominent in different lines of activity, and as a memorial to those who aided in its construction but were not privileged to see its completion because they had given their lives to their country.

PHI DELTA THETA AT LOMBARD

By MILO COLBURN SUMMERS, Lombard, '81

THE Φ Σ League was established at Lombard in 1857. The individual organizers are not known, but the first one mentioned on several lists that I have seen was Anson Luman Clark of the class of 1858. The plan was for three degrees. The Anchor degree was a sort of apprentice degree. Then the Harp degree to last through college life, and then the third degree whose name I do not recall, was for graduates. The last was never put into use, that I could learn, and the first, if used, was discontinued. All the Phi Sigmas that I knew were simply initiated into the League, and immediately wore the Harp badge.

There were no other fraternities at Lombard until 1869, then Δ T Δ entered. The League put three other branches in other colleges, but all were short lived, and there are no records. The order did flourish at Lombard, however. It had from first to last about 275 members, and a study of the names, compared with the catalogue lists of the alumni, show that it was a real force in college life. Prosperity lasted until about 1876, and then a decline set in.

I entered Lombard, Sophomore class, in September, 1878. All that were left at that time of the Φ Σ League in college were Otto H. Swigert, and Peter G. Reynolds. Swigert got me interested in the idea of our getting a charter from a national fraternity. On the evening of November 4, 1878, he and Reynolds came to my house at 466 East Main Street, and initiated me into Φ Σ —the last time its ritual was used. We decided to offer ourselves as nucleus for a chapter of some national fraternity. Almost our first choice was $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, and it required only a short correspondence before we were accepted. The fraternity's leaders did not like our nomenclature to betray that we had so many dead chapters, and names and charters were frequently passed around. We received no document at that time, but did get a name-Illinois Delta. That had belonged to the Knox chapter, then dead. It was not long before a little missionary work at Knox won over twelve men, whom we initiated, by permission from headquarters. Then the name Illinois Delta was returned to Knox chapter, and we became Illinois Zeta.

Forms were mailed to the Phi Sigmas we could reach, asking their assent to the entry into $\Phi \Delta \Theta$. About seventy signed, and their names appear in the catalogue list of Illinois Zeta. We looked to our existence as a Lombard organization as continuous from 1857; but later the document came from headquarters that now hangs on the chapter room's wall, called a "duplicate charter," dated back to November 4, 1878. They evidently thought that three names were not enough for a charter, so they added names of some of the Phi Sigmas who were in attendance the previous year. But William McGaan, Shirley C. Ransom, Frank E. Claycomb, Daniel S. Gingrich, and Gilbert Marquis de Lafette Swart were not in college on November 4, or any subsequent date.

By permission, the Phi Sigmas had walled off about a sixteen-foot square in the southeast corner of the basement of Old Main Building and we used that as our meeting place as long as I was in college. It was divided into three rooms. About nine by sixteen was the size of the room where we met, and sometimes had our modest suppers. The southwest cor-

From this time on the chapter felt the need of suitable quarters, and plans were made to erect a home. In 1894 the chapter laid the cornerstone one hundred fifty-seven]

PHI DELT-DELT BELL AT NEBRASKA

By LEROY JACK, Nebraska

NEBRASKA ALPHA has for its outstanding tradition the old bell. Δ T Δ and Φ Δ Θ have wrangled and fought over it for the past thirty years. Originally it hung in the belfry tower of a colored church in Seward, Nebraska. It was the custom of University of Nebraska cadets to go to summer camps then as it is now. It so happened that the

As they walked along the moonlight road they saw a church under repair. Up in the belfry reposed a bell. The four cadets decided to make their happiness complete. It was fastened firmly to a four-by-four plank but an axe applied in the correct manner finally released the bell and it went back to camp with the cadets.

For the remainder of the camping camp with which the bell became familiar was a few miles from Seward.

One balmy spring evening four battalion officers were returning from a sojourn in Seward. A bright moon was out. The landscape was well lighted and objects on the outskirts of Seward were very visible. Incidentally the four officers deserve mention. William H. Hayward, who was among the small band, later became secretary of the Republican National Committee in 1909. Harry Oury was in 1909 a major in the regular army of the United States. Guy Barnes and one other noncommissioned officer make the party complete.

period it reposed upon a makeshift pedestal in the tent of those four cadets. Then came time for camp to break and the question of permanent possession came up. Δ T Δ and Φ Δ Θ fraternities were represented by the four cadets but it seems that the Delts outnumbered the Phi Delts and as a result they took the bell home with them.

With great favor brother Delts looked upon the bell which their fraternity had acquired. One morning, however, the bell was not to be found. A thorough search of the Delta Tau premises failed to reveal the whereabouts of the bell. The Phi Delts had stolen a march on the Delts. They were taking their turn at the bell-possession business.

· Jone hundred fifty-eight

From that time on it has been taken from one house to another. Each fraternity has engraved its name upon the bell. It is now cracked but fraternity-lore of unusual proportions has fastened itself upon the drab looking bell. The fighting suddenly was brought to a close when last spring the two fraternities met and fought over the bell at the Lincoln Hotel during the annual Φ Δ Θ banquet. The Phi Delts managed to retain the bell after the fighting had been quelled by the combined efforts of the management and the police.

As a result of a conference, to end further wrecking of houses and blacking of eyes, between the two fraternities it was decided to present the bell to the Innocents, the senior men's honorary organization at the University of Nebraska. The Innocents will present the bell to the Missouri team before the Tiger-Husker clash here Saturday, as a trophy for winning last year's game. Possession during the next year will be determined by the outcome of Saturday's game. The bell will serve as a permanent trophy to pass between the rival schools after each year's game."

FATHER HAS THREE PHI SONS

AN INTERESTING case of a united family in Φ Δ Θ is that of William H. Pratt, Allegheny, '96, and his three sons, Robert W., Allegheny, '24, John M., Allegheny, '25, and Willis E., Allegheny, '27. The fact that these men were initiated by the same chapter adds to the unusual aspects of the case and gives to Pennsvlvania Delta an enviable record.

Brother Pratt, the senior, took his A.B. at Allegheny in 1896, and his A.M. in the same institution in 1899. The same year he graduated from the law school of Columbia University with the degree of LL.B. He has been engaged in the general practice of law since 1901, and is located at 913-15 Berger Building, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Brother Pratt's oldest son, Robert, graduated from Allegheny in 1924, and from the Pittsburgh Law School in 1927. Since October, 1927, he has been connected with his father in the general practice of law in Pittsburgh.

The second son, John, took his A.B. at Allegheny in 1925 and his A.M. at Harvard in 1926. He will obtain the degree of S.T.P. from Boston University in January, 1929, and expects to complete work for the degree of Ph.D. at Harvard in June, 1930.

The junior son, Willis, graduated from Allegheny in 1927. He took special work at Harvard and Boston universities during the summer of 1928 and is teaching in the Albion High School.

The record which the Pratt family has made in scholastics as well as the legal profession brings much honor to them and to $\Phi \Delta \Omega$. They are a remarkable family.

NEW YORK CLUB IMPROVES QUARTERS

By Granville M. Brumbaugh, Lehigh, '22

IN THE past year the New York Fraternity Clubs Building has been remodeled to provide a highly restricted club quarters for the several fraternities comprising its membership. While admission to the Fraternity Clubs Building may be gained by all, the fraternity quarters are only accessible to members, guests and those who are able to produce some evidence as to fraternity affiliation in the clubs represented. By carefully restricting admission to the club quarters, the latter have become very private and there has resulted a distinctive up-town club which is available to the members for occasions where privacy and club atmosphere is desirable.

At an extremely low cost, members located both in the metropolitan area as well as in distant points, may utilize the excellent club facilities now available upon the many occasions when such are desirable. In addition to the regular fraternity activities which are reported under the monthly report of the club, the Interfraternity Club holds many parties which are available to members of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$.

Ladies' days are held monthly upon Saturday afternoons during the year, at which time, dancing and entertainment is provided, followed by light refreshments. Weakly bridge tournaments are held in the cardroom on Saturday afternoons and other functions, such as monthly club smokers are held during the year. The club smokers are well attended and desirable forms of amusement are provided. In the past, vaudeville, athletic events, and lectures have been included among the amusements provided at the smokers.

Private steel lockers are available for members who desire them as well as a miniature golf course, pool, billiards, ping pong and other amusement devices.

A new radio has been installed in the lobby and the usual radio programs including games are to be heard at the appropriate hours. All of the latest magazines and periodicals as well as newspapers are available in the reading-room and a club dining-room and grill-room are open for service practically all hours of the day and night. When the grill-room is not open the tap-room adjoining is open and à la carte service may be had at all times. Checking service is provided for members of the club to cover all charges in connection with the dining-room and other club facilities.

 Φ Δ Θ is the fourth largest club, in membership, of the Fraternity Clubs and Phis may be found in the club quarters at practically all times. The atmosphere is congenial and restful and membership by those now in the club has been found to be highly desirable. Membership to the New York Alumni Club entitles one to the full privileges to the club facilities and application for such membership may be made to the Secretary of the New York Club of Φ Δ Θ .

PHI ACTIVE IN COAL INDUSTRY

By HOWARD L. STUART, Penn State, '20

URING the year 1927 the First National Bank of New York and the National City Company, two of the most powerful banking groups in the United States, were seeking a man to fill the presidency of one of the numerous companies in which they are interested, the West Virginia Coal and Coke Company. From many sources they were informed that the man best suited for their requirements was John C. Cosgrove, Penn State, '05, of Johnstown, Pennsylvania. The reconstruction of this important coal company needed a practical mining engineer, a financial expert, a salesman, and an organizer of personnel, and Brother Cosgrove was found to be the man in whom all of these requirements were combined. In addition to being president of the coal company he also becomes head of the Junior Mercantile Company, their company store organization, and the Logan Dock Company and the Ohio River Company, their docking and transportation companies. On October 1, 1927, Brother Cosgrove became affiliated with the above companies as their head. He also retained his connection with his own interests which were both varied and numerous.

Brother Cosgrove is chairman of the board of the Cosgrove-Meehan Coal Corporation, a company having mines in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Illinois, and Indiana, and also heads a selling organization called Cosgrove and Company with offices in the principal cities of the East and Middle West. Even though his time is practically filled with the above duties, Brother Cosgrove has been a director of the Federal Reserve Board of Philadelphia for six years, is a member of the executive committee of the board of trustees of Pennsylvania State College, and is serving on the directorates of numerous other companies.

Brother Cosgrove is a most active Phi, and whenever the active members of Pennsylvania Theta call on him for help he is always ready to oblige. He is president of the Pennsylvania Theta Corporation which owns the fraternity house, and when the house was remodeled this past summer he spent much of his time with the builders and architects and perfected and carried out the financing of the project.

Pat B. Cosgrove, Penn State, '32, a son of Brother Cosgrove, was recently pledged by Pennsylvania Theta and is the fourth member of the family to be honored by Phi Delta Theta. Paul B. Cosgrove, Penn State, '10, and Albert K. Cosgrove, Lehigh, '13, both deceased, were uncles of Phikeia Cosgrove.

ELECTED TO LEAD WISCONSIN PROM

By Donovan A. Eastin, Wisconsin, '29

In the early part of November the Junior class of the University of Wisconsin cast a ballot in the election of the most capable man of the class to be responsible for one of the largest functions in the social life of the universities of the country—the Junior Prom. It was an overwhelming victory on the part of John Catlin, a junior at Wisconsin Alpha, with the final count amounting to two to one in his favor.

Catlin's activities on the campus are indeed outstanding. While only a sophomore, he attained high honors in the college of Chemical Engineering and at present is leading the class in scholarship. He is also a member of Haresfoot Club and Tumas, and is acting as chairman of decorations committee for homecoming.

It has long been the tradition at Wisconsin Alpha to elect a graduating senior to the office of president of the fraternity. This year the honor was given to Catlin for his excellent qualities as a leader. His term of office has been more than successful.

Catlin is a member of a famous Phi Delt family. Two years ago he was wearing a Phikeia button that had been previously worn by his father, Mark Catlin, Chicago, '06, the famous football and track star of national and olympic renown. This fall it was a pleasure to pledge Mark Catlin, Ir., the third of the Catlin line. The traditional pledge button was passed on from John to his brother. Mark.

The prom chairmanship at Wisconsin is far the most outstanding office that a student may be elected to hold. The prom itself is an elaborate social function estimated at a cost of $30,000. The heavy responsibility of the position calls primarily for a leader with extraordinary powers of management.

Brother Catlin has our sincere good wishes and we are confident that the occasion will be a success.

Frank Beaston, Columbia, '25, takes a prominent part in the cast of Excess Baggaye which has had a long run in Chicago this year.

Rotogravure sections of papers all over the country recently carried the picture of the decoration of Burdette S. Wright, Purdue, '15, with the distinguished service cross for gallantry in the Meuse-Argonne during the World War. The award was made by the assistant secretary of war in the presence of the adjutant general and others. Brother Wright showed extraordinary bravery in locating and destroying enemy machine gun nests at Veuruilles, France, with machine gun fire from his plane at low altitude and under heavy fire.

October 29, 1928, marked a milestone in radio history and incidentally an additional triumph in the career of a Phi who is one of the outstanding leaders of the radio industry. On that day Powel Crosley, Jr., Cincinnati, '09, threw a switch in the ballroom of the Gibson Hotel in Cincinnati thereby setting into operation the new 50,000-watt transmitter of Station WLW operated by the Crosley Radio Corporation. The inauguration of the new super-power station makes even more secure the position of WLW and the Crosley corporation as leaders in the radio field. An all-day program of special events preceded the opening of the new station. The 50,000-watt transmitter will supplant the 5,000-watt transmitter previously in use. The first transmitter used by Brother Crosley in broadcasting was one of twenty watts. Gradual increases in the power and refinement of the service given by WLW always have kept it in the forefront among the stations of the country. The towers of the station are 300 feet in height and engineers say that a possible maximum power of 200,000 watts may be reached with the new equip-

Heber Wallace Peters, Cornell, '14, joins Roy D. Chapin, Michigan, '03, and other Phi leaders in the automobile industry in his recent advancement to the vice-presidency in charge of distribution of the Packard Motor Car Company at Detroit. Brother Peters has been connected with the Packard company since 1916 when he joined it as assistant to the president. During the war he served as an instructor in aviation in France and gained a reputation as one of the government's best. In 1919 he returned to the Packard company as office manager, in 1920 he became general manager of the Detroit branch, and three years later he was made branch manager at Chicago. For two years following his graduation from Cornell, Brother Peters was secretary of the university.

Paul F. Clark, Pennsylvania, '14, was elected the president of the National Association of Life Underwriters at its thirty-ninth annual convention last fall. The new president has had a rapid rise in the insurance field and has previously served as an officer and a committee chairman of the underwriters' association. Brother Clark was graduated from Staunton Military Academy, then attended Denison University and then the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. In September, 1914, he affiliated with the John Hancock Company and for a number of years has been one of the largest producers for that company. He is a trustee of numerous educational and philanthropic institutions and holds membership in several New England clubs. Brother Clark is married and has two children.

Samuel L. McCune, Ohio, '96, was chosen chairman of the board of the United Banking and Trust Company, a new Cleveland merger which becomes the sixth largest bank of that city. Brother McCune after his graduation from Ohio University served for a time as a National bank inspector. In recent years he has been connected with and a prominent figure in the joint stock land bank field and has also engaged in commercial banking. The new bank which Brother McCune heads will have resources of some $38,000,000. Brother McCune is also a trustee of Ohio University.

On October 30 the University of South Carolina held a special memorial service for two Phis who recently joined the Chapter Grand, Andrew C. Moore, South Carolina, '87, and William T. Aycock, South Carolina, '89. Brother Aycock died July 19 and Brother Moore September 17. The service was participated in by the president of the university, the dean of the law school, other faculty members, representatives of Φ B K, and O Δ K fraternities, and others.

Among the chapter exchanges received is the Idaho Phi, chapter publication of Idaho Alpha. It is a four-column, four-page paper, well written and edited. The Idaho Phi achieves the difficult and unique distinction of combining informality, especially in the alumni news, with a measure of reserve, a quality sometimes lacking in the products of chapter journalism. The committee in charge of the paper consisted of Robert Brown and Harold Wheeler.

Admiral Louis R. de Steiguer, Ohio, '87, is now serving as commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard and head of the third naval district, considered as one of the most enviable assignments on the Atlantic coast. Brother de Steiguer has had a long and enviable career in the Navy and prior to his appointment at Brooklyn was in command of the Pacific fleet containing 100 ships of all classes and considered one of the world's largest and finest fleets.

An honor of no meager proportions is the recent appointment of Irvine Jack English, Missouri, '26, to the foreign service staff of the Standard Oil Company of New York. This position will keep him in India for the next three years and comes as a result of his highly satisfactory work at the Standard Oil training school in New York. Brother English was one of six chosen for the highly coveted posts in India from more than 200 applicants.

One of Phi Delta Theta's grand old men recently celebrated his fiftieth anniversary in the Fraternity. He is Milo C. Summers, Lombard, '81. Brother Summers, a charter member of Illinois Zeta, was initiated November 4, 1878. On November 4, 1928, he was back at his old chapter at Galesburg, where, as he said, he "stood on a pedestal for three days." Brother Summers is secretary of the Washington, D.C., Alumni Club.

The new state commander of the Texas Department of the American Legion is Rufus F. Scott, Texas, '15, investment broker at Paris, Texas. He assumed office after the national convention of the Legion held at San Antonio in October although he was elected to the office at the end of August. Buck J. Wynne, Texas, '19, was elected judge advocate of the Texas Department.

Not to be outdone by any of the other fraternities, $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ has recently developed one of the leading younger movie stars and he is a product of one of the younger chapters, California Gamma. He is Carroll Nye, Los Angeles, '25, and he is tall, dark, and very handsome. He recently played in a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production with Anita Page and Lon Chaney.

Thomas C. Whallon, Hanover, '98, is considered as one of the strongest contenders for the appointment to the important municipal court judgship in Indianapolis. The present term will expire December 31, and political forecasters in Indianapolis are strongly of the belief that Governor Jackson will appoint Brother Whallon to the office.

Two young Wabash Phis were married during the past summer. Dr. Whitney Claire Porter, Wabash, '21, was married to Miss Sarah Jane Hunter of Indianapolis. They will live in Victor, Colorado. Frank H. McMillan, Wabash, '25, was married on July 15 to Miss Florence Hodam of Danville, Illinois.

Dan A. Edkins, Franklin, '28, has since early fall been employed on the editorial staff of the Fort Worth (Texas) Star Telegram. Brother Edkins was executive secretary of the Indiana High School Press Association while an undergraduate and in addition took a leading part in college activities.

Phi Delta Theta's ambassador to Cuba, Noble B. Judah, Brown, '04, suffered a painful injury November 11 when he was thrown from his horse while engaging in a fox chase at the Onwentsia Hunt Club at Chicago. His collar bone was fractured and he was consequently confined to a hospital for a number of days.

Robert A. Gantt, Nebraska, '09, was appointed vice-president of the Postal Telegraph Company late in October. Brother Gantt's headquarters will be in New York City. He was previously located in San Francisco where he was general manager of the Pacific Telegraph and Telephone Company.

Chapter Grand

Howard Traver Farthing, Syracuse, '29

The death of Brother "Mac" Farthing came as a great shock to all of us, coming as it did, the evening of the chapter's annual pledge dance, October 13, in the midst of party festivities. His death was a result of an automobile accident, when the car in which he was riding was struck by another, just a few blocks from the chapter house. Mac was killed instantly, while the other three occupants of the car escaped without serious injury.

Brother Farthing came to us from Gloversville, New York, and was initiated by this chapter in March, 1925. From his enrollment in the university Mac took an active part in campus activities. He was the varsity cheermaster, a member of Double Seven, honorary junior society, and Alpha Kappa Psi, honorary and professional business fraternity. His striking personality, his cheery manner, and his winning smile made him exceedingly popular with the many who knew him.

The chapter as a body attended the funeral services in Gloversville at which the president and chaplain read the customary fraternity ritual at burial. The brothers closest to Mac acted as honorary pallbearers and pallbearers. Brother Farthing's popularity was revealed by the multitude of flowers sent by many of the fraternities, sororities, and other groups on the Hill in addition to countless friends in Gloversville. Mac is survived by his father, his mother, and a younger brother. A host of friends join with us in mourning the passing of a faithful and loyal Phi.

You were too young to go;
We can not understand
Why you were called away from earth
To join our Chapter Grand.
We wanted you down here with us,

We liked your cheery smile; Why does God seem to pick the best? The best should stay awhile, The answer must be, God has need

For youth like you somewhere;
For heaven would be a dreary place
If just the old were there.

Frank Humphries Onyx, Penn State, '27

Pennsylvania Theta lost one of its most promising alumni with the death of Frank H. Onyx on August 19, 1928, from pneumonia.

While in college, Brother Onyx was one of Penn State's best known men. He played freshman football and was on the varsity squad until his graduation in 1927. Before the big games at Penn State, "Babe," as he was commonly known, would thrill the crowds with his exhibitions of drop kicking; he often kicked the ball sixty, seventy yards and more. He was a member of the Druids, a campus honorary, and was active in all of the affairs of the college. He was the mainstay of the fraternity's athletics and also served as chapter president in his senior year.

Brother Onyx was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on July 3, 1903, and with his parents, moved to Swarthmore in 1909 where he received his early education. He was active in high school athletics and was looked up to by the youngsters of Swarthmore as their boyhood idol. The entire town of Swarthmore payed tribute to the one it had loved so dearly. Four members of Φ Δ Θ acted as pallbearers and many other Phis attended the funeral services in the Swarthmore Episcopal Church of which Frank was a member.

It is a great loss and shock to his many friends that his life closed when before him lay success and the opportunity to use his many talents. He will always be remembered as a brother who helped make a name and add glory to $\Phi \Delta \Theta$; and we express our most profound sympathy to his mother and father who survive.

RALPH D. HUSTON, Penn State, '28

Dr. Frederick William Hinitt, West-

Dr. John N. Furniss, Alabama, '96, died in a hospital in Selma, Alabama, from erysipelas contracted from a patient. Dr. Furniss was affiliated with Tennessee Beta in '97, and with Virginia Beta in '00. Since graduating from the medical school at Virginia, and later from Bellevue Medical College, he had practiced in Selma, his native city, where he was loved by all who knew him.

He was interested in the affairs of his fraternity to the time of his death, and we may well mourn the loss of such a member.

Dr. Furniss was a member of the American Medical Association, the American College of Surgeons, and was for years a leader in state medical circles. He was chief of staff of the Alabama Baptist Hospital at Selma.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. May Hooper Furniss, one son, three daughters, and a brother, Dr. Dawson Furniss, Alabama, '97, of New York City.

Telfair Hodgson Torian, Sewanee, '29

On August 13, 1928, Tennessee Beta lost one of her most valued one hundred sixty-nine members, Telfair H. Torian, of Indianapolis, who died suddenly of infantile paralysis after only two days illness. He was spending the summer at Sewanee with his family, and his death occurred en route to a Nashville hospital.

Telfair's family are all ardent Phis, and we mourn with them the loss of our dear brother.

Brother Torian at the time of his death was a senior in the college, and was business manager of the Purple, the school publication.

Quiet and reserved, he was unselfish and ever mindful of the welfare of others. While we feel that our loss is immeasurable, we are reconciled in his death, for his life was so free from any blemish that we cannot but feel that God needed him more than we.

May his short but splendid life be an inspiration to all of us to better our own.

A Message from the Harvard Alumni Club

Active Chapters, Phi Delta Theta Fraternity: October 2, 1928

Brothers of Phi Delta Theta, this message from the Harvard Alumni Club has a two-fold purpose.

We are naturally very much interested in the Harvard Alumni Trophy and we hope that it is having some effect at least in increasing the participation of the active chapters in campus activities and in scholarship.

Those chapters which have made a splendid record during the last year we wish to congratulate and urge you to keep up the good work. Those chapters which have failed to do as well we wish more success in the future.

If there are any questions which any of you have concerning the Harvard Trophy in connection with the allotment of points, or in some other manner, we shall be very glad to do our best to answer them. If any of you believe that the present allotment is unjust or that it gives too much weight to one activity and not enough to some other we hope that you will let us know. The activities vary so much from campus to campus that it is very difficult to arrive at a fair decision.

The other point we have in mind is concerning membership in our own Club. Elsewhere in this issue along with the reports from alumni clubs will be found an article dealing with the Harvard Alumni Club. In this article will be found our present list of members. We realize that it is very incomplete and as we wish to increase our membership feeling that it would be of advantage to us and to the new men we would like each chapter to send us a list of the Phis whom they know of who are attending Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology or Boston University not already found on our membership list.

We hope that in this way we will be able to double the present size of our Club and thereby be of increased value to our Fraternity.

E. ALEXANDER, Secretary Frederick F. Houser, President

Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts

The Harvard Alumni Association of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ is breaking into these columns again after several years' absence, in fact I don't know whether we ever made it a point to send in a write-up before. But in spite of the lack of news, we have been an active organization, the outward manifestation being the Harvard Alumni Association Trophy awarded each year with the annual presentation of the permanent plaque to the winner of the preceding year.

Perhaps an explanation of our membership, organization and activities would not be amiss in this first report. The Harvard Alumni Association is a cross between a chapter and an alumni club. Most of our members are college graduates now pursuing graduate work in the different departments of the university Thus most of us are alumni of from one to four years standing. We claim to be one of the most cosmopolitan groups in $\Phi \Delta \Phi$, and we offer these statistics to prove it. Our sixty-five members represent thirty-eight chapters in twenty-three states and Canada. The states represented range from Vermont to California and from Washington to Georgia. No one chapter dominates, the ones with the largest delegations being Pennsylvania Delta with six, Kansas Beta and Massachusetts Alpha with five, Kansas Alpha and Virginia Zeta with three. Thus, we represent a cross-section of the younger alumni group.

These sixty-five members are mostly recruited from the graduate school of Business Administration and the Law School, but other departments of the university are represented. The Business School leads with thirty men, the Law School next with eighteen, five in the Medical School, two in the School of Architecture, two in the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, two in the college, two in Boston University, three in M.I.T., one instructor and one alumnus. The Business School is the only department of the university which keeps files disclosing fraternity affiliations, which fact accounts for the predominance of Business School men on our records. There are, no doubt, many other Phis in other departments and we have no means of getting in touch with them except by a chance meeting. We therefore appeal to all the actives and alumni who see this report, to look through our membership list below, and send us the names of any Phis attending college or doing graduate work in Boston or Cambridge. We can find his address from the university records.

The officers for this year, curiously enough carry out the idea of the geographical distribution of members. They are Frederick F. Houser, Law 3, California Gamma, president; James B. McLester, Medicine 3, Alabama Alpha, vice-president; E. Alexander Hill, Law 3, Pennsylvania Delta, secretary; and Eldred Cayce, Business 2, Virginia Zeta, treasurer.

As most of the fellows are up to their neck in their scholastic work, it is impracticable to have numerous meetings.

The SCROLL Phi Delta Theta

But we manage to get together every two weeks for dinner and a sociable time afterwards. The big event in our program now is the Miami Triad dance which will be held November 16 at the Longwood Towers with B θ II and X Σ who also have similar organizations here at Harvard. It should be glorious history by the time this reaches you and we hope it will have raised the mount in our slumping treasury, so that we will be able to subsidize a good Founders' Day banquet and a farewell dinner in the spring.

As to our personal extracurricular activities, this report is too long now and we'll save them until the next issue. We present our membership list. Please address all communications relative to other Phis in this district to the secretary at I Summer Rd., Cambridge, Massachu-

E. ALEXANDER HILL, Secy.

New York, New York

On Friday, October 19, the Philadelphia Alumni Club met the New York Alumni Club in their annual tournament at the Canoe Brook Country Club at Summit, New Jersey. After an exciting five matches the final score was found to be a tie. One point was awarded in each match for the winner going out and one point coming in, while an additional point was gained for the entire eighteen holes.

The weather was perfect and Spencer Wright, H. M. Van Gelder, A. Ross Crane, Roy D. Tyler, and R. W. Baily represented Philadelphia while W. C. Guptil, Clem Paxson, Lon Green, Al Stiefel and John Ballou defended the trophy now held by the New York Club. Incidentally, Roy Tyler, president of the Philadelphia Club was matched with Clem Paxson of the New York Club. each playing Civil War golf with Whitney of the New York Club as umpire.

Darkness at the end of the eighteenth hole prevented playing off the tie so it was decided that the New York Club should retain the cup until next spring when the two clubs would meet again at the Shawnee Country Club along the Delaware River to decide the match. This tournament will be held late in May or early in June and promises to be more enthusiastically supported than any vet.

The New York Club is entering an unusually active winter season with an array of smokers, entertainments and dances better than ever before scheduled. The usual Friday luncheons are maintaining a uniform standard of excellence and a speaker has been secured for every second Friday. The proverbial latch string continues to dangle out.

GRANVILLE M. BRUMBAUGH

Attendance at weekly luncheons has been increasing steadily. This is due largely to football interest which brings out the brothers to stand up for their alma maters. This was illustrated when the week before the Pitt-Syracuse game five New York Epsilon Phis turned out to predict a Syracuse victory. This was probably a 100 per cent representation of Sayracuse Phis in Pittsburgh. The New York Epsilon men were C. D. R. Ingalls, '13; E. P. Crowell, '12; Joseph S. DeYoung, '15; Stuart J. Saks, '15; and Douglas C. Dean, '23.

Recent newcomers to our luncheon ranks include J. D. A. Morrow Ohio Wesleyan, 'o6, president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company; Charles A. Mc-Carey, Pennsylvania, '06, of the Pitts-burgh Safety Glass Company; and F. L. Villers, West Virginia, '28.

Joseph A. Langfitt, Jr., Wash. and Jeff., '11, has been elected commander of American Legion Post No. 5 at Pittsburgh.

Phi football coaches in this vicinity are doing remarkably well. Judge Walter P. Steffen, Chicago, '09, has his powerful Carnegie Tech team leading the East at this writing with the Army and Georgetown. Charles W. Bowser, Pittsburgh, '23, former all-American center and now assistant coach at the University of Pittsburgh, is being given much credit for Pitt's splendid showing in recent games. Charley Berry, Lafayette, 25, former all-American end and now coach at Grove City, has his team in the running for the Western Pennsylvania Class "B" championship. Phis locally are watching with keen interest the playing of Joe Donchess, Pittsburgh end, and "Jap" Douds, Wash. and Jeff. tackle, both of whom are among the best men in the country at their respective positions, both having received all-American mention last year by Grantland Rice.

Editorial

More than the usual amount of space is given to football in this number of The Scroll because of the exceptional record made by Phis in the gridiron game during the season just closed. Never, in our experience, has there been such a galaxy of stars and we are more than pleased to find that most of them are of the type who are active scholastically and in other branches of college affairs.

Outstanding among our football men this year are the two Rhodes Scholars of the Western Conference, Zack Hickman of Illinois and Fred Hovde of Minnesota. These two brothers have shown the way in combining athletic skill with skill in the classroom, and the hearts of all Phis swell with pride at their records. It is significant, we think, that both men come from chapters rated by the authorities at their institutions as super strong. Doesn't this prove that the influence of a good chapter spurs its members to great things and helps them to achieve greatness?

We would like to add, too, our congratulations to Washington Alpha for again receiving the Flaherty medal and the football captaincy in one year. The former went to the indomitable "Chuck" Carroll and the captaincy to Jessup. This is the second time in three years that this double honor has come to the chapter and it is worthy of more than passing notice.

The sympathy of the entire fraternity goes out to Brother C. W. Walls, president of Pi Province, in the death of his eight-year-old daughter, Mary Margaret, which occurred suddenly December 19. Brother Walls had intended to buy his ticket to Nashville to attend the convention on the very day of her death, but the little girl's heart stopped ten minutes after he had left his home for his office. She had been sick for a day or so with a severe cold.

The Interfraternity Conference made a notable advancement this year when two undergraduates from Ohio Wesleyan were invited to debate the question of "Hell Week." If the undergraduates take a more prominent part in the conference its purpose would be accomplished more readily.

On my all-Phi team this year Chuck Carroll, the nation's greatest back, is placed on the first team at fullback and made captain. He is a great leader and is a triple-threat man. The New York Sun said of him, "Charles (Chuck) Carroll of Washington comes close to being unanimous as any all-American this season. He is big and powerful, a stonewall on defense, kicker, passer, and a shifty runner." Carroll weighs about 190.

Other excellent fullbacks are: Hughes of Texas, Gresham of North Carolina, Redman of Swarthmore, Hinchman of Butler, and Drews of Colgate.

Willis Glassgow of Iowa and Byron Eby, two of the best backs in the Big Ten and Middle West, are placed at the halfback positions on the first team. Glassgow is all-American and made 546 yards from scrimmage this year in 146 trials. James Crusinberry in selecting Glassgow on his all-American said. "In sifting out the set of backs for the first team, Bill Glassgow of Iowa is picked because of having seen him perform and having seen no one his equal. In fact, it would be hard to even think of his equal."

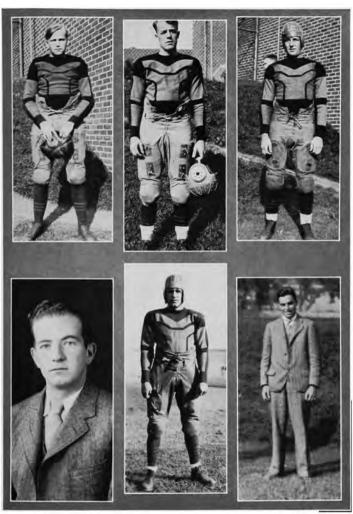

The writer had the pleasure of seeing Byron Eby perform and he was class itself. He could run like a streak, pass like a bullet, and punt smartly. At receiving passes Eby had few equals. He is an interesting player to watch and in the Princeton Eckersall in selecting him as Big Ten quarterback said: "The quarterback position is given to Fred Hovde of Minnesota. The Gopher was a smart player. It was refreshing to see him catch punts. His recovery of a punted ball which sailed over his head in the Iowa game emphasized his smartness and

Other quarterbacks who played brilliantly all season are: Haskins of Oklahoma, Harmeson of Purdue, Close of Virginia, Smalling of Stanford, Fouch of Ohio State, C. Monroe of Brown, Mayhew of Oklahoma, and Holmes of Michigan.

End is the favorite position held by Phis this year it seems from the number of real stars developed. It is difficult to choose between the first eight ends this year but after considering the problem from all angles, Robert Tanner of Minnesota, and Joe Donchess of Pittsburgh, are awarded the first team positions. Both Tanner and Donchess are all-Americans and merit this consideration.

Tanner is big and rangy, can do everything well that a good end must do. He can block well, outsmart interference, cover punts well, snag passes and tackle fiercely. Aside from his selection on many honor teams, I believe the greatest honor Tanner received was his selection by the players on the Northwestern team as the toughest man to take out they had encountered during the season. Among the ends Northwestern played against was Fesler, all-American of Ohio State. Tanner weighs 190 and is six feet tall.

Donchess was regular end on the "iron man" team from Pittsburgh, that played the Nebraska game without a single substitution. Joe is a very unassuming man but even this could not hide his great ability as an end. He was selected by the New York Sun as all-American.

SIMRALL, Michigan, Halfback

Eastern authorities called him the greatest end in the last five years. He is a defensive wonder, seldom permitting a play to get outside of him, and frequently knifing through rock-bound interference to get his man. Donchess is a smooth, sure catcher of passes and a remarkable catcher of punts. He weighs 170 and is five feet eleven tall.

Other ends who were almost on a par with Tanner and Donchess are: Preston of Stanford, Striff and McKalip of Oregon State, Hutton of Purdue, Ford of Texas, Hickman of Illinois, Alber of Ohio State, Cramer of Gettysburg, Cecil of Utah, J. Monroe of Brown, and Grimm of Iowa.

The tackle positions this year go to Douds of Washington and Jefferson, a member of last year's first all-Phi team, and to Unger, a sophomore tackle from Indiana. These two men are large and rangy, and have received mention on honor elevens throughout the land.

"Jap" Douds was a bulwark of strength in a line that was otherwise not so strong. I have admiration for a man who can play splendid hall on a team that is not exceptionally strong. Another Phi who comes under this classification is Carroll of Washington. Douds was injured during the summer and was forced to wear a mask in the early season games, but came back strong and developed into one of the best men in the East. He was placed on the second all-Eastern team and the third all-American team by some critics, but Grantland Rice placed him third in the entire country. Douds weighs over 200 and stands six feet.

Unger of Indiana is one of the two sophomores placed on the first team but he deserves it. He played throughout one of the most severe seasons encountered by any team this year and was rarely taken out of the game. He can diagnose plays well and tackles splendidly. He is a past master at opening up holes in the line. He weighs 190 and stands five feet eleven inches.

