THE SCROLL

OF PHI DELTA THETA

STATE OF THE FRATERNITY REPORT — SEE PAGE 2

A View from the Top

BY DOUGLAS M. PHILLIPS (New Mexico '49)

President of the General Council

The General Council met Oct. 22-24 in Minneapolis and a report of that meeting will be distributed to the General Officers and significant events reported in The Scroll.

As it is now projected, the activities of the General Council will direct the Fraternity in several important areas.

Alumni Clubs

Under the guidance and direction of our alumni commissioner, Doug Wilson, and with the help of some active, key Phis in each area, alumni clubs have been formed or reactivated in Buffalo, New York; Denver, Colorado; Minneapolis, Minnesota; Omaha, Nebraska; and Santa Clara Valley, California. We hope to build upon the strengths of this approach in order to still further expand our alumni clubs.

Chapter Advisers

One of the major efforts of the last General Council was to find a chapter adviser for every chapter who could devote the time necessary to see that the operations of the chapter were successful. This program will continue.

Periodically, informational materials and questionnaires have been distributed to all chapter advisers. The response has been very helpful in efforts by the headquarters staff to aid and assist these individuals. This program has largely been the work of Cary Buxton, director of chapter services, along with Bruce Thompson and Glen Cary of the Council.

All advisers are specifically urged to attend the Chapter Officer and Adviser Conferences (COAC's) and are going to be paid a special allowance for travel and lodging to insure their attendance. A special program for advisers is planned at each of these conferences. Last year 40% attended and we hope to have an even larger ratio this year.

Lastly, it should be remembered that the General Council has specified that an outstanding adviser be selected for each school year with the two selected during the biennium having their expenses paid to the General Convention in 1978.

Finances

The financial structure of the Fraternity and its planning and development has been the subject of considerable attention by the Council during the last Biennium under the direction of Glen Cary and Hal Minnich. Although a considerable review has been made and some structural changes made to improve the utilization of finances, this review is not yet completed. A meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Educational Foundation was held in Cincinnati on Sept. 27 and at that time new directions were charted for the Foundation which will be reported to you separately.

Chapter Officer and Adviser Conferences

This year the COAC's will be the subject of intensive work by Cary Buxton and Bob Miller, executive vice president, along with the assistance of Charlie Wicks of the Council. The General Headquarters has put in the hands of each province president a complete format to utilize in planning and carrying out these conferences and is offering to the host chapter the services of a staff member several days in advance of the conference. It is planned that a Council member and a staff member will attend each conference. We are hopefully expecting that a major part of the training and education of chapter officers can be developed at these conferences to maintain a high quality of chapter operation throughout the year.

General Officers Conference

The General Officers Conference is scheduled for Feb. 4-6 in New Orleans. This conference will be a major effort to design a program to inform and stimulate all General Officers so that they will be aware of current developments and be able to discuss some of their mutual problems and concerns.

Publications

Another major area of concern for the Fraternity is expected to be in the area of publications. While our Scroll has been adequately edited and is currently budgeted at a figure which is within the reach of the Fraternity budget, the additional publication of the tabloid supplement containing chapter newsletters, first published last July, is being evaluated and studied. While some changes may be necessary in this tabloid publication, we have every reason to believe that it will be utilized as a permanent part of the publications of the Fraternity and perhaps even expanded to include other items.

Conclusion

It is with great confidence and expectation that the General Council invites all Phis, alumni and undergraduates, to join with them in what promises to be a most successful and stimulating year of achievement in Phi Delta Theta. Each of us has a challenge to leave the Fraternity greater than it was transmitted to us and all of us can make a contribution to that goal. We are grateful to all Phis for their participation and cooperation in Fraternity endeavors.

THE SCROLL

An Educational Journal

From the Editor...

At its Oct. 23-24 meeting in Minneapolis the General Council adopted the budget under which the fraternity will operate during the biennium. Included in this budget is, of course, the fraternity's magazine.

We have attempted to plan The Scroll budget for the next two years as well as we can, considering that the cost of paper is likely to go up several times, but no one knows when or how much. We are also faced with increased postal rates, but again, no one knows for sure what will happen.

The plan basically is to alternate between 32 and 48 page issues with the summer tabloid containing the chapter newsletters. This plan, hopefully, will allow us to continue our earlier policy of including feature stories of interest to members of Phi Delta Theta along with news and information about the fraternity and its members.

Our new printing arrangement with Hart Press, Inc. of Long Prairie, Minnesota, has been helpful from an economic standpoint and pleasing from a production standpoint. While we have experienced a few minor difficulties in the transition phase between Hart Press and The George Banta Company in Menasha, Wisconsin, things have gone smoothly.

It is my opinion that the quality of work done on the Fall issue, which was the first one published in Long Prairie, is every bit as good as what we were accustomed to with the Banta people. In addition, every aspect of the production schedule went off as planned and the publication was put in the mails ahead of schedule.

Who knows what the next year will bring in the way of unexpected expenses. My hope is that we have researched well enough and planned adequately to meet the unexpected and will be able to maintain some financial stability after two years of extremely difficult circumstances.

As always, I invite your comments and suggestions as to the future direction of the magazine. After all, it belongs to you.

THE STATE OF THE FRATERNITY

BY ROBERT J. MILLER (New Mexico '50)
Executive Vice President

During this bicentennial year being celebrated by these United States of America we find Greek letter fraternities commemorating a similar birthday. It was on December 5, 1776, at the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, Virginia, that Phi Beta Kappa was born. Many people do not realize that it was organized for social and literary purposes and that it established the basic characteristics of present day General Fraternities including a secret ritual, oaths of fidelity, a grip, a motto, a badge for external display, a background of high idealism, a strong tie of friendship and comradeship and an urge for sharing its values through nationwide expansion. Phi Beta Kappa went on to become an honor society, but not until other Greek letter General Fraternities were founded and growing. Members of Phi Delta Theta can be proud of the important role played by our Fraternity for 127 years of this 200 year Greek letter history.

The brothers who assembled at the June 1976 Phi Delta Theta Convention looked back on the establishment of 180 chapters during the past century and a quarter. The charters of 34 of these chapters have been revoked for various reasons, two have been lost through merger of host institutions and three remain under suspension, leaving a total of 141 "active" undergraduate chapters.

Expansion during the past biennium saw the addition of new chapters at Georgia College in Statesboro and the University of California at Irvine. Continuing the trend of recent years, the Fraternity reestablished another old chapter, this one being California Gamma at UCLA.

In recording the figures quoted above, the 1976 Convention revoked the charters of five chapters which had not been functioning for a period of time. Three very young chapters, Ontario Beta, chartered at Western Ontario in 1962; Montana Beta, chartered at Montana State in 1968 and Alberta Beta, chartered at the University of Calgary in 1970, all ceased to

Miller Beginning 26th Year in Fraternity Service

By Bill Dean, Editor
(Texas Tech '61)

Robert J. Miller (New Mexico '50) completed his 25th year of professional service to Phi Delta Theta this past June and was honored for achieving that milestone at the 61st Biennial Convention in Knoxville, June 13-16.

In a special presentation made near the end of the Awards Banquet on June 15, outgoing General Council President Lothar Vasholz (Colorado '52) presented Miller, his wife Jerri and son Dennis, with two volumes of letters from friends and associates both in and out of the fraternity.

Miller joined the headquarters staff in 1951 as a field secretary and was named assistant executive secretary in 1953, the title changing to administrative secretary in 1954. He became acting executive secretary upon the death of Executive Secretary Paul Beam (Indiana-Illinois '25), July 6, 1955, and was named executive secretary Aug. 17 of that year.

Since that time Miller has become recognized throughout the Greek world as one of the top professionals among fraternity executives. He has been active in the Interfraternity Conference and served as president of the Fraternity Executives Association, also spending several years on its executive committee.

Bob Miller has established the reputation for honesty and frankness in the way he has administered the affairs of Phi Delta Theta. This doesn't mean that everyone has liked everything he has done—but they have respected him for the manner in which he has done it. And it must be remembered that he has guided the fraternity through some of its darkest days in the 1960's and early 1970's when all Greek-letter organizations suffered from campus unrest and declining interest. Now that the situation has improved considerably he, and others like him in other fraternities and sororities, should be recognized for the strong leadership they demonstrated.

Miller grew up in Mansfield, Ohio. While still a senior in high school there he was sworn into service in the United States Army Air Force and was called to active duty six months later. Following two years of service he entered Heidelberg College and later transferred to the University of New Mexico where Phi Delta Theta had been established a year earlier.

He was initiated as Bond No. 50 and went on to serve as chapter president for two terms. As an undergraduate he attended both the Centennial Convention at Oxford in 1948 and the Chicago Convention in 1950.

After receiving his B.S. Degree in 1950 Miller stayed on at New Mexico for graduate work. It was while he was in graduate studies at New Mexico that he met his wife, Jerri. The Millers have two sons, Rob (Clemson '76), who is now doing graduate work at Rice University in Houston, and Dennis, who is a high school sophomore in Hamilton, Ohio.

When he became a field secretary he completed work at Miami University to satisfy requirements for the M.A. from New Mexico. He is currently working on an M.B.A. degree from Florida Atlantic University which he is expected to complete in 1977.

Miller has been active in the local Oxford community as well. He has served 10 years on the community's hospital board and has served as president of that board and chairman of the Oxford Community Chest. He has been an active worker in the local St. Mary's Catholic Church. He helped establish and served as president of the Oxford Rotary Club and later, as president of the city's Federation of Clubs. In 1968 he was named Oxford's "Citizen of the Year." He is also a certified associate executive of the American Society of Association Executives.

Phi Delta Theta has been indeed fortunate throughout its history to have had the benefit of strong leadership. This is especially true of the three executives who have served the fraternity—Arthur R. Priest (DePauw '91), Paul Beam, and Bob Miller.

The charters remaining in suspension are Illinois Beta at the University of Chicago, Kentucky Epsilon at the University of Kentucky and Oregon Alpha at the University of Oregon. Progress is being made on each of these campuses which may lead to the return of these chapters to good standing within the coming months. In fact, a colony is currently in existence at the University of Oregon. In addition, another colony has been established during the past year at Louisiana State University-Shreveport.

Chapter Consultant

The total number of pledges has increased for three consecutive years and it appears that we will see continued improvement in the future. The current total of initiates since Robert Morrison signed the Bond on December 26, 1848, is 139,367. Among the men pledged in 1974-76 were 766 direct legacies, of whom 501 were Phi brothers, 340 were sons of Phis and 70 had Phi grandfathers. Of particular note is the fact that four were great grandsons of Phis.

Chapter Services

Again this biennium the General Fraternity has been blessed with a dedicated and competent staff of Chapter Consultants, including Loy U. Olson, (Kearney State '72), Lawrence F. Carr, (Bowling Green '73), and Richard T. Walters, (Ashland '74), all of whom completed their tours of duty by the end of the fiscal year. Added to our Consultant staff were Robert P. Roberts, Jr., (Ball State '74), and Arthur F. Hoge III, (Westminster '75), both of whom will continue their duties in 1976-77.

the staff as a Chapter Consultant in July 1969 and later went on to become the Director of Chapter Services, retired to greener pastures in May 1975, leaving behind a reputation for attention to detail and devotion to service unequalled by anyone in a similar capacity. It was the Fraternity's good fortune to obtain as a replacement for Bill the services of Cary R. Buxton (Butler '73), who had served as a Chapter Consultant during 1973-75. Cary carries his new responsibilities with dignity and has already earned the plaudits of many officers at both the chapter and alumni levels.

During the past two years, the General Headquarters staff has made a total of 438 visits to the chapters, 215 visitations occurring during 1974-75 and the balance of 223 in 1975-76. All chapters were visited at least once during each of the academic years. Over 50 chapters were visited twice each year and, in addition, at least nine chapters received three visits each year.

Volunteer Workers Excel

No fraternity can boast of a better corps of volunteer workers than we have in Phi Delta Theta. The Province Presidents have smashed all prior records by making a total of 655 chapter visits, 323 of them in 1974-75 and 332 in 1975-76. Twenty-one presidents made double visits in the first half of the period, while 16 officers reached this goal in the last half of the biennium. Triple visits were made by Lynn Cole in 1974-75 and by Scott Crowley, George Notaras and Bob Woerner in 1975-76. John Harding, from the province encompassing all of North Texas, continued the trend he started in 1973-74 of visiting all five of his chapters at least four times each year.

Chapter Officer and Adviser Conferences

Over the years your Phi Delta Theta officers have experimented with just about every type of conference to help prepare officers, undergraduate and alumni alike, to be more efficient. There have been meetings with Province Presidents; there have been conferences for both Province Presidents and Chapter Advisers; there have been Province and Bi-Province and Tri-Province conclaves; there have been regional leadership education workshops, etc. The major thrust of our efforts this past two years has been to concentrate on regional meetings involving two to three provinces where major chapter officers and their advisers could gather to discuss current issues involving Fraternity operations. There were 109 chapters represented by 395 undergraduates and 34 chapter advisers in 1975. These figures increased to 427 undergraduates and 57 advisers from 125 chapters in attendance at similar meetings in 1976. We believe these meetings have been extremely successful in improving the quality of chapter operation even though approximately 15% of our chapters failed to be represented. Unfortunately, the unrepresented chapters are the ones which most frequently are in need of additional assistance. Chapter Adviser attendance at these meetings has doubled over the past four years and chapter representation has increased significantly both from the standpoint of total undergraduates and the number of chapters involved. Chapters which failed to send representatives to the conferences both years are Kansas Delta at Wichita State, Texas Iota at Lamar and Virginia Zeta at Washington and Lee.

Alumni Donations Support Major Programs

Phi Delta Theta is blessed with many devoted alumni who give generously of their time and money to "pay back a little of what I gained through my Fraternity membership." We continue to count on Phis to make financial contributions which enable existing programs to continue and provide for the introduction of new services from time to time. Without substantial alumni financial support, many programs would be discontinued or initiation fees would need to be increased substantially.

1500 CLUB

These chapters have initiated 1,500 or more members. The figure in parenthesis is the date of founding.

1. Indiana Alpha (1849)	1814
2. Washington Alpha (1900)	1761
3. Tennessee Alpha (1876)	1708
4. Florida Alpha (1924)	1694
5. Ohio Alpha (1848)	1689
6. Illinois Delta-Zeta (1871)	1670
7. Missouri Alpha (1870)	1660
8. Georgia Alpha (1871)	1651
9. Kansas Alpha (1882)	1644
10. Ohio Zeta (1883)	1597
11. Ohio Gamma (1868)	1570
12. Georgia Beta (1871)	1567
13. Alabama Beta (1879)	1553

We can no longer report statistically on a fiscal year basis in view of the decision in 1973 to accumulate all alumni contribution records on a normal calendar year. The new approach became effective on January 1, 1974 so that the figures below extend six months into the prior biennium and cover the two year period which ended December 31, 1975.

Following our special appeal for financial assistance during the latter part of 1973, when the Fraternity celebrated its 125th anniversary, the number of contributors and the amount contributed declined in 1974. It must be remembered that alumni broke all existing records in making contributions to help commemorate our significant birthday. Even so, 3,989 alumni contributed a total of $68,319 during 1974 for an average gift of $17.13. A special gift of $6,729 that year brought the total level of giving to $75,048.

The 1975 campaign returned to normal with total contributions of $103,979 from 5,152 alumni for an average of $20.18. A special gift of $5,950 brought the grand total to $109,929.

Chapter Statistics

Ten years ago, only the Indiana Alpha chapter at Indiana University had exceeded the number of 1,500 on the chapter roll. Today, 13 chapters have initiated in excess of 1,500 members and an additional 59 chapters have initiated over 1,000 members.

Two chapters have celebrated their 125th anniversaries, 33 are now 100 years old and three more will be entering this category during the next two years. An additional 53 chapters are now 50 years old. The current chapter is averaging about 55 members, about 22 men are pledged each year, and 19 of that number are initiated.

A Few Problem Situations Remain

In the face of continuing fraternal growth at all levels, there are still a few chapters which continue to experience difficulty either because of the campus situation or internal difficulties. The most critical situations exist in the following chapters:

Arizona Alpha - University of Arizona
 Georgia Gamma - Mercer University
 New Mexico Alpha - University of New Mexico
 Ohio Nu - Youngstown State University
 Pennsylvania Gamma - Washington & Jefferson College
 Texas Gamma - Southwestern University
 Vermont Alpha - University of Vermont

The members of each chapter listed above have adopted a management by objectives approach to improving their respective situations. We trust that alumni of these chapters who read this report will contact chapter representatives to offer assistance.

Improved chapters which continue to experience some difficulties in operations are:

Florida Alpha - University of Florida
 Florida Delta - University of Miami
 Louisiana Beta - Louisiana State University
 Utah Alpha - University of Utah

There is a third category of "low performance chapters" where it would appear that the campus climate is conducive to sound operation but, for some reason, officers and members have failed to take full advantage of existing opportunities. At the close of the 1975-76 year, the following chapters appear in this category:

California Alpha - University of California, Berkeley
 New York Beta - Union College
 Nova Scotia Alpha - Dalhousie University
 Ohio Epsilon - University of Akron
 Oklahoma Alpha - University of Oklahoma
 Pennsylvania Beta - Gettysburg College
 Pennsylvania Epsilon - Dickinson College
 Pennsylvania Theta - Pennsylvania State University
 Texas Iota - Lamar University
 Virginia Eta - Virginia Polytechnic Institute

Unfortunately, seven of these chapters were on our warning list of two years ago, namely California Alpha, Florida Delta, Louisiana Beta, New York Beta, Ohio Nu, Pennsylvania Theta and Vermont Alpha.

Conclusion

As we look back over the past ten years, it seems as if we have gone through one crisis after another and usually, not without warning. Luckily we anticipated many of our problems or the results could have been devastating. What with the closing of schools and hospitals and the loss of fire and police protection in financially desperate cities; the increase in malpractice insurance rates, the skyrocketing oil prices, the banning of chemical additives to our food, the high price of adequate health care, not to mention the cost of a college education, or the price of housing, perhaps we should have taken our jolts in stride.

Even so, the increasing cost of basic operations, including double digit inflation of a couple years ago, has made it difficult to keep the budget balanced. The interference of the government, via TITLE IX, OSHA, ERISA and the IRS, has kept all business managers on their toes. In the face of this turmoil and the rapidly changing times, we think it all the more creditable that Phi Delta Theta has had sound leadership in the person of five elected representatives on the General Council. Our Editor, Bill Dean, has fought the battle of inflation and won in his efforts to print a viable magazine for the members. The General Headquarters staff, including the clerks, typists and office manager have again performed exceptionally well and often beyond the call of duty to turn out the multitude of communications required in an association with almost 100,000 living members.

Lothar Vasholz (Colorado '52)
 General Council President 1974-76

 General Council President 1976-78

It has been a great pleasure associating with all these people during the past biennium. The privilege of this association became all the more meaningful when the Executive Vice President was surprised with a special presentation at the 1976 convention commemorating his 25 years as a member of the General Headquarters Staff. It had literally seemed like a much shorter period of time, due primarily to the cheerful cooperation of all Fraternity employees and the exceptional service of volunteer workers. That's two sides of the triangle. The other side, of course, is the family. Without the understanding support and encouragement of family members, the many challenging "opportunities" of the past 25 years could have easily become unmanageable "problems."

This communication is intended to channel current events, news and ideas to advisers on a quarterly basis. In addition, a special certificate has been prepared for each adviser marking his appointment. This attractive certificate, suitable for framing, is an extension of the fraternity's appreciation of this volunteer worker.

Senator J. Bennett Johnston, Jr. (Washington & Lee '54), Democrat from Louisiana, has furnished the Benjamin Harrison Memorial Home in Indianapolis with a new American flag on behalf of the fraternity. The new flag, which had flown over the Capitol, was raised by a color guard from Fort Benjamin Harrison for the celebration of President Harrison's 143rd birthday Aug. 20. The ceremony was attended by 250 people.

Dave Gerard (Wabash '31), a nationally syndicated cartoonist, furnished the Wabash College alumni magazine with cartoons for a recent politically-oriented issue. He served as the mayor of Crawfordsville, Indiana, from 1972 to 1976. He is active in the Republican Party and has served on the city council for seven years.

In commemoration of the Centennial of Phi Delta Theta at Lehigh, the chapter is sponsoring a series of public lectures by notable members of the Lehigh community. The first two, sponsored last spring, included David C. Amidon, Jr., lecturer in urban studies; and Honorable Gordon Mower, mayor of Bethlehem. The series will continue this fall.

BOB DAVENPORT

Former All-American Still Scoring Points

By BILL MOOR
(Indiana '71)

South Bend Tribune Sports Writer

Bob Davenport has always left a lasting impression. Only his methods have changed over the years.

Two decades ago as an All-American fullback at UCLA, he used bone-jarring straight arms and crossbody blocks.

Today, he makes his point to the youth of America with two unlikely partners — the bicycle and the Bible.

Davenport's goal is to prove to young people that you don't have to be a sissy, a stuffy-shirted Milquetoast or a pious prude to be a Christian.

He does this with his 11-year old program known as the Wandering Wheels — an organization that has taken over 700 young men and women across the United States on bicycles. Not to mention trips through Europe, the Holy Land and countless regional jaunts through America.

This 6-1, 220-pound dynamo who still looks tough enough to play the kind of football that earned him MVP awards in the Rose Bowl, Hula Bowl and Pac-8.

He coached football at Elkhart Taylor University for 11 years after two years of Canadian pro ball and three knee operations. His Wheels program is still based at this small college in Upland, Ind.

Davenport always believed that the closest way to experience God was in His great outdoors and not just an hour a week in a padded pew. So, his idea was to put kids on a bicycle, let them ride across America during their summer vacation and grow in appreciation of the human body and God's handiwork.

"You let a youngster pedal 120 miles across a desert or through a 10,000-foot mountain pass and he suddenly finds out that he's not as tough as he thought he was," Davenport said.

"And he learns to appreciate the little things in life — a glass of water, a shade tree, a helping hand, even a bar of soap. You've never seen a closer group than one who has pedaled across America together only a few feet apart."

In fact, Davenport, now in his early 40s, has ridden over 7,000 miles himself this year and on one of the coast-to-coast trips, he and his wife rode together on a tandem. "You want to test a marriage. Try riding across the country just a few inches apart all day," he chuckles.

While at UCLA, he also came under the influence of Bill Bright, the founder of Campus Crusade, and began speaking to young people. "I guess they were looking for a big, ornery guy who could assure kids that they weren't sissies or out to lunch or they couldn't swing if they were Christians," he said.

But he found too many of the youngsters yawning when he would give his talks. "I was there. The kids were there but their brains were out in the boondocks. I came to the conclusion that I better get out in the boondocks with them."

Thus came about his Wandering Wheels program. And what a program it is. ■

JACK PIRRIE

Nashville Executive Former Cage Star

Until just recently there had been only two men drafted by teams in the National Basketball Association straight out of high school. They were Wilt Chamberlain and Jack Pirrie (Vanderbilt '60).

Pirrie declined that offer from the St. Louis Hawks and went instead to Vanderbilt where he spent four years majoring in history and English and playing basketball.

He is now president of Jack Pirrie and Companies, an investment firm in Nashville. He is also a director and secretary of the Russell W. Brothers Insurance Co., and serves on the boards of a number of other business firms.

Pirrie has just completed a term as national president of The National Exchange Club. He has been very active in Exchange Club work since he joined the Nashville Club in 1960, the same year he received his bachelor of arts degree from Vanderbilt, and the same year he and his wife, Betty, were married.

In 1965 he was elected to the board of the Tennessee District Exchange Clubs. He became district treasurer in 1967, and secretary in 1968. In the following year he became the youngest president in the history of his local club, which is the largest Exchange Club in the country with membership at the 250 level.

Next he was named president-elect of the Tennessee district. Then shortly thereafter he also won election his first term as a member of the national board of directors. In his club he originated sponsorship of the NFL exhibition game which raised $175,000 for Exchange charities.

His company makes investments in small companies which he identifies as having solid potential, which may be moderately or undercapitalized, and which may not have sufficient marketing expertise. Besides making investments or taking options on stock, he obtains from these companies sales and marketing agreements from which he earns income.

He is very active in a variety of civic organizations in his community. He is a member of the executive committee of the Nashville Big Brothers; a director of the McNeily Day Home, a day care center for underprivileged children of working mothers; a past president and member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes; and member of the Chamber of Commerce.

He formerly served on the boards of Cerebral Palsy, the YMCA and the Salvation Army. He and his wife belong to the First Baptist Church in Nashville and for many years taught Sunday School (teenage and later adult) classes.

Alumni Profiles

His primary goal as president of the Exchange Club was to work toward generating greater participation by members. "There is really only a small percentage, maybe 10 percent or less, of the membership who are involved in the day to day activity of serving the community through the platform of Exchange," he stated. "The greatest need is to increase that to 20 or 30, or the greatest percentage we possibly can."

He and his wife have three children, Mary Kate, 14; Jack, Jr., 12; and Michael, 9. Up to four or five years ago he played a great deal of competitive handball entering perhaps 14 or 15 tournaments a year all over the country. Recently, however, he hasn't had much time for a regular exercise routine. So, except for occasional tennis, staying in shape is a "matter of pushing away from the table," he says. He is six foot five and weighs 220 lbs.

Pirrie may have had regrets from time to time that he didn't take that offer from the Hawks. Most people in Nashville are glad he didn't. ■

Ole Miss Plans Celebration

A Centennial celebration for the Mississippi Alpha chapter of Phi Delta Theta at the University of Mississippi has been scheduled for April 22-24, 1977, with between 600 and 800 Phis, wives and friends expected.

The General Council will be meeting in Oxford at that time and will participate in the celebration. President Doug Phillips (New Mexico '49) will be one of the featured speakers at the banquet scheduled for the evening of April 25.

Every initiation class has a chairman and a reunion is planned for each. The exact program has not yet been determined according to William H. Mounger (Mississippi '38), secretary-treasurer of the House Corporation. "We would expect to send out invitations on or about Dec.," he stated.

The oldest Mississippi Alpha alumnus is Toney A. Hardy (Mississippi '04), both Aug. 6, 1884. He now resides in Auburn, Kentucky.

Information about the celebration can be obtained by writing to the Mississippi Alpha Centennial Committee, P.O. Box 22603, Jackson, Mississippi 39205.

English Library Opened In Memory of Phi Delt

An English language library has now been established in the memory of Allen West Wood (Centre '45) at the Fundacao de Ensino de Passos, in Passos, Minas Gerais, Brazil.

This new college has two areas of education, one similar to our arts and sciences, the other, civil engineering. About 800 students study English and nearly 5,000 English speaking townspeople will also have access to the library.

Wood was well established in business and political affairs. As a political associate of the late President John F. Kennedy and a friend to the Kennedy family, he participated widely in governmental organizations.

His primary interests, however, were international. In his travels on business and pleasure, he visited every country of the world, including the new countries of Africa. In 1970 he was invited to membership in one of America's most unusual organizations, the Explorer's Club, headed by Lowell Thomas, Jr. The club is limited to those who have contributed substantially to the world's body of knowledge. His original works concerned the geography of the West Indies.

During the years 1962 to 1975, when he died, Wood was probably best known for his interest in helping international students, particularly from Latin America. As a member of the board of directors of several university associations, he arranged for student exchange programs so that students would have an exposure to other cultures. Brazilians who were studying in New York.

Many of Wood's books have been sent to start this new library according to Willis H. Griffin, president of the board. "The collection will continue to grow and to express Allen's concern for people who need the tools for personal and national development," he stated.

Any Phi Delt wishing to contribute to the Library can send their own no-longer-needed books or money which to purchase books to: Allen Wood Library; c/o Sr. M. Calixto; Fundacao de Ensino Superior de Passos; PASSOS, Minas Gerais, Brazil.

The library is used by many people of all ages, all of whom either now speak English or are trying to learn it.

CORRECTION

In the Fall issue it was incorrectly reported (page 122) that A.M. "Max" Brumbaugh, a Golden Legionnaire, was a 1927 graduate of Kansas. His chapter was Kansas State.

DWIGHT RUTHERFORD

Insurance Executive Receives Ohio Honor

BY CHARLES W. REAMER
(Ohio '33)

Dwight H. Rutherford (Ohio Gamma '26) received the honorary Doctor of Laws degree in Athens June 12, on the 50th anniversary year of his graduation from Ohio University.

For Brother Rutherford, the award culminated a series of citations he has received from his alma mater, as well as in his business field of insurance.

He organized his own insurance company in 1926, shortly after his graduation from OU, and is still president and owner of the firm.

He formed the Athens County Insurance Agents Association and served as its first president. He was also treasurer and a trustee for 10 years of the Ohio Insurance Agents Association, which presented him in 1946 with its annual award "for contributing most to the cause of sound principles and practices" in his insurance transactions.

Becoming a member of the Million Dollar Round Table Club (life insurance) in 1950, he was an organizer and founder of Fidelity Life Insurance Co. of Columbus. He also helped found the Hocking Valley Bank in Athens and is a member of its board of directors.

The Ohio University Alumni Association, of which he was president in 1959-60, awarded him a certificate of merit for service to the university and community. He is a charter member of the Ohio University Fund trustees, serving as chairman for five years of fund drives which raised more than $1.5 million for the university.

Admitted to the university's Jacob Lindley Society for his "generous contribution to the pursuit of quality and excellence" at the university, he is a member of the Ohio University Trustees Academy and Ohio University Associates.

He was a member of the Town and Gown Committee during the administration of President Vernon Alden, at which time he headed a private development firm which provided improved housing for faculty and students.

He was chairman of the Sheltering Arms Hospital Foundation during planning and building of O'Bleness Memorial Hospital in Athens and is a trustee of the Charles G. O'Bleness Foundation, which supports both town and university projects. The Athens Chamber of Commerce named him the outstanding businessman of the year in 1975.