Other splendid tackles were: Sleight and Eickmann of Purdue, Captain Rucker of Tulane, Jessupp of Washington, VanNess of Syracuse, Peterson of Montana, Captain Firebaugh of DePauw, Hinds (Captain) of South Dakota, Corson of Pittsburgh, Hulbert of Michigan, and Larkins of Ohio State. Jessupp, Hulbert and Larkins were changed to other positions in the selections because of the abundance of good tackles. Martin of Penn State, on last year's all-Phi team, and Olson of Utah are placed at the guards on the first team this year. They are both fast on their feet, can run interference well, and open up holes in the opposing line. The time of the guard who merely moves about five feet each play and weighs 250 pounds is past. Guards on the team of today must be fast, heady, and excellent blockers. Martin and Olson have all these qualities.

Martin of Penn State was the best man in a strong line and starred in practically every game played this The same holds true of season. Utah, the team on which Olson played, was one of the few undefeated teams in the country this year and Olson was a bulwark of defense in every game. He did everything well and deserves the first team position. Martin weighs 185, six feet tall; Olson weighs 190, five feet eleven inches tall.

Jessupp, six feet seven inches and captain-elect of Washington, and Hulbert, 225-pound tackle of Michigan, are both tackles who were shifted to guards on the second all-Phi team. Other excellent guards are: Haley of Georgia, Munson of Brown, Gress of Colorado, Woods and Lilly of Oregon, Fredenberger of Butler, Hopkins of Akron, Griffith of Ohio State, Cochran of Oregon State, and Dill of Hanover.

There are fewer excellent centers in the ranks of Φ Δ Θ this season than candidates for any other position. However, Larkins of Ohio State, who was a real star in every two hundred twenty-nine] game of a hard schedule and played both tackle and center equally well, is given the position on the first team. Several times during the season if Larkins had not been so valuable at tackle he would have replaced the huge Barratt at center. Kirkpatrick of Idaho and Watson of Williams are other excellent centers who are almost on a par with Larkins. There is little to choose between Block of Knox, Chambers of Dickinson, Banghart of Arizona, Sibson of Cornell, Tellier of Lafayette, Holsom of Oregon State, Rockwell of Hanover, the only other centers heard from this year, but since I have seen Block of Knox, an all-State center on a fair small college team, play all of two seasons and not once has he had an off day, he is placed on the fourth team.

Judge Wallie Steffen, Chicago, '07, the correspondence coach of the wonderful Carnegie Tech team, is appointed honorary coach of this eleven and we feel that with his ability by correspondence he could coach this team although its members are located throughout the country.

FOOTBALL AT McGILL

By ERIC G. ADAMS, McGill

FOR the first time in nine long years the McGill University football team managed to win the Canadian Intercollegiate Championship this fall. Perhaps this was in no small measure due to the very efficient coaching system which was inaugurated this year. Instead of a professional coach being hired, a board of three graduates, one-time gridinon stars, gave their services to the team gratis. This seemed to have the result that the men on the squad worked harder than they had ever done for a professional coach. Two of the three men on this board of coaches were Phis: Montgomery, '20, and Flannigan, '23.

On the team itself, three of the active brothers did their bit in fine style. McTeer at middle was a tower of strength to the team throughout the whole season since he played in every game, exhibition as well as intercollegiate. Granger was in uniform again this year as an outside wing, and his sure fast tackling was a delight to all Red and White supporters, male as well as female. Teskey, one of this year's initiates, made a very strong bid for the position of quarterback, and himself ran the team during the whole of the first game of the season. All three of these brothers expect to be back again next year and, we hope shall manage to keep the Canadian championship at McGill for another year.

In the executive end of the game we were quite as well represented as in the playing end. Paterson and his assistant, Cameron, looked after the managerial duties in a most creditable and efficient manner. Hamilton, as ticket manager, was in charge of all ticket sales for the Stadium, while several of the brothers willingly turned out at all games to help with the ushering.

BETA PROVINCE CONVENES AT COLGATE

By Kenneth E. Johnson, Colgate, '30

ATURDAY, November 24, the 1928 convention of Beta Province was held at Colgate University, Hamilton, New York, with the active members of New York Zeta acting as hosts to the delegates. Due to the convention lasting only one day no elaborate social functions could be carried out. However, a banquet and smoker were held in honor of the delegates and visiting brothers.

Two business sessions were held at the chapter house. Charles B. Mason, Cornell, '95, province president, presided at both meetings. Secretary Arthur R. Priest, from General Headquarters, was present. All seven chapters of the province were represented by delegates and two of these chapters had their advisors present. The first of the business meetings was called to order by Brother Mason at ten o'clock Saturday morning. meeting included reports from delegates on scholarship, chapter financing, and housing. Discussion on these topics followed, with the meeting adjourning at twelve-thirty o'clock.

Following luncheon the delegates were shown around the Colgate campus and through the buildings of the The afternoon session university. opened at two o'clock and adjourned at six-thirty o'clock. At this meeting such topics as alumni relations, internal workings of the chapter, and rushing were discussed. Each delegate outlined the work of his chapter for the year. Each of the advisors present spoke on faculty relations with the fraternity man and the relation between the alumnus and the fraternity, from the standpoint of the allimnus. At this session Brother Mason was re-elected to his office for the ensuing year.

The banquet was held that evening at seven o'clock. Brother Mason was toastmaster of the occasion. A toast of welcome was extended to the delegates by Brother Freeman H. Allen of New York Zeta. Responses were

He also presented many interesting phases of the life and working of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$.

The following delegates and other brothers were in attendance: McDon-

TWO RHODES SCHOLARS IN THE BIG TEN

By George Banta, Jr., Wabash, '14

IN THE LIST of Rhodes Scholars whose appointment was announced December 9 will be found the names of two Phis: Robert Z. Hickman, Illinois, '29, from Illinois, and Frederick L. Hovde, Minnesota, '29, from North Dakota. This makes an unusual record, since both men are not only student leaders at their respective universities but they are regular members of Big Ten football teams which are particularly strong this year.

Brother Hickman's record at Illinois is little short of superhuman. In addition to being end on the football team, he is student colonel commanding the 3,267 students in the University of Illinois R.O.T.C.; a scholar with eighty-one credit hours of A, fifteen of B, and three of C during the three years of undergraduate work. He made Φ B K in his junior year; is a member of Φ H Σ, honorary freshman scholastic fraternity; Φ Δ Φ. law fraternity; Scabbard and Blade, honorary military; Skull and Crescent, interfraternity social, and Mawanda, honorary senior men's society. In addition to being a leader in many varying lines of endeavor, "Zack" has earned a reputation among the business men of Champaign and Urbana as probably the best housemanager on the campus.

Dean Thomas Arkle Clark calls him

one of the best all-around men ever produced at Illinois and says, "Hickman is one of the most unassuming young men that I have ever met, yet he does more things well than any young man of my acquaintance."

Brother Hickman is a native of Benton, Illinois, from whence other illustrious Phis have preceded him at Illinois. He was born June 10, 1907. and was educated in the Benton public schools, graduating from the Benton Township High School with a record of fifteen and one-half units of A and one unit of B.

Fred Hovde is known best as one of the outstanding quarterbacks in the entire country during the 1928 playyear to the player in the Big Ten considered of most value to his team, and was given all-American mention by a number of critics. He is a regular member of the Minnesota basketball team, but with all his athletic activity, Brother Hovde is an exceptionally good student and his noteworthy work in the classroom has to all appearances been stimulated rather than harmed by his participation in athletics.

The Minneapolis Tribune calls him "The highest example of the scholar-athlete," and praises his initiative, resourcefulness, and level-headedness. In an editorial in that paper the writer congratulates him and says that the people of Minnesota as well as the university faculty and students are proud of his achievement. It goes on:

"The distinction that has come to Hovde is just one more proof of the fact that a young man can be a first rate active athlete in competitive games without any impairment of his work in classroom or laboratory. Hovde is not a unique example of the the achieving student. There are plenty of others of his general on university and college football teams under

The association is recognized as the foremost organization of the sort in the world and a place on its annual program is in itself a mark of distinc-Evarts B. tion in the profession. Greene, Northwestern, '89, professor of history at Columbia University. presided at a dinner of the Ancient History Section and the American Oriental Society. He also was scheduled for an informal talk at a luncheon conference on American colonial and revolutionary history. Isaac J. Cox, Dartmouth, '96, professor of history at Northwestern University, was chairman of a luncheon conference on Hispanic-American history. C. Barker, Texas, '99, professor of history at the University of Texas, presided at a conference on the topic of the "College and Research." James W. Fesler, Franklin-Indiana, '87, lawyer of Indianapolis, Indiana, and president of the board of trustees of Indiana University, presided at a general session held December 28. Brother Greene will become the president of the American Historical Association in 1930, serving during the present year as first vice-president.

Dr. Vernon L. Kellogg, Kansas, '89, has been named by the National Research Council as one of its committee of seven to co-operate with the officials of the Chicago 1933 World's Fair in developing the scientific theme of that city's centennial celebration. All seven of the committee members rank among the world's greatest scientists. Brother Kellogg since 1919 has been permanent secretary and chairman of the division of educational relations of the National Research Council. He is the author of many works on biology and zoölogy and is an intimate friend of Presidentelect Hoover. He is an officer of the Legion of Honor and a commander of the Order of Crown of Belgium and has achieved many other distinctions from other countries.

Time, in commenting in a recent issue on possibilities for the cabinet of President-elect Hoover, refers to Vernon L. Kellogg, Kansas, '89, as the "ideal Hoover man." However, the editor of the weekly news magazine does not think that Brother Kellogg will be called over to the Hoover administration "unless an emergency arises. In cases of crisis he is typical of a widely scattered corps to whom the White House could beckon without political hesitation, or official formality." Brother Kellogg has been named as one of the fifty men comprising the editorial board of the fourteenth edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica and will have charge of the subject of "Science Education." Grantland Rice, Vanderbilt, '01, is also on the editorial board, in charge of the topic "Sports." One of the sub-editors of the new edition of the encyclopedia, under the subject of "Business and Industry," is James B. Garner, Wabash, '93, who will write on the topic, "Natural Gas."

An interesting and unique event in Montana high school football occurred on Thanksgiving Day when the high school championship of the state was contested between teams coached by two brothers-both blood and frater-The two coaches were Harry W. Dahlberg, Montana, '21, of Butte High School, and George P. Dahlberg, Montana, '25, of Miles City High School. The younger brother's team "upset the dope" by winning the game and the championship. Harris, '21, assistant coach of the Dillon High School team.

It probably can't be successfully denied that Knute Rockne and the Notre Dame cohorts at South Bend, Indiana, would feel better if Walter P. Steffen. Chicago, '09, had confined himself to his major activity of administering law from the federal bench in Chicago. However, as advisory coach of the Carnegie Tech team, it was Brother Steffen who in all probability proved the deciding factor in administering, not law, but the first defeat experienced by the Notre Dame team on its own field in twenty-three years. That his work is not mere "correspondence school coaching" is proved by the very formidable record rolled up by Carnegie teams in recent years. Brother Steffen has quite a football record himself. He succeeded Walter Eckersall as quarter on the Chicago team and later was assistant coach there with A. A. Stagg.

Robert Orr, III, Vanderbilt, '23, is a newly elected member of the Tennessee legislature. A new member of the Pennsylvania general assembly is D. Glenn Moore, Washington and Jefferson, '98. Clyde C. Sherick, Ohio State, '08, Ashland, Ohio, was elected judge of the court of appeals of the fifth judicial district of Ohio at the recent elections. John D. Sears, Ohio State, '19, Bucyrus, Ohio, was chosen prosecuting attorney of Crawford County, Ohio. Among other prosecuting attorneys elected were two in Indiana, Edward Massman, Jr., Hanover, '24, of Seymour, Indiana, and Howard P. Robinson, Franklin, '22, of Franklin, Indiana.

A novel and ingenious method of obviating the dangers inherent in semi-tropical hurricanes and cyclones which have recently devastated Florida and the neighboring islands has been proposed by Professor William S. Franklin, Kansas, '87, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, He suggests the erection of a number of huge steel conical towers in which a blast of four or five tons of gunpowder may be used to overturn the terrific storm vortexes. That the suggestion is no impractical idea of a "crank" is attested by the eminent position of Brother Franklin in the scientific world.

Ernest E. Bearg, Washburn, '16, who recently resigned as head football coach at the University of Nebraska, has been appointed director of athletics and head of the department of physical education at Washburn College. Brother Bearg will have direct charge of the football team at the Kansas school. He becomes coach at his alma mater where he gained a secure niche as a player a number of years ago. In 1920 Brother Bearg went to Illinois as assistant to Coach Zuppke and in 1925 became head coach at Nebraska. In four years there his teams won twenty-three out of thirty-three games, tied three, and lost seven.

E. Jay Wohlgemuth, Michigan, '04, is the author of a book recently published at Indianapolis dealing with the place of Cincinnati in the life of Stephen Collins Foster, premier song writer of America. The book is entitled Within Three Chords, and was written originally as a paper to be read before the Cincinnati Literary Club. Brother Wohlgemuth is president of the National Underwriter Company, of Cincinnati, and is also affiliated with the Rough Notes Company, of Indianapolis. He was largely responsible for the inception of the plan to build the present Michigan Alpha chapter house.

George M. Rommel, Iowa Wesleyan, '97, probably helped to make industrial history recently when a book written by him, Farm Products in Industry, was published at Danville, Illinois. The unique feature about the book is that it is the first ever to be printed on paper made from cornstalks. The event was widely heralded in the press of the country as introducing a new era in book and newspaper publishing through the opening of a new source of supply of newsprint paper.

Henry L. Smith, Indiana, '98, dean of the school of education of Indiana University, was elected president of the National Association of Directors of Summer Sessions at the annual meeting of that organization held recently at Lincoln, Nebraska. Brother Smith has for many years been active in educational circles representing the entire country. He is the treasurer of the National Education Association, the largest organization of its kind in the world. Brother Smith was formerly chapter adviser of Indiana Alpha.

Phi Delta Theta's versatile ambassador to Cuba, Noble B. Judah, Brown, '04, recently added to his laurels by demonstrating his capacity for work in a bucket brigade. The occasion came late in November when the $200,000 home of Lawrence H. Armour in Lake Forest, Illinois, was threatened by a serious fire. Brother Judah still had his arm in a sling as a result of a fall from a horse, but took an active part in the fire-fighting force composed largely of North Shore society folk.

The British Museum recently purchased three of the etchings of Samuel I. Chamberlain, Washington, '17, for addition to its permanent collection. Brother Chamberlain is noted as a drypoint etcher specializing in architectural detail. Last year he won the bronze medal of the Paris Salon for one drypoint. In February, an illustrated work, English Tudor Houses, is to be published. Brother Chamberlain's permanent address is Paris, France.

Early in December James R. Leavell, Westminster, '07, Randolph-Maccon, '05, was elected executive vice-president of the Continental National Company, the investment organization of the Continental National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago. He will retain his position as vice-president of the bank. Brother Leavell went to Chicago in 1920 from a responsible position with the First National Bank of St. Louis.

Centre College suffered a very considerable loss this year in the retirement of Dean Charles G. Crooks, Central, '84, due to ill health. Brother Crooks, when he removed to Lexington, Kentucky, was chosen dean and professor emeritus. For twenty-seven years he was professor of mathematics at Centre College and for fifteen years prior to that he taught at the old Central University.

Milo J. Bowman, Hanover, '96, is taking the classes in law formerly taught by Dean Paul V. McNutt while the latter is on leave of absence this year as national commander of the American Legion. Brother Bowman came to Indiana from the deanship of the school of law at Valparaiso University. He was formerly acting president of Valparaiso.

Allen Tate, Vanderbilt, '22, is the author of Mr. Pope and Other Poems, recently published by a New York firm. This is Brother Tate's first volume of poetry although he has published a biography of Stonewall Jackson and was one of the founders of a former magazine of poetry published at Nashville, Tennessee. Brother Tate has gone abroad for a year on a Guggenheim fellowship.

Glenn B. Curry, Indiana, '24, was united in marriage to Miss Martha Stubbs, of Indianapolis, in a pretty Thanksgiving wedding in an Irvington church. Brother and Mrs. Curry will be at home at 515 East Sixth Street, Bloomington, Indiana, where Brother Curry is manager of the Curry Buick Sales Company.

John Avery Lomax, Texas, '97, noted authority on cowboy songs and ballads, has been asked to prepare an article on this subject for the new fourteenth edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica. Brother Lomax has already published two volumes of cowboy ballads and has lectured extensively on that subject.

Toddie Lee Wynne, Texas, '19, has been selected as the member from the sixth senatorial district on Governor Dan Moody's advisory highway council. This body is of considerable importance in the Lone Star State in working out a comprehensive legislative program for a complete system of state highways.

Robert W. Adams, Texas, '22, became judge of a county court-at-law at Houston, Texas, in December. Formerly he had been assistant district attorney. One Phi succeeded another when Nat H. Davis, Southwestern, '16, was appointed as assistant district attorney to take the place of Brother Adams.

Robert B. Troutman, Georgia, '11, Columbia, '14, was elected president of the Atlanta Columbia University alumni club at a meeting in the Georgia capital city in December. Brother Troutman is a prominent Atlanta attorney. H. Irving Schweppe, Columbia, '22, was chosen secretary of the club.

Washington rumors indicate that Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, Vanderbilt, '80, may head a committee of one or both houses of Congress to investigate the recent sinking of the steamer Vestris. Brother Fletcher in 1912 conducted the Congressional investigation of the Titanic disaster.

John E. Green, Jr., Texas, '09, on January 1 became general attorney for the Gulf companies of the Gulf Oil Corporation, with headquarters at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Brother Green, formerly assistant general attorney, will continue to reside at Houston, Texas.

Edward W. Higgins, Wabash, '16, formerly connected with the White Motor Company of Cleveland, has recently accepted a post with Fisher and Company, Inc., 52 Wall Street, New York City. Brother Higgins' home address is 73 Edgemont Road, Scarsdale, New York.

Dr. Abiel J. Moncrief, Mercer, '26, has declined a call from the First Baptist Church, of Sherman, Texas, he recently announced, and will remain as the pastor of the First Baptist Church, of Decatur, Georgia, where he has been during the past four years.

Mark H. Miller, Franklin, '04, was recently elevated from the vice-presidency to the presidency of the Indianapolis Board of Trade. Brother Miller, a practicing attorney in Indianapolis, was graduated from the Columbia University law school in 1907.

District Judge John M. Green, Texas, '86, of Cuero, Texas, in December ended a long record of capable and faithful service on the bench in Victoria, Texas. Brother Green was not a candidate for re-election and will probably resume the practice of law.

Byron Price, Wabash, '12, achieved a coveted newspaper distinction in his initiation into the celebrated Gridiron Club of Washington, D.C., at its semi-annual dinner in December. Brother Price is the chief of the Washington Bureau of the Associated Press.

Leland H. Ridgway, Wabash, '22, was recently promoted to the position of division traffic supervisor of the Indiana division of the Indiana Bell Telephone Company. Brother Ridgway is the president of the Indianapolis Alumni Club.

Wendell Ballard, Franklin, '26, is now coaching basketball at New Albany, Indiana. Brother Ballard while in Franklin College was a member of the famous world championship basketball quintet.

John M. Hogue, Franklin, '29, has accepted an appointment as junior observer of meteorology with the U. S. Weather Bureau at Nashville, Tennessee. Brother Hogue was editor of the college annual during his junior year at Franklin.

Robert J. Millis, Hanover, '16, was married on December 12 to Miss Mary Mildred Malsbary of Romney, Indiana. Brother Millis is one of the leading physicians of Crawfordsville, Indiana, and is the chapter adviser of Indiana Beta.

Harold L. Harmeson, Purdue, '26, was married on November 17 to Miss Mary Elizabeth Wallace, of Lafayette, Indiana. Brother and Mrs. Harmeson will live at Dayton, Ohio.

Walter P. Binns, Mercer, '18, pastor of the First Baptist Church of La-Grange, Georgia, made the principal address at the large homecoming celebration held at Mercer University in the fall.

James McW. Lemon, Westminster, '10, formerly a chemical engineer at Pittsburgh, is now associated with the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries at Washington, D.C.

Ward Wight, Emory, '10, is the newly elected president of the Georgia Real Estate Association. Brother Wight is a prominent realtor of Atlanta, Georgia.

William G. Gude, Jr., Purdue, '25, is connected with the Penton Publishing Company, of Cleveland, as the Pittsburgh resident editor.

Ralph L. Cook, Butler-Purdue, '19, is the superintendent of measurements for the Southern California Gas Company at Taft, California.

Michael E. Foley, Wabash, '99, has been elected president of the Indianapolis Bar Association for 1930.

Bernard C. Gavitt, Wabash, '15, is attending the law school of the University of Oregon.

Tribute cannot be great enough to pay to Harry Owen McDougall, Ida-ho, '17, who was killed in an airplane accident at Pocatello, Idaho, on Armistice Day. His death came as he crashed to the ground in a nose dive from 200 feet in the air. Miss Edla Rice, Idaho, '31 ($\Gamma \Phi B$), his sisterin-law, who was riding in the same plane, was also killed.

The passing of such a man as

Harry, who was an ace in the World War and active in civic affairs of his home town, Boise, Idaho, the entire state mourns.

Harry's friends were numberless. He was one of the first in this state to volunteer in the World War and was one of the first Idaho men to be commissioned in the air service and sent overseas, where he served with distinction with both the French and American forces. Our government and the French government rewarded him for his many courageous acts by conferring on him two war decorations, the Distinguished Service Cross, and the Croix de Guerre. He took part in forty-two bombardments and thirty-eight air battles. After the war he served as ranking officer of the 329th Observation Squadron, U. S. Reserve Air Corps. Harry Mc-Dougall was one of the organizers of the 329th Squadron.

Harry was the first commander of the Pocatello Post of the American Legion. He was a true buddy, loyal, kind, and courageous. He faced life's battle with a smile and was never known to falter or turn aside from the path of duty. He entered the army while he was still a student at the University of Idaho and after the war began the practice of law in Pocatello with his father. He was appointed assistant attorney general of the state of Idaho and was serving in that capacity when he met his death.

Harry never lost his love of flying and was known as a pilot of remarkable ability. His death and that of his lovable and attractive young sister-in-law cast a shadow over our university as well as the entire state.

Harry McDougall has not lived in vain. His memory will be cherished by all those who played a rôle in the World War and he will go down in history among those heroes who stood ready to sacrifice themselves that their country might live.

Dr. Allen B. Thrasher, Butler, '73

Belated notice has been received of the death of Dr. Allen B. Thrasher, Butler, '73, who was one of the joint editors of the first volume of THE SCROLL. It comes via the Butler Alumnal Ouarterly.

News of the death of Dr. Allen B. Thrasher, '73, has but recently reached the office of the Butler Alumnal Quarterly, and this belated notice of an alumnus so loyal to the college and so appreciated by the college is regretted. Dr. Thrasher was a subscriber to the Quarterly from its first issue and a kindly, generous friend of his Alma Mater. He will be missed by those managing alumni matters.

An expression of the Cincinnati Oto-Laryngologic Society has been received:

Dr. Allen Benton Thrasher, one of the charter members of this Society, died July 31, 1927, after a long illness.

Dr. Thrasher was born in Fayette

Carter F. Housh, Lombard, '08

Carter F. Housh, Lombard, '08, died at Custer, South Dakota, on May 13, 1928.

Carter was one of Lombard's distinguished sons. After leaving Lombard he engaged in the field of art in New York City. For years his work appeared as cover designs for many of America's leading magazines. During later years he devoted his time exclusively to commercial art. He handled some of the largest advertising art campaigns of this country. One of his western contracts was with Rice-Stix of St. Louis. In the East he was associated with the Dry Good Economist, Bamberger, Interwoven, United Cigar Stores, and other firms which were leaders in their respective fields. Probably the greatest tribute that was paid to him in recent vears was the selection of his work by Gebrauchsgraphik, a German art magazine devoted to international advertising art. This magazine reproduced much of his work and spoke of him as being one of the outstanding commercial artists of America. On occasion his work was reproduced by special permit both in this country and abroad.

Carter was a true Phi; and he never failed to bring inspiration to his associates. He was never too busy to be a good fellow—and he lived with the idea in mind that we should all be good fellows together.

Campus Activities: With the close of the 1928 football season, the chapter found itself richer by two letters in that sport, as well as with a promising outlook for the coming year. McLain and Redman captured varsity awards. while Brown and Mahon made excellent showings as second string men, the former missing his letter by one game, and the latter being forced out for several weeks late in the season by a hip injury, and thus being prevented from playing in the required number of con-tests. Rushmore narrowly missed capturing the managership of that sport, but was rewarded for his work by membership in Qwink, the junior and sophomore honorary society, in which the chapter is now represented by three brothers. Baldwin snared the managership of soccer, making the third year in a row in which Phis have landed the job. Tom Lapham was playing excellent soccer all season, and was crashing into the varsity games regularly at the end of the schedule, which looks good for another letter next year. The interfraternity basketball contests are getting under way, and the chapter is all set to duplicate its triumph of 1926 and win another leg on the cup. Mahon sang one of the leading rôles in the student presentation of the light opera, Hugh the Drover, given here recently. Spangler was lately pledged to \(\Sigma\) \(\X\), honorary scientific national fraternity, while Delaney and Winde have been chosen for Σ T.

Campus Activities: The close of the football season on Thanksgiving found Utah with a Rocky Mountain Conference championship team. The team succeeded in surviving a difficult schedule without a defeat. Two Phis, Paul Cecil, end, and Dean Olson, guard, come in for a large share of the credit as regulars on the team. Both aroused considerable comment among sports writers for their exceptional and consistent playing. Three other Phis were members of the squad. Glen Hardy, end, Daniel Moyle, fullback, and Ross Budge, guard, were the remainder of the chapter representatives on the gridiron. They will be back next year to fight for regular berths. On De-cember 7, The Squeal, publication of the local chapter of II & E, national literary fraternity, appeared Glenn Olson was business manager for the issue. Douglas Nowell and Richard Pollock are also members of the organization and acted as reporters on the staff.

The newspaper is of a somewhat radical nature and has excited considerable comment. Work on the Utonian, annual publication, is progressing remarkably well under the business managership of Douglas Nowell. He is being aided in his department by the following Phis, Dean Olson, Glen Hardy, Daniel Moyle, John Mollerup, Richard Pollock, William Anderson, and Blaine Romney. The Crimson, combined publication which has recently replaced the Pen and the Humbug, is under management of Glenn Olson. The new publication bids fair to eclipse the fame of both of its predecesors both of its predecessors.

Buffalo, New York

The Buffalo Alumni Club held an enthusiastic annual dinner December 13 at the Touraine Hotel, Buffalo, New York. After being more or less indifferent for some time new life seems to have entered the bunch and we look forward to a very prosperous year with Brothers Loyd N. Beuthel, Colgate, '26, president; The Reverend Don Tullis, Ohio, '98, vice-president; F. A. Eaton, Washington State, '26, secretary-treasurer; E. A. Mc-Creery, Nebraska, '99, reporter. The enregetic work of our retiring president, Roswell Rosengren, Colgate, has cer-tainly borne fruit. Collected around the festive board were the Keverena Druce S. Wright, Allegheny, '05; the Reverend Don D. Tullis, Ohio, '08; Herbert Feuchter, Colgate, '25; E. N. Green, Washington State, '27; F. A. Eaton, Washington State, '26; Loyd N. Beuthel, Colgate, '26; Milton O. Cederqurist, LaFayette, '12; Frank C. Davis, Georgia Tech, '07; festive board were the Reverend Bruce Frank C. Davis, Georgia Tech, '07; James Hedrick, Knox, '24; Harold Kennedy, Colgate; William A. Kern, Colgate, '27; F. Clark Martin, Pennsylvania, '28; E. A. McCreery, Nebraska, '99; Charles W. Proctor, Allegheny, '85; Roswell P. Rosengren, Colgate, '24; Fred H. Stanton, Colgate; D. S. Williams, Colgate, '17.

Brother Rosengren adds another honor to his list having just been appointed clerk of the federal courts. We are glad to report that Malcolm Baird, Northwestern, '02, is rapidly recovering from a severe operation but regret to report that Brother Day L. Anderson, who has been sick for some time is not improving as fast as his friends would like.

This coming year we celebrate the fiftieth anniversary in Phi Delta Theta of Brother Charles W. Proctor. He has been a very enthusiastic and valuable addition to this club.

Rev. Don Tullis has extended a very cordial invitation to all Phis to meet Brother Brown at his house in the near future.

We note that Brother Williams, who was sick for so long is again able to meet with us.

We were greatly surprised to find a lot of musical talent among the bunch, a number of good voices, good pianists, and a splendid all around instrument

We regret to hear that Brother Green is to be transferred to California. During the short time he was here he became very popular and we are sorry to lose such a peppy Phi. All Phis note that we have changed our noon luncheon day to every Friday at 1:00 P.M., Statler Restaurant, Ellicott Square, and we hope all local and visiting Phis will take this opportunity to be with us. E. A. McCreery, Reporter

Elmira, New York

Saturday evening, December 29, 1928, fittingly closed the activities of the Alumni Club of Elmira, New York. It was the last of a series of very successful parties that have been held at the homes of different members during the year. This was an informal dinner party, and was held at one of our local tea rooms.

We started the dinner in true "service luncheon club" style. U. G. Warren, Syracuse, '96, asked the blessing, after which Walter Reynolds, Cornell, '24, led us in the singing of several old Phi Delt favorites. This had a tendency to liven the crowd a bit and to make the meal more easily digested. During the meal several members responded to "My fun-niest experience in college" which brought forth a great amount of laugh-

As the dessert course disappeared, members of the committee passed among the ladies and gave each a pretty little doll as a remembrance of the occasion. The gifts for the men, which were on the pre-arranged Christmas tree were distributed by Floyd English, Allegheny, '19. These carried a message and an inexpensive toy, representative of the member's occupation, in caricature. This was very successful as a stunt, and also created a lot of amusement.

After dinner, dancing and cards were enjoyed, music was furnished by the Band Box Orchestra. The committee in charge were Floyd English, F. M. Edson,

The Elmira Club meets the latter part of each month. Usually Monday night. Any sojourning member is cordially invited to join us on these occasions. Please communicate with any Phi in Elmira or vicinity.

The second bowling tournament of the season was held November 13 on the Indianapolis Athletic Club alleys. Hendrickson, Wabash, was high man in both single game and three games with a 200 and a 516. Cliff Courtney, Butler, was second in both of the above events. Other prizes were won by C. L. Mills, Butler; C. F. Merrill, Wabash, and F. M. Moorman, Purdue. In a six man team match Butler defeated Wabash, 2,763-2,307. It is the policy of the Alumni Club to have at least one event of some kind the year around, whether it is golf, bowling, smoker, banquet or even a bridge tournament.

L. H. Ridgway, Wabash, and president of the Indianapolis Alumni Club was elected the delegate to represent the club at the convention.

H. H. Hungate, Butler, was elected president of Kappa province at the meeting held at Hanover College. Probably quite a number of the brothers would recognize the name Fuzz Hungate better than the name used above.

H. O. Goett, Butler, has been appointed secretary to the mayor of the city of Indianapolis.

FRANK M. MOORMAN

Jacksonville, Florida

The Jacksonville Alumni Club of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ met December 4 at Hotel George Washington and enjoyed lunch. Afterwards a short business session took place and plans were discussed as to our proposed visit to Florida Alpha in Gainesville on Founders' Day. Not handing ourselves any flowers or anything like that but this alumni club seems to be the only wide awake one in the state as the secretary has not been able to get answers from communications to the other clubs in regard to the above.

Elliot Adams was elected as this club's delegate to the general convention and we know that he will let all the good brothers there know and hear about our program.

The club lost one of its hardest workers when business forced Allen Wright to make his headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia. However, we know this change was a promotion for him and he will be a great asset to the Atlanta Alumni Club.

It is with regret that we inform you of the death of one of our beloved members, Ralph A. Rhodes who passed away October 25. Rhodes was one of the most popular student doctors in Jacksonville, who joined the house staff of the Duval County Hospital last July. Death was due to a cerebal hemorrhage. Brother Rhodes had endeared himself to the hearts of us all and his sudden death cast a veil of sorrow over all who knew him here.

Our next meeting will be January 8 in the evening at the beautiful home of Brother Kirby-Smith.

Standardized China and Silver

Is being supplied to an everincreasing and ever-satisfied group of chapters.

Ware that lasts only a comparatively short time is expensive, no matter how low its original cost. A standardized service is a true investment and always a delight to look upon.

Write us or General Headquarters and ask for prices—the ware lasts forever and is very reasonable.

Editorial

Some weeks have passed since the Nashville Convention, and short though it was, it has left an impression of a combination of pleasure and service to the fraternity.

There are several things for which it was outstanding. In the first place it attracted a number of older brothers whose absence has been noted at recent conventions. These men enjoyed a reunion, as did the seven who had attended the 1884 convention at Nashville and returned this time. Those of us of the younger generation who met them and heard them reminisce got almost as much pleasure as they did out of their reunion. It was interesting to observe how much Phi Delta Theta has meant to them.

In the opinion of many there has never been such a remarkable group of undergraduates present at a Phi Delta Theta convention. Chapter presidents, for the most part, they were attractive to look at, keen thinkers and well behaved, and there was no tendency to shirk their responsibilities. The older men felt such pride in them that they could not refrain from expressing it on numerous occasions.

The local committee made ample provision for the social side of the convention, and the eightieth anniversary of the founding of Phi Delta Theta was fittingly observed by an impressive ceremony. The decision to hold the next convention in the summer at Detroit was a wise one. All in all, the Nashville convention would offer much encouragement to anyone who had any doubts about the future of the fraternity movement.

The fraternity at large needs no introduction to the new officers elected to the General Council at Nashville. They all have records of faithful service to Phi Delta Theta and the fraternity cause which give a definite knowledge of what to expect of them.

Henry K. Urion, the new president, came on the General Council during a crisis in the fraternity's affairs and made a very distinct contribution to the work that was carried on under the supervision of P.P.G.C. Charles A. Macauley. His record has been one of self sacrifice and he has never failed to respond to any call from the fraternity for his time. No one could have been more faithful in the discharge of his duties and he fully appreciates the importance of the task immediately ahead of Phi Delta Theta and the men now in charge of its destinies. To him the position he has just assumed is a challenge to his best efforts and he has already started to put into effect a number of his own ideas for the coordination of the executive branch and the bringing into fraternity councils our best minds.

Judge William R. Bayes gave the Interfraternity Conference a splendid administration as its head and set a goal for his successors to meet. He is a valuable committee man and can always be counted upon to contribute something worth while when he expresses himself. Those who attended the Appleton officers' conference know what a help he was in making a success of that gathering.

Edward E. Ruby is one of the most lovable characters on the roll of Phi Delta Theta. He has lived for the fraternity ever since he joined it at Indiana University and he has gone on year after year helping here and helping there wherever he saw a chance to serve his beloved fraternity. He established and fathered the splendid Whitman chapter in the college of which he is dean and he has been province president in one of our strong districts. He has been assistant editor of The Scroll and is the father of two splendid Phi sons. Especially noteworthy, however, is his work on the Survey Commission. His knowledge and good judgment have been of the greatest value to that body and he has earned the respect and high regard of its other members.

There is so much that is true in the following editorial by George Starr Lasher in the Rattle of Theta Chi that we are reprinting it in full:

Must the Interfraternity Conference continue to be an annual bore? The 1928 Conference is the answer. Like an invigorating breeze on a sultry day came the debate on "hell week," presented by really important persons, undergraduates, who knew their subject and stuck to it, who were able to look their audience in the face and talk to it, who knew what they wanted to say and stopped when they had said it. That debate was the highlight of the Conference from the standpoint of interest and influence. And what did it suggest to those who will arrange for future Conference programs?

First, when a subject is to be discussed that deals with conditions in educational institutions today, get persons to discuss it who know what they are talking about, rather than those whose chief contribution is reminiscences. Second, include undergraduate speakers and discussions so that the event will live up to its title, an interfraternity conference, not an alumni interfraternity conference. Third, get live speakers, not persons who read badly speeches that are too long, too rambling, too weak in facts.

Perhaps a few other suggestions might not be out of order. Begin sessions on time. At the designated hour Friday the only person in the conference room was a janitor arranging the chairs. Print the reports of officers and committees, circulate them before the time for the Conference, then call for questions and discussion. Have debates and open forum discussion on important fraternity questions, limit the introductory speakers definitely but do not crowd the program so that the general discussion from the floor has to be curtailed severely. The chief value of a conference is a conference, not listening to tedious reports or tiresome speeches, but open forum discussion in which are presented ideas, experiments, reactions, questions, challenges, arguments, testimony, convictions, and opinions.

One of the greatest steps ever taken by Phi Delta Theta is the inauguration of the campaign to build the Walter B. Palmer Memorial Endowment Fund of one million dollars. The fund, which now contains about seventy thousand dollars, has been largely raised by regular contributions from undergraduates. It is now hoped to interest those Phis financially able to help in the plan to adequately take care of the future needs of the fraternity by providing a regular fixed income.

The most important thing in a movement of this sort is to get the proper person to head and sponsor it. We believe that Phi Delta Theta is particularly fortunate in having the services of James E. Davidson Hillsdale, '87, in this capacity. A man of large affairs, Brother Davidson is convinced of the value of the college fraternity and he sees in it a vehicle for service among the college men of the continent that is not provided for in any other manner. Elsewhere in The Scroll will be found a biography of Brother Davidson by Assistant Secretary Ball, who is associated with him in this work, and it will be immediately evident to the reader that the fraternity has made no mistake in its choice of a leader.

The endowment fund itself, as outlined by the Kansas City Convention in 1922, is intended to provide a life income for Mrs. Palmer, which is now taken care of, to help care for proper administrative expenses of the fraternity, to provide a loan fund for worthy, needy brothers, to give scholarships, and to provide tutors in active chapters. These various projects will, of course, be properly safeguarded, but to those of us in intimate contact with fraternity work, there is a golden opportunity to do a wonderful lot of good if the money can be made available.

We feel a deep personal loss in the death of Richard Lee Cuthbert, Cornell, '29, president of New York Alpha and delegate from that chapter to the Nashville Convention. Brother Cuthbert was a Phi of the highest type, which means that he was a scholar and a gentleman, and he made a lasting impression upon all with whom he came in contact at Nashville.

We offer our sympathy and the sympathy of the entire fraternity to New York Alpha and to the family of Brother Cuthbert.

It is interesting to watch the movement for the abandonment of rough initiation practices by Phi Delta Theta chapters. Several have fallen into line this year and it is noteworthy that our groups are taking the lead on many campuses; a lead which is being rapidly followed by other chapters. Ohio Beta set the pace at Ohio Wesleyan as is its habit and now Kansas Alpha has taken a firm stand at Kansas University.

The evidence seems to show that the initiated men themselves are losing interest in the inane performances of Hell Week and are growing tired of continuing a practice in which they no longer have a heart.

THIRTY-NINTH BIENNIAL CONVENTION

By FARRON E. TURNER, Iowa Wesleyan,'30

FROM the ceremony at the Tennessee Alpha chapter house at eleven o'clock on Wednesday night, December 26, in celebration of the eightieth anniversary of the founding of Φ Δ Θ to the final session and formation of the convention "delta" one consciously realized that college life educates a man's head and that fraternity life educates his heart and develops his humanity.

It was altogether fitting and proper that this, the thirty-ninth biennial convention, should be held in Nash-ville. Forty-four years ago, half the life time of the fraternity, it met in national convention at the capital of Tennessee on November 11, 12, 13, and 14, 1884. Vast have been the changes in college and fraternity life since then, but the principles of those founders of our grand fraternity have remained inviolate.

Nashville has maintained an enviable reputation—that of being the Athens of the south and that of extending the most cordial of hospitality. To justify further the first title, there has been erected the only full-sized replica of the Parthenon in the world. On gazing at this, the sublimity of Grecian art, one is smothered with a sense of inferiority mingled with the supreme joy of wearing the badge blessed by Pallas.

Although the term "southern hospitality" has grown somewhat bromidic, the hospitality itself has not, as is testified by each of the three hundred and forty-eight members of Φ Δ Θ who were the guests of the city of Nashville, Tennessee Alpha, and of the Nashville Alumni Club.

The opening festivities began on Wednesday night when Tennessee Alpha entertained with a dance at the Vanderbilt chapter house. At eleven o'clock, Judge William R. Bayes, Ohio Wesleyan '01, past chairman of the Interfraternity Conference and member of the General Council, made a brief speech commemorating the founding of the fraternity eighty years ago at Miami University. The dance was well attended and was quite successful in its purpose of introducing the visitors to each other, to Tennessee Alpha and to the Nashville guests.

The convention was formally opened at ten o'clock Thursday morning, December 27, in the convention room of the Hermitage Hotel by Dr. John J. Tigert, Vanderbilt, '04, president of the fraternity and of the University of Florida, who was introduced by W. R. Manier, Jr., Vanderbilt, '08. Robert F. Jackson, Vanderbilt, '81, who delivered the address of welcome at the convention in 1884 also made a short address and Clarence L. Goodwin, Butler, '82, who made the response in 1884, responded to Brother Jackson's talk. Robert E. Hass, Lafayette, '12, made the response on behalf of the General George Banta, Sr., Franklin-Indiana, '76, who was also present at the '84 convention, was introduced and given a sincere ovation for the effort he has expended in behalf of his fraternity.

Perhaps one of the most significant of the opening speeches was that by Brother Bayes who spoke on the importance of alumni allegiance. In his speech he suggested the following oath that he thought each alumni should be required to take: "That I shall not so long as I live ever lose my interest in $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ and that I shall stand ever ready to give of my substance and time, either or both, in behalf of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$." In the estimation of the writer if each alumnus would live up to this proposed oath, a majority of our fraternity problems would be solved and $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ would progress by leaps and bounds.

Five past presidents of the fraternity were present and were introduced by Brother Tigert. They include John H. DeWitt, Vanderbilt, '94, Nashville; Elmer C. Henderson, Westminster, '93, Fulton, Missouri; Charles F. Lamkin, Westminster, '99, Keytesville, Missouri; Frank J. R. Mitchell, Northwestern, '96, and originator of the Scrotl. endowment fund, Gulfport, Mississippi; George Banta, Sr., Franklin-Indiana, '76, and Hilton U. Brown, Butler, '80, Indianapolis, Indiana. S. K. Ruick, DePauw, '97, was present at the subsequent sessions.

Seven members who attended the convention in 1884 were then introduced and later were honor guests at a luncheon at the Andrew Jackson Hotel. The seven were: Percy D. Maddin, Vanderbilt, '81, of Nashville; Allen R. Carter, Vanderbilt, '87, of Louisville; Hilton U. Brown, Butler, '80, publisher of the Indianapolis News; W. R. Manier, Sr., Vanderbilt, '81, Nashville; George Banta, Sr., Franklin-Indiana, '76, Menasha, Wisconsin; and Clarence L. Goodwin, Butler, '82, of Greenburg, Pennsylvania.

In his address, President Tigert laid especial emphasis upon the scholarship and finance ordinances and how the former had been instrumental in raising the scholastic average of thirty-eight chapters. A portion of his address also dealt with the success of the Scrott endowment fund.

Two important recommendations were made by Arthur R. Priest, De-Pauw, '91, executive secretary, one of which was for special recognition for members of the fraternity who have been such for fifty years. For that group he suggested the title "Golden Legion." The other was for the preparation of a freshman manual to be compiled and distributed by the fall of 1929. It is intended that this manual contain a uniform set of examination questions for initiation and to serve as a general fund of information and training for pledges of the fraternity. Such a manual has long been needed and its publication will be a very distinctive step for the fraternity.

On Friday morning, the general council elections were held with Henry K. Urion, Dartmouth, '12, a Chicago lawyer and past treasurer of the general council, being elected president for the following two years. Four members of the general council for the corresponding period were chosen from a group of ten selected by the nominating committee. Those elected were George Banta, Jr., Wabash, '14, editor of the Scroll; Edward E. Ruby, Indiana, '97, dean of Whitman College; Robert E. Haas, Lafayette, '12, of Allentown, Pennsylvania; and William R. Bayes, Ohio Wesleyan, '01, New York City.

James E. Davidson, Hillsdale, '87, shipbuilder of Bay City, Michigan, formally accepted the chairmanship of the committee for the Walter B. Palmer endowment campaign. At a later session, the goal of this campaign was doubled and raised to one million dollars to be used by the fraternity for scholarships and chapter house loans.

An outstanding committee report was that of Scholarship Commissioner Elmer C. Henderson who stated that a questionaire sent out by him brought in results which show that during the last semester of the year 1927-1928 much gratifying progress had been made over the same period of the previous year. progress had been directly due to the scholastic ordinance. The new requirements, he explained, were not meant to serve as a penalizing agency, but only to place the authority in scholastic matters into the hands of the chapters themselves. Henderson further recommended that the individual chapters adopt house rules and scholastic supervision for upper classmen as well as freshmen.

The report of Fred Milligan, Ohio State, '28, traveling secretary, was very favorable and recorded a very determined effort on the part of all chapters visited to raise every available standard and to banish the practices of "Hell Week."

Many important changes in the code of the fraternity were made upon the recommendation of the committee and will be made known to the members of the fraternity through the medium of the Palladium.

A resolution to properly commemorate and erect a stone at the grave of Robert Thompson Drake, founder, was passed. With the completion of this undertaking, all the graves of the immortal six will be officially marked by $\Phi \Delta \Theta$.

A project to use $40,000 of the Walter B. Palmer endowment fund to supplement $60,000 raised by Westminster College to establish a memorial library to Robert Morrison at Fulton, Missouri, was discussed, but no definite decision was made. Robert Morrison was financial adviser of Westminster College for fifty years and since no adequate memorial had been made to this beloved founder of our fraternity, it is to be hoped that this or a similar project will be completed in a few years.

From a group of six petitions that had been approved by the provinces in which the petitioning groups were located, three were selected to appear before the convention. Δ Θ X. founded eight years ago at Davidson College, Davidson, North Carolina. was granted a charter after a very efficient presentation by members of the local fraternity, and by members of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ who were interested in that Petitions by A E of Bucknell group. and the Ivy Club of Rutgers failed to receive charters. All the groups represented show a very high standard, and it is with heartiest congratulations and best wishes that $\Delta \Theta X$ is received into the fraternity.

One of the incidents most important to the active chapters was the awarding of the Harvard Trophy. The huge, silver loving cup was given to Kansas Alpha for having the best scholastic and general standing for the year 1927-1928. This is the second time that the chapter at Kansas University has won the trophy. California Beta, Stanford University, the winner for 1926-1927, has been second on both occasions that Kansas Alpha has won. More chapters sent in reports than in the past and it is to be hoped that by the next year all chapters will do so as the trophy is a big incentive for the active group in raising scholastic and general standing.

The convention banquet at the Chamber of Commerce on Friday evening will be long remembered by those attending. Judge John H. De-Witt, P.P.G.C., was toastmaster for the occasion. Besides the installation of the newly elected members of the general council by George Banta, Sr., four toasts were given. The first was on "Phi Delta Theta, 1848-1928" by Brother Tigert. Stirling Price Gilbert, Vanderbilt, '83, past president of the General Council and Justice of the Supreme Court of Georgia toasted "Phi Delta Theta in the Eighties." Reverend Malcolm W. Lockhart, Sewanee, '07, completed the alumni trilogy by speaking on the "Ideals of Phi Delta Theta." Smith Troy, Washington, '29, chapter delegate from Washington Alpha, concluded the program with "Vanderbilt, We Are Here!

As noted by the general council, the 1928 convention was remarkable in that over 50 per cent of the delegates of the chapters were either presidents or past presidents of their group.

Of equal interest to the delegates present and to the whole fraternity was the selection of the city of Detroit for the 1930 convention and the change of date for the gathering to be held sometime between August 15 and September 10. This will make it possible for a large number of business men to attend as well as for a larger total number because of more convenient traveling facilities. It will also send the active chapter delegates back to their chapters with new enthusiasm at the beginning of the year.

One should not overlook the many social courtesies extended to the visiting Phis and to the mothers, wives, sisters, and friends of all Phi Delta Thetas. In addition to the pre-convention dance and to the ball in the main dining room of the Hermitage and the tea dance in the grill room, Tennessee Alpha entertained at the chapter house on Friday and Saturday nights.

Three luncheons, a tea and reception, a breakfast, and a musical were given in honor of the visiting ladies. For all these courtesies the fraternity is deeply grateful.

After the final session of the convention on Saturday afternoon, a trip to the Hermitage, famed home of Andrew Jackson, was provided all delegates and ladies. This was indeed a delightful trip and gave the visitors a deeper appreciation of the south and of the things for which Andrew Jackson stood. One thing that caught the attention of the writer and has remained with him was from a letter written by his mother: "You can make friends by being honest and keep them by being steadfast."

While the convention has some very real and concrete benefits, a large portion of it is intangible and can be absorbed and appreciated only by those who were in attendance. The renewing of old friendships and the gaining of new ones leads us to a determination to truly uphold the principles of Φ Δ Θ and to paraphrase Lillard's poem, as done by Brother Priest, and send a message to Morrison and Wilson, to Lindley and Drake, and Rogers and Rodgers:

Rest ye in peace, ye Founders dead,
The cause that you so bravely led We've taken up. And we will keep True faith with you who lie asleep,
With each a Scroll to mark his bed
And white carnations beauty spread Where once your own firm footsteps led.

So let your rest be sweet and deep, Ye Founders dead.

Fear not that you did live for naught,
The torch you threw to us we caught;
Ten thousand hands will hold it high,
Phi Delta's light shall never die,
We've learned the lessons that ye tauaht,

Ye Founders dead.

PRESIDENT OF THE GENERAL COUNCIL

By CHARLES H. KIMBALL, Wisconsin,'13

LEVER, congenial, and companionable, ably describe our new President of the General Council, Henry Kimball Urion, Dartmouth, '12. Those of us in the Chicago Alumni group who have known Brother Urion intimately feel that the fraternity has made a very wise choice in promoting one of its younger officers to the post of highest responsibility.

Brother Urion was born in St. Paul, Minnesota, April 8, 1889. Moving to Chicago at an early age, he attended the public schools there and graduated from the University High School before entering Dartmouth. He received a B.S. degree from Dartmouth in 1912 and an LL.B. degree from Harvard Law School in 1915.

At Dartmouth Brother Urion was active in undergraduate affairs. During his senior year he was managing editor of The Dartmouth, college newspaper. He was a member of the college debating team, held various class offices, and was on the editorial board of the Junior class annual. In his own chapter, New Hampshire Alpha, he held offices at various times as treasurer, reporter, and president. He represented New Hampshire Alpha as delegate to the Niagara Falls convention in 1910.

Brother Urion has many family connections in Φ Δ Θ. His brother, Alfred R. Urion, Jr., is a member of New Hampshire Alpha of the class of 1913. In June, 1915, Brother Urion married Katherine Paul, whose brothers were members of New Hampshire Alpha: Philip B. Paul, '06, and Richard F. Paul, '11. Her cousins, Carroll Paul, '03, and Paul Howe, '14, were also members of Dartmouth chapter.

After graduating from Harvard, Brother Urion returned to Chicago where he entered the practice of law with Judah, Willard, Wolf, and Reichmann. The senior member of this firm is Noble B. Judah, Brown, '04, who is now ambassador to Cuba, Brother Urion was admitted to the Illinois bar in October, 1915, and in 1920 was admitted to the bar of the District of Columbia.

During the war he was a four minute speaker and legal adviser to local and district draft boards. After the armistice he was called to Washington, D.C., as an assistant special representative of the Secretary of War being a member of the commission representing the United States in settling the accounts with the Allied governments growing out of the joint conduct of the war. During a four months' period total claims were settled by that body to the amount of three hundred and twenty million dollars.

In July, 1919, Brother Urion was sent to Paris where he remained until February, 1920, as counsellor to the foreign sales mission of the War Department. This mission had charge of the sale in Europe of the surplus war stocks of our war department.

Returning to Chicago in the spring of 1920, he re-entered the practice of law as the senior member of the firm of Urion, Drucker, Reichmann, and Boutell. This firm which is composed of an outstanding group of younger Chicago attorneys, has rapidly grown in prominence and is now engaged in the prosecution of a number of important and far-reaching cases.

In the fall of 1923 Brother Urion was selected as Treasurer of the General Council, and he served most satisfactorily during the period of the business reorganization of the affairs of the fraternity. He was re-elected to the office at the Cleveland and Montreal conventions, and has had a splendid grounding in fraternity work upon which to base his administration as president.

His family consists of three boys, Paul Batcheller, age twelve, Henry K. Jr., age seven, and Phillip Allen, age two. Henry's ambition is to have these boys enter Dartmouth and follow his illustrious career there, becoming Dartmouth men and Phis.

DAVIDSON CHAIRMAN OF THE PALMER ENDOWMENT FUND CAMPAIGN

By REUBEN C. BALL, Colorado, '23

THE creation and maintenance of an endowment of sufficient size to assure Φ Δ Θ financial independence and stability is an outstanding task. Theoretical planning and building an organization on paper are done with comparative ease. To put into effect an actual campaign and to make the theories practical require leadership and executive ability.

The position of General Chairman of the Palmer Endowment Campaign calls for a man prominent both within and without the fraternity, one whose natural ability and experience as an executive will immediately draw an enthusiastic following, one who can give of his time and energy and one whose devotion to the idea and purposes of this fund and whose lovalty and enthusiasm for Φ Δ Θ are beyond question. Φ Δ Θ has been signally honored by having James E. Davidson, Hillsdale, '87, accept the General Chairmanship. His acceptance was enthusiastic and his immediate grasp of the task ahead gives assurance of success.

 Φ Δ Θ prides herself that within her ranks she can find men who willingly answer the call to service. There has been no previous task, however, that has caused her to make such a thorough and painstaking search for an individual to fit the position. That the decision of those charged with this appointment was unanimous for Brother Davidson speaks of the high esteem in which he is held. His steadfast devotion and service to Φ Δ Θ , his loyalty maintained through the years although he has not had a chapter upon which to shower his affections, his contribution to the education of young manhood and his everyday life make a fascinating story.

James Edward Davidson was born in Buffalo, New York, on December 7, 1867. He graduated from the Central High School of Buffalo and entered Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Michigan, where he was initiated into Φ Δ Θ —the beginning of a life of service and love. "Jim" Davidson was a young man full of energy and life and he gave the best that was in him to his college and his fraternity. He was an earnest student, a brilliant debater, a natural leader, and a lover of clean healthy sports. He joined one of the two outstanding literary societies and today keeps his membership active and attends their meetings whenever an opportunity offers. His picture hangs in the meeting hall and his reminiscences of early days there and of his college life make one wish that he too might have enjoyed those friendships and experiences that have been so important in moulding the lives of the men of Hillsdale. At that time debating was an important activity. The Phis seemed to have had a corner on the best debaters and were quite satisfied that their men were invincible. When Brother Davidson was a senior and president of the chapter a freshman 'barb" came to him and asked to be coached for the coming debating con-

[three hundred

A few meetings and Brother Davidson saw that this youngster had possibilities above the average. Mingled with the desire to help his fellow students whether of his own fraternity or not was the keen sense of humor in transforming a seemingly raw country boy into a debater that would win from his own brothers. The twinkle in his eye when he tells the story bespeaks the consternation in the chapter hall when it became known that the Phis had lost and this outsider, a protégé of their president had won. Needless to say, the "raw country boy" became a Phi and in later years won the class debates for Michigan Gamma.

The key of E Δ A, the Φ B K of Hillsdale, is proudly worn by Brother Davidson. In 1887 he graduated from Hillsdale with an A.B. degree. That his graduation was not separation is attested by the fact that ever since he has been a loyal supporter of his Alma Mater. He has been a trustee of the college since 1902 and in 1925 was elected chairman of the board, a position he now holds. Much of the new development of Hillsdale has been due to his untiring effort and support. In 1925 Hillsdale conferred upon him the honorary degree of LL.D.

The same loyal support since graduation has been given to Φ Δ Θ. For several years he served as Province President. He was instrumental in reviving the chapter of Michigan Alpha in 1887 and was on the building committee that built the Michigan Alpha house and was a member of the association that owns the house. To Michigan Alpha he gave his only son, Edward Cobb Davidson, Michigan, '22, and the support that he would have given his own chapter if it had been alive he has in the main given to Today the active Michigan Alpha. chapter men of Michigan Alpha claim him as their own.

On February 12, 1890, he was married to June Lolette Cobb of Buffalo, New York, now deceased. On July 28, 1919, he was married to Helen Forrest Knox. of Buffalo, New York.

The energy and resourcefulness of the boy characterize the man. Witness the vast number of business enterprises with which he is associated and his activities in civic, religious, educational and social affairs.

He lists his business as "Shipbuilder and Banker." He is president of the Peoples Commercial and Savings Bank, Davidson Building Company, Northern Title and Trust Company of Bay City, Michigan; the Independent Steamship Company of Cleveland, Ohio; and the Milwaukee Dry Dock Company, Milwaukee, Wis.; vice-president of the American Ship Building Company, The Triton Steamship Company of Cleveland, Ohio; the Robert Gage Coal Company of Bay City, Michigan; The Du-Steamship Company, Globe luth Steamship -Company, Interocean Steamship Company, National Steamship Company, Continental Steamship Company, Zenith Steamship Company, and Superior Steamship Company of Duluth, Minnesota; secretary and treasurer, Davidson Steamship Company, Duluth, Minnesota; Mt. Clemens Sugar Company, Mt. Clemens, Michigan; Rock County Sugar Company, Janesville, Wisconsin; and the American Shipbuilding Company, Cleveland. He is, also a director of the First National Bank and the Detroit Trust Company of Detroit, Michigan; the Bay City Building Company, the Tanner Investment Company and the Columbia Sugar Company of Bay City, Michigan; the Great Lakes Transit Corporation of Buffalo, New York. He is a partner in the firm of James E. and Edward C. Davidson, ship repairing and dry-docking, of Bay City, Michigan.

Brother Davidson for the past twenty-five years has been a member of Trinity Episcopal Church Vestry of Bay City. In the state of Michigan probably no man in Masonic circles is better known. He was crowned thirty-third degree Mason at Pittsburgh in 1916. He is Past Grand Commandery Knights Templar of Michigan and has held many offices and received many honors both in Masonic circles and in those of the B.P.O.E.

An ardent Republican in things political Brother Davidson has given a great service to his party. He was delegate to the Republican National Convention, Chicago, June, 1920. At the present time he is the member from Michigan, of the Republican National Committee, and has been a member of the Republican State Central Committee of Michigan for twentyfive years as well as chairman of the Bay County Republican Committee at the present time. He has been a member of the latter committee since 1896. In 1924 he became a member of the St. Lawrence Waterway Commission. under appointment by President Cool-Although Brother Davidson's idge. name has been mentioned several times for high political honors he has never allowed his name to be presented.

His club memberships are diversified. He is a member of the Metropolitan Club, India House, The Lambs, the Rocky Mountain Club—New York City; the University Club, Detroit Athletic Club, Detroit Union League Club—Detroit; Union Club, Mid-Day Club—Cleveland; Kitchi Gammi Club, Duluth; Saturn Club, Buffalo; Bay City Yacht Club, Bay City; and Saginaw Country Club, Saginaw, Michigan.

James E. Davidson, a man of unlimited energy, a tireless worker with a capacity to do the seemingly impossible—truly Φ Δ Θ is fortunate to enlist his services as the chairman of the greatest project ever attempted in our long and eventful history, a task of raising an endowment of one million dollars and a task which Brother Davidson pledges himself to accomplish.

TWENTIETH INTERFRATERNITY CONFERENCE

By J. HAROLD JOHNSTON, Chairman Committee on Information

TWO HUNDRED TWENTY-TWO accredited delegates representing exactly sixty national fraternities met at the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York City, on November 30 and December 1 for the twentieth annual session of the Interfraternity Conference. Twenty-seven college deans accepted invitations and likewise attended the sessions which were presided over by Chairman Harold Riegelman, Z B T.

At the Friday morning session, after the reports of the officers and committees, Executive Secretary Arthur R. Priest made an address on "Co-operation Between Colleges and Fraternities in the Maintenance of Each Other's Standards."

To graduate men with scholarly habits and gentlemanly instincts is the common aim of both colleges and fraternities, said Brother Priest.

"Reduced to the minimum," he said, "the standard of the college is a certain proof of intellectual accomplishment and the standard of the fraternity is a certain proof of good breeding. It seems clear, therefore, that the two—college and fraternity—although remaining true to their respective original purposes, should cooperate on the items of scholarship, social training, and general morals."

To improve scholarship, much good work has already been done by the scholarship committee of the Interfraternity Conference with the co-operation of the National Association of College and University Registrars. The three reports of the Conference Committee have been the basis for more sympathetic and intelligent consideration of scholarship than has ever before been possible. The work already done has resulted in a real effort on the part of some fraternities to improve their scholarship standing.

"The two agencies should co-operate to arouse greater intellectual enthusiasm and create a wholesome respect for intellectual achievement."

Quoting the Reverend Bernard I. Bell, warden of St. Stephen's College, Columbia University, Priest pointed out that it is the business of the college to produce men of taste rather than intellectual Hooligans. He said that fraternities can become a potent ally of the college in cultivation of good taste and the quiet graces of a gentleman. Social training, he said, is so intimately connected with living conditions that the two should be considered together.

The chapter house and its furnishings should be in good taste, and kept clean, and university and fraternity officials and alumni can co-operate to see that proper standards of living are maintained. The returning alumnus, too, should co-operate with the college and the chapter in upholding the standards of the campus, not flout his disregard of college authority. College authorities, further, need to see that where students room, or room and board, in college dormitories, decency and order prevail.

The matter of general morale is difficult to handle, but college and fraternity can well co-operate to build up traditions in each chapter of right conduct and genuine interest in the best things of its own campus, so that the chapter may become a united moral force and not merely a group of successful politicians and individual campus performers.

"Chapters cannot develop proper morale until the silly, coarse, and oftentimes dangerous practices of hell week are abolished. Surely men who indulge in such practices are far from educated and those responsible are doing their unconscious best to defeat the very purpose of fraternal association."

In the reports at the afternoon session, Dr. Francis W. Shepardson told of his presence at the conference of the deans of men and the presidents of the state universities, in which some very disturbing questions were asked concerning the value of the fraternity system. Dr. Shepardson said that the university presidents had presented a challenge to the Interfraternity Conference, and had appointed a committee to work with the Conference in solving some of the problems common to both parties. An innovation took place at this same session when a debate was staged on the subiect "Resolved: That After the Opening of the Freshman Year There Should be a Period of Time During Which Rushing and Pledging to Fraternity Membership Should be Prohibited." Dean J. A. Bursley of the University of Michigan and Dean Floyd Field of Georgia Tech reported the affirmative, and the negative was carried by Dr. Charles A. Tonsor, Jr., The debate was folberg, Δ X. lowed by a general discussion.

Friday evening occurred the Conference dinner. Mr. Oswald C. Hering, editor of Δ K E Quarterly, was toastmaster and his humor contributed much to the effectiveness of the evening. The speakers were Dr. H. W. Chase, president of the University of North Carolina; former Congressman Warren I. Lee, president of Δ K E; Dean Thomas Arkle Clark; and Dr. Francis W. Shepardson.

At the Saturday morning session undergraduates appeared on the program of the Conference for the first time, and it was immediately apparent to those present that a very important feature had been previously omitted. A debate on the subject of roughhouse initiation was presented by two undergraduates of Ohio Weslevan University. So well did these young men handle the subject that they brought forth the praise of all. affirmative in the debate was taken by Louis D. Syester, Φ K Ψ. Donald Sherbondy, A Σ Φ , although opposed to rough-house initiation, took the negative for the sake of argument.

Interesting papers were presented as follows: "Hell Week—A Symposium" by Cecil J. Wilkinson, Φ Γ Δ ; "Constructive Probation" by Harrold P. Flint, T K E; and "Tutorial System in Chapters" by Albert S. Tousley, Δ X.

The following officers were unanimously elected: chairman, Clifford M. Swan, Δ Y; vice-chairman, William L. Phillips, Σ Φ E; secretary, Charles W. Gerstenberg, Δ X; treasurer, Alvan Duerr, Δ T Δ ; for members of the executive committee, class of 1930, Louis Rouillion, Δ Φ ; Oswald C. Hering, Δ K E, and George H. Bruce, B Θ Π . W. Elmer Ekblaw, Acacia, Frank W. Scott, A T Ω , and M. Walden, A X P, are members of the class of 1929.

 Φ Δ Θ was represented at the Conference by its regular delegates—exchairman William R. Bayes, Executive Secretary Arthur R. Priest, and George Banta, Jr., John B. PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF LIFE UNDERWRITERS

By S. B. CAMPION WOOD, Amherst,'23

P AUL F. CLARK, Pennsylvania, 114, who was elected president of the National Association of Life Underwriters at its thirty-ninth annual convention, was born November 19, 1892, in Dayton, Ohio. He was graduated from Staunton Military Academy in 1910 and then attended Denison

PAUL F. CLARK, Pennsylvania, 14

University, and following that the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, where he majored in life insurance and economics. Brother Clark is married and has two children.

In September, 1914, almost immediately after completion of his course at the University of Pennsylvania, he began his insurance career with his uncle, Ernest J. Clark, state agent for the John Hancock in Maryland and District of Columbia, spending seven years in Baltimore, first as an agent and finally as associate state agent, where he became the largest personal producer of his company, in several years paying for more than a million dollars of business. In April, 1921, he was called to Boston by the John Hancock to open a new agency, which now is the largest of that company, in the year 1927, having paid for thirty-two million of ordinary and group business.

The new executive head of the National Association has served as vicepresident of the National Association for three years, chairman program committee for the Memphis convention, and has served on various other National Association committees. The Million Dollar Round Table, now an established feature of Association Conventions, was originated by him. He is a trustee of Northeastern University, New England Baptist Hospital, and the American College of Life Underwriters; and is also a director of the Boston Young Men's Christian Association, the New England Baptist Home, the United States Bond and Mortgage Corporation of Massachusetts, and the Bald Peak Country Club, of which he is also secretary.

Brother Clark's social and business connections are numerous and varied, among them being the Algonquin and Exchange Clubs of Boston, Chestnut Hill, Brae Burn, Tedesco and Bald Peak Country Club, Corinthian Yacht Club, the Eastern Horse Club, the Everglades Club of Palm Beach, Boston Chamber of Commerce, New England Alumni, and Varsity Club of the

"MOSS-SCRAPING"

By JEROME C. NIXSON, Allegheny,'22

THE fact that fraternities are running smoothly does not necessarily indicate that they are trending in the right direction. In fact, the line of least resistance usually produces the smoothest motion. I wish simply to raise a few questions comparing the present trend of our fraternity with the aims of founders. Things like this are not easy to say; it would be easier to join in what Bruce Barton calls a "Yes Chorus," to say that "whatever is, is right."

The history of most national fraternities shows that originally they differed fundamentally from what they have become today. $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, $\Delta K E$, and $\Delta T \Delta$, for example, began secretly, without the knowledge or approval of the colleges in whose shadows they had sprung up, sub rosa. Their members consisted of men rooming in various places throughout the college towns, not, as today, of men living together in a fraternity house. These members assembled weekly, as a rule, in the room of some member—later, as the organizations were sanctioned, in a rented hall.

These meetings were anticipated as important events. For the "literary exercises," the men often made elaborate preparation. But perhaps the most important feature of these early meetings was the exchange of comment and personal suggestion, means by which the men mutually profited by the words of their fellows. existence today of the Yale "Tombs," rather solemn meeting-places separate from the houses, indicates the persistence of respect for the fraternity meeting as a thing apart. In fact, meetings are so important that those chapters which, for one reason or cannot have their another, houses, at least have halls of meeting.

What fraternities are like today is so well known to us that it is difficult to conceive that they were ever otherwise. Not excepting the meetings themselves, most contemporary fraternities have degenerated into boarding clubs, differing little from any dormitory organizations. The meetings are concerned chiefly with matters necessary to the mechanical maintenance of the house and to the social competition on the campus. Of course. we do have to discuss the nature of the coming "formal," the choice of records for the victrola, and the condition of the table linen. But all this is not germane to the original central purpose of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$; and we must not delude ourselves into thinking that the principles expressed in the Bond deal merely with the housing and feeding of the brothers. There is something more important to the fraternity than merely living together.

Some people say that the church is declining because it glorifies symbols instead of the things for which the symbols stand. One may even, on the same basis, wonder about the possible decline and fall of the holy Greek-Fraternity empire. On the whole, the fraternities are tending to become soft, concerned with such material symbols as houses and forgetful of the constructive things that came before the houses. One may wonder if the justification of the organizations is not so much in the glorification of themselves as in the improvement of their members. For they, more than houses and trophies, are the true fraternity.

Most of us will admit, I think, that freshmen ought not remain as they are. We make rules and devise punishments for their "improvement," pointing out our effectiveness in making various gawky freshmen "come out." Most of us willingly admit, too, that our chapter is the best on our particular campus. But we really do very little to make our members individually better. Apparently something marvelous separates freshmen from ourselves; we personally have "arrived" sometime in the summer before our sophomore year. And though inwardly we may feel the need for continuing our improvement, we follow the line of less resistance; and fraternity comes to mean simply such outward things, affecting the group, as a more impressive "rush," more original party favors, and the freshman basketball trophy. Fraternity falls short, therefore, of the personal help and improvement which we had, at heart, hoped for,

Fraternity members can improve as individuals in ways impossible to persons outside such a group. As much friendly association we need friendly suggestions. We need to have our friends tell us, as only friends can, that we ought to use our time to better advantage, that we should mind our manners, that we ought to tell the truth more scrupulously, that we should not speak ill of the absent. We need these things quite as much as the social features of the fraternity, because if we do not improve now, we never shall. The power of improving ourselves will soon have passed forever from our control.

To see ourselves as others see us is hard; yet we need that detached view. Motion picture actors study their pictures, and musical artists study their phonograph records for hints as to improvement. We need, once in a great while, to see ourselves as others see us, painful though it be, and shattering to our pride. It is Spartan medicine, a bit drastic. Men should not mind that. founders of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ did not. And who else can so understandingly and kindly hold up the mirror as our fraternity brothers? Certainly, they will be less harsh in their criticism than our associates in the business world. Business men often ask, relative to a candidate for a position. "Can he profit by criticism? If he can't, we don't want him." Quite seriously, the man who cannot take suggestions from fraternity brothers will find unbearably bitter the many criticisms of married life. It's good, therefore, to have criticism, not only for the improvements they make in us, but also to learn, as early as possible, how to take the criticisms which we cannot escape in after life.

Now what should be the nature of our suggestions? It appears that our founders thought they should be given in meeting. "But," one asks, "why do this publicly?" I defy anybody to show that fraternity meeting is public —we take very special pains to keep it rather private. Actually, fraternity meeting is the very best place for such personal suggestions because there they make the strongest impression upon the man. Again, the other brothers are witnesses and helpers in future attempts of the brother to act upon the suggestion. Suggestions made under stress in meeting are more likely than the whispered word to bear fruit in action. Thus, the meeting of friends commends itself as a place for helpful suggestions because of the nature of the impression thus made, and because of the help which the others present may render in carrying out the suggestions.

Of course, in this we need to use great caution. There are things to say, and things not to say; ways tactful and untactful. We must not wantonly humiliate. Nobody ought to say in comment a single word unless he can answer satisfactorily the following questions:

(1) Is this constructive? Will it really help the man in a positive way? Can I point the way out of the difficulty? Can I plant something to grow in the place of what has been weeded out? Do I stand ready to help?

(2) Is this impartial? Is it colored by my background or my personal prejudices for or against the man? Have I a grudge?

(3) Is this superficial? Is it concerned with toning down neckties or with telling the truth? This is not the place for superficial suggestions. Is my criticism in keeping with the high purposes of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$?

(4) Is this necessary? If this is concealed, will it eventually work the man harm, even to a small degree? Is he becoming what I should like to see him be permanently?

The comments need not be unfavorable. I have heard my grandfather, an early Phi, say that the "moss-scraping" was often encouraging. "Jamieson, you are getting more sociable." "Hill, you certainly controlled your temper admirably in that game the other day." In general, I think there is as much to be gained by the one making the good suggestion as by the man acting upon it, for it is almost as important to be able to make criticism as to take it.

In conclusion, I am not fully convinced that the method of comment and criticism used in 1848 is the best means for attaining the unmistakably desirable aims of 1928. Conditions have changed. And it may be that since we are living together as the founders did not, we have more effective and more constant means of helping each other. Perhaps we can be examples rather than say examples. Yet because the history of the fraternity suggests what we are not generally following, the matter of "mossscraping" deserves our earnest attention. In no event, do we want to lose sight of the early ideals of fraternity, to let the organization degenerate into a boarding club, to become so concerned with the symbols of fraternity that we forget the spirit. Whether it is 1848 or 1928, the purposes of the fraternity, as expressed in the Bond, should remain unchanged.

Andrew W. Robertson, Allegheny, '06, was elected on January 16 as chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. He goes to this highly important and responsible position from the presidency of the Philadelphia Company. Brother Robertson's unanimous election to the chairmanship of the Westinghouse organization is the climax to a rapid rise in the legal and industrial worlds, After receiving the A.B. degree from Allegheny and teaching for a year he attended the University of Pittsburgh Law School where he was graduated in 1910. In 1912 he began his affiliation with financial and utility interests in Pittsburgh and since then has occupied a number of important Brother Robertson has positions. been quite active in civic affairs and Boy Scout work, and holds memberships in numerous Pittsburgh and New York clubs. He has also served as officer or director of a number of professional organizations. Robertson's official headquarters will continue to be in Pittsburgh and his entire time will be given to the Westinghouse interests.