He is past president of the Athens Rotary Club, member of the Athens Jaycees Community Advisory Board and past president of the Athens Board of Trade. He is also past president of the Scottish Rite, Aladdin Shrine, Columbus, and of the Order of Symposiarchs in Athens.

Alumni Profiles

Senior warden of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Athens, he has been a member of the vestry for 22 years and served on the building committee during construction of a new church.

Brother Rutherford was initiated by Ohio Gamma in June, 1923 and carries Bond Number 391. He and his wife, Rose, live at Rebel Hill in Athens, Ohio.

Their daughter, Nancy, is married to Morgan Penn, (Ohio '53). The Penns, who have three children, reside in Columbus. ■

Five Phi Delts Discover Brotherhood in Russia

By GILSON WRIGHT
Ohio Wesleyan '30

A Phi reunion in Leningrad, Russia?

That's what happened in August, 1976, when five of the 12 men in a group of 40 discovered mid-way through a Scandinavian tour that they were brothers in the bond.

Bob Haines (Miami-Ohio '41) Cincinnati, and a long-time friend, Tom Trump (Dartmouth '38) Milwaukee, were well aware they were Phis before they and their wives decided to go on a tour sponsored by the alumni association at Miami University, Oxford, birthplace of the fraternity.

It was all news to Gene Witham (Miami-Ohio '41) North Canton, Ohio, to find that a member of his own Miami chapter was among the group. And when it was disclosed that I was a Phi, we decided to get a group photo for the Scroll but if you've ever been on a tour such as this was, you know how difficult it is to get four people collected for a photo. So we waited.

Then it was discovered that E.C. Oppenlander (Miami-Ohio '20) Bucyrus, Ohio, also was a Phi. And on the last day of a three-day stop in Leningrad, we were able to get together while our wives watched David W. Lawrence, director of the tour and a member of another Miami-born fraternity, Phi Kappa Tau, snap the picture.

LENINGRAD REUNION: Five Phis from three different chapters held an informal reunion in the czar's summer palace grounds at Leningrad during a Miami University-sponsored Scandinavian tour last summer. They included Gilson Wright (Ohio Wesleyan '30), Oxford, Ohio; E.C. Oppenlander (Miami-Ohio '20), Bucyrus, Ohio; Thomas Trump (Dartmouth '38), Milwaukee; Robert Haines (Miami-Ohio '41), Cincinnati; and Gene Witham (Miami-Ohio '41), North Canton, Ohio.

PHI FAMILY: Three generations of Phi Delts come together at the initiation of Stephen W. Holmes (North Carolina '79) at Chapel Hill, North Carolina. The trio includes Steve, Hiram P. Holmes (Michigan '17) and James C. Holmes (Ohio Wesleyan-Arizona '51).

PHI WEDDING: With some exceptions the wedding of Ed Cappel (Arizona '69) to Minnie Scarborough in Columbus, Georgia on April 10, was principally a Phi Delt affair. The male portion of the wedding party consisted of (STANDING) G. Nolan Bearden (Georgia Tech '28), Mrs. Cappel, Cappel, Dennis Ranzau (Oklahoma '69), and Thomas Boyd (Arizona '73); SITTING - James Adams (Arizona '69), John Cochran (Arizona '71), Christopher Job (California-Northridge '67), and William Carnegie (Arizona '69)

ATLANTA

The Atlanta Alumni Club celebrated its annual Founder's Day Banquet at Cherokee Town and Country Club on March 25. The principal speaker of the evening was General Bernard W. Rogers, (Kansas State '43), Commanding General FORSCOM. The General, who has recently been nominated by the President for Chief of Staff delivered a truly outstanding Founder's Day address outlining the history and principals of Phi Delta Theta. All the 120 Brothers assembled left the hall inspired with their vows renewed in Phi Delta Theta.

The Golden Legion Award was presented by Horace P. Holden, (Vanderbilt '55) who gave Golden Legion certificates to the following brothers: Whitner Milner (Emory '27), Robert L. Jordon (Mercer '29) Joe Kent, Jr. (Georgia Tech '29) and Reuben N. Mason, Jr. (Florida '24).

In a unprecedented mood the Club awarded the Ward Wight Trophy for scholarship and the Frank Carter Trophy for scholarship to Georgia Beta at Emory University. The award presentation was made by Sam Smith (Emory '48), past province president and Steward Wight (Emory '47). The outgoing president recounted the club's activities during the club year 75-76, which included three fall luncheons, with prominent Phi speakers, a Christmas party and successful rush party in the fall.

Father-son groups present were Frank Jordon, Sr. (Mercer '27) and Frank Jordon, Jr. (Georgia Tech '59); John Hiles (Georgia Tech '50), Johnny Hiles (Georgia '78) and Tommy Hiles (Georgia Tech '79); Jack Reed (Georgia '38) and Harvey Reed (Georgia Tech '74); Mark C. Pope III (North Carolina '47) and Mark C. Pope IV (North Carolina '72); and Robert L. Jordon (Mercer '29), who was presented his Golden Legion award by his son, Lawton Jordon (Georgia Tech 61).

The new officers for year 76-77 are J. McKenzie Ralls (Emory '68) president; Hamilton Stockton, Jr. (Vanderbilt '64), vice president; Allen P. McDaniel (Vanderbilt '65), treasurer; Thomas T. James III (Georgia '67), secretary; and John B. Jackson, Jr. (Georgia Tech '45) continuing as executive vice president.

SANTA CLARA VALLEY

Excitement from the West Coast! Everybody is talking about the new Alumni Club of Santa Clara Valley! (Well, at least we're talking about it and we're proud we've started!)

A few months back, a group of Brothers got together under the guidance of Donald DuShane, Jr. (Oregon '65) and formed up the Club. For some of us it was the first time in a number of years that we had been in a group of Phis . . . and it felt good!

Officers have been elected and are as follows: President Dennis Fernandez (Colorado State '63), Vice President Wayne Leslie (Montana '62), Treasurer Dick Irion (Colorado '50); Corresponding Secretary Bill Gustafson (Northwestern '46), Acting Executive Secretary Don DuShane; Reporter John R. Jackson (UCLA '57).

Our first social function was a July BBQ at the home of our president. Food and drink was plentiful, conversation was good and the pool table busy!

One of our primary objectives is to help create an undergraduate chapter at California State University-San Jose (San Jose State). And we hope to encourage any Phi Delt alums in the area to join us in this endeavor as well as promoting the fellowship of Phi Delta Theta through our meetings and social gatherings.

All Phis in our area are urged to join with us in making this organization a success. Give our Dennis Fernandez a call on 252-6452.

—John Jackson

ATLANTA: Atlanta Alumni Club officers visit with their guest speaker, General Bernard Rogers, who was the principal speaker for the annual Founders Day banquet. They include Vice President John M. Ralls, Executive Vice President John B. Jackson, Jr., Epsilon North Province President Tom Body, General Rogers, President Bill Ransom, Treasurer Edwin H. Bishop and Secretary Thomas H. James.

GOLDEN LEGIONNAIRES: Phis who received their Golden Legionnaire pins in ceremonies conducted during Founders Day at the Atlanta Alumni Club include Whitner Milner (Emory '29), Reuben M. Mason, Jr. (Florida '24), Richard L. Jordon (Mercer '29) and Joe Kent, Jr. (Georgia Tech '29).

AWARDS: Georgia Beta at Emory captured both of the scholarship awards given by the Atlanta Alumni Club at Founders Day. Admiring the awards are Tom McCurman (Emory '77); Bob Seaman (Emory '77), with the Ward Wight Trophy; J. Mac Ralls, president-elect of the Atlanta Alumni Club and chapter adviser at Emory; Tom Body, Epsilon North province president; and Harry Singer (Emory '77), holding the Carter Cup.

LOS ANGELES GOLDEN LEGIONNAIRES: Golden Legionnaires who were presented with their pins at the Los Angeles Founders Day include Leonard B. McGlothlin (Colorado St. '29), Ernest L. Dolley (Washington '28), Carol G. Wynn (Stanford '28), Wilber M. Simms (Missouri '29), Robert A. Crowell (Washington '29), James E. Reynolds (Stanford '28) and Robert W. Shurmer (UCLA '29).

FOOD: Wayne Leslie enjoys the food at the Santa Clara Alumni Club's BBQ. He is vice president of the club.

FELLOWSHIP: Bill Schaefer and Adrian Nelson relax and enjoy some fellowship at the Santa Clara Alumni Club's BBQ gathering.

OFFICERS: Newly elected officers of the Santa Clara Alumni Club include Don Dushane, executive secretary; John Jackson, reporter; Wayne Leslie, vice president; Dick Irion, treasurer and Dennis Fernandez, president.

Knoff Gets '76 Harmon-Rice Award

Kurt Knoff (Kansas '75), a Kansas University two-sports star, was a decisive winner in balloting for the 1976 Harmon-Rice Trophy. He scored first on six of the seven ballots.

Knoff was an All-Big 8 defensive back in 1973-74-75; First Team All-American in Time magazine; Second Team All-American in The Sporting News; Third Team All-American Associated Press; plus a second round draft choice of the Denver Broncos.

He was also a member of the Jayhawk baseball team and a Second Team All-Big 8 outfielder in 1974 and 1975.

Again this year the committee had an outstanding group of candidates from which to choose. Trailing Knoff in the balloting were Rick Mosier (Ashland '76), a four-year basketball starter; Gary Gladioux (Washington-St. Louis '76), a four-year regular in both football and baseball; James Grubbs (Butler '76), an outstanding swimmer who managed to retain the same position in the balloting two consecutive years.

Knoff, although required to live in the athletic dorm and eat at their training table, gave active support to his chapter with his presence throughout his four years. He participated in all the community service projects, including a Parks Clean-Up, a Muscular Dystrophy Bike-A-Thon and the Easter Seals Basketball Tournament when raised $1,000 last March.

His efforts helped bring the chapter the Paul Beam Trophy and a tie for the Harvard Trophy at the General Convention last summer in Knoxville.

He made a special point to attend all chapter meetings, rush parties, and to drop by the house after a home football game.

His scholarship record is outstanding as he was on the Dean's Honor Roll in the School of Business Administration for three years. He was an Academic All-Big 8 selection for three years. He was nominated for a $1,500 NCAA post graduate scholarship and was elected by his university as its "Best All Around Athlete" both his junior and senior years.

Runner-up Mosier was a four-year basketball starter at Ashland. President of his chapter for two semesters he was on the Dean's Honor Roll six of eight semesters as an accounting major. His top athletic honor came when he was named to the All-American Academic basketball team.

Third in the balloting was Gladioux, a four-year regular in football and baseball at Washington-St. Louis. He also had a 3 pt. grade average in biology. He served the chapter as secretary and later as house manager. He never missed a football game in four years and ranks third in school career receptions gaining 1,100 yards. In baseball he was named "Most Valuable Player" in 1976 and two new school records of ten home runs and 41 RBI's.

Completing the top quartet was Grubbs, who finished in the same position last year. He lettered four years at Butler as a varsity swimmer and was captain last year. He was the "Most Valuable Swimmer" for three consecutive seasons and holds six individual school records. He served one term as vice-president and another as president of his chapter.

Others scoring ballot points were Gary Colton (Centre '76), Michael Hall (Davidson '76), John Busby (Arkansas '76), Mark Ralston (Whitman '76), Matt Rhode (Valparaiso '76) and Steve Moor (Northwestern '76). Thirty candidates were entered in the balloting. ■

Ed Ehlers Drafted By Three Pro Teams

By Bill Moor
Indiana '71)

Few men in sports history have ever been drafted out of college by three different sports. Ed Ehlers (Purdue '45) president of Edwin S. Ehlers and Associates insurance firm in South Bend, Indiana, is one of them.

EHLERS

He played in the National Basketball Association for five years after being Boston Celtics' No. 1 pick in 1947, was a bonus baby in the New York Yankee baseball organization and passed up pro football after being drafted by Chicago Bears' owner George Halas.

And this colorful career all started at South Bend (Indiana) Central High School where he was an all-stater in baseball and basketball under the immortal Johnny Wooden.

"John R. always worked with the quality person, not so much with the one who had the most talent," said Ed of the former UCLA coaching legend. "Then he took that kid and made him into a ball player. And that player would run through a wall for him."

From Central, Ehlers went on to Purdue where he was an All-American in basketball and captain of the All-Star team as well as being a star third baseman on the baseball squad before his schooling was interrupted for four years by World War II.

In 1947, he was drafted by the three different sports and chose to pursue baseball and basketball. "I asked Halas why he even drafted me and told him I wasn't that good of a football player. He said he knew but that he thought he could make me into one," Ed remembers.

He went on to play for the Celtics and ended up with the Fort Wayne Pistons after five years and played in the Yankee organization for three but never made it past Triple A.

His first roommate as Quincy (a Class B team where he was, the MVP one year), was Whitey Ford and he remembers playing both baseball and basketball with Chuck Connors, known better as television's "Rifleman."

But the Ed Ehlers success story doesn't end with

★ SPORTS SHORTS ★

DUNCAN McDONALD (Stanford '76), a member of the 1976 U.S. Olympic team set a new American record at 5,000 meters in August at Stockholm's Olympic Stadium with a time of 13:19.40 . . . BRIAN HALL (Texas Tech '77), a two-time All-Phi honor roll kicker, had three field goals and five extra points in opening wins over Colorado and New Mexico plus two field goals of 46 and 28 yards and three more extra points in an important 27-16 win over rival Texas A&M . . . All Phi and All-Mid American Conference guard MITCH HOBAN (Ball State '77) has been a standout in his team's first four victories . . . TIM YOUNG (Ball State '77), offensive tackle, was named MAC "Lineman of the Week" in the 27-14 win over Toledo.

All-Phi Lineman MARK PERRELLI (Oklahoma St. '77), 260-lb. offensive tackle, and DARRELL GOFORTH (Oklahoma St. '77), 255-lb. former All-Big Eight offensive guard who has shifted to center, starred for the Cowboys in their upset over nationally ranked Kansas . . . BILL BRYAN (Duke '78), All-ACC center, has starred in the four initial contests including a 21-18 win over Tennessee . . . RICKYE HICKS (Mississippi '77), an alternate All-Phi defensive back, was a starter in a 10-7 upset win over Alabama and another upset over Georgia 21-17 . . . DON PINKERTON (Whitman '78) has one interception in his team's first two wins . . . All-Phi defensive back CHRIS GOLUB (Kansas '77) had a fumble recovery and an interception in a 35-10 win over Washington State and another interception in a win over Wisconsin . . . RANDY DEAN (Northwestern '77) threw three touchdown passes of 3, 20, and 31 yds. in a 31-19 loss to Purdue; another touchdown pass against Arizona; plus 119 total offense in a 7-0 loss to Indiana.

his athletic career. Far from it. He returned to South Bend ("the city always beckoned me back") and entered the insurance business. He now sits on five different boards of directors besides being the president of his own insurance company. ■

Millett, Armstrong Receive Awards

Dr. John D. Millett (DePauw '33), past president of Phi Delta Theta's General Council, received the National Interfraternity Conference's Gold Medal at the 68th annual meeting of the Conference in Williamsburg, Virginia, Dec. 1.