Phi Delta Theta's already long list of college deans and presidents has been increased by the recent appointment of Professor George S. Harris, Vermont, '09, as dean of the New Jersey Law School. The appointment of Brother Harris had been urged by many graduates and members of the student body and followed several years' service as a member of the faculty of the school. Brother Harris is the author of Pleading and Practice in New Jersey, is a member of Φ B K and of Δ Θ Φ , and has taken a very active part in the civic and legislative work of New Jersey. While an active member of Vermont Alpha he was on the staff of the college paper, captain of the university debating team, and leader of the Glee Club. Brother Harris is married and has two sons. His residence is in Upper Montclair, New Jersey.

It is perhaps a far cry from eminence as an army engineer to excellence in the realm of art but that seeming gap has been bridged suc-cessfully by Brigadier General Chester Harding, Alabama, '84, who is spending the winter in Birmingham, Alabama, executing a number of portrait commissions. Brother Harding had a notable career in the army, the chief features of which were his service under General Goethals in the Canal Zone for five and a half years, his work as engineer commissioner for the District of Columbia, and his subsequent appointment as Governor of the Canal Zone, which place he held from 1917 to 1921. After his retirement from the Army Brother Harding took the opportunity of studying art, a field in which he had always been interested in Paris.

The job of counting all the money Uncle Sam owns was turned over to Walter O. Woods, Kansas, '94, through his confirmation by the United States Senate on January 15 as Treasurer of the United States, one of the most responsible executive positions in the government service. His nomination was sent to the Senate in place of that of H. T. Tate of Tennessee.

Among the three new trustees named on the board of the University of Chicago is Ernest E. Quantrell, Chicago, '05. Brother Quantrell is an investment banker in New York City. While a student in the university he was a member of the Owl and Serpent, senior honorary society.

Carleton W. Binns, Mercer, '19, has entered a new law firm, Alexander, McLarty, and Binns, formed at Atlanta, Georgia. Brother Binns was a former solicitor of the criminal court of Atlanta. After graduating from Mercer he took postgraduate work in law at Columbia University.

W. St. John Garwood, Texas, '21, left recently for Buenos Aires, Argentina, where he will be located in the future. He formerly was a resident of Houston, Texas.

John Reid, Jr., California, '03, formerly city architect of San Francisco, has returned to private practice in that city, with offices in the Financial Center Building.

Richard Lee Cuthbert, Cornell, 20

Brother Cuthbert had returned home for the holidays apparently in the best of health and his death January 8, came to all of us as a great shock. At a recent meeting just before vacation, Brother Cuthbert, being our house president was chosen to attend the Thirtieth General Convention at Nashville, Tennessee. While at the convention he was stricken ill with grippe and a light case of influenza. He remained in bed several days at Nashville, and apparently having recovered returned home soon after the adjournment of the convention. Upon three hundred eleven!

arriving at his home in Brooklyn, New York, where he resides with his aunt, he was again taken ill. Double pneumonia developed, and it was this that caused his death.

Brother Cuthbert was initiated into the chapter in 1927, and since that time had been one of its most active members. He was a senior in the College of civil engineering and most active in campus affairs, being manager of freshman track, a member of Sphinx Head, our senior honorary society; Red Key, our junior honorary society: a member of Rod and Bob, a Civil Engineering honor society, and was on many committees of student affairs. He was a bright, cheery sort of a fellow and was well liked by all who knew him. He was elected president of our chapter last spring, and was always interested in the welfare and betterment of our house, and in the success of its undertakings.

Many of the active members of our chapter, and his closer friends attended his funeral in Brooklyn, New York, on January 11. We are all mourning the loss of one of the finest boys we knew and are proud to say he was a Phi. He is survived by his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Reid, Brooklyn, New York, with whom he has resided for the past eight years.

Joseph M. Drew, North Dakota, 27

We of North Dakota Alpha mourn with deep sincerity the passing of Joseph M. Drew, '27, who was drowned in Lake Michigan on December 30.

Brother Drew matriculated at North Dakota in 1923 and was initiated into the chapter in October, 1924. He spent four years at North Dakota, receiving a B.S. in medicine previous to entering Northwestern, where he was attending at the time of his death.

While at North Dakota, Brother Drew was well known in campus activities, possibly most through his efforts in track. He was a four-letter man in this sport, holding the conference record in the 440 yard dash at fifty seconds flat, and was captain his last year. He earned four varsity letters in football, and was a member of the Athletic Board of Control, besides being a member of the Ring and Mat Club. He was a member of Blue Key, national service fraternity: Iron

"Marty" was truly admired and respected by all who knew him and with whom he came in contact. He was rather quiet and apparently was not particularly interested in anyone, but those who knew him knew that he had a heart of gold, and that his friendship was a thing to be valued. He had a brilliant mind, graduating from North Dakota with one of the highest averages in the Medical School: His death came as a distinct shock, and it is hard to realize that

Marion Daniel Fleming, Idaho,'28

Death cut into the ranks of Idaho Alpha and took Marion Daniel Fleming, twenty-four years old, one of the most promising men of the chapter. The death of Marion came as a blow to the members of the chapter. He passed away at his home in Boise, Idaho, December 18, after an illness of more than five months. Death was due to sinus poisoning.

Marion was prominent on the campus and during his freshman year held the office of president of his class. Since that time he was better known as "Prexy." He made a name for himself in college dramatics, and last year had parts in several of the productions. Prexy's long suit, however, was bacteriology and since his high school days he has followed this line of work. He was majoring in bacteriology and served one year as assistant state chemist at Boise. He was also assistant instructor in the bacteriology department at the University of Idaho last year.

Marion completed his junior year last spring and remained on the campus for summer school work last summer. About July 1 he developed sinus trouble and later went to Spokane where he underwent an operation. After several weeks in Spokane he returned to Moscow but could not gain back his health and he was sent to his home in Boise. His condition continued to be bad, and a few days before his death he was operated on and his tonsils removed. He failed to rally from this operation. The chapter held memorial services for Prexy at the house when word of his death was received.

Prexy was one of the best liked fellows of the house, and his ready wit and piano playing was always readily received by the brothers. Arguments, however, were his delight. Prexy planned to take up medicine following completion of his work at Idaho. His one ambition was to establish a tuberculosis hospital and work for the curing of the disease.

Words cannot express our sorrow but to know Prexy was to love him. HARRY E. JONES, '29

Judge Robert W. Freeman, Vanderbilt, '79

On Friday, December 21, 1928, Judge Robert W. Freeman, one of the great old men of Φ Δ Θ and charter member of Tennessee Alpha finished a most useful life. He was seventy years of age and actively engaged in his business at the time of his death which occurred at his home in Newnan, Georgia.

Judge Freeman was born in Senoia. Georgia, where he received his preparatory school training. In 1875 he entered Vanderbilt University, studied law, and graduated from that institution in 1879. He was one of the charter members of Tennessee Alpha which existed in Vanderbilt for a few years as a sub rosa organization, due to the anti-fraternity ruling of the University of that time, it being the first fraternal organization to locate there. It was due largely to the ideals of Φ Δ Θ and to such men of character as Brother Freeman that this ruling was later abolished.

Upon his graduation he was admitted to the bar and located at Newnan. In 1904 he was tendered the Judgeship of the Coweta Circuit Court which he accepted and held for thirteen years. In 1920 he was elected president of the Newnan Cotton Mills, which position he held at the time of his death. He was also vice-president of the First National Bank of Newnan, a director of the Arnco Mills, a director of the Citizens and Southern National Bank of Atlanta, and of the Mortgage Guarantee Company, of Atlanta.

Brother Freeman was actively interested in his fraternity to the end of his life. Last fall he accompanied his grandson, Kenneth Stringer, to Vanderbilt to see him enrolled and pledged to $\Phi \Delta \Theta$. Brother Freeman was a man of whom the fraternity may be justly proud. To see him was to admire him and to know him was to love him. As long as men like Brother Freeman are developed by the fraternity there is no cause for worry over the future of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$.

Benjamin Robert Weber, Nebraska, 23

The death of Brother "Ben" Weber, who was killed in an automobile accident in New York City, on December 15, where he was employed in the law firm of Murray, Aldrich and Roberts, came as a great shock to all of us. He was killed when he lost control of the car which he was driving and struck a telephone pole.

Brother Weber came to us from Wahoo, Nebraska, and was initiated by this chapter in November, 1920. From his enrollment in the university Ben took an active part in campus activities. He later attended Harvard Law School from which he graduated with high honors in 1927.

The chapter as a body attended the funeral services in Wahoo. The brothers that were closest to Ben while he attended Nebraska acted as pallbearers. Ben is survived by his parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Weber, and brother Carl and his sister, Mrs. Oliver Adams.

Brother Weber's death came as a great loss and shock to his many friends when his life before him was opening up to success and an opportunity to use his many talents. He will always be remembered as a brother who helped to make a name and add glory to Phi Delta Theta: and we express our most profound sympathy.

James Collier, Indiana,'28

The untimely death of James Collier, Indiana, '28, ocurred December 11 only a few hours after he was injured in an automobile accident near Richmond, Indiana.

Brother Collier, who was twenty-three years old at the time of his death, was one of the popular men of the Indiana University during his stay at the campus during the school years from 1924 to 1927. He with-drew from the university at the close of his junior year. His home was in Muncie, Indiana.

Brother Collier was pledged to $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ during the winter of 1925, and was initiated the following fall. He was also a member of Sphinx Club, honorary men's social fraternity on the campus.

During his college career Brother Collier became prominent as a musician being an expert trumpet player. He was a member of several different campus orchestras and composed music for use in campus productions. He was traveling with an orchestra at the time of his death.

IAMES LOVE

Alumni Clubs

Harvard University

The Harvard Alumni Club of Φ Δ Θ has been holding its meetings regularly every two weeks in the Faculty Club of the Graduate School of Business Administration, where we have a jovial time eating a five-course dinner, after which we have a snappy business meeting so we can get back to our books if need be. Our next meeting will be Thursday evening, January 31, at 6:30, and then on every alternate Thursday evening. We invite any and all Phis in Boston and vicinity to join us at our meetings.

The next big social event on our calendar is the Miami Triad Dance which we, along with the Harvard Alumni Clubs of $B \Theta \Pi$ and ΣX , are sponsoring at the exclusive Longwood Towers on Friday, February 8. The dance which we held last fall was quite successful both socially and financially.

As to our individual activities—Alex Weeland, Penn State, '26, represented his law club in the semi-finals of the Ames Competition last fall. This is quite an honor, as the winning club in this competition gets its name engraved on a permanent plaque in the Law School Library with the names of its members participating. Fred Houser, Los Angeles, '26, and Alex Hill, Allegheny, '26, represented their clubs in the quarter finals. Brother Houser also holds a law school honor scholarship.

In the Business School, we have two men on the Business Review Board, the highest scholastic honor in the Graduate School of Business Administration. These brainy brothers are Rushton G. Cortelyou, Kansas State, '27; and Milton C. Smith, Washburn, '27, ₱ △ ₱ is well represented in the two social clubs of the Business School. In the Gayden Club are Kenneth Anderson, Idaho, '27; Francis E. Barton, South Dakota, '27; R. L. Biggerstaff, Duke, '27; Daniel Y. Forry, Ohio State, '27; John C. Franklin, Stanford, '27; Lester A. Graf, Allegheny, '27; Richard J. Helmstadter, Allegheny, '27; and Robert H. Wilson, Washington and Jefferson, '27. Among the members of the Staplers Club are John B. Mickles, McGill, '27; H. S. Pruyn, Williams, '27; John S. Richards, Washington, '27; and Fred W. Gross, McGill, '27. We regret that we are going to lose one of our staunch supporters when Dan Forry, Ohio State, '27, finishes his course at mid-term.

As to the Medical School, Duane M. Carr, Colorado, '25, and John E. Brown, Williams, '25, are doing hospital work in their last year. I understand that Champ Lyons, Washington University, '27, is doing special research work. I haven't been able to get any special news on any of the other Phis.

We wish to take this opportunity to commend Kansas Alpha at Kansas University for their splendid activity record in winning the Harvard Trophy for the second time. Our hats are off to you Phis who are putting $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ where it belongs on the college and university campus—first.

By the time this is printed, all the chapters will have received from us a letter relative to proposed changes in the point award for the various activities as regards the Harvard Trophy. We have made several suggestions, and we ask the co-operation of the chapters in commenting on our proposals, and making suggestions which we may consider in recommending a revision. Also we ask for a list of the college activities and honors rated in the order of their importance to help us in our decision as to allocation of points.

We are disappointed in not having rereceived any letters from actives or alumni, in response to our plea in the December SCROLL, giving us the names of Phis attending college or graduate school in the Boston district. We feel that there are many whom we do not have on our records.

E. ALEXANDER HILL, Secretary, I Summer Rd., Cambridge, Massachusetts

Sullivan, Indiana

The alumni, active members, and Phikeias of Sullivan enjoyed a banquet at the Black Bat Tea Room, December 23. Twenty-three men were present. these, twelve were alumni, six actives, and the others pledges. Toe Stratton. Indiana Alpha, acted very ably as toastmaster. The principal speech was made by Will H. Hays, Indiana Beta, former president of the General Council. Plans for the formation of a Sullivan County Alumni Association were discussed and it was decided to apply for a charter. Both alumni and actives showed great enthusiasm towards the fraternity and it is hoped that they will meet next year as a fully recognized alumni club. EDGAR CROWDER

Standardized China and Silver

Is being supplied to an everincreasing and ever-satisfied group of chapters.

Ware that lasts only a comparatively short time is expensive, no matter how low its original cost. A standardized service is a true investment and always a delight to look upon.

Write us or General Headquarters and ask for prices—the ware lasts forever and is very reasonable.

Editorial

Founders' Day, which falls on March 15, is the occasion each year for the rallying of Phi alumni, especially those living in a community in which there is an alumni club. It is customary to announce each year a subject for general discussion throughout the country so that speakers may address their remarks upon a common topic.

The subject suggested this year requires some explanation but it is general enough to allow for considerable latitude on the part of the individual speakers. It is "The Phi Phalanx, Our Army for the Right," being a combination of two thoughts. The first part has to do with an organization based upon the ancient Greek fighting unit. In such units the older, more experienced warriors were placed upon the outside of the square to support the newer recruits inside. In the Phi Phalanx it is the alumni who are outside the square supporting the enclosed undergraduates. The members of the Golden Legion are in the foremost ranks. The inference is obvious when the comparison is considered.

The latter part of the title is the name of the first Phi Delta Theta song which will be found on page twelve of the songbook. "Our Army for the Right" was written by Captain William Perkins Black, Wabash, '64, for the installation of the old University of Chicago chapter in 1866. At last accounts, Captain Black was still living and resident in Chicago. The title of this song suggests the purpose of the fraternity; right thirking, right living, and campaigning for the right. The application again is obvious.

It is hoped that the clubs will have a larger attendance than ever and that serious thought will be given to the responsibility of the alumni in working out modern problems.

The editor has just returned from the installation of North Carolina Camma at Davidson College. The desire to include material concerning this installation accounts for the delay in the publication of this month's Scroll.

The process of formally placing Phi Delta Theta on the Davidson campus was a delightful experience to those of us who were fortunate enough to take part in it. Never have we been more cordially received by an institution; never have we installed a chapter under more favorable circumstances. To use a modern expression, the set-up is ideal and if Phi Delta Theta does not do well at Davidson it will be because there is something the matter with Phi Delta Theta. There is no need to say to the boys at Davidson "Return to the altar." They have never left it.

Institutions in the North and West with many times the resources and students still lack something that Davidson has in abundance. There is background; there is tradition; there is a cultural spirit which the college built along modern lines never will attain. The boys who graduate from Davidson are educated, they are not turned out under high pressure with a specialized knowledge of some profession or business. They have time to think of some of the better things in life and their fraternity is their first love after their college. As upperclassmen they do not divide their allegiance with some other Greek-letter organization professional in character. To put it plainly, as fraternity men "they work steady at the trade."

Brother Bob Kell, president of the Davidson student body, sits in the same chair in the old Eumenian Literary Society Hall which was occupied by his father and grandfather when they were in college. We were shown a room in the home of President Martin in which General Stonewall Jackson courted and won his wife, a daughter of the first president of Davidson. We were told that Woodrow Wilson was the only first year student in the history of the college to become president of a literary society. The Carolina Inn in which we stayed is in the neighborhood of one hundred years old. These are just examples of what makes Davidson what it is.

We attended a daily chapel exercise at Davidson at which Brother Davidson gave a very excellent and much appreciated address on the St. Lawrence waterway. The exercise was conducted entirely by the students; presided over by the head of the student body and the devotional service was given by one of their number.

Phi Delta Theta has made no mistake in entering Davidson College. We are indeed fortunate in being able to get in at this late date with the splendid group that now comprises North Carolina Gamma.

With profound sorrow we announce the death of the father of James E. Davidson, Hillsdale, '87, chairman of the Palmer Endowment Campaign, which occurred in Bay City, Michigan, recently. We speak for the entire fraternity when we express our sympathy to Brother Davidson and his family.

 \sim

Most of the cuts of the Davidson campus used in this issue of The Scroll were voluntarily offered and loaned to us by our very good friend Dr. Francis W. Shepardson, president of Beta Theta Pi. Dr. Shepardson took a great interest in our Davidson petition and no one is more happy than he over the granting of the charter.

Clarence L. Goodwin, Butler-Indiana, '82, has called attention to a serious error in the February Scroll which we desire to correct.

The caption under the picture of the Phis who attended the 1884 Convention at Nashville and who returned in 1928 was inaccurate. The name of Percy D. Madden, Vanderbilt, '81, is erroneously placed under the picture of Allen Carter, Vanderbilt, '87. Brother Madden, although present, was not in the picture.

Brother Goodwin also calls attention to the fact that although not registered, a ninth attendant in 1884 was at the 1928 banquet. He was Thomas L. Thompson, Vanderbilt, '86.

Phi Delta Theta chapters continue to take the lead on various campuses in abolishing the pernicious practice known as Hell Week. Added to the list this month are Ohio Epsilon at the University of Akron, Ohio Zeta at Ohio State University, Pennsylvania Gamma at Washington and Jefferson College, and Oregon Beta at Oregon State College. There may be others of which we have never been advised.

No more encouraging movement could be started to allay the fears of those who have been doubters on the fraternity question. We of Phi Delta Theta are proud to feel that so many of our own chapters, of their own accord are the first on their campuses to take the action.

INSTALLATION OF NORTH CAROLINA GAMMA AT DAVIDSON

By CHARLES M. PRATT, Davidson, '30

History of Davidson College

HEN royal persecution began to seem intolerable in the British Isles, and this country was being peopled as a result, large numbers of Scotchmen and Irishmen landed and settled in what, many years later, became known as the Piedmont Section of the Carolinas, in that group of rolling foothills half-way between the highest mountains east of the Rockies, and the flat plains along the coast. They brought with them three things and very little more: an intense desire for freedom, learning, and religion.

When the country began to be organized, the central part of this strip which the Scotch-Irishmen had settled was called Mecklenburg County. And motivated by their love of freedom, it was Mecklenburg County which first formally rebelled against England and the King.

It was about this time that they began to feel their lack of éducational institutions. This feeling was championed by Dr. Robert Hall Morrison, a minister of the gospel, who took the matter before the Concord Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church. The Presbytery decided to back the building of a college, and raised $40,000 to finance the matter. They chose a site for it, equidistant from three North Carolina towns, Statesville, Concord, and Charlotte—the last of which is now the largest city in either of the Carolinas. Dr. Morrison was elected president. The college was fittingly named for one of Washington's ablest leaders who is buried some ten miles from the college, General William Davidson. The first formal opening was on March 1, 1837, at which*time there were only sixty-six students.

represent its type of architecture. The brick for the building was made on the spot and of a special type for the building. In front of the building were four massive stone columns, nearly four yards in circumference. The stone for these pillars was quarried thirty miles from the college, and was brought to the college with slave labor, oxen, and carts.

old, Maxwell Chambers, a Salisbury merchant, left Davidson an endowment fund of $250,000, thus making it the richest college in the country (south of Princeton). An administration building with a dormitory wing was built with part of this endowment fund, and named after the donor. The excellency of the building may be understood when it is known that a miniature copy of the building was taken to the Pan-American Exposition to

During the Civil War, besides having contributed $200,000 to the Southern cause, Davidson gave of her life and blood, in the cream of her men, all those of age enlisting. Not once, however, has Davidson ever closed its doors.

There are scores of legends which might prove of interest, such as the ones concerning the old, yet somehow majestic columns of Old Chambers, which now stand out in front of the Oak Row as it looked in 1925. This building and another just like it, were built in 1837 and housed students of the college for a great many years. Then they were used for fraternity halls, the Betas occupying the end near the benches while the Kappa Sigs lodged in the opposite end. Since 1925 the buildings have been given over to offices for the Alumni secretary and other activities.

new building nearing completion. One of these tales is of a corpse of a woman lying intact within one of the columns which are all hollow half way from the top to the ground. Then there is that of the bottles of whiskey which are supposed to have been hidden in another of them about fifty years ago, and are still there. Another is relating to the events of the shipping and arrival of the large chandelier which now hangs in old Phi Hall, and under which, Woodrow Davidson and taught school, and that he alone designed the Davidson College seal. And the seal with the school motto inscribed around it, "Alenda Lux Ubi Orta Libertas," does embody those three things which were so vital to the Scotch-Irish founders of the Carolinas: liberty, learning, and religion.

In 1910, Old Chambers burned down. At present, New Chambers, which is to be one of the finest administration units of the South, is prac-

Wilson, when he was a student at Davidson, used to debate as a representative of the Eu literary society. This chandelier came from France and is an exact copy of the famous one belonging to Louis XIV at Versailles. But perhaps the most interesting one of all is that of the making of the college seal, in the center of which is seen a sword piercing a serpent. Tradition has it that Marshal Ney, Napoleon's famous general, was not executed at Luxemburg gardens at all but that he escaped and came to America, where he settled down near tically complete. The college has today, an endowment fund of approximately $2,500,000, which is very good for a liberal arts college with a student body that is strictly limited to six hundred.

It is not, however, in wealth, equipment, or, perhaps, even in tradition, that Davidson claims to excel; but in a word which, when applied to many colleges and universities is merely trite, but which is a vital thing on the campus and off it, when applied to Davidson. And that word is spirit. All for one and one for all.

FACULTY MEMBERS OF DELTA THETA CHI INITIATED AT DAVIDSON 243
Dr. K. J. Foreman, Prof. J. P. Williams, Dr. C. K. Brown

History of Delta Theta Chi

There seems little doubt but that the members of North Carolina Gamma chapter of Φ Δ Θ are the happiest in the country. A dream of eight years at last a reality. Eight years of alternate hoping and despairing, of optimism and pessimism, with the vision of some day wearing the Sword and Shield, before our eyes.

In the summer of 1921, $\Delta \Theta$ X, now North Carolina Gamma of Φ Δ Θ , was conceived. The following school year seven men banded together and formed Δ Θ X. It received faculty recognition that same year. One of the foundations of the fraternity was that when it became possible, it should be absorbed by a national organization of high standing, and after carefully considering it, Φ Δ Θ was set as the goal. A formal petition was drawn up and presented to Φ Δ Θ the following year. It was passed by the Delta Province in 1927, and went to the convention for the first time in 1928, at which time it was granted its petition.

One thing which may be of general interest, is the housing situation at Davidson. There are ten fraternities at Davidson. And each of them has a house rented from the college and located in what is known as Fraternity Court. There are eleven houses, one local having disbanded this year. Eight of the eleven are situated at a uniform distance from one another, around a horseshoe drive. The remaining three-of which the Φ Δ Θ house is the center one-face a road running parallel to the entrances to the horseshoe drive, and with their backs to the fraternity court. The college owns the houses, and the fraternities rent, or lease them for any desired length of time. They were of a uniform cost in their construction, and the one occupied by North Carolina Gamma compares favorably with any. The fraternities furnish their own houses. Each house consists of a large living room, a chapter room, a kitchemette, and a toilet.

In scholarship, $\Phi \Delta X$ has led all of the fraternities, and the entire student body, for the last six years. A few of its activities are, two student body presidents, six class presidents or vice-presidents, eight editors of publications, five Φ B K men, and seven members of O Δ K. The chapter has twenty-seven active members, seven of whom are seniors, six juniors, six sophomores, and eight freshmen.

Installation of North Carolina Gamma

A rather heavy fall of sleet failed to cool the ardor with which fortytwo boys saw their dreams come true as they saw the name of their fraternity formally and finally changed from A O X to that of P A O. The initiation ceremonies took place on a North date which the Carolina Gamma chapter will remember only on second thought as being also Washington's birthday, February 22, and closed with the formal installation of the chapter on the afternoon of the following day.

Two men from the North Carolina Alpha chapter, at Duke University, Brothers Cottrell and Weber, and two from North Carolina Beta at University of North Carolina, Brothers Evans and Gignilliat, composed the installation team.

With the exception of Professor E. E. Ruby, Indiana, '97, the entire General Council was in attendance. This included, P.G.C. Henry K. Urion, Dartmouth, '12; R.G.C. George Banta, Jr., Wabash, '14; T.G.C. Robert E. Haas, Lafayette, '13; and Judge William R. Bayes, Ohio Wesleyan, '01. Secretaries Priest, Ball, and Milligan, were all present from General Headquarters in Oxford. Professor Carrol W. Doten, chairman of the survey commission, was also present, as was Endowment Chairman James E. Davidson, Hillsdale, '87. Alumni from the North Carolina chapter included George Ragsdale, president of Delta Province; Colonel Coxe, a past president of the General Council, and his son, Fred, Jr.; Brothers William C. Wright, B. F. Huntley, Jr., W. O.

The initiation ceremonies began on Friday, the morning of the twentysecond, at nine, and continued, with an hour's interruption for lunch. throughout the day. On Friday evening, all of the fraternities in the Court held open house for the visitors from eight-thirty to ten. The initiation was completed on the following morning and the chapter installed on Saturday afternoon. A banquet in the Chambers Hotel on Saturday night, given in honor of the visitors completed the ceremonies. In addition to the assembled Phis, a representative of the college, one from each of the fraternities, and one from the nonfraternity men, were present.

The treasurer of the college welcomed the visitors on behalf of the college, and in the name of the president who had been struck down by an automobile that afternoon, and had been taken to a hospital. A representative of the Panhellenic Council echoed the sentiments expressed by the college, in the name of all of the other fraternities on the campus. Brother Urion gave an excellent after dinner speech, in which he stressed traditions in the college and in the fraternity. Dr. C. K. Brown, a member of the faculty and of North Carolina Gamma, made the welcome quite complete with one in the name of Δ Θ X, and Φ Δ Θ's ninety-seventh chapter. Secretary Priest gave by request the same speech which he had given before the Interfraternity conference when it met last, on the subject of the relation of the fraternity to the college. Charlie Lanier, the last president of $\Delta \Theta X$, served as toastmaster.

NEW CHANCELLOR AT WASHINGTON

By Philo Stevenson, Washington U., '04

THE election of George Reeves Throop, DePauw, '01, as chancellor of Washington University, St. Louis, should be a renewed source of pride to our fraternity. Dr. Throop is the fourth Phi to become a college president during the current year, the others being Dr. Tigert at Florida,

DR. GEORGE REEVES THROOP, DePauw, 'OI

Dr. Soper at Ohio Wesleyan, and King Vivion at Southwestern.

When the announcement was formally made, a response of general satisfaction from the Washington alumni and of enhanced pride in their profession from the faculties of the university was evoked. To the alumni it meant installing as titular head of the university a man they greatly like and admire; to the faculties it came as merited recognition of demonstrated ability, and recognition too of the fact that scholarship and capacity for administration are sometimes inherent characteristics of the same man.

Dr. Throop's training for his present position has been uncommonly thorough, While professor of Greek he was invited by Chancellor Frederic A. Hall to become his assistant, in which service he continued with the late Chancellor Hadley. When the last illness of Chancellor Hadley incapacitated him for duty it was Dr. Throop's intimate knowledge of the affairs of the university which determined his choice as provisional executive. With what success he met the demands of a special situation and won the confidence of the board of directors is attested by the statement of Mr. Charles Nagel, its vice-president and acting president.

I am happy to say that when the board of directors tendered the position of chancellor to Dr. George Reeves Throop the decision had the unanimous approval of the entire membership of the board.

It may be added that the members of the board are of one mind, that the university must aim to establish and maintain the highest standards of education in fair and generous competition with distinguished institutions in other parts of the country. Such a plan can be carried out only by a man at the head of the educational policy who is in complete accord with us.

We have not hesitated to take counsel, and we have had every chance to form our judgment. Our conclusion is that we are fortunate in having available a man who knows the institution throughout, who enjoys the confidence of the faculty members with whom he has to deal, and who goes into office with the warm support of the entire board.

He secured his A.B. and A.M. at DePauw University in 1901 and 1903 respectively. In 1905 Cornell University conferred the degree of Ph.D.

upon him. The following two years were spent as professor of Greek at Illinois College, Jacksonville. He became a member of the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts at Washington in 1907. His connection with the university was interrupted by a term as assistant librarian of the St. Louis Public Library from 1917 to 1921. Returning to the university as Collier Professor of Greek and as assistant to the chancellor he has continued to serve in that capacity and as acting chancellor for a total of seven years.

Once arrived at a conclusion. Dr. Throop takes prompt and definite action. However, those of his associates who are brought into close relations with him know that his announced policies result only from careful preliminary scrutiny of all data and of every factor having contact with a considered situation. Open at all times to counsel and suggestion, he makes his own decisions and, once declared, accepts full responsibility for them. He approaches every subject with candor and clarity. His mental processes are anything but ponderous. He owns a gift of nimble repartee. As a speaker he shows to equal advantage on formal occasions and again when apparently no opportunity for preparation has been allowed him. He is happy in possessing the confidence, the loyalty and the thorough good will of his associates. They are persuaded that important elements of his character are the "plain good intention and genuine simplicity of heart" which Edmund Burke used so urgently to press upon the attention of vested authority as qualities "of no mean force in the government of mankind."

Primarily a scholar, Chancellor Throop has entered the field of administration as an incident to an educational career. He possesses the same educational ideals as chancellor which he held as professor; the ideals of stern devotion to scholarship; of aversion to the trivial, the ephemeral, the showy, or the merely expedient. These attitudes and ideals are reflected in statements he has given to the press and has made before public gatherings since his election.

We are not going in for mass educa-Washington University is faced with the opportunity to become a school of the very best type. We shall place stress on developing the school of graduate studies but not at all to the neglect of the undergraduate schools. I am quite in accord with the statement of Mr. Charles Nagel that the aim of the university should be to maintain the highest educational standards. We shall strive to place professional education on a graduate basis. With our requirement of three years academic study for entrance to the School of Medicine and two years for the School of Law we are near that point now.

Chancellor Throop is married, has three children and lives at 121 North Hanley Road, Clayton. He is a member of the Philological Association, the Archaelogical Institute of America, the Modern Language Association of America, American Folk Lore Society, American Association of University Professors, of the college fraternity $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ and of Φ B K. In St. Louis he belongs to the University, the Classical, and the Town and Gown Clubs.

ANOTHER COLLEGE PRESIDENT

By J. E. Bell, Southwestern

PHI DELTA THETA can say with pride that King Vivion, age thirty-two, president of Southwestern University, is the youngest man to hold such an office in the largest and grandest state in the union and possibly the youngest man to hold such an office in the South.

He was chosen for this responsible office by an unanimous vote of the trustees on September 20, 1928.

Rev. King Vivion was born in the extreme southwest corner of the state of Missouri in a little town called Southwest City, February 16, 1896. Rev. O. E. Vivion, his father, has been a southern Methodist minister for thirty-five years, twenty-five years having been spent in Southwest Missouri conference and the last ten in Texas.

Rev. King Vivion, known at Southwestern as just King Vivion, graduated from the Kansas City High School, Kansas City, Missouri; from Drury College, A.B., 1916; and Southern Methodist University, M.A. and B.D., 1919. He has been in Chicago University for his work on his doctorate in the field of the New Testament the summers of 1924, 1927, 1928.

While at Southern Methodist University he was as much responsible for getting a charter for Texas Delta as any other man. He attended the general convention of $\Phi$ $\Delta$ in 1920 and general convention at Kansas City in 1922, where by his genius of oratory Texas Delta was chartered. Since leaving Theological School he has been a pastor for nine years, five years having been spent at A. and M. College of Texas located at College Station, where he held services for the A. and M. cadets in a lecture room on the third floor, without a piano. Going from there to Jacksonville, Texas, for two years, working with students again, and from there to Galveston, Texas, where his pastorship was terminated by his being elected president of Southwestern University.

In 1920 King Vivion married Harriet Winton and one child has been born, Cornelia Belle Vivion, age six.

He is a noted writer for various religious and church papers. He has been a Methodist preacher for fourteen years and is a Mason, Knight Templar, a Shriner, a Rotarian, and a member of T K A and Φ Δ Θ .

During the five months that he has been president of Southwestern, King Vivion has easily won the heart of each student. He knows most of them by their first name and they all love and respect him. $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ and Texas Gamma can easily be proud of this young man with such a brilliant past and a still more dazzling future.

DICKINSON PHI WRITES FOR POST

By LAWSON V. SMITH, Arizona, '28

IN THE Saturday Evening Post of February 23 was started a serial which will be of interest to every Phi, since the author is a brother in the Bond, hailing from Dickinson College in Pennsylvania. The serial to which we have reference is "Vigilante" by Hoffman Birney, Dickinson, '12.

While this story will interest every Phi, it is of especial interest to two chapters of Φ Δ Θ , namely his own and Arizona Alpha. It is of per-haps more interest to Arizona Alpha than any other, for Brother Birney is a resident of Tucson, and a frequent visitor at the chapter house. Rather than frequent visitor, perhaps it would be better to say continual visitor. One can drop into the Arizona chapter house any evening and find Brother Birney leaning back in an overstuffed leather chair with his feet propped up at about a forty-five degree angle on the large stone fireplace. An entertaining talker as well as writer, the Dickinson author is always a welcome personality in the chapter house.

Brother Birney came to Arizona from Philadelphia, He comes from a family which one would think should have made him a physician rather than a writer, but he did not choose to follow in his father's footsteps. He gained journalistic experience in Philadelphia, having worked on the staff of the Philadelphia Public Ledger. During the war Brother Birney answered the call and spent considerable time across the waters in France. Since coming West, he has traveled far and wide in this section, and there is hardly a crag in the mountains or giant cactus on the desert that he does not know about.

"Vigilante" is a story laid in Montana. Following the running of several chapters in the Post it will be published in book form. This is by no means Brother Birney's first appearance as an author, he having written for the Ladies' Home Journal on previous occasions. "King of the Mesa" and "Steeldust," the latter for boys, are books which the author has previously written.

The accompanying snap was taken in front of Brother Birney's home, about ten miles east of Tucson, at the time of the visit of Assistant Secretary Milligan to Arizona.

means the house of rest.

An ardent supporter of Φ Δ Θ , he is active in alumni work, being affiliated with the Tucson alumni club, and an ever willing worker in any move which is designed for the benefit of his beloved fraternity. Any traveling Phi who is in Tucson has missed a rare treat if he does not journey out o "Casa Descanso," where a hearty welcome always awaits the visitor.

AKRON UNIVERSITY TO MOVE

By Rodney C. Sutton, Akron, '21

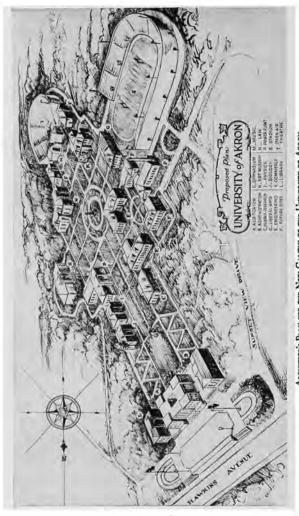

AFTER more than half a century of growth on the hill-top in Akron, the Municipal University of Akron, which grew out of the older Buchtel College, is to move to a new 72-acre campus adjoining the municipal golf course in J. Ed. Good park, one of the most beautiful locations in West Akron.

The move, approved after four years of careful study by the members of the Board of Directors of the University and indorsed by the Akron City Council which voted the land for the uses of the university, has been made secure by the successful completion of the campaign by the alumni and former students of the older Buchtel College and the University. This drive was for $200,000 to create a fund to build the new Buchtel Hall, third structure to bear the name of the illustrious founder of the college and first building to be planned for the new campus. drive followed hard on the heels of the canvass by students and faculty for a gymnasium fund, for which they raised by their own subscriptions more than $26,000. Next fall the final step will be taken in a city bond issue of $2,000,000 for the other buildings of the university group.

The Municipal University of Akron was organized during the administration of Dr. Parke Rexford Kolbe, Akron, '21, then president of Buchtel College and now president of the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn. It was due to his foresight that the struggling Buchtel College, scarcely able to survive after the disastrous fire of 1899, following which the charter of Ohio Epsilon was voluntarily returned, was used as the nucleus of the greater University of Akron. Dr. Kolbe, as chairman of the campaign committee in New York, has continued this work in the present move of the college to the new campus.

Other Phis have had a most active part in the direction of the alumni campaign, in the plans for the new buildings and in the decision to move the college.

Serving on the Board of Directors is Cletus Roetzel, Akron, '13, and on the Alumni Board are Joseph Thomas, Akron, '15, as president and Arden Hardgrove, Akron, '11, as member.

Rodney C. Sutton, Akron, '21, was the professional manager of the campaign, and William A. Rowley, Akron, '21, was chairman in charge of the California committee which directed the work of the entire West Coast.

Among the team captains were the following Phis: J. Asa Palmer, Joseph Thomas, Carl Leffler, Don Leonard, and Fred Cole, all of the Ohio Epsilon chapter.

The Akron Civic Cultural Center, for which the new buildings of the University of Akron will be the first unit, will include twenty-one structures when it is completed.

Included in the educational group will be the Buchtel College of Liberal Arts, Curtiss School of Home Economics, College of Engineering, College of Commerce, and teachers and nurses' training schools.

On the same campus, a 72-acre tract in J. Ed. Good Park, given by the city to erect the Akron Museum of Art, the Conservatory of Music with an open air theater, a public auditorium and a recreational center for the city, consisting of a gymnasium and a stadium.

One of the new features of the college will be the rubber research laboratory, designed to serve the industries of Akron.

The first building will be the new Buchtel Hall, home of the College of Liberal Arts. Its cornerstone will be the same one that was laid on July 4, 1871, when Horace Greeley spoke at the dedication of the first Buchtel Hall, which was burned in 1899.

The stone is enshrined in the entrance hall of the present Buchtel

Hall and will be moved into the new building.

The first units will cost about $2,000,000. Akron University typifies the newest trend in urban education, in which all educational and quasi-educational agencies co-operate through central supervision, according to John J. Tigert, former United States Commissioner of Education and new president of the University of Florida.

The recent action of the Board of Education in granting fuller control over teachers' training to the university faculty and president is in line with this most up-to-date procedure.

The eventful control of nurses' training through co-operation with City Hospital and expansion of secretarial and commerce training will put the university in practical charge of the development of a larger part of the new and trained workers of the city.

The success which has marked the co-operative engineering college here has been the reason for etablishment of many other such schools and the high scholastic standards maintained have been exceptional.

It is in the evening courses and the eventual "service stations" of the university that the greatest development of the university may come, for in these classes the problems of the adult and the beginning worker can hest be met.

David Dietz, science editor for the Scripps-Howard newspapers, wrote:

"Young in years of service in comparison with many of the other urban universities of the nation, Akron University has established itself as one of the foremost scholastic institutions of the country because of its clear and fresh vision. It has avoided the pitfall of traditional instruction and has aimed for a rational preparation for actual service to the city which supports it."

WASHINGTON ALPHA HAS NATIONAL HIGH HURDLE CHAMPION

DURING the year just past Washington Alpha has produced two men of outstanding fame, namely Charley Carroll, All-American football player, and Stephen Anderson, national high hurdle champion. In the January Scroll you were told all about Brother Carroll's ability and achievements so I wish at this time to tell you about Brother Anderson.

When Brother Anderson first came to Washington his best time was 15 flat for the tall timbers, but after several months under the eagle eye of Coach Hec Edmunson he proceeded to set a new coast record for freshmen at 14%. His time in the low hurdles for his freshman year was 24%.

Last year was Steve's first year on the varsity and to my notion was a record breaker for a first year man.

At the Coast Conference meet he set a new coast record for the high and low hurdles. His time in the highs was 14% which equaled the world's record for that event. His time in the low hurdles was 23%. After the season was over on the coast Brother Anderson went east to Chicago to the National Collegiate Track and Field meet. In the finals of the high hurdle event he fell over the last hurdle and consequently was eliminated. In the low hurdle event at Chicago Brother Anderson took second place his time being 23%. Following the meet at Chicago Brother Anderson went to the Olympic Tryouts at Boston where he captured first place in the 110 meter high hurdle event at 14%, which equaled the world's and Olympic time for that event. Then followed the realization of one of Steve's ambitions-that of being a member of America's Olympic team. At Amsterdam Brother Anderson won every race up to the final and that final race is still a question. Many believed that Steve had won the event, but the judges ruled otherwise. Just to show how close it was we might state that in the semi-finals Brother Anderson ran the highs again in world record time of 14% to nose out Atkinson, the South African. Then in the finals Atkinson was declared winner after a lengthy discussion on the part of the judges. The time for the finals was the same as the semi-finals. 14%.

At the present time Brother Anderson is in training for the coming season and we have hopes of his breaking the present world's record for the high hurdle event. If he does it will certainly be a feather in the hat of Washington Alpha and Phi Delta Theta. Keep your eyes focused this

OREGON BETA INITIATES

By AL BATES, Oregon State

AFTER proving by a half year's proficient work in scholastic and extracurricular endeavors, as well as by passing triumphantly frequent character tests, the ten men shown above were declared eligible to be united in the Bond of Φ Δ Θ and were initiated into Oregon Beta chapter at Oregon State College on Sunday morning, February 17.. The ten were initiated under the new program recently adopted at Oregon Beta whereby the Hell Week of former years is eliminated and greater stress laid upon formal initiation work.

Initiation, under the new plan, is begun on Saturday night with all but the latter part of the ritual administered at that time. The final act is given late Sunday morning with members and Phikeias in formal dress. A formal banquet is served immediately after completion of ceremonies. Prominent Phis gave addresses at the dinner and Phi sisters on the campus serve, under the revised program. C. W. Walls, president of Pi province, and W. L. Kadderly, chapter adviser, were the principal speakers at Oregon Beta's winter initiation.

COACH BEARG RETURNS TO WASHBURN

By WENDELL L. GARLINGHOUSE, Washburn

ERNEST E. BEARG, Washburn, '16, has accepted an offer to become director of athletics and head of a newly created department of physical education at Washburn College, Topeka, Kansas, his Alma Mater.

Bearg began his coaching career at Topeka High School, remained there two years, and returned to his Alma Mater as head football coach in 1919. His team in 1919 had an excellent year, winning every game except one. The next year Washburn won the state championship under his direction.

Bearg left Washburn in 1920 to accept a position as first assistant to Robert Zuppke, famous coach at Illinois. The former Washburn star soon became head backfield coach, among his charges being "Red" Grange, the "galloping ghost of the gridiron." Grange was the first of a string of all-American men Bearg has coached in the last eight years.

Brilliant work at Illinois brought increased fame to Bearg and national recognition in the next five years. He was regarded by Zuppke as the best football scout in the game. He was placed in charge of the school of coaching at Illinois, one of the first in the country, and developed it until it included a staff of thirteen specialists, and became the most famous school of its kind in the United States. It is still so regarded.

Although it is not generally known, Bearg collaborated with Coach Zuppke in writing a book on football, Football, Football Technique, and Tactics and is still drawing royalties from its sale. It is used in many coaching schools, and although it has not been revised since its original appearance, it is still one of the best.

At the University of Nebraska Bearg has been consistently successful. His Cornhusker teams have played thirty-three games, won twenty-three of them, tied three, and lost seven. In intersectional games against teams from Illinois, Notre Dame, Syracuse, Pittsburgh, New York University, and others of equal caliber, his elevens have won eight of thirteen contests, tied two and lost only three.

In his first year at Nebraska, Bearg coached a machine that defeated Illinois, 14 to 0, with Grange in the lineup, and later smashed one of Knute Rockne's strongest elevens, 17 to 0. That year he also tied a powerful Washington University team, 6 to 6.

Succeeding years were just as brilliant, and this season Bearg's team turned to one of its most brilliant performances, winning the Big Six championship, winning one intersectional game, tieing another, and losing only to Army.

At Nebraska he has turned out more than his share of all-American material, notably Ed Weir, the giant tackle, and Hutchinson, who was chosen all-Western center.

Kansas Beta chapter is proud to have Ernest Bearg back again. To return to Washburn Bearg refused a renewal contract at Nebraska at a substantial increase in salary, besides offers from three other large colleges.

PHI IS HEAD OF WESTINGHOUSE BOARD

By THOMAS L. JONES, Allegheny

NE of the largest and best known corporations in the United States, and, indeed, in the world, has turned to a Phi to be chairman of its board of directors. On January 16 Andrew Wells Roberston, Allegheny, '06, was elected to head the great

ANDREW W. ROBERTSON, Allegheny, '06 253

Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

Brother Robertson, who has been president of the Philadelphia Company for the past two years, has made his home in Pittsburgh since 1908. He will continue to make his head-quarters in that city, but will withdraw from all his other interests in order to give his entire time to the duties of his new position.

Brother Robertson is of Scotch descent. He was born in Panama, New York, in 1880, the son of David and Margaret Ganson Robertson. He attended Allegheny College, where he became a Phi, and graduated in 1906, entering the Law School of the University of Pittsburgh, from which he received the degree of LLLB. in 1910. After several years of general law practice he became attorney for the Pittsburgh Railways Company and the Duquesne Light Company in 1913. In 1918 he was made general attorney for the Philadelphia Company and its affiliated corporations. In 1925 he was elected vice-president and later succeeded to the presidency.

While attending Allegheny College Brother Robertson sold aluminum cooking utensils from house to house in the summer vacations. Another of his jobs was working in a saw mill. First he served as the man who removed the lumber from the saw, and then he was promoted to setter, the man who sets the wood as it moves into the teeth of the saw.

While working his way through college, Brother Robertson ran a bathhouse at Conneaut Lake, and also kept books for the amusement company. He wrote a weekly column of school news for a Meadville newspaper. The student increased his income by running a boarding house at one time.

Anyone familiar with the difficulty of attending college and holding any kind of a job at the same time would think Brother Robertson would have been so busy as to have had no time to enjoy student activities. But he won a prize in oratory, and was awarded his letter as right guard on the Allegheny College football team.

After graduating from Allegheny and before entering law school, Brother Robertson served a year as principal of the Charleroi High School. While he was a law student he was one of the owners of the Boys' Collegiate School, a private institution in Pittsburgh.

Brother Robertson was married in 1910 to Miss Bessie Belle Montgomery, who died a few years later. There was one child, Elizabeth M. Robertson. His second marriage was to Miss Agnes Shields of Pittsburgh. Their children are David S. and William G. Robertson.

He resides with his family at "Panama Lodge" near Pittsburgh, and is a man of varied interests. He has been active in civic affairs and Boy Scout work.

Brother Robertson is a member of O A K, the Duquesne Club, University Club, Press Club, Long Vue Country Club, South Hills Country Club, and Keystone Athletic Club.

On the occasion of his severing his connection with the Philadelphia Company, its executive committee made the following statement:

Mr. Robertson is leaving our organization with our entire good will and our sincere wish for the greatest of success as chairman of the board of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. His long association with the Pittsburgh utilities has been most valuable in the up-building of these great properties and their management regrets to lose him, but is glad that the opportunity now presented for the wider exercise of his ability will not take him away from the city with which he has been so closely identified. As president of the Pittsburgh utilities, Mr. Robertson has filled a position of great responsibility and he will go to the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company splendidly equipped for new achievements in the career of one of Pittsburgh's foremost industrial enterprises. The successor to Mr. Robertson will be elected at a meeting to be held in the near future.

Undergraduates of Achievement

William A. Legwen, Georgia, '29

Georgia Alpha is indeed fortunate in having for its president this year William A. "Bill" Legwen, son of Mrs. G. W. Legwen, of Augusta. Bill is a man admired and respected not only by members of Phi Delta Theta but also by his fellow-students, all of whom claim, and are proud of, his friendship.

WILLIAM A. LEGWEN, Georgia, '29 254

One of his most recent honors, and one which Georgia Alpha is very proud of, was the election to membership in Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic fraternity. Bill is a candidate for the B.S. civil engineering degree and the election to membership in Phi Kappa Phi is the highest scholastic honor it is possible for him to receive.

Not satisfied with attaining the pinnacle in his studies, Brother Legwen is an outstanding man on the campus, holding many important positions of trust and membership in practically every organization at the university. He is a Christian, upright youth and takes an active part in religious activities of students and the institution.

Brother Legwen has also taken an active part in university athletics, being one of the outstanding members of the tennis and golf teams. He has also been a member of the Rifle team.

Following his graduation from the university in June, Brother Legwen is planning to continue his studies at the Boston School of Technology, where Georgia Alpha is sure he will continue his outstanding career.

Some of the many honors which Brother Legwen has received since his matriculation at the university, following his graduation from the Riverside Military Academy four years ago, include: Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic fraternity; vice-president Sine and Tangent, honor engineering; president University of Georgia student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers; vice-president Biftads, '28, honor sophomore society; Gridiron, honor senior society; Junior Cabinet, junior scho-lastic; Senior Round Table, senior scholastic; Blue Key, national honorary; vice-president student Y.M.C.A., '28-29; alumni secretary '26; secretary Georgia Alpha, '28; president, Georgia Alpha, '29; captain Company A., University R.O.T.C., '29; sergeant Company L., Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military organization; golf team, '29; freshman tennis team, 26; tennis team '27, '28, '29; manager tennis team, '29; runner-up, Georgia State intercollegiate tennis doubles tournament; rifle team, '26, '27.

Tom Davis, Montana, '20

Montana Alpha was represented at the General Convention by one of its outstanding men. In Tom Davis of Butte, Montana, a senior in the School of Business Administration, Montana Alpha has found a true representative of the chapter.

Brother Davis will finish next spring a colorful and enviable career in the University of Montana, one that will be vied for by many of the underclassmen but, however, they will find difficult to attain. While Davis is ever mindful of placing the university first, he has never been found neglectful of the fraternity, helping at every opportunity to keep it on its upward stride.

Athletics has been Tom's hobby since entering the university. During his freshman year he earned a letter in football, basketball, and track. He played end on the frosh football squad, guard on the basketball team, and ran the 220- and 100-yard dashes in track, placing first in the former. In his sophomore year, Davis duplicated his letter earning in major sports with the exception of basketball, having dropped that sport to concentrate on the other two. He equaled the state record in the 440-yard run. He was also elected to Bear Paw, sophomore honorary organization and was historian in the fraternity.

Last year Tom was one of the most outstanding football men on the Grizzly squad, playing in the position of fullback. In track he came back to break the state record in the 440yard dash; was elected vice-president of the M-Club; elected to membership to Scabbard and Blade; elected to Silent Sentinel, honorary upperclassman organization. At the end of track season the Grizzly track artists elected Davis to captain them the following year, and completed a successful season by traveling back to Chicago to compete in the Olympic tryouts and compete in the National Intercollegiate meet.

Last Fall Davis finished a colorful career on the gridiron, alternating during the season in fullback and end positions. He is credited with having made one of the three conference touchdowns made by the Grizzly team last year. The other two were made by Brother Ray Lewis. Besides football, Tom was recently appointed by Central Board to act on the censoring committee to report on Hi-Jinx, this year's women's razz fest.

With all this outside activity Davis has kept his scholarship above average and is one of the strongest advocates for the betterment of scholarship in the fraternity. Tom has a pleasing personality and is admired not only by the brothers in the house but by his vast acquaintanceship on the campus.

Dr. George W. Gerwig, Nebraska, '89, for many years secretary of the Pittsburgh board of public education, resigned recently after thirty-seven years of service in the Pittsburgh educational system. He plans to devote some time to writing and will continue as a trustee of the H. C. Frick Educational Commission.

The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, speaking editorially, says of him:

The Pittsburgh public accepts with the deepest regret, just as the school authorities do, the resignation of Dr. George W. Gerwig as secretary of the board of education, but with the knowledge that it really severs no bond in relationship and interest. . . . An able administrator, Dr. Gerwig has always been more. Along with his practical qualities he is an idealist, and with a passion for making the schools of the widest possible service; of benefit not only to the young, but also-through evening classes and as community centers-to adults. . . . In short, he is a friend of man, and it is inevitable that Pittsburgh, wishing him well in whatever may be his plans, will hear much more from him.

The most ambitious attempt at a compilation of American biographies is undoubtedly to be found in the new Dictionary of American Biography, the first volume of which just recently came from the press. In the first volume are to be found five Phi contributors. They are Wilbur C. Abbott, Wabash, '92, now professor of history at Harvard University; Eugene C. Barker, Texas, '99, professor of history at the University of Texas; William F. Durand, Michigan State, '80, professor of mechanical engineering at Stanford University; Talbot F. Hamlin, Amherst, '10, architect of New York City; P. Orman Ray, Vermont, '98, professor of political science at Northwestern University.

Arthur R. Robinson, Chicago, '13, is not only one of Phi Delta Theta's quartet of United States Senators but also one of the most active Masons in the country. Among recent Masonic honors which have come to this Hoosier Phi and thirty-third degree Mason was his selection to be the principal speaker at a Washington's birthday dinner of the George Washington Masonic National Memorial Association, the organization which is building a $5,000,000 temple at Alexandria, Virginia, to commemorate the Masonic activity of Washington. Brother Robinson is also the potentate for 1929 of Murat Temple of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine at Indianapolis.

Keeping up with the new laws of the country would be relatively simple were all our legislators like Harold Kayton, Chicago, '12, representative of the San Antonio district in the Texas legislature. He has the distinction of not having introduced a bill-even by request-in the three sessions in which he has sat in the legislature. He has spoken only twice on the floor of the house and declares that he is chiefly interested in opposing the petty annoyances that legislation puts on business. Evidently they like him down in the Lone Star state since, without any practical political experience or inclination, he has been returned twice.

Quantrell, Chicago, '05, as one of the trustees of that university. A later Associated Press dispatch spread over the country the interesting news that Brother Quantrell has the unique distinction of being at the same time a trustee and a student of the university. His undergraduate work was interrupted a quarter of a century ago and recently he resumed his studies toward a bachelor's degree. Brother Quantrell is working on a special set of financial problems which will earn him the degree in 1930.

Four Florida Alpha graduates of recent years are prominent members of the fourth estate in Florida. Charles E. Norton, Florida, '27, is sports editor of the Palatka Daily News. Virgil M. Newton, Florida, '26, occupies a similar position on the Tampa Daily Times. Earl E. Jones, Florida, '24, is the managing editor of the Sanford Herald. The fourth of the quartet is William M. Pepper, Jr., Florida, '25, editor-in-chief of the Gainesville Sun.

In the January Scroll, selection of three members of the fraternity as contributors to the new edition of the Encyclopædia Britannica was reported. To that list should have been added the name of Walter C. Sanders, Mercer, '15, general manager of the railway division of the Timken Roller Bearing Company at Canton, Ohio, who wrote two articles on "Bearings" and "Railway Rolling Stock" for the new edition. Brother Sanders is president of the alumni club at Canton.

Grantland Rice, Vanderbilt, '01, evidently not only writes about golf but also plays it. At least he succeeded in capturing late in January for the second year in succession the championship of the Artists' and Writers' Golf Association. In the eighteenhole final, played on the course of the Palm Beach Country Club, Palm Beach, Florida, he defeated Rex Beach 2 up and 1. The match was described as a "thriller" one replete with birdies, twenty-foot putts, etc.

Three Vanderbilt Phis have recently undergone changes of location or rank in various branches of the military or naval service of the country. Alfred E. Waller, Vanderbilt, '16, is now a lieutenant in the Aviation Corps, stationed at Brooks Field, San Antonio, Texas. John J. McClelland, Vanderbilt, '24, is an ensign in the U. S. Navy, located at San Francisco on board the U. S. S. Sarasota. Winston P. Folk, Vanderbilt, '22, is a lieutenant, junior grade, in the Navy.

Clare Woolwine, Stanford, '11, has been appointed by the California Assembly as one of a group of five of its members to serve as the board of managers in the prosecution of Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy of Los Angeles who was recently impeached by the California legislature. Brother Woolwine was a member of the assembly committee which investigated the sensational Hardy-McPherson accusations.

One of the veterans of the Texas legislature is Edgar E. Witt, Texas, '00, senator from Waco. He has been a member of the upper house since 1919 and served one term in the house of representatives before. Brother Witt has served as chairman of a number of important committees and at present heads the committee on highways and motor traffic. He was president of Theta Province from 1904 to 1906.

Rudyerd Boulton, Amherst, '22, with Mrs. Boulton, both of the scientific staff of the Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, sailed recently for Africa as members of the American Museum's ornithological expedition. The expedition is being financed by Mrs. Oscar Straus, widow of the late ambassador to Turkey. The party's destination is Nyasaland and the Tanganyika territory, where pictures will be taken of rare animals and birds.

Announcement was recently made that Claude J. Rothgeb, Illinois, '05, had severed connections as football coach at Rice Institute in Texas. Brother Rothgeb has been at the Texas school for the past two years. Formerly he was at the Texas A. and M. College, at Colorado College, and at the University of Illinois. Brother Rothgeb is rated as the most versatile athlete ever to have been graduated from Illinois.

Among the high officials of the Methodist Church who participated in a recent conference at Pittsburgh discussing possible union between the Methodist Episcopal and Presbyterian churches were two Phis. They were William A. Elliott, Allegheny, '89, professor of Greek at Allegheny College, and Ernest H. Cherrington, Ohio Wesleyan, '04, editor of the American Issue at Westerville, Ohio.

R. Bruce Carter, Southwestern-Texas, '17, was recently elected president of the Houston, Texas, Hotel Men's Association. He is general manager of two new sixteen-story hotels in Houston, the Lamar and the San Jacinto. Brother Carter was chiefly responsible for the institution by the University of Texas of a department for the training of hotel managers and auditors.

As a part of a national anniversary program sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America the Indianapolis Council of that organization conducted services on February 10 at the grave of former President Benjamin Harrison, Miomi, '52. Three generations of the Harrison family joined in the program in Crown Hill Cemetery, Indianapolis.

The İndiana legislature in a joint session on February 12, was addressed by Oswald Ryan, Butler, '11, as the principal speaker in a Lincoln memorial service conducted by the two houses. Brother Ryan is a prominent attorney at Anderson, Indiana. He addressed the legislature a number of years ago when David Lloyd George, former British premier, was present.

Charles K. Woodbridge, Dartmouth, '04, recently declined to permit his name to be proposed for re-election as president of the Kelvinator Corporation, stating that he desired to retire both as director and officer. Brother Woodbridge has many very prominent business connections in the East.

Bishop Hoyt McWhorter Dobbs, Southern, '99, Vanderbilt, '03, for many years bishop of Brazil of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, has been given the honorary degree of doctor of laws by Southern University. Brother Dobbs now lives in Birmingham, Alabama.

Howard Williamson, Texas, '27, southpaw outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, has been obtained on option by the Houston Club of the Texas league. Brother Williamson, a Texarkana, Texas, product, was one of the best baseball players ever to enter the University of Texas.

The Temple of Fine Arts benefited recently as the recipient of a valuable gift of a part of the $10,000 collection of Mexican curios gathered by John W. Foster, Indiana, '55. The gift was made by his daughter, Mrs. Robert Lansing, Washington, D.C., widow of the late secretary of state.

Edgar S. Haymond, Purdue, '14, has been elected assistant treasurer of the West Penn Power Company and the West Penn Railways at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Brother Haymond took his degree in electrical engineering at Purdue.

Loren D. LaGrange, Franklin, '24, was married February 9, at South Bend, Indiana, to Miss Fay H. Dufendach of Huntingburg, Indiana. Brother and Mrs. LaGrange will live in Franklin, Indiana.

Harold F. Kealing, Butler, '23, has become a member of the law firm of Robinson, Symes, and Melson in Indianapolis. The senior member of the firm is Senator Arthur R. Robinson, Chicago, '13.

One of the greatest losses to $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ on the Pacific Coast occurred in the initiation into the Chapter Grand on January 23, of Dr. Carl F. Henry, Akron, '91, pastor of the Throop Memorial Universalist Church at Pasadena, California. His death resulted from a heart attack the previous day and came as a great shock to his friends as he had not been in ill health. Brother Henry was born near Cleveland, Ohio, in 1867, was educated at the University of Akron, Buchtel College, and Tufts College, had held a number of pastorates in Universalist Church; and for the years had been at past thirteen He was a thirty-second degree Mason and a member of the New Century Club of Pasadena. Funeral services were held January 26 at the church at which Brother Henry had preached. Active pallbearers were chosen from among the members of one of the Boy Scout troops in which he had been inter-

Past President Hubert H. Ward, a personal friend of Brother Henrys' in commenting on his death, wrote, "It has been a privilege to listen to his sermons and to be within the influence of his life as a pastor. He has frequently been spoken of as 'the most loved man in Pasadena.' I can well believe it. He was an honor to his community, to his church life, to his Masonic associations, to the Boy Scout movement of which he was chaplain of the Pasadena-San Gabriel Valley Council, to $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ and to all people and organizations with which he came in contact."

Dr. Allen Benton Thrasher, Butler, '73

For many years Dr. Thrasher has been known throughout the United States for his work in developing laryngological societies, and as a successful practitioner. He was stricken while on a trip around the world, and although he was able to reach his home, he did not recover his strength.

Allen B. Thrasher was born in Fayette County, Indiana, July 6, 1851. He graduated from Butler College in 1873, and received the degree of M.A. from the same institution two years later. His professional training was received at the Medical College of Ohio which was supplemented later by studies at the University of Heidelberg, Germany. A slight increase in state appropriation to the university will make possible the erection of a new chemistry building on the campus. Brother William Sheplar as president of the Interfraternity Council was instrumental in action taken recently by that body to curb rough initiation activities on the campus. The action, however, was not passed by a majority number of fraternities on the campus, but was instrumental in the taming down of rough practices. Nonfraternity men were also invited. Phikeias entertained the active chapter January 19 in what turned out to be one of the most original and interesting dances to be staged by the frosh class the last few years. The dance was of a "Singapore" creation with everyone attending appropriately costumed while the hall was thoroughly decorated to carry out the idea successfully. January 29 the chapter joined together with the Missoula alumni to honor Herb Vitt, Montana Alpha's only deceased brother. John Patterson, '19, delivered a very fine eulogy on Brother Vitt, giving an intimate account of his fine character and career while in college. Social Activities: The toboggan slide on Beebe Lake was quite a diversion during final week. It was decidedly the fastest amusement. Immediately following finals our Junior Week opened with the usual enthusiasm. It is the outstanding social event of the year, and every effort is made to have an unusual party. This year the committee was especially successful. The house was thoroughly cleaned and tastefully decorated with palms and cut flowers. A temporary platform was built in the great hall for the orchestra, and a crepe paper awning placed over it, fitting well with the architecture of the house. Small candles and colored glass pots were placed on the ledges throughout the great hall, and a glitter globe with colored spotlights completed the lighting Fletcher Henderson was the music, and that in itself was enough. The party was given with B Θ Π , and our relations were so successful that we hope they will continue in the future. The girls arrived Thursday, February 7, and that evening our semi-closed dance with B O II started the activities. climax of the week was the cabaret dinner dance on Friday evening when small tables were placed in the great hall and dinner served there. We danced and were entertained by the orchestra between courses. The house was fortunate in their choice of Fletcher Henderson's colored band, the Brunswick Recording orchestra, whose music was outstanding at the Thursday, Friday, and Saturday night parties. Saturday evening we held our closed dance. Immediately following this at 5:30 in the morning breakfast was served, and that concluded a most successful Junior Week party. The girls were very attractive and lively, and entered into the activities with all the enthusiasm and spirit of the occasion to make the party outstanding; The favors were Junior Wales lighters in either ostrich leather or a modernistic nickel and gold design. They all had the fraternity arms. A program of the Junior Week events, and several writeups containing the names of the boys in the house and a list of our guests was printed for the girls. Chapter House Improvements. The brothers in New York Zeta wish to acknowledge the generous gifts of Dr. Freeman H. Allen. The "probation week" program adopted by Ohio Beta chapter and successfully administered to nine pledges during the pre-initiation period, February 10-14, was marked by a strict disciplinary attitude and was characterized by unusual punctuality and neatness in dress on the part of the Phikeias as well as elimination of vulgarities and evils of previous years. The program was administered under the supervision of Dell Savage, prep master. Dunham, '29, and Stanton, '30, were chosen by their respective classes as representative men of the campus in the annual Le Bijou representative men and women election held recently. The Freshman class of Ohio Beta leads all other freshman classes on the campus in scholarship for the first semester, reports just issued from the registrar's office show. The Buffalo alumni club held another successful luncheon January 25, at Hotel Buffalo where the Friday noon luncheons are to be hereafter, in place of the Statler Restaurant.

We were glad to welcome twenty-five loyal Phis and among the group were noticed quite a number of backsliders who more or less have allowed other interests to drag them elsewhere. new president and secretary are to be congratulated on their good work. Those present were Brothers Blair, Anderson, Allison, Baker, Beuthal, Eaton, Feuchter, Hedrick of Knox, Hedrick of Minnesota, W. H. On March 9, 1929, at 6:30 P.M. at the Claypool Hotel, Riley Room, the Indianapolis alumni club will hold their golden anniversary. In 1879, President Benjamin Harrison and a group of other Phis received the charter for the Indianapolis alumni club and it has been functioning more or less ever since. H. H. Hungate, Butler, and Jack Harding, Wabash, are in charge of the affair and from reports, it will be even better and larger than the one held last year when 167 of the brothers were present. This is an invitation to all Phis who read it to be present, whether you are a member of the association or not as everybody is welcome and it seems as if all the brothers should at least make a special effort once a year to try and be present with a group of Phi Delts.

Founders' day is to be celebrated by the Phis in New York City by a banquet, of which it is not believed there has ever been an equal. The only usual things about it will be the time and place and that Phis will attend. Great care is being taken to insure the finest possible speakers, service, and entertainment, as well as the most delectable of foods.

The principal speaker of the evening will be William Mather Lewis, Knox, 'oo, President of Lafayette College, and a Phi well known, not only in the fraternity, but in educational circles as well. His charm, eloquence, and wit need not be recalled to those of us who have heard him, and can not adequately be described to those who have not. Hearing Brother Lewis is alone worth the entire evening.

Brother Bayes, well known jurist, and one of the most active leaders in the fraternity will also address the banquet and Brother Bond will review, briefly, the events of the general convention at Nashwills

The entire banquet is being planned with the utmost care and the entertainment will be of the best available. All brothers in and about New York City will be heartily welcomed and it is confidentially expected that this will afford the finest opportunity yet available, to resume old acquaintances, establish new ones, and maintain fraternity ties and associations. Those who attend the banquet are requested not to bring along alcoholics, either internally or externally, as it will not be necessary, either for the purpose of heightening the evening, or to dull the pains of boredom.

For those who can attend, it is important to remember only March 15, 1929, at 7:00 P.M. (promptly), and in the Fraternity Clubs Building at Thirtyeighth and Madison Avenue, New York City. GRANVILLE M. BRUMBAUGH

Rushees (now pledged to $\Phi \Delta \theta$)—five. Social Activities: In conjunction with the Poughkeepsie Junior League a Christmas Charity Ball was given in the form of a cabaret the night of December 28, 1928, on the second anniversary of this alumni club. New Officers: President, Samuel Andrew Moore; vice-president, Colonel James Dedman; secretary-treasurer, John William Cavo, Jr.; reporter, Joseph Cummings.

Future: Friday night, March I, we will all gather at the home of our new president, Sam Moore, and go over the program for the coming year so that we may continue to function as a helpful unit to the active chapters of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$. Our rushing has continued to show improvement as our first year brought us the pledging of one, our second year, two, and so far this year we have five, or a total of eight for the two years and two months that the club has existed.

Active chapter secretaries are requested to report to us all pledges from this locality and also any Phis that are planning on moving to this part of the country so that we may keep in touch with them.

Phis traveling this way are asked to remember our luncheons the first Friday of each month at the Hotel Campbell, Canon Street. At other times stop in and Sam Moore will welcome you at his office, 231 Main Street.

Community Activities: Over a yearago the Poughkeepsie alumni chapter started the ball rolling for a municipal airport for Poughkeepsie and Brother Moore was chairman of the mayor's airport committee which, with the strong Phi Delt backing, has been able to show results to the extent that Poughkeepsie now has its airport of some 125 acres

The Poughkeepsie Phis were directly responsible for the bringing here of three more ships and as many licensed pilots as well as the new manager of the field A. E. The 1930 convention should see many a delegate arrive by plane for no city has better access to good air equipment and landing fields than Detroit itselfwhat with Ford and Dearborn?

The Poughkeepsie Club sends its best regards to all Phis throughout the world.

St. Louis, Missouri

With the close of another year in the existence of Phi Delta Theta at an end. the Phi Delta Theta alumni association of St. Louis wishes to extend the heartiest good wishes to the other alumni associations, chapters, and the national organization as well, for the most successful year in the history of our fraternity.

Ware that lasts only a comparatively short time is expensive, no matter how low its original cost. A standardized service is a true investment and always a delight to look upon.

Editorial

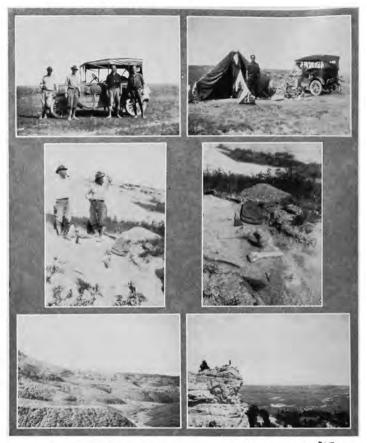

At the meeting of the State University Presidents held last year the fraternity question was thoroughly discussed and one of the challenges thrown out was this: "What contribution has the fraternity system made to the cause of education?"

This question, on its face, implies that it has made none, but those of us who are in intimate contact with it know that higher education would not have advanced to the point it has today without the system. It is unnecessary for us here to outline the innumerable things in which the fraternities have helped college and university authorities to construct and operate their institutions. The fact that they have fallen short of perfection is because they have had a rapid growth and because they are human. We agree that if they persist in operating as they do in some places they ought not to be allowed to continue to exist.

We have always maintained that up to the present time most fraternity chapters have had enough to do in the carrying out of their mission by tending strictly to their own affairs. They have had the responsibility of developing their men scholastically and culturally and building and financing their chapter houses. Some Greek-letter organizations, principally women, have taken on outside work of an altruistic nature. Now that we are reaching a point where our substantial chapter houses are being entirely paid for and our methods of supervision are insuring consistent conduct on the part of chapters we may well consider, "What further contributions can we make to the cause of education?"

Massachusetts Beta at Amherst College, with its house financing secure has answered this by co-operating with the college in sending out a successful geological expedition as described in this month's Scroll. This appeals to us as a splendid thing and an idea which might well be considered by other chapters in like circumstances.

AMHERST GEOLOGICAL EXPEDITION

By George Banta, Jr., Wabash, '14

WHEN, in the spring of 1927, fourteen brothers of Massachusetts Beta by their gifts made possible an expedition to collect fossil vertebrates for Amherst College, they answered in a splendid way the question of how a college fraternity chapter can contribute to the cause of education. Under the leadership and guidance of Dr. Frederick B. Loomis, Amherst, '96, they sent out the tenth expedition to go into the field from Amherst. Their project is known as the $\Phi \Delta \theta$ expedition and all the material secured is so labeled.

The party consisted of Dr. Loomis, H. M. Harten, Amherst, '29, both Phis, F. P. Young, '28, and Mr. Harlow, assistant in geology at Amherst. With the funds contributed they bought an old, "but good," Ford car; placed it in condition; equipped the running boards with camping material consisting of a tent, cooking utensils, beds, and tools. They left Amherst June 21, 1927 for Wyoming and traveled across Canada via Montreal, Ottawa, and Sault Ste. Marie to the southeastern part of the state.

Dr. Loomis tells the story from then on in his report to the members of Massachusetts Beta:

July second we camped in the pasture of a Mr. Christian, ten miles south of Hat Creek, Post Office. favored us from the first day there, and for over three weeks we were busy working out from this center for a distance of ten miles. These were the Bad Lands of Oligocene Age. The bones lie in a chalky clay or in sandstones. These are deposits of muddy streams, which, when in flood, had buried whatever bones lay on the ground. The animals had died a natural death and their bones had been picked and scattered by All this was done some 25,000,000 years ago, when the regions east of the Rocky Mountains were low lying plains not much above sea level. Later elevations give new life to the streams, and have caused them to cut into and carry away the earlier deposits. Where this erosion has developed gullies and steep banks, the bones are re-exposed and we have an opportunity to find them. Scattered streaks of sandstone mark the old stream channels.