The Gold Medal is the NIC's highest award and Dr. Millett was its 40th recipient. Ralph F. Burns, who served 40 years as the executive secretary of Alpha Sigma Phi, also received the award at this meeting, becoming the 41st recipient.

In addition to the honor given to Dr. Millett, another well-known Phi Delt, Neil A. Armstrong (Purdue '55) was selected as one of 12 persons to receive a special Bicentennial Award from the Interfraternity Research and Advisory Council. The award was presented in absentia.

Armstrong is currently a professor in the Aerospace Engineering Department at the University of Cincinnati. He is, of course, known to millions as the first man to step on the moon.

Dr. Millett is currently senior vice president for the Academy for Educational Development in Washington, D.C. He is former chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents and former president of Miami University in Oxford, Ohio.

He was first elected to the General Council in 1968 at the Asheville, North Carolina, Convention after serving many years as chairman of the fraternity's Survey Commission.

He was treasurer of the Council from 1970 to 1972 and then served as president from 1972 to 1974.

The NIC Gold Medal was first presented in 1940. The only other Phi Delt to receive it were George S. Ward (Illinois '10), and Judge William R. Bayes (Ohio Wesleyan '01).

Ward was president of the General Council from 1952 to 1954 and received the Gold Medal in 1961. He was the fraternity's NIC delegate from 1956 until his death in 1965.

Bayes was president of the General Council from 1934 to 1936 and also served as president of the NIC in 1927. He received the Gold Medal in 1951 and died in 1964.

Criteria for the award includes: (1) distinguished service to fraternity youth; (2) a life devoted to service to the fraternity movement; (3) personification of the goal and ideal of service to youth; (4) champion of efforts to raise fraternity standards; (5) freely gives of time, effort and energy; (6) promotion of sound educational attainment of positive advantage to youth; and (7) represents the composite aim of all fraternity leaders and workers to improve the service of the fraternity and educational systems. ■

From the Editor...

In the opening pages of this issue I have attempted to revive an effort that has been sidetracked by rising costs in recent issues. This effort involves presenting material to our readers that is not oriented especially toward Phi Delta Theta but is of general interest and concern.

In this instance the focus is on higher education and the fraternity system in general. Two of the articles are written by Phi Deltas who seem to me to be extremely qualified to write on their subjects.

I did not know when I asked Dr. John D. Millett (DePauw '33) to prepare an article about the future of higher education in this country that he would be named to receive the National Interfraternity Conference's Gold Medal for outstanding service to fraternity youth. The fact that this took place and is featured in this issue (see opposite page) makes his article all the more appropriate.

The significant honor that comes to Dr. Millett is well deserved. He is a leader in higher education in this country and it goes without saying that he has been a leader in Phi Delta Theta.

The Greek system also celebrated its 200th birthday last year and to commemorate the occasion The Scroll is pleased to present an article by William Pittman that discusses this anniversary and its significance. He is the former editor of The Delta of Sigma Nu and a faculty member in the school of journalism at Indiana.

Pittman's article is tied in with the report of the American College Fraternity Bicentennial Commission which accompanies his feature. The study and recommendations of the commission deal with the future of the fraternity system in the next 25 years.

Grade inflation is a subject that has been discussed widely on and off campus over the past few years. Dr. Charles Wicks (Willamette '47) is the newest member of Phi Delta Theta's General Council and is in a good position to discuss grade inflation. Dr. Wicks is a professor and chairman of chemical engineering at Oregon State University and continues his role as scholarship commissioner of the fraternity.

HIGHER EDUCATION ONE HUNDRED YEARS AHEAD

JOHN D. MILLETT
(DePauw '33)
Senior Vice President
Academy for Educational Development

Prophets are seldom honored, in their own or any other country. A very distinguished business executive in this country once told me that there were only a handful of persons in any organization who could be trusted to plan, to look ahead. Most persons become exceedingly fearful when they begin to anticipate the future. The unknown factors and the possible contingencies stagger the mind. All of us at best can foresee the future only dimly.

I would not undertake this essay if it were not for the arm twisting of Bill Dean. The good editor of this publication suggested this effort to look ahead, and I have no choice but to fulfill his command.

There are a few certainties, only a few, of which I am sure. One is that higher education in the future, as in the past, will reflect the expectations and the needs of the society it serves, and of the society that supports it. A second certainty is that higher education will change, perhaps too slowly, as society changes. A third certainty is that both higher education and society one hundred years from now will be different from what we know today.

One of the useful by-products of our observation of the Bicentennial of American Independence in 1976 was the appearance of several books telling us the story of 1876. I am confident that no one in our nation as of 1876 could foresee the United States of 1976. And yet here we are. With the same amount of good fortune, there will be persons in 2076 in the United States who will look back and perhaps be intrigued by the state of our well being and of our anxieties one hundred years earlier, as of 1976.

If I could foresee the kind of society that will exist in America as of 2076, I believe I could foretell the kind of higher education we shall probably experience as of that year. When I was a practicing political scientist, I used to say to my students that there were three essentials to the study of government: the political traditions of a society, the structure of political power in a society, and the process of political institutions in a society.

100 Years of Change

As I look back to 1876, I find a remarkable degree of continuity in the United States in our political traditions, in the structure of political power, and in the process of our political institutions. What has changed remarkably in those one hundred years has been our technology (our methods of work), our population size, and our material well being. And I find it obvious that higher education has changed immensely in those years largely in response to our changing technology, our changing population, and our changing material well being.

As I look ahead to 2076, I can hope for some further continuity in our political traditions, in our structure of political power, and in the process of our political institutions. At the same time I am uncertain about the future state of technology, of population, and of material well being in our country. And therefore I am uncertain about the future state of higher education.

I would guess that our technology will continue to advance in the face of several severe challenges: the challenge of an adequate supply of raw materials, the challenge of an expanding demand for energy, the challenge of proper protection of our environment. The challenge of national defense will remain with us in a troubled world where there are great disparities in the material well being of various national populations. There is little future for our nation without an advancing technology, and there is little future for an advancing technology without higher education as the source of basic and applied knowledge.

It seems evident that the United States is approaching zero population growth. We should have a stable population before 2076. But unless other nations also achieve a stable population, even a declining population, by 2076, we shall confront some very serious obstacles to peace and stability on a worldwide basis. I am uncertain how higher education in the United States will be able to deal with this threat.

There are some who argue that along with zero population growth we must set our national purpose as zero economic growth. I do not accept this proposition. If our technology can find acceptable answers to the challenges of raw material supply, energy resources, and environmental protection, I see ahead the prospect of further economic growth and further material well being for our society. And perhaps we shall be willing to share a larger part of that well being with other peoples.

Two Kinds of Student Output Needed

Higher education needs two kinds of student outputs in the years ahead, even as we have endeavored to provide them in the years past. We must have a high quality education for those who will be the scientists, engineers, health specialists, leaders, managers, and faculty members of tomorrow. And we must have a good education for those who will be the technicians, the support personnel, the followers, and the voters of tomorrow.

I expect higher education in the next 100 years to reach out to perhaps as many as 75 percent of all youth at 18 years of age, compared with 40 or 45 percent today. We shall continue to strive for equality of educational opportunity for women, for minorities, for the socially disadvantaged. We have made substantial progress in this direction; perhaps in the next 100 years higher education will become truly blind to the race, religion, and national origin of American youth.

I worry about two possibilities. At the moment with some loss of confidence among the American people in science, in technology, and in economic growth, we as a nation have lost some confidence in higher education. There is a danger that we shall offer a good education to all, and forget about the need for an excellent education for some. The other danger is that we shall equate higher education with manpower needs rather than with civic needs.

A changing labor force in the United States between 1945 and 1970 was voracious in its appetite for educated talent. Colleges and universities concentrated their instructional attention upon meeting employment needs rather than civic needs. We forgot that one of the goals of higher education was the inculcation of a standard of civic virtue. We had better rectify this lapse soon, or both society and higher education will suffer irreparable loss in the next 100 years.

Future of the College Fraternity

In our excitement about the Bicentennial of the Declaration of Independence in 1976, we tended to forget that 1976 was also the Bicentennial of the American College Fraternity. Phi Beta Kappa was founded at William and Mary in 1776, and it was in the first 50 years of its existence a social rather than an academic recognition organization. The very evolution of Phi Beta Kappa suggests to me something about the future of the college fraternity.

The objective of fraternity has always been, I believe, to bring together those college students of academic talent committed to civic virtue. The twin objectives of social fraternity have been the cultivation of talent and virtue. Those objectives are written into the Ritual of Phi Delta Theta, even as I am sure they must be written into the ritual of other sororities and fraternities.

The future of the American college fraternity is a future tied to our ability to evidence a commitment to talent and virtue in American higher education. I would not have it otherwise. ■

The Greek System—200 Years Old

BY WILLIAM PITTMAN
Former Editor The Delta of Sigma Nu
Faculty Member, Indiana University School of Journalism

In the 200 years since the founding of the nation, the college fraternity system has grown from a single, small literary society at the College of William and Mary to encompass 4,550 chapters of national and international fraternity organizations with nearly 2.7 million living members.

Fraternity men could easily be content to celebrate that growth in the 200th anniversary of the founding of the fraternity system, as a measure of the system's contribution to collegiate life since the founding of the first Greek-letter college fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa.

It can be documented that the fraternity system has enriched the system of higher education in North America, adding measurably to the social fibre of the institutions where fraternities have been welcome; contributing significantly to the growth and maturation of its members; providing early leadership opportunities for those who have become the movers and shakers in our society, and offering alternative lifestyles as well as living quarters for large numbers of students.

Fraternity Men Have Assumed Leadership Roles

To celebrate the past without scanning the future would be to deny the leadership role that fraternity men have traditionally assumed in a wide variety of endeavors, continuing the lessons of leadership learned on campus in adult roles in city, state, province and national leadership responsibilities. It is not by accident that a very high percentage of the elected government officials are members of college fraternities, or that the chief executives of many of the Fortune Magazine 500 largest corporations are also fraternity alumni.

Phenomenal growth of the fraternity system, particularly since 1941, clearly indicates a basic desire for fraternal association. It demonstrates as well that the system will endure.

Dramatic shifts in the direction of our society which have become apparent in the last two decades—the rise of minorities and the growth of urban-centered universities, open enrollment and a nearly universal drive for higher education—indicate some new directions for the college fraternity system as well.

American College Fraternity Bicentennial Commission

That's what the members of the American College Fraternity Bicentennial Commission have been studying in the months of the fraternity Bicentennial Year. The Commission, a joint cooperative effort of Indiana University, the Fraternity Executives Association, and endorsed by the National Interfraternity Conference, met in two special task force groups including college presidents, fraternity presidents, vice-presidents of student personnel, fraternity alumni of distinction, general fraternity presidents, undergraduate members and fraternity professionals to try to design a futures approach to the American College Fraternity system.

The close cooperation of Indiana University, the Fraternity Executives Association, financial assistance from fraternities, their educational foundations, Indiana University Foundation, and the Lilly Endowment, Indianapolis, all made possible the ambitious undertaking.

The summer meetings of the Commission, held on the campus of Indiana University, focused the attention of Commission members on the contributions of the fraternity system to campus environment; personal growth and development of members; the contributions made by fraternities to the sense of institutional community; and the effect of fraternity membership on academic and cultural growth of the members.

Then, the Commission members journeyed to Williamsburg, site of the founding of Phi Beta Kappa, for a two-day conference beginning Dec. 2 at the College of William and Mary to refine the statements of fraternity future as a result of the work of the Commission and its Steering Committee. A synopsis report was presented in Williamsburg to the members of the Fraternity Executives Association and to representatives attending the four interfraternity conference celebration.

Final Report Will Be Available

The final report of the Commission, including the working papers that were prepared for background, will be made available to college and university libraries in published form; and will be available from Indiana University and the Fraternity Executives Association and the National Interfraternity Conference office.

Leading the Bicentennial Commission project are Thomas C. Schreck, Dean of Student Services; Robert H. Shaffer, Professor of Higher Education; and Herman B. Wells, former IU President and former Regent (President) of Sigma Nu Fraternity.

The Steering Committee membership includes, besides Wells, Schreck and Shaffer, W.A. Butler, Jr., CAE, President of the Fraternity Executives Association, Delta Upsilon; Alfred P. Sheriff, III, Delta Tau Delta and William P. Schwartz, Sigma Alpha Mu, and Durward W. Owen, Pi Kappa Phi, former FEA Presidents.

Other Steering Committee members are: Jack Anson, Executive Director of the National Interfraternity Conference; Dr. Herbert Smith, Assistant Dean for Student Services and Director of the Interfraternity Institute at Indiana University; Thomas Bauer, IFC President at Indiana University; Jerry Tardy, Executive Associate of the Indiana University Foundation; William Pittman, School of Journalism and former Editor of the Delta of Sigma Nu, and James L. Green, Indiana University News Bureau.

Three major working papers were provided for members of the Commission, and will be included in the final report in published form. They include: American Society in the Year 2000 by Dr. J. Herbert Holloman, Director of the Center for Policy Alternatives, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Higher Education in the Year 2000, Dr. K. Patricia Cross, senior research psychologist, Educational Testing Service; and research educator, Center for Research and Development, University of California, Berkeley; and The College Fraternity-200 Years of Service, John Robson, Editor Emeritus Banta's Greek Exchange and Editor of Baird's Manual. ■

Commission Completes Study, Releases Findings

The 200-year-old college fraternity system received a "survival kit" to carry it into the year 2000 today as the American College Fraternity Bicentennial Commission completed a six-month study.

"The work of this commission points the way to a more complete partnership between a dynamic modern fraternity system and changing institutions of higher education in the next quarter century," Dr. Herman B. Wells, Indiana University chancellor said.

"Now it is up to the fraternity leaders, both in college and as alumni, to put the conclusions of the commission to use," he said. Dr. Wells is a former national president of Sigma Nu Fraternity and a long-time counselor to the fraternity system.

Denying the intention to produce a "master plan" the commission attacked instead the process of change as it applies to a chief educational concern: What can be done to enable each student to realize his or her human potentiality?

Issues of Next Quarter Century Outlined

The commission recognized that the college fraternity has been one of the most durable of institutions in American higher education, though not always the most constructive and responsible influence.

Given that durability, the commission assumed the college fraternity would survive into the year 2000 mutated, however, by increasing demands for a humanizing agency in a technological society.

The commission defined as critical fraternity issues of the next quarter century:

1. How well can it foster the personal development of each of its members.
2. How well can it accommodate a more diverse membership.
3. How well can it adapt itself to whatever changes may come about in the academic community.
4. How well can it involve its alumni in the life of the chapter.
5. How well can it transmit its heritage of ideals, values and principles.
6. How well can it carry out its ethic of service.
7. How well can it sustain itself without having to rely on a chapter house as the center of activities.

Challenges Will Test System

Although the commission foresees the college fraternity, generally, as being strong and vital in the year 2000 it predicts as well as a number of challenges that will test the powers of the system to adapt.

Financial and governmental restraints will encroach upon the fraternity's powers of initiative, though somewhat indirectly. A more direct challenge may be the fraternity's ability to adapt to a more diverse student clientele.