Here we found the skeleton of a slender camel about three feet high; and two skeletons and a large number of skulls of oreodons. These latter have a head and body similar to that of a sheep, but feet similar to those of a dog. They were the dominant animals of the time and must have gone in great herds. Incidentally, they are the group on which I have been putting special study. Here also we found two fine skulls and numerous jaws of the big pig, known as Elotherium. Carnivors are always rare, but we got skulls of three saber-toothed cats and a large part of the skeleton of one of them. There were six rhinoceros skulls, representing both the slender upland type, and the heavy river rhinoceros, together with considerable skele-ton material of both. But the prize find was three skulls of the great titano-theres. These skulls are three feet and over in length, somewhat like the skulls of the rhinoceros, but with a pair of great spreading horns on the nose. With these there was a quantity of limb bones and other parts of the skeleton. This collection we boxed and shipped on July 27, there being sixteen cases, weighing 2,000 pounds.

The second camp was thirty-five miles south of Torrington, Wyoming, where we did so well four years ago. We got some choice things here, especially skulls of the giraffe-camel and a large part of the skeleton of Leptauchenia: but erosion had been so slight since our former visit that we did not stay long.

The next move brought us to the Pawnee Buttes in northeastern Colorado. Here the fruitful exposure is limited, but for about a week it treated us well. We found a large number of the skulls of tiny animals, squirrels, rabbits, mice, and a little dog, all little known.

The next camp was eight miles south four hundred twenty-nine of Mitchell, Nebraska, where we gathered sixteen skulls of the little known Leptauchenia, a relative of the oreodon, but with the skull foreshortened like that of a bull dog. These came from a bed of volcanic ashes about ten feet thick, and are especially for my study.

Last we went north of Mitchell, where, through the courtesy of the American Museum of New York, we studied and collected in the Pliocene bed, where so recently traces which are interpreted as human artifacts were found. This is a deposit of bone fragments and teeth which seems to have been refuse heaps cases, bringing our total weight up to 3,400 pounds. August was approaching its end. Our collection was the largest we had ever got and full of choice specimens both for the museum and for study; so we turned our faces toward home. Our journey covered 6,100 miles and the car gave us little trouble except as we wore out the tires we started with and had to replace them.

The following is a summary of our finances, and our finds. Opposite the specimens is placed a minimum valuation to give some idea of their value, though it shows but one phase, for most of the most ancient known man. All the bones are broken (to get marrow?) and occasionally one is found which seems to be a tool. It is an interesting problem. If the above interpretation is correct this would indicate a man here in America some 3,000,000 years ago. We gathered a typical set of the teeth and bones, including some showing the work of man, which will be placed on exhibition at once; so Amherst can see the sort of material on which this unexpected man is postulated. We also gathered typical sets of the bones in the layers immediately underlying the bed carrying artifacts.

This done, we shipped in four more of them could be obtained in no other way than but going to the field for them. Receible

CALIFORNIA'S ALUMNI RELATIONS

By PHILIP WAGY, California

CALIFORNIA ALPHA, at the University of California, is fortunate in the extremely satisfactory relations between its alumni and the active chapter.

The success of these relations is due both to the active interest the alumni take in the chapter and the attempt made by the active men to keep in touch with the alumni. This is made somewhat easier than in the case of chapters located in colleges which are in small communities, since a large number of the alumni live in Berkeley, Oakland, and San Francisco, and are able personally to visit the house from time to time.

The chapter makes an effort to get every possible alumnus to attend various functions held at the house during the year. A file of every alumnus of California Alpha, and of a number of other chapters who live nearby is maintained, and invitations are sent to them.

A number of functions are planned especially for the alumni. A traditional banquet is held before the annual Stanford-California football game, and is always attended by a large number of alumni. Each semester, the active chapter and the local alumni have a baseball game, followed by a get-together buffet luncheon at the house. On days of important football games or track meets open house is held, and many alumni and their friends come to the house for luncheon before the contest. Initiations are always well attended, and a few of the younger alumni are usually to be found at house dances.

A well organized alumni body makes the problem of alumni relations much simpler. Alumni clubs, whose membership is not confined to California Alpha men, are maintained both in Oakland and San Francisco and meet for luncheon weekly. Delegates from the active chapter attend the luncheons, thus keeping the clubs posted on the chapter's activities.

Each spring a Founders' Day banquet is given by the San Francisco alumni club. The active chapters from California and Stanford attend en masse, and several hundred alumni are always present, representing chapters from nearly every state. Addresses are made by prominent Phis, and a representative from each of the universities tells of the activities and conditions of his respective chapter. This banquet is a particularly valuable affair, serving to bring together both the alumni and the active members of the chapters of the two neighboring universities.

These various contacts have proved to be of mutual benefit, the chapter being helped a great deal by the alumni, who in turn, it is hoped, enjoy and thereby profit by their associations with the active members and their fellow alumni.

DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN IN TEXAS

By J. E. Bell, Southwestern

H ON. DAVE W. WILCOX, Sonthwestern, '94, Democratic state chairman, 1928 is just one of the many brilliant alumni of Texas Gamma. He first saw the light of the world December 7, 1873, eleven miles from Georgetown on his father's farm in Williamson County, Texas. And until he was seventeen years of age he did the many chores of a Texas farm and at odd moments went to the rural school of that district. Then he came to Southwestern University in 1890. While in Southwestern was interested in politics and was elected president of the student body.

D. W. WILCOX, Southwestern, 360

After taking his B.S. degree from Southwestern in 1894, he attended law school at Texas University one year, where he affiliated with Texas Beta. In 1896 he was admitted to the bar in Texas and has been practicing law in Georgetown ever since. In 1905 he was appointed city attorney.

He has never run for a political office but has always been interested in politics. For ten years he has served as chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Williamson County and in 1926 was Dan Moody's campaign manager for governor. It was by his leadership that Moody defeated Ma Ferguson. At the State Democratic Convention in San Antonio, Texas, 1926, he was elected state chairman of the Executive Committee with no opposition. And in 1928 he was selected for the same office in the same manner.

He has been a member of the Executive Committee of Southwestern University for fifteen years.

He is one of the trustees of the chapter house of Texas Gamma. All $\Phi \Delta \theta$ can easily be proud, with Texas Gamma, of the record of Brother Wilcox.

It is interesting to note that both major political chairmen in Texas are members of Texas Gamma at Southwestern. Rentfro Banton Creager, '98, is Republican state chairman.

NEWLY INITIATED MEN AT FLORIDA

FLORIDA INITIATES FINE CLASS

By FRANK WRIGHT, Florida, '26

FLORIDA ALPHA is exceptionally proud of her Phikeias of this school year. The group is generally recognized to be outstanding on the

Dorsett is president of the Freshman class, and captained both the the freshman football and basketball teams. Waters, a sophomore, pledged this year, is one of the outstanding varsity athletes of the entire school. Drew, Dorsett, and Tunnell won numerals in freshman football: Irwin was assistant freshman football manager; Rayburn holds the same job in track; and Charles in varsity football. Elliott is a member of the freshman tennis team, and throughout the group, in social, club and intramural activity, . these Phikeias, most of whom were initiated into the active group in February. Waters was the candidate in the Model Initiation staged by the fraternity April 7, at the first annual meeting of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ for the entire state of Florida.

were it not for their scholastic ineligibility. Scholastic eligibility is a necessary qualification for any good player to have.

GENEVA, Iowa 287

Injuries and sickness have handicapped many exceptional players during the season just past; and it is to be regretted that this is true. It is no fault of the individual when he is incapacitated for this reason, but fate often deals unjustly. I have in mind specifically Geneva of Iowa.

Consistency of play is probably the most necessary requisite for the successful basketball player. In selecting this year's team I have tried to eliminate the in-and-outer and give recognition to the players who have been steady and reliable night after night.

May I also add as a preliminary that I have always tried to be impartial and recognize true merit regardless of the part of the country where the man lives. However, it is to be regretted that in a few cases due to the negligence of the chapter reporter, stellar players have not been recognized. I have in mind the Oregon Alpha chapter in last year's basketball article. It is the job of the reporter to sell the one who picks All-Phi teams on the merit of their particular players.

Every man on the All-Phi selection this year is a star. The first team, which is composed of Harmeson, Purdue, Ridings, Oregon, Rose, Texas, Bolstad, Washington, and Larkins, Ohio State, is big and rangy. Every man is a consistent player, Harmeson comes from Indiana where everyone is a basketball player and to be a star there is to be a superstar elsewhere. He has been one of the best men on a strong team for two years and is as strong on defense as on offense. Ridings is tall and rangy, playing guard as well as forward. He has been a tower of strength on Oregon's team for three years. He was honored on the second all-Coast team last year. F. Hall of Lombard, captain of one of the best small college teams in the country for two years, is not far behind the first two forwards. He can do well everything required of a basketball player. Twogood of Iowa, the old reliable of the of consistent play. The same is true of Otterness, captain of Minnesota.

Rose of Texas, six feet six, and two hundred pounds of basketball player was the regular center on the strong Texas team. He is given the first team center position and we are sure that he could always control the tip and then drop back to a guard position-his forte. Woodson, Randolph-Macon, also well over six feet holds the record as high scorer among Phis, having made over 600 points in two years of play. He would be held in reserve as an ace in the hole to send in for points in a close game. Holmgren of Whitman and Wilson of Centre are both excellent centers

The first team guards go to two excellent men in Bolstad, star of the championship Washington team, and Larkins a 200-pound guard, who beat

Cox former Ohio State star out of his position. On the first all-Phi team the plan of action would be to let Rose drop back to guard with Larkins and thus permit Bolstad to work the hall down the floor with Harmeson and Ridings. Bolstad is a scoring guard and Larkins is murder under the basket on defense. Grayson, Oregon State, was a sophomore who made good this year, as were Waters of Florida and Reynolds of Stanford. Thornhill, Idaho, Milligan, Oregon, and Ratcliffe, West Virginia are the guards on the honor teams.

Every Phi on the honorable mention list was a real star and would be a god-send to most teams, but we have but twenty positions to award and I have selected them as their performances seemed to justify and hope that they meet the approval of the majority.

Alumni

Edward C. Chalfant, Lafayette, '95, has been appointed by Governor John S. Fisher of Pennsylvania to fill the vacancy created by the death of Judge J. J. Miller on the Orphans Court of Allegheny County, which is commensurate with metropolitan Pittsburgh.

After graduation from Lafayette College, Judge Chalfant became a member of the first class of the University of Pittsburgh Law School. He was admitted to the Allegheny County bar March 19, 1898. In 1905 he law formed partnership with Thomas P. Trimble, who is now president judge of the Orphans Court. At the time of his appointment, he was a member of the firm of Stone, Chalfant, and McCandless, one of the leading firms of the city of Pittsburgh.

Judge Chalfant was for years chairman of the Board of Law Examiners of the Allegheny County bar and has moved the admission of more than 1,200 to the bar. He resides at 1309 Sheridan Avenue, Pittsburgh.

Judge Chalfant was recommended for the appointment by the Allegheny County Bar Association, having received a decisive vote in a referendum held by the Bar Association, which spoke volumes for his popularity, ability and standing at the Bar.

CHARLES B. SAINTS

When Major-General Edgar Jadwin, Lafayette, '88, retires on account of age next August he will be raised to the rank of lieutenant general, the only American soldier to receive this honor since it was conferred on General Nelson A. Miles. The promotion is ordered for Brother Jadwin's services in peace rather than in war. In latter years his distinction has come chiefly from his work in planning and supervising the execution of flood control projects along the Mississippi. This is held by many to be the greatest peace-time engineering project in the history of our country with the single exception of the Panama Canal.

Three Phis of recent graduating classes are in the employ of the publicity and service department of the Universal Portland Cement Company at Chicago. They are Lester N. Cooley, Purdue, '28, employed as a field engineer; Murray Moxley, Colorado, '28, editor of the Universal Dealer Magazine, and Murray Smith, Knox, '25, in charge of the Universal Farmer Magazine. three took prominent parts in chapter and college activities as undergraduates. Cooley was president of Indiana Theta and a member of $\Sigma \Delta X$. Moxley and Smith were both active in college iournalism.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover's senior secretary, Miss Ruth Fesler, gives the Fraternity a connecting link after a fashion with the White House. Miss Fesler herself came into the service of the Hoovers from a position as confidential secretary to Dr. Vernon L. Kellogg, Kansas, '89, permanent secretary of the National Research Council, and close friend of the new President. Furthermore Miss Fesler's father and brother are both members of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$. They are Judge Bert Fesler, Indiana, '89, and John K. Fesler, Minnesota, '23.

newly consummated merger of the Security Trust and Savings Bank and the First National Trust and Savings Bank, both of Los Angeles. The Security-First National Bank, as the consolidated institution will be called, will have total resources of more than $600,000,000. Brother Sartori has been president of the Security Bank.

A new Einstein theory might be called more properly a "See theory," named after Captain Thomas J. See, Missowri, '89, of the U. S. Naval Observatory at Mare Island, California. Brother See claims to have preceded Einstein by seven years in announcing this theory connecting gravitation and magnetism. Brother See is one of the most distinguished astronomers in the United States and has contributed many articles to astronomical and technical journals.

"Never was genuine American leadership, social, moral, industrial, so sorely needed as in this whirlwind era of American lawlessness, disintegration, and reconstruction," declared Dr. Henry Louis Smith, Virginia, '87, president of Washington and Lee University, in a recent address at Lexington, Virginia. Brother Smith's outspoken denunciation of "groupslavery" is being printed for free distribution to students and young people preparing for college in Virginia.

One of the most active members of the Texas legislature has been Frank A. Baldwin, Jr., Iowa, '13, representative from Waco, Texas. Brother Baldwin has been making a name for himself for the political fireworks of which he delivers himself on occasion. He is managing editor of the Waco News-Tribune and Times-Herald and has continued long-distance direction of those papers while serving in the legislature.

Frank J. Walter, Colorado, '23, for past five years business manager of the University of Colorado school of medicine and hospitals, has resigned to accept the superintendency of St.

Luke's Hospital at Denver, Colorado, and will be succeeded by another Phi, William S. McNary, Colorado, '26, former football star at the university and now in the employ of Swift and Company.

Francis M. Russell, Iowa State, '19, has resigned his position as assistant secretary of agriculture at Washington to become vice-president of the National Broadcasting Company. Brother Russell has served in various capacities in the Department of Agriculture since 1922 and has been assistant secretary since 1924.

James R. Boyd, Jr., Florida, '26, has received a great deal of praise recently for his work in the position of graduate manager of athletics at the University of Florida. Those familiar with the achievements of the Florida school have given no small amount of the credit for such athletic prominence to Brother Boyd.

A pleasing recognition for esthetic accomplishment recently was awarded to Dr. F. A. Speik, Chicago, '05. The award was a hand-hammered silver pitcher, the grand prize given by the California division of the Garden Club of America for the most beautifully lighted outdoor Christmas tree in southern California.

One of the biggest news reporting jobs of the past months, that of covering the Hoover inauguration for the Associated Press, was handled by Byron Price, Wabash, '12. He was also pall bearer at the funeral of the late Melville E. Stone, one of the founders, and for many years director of the Associated Press.

Caldwell Dumas, Tulane-Vanderbilt, '19, formerly with the advertising department of the New York World, is now the assistant manager of the Southern Cotton Oil Company in Little Rock, Arkansas.

Stanley P. Norton, Florida, '28, was recently promoted to the position of secretary-treasurer of the Jacksonville, Florida, office of the Weyman Mortgage Company.

He was one of the principal assistants of Melville E. Stone in building up the Associated Press to its present position of strength. At one time he served as confidential secretary to Governor Andrew L. Harris of Ohio. In commenting editorially on his death the Cincinnati Enquirer said: "He exemplified the best ideals of his profession. For many years he was an indefatigable worker on major papers of the state, in individual ownership, in connection with the Associated Press or private business enterprise. He was proud of Cincinnati and served well her interests as he served also the interests of Hamilton where he passed the concluding years of his life."

He was also widely known for his Masonic activities. He was a thirty-third degree Mason, past grand master of Indiana, and past grand prelate of the Knights Templar of Michigan. He was a director of the International Live Stock Exposition at the time of his death, was widely known as a coöperative marketing and farm organization leader and a breeder of pure bred of Aberdeen Angus cattle.

Three Presidents of the United States-Wilson, Harding, and Coolidge-have called on Brother Bradfute to serve on important national committees to study industry in general and agriculture in particular. The Cincinnati alumni club and the active chapter of the University of Cincinnati, Ohio Theta, of Phi Delta Theta, celebrated Founders' Day with a banquet at the University Club. Thirtyeight alumni were present with a complete turnout for the affair by the active chapter. Attending the banquet were four founders of Ohio Theta, Brothers S. McGill, O. Schlemmer, W. Schoenle, and C. Cordes, who was chairman of the banquet committee and toastmaster. Brother John D. Ellis, city solicitor of Cincinnati, was the speaker of the evening. Moving pictures of Yellowstone Park taken by Brother George Dieterle were shown as a conclusion to the program.

The new officers of the alumni club elected at the banquet were: Dr. E. B. Heile, president; Glen Huron, vice-president and Bert Wulfekoetter, secretary and treasurer.

The sketch shown herewith appeared in the Cincinnati Post through the courand manager of the Post.

Harvard University

Founders' Day was fittingly observed in Boston when the Harvard Alumni Club sponsored a banquet for the Phis in Boston, Cambridge, and vicinity. A number of the "young" older alumni turned out to renew their pledges in Φ Δ Θ, and an enthusiasm was stirred up which should result in a revival of the dormant Boston Alumni Club.

Good old Phi Delt songs were the order of entertainment during the meal, and we found that a common bond existed in the knowledge of the ten songs on the sheets distributed. Luckily Fletcher D. Hallock, Lehigh, '94, happened to be seated beside the chorister. and proved that he remembered something from his college days.

When the dishes were cleared away, Fred Houser, Los Angeles, '26, after outlining the policies and activities of the Harvard Alumni Club, introduced William H. Greenleaf, North Dakota, '10, who proceeded to demonstrate to everyone present just how good a toastmaster can be. "Bill" showed his Harvard Law training and his experience in running banquets for the Carter Ink Company with which he is connected. He expressed the keynote of the evening of "Founders' Day and Fraternity." Brother Hallock entertained us with some songs, furnishing his own accompaniment on a unique stringed instrument. Dr. Gilbert Horrax, Williams, '09, was called on next, and then Eldred Cayce, Washington and Lee, '27, our representative at Nashville, reported on the convention proceedings. Irving C. Tomlinson, Akron, '80, was one of the "youngest" and most enthusiastic there. Other "older" alumni present in addition to the members of our "active" group were John A. Marsh, Amherst, '01; Robert Heller, Michigan, '20; George C. Prather, Michigan, '21; C. L. Bundy, Dartmouth, '23; Nickels B. Huston, Williams, '20; George H. Rockwell, Cornell, '13; and Leo R. Etykorn, Whitman, '21.

We hope that this get-together will result in stimulated interest in the Boston Alumni Club, and it is the plan to continue to hold joint Founders' Day banquets in the future.

Since last heard from in the SCROLL, the Harvard Alumni Club has spon-sored a dance with the Harvard Alumni Clubs of B O II and E X. These dances will likely be regular semiannual occurrences in the future. We have also brought back memories of the chapter meetings by holding a formal meeting with the opening and closing exercises. The committee on reappor-tionment of the joint award for the Harvard Trophy has been busy and has drawn up a recommendation. Our activities for the year will be wound up with a big spring banquet about the first of May.

John De Ellis, Cincinnati, '07, Past S.G.C., was the principal speaker at the annual Founders' Day dinner in honor of the eightieth anniversary of the founding of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, held in the Claypool Hotel on March 9. Approximately 100 members of the active members attended, including representatives from the active chapters at Indiana, Purdue, Butler. DePauw, Wabash, Franklin, and Hanover Colleges and alumni chapters of Columbus, Franklin, Ft. Wayne, and Lee Ridgeway, Wabash, '22, president of the Indianapolis Alumni chapter, presided, with Claris Adams, Butler, '11, of St. Louis, Missouri, as toastmaster. Harold Hungate, province president, Lee Ridgeway, Jack Harding, and Mart Griffith were in charge of arrangements.

Reports were made from the various active chapters. The entertainment was varied and the evening very much of a success. Officers were chosen for the Indianapolis Alumni Association's fiscal year beginning March 10, 1929, as follows: Frank Moorman, Purdue, '18, president; Lee Ridgeway, Wabash, '22, vice-president; James W. Ingles, Indiana, 19, reporter; Mr. Harold Hungate, Butler, '24, treasurer.

The scholastic trophy was not awarded, owing to incomplete returns of the grades of the chapters.

On March 16, at the ballroom of the Marrott Hotel, the annual dance of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ was given, it being sponsored this year by the chapter at Hanover College. Special features for the evening's entertainment were given. A partial list of the patrons and patronesses included Mr. and Mrs. Hilton W. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Amos W. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Witherspoon, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ridgeway, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hungate, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Priest of Oxford, Ohio.

TAMES W. INGLES

New York, New York

The annual Founders' Day banquet of the New York alumni club was a very successful and enjoyable event, there being about one hundred Phis from New York and its vicinity present. It proved to be a very dignified and interesting affair and adequate entertainment was afforded throughout the evening.

Brother Charles Bond was toastmaster and introduced Brother William R. Bayes, who gave a concise report on the activities and proceedings at the national convention last December. He also told of the fraternity development and problems with which the individual chapters. as well as the national organization, are now coping.

Brother William Mather Lewis, president of Lafayette College, gave a very interesting address on the American college and the condition which confronts it in the present generation. He told of the great need for men, at this time, who are able to invest their lives from a social standpoint rather than their education or capital from a financial stand-It was pointed out that the American college today is teaching men how to enjoy finer things of life and afford recreation within one's own mind. To those of us who have graduated as recently as five years ago, the conditions which he outlined were in striking contrast to those of earlier days.

An excellent orchestra and professional entertainment helped to enliven the evening and everyone enjoyed sing-ing the old familiar songs.

A new board of directors was elected to hold office during the coming year and plans are being made for the golf tournament with the Philadelphia alumni club this spring at the Shawnee Country Club on the Delaware.

As usual, weekly luncheons are held every Friday at 12:30 at the Fraternity Clubs Building and additional parties are given from time to time. Any new Phis as well as all old ones are accordingly invited to attend all parties and club ac-GRANVILLE M. BRUMBAUGH tivities.

There were over 120 at the annual gathering of Phis which was held in the Locust Room of the Penn Athletic Club on Friday evening, March 15, to celebrate Founders' Day and the eightyfirst anniversary year of our beloved fraternity. There were many of the with us. Three of the newer Phis with us. nearby chapters sent delegations from the active chapters. These delegations the active chapters. These delegations came from Lehigh, Swarthmore, and Pennsylvania. The complete active chapter of Penn Zeta from the University of Pennsylvania was present, to-gether with about fifteen Phikeias. The Old Timer's complaint was, however, justifiable because there were many of the old stalwarts conspicuous because of their absence. This was doubtless because they were delinquent in their income tax returns.

Dinner was served at seven o'clock, during which the Philadelphia Quartet and Orchestra drove dull care away with many lively selections. The re-tiring president, Roy D. Tyler, Case, '98, presided at the business session which followed the dinner and intro-duced Walter K. Hardt, Pennsylvania, '05, president of the Integrity Trust Company, who was the toastmaster. The guest of the evening was Harry B. Boyd, Centre, '08, pastor of the Arch Street Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia. Dr. Boyd delivered a most interesting and helpful address upon the principles underlying our great Brotherhood and showed how those who are guided by the teachings of our fraternity must enjoy a fuller and more useful life in our present changing times. "The educated man," he said, "is he who can adapt himself to new conditions both in his thinking and in his actions." Dr. Boyd has been in Philadelphia but a few months but has gained the good will of the brothers and all who have come in contact with him. We were honored by his presence at our annual gathering. He is a real Phi, true to all of our finest and greatest traditions as a fraternity.

We were honored particularly by having with us two brothers who are eligible to "The Golden Legion of Phi Delta Theta" and Brother Hardt introduced Dr. McCluney Radcliffe, Lafayette, '77, Past Historian of the General Council, and the Reverend Dr. William

P. Fulton, Ohio Wesleyan, '81, a former president of the Presbyterian Ministers' Fund and now superintendent of City Missions in the Presbytery of Philadelphia. The explanation of this thirty-third degree in $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ brought out much favorable comment and it is planned to have a special gathering soon in honor of those who are eligible to this Golden Legion. A rapid canvass indicates that we have quite a large number of Phis upon whom this degree should be conferred.

Another honored guest at our gathering was Dr. Charles Andrew Fife, Stanford, '94, who is a prominent physician in Philadelphia. Brother Fife was one of the charter members of the California Beta chapter. We also had with us a Past President of the General Council, J. Clark Moore, Pennsyl-vania, '93. A Founders' Day dinner would not be complete in Philadelphia without Brother Moore and he would not be happy if one were held and he were not there.

The officers elected for the coming year are as follows: Walter K. Hardt, Pennsylvania, '05, president; Claude M. Fennsylvania, '05, president; Claude M. Marriott, Syracuse, '01, vice-president; William B. Steele, Penn State, '20, secretary; Melville T. Huber, Gettysburg, '01, treasurer. Directors are as follows: Roy D. Tyler, Case, '98; Kerro Knox, Williams, '06; R. W. Baily, Wisconsin, '07; Edwin B. George, Pittsburgh, '17; John W. Elliott, Colgate, '16; H. Herbert Parcher, Pennsylvania, '21. '21.

To Edwin B. George, chairman of the banquet committee, is due the credit for a most successful and enthusiastic celebration of the one big anniversary on our fraternity calendar-Founders' Day. He was very ably assisted by Brothers Baily and Steele. A novel an-nouncement was sent out in the form of a Western Union telegram enlarged to about five times the size of a regu-lar telegram blank. This aroused interest and brought out a goodly number because of its novelty and urgency.

The club has made progress during the past year under the leadership of Roy D. Tyler. Brother Tyler has been in Philadelphia about three years, having come here from Minneapolis where he was also interested and active in the alumni club of that city. He brought with him from that progressive club many ideas and plans that have been very helpful to us. We start our new year with very promising prospects under the leadership of Brother Hardt who is one of our very well known bankers and one of the youngest bank presidents in our city.

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

The annual Founders' Day banquet of the Pittsburgh Alumni Club of Φ Δ Θ was held March 15 at the Keystone Ath-About 138 members were letic Club. present.

The following officers were elected: president, A. D. P. Miller, Allegheny, '08; secretary and treasurer, Roy Lindsay, W. and J., '02; reporter, Chas. B. Saints, Ohio Wesleyan, '26; and an executive committee consisting of Harold A. Taylor, W. and J., '10; T. Chalmers Duff, W. and J., '01; W. S. Bowser, Pittsburgh, '22.

Russ Mitchell, Allegheny '18, secured the services of his quartet, which sang several numbers and a moving picture was shown through the courtesy of Harold Dygert, Pittsburgh, '16, who is connected with the Stanley Theaters in Pittsburgh.

The cup for the best scholastic record was presented to University of West Virginia—University of Pittsburgh coming second. Numerous members from the active chapters of W. and J., Pittsburgh and West Virginia were present.

It has been rumored that Ray Evans, Allegheny, '14, who presided as toast-master, secured revenge after the banquet from several members who had left him in a rather penniless condition on a previous meeting. Chas. B. Saints

Rochester, New York

The $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ alumni of Rochester, New York and vicinity, gathered in a Founders' Day dinner at the University Club, March 15, 1929. Twenty-one Brothers were present representing seventeen chapters, from Amherst to Mercer and from Columbia to Nebraska.

The committee in charge of the dinner was composed of W. A. Alexander, Columbia, '08, John G. Oglesby, Mercer, '00, William H. Emerson, Syracuse '15, presided and introduced the guest speaker of the evening, DeBanks N. Henward, Syracuse, '24, a former acting province president of the Beta Province who has been intimately acquainted with fraternity government since his graduation.

An informal discussion was participated in by those present and as a result plans were adopted for the holding of one spring lunch meeting and one outing during the summer. Warren J. Frost, Cornell, '16, was elected as chairman on the committee for arrangements for the next two meetings.

Vancouver, B. C.

The Alumni Club of Vancouver, B.C., held a reunion which took the form of dinner at Jericho Country Club, Saturday, March 2.

Some seventeen Phis attended, three of whom were Brothers McCracken, Walgemuth, and Wright from the active chapter of Washington Alpha.

George Housser, Cornell, '12, was elected president, and I. Alex Swanson, Toronto, '26, was elected secretary for the vear.

The meeting was a distinct success and speaks well for future gatherings. J. ALEX SWANSON

Was'ington, D. C.

The Phi alumni of this city have been fairly regular for these forty years in their observances of luncheons, special occasions and Founders' Day dinners. This year it was most convenient to meet on Saturday, March 16, for the last named function. The place was the Carlton Hotel, and fifty-two were there for four hours of pleasure and profit. The dinner was followed by addresses by Milo C. Summers, telling of the Biennial Convention at Nashville, which he attended as delegate from this club, and also giving his report as secretary-treasurer for the year past; by Howard C. Kilpatrick, Nelson Hartson (former solicitor for the Bureau of Internal Revenue), Charles B. Sornborger (appointment clerk, Department of Justice), and James C. Mc-Reynolds (associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States). President George V. Triplett acted as toastmaster.

These officers were chosen for 1929-30: president, Milo C. Summers; vicepresident, Charles R. Stark; secretarytreasurer, Howard C. Kilpatrick; reporter, Everett Flood.

Standardized China and Silver

Is being supplied to an ever-increasing and ever-satisfied group of chapters.

Ware that lasts only a comparatively short time is expensive, no matter how low its original cost. A standardized service is a true investment and always a delight to look upon.

Write us or General Headquarters and ask for prices—the ware lasts forever and is very reasonable.

Editorial

The work of raising the Palmer Memorial Endowment Fund has been started. Brothers Davidson and Ball have spent considerable time together and the ground work is being carefully laid for the canvass of the entire fraternity. Some of the larger contributions have come in and it is hoped that by next fall the results will begin to show the result of the work now being done.

We suggest that every Phi be thinking of the part he is going to play. Remember that this is an opportunity to repay your fraternity for what it has done for you. It is an investment in all that is best in modern life.

It has been decided to hold the second officers' conference July 21, 22, 23 and possibly longer at Appleton, Wisconsin. The decision to return to Appleton was made because it is central and because the weather at that season of the year in Wisconsin is more conducive to hard work and lively recreation.

In making up the budget for the biennium every member of the General Council voted in favor of holding another officers' conference even if it meant omitting other activities. The opinion of other Phi leaders was sought and without exception all agreed that the conference would be the most valuable contribution to the welfare of the fraternity. Those who attended the session two years ago are most enthusiastic and with the progress made since a great deal of consolidating work ought to be accomplished.

An interesting, helpful program is being arranged. In addition to the Phis who will lead various phases of the discussions it is planned to invite one of the outstanding younger officers of another fraternity to meet with us and give us the benefit of his experience. It will be remembered that one of the high lights of the first conference was the inspiring address given by Dr. Shepardson of Beta Theta Pi.

A part of the time will be consumed with complete reports of the condition of all of the chapters. Those which have been singled out for particular attention will be especially studied and a continued course of action mapped out.

FLORIDA PHIS ORGANIZE

By FRANK S. WRIGHT, Florida, '26

MEMBERS of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ in the state of Florida have perfected what is probably the only state-wide organization among alumni of the fraternity. existing anywhere in the Union.

While the plan of the state association of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ was discussed by members of Florida Alpha chapter since the installation in 1925, no definite channel was pursued until April of this year. On the seventh of the month, the Last Man's Club, composed of the twenty-seven active chapter men first initiated into Florida Alpha, were scheduled to hold their fourth annual banquet. One year before the Last Man's Club undertook to foster a state organization, and so in cooperation with the alumni club of lacksonville, which suggested a model initiation so its members could attend in a body, the program was laid for a two-day state-wide convention of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ in Gainesville on April 6 and 7.

The results were very satisfactory d most encouraging. The opening and most encouraging. gun was fired Saturday night at a banquet at the Hotel Thomas, at which some thirty-five Phis were in attendance. Each section of Florida was represented with the exception of the extreme lower East Coast. Hon. John J. Tigert, president of the University of Florida, and immediate past president of the General Council, delivered the keynote address. Fred Milligan, traveling secretary from headquarters at Oxford, tarried in Gainesville a few extra days in order to meet with the convention delegates. Fred's message at the banquet was an inspiring and enlightening one, and his presence added greatly to the occasion.

The spirit of fraternity abounded until midnight, but before adjournment, Dr. Tigert was elected first president of the state organization of Φ Δ Θ. Four district vice-presidents were elected, W. S. Cawthon, Southern '97; Dr. J. Lee Kirby-Smith, Sewanee, '99; Judge Frank Upchurch, North Carolina, '17, and W. W. Trice, Virginia, '93.

Sunday morning a meeting of the chapter trustees was held at the chapter house. At 2:00 P.M. the chapter entertained informally at a smoker. At three-thirty o'clock, Dale Waters, of Newcastle, Indiana, was initiated into the fraternity at a special model initiation, which was most excellently conducted by Brother Daniel Boyd and his Florida Alpha degree team.

Sunday evening at seven-thirty the Last Man's Club met and enjoyed a very fine meeting. Brother R. Kirven Slade drew the successful ballot and was elected president for the coming vear. The Last Man's Club has lost one of its charter brothers, Howard

M. Bracken, who died suddenly during the summer of 1926 in Pennsylvania.

Among the Phis present were: Ino. J. Tigert, Vanderbilt, '04; A. L. Brown, Westminster, '09; W. S. Cawthon, Southern, '97; W. W. Trice, Virginia, '93; Olin E. Watts, Florida. '26; Major B. C. KAPPA PROVINCE INITIATES' CONVENTION

By Don C. Moore, Wabash, '30

INDIANA BETA was host to the third annual initiates' convention of Kappa Province, which was held at the Chapter House April 14. The boys were especially fortunate in having present at the convention the executive committee of the General Council, as well as H. H. Hungate, province president, Russell H. Fitzgibbon, Assistant Editor of the SCROLL, and Leland H. Ridgeway, president of the Indianapolis Alumni Club.

Many of the newly initiated brothers arrived on Saturday, and a dinner was served for the visiting men at seven o'clock Saturday evening. After the dinner a smoker was held in which the men became better acquainted with each other, and strengthened the bonds linking them together ΦΔΘ.

At ten o'clock on Sunday morning the initiates gathered for the convention proper. Chas. B. Campbell, head of the convention committee, opened Bottom row, beginning fourth from the left: Frank P. the meeting with an informal talk, and then turned it over to the older mem-Brother Priest gave the first talk on the program by relating to the men some of the history and prominent alumni of the fraternity, after which he gave the unwritten work of Φ Δ Θ. Following Brother Priest were talks by H. K. Urion, President of the General Council, Geo. Banta, Jr., and H. H. Hungate, Kappa Province president. All these men stressed the duties and responsibility which rested on the shoulders of the men. In these talks they especially emphasized the necessity of good scholarship, proper financial standing, and good morals.

After the regular session the meeting adjourned, and the picture of the convention was taken. At twelve-thirty dinner was served and at the close of the meal Treasurer Robert Haas, and Leland Ridgeway also spoke. At the close of these talks the convention adjourned.

Four of the seven Indiana chapters were well represented at the meeting, while three of the chapters failed to send any of their newly initiated men. These conventions have done much toward inspiring the new men toward an active interest in the fraternity, and have given them a more thorough understanding of the meaning of Φ Δ Θ . In its third year in the state everyone seems satisfied that it is a worthy enterprise.

PENN STATE ADVISER RETIRES

By D. M. CRESSWELL, Penn State, '10

AFTER twenty-five years of faithful and profitable service as founder, "daddy" and faculty adviser to Pennsylvania Theta, Dr. Irving Lysander Foster, Brown, '93, retires in June to rest on well-earned laurels and a record of achievement seldom encountered in college fraternity circles.

For a quarter of a century "Frenchy," as he is known to every Penn State Phi, has dutifully watched over one generation after another of the chapter he helped organize and install, back in 1904. It was he who financed the building of the chapter house that for years was the most outstanding on the Penn State campus, and it was he who witnessed the burning of the mortgage within the past year and the building of a new wing and many alterations that kept $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ in the forefront among half a hundred rival fraternities at the Nittany institution.

In passing over the task of chapter adviser to younger hands, Dr. Foster is to maintain his wholesome and active interest in the Penn State group in the post of honorary adviser, having been unanimously elected to that position by the chapter. Thus he will continue an interest in the group that started with the old local $\overline{\Delta}$ $\overline{\Phi}$ which he fostered, almost single-handed, for several years before the chapter charter was granted in 1904. He helped to install the chapter on May 24, 1904, and is known throughout the fraternity as "The Father of Pennsylvania" Theta." His interest and that of Mrs. Foster throughout all these years has been kindly and paternal, and a source of pride to chapter alumni.