Honors programs and schools of continuing education already have extended the college years from adolescence to middle age, and this open-ended approach to higher education will expand.

With this open-endedness comes a decline in on-campus residence and the rise of the huge chapter house as a burden rather than an asset. Chapters of the future may be lodged in apartment-type complexes with a diverse membership which for some may include women.

Educational technology will permit the chapter to become, if it likes, an adjunct to formal as well as extra-curricular education—truly living-learning centers.

RALEIGH TAVERN: Most famous hostelry in 18th-century Williamsburg was the Raleigh Tavern, a center of business and political activity as well as a social hub. Rebuilt on its original site,

Most importantly, the commission sees the fraternity as a bastion of education, an alternative to career training, as the importance of liberal arts declines and higher education orients itself to work rather than learning.

Positive Assumptions For The Future

The college fraternity is seen by the commission as being largely conservative and tied to a traditional value system. From this perception is derived asset of positive assumptions for the future:

1. Fraternities will generally be strong and vital in 2000.
2. Fraternities will be able to adapt themselves effectively to major changes in both higher education and in society at large.
3. Fraternities will continue to maintain some definite relationship with academic institutions.
4. Fraternities will continue to affirm their essential principles and traditions.
5. Fraternities will continue to be self-governing groups.
6. Fraternities will center their activities in some physical locus at an institution, but not necessarily a chapter house.
7. Fraternities will continue to attract superior and outstanding persons.
8. Fraternities will increasingly receive support through involvement of their alumni.
9. Fraternities will continue to provide important experiences in leadership training.
10. Fraternities will continue to serve as important agencies of personal development.
11. Fraternities will strengthen their identities as communities of shared values.
12. Fraternities will continue their commitment to the ethic of service.
13. Fraternities will gradually become more diverse in membership.
14. Fraternities will continue to base their existence on the lessons of their rituals.

the Raleigh today is one of the 11 major exhibition buildings of Colonial Williamsburg.

BY PRESIDENT CARTER

Adams Picked Transportation Head

Brock Adams (Washington-Seattle '48), a 12-year Democratic congressman from Washington's seventh district, has been named by President Carter to serve as the new Secretary of Transportation.

Adams, described as a liberal pro-labor Democrat, is recognized as one of the foremost experts on transportation in the House of Representatives.

As a result of the nomination there will be one less Phi Delt in the House. But there will be one more in the Senate.

In the November elections two Phis won elections for the first time—D. Douglas Barnard (Mercer '43), a Democrat from Georgia's 10th district, and Joseph S. Ammerman (Dickinson '46), a Democrat from Pennsylvania's 23rd district.

Dennis DeConcini (Arizona '59), a Democrat from Arizona, is the new freshman senior. In winning he became the first Southern Arizonan to go to the U.S. Senate in 56 years. He is from Tucson.

There is also one less Phi Governor as Republican James E. Holshouser, Jr. (Davidson '56) could not run for re-election in North Carolina due to that state's one-term law. This leaves two Phi Deltas as governors—George D. Busbee (Georgia '50) in in Georgia and Jerry Apodaca (New Mexico '57) in New Mexico. Both are Democrats.

There are now 10 Phis in the House. Those winning re-election include Berkley Bedell (Iowa '44), Demo., Iowa's 6th; Richard Bolling (Sewanee '37), Demo., Missouri's 5th; James T. Broyhill (North Carolina '50), Rep., North Carolina's 10th; James M. Collins (SMU '37), Rep., Texas' 3rd; Barber B. Conable (Cornell '43), Rep., New York's 35th; Paul N. McCloskey, Jr. (Stanford '51), Rep., California's 12th; Robert C. McEwen (Vermont-Penn. '42), Rep., New York's 30th; and Paul G. Rogers (Florida '42), Demo., Florida's 11th.

Two Phis will not return to Congress for the new session. John Jarman (Westminster '36), Demo., Oklahoma's 5th, did not run for re-election, while Garner E. Shriver (Wichita '34), Rep., Kansas' 4th, lost his bid for re-election.

There are now three Phis in the Senate. Along with DeConcini there remain Georgia Democrat Sam Nunn (Georgia Tech '60) and Louisiana Democrat J. Bennett Johnston, Jr. (Washington and Lee '54).

Adams will be the first Phi Delt in the Cabinet in some time. As a relatively junior member of the Commerce Committee's transportation subcommittee in the House, he took the leading role in fashioning compromise legislation to build a new rail system from the wreckage of the Penn Central and other bankrupt northeastern railroads.

He also helped author the landmark airport and airways development act of 1970 that created a 10-year program of upgrading airports and navigation facilities financed by user charges.

According to the Associated Press he is expected to "spearhead a drive to revitalize the nation's deteriorating railroad system."

During the last two years in Congress he has served as chairman of the new House Budget Committee.

He was born in Atlanta in 1927 but grew up in Iowa and Oregon before moving to Washington where he was graduated with an economics degree from the University of Washington in 1949 summa cum laude.

He obtained a law degree from Harvard law school in 1952 and was in private practice in Seattle until 1961 when he became the U.S. Attorney for the western district of Washington. He entered Congress in 1964. ■

Graduating Cum Laude. So What?

BY DR. CHARLES WICKS
(Willamette '47)

The awarding of academic honors has been a long-standing tradition in American higher education. Dean's lists, honor rolls and the conferral of degrees with distinction have been commonly accepted means by which a university acknowledges outstanding scholastic achievement by their students. Recent trends in grading have resulted in a dilution in student recognition and have led to the question, "What does the grade mean?"

There is a joke going around Harvard University about the lonely senior who was the unfortunate member of his graduating class who failed to make the Dean's list or receive a diploma conferring magna cum laude or even cum laude honors. Eighty-two percent of the Class of '76 at America's oldest and most prestigious university graduated with some kind of honor.

Dr. Charles E. Wicks (Willamette '47) is the newest member of the General Council having been elected as a member-at-large at the 61st Biennial Convention last summer in Knoxville.

WICKS

He is professor and department head of chemical engineering at Oregon State University in Corvallis. In addition to his duties at Oregon State he is also on the editorial board of the Chemical Engineering Education Journal.

He has twice been honored for his teaching. He received the Carter Award for the "Most Inspirational Engineering Educator" and an Alumni Award for "Outstanding Professor on Campus." Publications include three engineering textbooks and 18 scientific journal articles.

Dr. Wicks is past president of the Chemical Engineers of Oregon and is active in the American Institute of Chemical Engineering. He was co-chairman of two national meetings and is a member of several national committees.

He is on the governor's committee relative to energy utilization in Oregon and has served as technical adviser to several chemical, metallurgical and oil companies.

Professor Wicks attended both Willamette and Oregon State as an undergraduate. He received a B.S. from Oregon State in 1950, an M.S. from Carnegie Institute of Technology in 1952 and a Ph.D. from the same institution in 1954. He has also done post doctoral work at the University of Wisconsin.

In Phi Delta Theta he was a charter member of Oregon Gamma at Willamette, a chapter adviser at Oregon State, a province president of Pi South Province, a member of the survey commission and scholarship commissioner.

Dr. Wicks has been recognized in Who's Who in America, Who's Who in the West, American Men and Women of Science and Outstanding Educators in America.

Dr. Wicks is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Tau Beta Pi, Sigma Tau, Sigma Xi, Phi Lambda Upsilon, Alpha Phi Omega and Blue Key.

He and his wife Miriam have three children, Roger Curtis, Kenneth Lee and Julie Kathryn.

Harvard is not the only higher institution of learning in which there has been such a sudden increase in percentage of students receiving exceptionally high grades and honor distinctions. In fact, there is an apparent national trend among American universities. A recent study by a Michigan State University professor concludes that the overall GPA on most campuses has risen about half a letter grade between 1960 and 1972. In this same time span, the University of North Carolina doubled the percentage of A's it handed out. The Seattle Times reported that in the 1972 Fall Quarter seventy-two percent of all letter grades awarded to undergraduates at the University of Washington were either A's or B's. The Dean's list at the University of Virginia included fifty-three percent of the student body compared to twenty-one percent in 1965. The Dean of Dickinson College announced that he was dropping his Dean's list, saying, "I didn't feel it was an honor when it embraced so many people."

Reasons for "Grade Inflation"

One or more of the following statements are given as reasons for this apparent "grade inflation." The initial rise in the grade point average from 1960 on was probably a readjustment from the rather harsh grading standards adopted after the Russian Sputnik success. Also during the 1960's, many professors admit that they started giving higher grades than actually deserved for fear that some of the students might get in trouble with their draft boards and be sent to Vietnam.

Other educators feel that the change in grading practices goes back to about the mid-1960's when the students became dissatisfied with traditional grading methods. Many colleges adopted the satisfactory/unsatisfactory system of grading, under which students could elect to receive traditional grades, some pass/no pass equivalents, or a combination of both. More recently, several universities elected to eliminate the D and F grades, giving an incomplete grade for unsatisfactory performance which required the student's repeating of the course if he desired credit for it. Many universities, departments and schools have relaxed their interpretation of the "passing withdrawal" rule; students can now withdraw from a class clear up to and sometimes including finals week without being held responsible for the course.

Another reason acknowledged by many educators is that the grade inflation is a pure cop-out from hard, unpleasant decision making. Faculty members are well aware that the student evaluations of their course are influenced by the grades given the student; in other words, there is apparent bribing of students with good grades to get good grades themselves, since the student opinion is now carrying greater importance in their tenure and promotion decisions. And some instructors will not fail a member of a minority group because of a feeling of guilt and/or fear.

Very few educators believe that grades today are higher because students are smarter. This position is supported by the Educational Testing Service which reports that the national average on its scholastic aptitude tests (SAT's) has been declining since the mid 1960's. The "grade inflation" has crept down to the high schools and their transcripts are no longer considered as true indicators for admitting students into the universities. "Vanderbilt will accept the alumnus' son or daughter who applies and has a straight A average," the Tennessee university proclaims, but they add that students with less-than-perfect must go into the "maybe" hopper.

What's in a Grade?

The grades received by a student are fundamentally a method of communication. Through the grade, the professor is presumably trying to inform someone of something. For the students, the grades should provide information which will help their decisions concerning future courses of study and on their academic ability. For the professor who must advise the student or evaluate the academic record for possible admissions to graduate school or professional schools, the grades should predict whether the student has the motivation, skills, knowledge and ability to do well in advanced courses. For a prospective employer, the overall grade performance and the grade pattern are used in decision making concerning the student's ability to do well on the job.

Unfortunately, due to the abundance of high grades given in each course, the academic record has been misleading relative to the student's true capabilities. Students gain overconfidence and professors and employers are forced to seek new measures for evaluating a student's potential. In fact, many evaluators are now requesting the individual's class ranking in addition to the overall grade performance.

Can the Trend be Reversed?

Unfortunately, once a college has accepted "grade elevation" standards, it is extremely difficult to return to the older norms. The students are likely to complain that the new system is unfair and the instructor's course enrollment will probably drop precipitously; this is an unwelcomed situation for any department which obtains its faculty members based on the student-faculty ratio.

The problem appears intractable; the teacher, department or institution which takes the first steps toward deflation will place their students at a serious disadvantage in competing for admission to graduate school or for jobs with the beneficiaries of inflated grades.

How does the "grade inflation" affect the actions of the fraternity members? In evaluating prospective rushees, the chapter should consider the student's SAT scores whenever possible relative to other entering students. This will probably give a better indication of the individual's future academic success in college; however, it is not the only measure of success since the motivation of the student and his study environment will play a very important role.

The measure of the success of a chapter's scholarship cannot be based on GPA alone, but must be based upon the ranking on a particular campus. A 3.00 GPA on a 4.00 basis may rate a chapter first among all fraternities on certain campuses or in the bottom half of the fraternities on other campuses.

Individual members must recognize that their overall academic record will not be the sole basis by which they will be admitted to a graduate program or be evaluated for a potential job; instead, the grades and class ranking in certain specific, pertinent courses will often weigh very heavily in the decision making. ■

Don Sutton Wins Lou Gehrig Award

Los Angeles Dodger pitcher Don Sutton, who spent his earliest years on a share-cropping farm near the Alabama-Florida border, is the 22nd winner of Phi Delta Theta's Lou Gehrig Memorial Award.

Sutton is the choice of the fraternity committee that selects the Gehrig winner, basing its vote for the major league player who best exemplifies the ability and character of the Hall of Fame first baseman.

Gehrig became a Phi Delt in his undergraduate days at Columbia University. The New York Yankee great's mother was a housekeeper at the chapter house when Lou was pledged.

The 31-year-old Sutton has been a mainstay on the Dodger pitching staff for the last half dozen years and overcame a personal challenge that threatened to become a jinx when he posted his first 20-victory season in 1976.

With 176 career victories, Sutton is now fourth on the all-time Dodger list, having passed the legendary Sandy Koufax as well as Burleigh Grimes during this past season.

"Winning ball games is a big thing, but it's very gratifying to be honored on the basis of this award," Sutton said when advised of his selection. "Being even remotely compared with the great Lou Gehrig is a distinct honor.

"I remember when Wes Parker was presented this award several years ago, and I've followed it since with interest," the pitcher added. "To follow Willie Stargell and Johnny Bench puts me in very fast company."

Consistency has been Sutton's main contribution to the Dodger cause since he assumed leadership of the staff that once was dominated by Koufax, Don Drysdale and Claude Osteen.

He's averaged 16.3 wins over the past six years, but the 20-victory challenge was beginning to haunt him.

"When I first won 19 games in 1972, I never thought there was a problem with ultimately getting to 20," he said. "But then I stopped at 18 and 19 the next two years and people began to talk about it.

"I should have known when it did come, it would come in 38-degree weather in San Francisco with hardly anyone in the stands," he laughed.

Walter Alton, who has been Sutton's only manager up to this point, pays him a high compliment.

"Don has always been ready to take his turn and give you his best," Alton, who announced his retirement at the end of the season, said. "He's never given me a minute of trouble on the club. He's just a high class person."

Sutton envisions a career in broadcast journalism when his pitching days are over, and is affiliated with a television production group in Los Angeles.

"I'm trying to learn the television and radio industry inside-out," he said. "Although I want to be on the air, I'm learning production, sales and the business side of it too."

Sutton has been a leader in "Baseball Chapel," the movement that sponsors non-denominational religious services in baseball clubhouses on Sundays.

He's been active in Fellowship of Christian Athletes and civic projects in the Glendale, Calif., area where he resided before moving to a new home in a different Los Angeles suburban area.

"Don is a tremendous person, and I'm real pleased he's our winner," says Ritter Collett (Ohio '42), sports editor of the Dayton (Ohio) Journal Herald and chairman of the Gehrig Selection Committee.

"Win or lose, he's always been a cooperative person with the media."

Don and his wife have two children. Darron, their 7-year-old son, has gained his own attention by saying Pete Rose of the Cincinnati Reds is his favorite ballplayer. "He admires a good one," says Darron's father.

Sutton is the fourth Dodger to have won the Gehrig award. The others are Pee Wee Reese (1956), the late Gil Hodges (1959) and Wes Parker (1973). ■

DR. ALFRED T. HILL

Tall Ships Experience A 'Dream Come True'

Last July 4 was like a dream come true for Dr. Alfred T. Hill (Brown '33), a retired educator who has spent the last five years researching and writing about ships and the sea.

Dr. Hill, along with friend Dick Iliff, used his 21-foot Stamas cabin cruiser Pepperell as a water taxi for the visit of the Tall ships at Newport. They performed this service in exchange for a guaranteed mooring, guaranteed parking space for their cars and a free visit to the ships of their choice without having to stand in long lines with 10,000 tourists.

"We must have made some 35 taxi runs all over Newport harbor, carrying some 60 free passengers from early morning till late at night every day," said Hill.

The highlight of the experience was the opportunity to visit the big Russian ship, The Kruzenshtern.

"What was the best part of it?" my wife asked. "Just being there and seeing all those huge square-riggers, boarding a number of them, chatting with crew members from several countries, and the genuine sense that we were not merely spectators or tourists, but actual participants in our small way in the greatest spectacle of America's Bicentennial Celebration."

Dr. Hill has had several articles published that deal with his seafaring great-grandfather, Tristram Jordan. A forthcoming book entitled Voyages, published by the David McKay Company in cooperation with the South Street Seaport Museum of New York, has just been released.

He has spent most of his life in education. Having graduated from Brown in 1933, he took his first job as an English teacher at Cushing Academy, Ashburnham, Mass. He then received an Ed.M. from Harvard and taught English six years at Culver Military Academy in Indiana.

In 1943 he was in the office of chief of ordinance for the War Department in Detroit.

He held management jobs with Western Electric and Herrick, Waddell and Company from 1944 to 1946 before attending Columbia University where he received his Ph.D. in 1950.

After serving two years as vice president and acting president of Lake Erie College, he spent the next five years as director and president of Pine Manor Junior College in Wellesely, Mass.

Dr. Hill then served as a staff associate for the Council for Financial Aid to Education in New York for two years and as executive director for the Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges in Washington from 1956 to 1967. He spent two years with the Commission for Higher Education before retiring in 1971.

Dr. Hill has traveled extensively, having visited 45 states as well as the Caribbean, Labrador, Europe and South America. He is married and has two daughters. The Hills now make their home in Falmouth, Mass. ■

Phi Gains Affluence With Variety of Ideas

Everybody has an idea sometime in his life that could bring in a lot of money, but few ever follow up on them.

Woodie Hall (Utah '37) could never be accused of failing to follow up on his. He lives with his family at Lake San Marcos, California, in affluence earned from following up on his ideas — about 125 of them.

His idea line is mainly toys, games, novelties and “gimmicks” like his mink cufflinks. “In the four years since I retired, not once have I ever gone to bed without something exciting waiting for me to work on in the morning,” he claims.

Some of his gimmicks that have caught the fancy of the public have been “Talking Animals” — tiny plaques with various animals attached with a saying. For instance, a duck with the motif, “You quack me up,” and a cow announcing, “I’m in the mood for love.”

He also markets phony credit cards like “Bunco Americard,” executive marbles, zodiac dice and a dice game called “Don’t Bug Me.”

Hall, 64, retired as a national sales manager with the Kingsley Manufacturing Co. five years ago to put his ideas to work for him.

Hall has had a long career in selling, both as a salesman and as a sales executive. After setting new sales records for the Kingsley Company, he served as the firm’s sales manager for 17 years. In recent years he has achieved prominence in the sales promotion and writing fields.

He has been awarded the Dartnell Gold Medal Award for excellence in business letter writing and has received three special awards from Sales Management.

He has also been extensively quoted in college texts dealing with sales letter writing. A colonel in the U.S. Army Reserve, he was awarded the Legion of Merit during World War II.

Woodie speaks to service club luncheons regularly, delivering a talk that tells how to market your idea—no matter how strange you think it might be.

“The man doesn’t live who hasn’t had at least one good idea in his life,” says Hall. “Don’t sit on these ideas. Someone, somewhere, will be glad to use them.”

He also offers five steps with which to climb the ladder of success. They include dreaming, daring, deciding, determination and dedication.

In his own words, “Retirement was one of the busiest things I ever did.”

Hebard, Jr. (Virginia '44), zone manager, Oklahoma City; M.H. Lillard, Jr. (Davidson '39), director of territory surveys, Lansing;

J.E. Delaney (Michigan State '52), car distributor, Jacksonville; Q.T. Jamieson (Allegheny '49), business manager, Philadelphia; D.T. Dolven (Oregon State '60), car distributor, Los Angeles. A.J. Priddy (GMI '65), car distributor, Dallas, was present but not in picture.

E. V. GRAHAM

Arizona Beta Founder Also Assisted Hughes

The man "most responsible" for bringing Phi Delta Theta to the Arizona State campus apparently also played a key role in bringing the late Howard Hughes to Las Vegas.

E.V. (Emmette) Graham (Colorado College '26) recently told his Hughes story to the Arizona Republic. "In 18 months, during the mid-1950's, I purchased many large tracts of land in the Las Vegas area for Hughes," he said. "But the job began to take up too much time from my own realty business in Scottsdale. Besides, I felt it wouldn't be long before someone discovered my association with Hughes."

Graham had been recommended to Hughes by long-time friend Del Webb, late owner of the New York Yankees and a string of motels. Hughes wanted to invest in Las Vegas real estate but was afraid the prices would become extremely inflated if word got out of his interest.

Therefore, Webb took Graham to meet Hughes in early 1953. "We met, that time and the other times to follow, in his tower suite at the Desert Inn after Del and I had been run through a gamut of guards," said Graham. "Well, we made the deal on a handshake. After that, in Houston, Denver, Los Angeles or wherever, I would meet his executives somewhere in the black of night and be handed anywhere from $130,000 to $250,000 depending on the deal at hand."

"Think of the trust he was showing in me. I couldn't help but respond with great loyalty to him. At one point all the property I had purchased for him was in the name of either my wife or me. Eventually I had to use other friends around the country to 'repurchase' the land in their names."

The transfer of all the properties took almost three weeks. Finally, the agreement ended, as it had begun, with a handshake.

Graham first came to Arizona from his native Colorado in the early 1930's when he arrived in Phoenix with "$45 in my jeans." He learned to fly and was a pilot for the old Scenic Airways. Later, he started the Associated Advertising Company and entered into a highly profitable association with Phil Tovera, the meat-packer and rancher.

During World War II he served the country in counter-espionage and then returned to Arizona and got into the real estate business. "I guess you could call me one of the builders of Scottsdale," he said. "I put the property together for Fifth Avenue, and I was Fowler McCormick's broker when he put the ranch together."

Long-time Phi Deltos no doubt remember Graham as the man who helped promote the cause of Arizona Beta at the Asheville Convention of 1958. That convention granted the charter and the chapter was installed Nov. 29, 1958, by President H.L. Stuart (Penn St. '20). Following the installation a portrait of Graham was presented to be hung in the chapter house as an expression of gratitude from the men in the chapter.

"I remember advertising for any Phis attending Arizona State or on the faculty," Graham recalled. "After we got the approval of headquarters for petitioning I bought a small house to start from and after a real petitioning struggle we made it."

Never one to do things in a small way, Graham then got Frank Loyd Wright (Wisconsin '88) to do the houseplan for the chapter. "I felt I owed Phi Delta Theta a big debt for the many things it did for me when I was at Colorado Beta. Anything I could help pass on to other Phis was a privilege."

E.V. Graham today? "Nowadays I'm just caring for my own property in the Carefree and Pinnacle Peak areas. If it's good enough to sell, it's good enough to buy, I always thought." ■

Phi Now Works At Third Career

To most individuals one successful career in life is a worthy goal, but Walter I. Miller (Dartmouth '22) can boast of three successful careers in his lifetime and he is still going strong.

Miller, who retired from the air force in 1962 with the rank of general after 20 years of service, began with a distinguished career in Illinois banking. From 1925-42, he was a trust officer for the Commercial National Bank and was secretary of the Title and Trust Co. and the Dime Savings and Trust Co., all of Peoria.

In 1942 he entered the air force as a captain and rose to major general, achieving the latter rank in 1955. He served as comptroller for the U.S. Air Force in Europe from 1957-62.

Upon his retirement from the service, General Miller began a third career as secretary of the Dartmouth Alumni College Association, working in the college secretary's office. He was liaison between the college and those who attended the two-week summer Alumni College sessions and assisted on numerous other alumni programs. He retired from the Dartmouth position in 1970.

He has served Dartmouth in a variety of ways from agent for the Alumni Fund to bequest chairman. He has also been active in recruitment and enrollment activities for the college. For several years, he has been the anonymous author of citations accompanying the coveted Alumni Awards, the highest accolade given by the alumni association.

One exception to this procedure was his own citation, awarded to him Dec. 5, 1975 at the annual Dartmouth Alumni Council banquet.

In the letter of citation Miller is credited with "literally putting the Dartmouth Alumni College on the map as you helped to promote it starting in 1964 and later to organize it when working for the Secretary of the College and assisting on a variety of continuing education projects."

CLEVELAND

Thomas C. Eakin (Denison '56) was awarded the Cleveland Alumni Club's "Alumni Phi of the Year" award at Founder's Day ceremonies conducted May 7 at Cleveland's University Club.

Del Donahoo (Iowa '46) was the main speaker for the affair. His talk was entitled "On the Way Here."

The undergraduate report was given by Steve Friess (Case Western Reserve '78) of the local Ohio Eta chapter.

Jim Hugo (Kent St. '70) served as master of ceremonies. Hugo is president of the club.

LINCOLN LAND

Mr. and Mrs. Don Kramer hosted the semi-annual social gathering for area Phi Deltas and their wives on Nov. 12. Also present were three actives from Illinois Delta Zeta at Knox College—Tim Lock, Paul Zucker and Ed Lanphier, and active Gil Cole (he came with mom and dad) from Indiana Beta at Wabash.

The evening was keyed to fellowship, good conversation and fun, but a bit of business was also attended to as Dave Nyman, president, introduced Bill Montague, Iota Province President, who related incidents from his recent travels through the province and at the General Convention. The actives gave us some insight to life at Wabash and Knox.

Lincoln Land officers meet regularly and include among their plans the building of a more complete rushing effort and the possible creation of alumni groups in Bloomington, Champaign, Chicago and Galesburg.

All Phi Deltas in the vicinity of Springfield are urged to become a part of this active alumni group.—Jim Cummings

WASHINGTON, D.C.

The Phi Delta Theta Alumni Club of Washington, D.C. held its September luncheon in the Rayburn Office Building of the House of Representatives. Guests at the meeting were those Phis who were members of the 94th Congress. The luncheon was arranged through the office of Congressman John Jarmen (R-Oklahoma).

Those members of the 94th Congress that attended were Representatives Garner Shriver (Wichita State '42), Paul Rogers (Florida '42), Robert McEwen (Vermont '42), James Collins (SMU '37), James Broyhill (North Carolina '50), and Senator Sam Nunn (Georgia Tech '60).

The meeting provided an opportunity for Washington Phis to have a first-hand account of the recently concluded Congress as well as the chance to renew old friendships. Over 40 members of the alumni group participated.

The Washington Alumni Club meets the third Thursday of every month. Several more luncheons of the Congressional type are being planned as well as the annual Founder's Day Banquet. Any interested Brothers should contact Wally Weichbrodt or Carl Scheid.—Randolph Dove

Colgate Honors Dunn with Plaque

Before a rain-dampened but enthusiastic Homecoming Day group of Colgate Phis, their ladies, friends and active chapter members, New York Zeta paid tribute to Brother John B. Dunn ('17) and his wife Helen in an impressive ceremony held at the chapter house following the Holy Cross-Colgate game Oct. 9.

A handsome bronze plaque, affixed to the wall of the chapter living room, was unveiled by Brothers Frank O'Hern ('23) and Lloyd L. Huntley ('24), attesting to the extraordinary and devoted service rendered by Brother Dunn to the fraternity since its establishment on the Colgate campus in 1918.

The inscription on the plaque reads: "To John B. Dunn - in recognition of his dedication to the founding and maintenance of New York Zeta and the major financial support rendered by him and his wife Helen."

Brother Dunn served as Bursar of Colgate University for 16 years—1943-1960—and for two terms as a director of the Colgate Alumni Association. He is also the recipient of a Maroon Citation and, in 1967, on the 50th anniversary of his class graduation, he was awarded the highest honor bestowed upon an alumnus by his Alma Mater—"The Colgate Alumni Award for Distinguished Service."—Lloyd Huntley

Huntley ('24) and Frank O'Hern ('23) admire the plaque while chapter president Pierre DeLa Croix ('77) watches. (Bottom) Dunn and his wife Helen are flanked by O'Hern and Huntley.

WASHINGTON, D.C.: (Top) Several of the Congressmen present at the Washington, D.C. Alumni Club's recent luncheon included: Garner Shriver (Wichita State '42), Paul Rogers (Florida '42), Robert McEwen (Vermont '42), James Collins (SMU '37), and James Broyhill (North Carolina '50). Club president is Wally Weichbrodt (Northwestern '22) (far left); (Bottom) Other Phis at the luncheon were Francis Brown (Akron '36), Colburn Aker (Ohio State '70), Egbert Tingley (Maryland '72), James Kinsel (Maryland '43) and Carl Scheid (Chicago '32).

FORT WAYNE

The Fort Wayne Alumni Club is alive and well again as brothers from colleges and universities throughout the Midwest gathered this past Nov. 18 to celebrate and honor new recipients of the Golden Legion Awards.

In an inspiring and emotional evening, Devon Weaver (Hanover '63) presented Golden Legion certificates and pins to Brothers John R. Sinks (Indiana '24), Dr. Alan R. Chambers (Illinois '28), George S. Collyer (Butler '28), Wilbert E. Petrie (Michigan '28), Robert G. McMurtry (Centre '29), and Milton P. Swearingen (Franklin '30).

Food, drink and fellowship were plentiful as Bob Punsky (De Pauw '34) acted as General Chairman of the event with the aid of outgoing president Steve Wesner (Indiana '61). Jay Thayer (Indiana '74) was in charge of entertainment while the work of numerous other brothers made the evening a tremendous success.

Election of new officers was held and will be in 1977 as follows: Jay Thayer, president; Don Hand (Indiana '65), vice-president; Don Johnston (Miami-Ohio '68), secretary; and John Friess (Michigan '57), treasurer.

Beginning the second Thursday in January and continuing each second Thursday of every month, all area Phi Delt alumni are invited to meet for a noon luncheon buffet at the beautiful downtown Fort Wayne Summit Club.

This will be a great way to stay in touch with area brothers as well as give every-

Appointments—Meetings—Announcements

Awards Program Evaluation Scheduled

In an attempt to improve the fraternity's incentive awards program, the General Council, meeting in Bloomington, Minnesota, Oct. 23-24, named a special committee to review the entire schedule and make recommendations in the areas of chapter, campus and general fraternity awards.