One of the oldest members of the Pennsylvania State College faculty in point of service—a total of thirty-four years—Dr. Foster went to Penn State fresh from a year of teaching in public schools following his graduation from Brown University, in 1893. After a year as instructor in the Romance languages he became head of the department in 1896 and has held that post with state and national honors ever since.

Not only has the founder of the Penn State chapter been a loyal and tireless adviser and corporation head, but he has found time to work with other chapters and from 1905 to 1911 was vice-president and president of the old Alpha Province. He was a delegate to the 1906, 1908 and 1910 National Conventions of the fraternity and in many other ways he has served the fraternity and served it well.

The retiring Pennsylvania Theta adviser has the distinction of being four times a Phi. As an outstanding student at Brown he won membership in & B K, and at Penn State has been made a member of Φ K Φ and of Φ Σ I, the national Romance languages society. He also holds membership in the American Association of University Professors, American Association of Teachers of Spanish, American Association for the Advancement of Science, National Education Association, the State and National Modern Language Associations, and other national groups. He is author of a number of French textbooks used in high schools and colleges.

During the World War Dr. Foster compiled a booklet on Practical French Conversation that was extensively used by American soldiers. He was stationed at Camp Hancock, Georgia, during 1917 and 1918 as educational secretary and in charge of all French instruction there.

Last year Dr. Foster was on leave of absence for study and travel in France, Spain and Italy. He had previously made many vacation trips to these countries for study. He was honored by Susquehanna University in 1915 with the degree of doctor of literature.

Always held in high regard by Penn State students, a signal honor came to Dr. Foster some years ago when the college annual, La Vie, was dedicated to him. He has been a director of the student Y.M.C.A. for many years, and has done excellent work in the organization and work of the "Cosmopolitan Club," composed of foreign students.

Pennsylvania Theta and its alumni regret the passing of "Frenchy" as active adviser, but welcome the further opportunity to do him honor and receive his wise counsel as "adviser emeritus."

INDIANA GAMMA CORNERSTONE CEREMONIES HELD

By Russell Townsend, Butler, '31

ON MARCH 11, the cornerstone for the new chapter home of Indiana Gamma was laid with impressive ceremonies, before alumni, representatives of the faculty of Butler University, representatives of other Greek-letter groups on the campus, friends, and members of the chapter.

The ceremonies were opened by George A. Schumacher, instructor in English in Butler, who delivered the invocation. Fred Witherspoon, representing the building committee, made a few remarks and introduced Robert Pitts, active chapter president. Brother Pitts spoke on the history of the chapter, relating interesting points in the colorful record of the fraternity since its inception in Butler, then Northwestern Christian University, in 1859. The record of members of the chapter in the Civil War and in the World War was cited.

Hilton U. Brown, P.P.G.C., assisted by Brothers Schumacher, Arthur R. Priest, and Hubert Hinchman officiated in the laying of the stone after reading the list of items incorporated within it. The cornerstone contained a roster of the faculty of Butler University, a roster of the board of directors and the student body of the university, a roster of the Greek-letter societies and their members, a brief history of Φ Δ Θ in Butler, roster of the General Council, the members of the chapter, SCROLL for October, 1928. roster of the building committee, alumni, and friends, the Palladium, Butler Collegian, Indianapolis newspapers, roster of the Mothers' Club, and a white carnation.

Miss Katharine M. Graydon, professor of English, delivered the principal address, pointing out how the fraternity had grown with the school, and how the high sense of duty had materially aided the university in gaining its present position. Miss Graydon stated that a history of the fraternity is essentially the history of Butler.

Brother Arthur Priest spoke on behalf of the National Council, and pledged that the chapter would continue to hold its place in the history of the university in the future as in the past. Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of Butler university, responded to Brother Priest's pledge on behalf of the university.

The program was closed with the singing of "The Gallery of Memories," the school song.

FOUNDERS' DAY CELEBRATED AT ARIZONA

By LAWSON V. SMITH, Arizona, '28

Classes ranging from 1891 to 1932, were represented at the annual Founders' Day banquet held at the chapter house of Arizona Alpha on the evening of March 15. The banquet was arranged jointly by the active chapter at Arizona and the Tucson alumni club.

The banquet proved to be one of the outstanding affairs since Phi Delta Theta's entrance into the land of sunshine, sage brush, and cactus, and will be long remembered by those brothers who were present, numbering some seventy-five actives and alumni.

Fred Nave, Arizona 25, acted as toastmaster for the occasion, and did things up in an excellent manner. Speaking for the active chapter, of which he is president, Frank Beetson delivered the address of welcome to the alumni. The Founders' Day address was delivered by Bishop Walter Mitchell, Sewanee, '98, whose home is in Phoenix. Bishop Mitchell gave an excellent speech for the occasion and brought out ideas which were well received by his audience. Allan Stewart, Fred Riggins, and Phikeia Clarence Wollard, all of the active chapter, furnished the entertainment for the program.

This joint meeting served as the third regular meeting of the Tucson alumni club of the year. When alumni elsewhere read that this was only the third regular meeting of the club this year, they might be somewhat surprised unless a word of explanation is made. During the last two school years some difficulty was experienced in getting good alumni attendance at meetings when they were held on a weekly or monthly basis. Hence a committee recommended early last fall that the Tucson alumni select four or five suitable occasions throughout the school year for meetings. This system has been tried this year with excellent results, the attendance being very nearly unanimous at each meeting.

By having all our meetings at the chapter house, much benefit has resulted through the contact which the alumni, individually and collectively, have had with the active members. While meetings are not held as often as in other localities, the alumni are frequent visitors at the chapter house. The results of this contact have been gratifying.

Our fraternity history tells us that our Founders had in mind an expansive organization when they met and formulated plans for Φ Δ Θ , but nevertheless we at Arizona wonder what their reaction would have been had they been present at the recent Founders' Day banquet. We doubt very seriously if they ever expected the day to come when Φ Δ Θ would be so well represented in this Southwestern state, which at the time of the founding of the fraternity, was nothing more than prairie and mountains. We believe the Founders would marvel at our cities, our schools, and colleges, and last but not least, at 'the progress which their own $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ has made in "so God-forsaken" a section.

ADVISORY PLAN AT PENN STATE

By D. M. CRESSWELL, Penn State, '18

WHAT is held to be an innovation in $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ chapter advisory circles has been adopted for trial by Pennsylvania Theta following the retirement, after twenty-five years of service as chapter adviser, of Dr. Irving L. Foster. It is a plan that undoubtedly will interest other chapters and other fraternities.

Instead of one chapter adviser from the faculty, Pennsylvania Theta has instituted what they term an "Advisory Council" of five, composed of faculty members and local chapter alumni. The plan has been approved by the Province President and accepted unanimously by the active chapter.

Briefly, the Advisory Council is a group of "older heads" each of whom has volunteered to shoulder a portion of the advisory duties with the understanding that none of them accepts final responsibility but stands ready to help in his assigned field, leaving the entire chapter to stand upon its own feet and make its own way.

In reality, it might be said that the five hundred one plan is merely the adoption of "big business organization methods" applied to the college fraternity. It was proposed by C. A. Bonine, Lehigh, '12, and met with instant favor of the local alumni group when they cast about for future plans when Dr. Foster's desire for retirement became known.

Edward Steidle, Penn State, '11, and now dean of the School of Mines and Metallurgy at the Pennsylvania State College, is chairman of the council and the official adviser to be recognized by the college and the fraternity. He is to direct others of the council in their various duties, heading up all activities, and, co-operating with others, make decisions on policy matters when presented by the active chapter. Other members of the council and their duties are:

Professor Bonine, who has direct contact with the active chapter members with respect to their scholarship and campus activities.

D. F. Bullock, Penn State, '26, charged with upkeep of the house and grounds.

D. M. Cresswell, Penn State, '18, the college publicity director, who is charged with assisting and advising on chapter publication and editorial matters, rushing, pledging and initiations.

H. L. Stuart, Penn State, '20, who acts as house treasurer and is adviser on finances and social activities.

Dr. I. L. Foster, head of the department of romance languages at the college, the retiring faculty adviser, becomes honorary faculty adviser and lends his mature judgment and experience to the group.

So far the plan has worked most successfully, the council having relieved Dr. Foster early in April. Active chapter members are enthusiastic in their support and co-operation, and realize that they are "on their own" to carry out the aims of the fraternity. In turn, the alumni and faculty members are taking new and increased interest in the welfare of the chapter. The new arrangement is on trial for a year and if it proves satisfactory will be adopted as a permanent plan of chapter and alumni organization.

ALABAMA BETA'S NEW HOME

By J. M. McMurray, Auburn

POR two years Alabama Beta has contemplated a new chapter house. Today, after many sacrifices and deprivations, this new house is realized on College Street which is Auburn's fraternity row. Through the help of the college, the money obtained from the sale of the old chapter house, and alumni donations Alabama Beta is the proud possessor of a $30,000 home.

The structure is two-story, Colonial style, red brick veneered, trimmed with white stone. On the south elevation is the main entrance while on the west elevation is the side entrance.

In the basement of the house are located the meeting room and boiler room. On the first floor is the living room and to one side of this room is a den, while to the other is the dining room. In both the den and the living room there are large fireplaces. Just across the hall are the president's guests, and housemother's rooms. Each of these rooms has a private lavatory while the housemother's room has in addition a private bath. Next to the president's room there is a large tile bathroom with shower and lavatory. Directly back of the dining-room is a large pantry and kitchen. A small back porch adjoins the kitchen.

The second floor of the house can be reached by either of the two flights of stairs located at each end of the On this floor is a bathroom. similar to the one on the first floor, and eleven rooms which are used both as study and bedrooms. Each room has one large window, the corner rooms having two. The rooms are of sufficient size to accommodate two persons. On each side of the door is a closet; in one corner of the room, just under the window, is a steam radiator. The room is illuminated by a ceiling fixture and a table lamp can be used by plugging into one of the two floor outlets. On the third floor is the attic which is to be used for a storeroom.

At present the chapter is sending out letters to the alumni asking for subscriptions to a fund with which the house will be furnished. The members feel sure that the alumni will respond to this request with the same enthusiasm they have shown in the past.

So, when the chapter moves into the new home in September, Alabama Beta will again be able to welcome each and every Phi with real Southern hospitality.

OHIO BETA IN JOURNALISM

By Eugene Kaliher, Ohio Wesleyan, '31

OHIO BETA has for years maintained a record of outstanding leadership in Ohio Wesleyan university student journalistic activities and the close of the present college year finds the chapter more firmly entrenched than ever in this field.

When the annual elections to the major positions of the editorial staff of The Transcript, semi-weekly newspaper, were held recently, James Havighurst, '30, was chosen editor-inchief, and Phikeja Gilson Wright, '30, managing editor, of that publication for the coming year. They will guide the destinies of The Transcript, adjudged "the best college newspaper in Ohio" in a state contest last year, during the college year 1929-30. Wright has also been elected sports editor.

During the year which is just closing, Don James, '29, and Free Vail, '29, held the positions of managing editor and business manager, respectively, on The Transcript staff.

PRODUCES PLAY AT OXFORD

By T. J. Hamilton, Jr., Georgia, '28

DRAMATIC critics of London newspapers, in praising the recent production of Othello by the Oxford University Dramatic Society,

BREWSTER MORGAN, Kansas, '26

took occasion to note that it was the first time that the society had placed an undergraduate in charge of the entire production. Hitherto professional directors had produced the society's plays, and the praise which they almost unanimously bestowed upon "Mr. Brewster Morgan of St. Edmund's Hall" was therefore all the more noteworthy.

While at Kansas University, from which he received his baccalaureate degree in 1926, and his master's in 1927, Brother Morgan interested himself in the Little Theater of the university, and on coming to Oxford in the fall of 1927 as Rhodes scholar from Kansas, began to take part in the work of the Oxford University Dramatic Society, known familiarly as "The Ouds."

The American accent doesn't "take" with English audiences, and so Morgan applied himself to work behind the scenes. His selection as the first undergraduate director was a recognition of his ability and hard work.

The critics, in their reviews of Othello, remarked the commonsense atmosphere which Brother Morgan imparted to the play. As it was played on the boards of the Oxford New Theater, it was no cloak-and-sword melodrama, but a tragedy as much the result of the characters' own personalities as The Return of the Native. Not all the critics considered it the right way to produce Othello but they were high in their praise of its execution.

Shortly after the week's run of

Othello, Brother Morgan was elected President of "The Ouds," a position he now holds. It is believed that he is the first American to hold this post. Brother Morgan is reading for the degree of D.Phil., and plans to submit his thesis, which is to be on the work of Prince Metternich, in 1930. He spends the lengthy vacations which Oxford gives in studying at Vienna where most of his material is located.

IOWA ALPHA BOASTS A CHAMPION ORATOR

By John S. McGavic, Iowa Wesleyan, '32

THE great old victory bell on Iowa Wesleyan's campus was pealing out its welcome news, "Someone has won for Wesleyan." Everyone knew that Bill Turner was at Penn College delivering his oration on "What Price War?" He had won the right to represent his school by defeating all local orators in a free-for-all contest. As the bell spoke victory, Iowa Alpha and Iowa Wesleyan realized that "one of the boys" had won the state oratorical contest. There followed many congratulations, and the chapter was proud of Brother "Bill," whose more formal cognomen is Farron E. Turner, who claims Blackwell, Oklahoma, as his home town.

FARRON E. TURNER 305 lowa Wesleyan, '29

Then, before he left for the interstate contest at St. Peter, Minnesota, the chapter gave a dinner for Brother Turner to encourage him to greater effort and to show him that everyone was for him. Again Bill returned a winner, and at a second banquet given in his honor he said that it was not alone for Wesleyan, certainly not for personal glory, but for Phi Delta Theta that he had spoken on that night. He had not forgotten the send-off his brothers had accorded him, and so the victory bell was heard once more.

More practice, more work, then the national contest at Northwestern University at Evanston, Illinois. Brother Turner did not win the final contest, but his showing was very creditable, indeed. He placed fifth, and everyone is satisfied with his performances. It is significant to know that Brother Turner had almost no outside help whatever. He wrote his own oration and worked out the delivery by himself. It was no small accomplishment and success came only after a great deal of hard work. It was the first time that a Wesleyan man had won even the state contest, let alone being a co-winner in the interstate meet.

The hundred six

But while we are discussing Brother Turner's oratorical work, it is only fitting that we should note his other activities, for he is known as "the busiest man on the campus." If it isn't oratory, it's debate, newspaper correspondence, feature writing, fraternity work, or managing a collegiate sweets shop, the "Varsity." He has no such thing as spare moments; each one is crammed full of activity. And as for scholarship, his name appears regularly on the honor roll. As scholarship chairman he brought up the chapter average appreciably by tutoring and encouraging the boys who were not doing so well.

He has just retired from the presidency of Π K Δ , national forensic fraternity. By virtue of an English major and his published articles, he is president of Σ T Δ . He has written for The Scroll, Banta's Greek Exchange, and several other magazines. Brother Turner has had his work on the stage recognized by membership in Λ Ψ : Ω , national dramatic fraternity. Very few college men are members of a social fraternity and three honorary fraternities of national scope. These honors show a versatility of effort and accomplishment to be admired.

Before we stop our résumé of activities, Brother Turner is the editor of the 1930 Croaker, Iowa Wesleyan's student annual. The book is to be released late in May and promises to be the best Croaker ever published. Experience on the editorial staff of the Wesleyan News won Turner this position. He will be graduated in August with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Last and probably nearest to Brother Turner's heart is his splendid work for Iowa Alpha of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$. Certainly no man in the present chapter has done so much for the fraternity in so many fields. We need men who lead others into college activities, and this has been his constant pleas to both upper- and lower-classmen. If there is something to be done concerning the business of the fraternity, "Let Turner do it; he knows what's to be done." And the nice part about it is that he is willing to do; and he gets it done!

PHI JUDGES IN PENNSYLVANIA

By Russell H. Fitzgibbon, Hanover, '24

WHETHER it is the virile Republicanism of the Treasurer of the General Council, Brother "Bob" Haas, or the genial Dutch Democracy of one of Pennsylvania's Province presidents, Dean Hoffman, something seems to have been turning the Keystone state toward Phi material for its judicial benches. Evidence of this is to be found in the appointment of three members of the fraternity to judgeships within a period of a month. May the good work continue!

The three Phis thus honored are George Cadwalader Corson, Swarthmore, '10, judge of the court of cominon pleas in Montgomery County; Edward Chambers Chalfant, Lafayette, '95, judge of the orphans' court in Allegheny County; and Hiram Harpel Keller, Gettysburg, '01, county judge in Bucks County.

Brother Corson was not an active member of Pennsylvania Kappa while an undergraduate. He belonged to Λ T O which was chartered as a Φ Δ Θ chapter in January, 1918. He was initiated during the fall of 1918 while on leave from Camp Meade, Maryland. After being graduated from Swarthmore, Brother Corson attended the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania and was admitted to practice in the various Pennsylvania pennsylvania and was admitted to practice in the various Pennsylvania and was admitted to sylvania courts in 1914. In May, 1917, he enlisted in the reserve corps of the Army and was called into active service in July, 1917. After service at various points in the United States he went to France with the Ninetieth Division as a second lieutenant and was promoted to a first lieutenancy just before the armistice.

He became an assistant district attorney in January, 1920, and held such a position for a number of years. For several years he was secretary of the Montgomery County Republican committee and for the past three years has been chairman of that committee. He is a member of $\Delta \Theta \Phi$, legal fraternity.

On March 19 Brother Chalfant was appointed by Governor Fisher to fill the vacancy on the orphans' court bench created by the death of Judge J. J. Miller. The Pennsylvania senate unanimously confirmed the appointment of Brother Chalfant. He had been the second choice in recommendations made by the Allegheny County Bar Association and the governor was partially guided by this mark of esteem.

Brother Chalfant was a member of the first class of the Pittsburgh Law School, later a part of the University of Pittsburgh. In 1904 he was appointed a member of the board of law examiners and later became vicepresident of the board.

He was sworn into office on Saturday, March 30, before a notable group of jurists and others with a number of Phis present at the ceremony.

Governor Fisher late in March appointed Brother Keller as an additional judge in Bucks County subject to the creation of the additional seat by the last session of the Pennsylvania legislature. Brother Keller received his M.A. degree from Gettysburg three years after getting his bachelor's degree in 1901. He received the degree of LL.B. in 1904 from the University of Pennsylvania.

From 1915 to 1918 Brother Keller was county solicitor of Bucks County and in 1917 was elected district attorney. He held this office for two terms of four years each. He was chairman of the Republican county committee of that county after 1911 and was credited with having built up the normal Republican majority from about 1,500 to approximately 20,000. He is a member of numerous fraternal orders and professional associations and is president of the Doyleston Kiwanis Club. A year ago Brother Keller received the appointment as workmen's compensation referee for the Philadelphia district.

A number of Phis from the Philadelphia alumni club were present at the taking of the oath of office by Brother Keller. They included Brothers J. F. High, Brown, '11; W. C. Hobensack, Amherst, '18; Norman Keller, Brown, '22, a brother of the new judge; and C. M. Marriott, Syracuse, '01.

ILLINOIS DELTA ABOLISHES HELL WEEK

By GAIL URBAN, Knox, '31

ILLINOIS DELTA at Knox College, by nearly unanimous vote of the active chapter, has decided to completely abolish the Hell Week form of initiation in the future.

The Knox chapter is one of the first fraternities of the smaller middlewestern schools to take this step, and its members believe that many other fraternities will see fit to do likewise.

After concluding that Hell Week activities were "brutal, farcial, unintelligent, unconstructive, and often detrimental" the decision was reached with little opposition. Although many fraternities in universities have already done away with these ceremonies, which have been classed as medieval, in the smaller colleges, especially east of the Mississippi River, the tendency to punish the "neophytes" lingers.

Members of the Knox chapter are convinced that Hell Week was a period which had been as much, if not more, for the pleasure of the members than for the benefit of the pledges, or for their grief. These ceremonies, the chapter concluded, scarcely, if at all, aid the pledges in any way. On the other hand it had been detrimental both to their health and to the academic work of the entire fraternity for a period after as well as during Hell Week itself.

In its stead the Knox chapter plans to substitute a period in which an effective and constructive system will be carried out. This new plan, the chapter believes, will be greatly appreciated by the pledges later on, and will be a much more sane and intelligent method of handling the newer members.

The chapter members also believe that they are setting an example which other fraternities who consider the matter properly will be soon to follow, and that they are taking a step which will meet the approval of school heads as well as disapproving parents of college students.

President Albert Britt said concerning the matter:

"I am well pleased to learn that the chapter of Phi Delta Theta has abolished Hell Week. I wish to congratulate you. I think that the members have voted wisely. I repeat that I am extremely well pleased."

The individual needs and builds an estate; Phi Delta Theta needs and builds an endowment.

PHIS ON THE FLOATING UNIVERSITY

THE Floating University for this year, which sailed from New York on November 8, 1928, carries with it two Phis. They are Ed Dorland, Utah, '30, and Ayres Compton, Southwestern, '25.

The Floating University this year is made up of 110 students. They sailed on the steamer City of Baroda and will be gone some seven and a half months, returning to this country June 11.

Their itinerary took them first to Cuba, up the west coast of America from the Panama Canal to San Francisco, and across to the Hawaiian Islands and Japan. Two months were spent in Japan, China, the Malay States, and India. From India the group sailed for Egypt and the Holy Land, where they spent the month of April. After a month in continental Europe the University will sail on the President Wilson for New York.

Brother Dorland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dorland of Devil's Slide, Utah. He was graduated from the East Side High School in Salt Lake City and entered the University of Utah in 1926. He was president of the Sophomore class, a member of Blue Key, and a member of the Score Club. He is a member of the Student Council of the Floating University.

Brother Compton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Compton, Gatesville, Texas. He was graduated from the Gatesville High School, and entered Southwestern University in Georgetown, Texas, where he was president of the Freshman class. At Southwestern he was also a member of the National Collegiate Players, the Mask and Wig Players, the Student Executive Committee, and art editor of the yearbook. He is president of the student body of the Floating University.

SCHOLARSHIP PROGRESS

By Elmer C. Henderson, Westminster, '93 Scholarship Commissioner

UNDER the direction of its committee on scholarship, of which Alvan E. Duerr, Δ T Δ of New York, is chairman, the Interfraternity Conference is making some notable contributions to the advancement of scholarship among the fraternity men throughout the entire fraternity world.

In his report as contained in the Interfraternity Yearbook for 1928 Mr. Duerr reports that for the academic vear of 1924-25 fraternity scholastic averages were better than the allmen's in 33.3 per cent of the institutions covered by the committee's survey; in the following year, that of 1925-26 the fraternity averages were better than in 37 per cent of the institutions and for 1927-28, of the institutions reporting, 42.9 per cent showed the fraternities' average as surpassing that of the allmen's; while all reports for 1927-28 had not been received at the time of the publication of the committee's report yet it was indicated that the fraternity average would be better than the all-men's in approximately 46.7 per cent of the institutions.

At this rate of gain it would not be surprising in the least if the records for the present year of 1928-29 showed the fraternity average as being better than the all-men's in more than 50 per cent of the reporting institutions—when this condition is reached then we may expect the influence of fraternities to become wider and more commanding in the educational world for it will have then become one of definite accomplishment and justifying in a most potent way the existence of the fraternities by taking from the hands of their enemies one of their most emphasized arguments, i.e., that of poor scholarship among fraternity men.

In other reports of the Interfraternity Conference it is shown that of the fourteen fraternities having fifty or more chapters, that $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ ranked fourteen in scholarship for the year 1925-26—a record of which I am sure that every Phi is heartily ashamed; for 1926-27 we were able to improve our position by two places and ranked twelfth, this was still nothing of which to be proud; for 1927-28 (the last year for which figures are available) we succeeded, under the scholarship ordinance, in moving up three more places and ranked ninth.

For 1928-29 I very much hope that we may find $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ in as good as sixth place, or possibly even fifth place; however because all fraternities are improving in the type of scholastic work being done by their members, as is indicated in the beginning of this article, I am not so sanguine of our continued advance in rank among the fourteen fraternities of our class as I might be otherwise; in fact it is quite within the possible that we may find ourselves in the position of having greatly improved our own scholarship and yet because of others having done an even superior grade of work to find ourselves ranking, in this table of comparison, lower than last year.

If we are to go forward to the rank of one of the top three fraternities in our class, a position to which our ideals should rightfully lead us, and if we are to hold fast to that position once we have attained it, then our active members must meet the issue squarely by giving of their best effort in their classroom work for the whole responsibility rests upon individual active member.

In stressing this comparison with other fraternities I hope that no impression may be given that our rank as a fraternity is the chief end sought, not at all, for while it is pleasing and gratifying to have $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ stand among the leaders, yet such comparative standing is but the measure by which we may learn whether our members are doing their scholastic work as well or better than the members of other fraternities and not whether our members are doing the best work of which they are capable, and that is the really important thing.

To bring out the best in our own members is the real objective of the scholarship ordinance.

Competition, however, is always helpful as a pacemaker and I am encouraged to believe that with this spur of competition together with the guiding influence of the ideal of learning which our Founders gave us and with the additional protection of careful selection of only the highest type of men to be privileged to enter the triple gates that we will have no difficulty in reaching and maintaining an honorable position of leadership among the outstanding national fraternities.

THE PALMER ENDOWMENT

By JAMES E. DAVIDSON, Hillsdale, '87

WALTER B. PALMER believed in building for the future. Twenty-five years ago he saw the Φ Δ Θ of today, of tomorrow. saw that fraternities would become great organizations serving the young manhood of each generation. He saw fraternities taking their place rightly in modern education. He dreamed of all chapters living in their own homes, making substantial contributions to campus life and commanding the respect and confidence of everyone. He dreamed of alumni dedicating themselves to keep the ideals and purposes of the Fraternity ever fresh in the minds of those who have accepted the Bond of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$.

Along with his dreams, his hopes and his ideals, Walter Palmer was also a practical man. He knew that the Fraternity would need to be fin-ancially sound. He planned for stability. He saw the need of a constructive policy for future financing. Endowments for fraternities were practically unknown. Nevertheless, when Brother Frank J. R. Mitchell suggested an endowment for the support of THE SCROLL, Brother Palmer welcomed the idea and helped put through the legislation.

Φ Δ Θ thus became the first fraternity to establish an endowment to care for its publications. Now practically every progressive fraternity adopted this plan.

Φ Δ Θ was also one of the first fraternities to establish a general endowment. The plan sprang out of a desire on the part of fraternity leaders to show appreciation for Brother Palmer's services and was first suggested in 1920 soon after his death. The plan took several forms until in 1922 it was created definitely as the Walter B. Palmer Foundation Endowment Fund designed to assure to Φ Δ Θ future stability, to care for any emerfive hundred thirteen] gencies, and to relieve the active undergraduates and the few willing alumni who were carrying the yearly load from financial burdens of undue proportions.

Almost ten years of planning, of thought, and trial have now been given to this problem. The foundations have been laid by men of mature judgment and long business experience. The best advice in the fraternity has been sought. The plan for endowment as presented to the fraternity today is the result.

THE PLAN

Φ Δ Θ will raise an endowment of one million dollars,

Each active chapter man, at the time of his initiation, pays into this fund \$10. Many fraternities are building their endowments by raising the dues of the active men. $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ has decided differently. Our fraternity has always been one in which we have taken pride that a man of average means but superior in character and intellect may win membership. It is not thought best, therefore, to increase the draft on undergraduates.

Subscriptions are to be sought from the alumni. A continent-wide campaign will be carried on. The organization is already perfected and actual solicitation has begun. James E. Davidson, Hillsdale, '87, of Bay City, Michigan, is the general chairman. With him will work an advisory committee. District and city organiza-tions are being perfected. The actual canvass will be carried on by members of Φ Δ Θ working in co-operation with alumni clubs and individuals.

Large subscriptions are expected from those older alumni who have been given more of life's material wealth. "All that is needed for success is for the older, financially able, to give with the same spirit of sacrifice that accompanies the $100 subscriptions of the recent graduates."

Every dollar paid into this fund as a result of this present campaign will go into the principal of the fund where it will be held in perpetuity. The fund is administered by three trustees, men of wide business experience and well known devotion to the fraternity. For six years they have been in charge. They will continue to serve.

The Guardian Trust Company of Cleveland is the present custodian of the fund. The complete endowment will be placed in one or more trust companies. The trust agreements have been drawn by able counsel for the fraternity. The powers of the trustees are broadly defined yet restricted so as to meet all cases. All money expended for purposes of raising this fund are to be repaid to the fund from accruing interest.

The Palmer Fund today amounts to approximately $75,000, not including any of the subscriptions given or paid during the present campaign.

USES OF THE ENDOWMENT

To keep alive the ideas and purposes of the Bond, to engender a greater degree of unity among the chapters, to assist the chapters in their problems of scholarship, of finance, of rushing, and of housing, more frequent calls from a helpful visitor are necessary. As put by Brother Fred B. Johnson, president of North Caroline Beta, "Our chapter is of the opinion that visits from the travelling secretary and other officers of the fraternity are much too infrequent, Under certain conditions correspondence is a poor substitute for personal visits." Or as put by Brother William L. Roberts of Amherst, "Of particular importance, it seems to us, will be the increased facilities in keeping up the national spirit of the fraternity to be made possible through the maintenance of more travelling secretaries on the road. The annual or biennial visit of the travelling secretary does more than any other one factor to keep the chapter conscious of the splendid general organization which we possess and keep the chapter interest from becoming exclusively focused on the local campus."

The history of the fraternity should be brought up to date. A manual for the men in the active chapters should be published and increasing care should be exercised to keep the records of the growing membership of the fraternity accurate and up to date,

The scholarship commissioner, authorized by the Nashville convention, has already proved his worth to the fraternity even though severely handicapped by lack of funds. His job is a big one and already shows need of more and more time. Through his co-operation with universities and colleges there is a constant assurance that the fraternity is striving to do its share in the development of character and in turning out men really pre-pared to meet the problems of life. The commissioner has already discovered that numerous individuals in the chapters, although of superior intellect, are compelled to break in on their courses or drop out permanently because of lack of funds. Scholarship loans are urgently needed to provide assistance for men who have already completed one or more year's work in college and have proved that they can profit by such training. The Palmer Fund has already, even though small, proved its reason for existence by saving several chapter houses for the fraternity. As one chapter president puts it "Speaking frankly, I will say that were it not for the loan extended by the general fraternity at a time when we were facing what amounted to a crisis in our affairs, we would have, in all probability, suffered the loss of our house. It is inspiring to think and to know that our general fraternity is able to offer assistance and that it has given it so gladly. This assistance has enabled us to weather our little gale and recover our footing." All chapters preparing to build houses now are required to submit their plans to the trustees of the

Palmer Fund for their sanction. This insures against overbuilding against poor financing.

The fraternity now has invested in chapter houses over three and threequarter million dollars. Endowment will assure the safeguarding of this property and provide plans for future growth.

The general finances of the chapters need more supervision and assistance. An additional visiting officer would make it possible for each chapter to receive a visit once each year and would prevent financial difficulties from gaining any size or becoming embarrassing and dangerous. Such supervision will, in the course of a few years, place every chapter on a sound business basis. We have been expecting untrained boys who were perfectly competent to handle the few dollars necessary to carry a chapter when fraternity halls were the custom, to manage the budget of a fraternity house involving frequently $30,000 to $40,000 annually. It is not fair to them or to the fraternity to continue placing such burdens on inexperienced men and not give them adequate assistance.

The active chapter men are not the only ones who will benefit from an ample endowment. The sources of strength of the fraternity lie in the alumni. To foster their interest, establish and encourage alumni clubs, carry on a vocational bureau, and have a full time alumni secretary will be possible under a proper endowment. These very things are done today by one of our rival general fraternities and the results are compell-

Φ Δ Θ has always had the slogan "Once a Phi-always a Phi," The members have carried on to the glory of the fraternity and to their own success since 1848. Φ Δ Θ has asked little from its alumni, has given much. The raising of the present endowment will relieve the alumni from occasional calls for money and will give to every alumnus the satisfaction of knowing that his subscription has given security to the fraternity he loves. In a small way he can repay for what he has received and he will know that the fine things that came to him will be passed on to others in perpetuity. The eyes of all Fraternity men are on $\Phi \Delta \Theta$.

Another traveling secretary—better scholarship, chapter finances handled in a business way, improved rushing methods.

Leonard Savage, Oklahoma, '28

With this election and initiation into Φ B K at the last spring election of this scholastic fraternity at the University of Oklahoma, Leonard Savage of Oklahoma Alpha attained the goal of many an ambitious undergraduate. To Brother Savage it is merely the addition of another laurel to a previous record of distinction.

Leonard entered the chapter from McAlester, becoming a Phikeia in the fall of 1924. His earliest attention was directed to forensics. He became recognized as the most dependable debater in the university even before he had completed his freshman year. During his sophomore.

junior, and senior years he was given varsity awards in debate.

In further recognition of proficiency along this line Savage was elected to the Congree Society, and from this organization chosen for the past three years as a member of the governing body of all the literary societies, the Oratorical Council. He became at the same time a member of Δ Σ P, the well known national forensic fraternity.

Leonard entered the law school this year, electing his first year law credits to complete his four years' work for a bachelor of arts degee in June, 1928. Consistent high scholarship resulted in his election to Φ Δ Φ at the close of the first semester. Savage is the only contribution from Oklahoma Alpha to the high ranks of the Tri Phis for more than six years.

The highest considered honorary society local to the campus is Pe-Et. The four or five outstanding students on the campus only are selected for membership annually to this traditional organization, of which Leonard Savage has held the presidency. He holds membership in Blue Pencil, a writers' club of prominence, and has served upon the business staff of the Sooner, university yearbook.

While Leonard has been turning in almost a straight A average each semester, he had held down an important position in the university army, that of captain in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, and batalion adjutant. He also served as president of the reigning political party on the campus, although he has never sought any office in a university election.

Leonard's reputation and value as an outstanding student are not restricted to the campus at large, for in the chapter he could not be well spared. Last year he was president, and previously had held the offices of historian, reporter, rush captain one year, and member of the Interfraternity Council. He is treasurer this year, as he returned for two more years of law. He represented Oklahoma Alpha at the Nashville Convention.

A mere glance down the foregoing list of activities would convince one that Leonard would not find much spare time on his hands to be whiled away, but he does find plenty of time to earn all of his way through college. This is accomplished by devoting twenty-five hours each week to secretarial duties in the Extension Department of the university, collecting for a cleaning establishment, and as assistant manager of the university dances.

Savage is an extremely modest, unassuming and retiring man. He has never sought any honor other than by remaining on the job in hand, and attending to it in his quiet, conscientious way. Probably no individual on the campus has more friends or fewer enemies. All of the distinctions that have come to him in every line he has chosen to enter has been an example of the recognition by others of real merit.

His college course so far, above all else, has been marked by outstanding scholarship and consistent high marks, and in his chosen profession of law which he will continue to study during the next two years, there is a confident feeling among his friends that he will attain great eminence.

LEV EDWARDS, Oklahoma, '27.

Arthur I. Anderson, Oregon, '29

Oregon Alpha is extremely fortunate this year in having as unquestionably her outstanding man, Arthur J. Anderson, son of Mr. H. C. Anfive bundred seventeen] derson, of Portland. Art is a real Phi Delt, through and through, and has commanded the respect and praise of, not only his brothers in $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, but also his numerous acquaintances on the Oregon Campus.

In the past four years Art has been extremely active in Φ Δ Θ circles in the Northwest. He is equally well known in all of the chapters in Pi province, and we feel certain that these chapters will bear Oregon Alpha out in the boast that he is one of the finest Phi Delts in the fraternity. Art has, in the chapter, established a very enviable record. In 1926 he was elected steward, and on the following year was elected vicepresident of the chapter. In these years, also, he served on the rushing committee, finance committee, executive committee, and was freshman adviser during his sophomore year. In 1928 Oregon Alpha expressed their confidence in him, and their esteem for him, by unanimously electing him president of the chapter. In this position Art proved himself a real leader. The chapter further expressed their appreciation of him, by electing him as a delegate to the Atlanta convention. He brought back many suggestions and programs from the national convention which have proved very beneficial to the chapter.

On the campus Art has been equally active, holding numerous leading positions during his four years here. In his freshman year Art was elected president of his class, and was elected to To-Ko-Lo, underclass honorary In his sophomore year he was elected to membership on the Coop board and held a leading rôle in the Junior class vaudeville. It was in this year, also, that Art began his extensive career in dramatics, in which department he is classed as one of the leading players on the campus. In his junior year Art was appointed chairman of the university building committee, a committee which carries on the entire building program of the university. Later in this same year he was appointed assistant general chairman of the Junior vaudeville, and assistant general chairman of the state high school convention. At this time also, he received the distinction of being elected to Friars, upperclass honorary. At the student body elections in the spring, the campus expressed their confidence in Art by electing him vice-president of the student body, in which position he acted on all of the important committees of the A.S.U.O. He is at the present time chairman of the publications committee, and a member of the finance committee, executive committee, executive council, student council, and forensic committee.