The committee will be composed of Province Presidents C.T. "Tal" Bray, J. William Stitt II, Weston L. Harris, Editor Bill Dean, former chapter consultant Robert B. Schuermann and Director of Chapter Services Cary Buxton. Bruce Thompson, reporter of the Council, will also work with the committee. Bray will serve as chairman.

The Council voted unanimously to remove from suspension the Illinois Beta charter for the chapter at the University of Chicago.

The Council also approved an operating budget for the 1976-78 biennium and reviewed a number of chapters who continue to experience difficulties in their operations.

Numerous appointments were made. Past President Lothar Vasholz was named to serve the unexpired term of Robert J. Behnke as a trustee of the Educational Foundation and J. Don Mason was appointed to a new three year term on the Foundation.

Kenneth R. Keck was named to serve an additional six year term as a trustee of the Frank J.R. Mitchell Scroll Endowment Fund and George Banta III was named to a six year term as a trustee of the Banta Endowment Fund.

Richard E. Galloway was named to a six year term as a trustee of the Walter B. Palmer Foundation Endowment Fund.

As recommended by action of the 1976 convention, the Council appointed a special committee to study the fraternity's nominating procedure for the election of members to the General Council.

Vasholz was named chairman of this committee which will be composed of Province Presidents John Harding, John Poole, Doug Larson, George Notaras, Sam Furrow, Oliver Samuel and Survey Commission member Robert Dinkel. Hal Minnich, Council member-at-large, will also serve on the committee.

The Council spent a considerable time deliberating on plans for the General Officers conference in New Orleans Feb. 4-6.

Buxton also gave an updated report on the schedule of Chapter Officer and Adviser Conferences for the 1976-77 academic year.

Attending the meeting were President Doug Phillips, Treasurer Glen Cary, Member-at-Large Charles Wicks, Thompson, Minnich, Executive Vice President Bob Miller, Buxton, and Chapter Consultant Robert P. Roberts, Jr. ■

* NEWSFRONTS *

Cliff Sommer (Minnesota '32) was elected president of the Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation at a fall meeting of the board of trustees in Cincinnati.

Other officers elected included Harbaugh Miller (Pittsburgh '23), vice president; David C. Prugh (Miami-Ohio '43), secretary; J. Don Mason (Miami-Ohio '35), assistant secretary; and Harold Minnich (Akron '24), treasurer.

Elected to the scholarship committee were Mason, chairman, John Worsham (Texas '51), and Sommer. Named to the investment committee were Minnich, chairman, Sommer and Miller.

It is hoped that the number of scholarship grants can be increased for 1977. This past summer 18 were granted in addition to the Arthur Priest Award.

Indiana State Treasurer Jack New (Indiana '48) was a guest of Indiana Delta at a formal dinner Sept. 27. During the dinner New discussed plans for the reorganization of the states' 360 agencies, as well as the financial problems and prospects in the future.

The invitation to New is part of a new program initiated by chapter president Phil Edwards to acquaint Phi Delta alumni, Franklin College administrators and faculty members with the members of Indiana Delta.

Members of the Louisiana Beta Chapter at LSU took part in a Muscular Dystrophy Marathon this fall that raised over $12,000. The chapter participated in a football marathon as their part of the effort.

Phi Deltas interested in the Lendman Associates Career Conferences should note the following conference schedule: March 4-5, Chicago, Washington, D.C., and Saddle Brook, New Jersey; March 10-11, San Francisco; March 11-12, Houston; March 25-26, Atlanta and Pittsburgh; April 1-2, Dallas, Chicago and Stamford, Conn.; April 15-16, Washington, D.C. and San Francisco; April 22-23, Atlanta; April 28-29, Dallas; April 29-30, Saddle Brook and Detroit; May 5-6, Norfolk, Virginia; May 6-7, San Diego; May 13-14, Chicago; May 20-21, Houston, Boston and Atlanta.

Fraternity Mourns Passing of George Banta, Jr.

George Banta, Jr. (Wabash '14), former president of the General Council (1932-34) and one of the motivating forces in the fraternity during the past 50 years, died in Menasha, Wisconsin, Jan. 18 after a long illness.

He was a third generation Phi. His father, George Banta (Franklin-Indiana 1876), was the first president of the General Council and is considered to be one of Phi Delta Theta's "Second Founders" along with Walter B. Palmer (Emory 1877).

His son, George Banta III (Lawrence '45), is the current Chairman of the Board of the George Banta Company. There are two Phi grandsons, Robert M. Banta (Duke '68) and William Humleker (Lawrence '73). There was also a Phi half-brother, Mark Banta (Wisconsin '04) who is now deceased.

George Banta, Sr., founded the George Banta Company, one of the largest printing corporations in the country and George, Jr., joined the firm in 1911. He served as both President and Chairman of the Board, retiring in 1971.

George Banta, Jr.'s relationship with Phi Delta Theta was a special one, beginning with his initiation as a member of Indiana Beta at Wabash Aug. 11, 1910, at the Niagara Falls Convention as part of a model initiation.

GEORGE BANTA, JR.

He entered Wabash that fall, already a Phi. "It was an unusual situation which ought not to have been done but was, perhaps, typical of the times," he once remarked.

He only spent a year at Wabash before his father's illness caused him to cease his education and return to Menasha to look after the printing business.

He recalled working for the fraternity in an unofficial capacity during World War I, inspecting chapters at Minnesota Alpha, North Dakota Alpha and Wisconsin Alpha.

In 1925 he was asked by GC President Charles A. Macauley (Miami-Ohio '98) to take over the editorship of The Scroll and Palladium in an emergency resulting from the reorganization of the administration of the fraternity.

The George Banta Company had begun publication of The Scroll in 1902 and President Macauley felt it would be an ideal situation, if only temporary. He agreed to take the temporary post which lasted nine years.

Banta was elected to the General Council as a member-at-large in 1926. He became reporter in 1928 and president in 1932.

His wife, Margaret Killen Banta, who is also deceased, served as the president of Kappa Alpha Theta, also beginning in 1932 and lasting until 1936.

He helped found Banta's Greek Exchange and was its editor for many years following his father's death in 1935.

While president of the General Council he originated the Survey Commission and also founded The Golden Legion Award. He began an early interest in the National Interfraternity Conference, attending his first meeting with his father in 1910. Later, he became Phi Delta Theta's official delegate and was elected vice president of NIC.

Following his service on the General Council, Banta still maintained an active interest in fraternity affairs. He served on the Survey Commission from 1940 until 1951, and served as chairman of the building committee that planned the construction of the fraternity's general headquarters building in Oxford, Ohio, completed in 1947.

He was responsible for creating the David D. Banta Memorial Library Fund to handle the expenses of the library of the same name on the second floor of the headquarters building.

Banta was born in Menasha on March 25, 1893, and was educated in the Menasha public school system. He was active in civic and social life in Menasha and was well known for his historical and philanthropic work through the Banta Foundation.

He received honorary degrees from Lawrence University, Wabash College and Franklin College.

The family has requested that memorials be made to the Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation. ■

Texas Tech Kicker 'One of A Kind'

BY BILL DEAN
(Texas Tech '61)
Scroll Editor

"Someone once told me it wasn't how hard you tried but how long you kept at it. It's true. The longer you keep at something, sooner or later, the breaks begin to fall your way."

Such is the philosophy of Brian Hall (Texas Tech '77) who kicked 15 field goals and 33 extra points in leading the Red Raiders to a 10-1 season and a co-championship of the Southwest Conference this fall.

Brian led Tech in scoring this season with 78 points. He had 39 consecutive extra point attempts during his junior and senior seasons. He finished as Tech's second-leading field goal kicker in history with 28 of 38 field goals and became their leading extra point kicker with 79 of 85.

Only thing is, he did all this kicking with an artificial leg.

When he was 14 years old he was involved in a freak accident that resulted in the amputation of his right foot above the ankle. He was riding on top of a sprinkler system on his father's farm about three miles outside of Dalhart, Texas. His foot became entangled in the wheel and sprocket of the sprinkler system and he had to be rushed to Amarillo, Texas, where the operation was performed.

"It was about eight weeks before I got the artificial leg," he recalls. "They had to fit it with a plaster cast mold. Then they had to reshape it from time to time. The leg is made out of plastic and fiberglass. It fits on like a boot. Then it straps on at the knee and another strap goes up to the waist to help relieve the weight of it."

"Back in 1968 tight-legged pants were in style and the artificial leg was quite noticeable. It was also very awkward for a time."

Today his limp is so slight it would be difficult for anyone to suspect the problem.

"I still wanted to be involved in athletics so I was the team manager my sophomore year in high school," he says. "But one day I tried kicking the football and it didn't hurt."

The school had to check on the legality of participation. He was finally cleared for eligibility by the Texas Interscholastic League.

As a junior he began his kicking career. He scored 57 points as a junior and 29 as a senior. When he enrolled at Texas Tech he asked the freshman football coach for permission to try out.

"I didn't tell him about my leg," Brian states. "When he saw the leg he just looked at me. He never said anything."

Brian missed his first extra point effort that year and was afraid he might not get another chance. But he did, and he was successful on 14 extra point attempts and one field goal the rest of that season.

He was on the varsity the following year but was redshirted. Then he quickly became Tech's number one kicker the next three years.

He had a disappointing junior year in 1975 even though he led the team in scoring. "I missed an extra point against Oklahoma State and we lost by one," he recalls. "I also missed a field goal against Arizona and we lost by two."

But his senior year made up for everything. He kicked 15 field goals which is a Tech record for one season. He didn't miss a field goal attempt from 40 yards or closer.

His field goals were the difference for the Red Raiders in their games against New Mexico (20-16), Texas (31-28), and Baylor (24-21). He also had important field goals in the Texas A&M game (27-16) and a key one in the Arkansas game (30-7). His A&M kick was his career best, 46 yards.

Texas Tech achieved something this season they had never been able to achieve previously—a share of the conference title. In addition, the 8th ranked Raiders got a bowl bid to face Nebraska in the Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston.

"People will forget Brian Hall when a new kicker comes along," he states. "But they will remember this team and the year we had for many years to come. It was a total team effort and it was a thrill to be a part of it."

Hall was named the winner of the Kern Tips Memorial Award at the end of the season. The honor, which he describes as "the highlight of my career," is given annually in memory of late Exxon broadcaster Kern Tips, who broadcast Southwest Conference games for the oil company network. It is given to the senior of high academic standing, unquestionable morals and outstanding qualities of sportsmanship. Another contender for the award was Bo Busby (Arkansas '77), a defensive back for the Razorbacks.

Brian is asked to speak constantly. "Athletic banquets have now begun to outnumber Future Farmers of America requests," he relates. He was Texas vice president of FFA while a freshman at Tech and was also active in the organization while in high school.

"Phi Delta Theta has given me the social outlet that I needed," he remarks. "I have found friendship and brotherhood in the chapter and this has been of great benefit to me." Hall has twice been called upon to give a speech at the last formal smoker of rush—an assignment seldom given to an undergraduate.

Hall, who is an Agricultural Communications major, plans to go into agricultural sales work when he graduates. "I might even try politics," he smiles. If he does, chances are he will be successful at it.

Brian's coach, Steve Sloan, pretty well sums it up. "Brian Hall is an incredible young man—one of a kind." ■

Baylor Becomes Tenth Texas Chapter

Tryon Coterie, social fraternity at Baylor University in Waco, Texas, became the 142nd active chapter of Phi Delta Theta when it was installed as Texas Lambda Jan. 15.

The ceremony was held in Miller Chapel on the Baylor campus with 57 charter members, their friends and families in attendance.

Doug Phillips (New Mexico '49), president of the General Council, presided over the installation and T. Glen Cary (Texas Tech '56), treasurer of the Council, delivered remarks on behalf of the fraternity.

Installation Team

Other members of the installation team included John E. Harding (Texas Tech '37), president of Rho North Province; Earl Lockhart (Texas Tech '50), president of Rho South Province; John Worsham (Texas '51), member of the Educational Foundation and chapter adviser at Texas; Harry Gerlach (Miami-Ohio '30), president of the Austin Alumni Club; Joe Nelson (Texas Tech '60), chapter adviser at Baylor; and Terry Scarborough (Texas Tech '68), chapter adviser at Southwestern.

Tryon Coterie President Jay Burns accepted the charter from Phillips. Following the installation Try-C entertained members and dates along with members from other Phi Delt chapters present with a dance and dinner party at the Top of the Town Club in Waco.

The formal initiation of the 57 charter members took place the day before with Phillips serving as president and Miller as warden. The other members of the initiation team were undergraduates from SMU, TCU, Texas-Arlington and Texas Tech.

The initiation took place at the St. Louis Catholic Church in Waco. Indications are that many others of the hundreds of Try-C alumni will also be initiated in the near future.

"We owe a huge debt of gratitude to John Harding for working so hard with Try-C and laying the groundwork for the ultimate installation," Phillips stated.

Petitioning Background

Try-C voted on Oct. 4, 1976, to petition for a charter but this decision came nearly two years after the Baylor fraternity made a commitment to Phi Delta Theta.

In the spring of 1975 Baylor allowed general fraternities to come on campus after an absence of many years. Max Sandlin, president of Try-C at the time, along with Hank Judin, vice president, met with the executive council and several members to discuss the desirability of affiliating.

Sandlin appointed committees to investigate the possibilities. George Heath, Ernie Fletcher, Wes Bailey, Mark Thornton and Judin were among the current active chapter president; Doug Phillips, president of the General Council; Jay Burns, out-going chapter president; T. Glen Cary, treasurer of the General Council; John Worsham, member of the Educational Foundation; and Harry Gerlach, president of the Austin Alumni Club.

committee chairmen who were charged with the duty of visiting the campuses of many Texas universities and talking to the chapters of various fraternities.

Also, representatives of various fraternities were meeting with Try-C on the Baylor campus. These representatives would first meet with Sandlin who would then introduce them to the executive council. After this initial meeting the entire membership would be addressed.

Harding represented Phi Delta Theta. After talking to approximately 15 fraternities over a period of many weeks, Try-C expressed a desire to join with the Phi Deltas.

However, before being chartered, Try-C wanted to examine the effects that this change would have on the university, the student body and the other fraternities on campus.

Tryon Coterie had long been recognized as the leading fraternity on campus and realized that their actions would directly affect the others. Sandlin and Bill Neilson, who was president of the student body, discussed the move with Abner V. McCall, president of the university.

After talking with the presidents of the other fraternities and sororities, most of whom had not investigated affiliation, Try-C felt that it would be advantageous to itself, Phi Delta Theta and Baylor to postpone the installation until a more appropriate time. In the following months, several of the other fraternities and sororities investigated affiliation to the extent that Tryon Coterie felt that the environment was right for final chartering.

Presently there are five national fraternities on the campus with six in the process of chartering while three fraternities remain local. Two social sororities have gone national and four remain local.

Try-C History

Try-C has a long history at Baylor, steeped in tradition. Although a charter was not obtained until the fall of 1947, the first discussion of the organization occurred in the spring of that same year.

Ruel Nash, first president of Try-C, and Hilton Howell, another founding father, discussed the possibility of a new fraternal order. In the years following World War II there was an influx of students into American universities, and Baylor was no exception.