Brother Anderson is a senior this year, and will graduate in June. It is with a great deal of regret that Oregon Alpha loses him. However, we feel certain that he will make us as proud of him in business life as he has made us during his college career.

Paul H. Johnson, Wabash, '29

Perhaps the most outstanding undergraduate at Wabash College this year is Paul H. Johnson, '29. Brother Johnson has been exceptionally active in all matter of activities, and perhaps possesses one of the most diversified lists ever attained by an undergraduate.

Brother Johnson has been a member of the Wabash Speakers' Bureau, giving orations in many of the neighboring cities, for the past three years, and the last two years has been a member of the college affirmative debate team. For this last achievement Johnson was awarded membership to T K A, national honorary forensic fraternity. In addition to this he has been elected one of the two commencement speakers of the Class of '29, and has chosen for his subject "Education and Religion."

During his sophomore year Brother Johnson was elected to membership in the Sphinx Club, honorary social group, and this year was chosen president of the organization by a unanimous vote. For this honor he was awarded membership into Blue Key, a national honorary leadership fraternity, which has only eight members at Wabash.

On April 3, Brother Johnson was elected to Φ B K, having to his credit the highest numerical grade ever given at Wabash in freshman chemistry. Also he has been a member of the Academy Club, which consists of the better literary and scientific men on the campus. More than this he has been a member of the French Club during his four years in college.

For the past two years he has been class editor of the Wabash, the college yearbook, and has been made a member of the press club for this distinction.

Brother Johnson was elected senior manager of the basketball team, this year, and was awarded a major letter for this effort, which entitled him to membership to the College W Men's Club. He is also a member of the Glee Club, and Senior Council.

In addition to all his school work Brother Johnson has found time to be very active in the fraternity. He was chapter president the last semester, delegate to the General Convention, warden during the first semester of his sophomore year, reporter the second semester, and secretary during the first semester of his junior year. He has always taken a very active part in all fraternity matters and has shown one of the most devoted attitudes of any of the men, always willing to do whatever was in his power to do. For all of this Indiana Beta is very proud and thankful to Brother Johnson, and thinks that he should be recognized and appreciated by the entire & A @ fraternity.

Liston Pope, Duke, '28

One of the most outstanding undergraduates that North Carolina Alpha has claimed is Liston Pope. Brother Pope's literary ability has won for him recognition at Duke and in collegiate circles in North Carolina, and in the field of leadership he has manifested unusual qualities. His diversified interests, his sterling character, and his sincerity have made him a valuable man in the life and work of the chapter. At the present time Brother Pope is chairman of the chapter publication committee which will edit a magazine for North Carolina Alpha.

Pope lives in Thomasville, North Carolina, where his father is cashier of the First National Bank. He has majored in religious studies at Duke, and he plans to enter some field of religious education.

Brother Pope holds the enviable distinction of being the only man at Duke University at the present time who holds two major student offices. As editor of the Chanticleer, Duke University yearbook, and president of the Y.M.C.A. he has been kept constantly busy. Besides holding these offices Brother Pope is manager of the tennis team, and last fall he was elected Southern editor of the Intercollegian, national Y.M.C.A. publication. He is a member of various organizations in the college community, and at the end of his junior year he was elected to O A K, national leadership fraternity of which Brother Frank C. Brown of the Duke faculty national vice-president. Brother Pope is also a member of Σ Y, national literary organization, and of Red Friars, senior secret order.

JOHN M. WEBER, Duke, '28

John M. Weber, Duke, '28

In the life of North Carolina Alpha, John Melvin Weber has had a very important role. As president of the chapter he has worked consistently, and being of an amiable and pleasing demeanor he has inspired the admiration and respect of his brothers. Last Christmas Brother Weber was the official representative of the chapter at the national convention held in Nashville. In February he and Brother Cottrell represented the chapter at the initiation and installation of North Carolina Gamma at Davidson College, and they assisted in inducting the new men into the fraternity.

Brother Weber, who is a senior, is a native of North Carolina. However, his home is now in Danville, Virginia, and he expects to go into business with his father there.

At Duke University John Weber has held numerous offices, and he has had many honors bestowed upon him. He has served as vice-president and treasurer of the Y.M.C.A., secretary and treasurer of the student government association, member of the freshman board of control, and representative on the Panhellenic council. For two years he was on the staff of the Chronicle, the college newspaper, and he has been on the wrestling and baseball squads. In his freshman year he was on the baseball and football Last spring Brother Weber was elected to O A K, national leadership fraternity and to Red Friars, senior secret order and highest honorary organization at Duke.

George Neil Bishop, Hanover, '29

Indiana Epsilon and Hanover College this year graduate a brother who has attained a noteworthy place in the work of the chapter and the College and who has left a record of activities which many may aim at but few attain. George Neil Bishop, Hanover, '29, has climaxed a busy college career by his election as national vice-president of A Φ Γ , a national honorary, journalistic fraternity having twelve chapters in eight states of the Middlewest and South.

Brother Bishop is president of the Hanover chapter of $A \Phi \Gamma$. That is in addition to holding down the presidency of the $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ chapter. He has for the past two years been an active participant in journalistic work. In recent elections to the honorary scholastic fraternity, Brother Bishop was the only fraternity member chosen for such an honor. He was the only one considered by the college for the position of laboratory assistant last fall and plans to undertake graduate work in physics on completing his college course. Scientific aptitude is evidenced by the fact that he holds an office in the Science Club school of Government, is one of the outstanding men in Student Activities in Southern Methodist University. He was elected president of his class in 1927, was associate editor of the Rotunda, the yearbook, in 1928, and is now editor-in-chief of that publication. Brother Carpenter is associate to the president of the Y.M.C.A. and was president of Texas Delta during the first semester of 1928-29.

Shortridge High School, and Dr. W. M. Blanchard, head of the chemistry department at DePauw. There were forty applicants for the scholarship.

The scholarship is part of a plan fostered by the chemistry department at Johns Hopkins to select and educate prospective leaders in chemistry. It is the plan to get some agency in each of the forty-eight states to provide the scholarship and thus have one student from each state. The awarding of the fellowship is based on scholarship, health, ability to co-operate, creative ability, intellectual honesty, persistency, enthusiasm, initiative, and conduct, as estimated by the applicant's instructors. Continuation of the fellowship from year to year is based on the record of the student.

Krahl is member of the $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, $\Phi B K$, and K T K, senior interfraternity organization.

The Class of '29 of Ohio Theta has established an enviable record, not only for future classes to attain, but also for the classes of the other fraternities on the campus of the University of Cincinnati. The record is a graduating class of eleven, and it is unique in the annals of fraternity history in that these men represent every college on the campus, Law, Liberal Arts, Medical, and Engineering. Lawrence Jeffries, Circleville, is receiving the LL.B. degree having received his B.S. at Ohio State. Wilmer Highlands, Cincinnati, Ohio, is receiving the A.B. degree. The opportunities for true friendships, of loyalty to an ideal, of fun and play, of work and sorrow, of love and life are worth continuing. They are for your boy and his boy, for your chapter and your Fraternity. Endowment assures continuance.

When Frederic G. Nave, Arizona, '25, was appointed deputy United States attorney, with headquarters in Tucson, recently, it was a case of one brother succeeding another in office, for Brother Nave took over the position which had been held by Lynn Dexter Smith, Washburn-Arizona '24.

Brother Smith returned to his private practice in Tucson and again opened up his own office. His term as deputy attorney was highly successful.

Brother Nave is one of Arizona's most successful young lawyers. Having been practicing only a little more than two years, he has won the respect of all those with whom he has come in contact, which fact was recently demonstrated by his appointment to the office he now holds.

Following his graduation from Arizona, Brother Nave attended Northwestern University for a year. Following this he returned to his native state to enter the firm of Campbell and Conner, in Tucson. He remained with this firm until he took up his new work last month. He has already convinced his associates and others of his ability in his present capacity.

Brother Nave's appointment was received with pride by Phis in this section. While attending school at Arizona he was an active worker for his Alma Mater and his fraternity. Being a member of the petitioning body at Arizona, Brother Nave was one of two delegates to be sent to the Kansas City convention, at which time Arizona Alpha received her charter. During the next school year Fred served as president of his chapter. Unlike many alumni, his interest has increased, if anything since his graduation. He, at present, is in charge of the building fund notes for his chapter, and is doing a splendid piece of work. He is a frequent visitor at the chapter house and his good influence and willing help is always in evidence in the chapter.

Brother Nave was married a year ago this last fall to Miss Valorie Menhennett, of Mesa, Arizona. She is a member of Δ Z.

In taking over his new work as deputy United States attorney, Brother Nave carries with him the best wishes and absolute confidence of every Phi with whom he has come in contact.

LAWSON V. SMITH, Arizona, '28

A young alumnus who is a source of great pride and admiration to both his college and his fraternity is Richard Pattee, Arizona, '26, who at the present time is a member of the faculty at the University of Porto Rico.

Brother Pattee was an outstanding undergraduate. During his last two years at Arizona he was debate captain and manager, an honor student, being elected to membership in $\Phi K \Phi$, and a conscientious worker for his fraternity.

In the field of forensics, Brother Pattee's record was outstanding while an undergraduate. During his senior year in school he personally organized a debate tour which took in every section of the United States and Porto Rico, and lasted over a period of six weeks. Brother Pattee and his associates won a large majority of the thirty contests in which they took part on this tour. In Porto Rico, where Brother Pattee is now located, a series of two debates was held, one in English and one in Spanish. It is interesting to note that the three Arizonans lost their debate in English and won in Spanish.

Following his graduation from Arizona. Brother Pattee obtained his master of arts degree in 1927 from Catholic University in Washington, D.C., majoring in the field of history.

Despite the fact that his father is regarded as one of Arizona's keenest lawyers, Brother Pattee chose the teaching profession. Partially due no doubt to connections made in the island while on his college debate trip. Pattee was offered a position in the history department at Porto Rico after he had secured his master's degree. News from the island bears out the fact that he is succeeding in his chosen profession.

During the disaster last fall in Porto Rico, which all but desolated the island, Dick wrote interesting letters to several of his friends and brothers in Arizona, describing conditions. He was a willing worker in the relief work immediately following the hurricane, at which time the buildings of the university were temporarily converted into relief hospitals. For the time being, Brother Pattee threw aside the garb of a college professor in favor of that of a nurse. Rumors have it that he was as successful in the latter capacity as in the former.

Phis in Arizona and elsewhere who are acquainted with Brother Pattee have a great deal of admiration for him, and have the utmost confidence in his future in his chosen profession. LAWSON V. SMITH, William Augustus Bootle, Mercer, '24, has been appointed United States attorney for the middle district of Georgia. The appointment was made by President Coolidge and confirmed by the Senate.

Brother Bootle, who is twenty-six, is probably the youngest man ever to receive the appointment of United States Attorney in the entire United States. He has been assistant United States Attorney since April, 1928. In 1924 he graduated from Mercer University with the degree of bachelor of arts. However, he remained in college until June, 1925, when he received his law degree.

Entering Mercer in 1920, Brother Bootle immediately stepped in line to receive a series of undergraduate honors. In his senior year he was elected Master Mercerian, the highest honor any student of the university can receive. The honor is conferred by the students in a popular election and the man elected is considered the "best all around" man on the campus. On graduation day in 1925, a set of law books were given to him, the prize being given to the man who made the best record during the entire course of study in the law school.

Following graduation. Bootle became connected with a Macon law firm and practiced his profession there until the time of his appointment. He is also interested in civic affairs, at one time being president of the junior chamber of commerce. He is also a member of the Macon Civitan Club.

Brother Bootle is still very much interested in $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, proving this by his splendid co-operation with the chapter at Mercer, Georgia Gamma, being his own chapter. He is always willing to help in any way, at any N. LOGAN LEWIS

Powell Crosley, Jr., Cincinnati, '09, continues his leadership in the radio field. Among the latest steps are the restoration of Station WSAI at Cincinnati and the perfection of plans for a new $750,000 manufacturing plant and office building. A speed record for radio construction was probably established in connection with WSAI when the frequency of that station was changed from 830 kilocycles to 1330, a new piezo-crystal installed, and the transmitter rebuilt, all in less than six hours. The Federal radio commission had ordered the change made. In addition to the large building just started by the Crosley plant, two and one-half blocks of land have been purchased for the erection of still another unit to cost approximately $500,000. This expansion program will double the daily output as well as the number of employees, now 3,800. It will make the Crosley Radio Corporation the owners of the largest and most modern broadcasting station in the world and owners of one of the largest radio manufacturing plants.

From "flying tackle" and "flying halfback" to "flying surgeon" has been the transition in the career of John H. Outland, Kansas, '98, Pennsylvania, '00. In his undergraduate days at Pennsylvania, Brother Outland was the first, and one of the very few, men to be selected by Walter Camp as an All-America lineman one year and a backfield player the following year. After being mustered out of the army where he had been a major in the medical corps, Brother Outland returned to the large surgical practice he had built up in Kansas City. The waste of time involved in traveling over the "vast open spaces" to visit his various patients had impressed him before and following the war he bought an airplane and retained a pilot. Practically all his traveling is now done that way and he is an enthusiastic devotee of flying. In addition to his reputation as a surgeon Brother Outland is known as the father of the Kansas University Relay Carnival.

Lyons, Indiana, '89, head of the department of chemistry at Indiana University, is soon to be realized when ground is broken for the new $369,000 chemistry building at the Hoosier University. Under his leadership the University department of Indiana chemistry has attained world wide Brother Jewett was an active and consistent opponent of the recent campaign to strengthen the Indiana statute providing for city manager government, deeming the legislation unconstitutional. Early in April he filed as a candidate for mayor in Indianapolis, which has adopted city manager government effective next January, in an effort to force a test of the constitutionality of the law. On April 13 however, he withdrew his candidacy in order to permit the union of political forces opposing the powerful Republican machine in the Hoosier capital. Brother Jewett has made a notable campaign against corruption in Indiana politics in recent years.

Robert H. F. Variel, Jr., California, '06

Robert Henry Fauntleroy Variel, Jr., California, '06, passed away in Los Angeles, February 28, 1929.

"Bob," as he was lovingly known to his multitude of friends, was one of the most faithful members of the Los Angeles Alumni Club of Φ Δ Θ . He was most active in all fraternity affairs and gave liberally of his time to activities in this community.

While attending the University of California at Berkeley, Bob was very prominent in campus affairs. He was a member of the Golden Bear society, the Winged Helmet and the Big C, having won his letter in tennis. After graduating from the law department he returned to Los Angeles and followed in the footsteps of his father in the legal profession. He was elected secretary of the Los Angeles Bar Association and held that position for seventeen years. He was also a Ma-Those who are intimately acquainted with his life and work, know that he devoted the best years of his life to the welfare of others and to the various organizations to which he belonged. Those who know how diligently he had worked to build up the Los Angeles Bar Association feel that he undermined his strength in devotion to the interest of his profession. With a splendid mind and legal ability of a high order and a family background of legal attainments, he unselfishly chose to use his time and talents for the improvement of his profession and for the public good.

Every alumni club of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ has a small group of "Old Faithfuls" and "wheel horses," members who ride through every storm while they may be beaten and torn, sick at heart, always come back for more punishment when the end to be accomplished is furthering ideals of their fraternity.

Bob was such a character in the history of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ in Los Angeles. He gave most liberally of his time, efforts, worldly goods and wise counsel. He was ever ready to assume any task or burden assigned to him. His going away is leaving a void in our organization which will ever be vacant. We may have substitutions but never a replacement.

Eighteen past presidents of the Los Angeles Bar Association were in official attendance at Bob's funeral services. The active pall-bearers were three members of the Bar Association and three members of the Los Angeles Alumni Club of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$. Bob's loss to the Los Angeles Alumni Club is great. He was one of the faithful Phis who could be relied upon.

In departing this life, Bob left his wife, Greta, and his fourteen-year-old son, Robert, Jr. He is also survived by his brother, Clarence L. Variel, California, '08, and friends without number who will always remember Bob as a man among men and a true example of a loyal brother in the Bond.

On Friday, April 5, 1929, at Parks College of Aviation in St. Louis, Missouri, Starling Wells, Jr., Centre, '29, was killed when his plane crashed to the earth just one week before he was to receive his commercial license.

Brother Wells entered Centre in the fall of 1925 and was one of the most likeable and popular boys on the campus. He was a member of the football and track squads while at Centre.

After leaving Centre he accepted a position as an engineer with the Kentucky State Highway Department, which he held successfully until last fall, when he gave it up to enter the field of commercial aviation. He enrolled in the Parks College immedi-

Brother Wells was twenty-two years old at the time of his death. He was buried in Elizabethtown, Kentucky, his home. He is survived by his father, mother, an older sister, and a younger brother. He had several relatives both in the present active chapter and among the alumni of Kentucky Alpha-Delta. Centre College, $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, and a great host of friends mourn the loss of a fellow student, a true Phi, and a comrade.

Richard Geiger Blickensderfer, Dartmouth, '28

Brother Blickensderfer was a member of a trip organized by the Ledyard Canoe Club to shoot the treacherous rapids of the White River. While passing through one particularly dangerous place, his canoe was overturned. Both he and his roommate struck out for shore but the swirling currents dragged Brother Blickensderfer down and he was drowned.

Brother Blickensderfer came to us in his sophomore year as a transfer from the University of Colorado where he was pledged as a freshman. At the time of his death he was attending our pre-medical school and had just been accepted at the Harvard Medical School where he intended to study next year. He was a fine scholar, having received six "As" and a "B" last semester.

In his sophomore and junior years he was a member of the football squad, but was forced to drop it when he entered the medical school. He was an outdoor man, taking great interest in the activities of the Dartmouth Outing Club as well as the Ledyard Canoe Club. He was a strong swimmer and was on our swimming team two years ago when he won the Interfraternity championship. He was also a member of Beta Alpha Phi, the biological fraternity, and Alpha Kappa Kappa, the medical fraternity.

Brother Blickensderfer's death was a great shock to our chapter and also to the host of other friends he had made while at Dartmouth. He had many sterling qualities, but his best was a winning smile and a personality matched by few.

He was born in Fayette, Missouri in 1858, and after graduation from Central College taught school for four years. He was admitted to the bar in 1884 but soon moved to Denver because of his health. Brother Dines always recognized the debt he owed Colorado for restored health and gave liberally of his time and ability to civic movements of various kinds. In 1896 he was elected president of Central College but could not take office because of an accident which occurred to him shortly thereafter. He received the honorary degree of LL.D. from his alma mater in 1926 and was elected to its board of curators last fall. In addition to his Chamber of Commerce activities in Denver he had recently been elected a director of the National Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Allen L. Winter, Williams, '98

Dr. Allen L. Winter, resident of Pasadena, since 1908, passed away Tuesday afternoon, February 12, 1929, at his home, 148 W. California St. His death followed a long and complicated illness. During the World War, he had served as federal health officer for California, with the rank of Major.

Much of his boyhood was spent in Europe where his father had consular offices in Rotterdam, Dundee, and Mannheim. He was educated at Williams College, where he was a member of the Φ Δ Θ fraternity. Ernest E. Smith, Missouri, '85

Ernest Ellsworth Smith, Missouri, '85, died in Miami Beach, Florida, April 19, 1929. Brother Smith attended the University of Missouri, graduating in '85 with Φ B K honors and was a member of the Missouri Alpha chapter. He has always been a most loval and interested brother in Kansas City. He attended the weekly luncheons and never missed a Founders' Day banquet during the last fifteen years when he was in town or was physically able to attend. He was always interested in the younger members of the association and seemed to derive much enjoyment from the weekly noonday luncheons. If a brother came to Kansas City from another district, Ernest (as he wanted all his friends to call him, even though he was older than many of them) tried to take him under his wing and help in every way that was possible.

Pennsylvania Kappa, Swarthmore College Initiates: March 13, 1929—Harold Frederick Carter.

Campus Activities: In the recent annual elections of the staff of the college weekly, the Phoenix, Richard Kain and Edward Lapham landed the posts of sports and news editors respectively. Baldwin and Kintner were promoted to the positions of junior editors, while Baker, Potter, Sonneman, and Walton were retained on the list of yearling candidates. On the business end of the paper, Rushmore has been making fine progress during the last two years, and is one of the two sophomore men retained to fight it out for the business managership next year, with very bright prospects of winning the job in next March. In a basketball game held on March 16 at Swarthmore with the Penn Zeta collection of basketeers, Penn Kappa was defeated 26-20 in a spectacular struggle. The sting of defeat was lessened by the fact that the visitors hold the interfraternity championship of the University of Pennsylvania. As the spring sports season gets under way, Penn Kappa finds herself well represented in various lines of endeavor. Redman is holding down his varsity post behind the bat on the diamond outfit, while Tom Lapham is working hard for the managership of that sport. Boone is laying on the wood daily in his berth at out home on the lacrosse twelve, while Rushmore and Mahon and Baldwin are all fighting to land defense jobs. Among the freshman, Baker, McCord, Sonneman, and Walton are out daily, while Kintner shows every sign of being out The track to land the managership. squad is enriched in material by Spangler and Thompson as javelin hurlers, Poole in the dashes, and Lutton, the sensational freshman, in the high jump, and Noyes in the running broad jump. Tennis finds Winde and Ted Lapham battling for first team berths, with Connor and Blum scrubbing for the managership.

Social Activities: On March 9, the annual banquet was held very successfully at the Harvard Tea Room downtown. Music, speaking, and food were all of the highest quality, and a total of nearly seventy alumni and actives attended. The spring formal will be a dinner dance, and will probably be held at the New Aronimink Club. Winde and his stalwart entertainment committee are working hard already to put this spring dance over as positively the best ever flung by Penn Kappa, with the idea of bringing back the largest group of alumni ever to attend such a function.

Steve has already been clocked at 9.8 for the 80-yard indoor high sticks while Tiny has hit 145 feet with the platter and 48 feet with the brass globe. Jack Robb is doing very well in frosh track. Denis Murray after working his way to the top in tennis was forced out because of an injury sustained in his final match. Mowers is with the best of them in frosh tennis. Kuykendall, junior, and Kirker, frosh, are working hard as baseball manager; Pebbles, junior, and Forvargue, soph, are track managers and last but not least senior manager McCracken has just finished a very successful year as boxing manager—the boxers winning the Pacific Coast cham-pionship. McCracken is being highly complimented for the way in which he handled Washington's first Junior Sports Carnival. Marion Donohoe is doing well with the Glee Club. Troy, the biggest little man in college just finished his stormy reign as president of the Associated Students during which time his only faux pas was trying to revolutionize the football coaching system. Kinnear, as near as we can see, will be Troy's successor as one of the greatest politicians of the campus. Bolstad has recently been elected president of the Big W Club, while Carroll, is the president of the Husky Club, a football player's organization. Al Kelley was recently elected for a second term as graduate representative on the board of control. Paul Jessup, Steve Anderson, and Phil Wolgemuth were pledged to Oval Club, an upperclassman's service honorary, on Campus Day, April 26.

Social Activities: The spring formal will be held on May 18 at the Sand Point Golf and Country Club. An annual Mothers' Day tea will come on May 12. $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, $A \Delta \Phi$, $Z \Psi$ and $\Phi K \Psi$ are planning a street dance on the corner of Twenty-first and East Forty-seventh in the near future. All these houses are

Chapter Visitors: Clarence Walls, Stanford, president of Pi Province attended initiation ceremonies on April 22.

Alumni Personals: Chalmers Walters and Ruth Margaret Quigley, II B A, were married April 27. Ed. Huletz is to marry Miss Madeline Abrams, A \(\Delta \) In May. The Jolly Friars, Junic Calvert, Mort Frayn, and Herb Greenbank opened a malt joint on Third Ave.

Chapter House Improvements: Since several fraternities on the campus have been robbed since the semester began, the chapter has bought a safe for the use of the house manager. Papers and records of the chapter will also be kept in the safe to guard against possible loss by fire.

Campus Activities: Coie is a new member of Π Γ M, social science honorary. McCoy is an assistant track manager and Phikeia Janes is a member of the spring football manager's crew. $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ took third place in the first annual intramural swimming meet, T K E and B Θ Π winning first and second. Washington Gamma made a big jump upward in the campus scholarship list for the first semester of the 1928-29 school year. The group's average was 81.16, above the combined average for all groups on the campus. Only two large national groups, K Σ and Φ K T, ranked ahead of Φ Δ Θ among the fra-

Social Activities: More than 125 couples attended the annual Miami Triad, April 6, at the women's gymnasium. Anderson, Sisson, and Campbell and Phikeia Bailey were members of the sevenpiece orchestra that played. A number of alumni members of Washington Gamma and of the State college chapters of ΣX and $B \Theta \Pi$ enjoyed the event. The Triad was the first sport dance of the semester at W.S.C., so knickers, white flannels, and bright sweaters blos-somed out in full force. The annual spring informal will be held early in May.

Chapter Visitors: Harry Jones, Bob Sinclair, Bill Calloway, and Platt, Idaho; Sy Morgan, '26; Kenneth Neilson, Whitman; Marvin Hales; James Prince, Washington.

Alumni Personals: James Prince, who is now attending the University of Washington, was married to Miss Mary Margaret Cannon, A X O, Saturday noon, March 30, at Spokane. The two plan to continue their studies at the University of Washington. Brother Prince is enrolled in a law course and Mrs. Prince is a student in the speech department.

After a year with the Equitable Life Insurance company at Spokane, Douglas McIntyre, '28, has moved to Berkeley, California, where he is with the Home Life Insurance company.

RONALD S. BROOM

West Virginia Alpha, University of West Virginia

Chapter House Improvements: New curtains were placed on all the windows on the first floor.

Alumni Clubs

Columbus. Ohio

The Columbus alumni club, inactive for many years, has again secured a charter and judging from the enthusiasm manifested at several informal meetings which have been held recently, a brilliant future for the new club is expected.

The following officers were elected: president, Charles R. Eckert, Ohio State; vice-president, Leighton Aumiller, Ohio; secretary-treasurer, A. L. Odebrecht, Denison.

The Columbus alumni club joined with the active chapters and alumni of Ohio State, Ohio Wesleyan, and Denison in celebrating Founders' Day with a ban-quet at the Elks' home on March 9 at which George M. (Red) Trautman pre-sided as toastmaster. This was, we be-lieve, the largest Phi Delt gathering of its kind ever held in central Ohio.

A regular meeting date of alumni club luncheons will be announced soon in THE ScroLL and the secretary would appreciate hearing from all central Ohio Phis who may not be on our mailing list.

Eugene, Oregon

The Founders' Day banquet, held on alternate years at Eugene and Corvallis, took place on March 30 at the Eugene Hotel. The occasion was one of the most successful meetings in years from the standpoint of attendance and growth of interest in the progress of the fraternity.

Leonard L. Hurst, Kansas, '15, the toastmaster of the evening, was introduced by Franz Wagner, president of Oregon Alpha. As an opener Brother Hurst called on Clarence W. Walls, president of Pi Province. Brother Walls stressed the value of fraternity scholarship in a short talk. Judge Louis P. Hewett of Portland, Nebraska, '04, gave the main speech of the evening. He called to the attention of his audience the fact that although the six men who laid the foundation of the fraternity. were not great men themselves, yet they saw clearly the purposes and value of such an organization. Brother Hewett pointed out that although such obstacles as the Civil War and anti-fraternity movements checked the fraternal growth temporarily, yet they furnished the test of strength and lasting quality of the brotherhood.

Other speakers called on were: Dr. George DeBar, Knox, '72; James Torson, president of the Oregon Beta chapter; Edward Bailey, Oregon, '13; Shy Huntington, Oregon, '18; Carl Lodell, Oregon State, '20; Wallace Kadderly, Oregon State, '16. W. L. FINLEY, JR.

Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

The annual Founders' Day banquet of the Harrisburg alumni club was held at Cravers, Harrisburg, on the evening of March 19 with fifty of the brothers in attendance. Delegations of actives from the Gettysburg, Dickinson, and Lehigh chapters were present to add to the success of the celebration.

Dr. B. M. Buyer, past president of the club, acted as toastmaster.

The scholarship cup awarded by the club to the chapter in the province having the highest scholastic standing among fraternities at their particular college was awarded to the Pennsylvania Epsi-lon chapter at Dickinson—they having attained second place on the Dickinson

The club elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Joseph G. Noh, president; Arthur Rutherford, vice-president; W. P. C. Morgenthaler, secretary-treasurer; Fred B. Huston, reporter.

Others present at the dinner were: Dr. Henry T. Douglas, Dr. W. W. Landis, W. B. Barber, W. H. Houseman, R. C. Hertzler, Ray D. Baxter, W. H. Cleckner, Robert C. Lutz, Kenneth R. Stark, George L. Honolulu, T.H.

Founders' Day was observed by the Honolulu Alumni Club with a banquet at the Oahu Country Club, Tuesday, March 26. Conflicting engagements and a busy social season made necessary the post-ponement from the usual date.

Led by outgoing President Heaton Wrenn, Stanford, the members gathered around a fine spread to exchange reminiscences, swap yarns, and pledge anew their faith to the fraternity. No formal speech was given, but several members held forth in an informal but convincing manner of "What Phi Delta Theta Means to Its Members This Far From the Home Roost."

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: N. McKown, Missouri, president; Everett May, Oregon State, '14, vice-president; Joe Reynolds, Oregon State, '21, secretary-treasurer; Webley Edwards, Oregon State, '27, reporter.

Luncheons the second Tuesday in each month will be continued throughout the coming year. All Phis visiting the Islands are urged to make themselves known by communicating on arrival with Brother McKown at the Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

This outpost of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ numbers nearly thirty members from all sections of the United States. While some successful rushing is carried on, the Honolulu club exists primarily to keep the fraternity spirit alive in local Phi Delts. Bound by the bond of the fraternity and aided by the famous Honolulu spirit of convivality, members find that easily done.

WEBLEY EDWARDS

Indianapolis, Indiana

As a general rule, at this season of the year, an alumni club reporter is usually at a distinct disadvantage, for lack of material and news upon which to base his monthly letter. Unless such reporter is a magician, or has a fertile, rather active but perverted imagination, his reports are apt to be as dry as powder, and twice as uninteresting.

The Indianapolis alumni club reporter is no exception to the rule. Being no magician for news, and being restrained from using his fertile imagination, he is forced to rely upon facts, to wit, simply that the Indianapolis club is meeting every Friday noon at the Chamber of Commerce building in this city; that its attendance is usually fair and sometimes exceptionally good; that an attendance contest is now in progress which is creating some consternation among certain brothers who voluntarily left the meeting one Friday without signing the attendance record; that if "election promises" hold good, and the new president, Frank Moorman's health improves, a new bag of tricks in the way of activities will be opened in the near future by that gentleman, and this reporter's letters will be somewhat improved (if that is possible).

Any new brothers, or old ones whose faces have been forgotten by reason of absence from our weekly meetings, will receive recognition in these columns, for attendance at any Friday noon Luncheon. TAMES W. INCLES

Los Angeles, California

Phis of the Los Angeles vicinity glorified their two pet enthusiasms— Φ Δ θ and Los Angeles—in doings at the annual spring banquet of Los Angeles alumni club, held at University Club last month.

After appropriate toasts in celebration of the eighty-first aninversary of the founding at Miami, Dean Karl T. Waugh, Ohio Wesleyan, of the faculty of University of Southern California, proposed a resolution that the Los Angeles alumni invite the biennial convention of 1932 to the hospitable precincts of the coast's biggest city. The year 1932 is the year of the Olympic Games in Los Angeles, and the brothers at Los Angeles decided that it would be a great chance to give all the Phi Delts of United States and Canada a good excuse to take advantage of special excursion rates and travel west. Brother Waugh's resolution passed unanimously, and a suitable official invitation will be on its way to the officers of the G.C.

Some 110 Phis gathered around the U-shaped banquet board, and it was a sober moment when James S. ("Jim") Lawshe, Franklin and Michigan, past president of the Los Angeles body, proposed a silent toast to the late Brother Robert H. F. Variel, Jr., who recently expired. Brother Bob Variel of University of California was secretary of the Los Angeles Bar Association at time of his death, and few if any were more widely known and genuinely mourned among the cohorts who wear the sword

A program of speeches, some brief, and some still briefer, had been prepared by President Paul W. Jones, Northwestern, and provided an interesting evening. Carroll A. ("Stillie") Stillson, California, was toastmaster, and after a bit of heckling about the Berkeley eleven's recent showing in football, Brother Stillson ran off a program that had the boys clapping.

Addresses were given by William H. Waste, Lafayette, chief justice of the California supreme court, who was guest of honor; the Reverend Ben. J. Darneille, Roawoke, Larry Diehl, president of the active chapter at University of California in Los Angeles and Tom Phelan, of the active chapter, who returned a verbal report on his impressions of the Nashville convention.

Short extemporaneous talks were made by William H. Anderson, Virginia, and Ex-Judge John J. Hawkins, Missouri. The speakers' table was a regular row of judges, with Leslie R. Hewitt, Califormia and Russ Avery, California, both former members of the Superior bench in this state, seated with Chief Justice Waste, Judge Hawkins, and "Bill" Anderson, who is a superior court receiver.

The meeting voted to issue a complete directory of all Phis in the Los Angeles section, and work on compiling this of-tical roster has already proceeded with the circulation of some 500 or 600 brothers in this locality. The alumni club will defray expenses of the publication. It also was decided to hold one special meeting each month, at the Los Angeles University club, and the first of these affairs attracted sixty brothers to hear the Right Reverend W. Bertrand Stevens, bishop coadjutor of Protestant Episcopal church in this diocese, as speaker.

President Jones informed the membership of the alumni club that he was weakening under the importunities of Phi sisters and wives, and was scheduling a spring dance for the near future.

Officers of the alumni club of Los Angeles, besides Brother Jones as president, include: Charles E. Brown, Chicago, vice-president; Joseph Estep, Illinois, treasurer; B. R. Ware, Utah, secretary. Russell B. Jarvis California, was the outgoing president.

At the Founders' Day banquet in March, the following members of the club were elected as directors: Thornton W. Allen, Virginia Zeta, '13, 113 West Fifty-seventh Street, New York City; Charles B. Bond, Ohio Zeta, '99, 7 Dey Street, New York City; S. Garton Churchill, Ohio Beta, '22, 71 Broadway, New York City; William N. Compton, Alabama Alpha, '88, 25 Church Street, New York City; Lonsdale Green, Jr., Illinois Eta, '12, 292 Madison Avenue, New York City; William Robinson, Michigan Gamma, '88, 120 Broadway, New York City; Robert E. Whitney, Vermont Alpha, '17, 15 Argyle Road, Brooklyn, New York.

These directors elected Brother Steifel, Colorado, '21, as president. His past interest in the club and the numerous amount of time devoted to its activities by him undoubtedly qualifies him for the position of president far more than any other member. It is believed that, under his leadership, the club will continue to prosper and the interest in the activities to grow. The remaining officers elected were as follows: president, Alfred C. Stiefel, Colorado Alpha, '21, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York City, Lexington 7400; vice-president, Granville M. Brumbaugh, Pennsylvania, Eta, '22, 38 Park Row, New York City, Cortland 7245; treasurer, Elmore E. Lindsay, Ohio

Beta, '21, 949 Broadway, New York City, Algonquin 0400; secretary, Warren M. Wright, Pennsylvania Zeta, '24, 16 Court Street, Brooklyn, New York, Triangle 7560; past president, Clement E. Paxson, Pennsylvania Zeta, '02, 21 East Fortieth Street, New York City, Lexington 6862.

An attractive program of entertainment is being arranged for the coming summer and several club smokers and supper dances are being arranged before the summer season begins. A list of these functions will soon be available and all brothers in and about New York City are urged to drop in the club quarters and consult the notices on the bulletin boards for further details.

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

The Philadelphia alumni club luncheon held April 3 by the New England group was a great success. Fifteen chapters throughout the country were represented with a very good turnout from the New England colleges. There were seven from Brown, three from Amherst with Dartmouth, Vermont, and Williams also represented.

Our new president, Walter K. Hardt, presided. Hiram H. Keller, the newly appointed judge of the common pleas court of Bucks County was among those present.

George R. Vest, supervising inspector, Aeronautics Branch, United States Department of Commerce, gave a very interesting talk on inspection of the manufacture and airworthiness of airplanes and the licensing of pilots.

We were pleased to see a number of new faces and are planning for several interesting luncheons in the coming months. Our next special luncheon will be April 24 under the New York State Group.

Standardized China and Silver

Is being supplied to an ever-increasing and ever-satisfied group of chapters.

Ware that lasts only a comparatively short time is expensive, no matter how low its original cost. A standardized service is a true investment and always a delight to look upon.

Write us or General Headquarters and ask for prices—the ware lasts forever and is very reasonable.