Nash and Howell felt that the clubs on campus at that time did not meet the needs of these older, more mature students. They decided to talk with their close friends for help.

The name of the organization was chosen for two reasons. The unique idea behind the organization was brotherhood. Therefore, the founders elected not to call it a fraternity, but rather a coterie.

The other half of the name came from one of the founders of Baylor University. William Milton Tryon was thought to be the perfect gentleman by the founders of the new coterie. Thus the name Tryon Coterie was born.

The crest was designed by Braswell and untold hours were spent on the new constitution by Howell. The group was chartered by Baylor in the fall of 1947 with former Texas Governor and Baylor President Pat Neff and his wife in attendance.

The first sweetheart, Patty Kobitz, was presented and Try-C's first sponsor, J.N. Ramsour, was introduced. By 1948, Try-C had 40 active members and was recognized as the leading Baylor fraternity, a spot it holds even today.

Baylor University

Baylor University is the oldest Texas university in continuous existence since its founding. It was chartered by the Republic of Texas in 1845. With a limited enrollment of approximately 8,600, Baylor offers over 100 fraternities, sororities, clubs and societies to fulfill the students' needs.

Baylor maintains a College of Arts and Sciences and six schools: Business, Education, Graduate, Law, Music and Nursing. Baylor has a medical center in Dallas and an affiliated undergraduate and graduate education program at The Academy of Health Sciences at Fort Sam Houston.

Several universities from across the nation have cooperative degree programs with Baylor. The university offers 12 different degrees, including the doctorate of philosophy. It is a fully accredited university and demands the highest academic standards of its students and faculty. Baylor competes in the Southwest Athletic Conference in all major sports. ■

Tennessee Alpha Celebrates Centennial

More than 200 alumni plus their wives and dates participated in the Centennial Celebration of Tennessee Alpha at Vanderbilt over the weekend of Oct. 1-2.

The festivities began with an open house at the chapter house on Friday evening, continued with a Bloody Mary Brunch at the house preceding the Vanderbilt-Tulane football game on Saturday afternoon and concluded with a cocktail party and dinner dance at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Nashville on Saturday night.

A.B. Benedict, III (Vanderbilt '64), president of the Nashville Alumni Club, acted as master of ceremonies for the dinner. Part of the program was the presentation of "The History of Tennessee Alpha".

The chapter was the first fraternity on the Vanderbilt campus, receiving its charter Jan. 20, 1876. Since fraternities were prohibited by the administration at that time, the group operated "sub rosa" for seven years until the Chancellor recognized their existence.

During this period they were called the Dixie Reading Club, and held their meetings at the Odd Fellows Hall downtown in Nashville in what is now the Sudekum Building.

In 1892 they built the first fraternity house on the Vanderbilt campus at 2019 Broadway. This house had a round tower at one end, commonly called "Heaven" by its members.

In 1910 this house was moved to the rear of the property and the well-remembered three-story colonial columned house was built on the same site.

The janitor, Pope Fitzgerald, lived in the older house in the rear and became the bootlegger on campus as he kept whiskey under the floor.

The new house stood on this location until 1963 when the present house was built at 200-25th Avenue South.

It was also pointed out in the history that Tennessee Alpha alumni have played a leading role in the history of Nashville, of Tennessee and of the United States.

Three former governors of Tennessee were members of Tennessee Alpha, Malcolm Patterson ('82), Hill McAlister ('97), and Prentice Cooper ('17), who also served as U.S. Ambassador to Peru.

The great sportswriter, Grantland Rice ('01), was a member of Tennessee Alpha along with two present bank chairmen, Andrew Benedict, Jr. ('35), of First American National Bank, and James A. Webb, Jr. ('44), of Nashville City Bank.

In addition to the presentation of the history, Benedict introduced Headley Ball ('77), president of the active chapter, who brought everyone up to date with a current report of activities on campus.

Following this report, Headley introduced Dorothy Halliburton, who has been the cook, adviser and friend of many brothers since 1956 when she started to work for the chapter.

Later the group was entertained by "The Mayor of Morrow, Georgia" and "Burford" who were able to shake loose many laughs from the group. The evening was then turned over to the Louis Brown Orchestra.

The celebration was over a year in planning on the part of interested alumni and active chapter members. It was described as a "complete success" and served to remind those present that Phi Delta Theta membership is indeed more than "just a campus interlude."

TENNESSEE ALPHA CELEBRATION: Tennessee Alpha at Vanderbilt celebrated its 100th anniversary Oct. 1-2. Among those present included: (Top) Jack Braden ('63), Suzanne Braden, Keller Carlock ('60), Martha Carlock, and Tom Carlock ('63); (Middle) Robert J. Sims ('29), Evelyn Sims, William L. Killebrew ('29), Lee Killebrew, Ewing L. Bradford ('29), Grace Anthony, Dr. Hiram P. Salter ('29), Christine Bradford, and Max L. Anthony ('21); (Bottom) Betty and Dillard Adams ('55), Madeline and Howell Adams ('53), Ann and Marion S. Adams, Jr. ('53), Sue Andrews with her father Adam G. Adams ('08), Karen and Chancellor Alfred T. Adams ('18), Betsy and Lep Adams ('55), Peggy and Alf Adams, Jr. ('49), and Tom and Anita Adams ('58).

Dean Paces All-Phi Football Elevens

BY DR. JOHN DAVIS, JR.
Scroll Sports Editor

Randy Dean (Northwestern '77), who was honored as one of the five top collegiate athletes of 1976 at the NCAA Convention in Miami during January, heads the 1977 All-Phi football eleven along with five other All-Americans.

The All-Americans include center Darrell Gofourth (Oklahoma State '77), center Bill Bryan (Duke '77), center Dick Rehbein (Ripon '77), offensive guard Bob Nemecek (Ashland '77) and offensive guard Mitch Hoban (Ball State '77).

Dean, a unanimous All-Phi football choice, is an academic All-Big Ten honoree with 3.94 grade average. He also won a National Football Foundation $1,000 Scholarship and was selected to play in the East-West Shrine game.

The Northwestern senior finished second high in Big Ten total offense this year with 1,561 yards. He was the Big Ten's "Offensive Player of the Week" for his performance against Michigan State and was voted his team's 1976 Most Valuable Player.

Randy was also the high scorer of the U.S. Olympic team handball squad last summer at Montreal with 30 points.

Six schools dominate the team with 16 of the 22 positions. Paced by Ripon, the Midwest Conference champions with five—an all-time high for one school, Northwestern had three and four schools, Kansas, Arkansas, Ball State and Oklahoma State each had two.

Seven unanimous choices by the Board highlight the offensive unit. They are quarterback Dean, center Gofourth, guard Hoban, end Scott Yelvington (Northwestern '77), tackle Mark Perrelli (Oklahoma State '77), and backs Jeff Johnson (Ripon '78) and John Orrico (Lafayette '77).

Gofourth made the UPI, Kodak and Sporting News All-America teams at center.

Hoban, a two-time All-Conference choice, made the AP's Third Team All-America. Yelvington had 649 yards in receptions and a career total of 1,762 yards to rank seventh in fraternity history.

Paul Wiggin Fills For Smith on All-Phi Board

Paul Wiggin (Stanford '56), head coach of the Kansas City Chiefs, is a guest member of the All-Phi Football Board for the 1976 season filling for Wilfred Smith (De Pauw '20), former sports editor of the Chicago Tribune and a member of the Board for 28 years before his death last summer.

WIGGIN

Wiggin, an All-Phi and an All-American at Stanford, co-captained the West team in the 1956 Shrine game. He then spent 11 years as a defensive end with the Cleveland Browns while they won five divisional titles and one NFL championship. He was the top assistant with the San Francisco 49ers, gaining three consecutive NFL play-offs before being named head coach of the Chiefs.

Phi Delts Prominent on Ranked Teams

Phi Delts were prominent on the nationally ranked teams of Eastern Kentucky, Puget Sound, Ashland and Division II finalist Akron plus the conference championship teams of Ripon and Allegheny.

Phi's perennially dominate the teams of Lawrence, Washington University of St. Louis, Gettysburg and Wabash, and 1976 was no exception.

The offensive ends are paced by All-Phi Bill Rankin (Washington-St. Louis '79), Stan Jakaitis (Ripon '78) and Jim Nelson (Eastern Kentucky '78). Others include Paul Scaffidi (Lawrence '78), who had 29 catches for 383 yards; Dan Bogden (Ashland '78), with 289 yards; Rich Arena (Puget Sound '78) and Dan Severn (Western Maryland '77).

The offensive tackles are led by Gary Fricke (Hanover '77), who was his team's captain and a two-time All-HBCC and All-District NAIA.

Others include John Cipriani (Lawrence '77), All-Midwest Conference choice; Dan Sinclair (Washington-St. Louis '77) and teammate Dave Wenzel (Washington-St. Louis '77), co-winners of their team's "Outstanding Offensive Lineman" award; Jay Kopel (Davidson '77), a top blocker and co-captain; and Mark Noffke (Valparaiso '77), a four-year starter and "Lineman of the Week" against Evansville.

Sinclair additionally won the Battling Bear award and the Darryl Sharp Memorial award at Washington-St. Louis.

At center are a pair of repeaters, All-Phi Dick Rehbein (Ripon '77), and Jeff Lawrie (Franklin '78).

The honorary backs are dominated by three *All-Phi*s quarterbacks, Ernie House (Eastern Kentucky '78), Jeff Johnson (Ripon '78), and Ken Meyer (Lawrence '77).

John Orrico (Lafayette '77) tops the running backs with 829 yards and 335 yards in receptions for a total offensive figure of 1,164 yards and 11 touchdowns.

Others are Carl Allen (Franklin '77), who rushed for 381 yards; Dave Harvey (Wabash '78), who passed for 786 yards; Willie Keola (Willamette '77), who rushed for 378 yards; Al Smalls (Whitman '77), who passed for 1,398 yards and Washington-St. Louis teammates Paul Terna ('78), named the Bear's "Outstanding Back" for 1,247 yards passing plus 44 points; and Frank Simek ('78), who had 449 yards rushing.

The defensive ends are paced by All-Phi Keith Dare (Ashland '79) and Bob Larson (Akron '78). Others include Jim Howard (Allegheny '79) and Don Fitzgibbons (Washington-St. Louis '79).

All-Phi Tom Dyer (Wabash '78) and Vic Kalman (Gettysburg '77) head the defensive tackles followed by mid-to-late season standouts Mike Long (Willamette '77), Jeff Larimore (Indiana St. '78) and Mike Miller (Valparaiso '78), who was named to the ICC Second Team.

The middle guards are Karl Goebel (Ball State '79), an All-Phi, and Mike Kessler (Lafayette '78), a junior who started every contest.

The honorary linebackers are the Little All-Phi's strongest element. Jeff Frank (Lawrence '77) was an All-Phi. The others are Paul Andrews (Davidson '77), team co-captain; George Ballantyne (Washington & Lee '79), who had 71 tackles; Chuck De Paolo (Sewanee '77), who alternated as a running back; Rick Gehring (Puget Sound '78), who had 99 tackles; Keith Hallowell (Gettysburg '78), who led his team with 65 tackles; and Pete Schoenlaub (Whitman '77), whose top game was 14 tackles against Pacific.

Two *All-Phi*s top the defensive backs — Jeff Hughes (Ripon '79) and Richard Rubio (Gettysburg '79). Jeff Seymour (Ripon '77) was All-Midwest Conference with 59 tackles while repeater Mark Montgomery (Franklin '77) was co-captain of his team and had two pass interceptions.

Others include John Nemunaitis (Case-Western Reserve '78), who won the John Anderson Defensive Award for underclassmen; Don Pinkerton (Whitman '77), who had two interceptions; Dave Seibert (Western Maryland '78), who had 51 tackles; Rod Swan (Knox '77), who was an All-Midwest Conference selection and Jim Nichols (Davidson '77), who called his team's defensive signals and led in tackles. ■

FRED MCNAIR (North Carolina '73), member of the world's second ranking doubles team, clinched the second round of the Davis Cup Zone competition in a doubles win over Venezuela. MCNAIR and his teammate, far behind and apparently beaten, staged a remarkable comeback winning seven consecutive games and taking 13 consecutive points to win a five set doubles final of the Grand Prix Doubles in Houston, Texas . . . FRANK DUFFY (Stanford '68), Cleveland shortstop, topped all American League shortstops with a fielding average of .983 . . . JIM HUTTON (Whitman '76), who is on the Phi Delta Theta Basketball Honor Roll with over 1,000 career points, has been appointed the new assistant basketball coach at Whitman . . . GREG BUTTLE (Penn State '75), All-Phi and unanimous All-American, was voted the "Most Valuable Player of 1976" in his rookie season as a linebacker for the New York Jets by the season ticketholders club . . .

RICH BROOKS (Oregon State '63), who played football and coached at rival Oregon State, was named head football coach at the University of Oregon in early December. BROOKS was a defensive halfback for the Beavers in 1960-62. He was the back-up quarterback to Heisman Trophy Winner and current member of the All-Phi Football Board, TERRY BAKER (Oregon State '63). He was an assistant at UCLA this year and his coaching experience includes four years in professional football with the Los Angeles Rams and San Francisco 49ers plus six years at Oregon State under Dee Andros . . .

PAUL WIGGIN (Stanford '56) has been awarded a three-year extension on his contract with the Kansas City Chiefs by owner Lamar Hunt. Hunt commented that "We're not happy with our won-lost record but we know we're on the right track. He has inspired our organization." WIGGIN has had two consecutive 5-9 seasons at Kansas City, but the team has shown signs of youthful improvement . . .

BILL STINSON (Florida State '74), an Eglin Air Force Base (Florida) security policeman, recently captured two medals at the sixth National Police Olympics in Jacksonville. He copped the silver with a second place in the high jump, while finishing third for the bronze in the long jump . . . FRANK BOOTH (Stanford '32) won both the 50-yard freestyle and 100 meter freestyle at the National AAU Long Course Masters Swim Championships at St. Louis in September. He set a 100 meter freestyle national record of 1:11.894. Earlier this year he set another national record, swimming the 50-yard freestyle in 28.15 at the Mission Viejo National Short Course championships. BOOTH, who is obviously fit at the age of 65, is a strong advocate of the AAU Masters swim program, a program of competitive swimming for anyone over age 25. BOOTH was a member of the U.S. Olympic Team and finished second at the 1932 Olympic Games in Los Angeles, swimming on the 800-meter freestyle relay team. He captained the Stanford swim team.

GREG BUTTLE (Penn State '75) was runner-up in the UPI poll for "Rookie of the Year" in the National Football League's AFC . . . RICHARD BEECHNER (Nebraska '56), an administrative assistant to the Nebraska athletic director, has accepted the position as assistant football coach at Washington State . . . VERLIN P. JENKINS (Akron '24) and FRANK "WHITEY" WAHL (Akron '46) have been inducted into the Akron Athletic Hall of Fame. Both were selected All-Ohio during their playing days and were team captains. The 1923 team that JENKINS captained lost only one game. WAHL won eight letters in basketball, baseball and track while JENKINS won a total of nine letters, three each in football, basketball and track. Both were previously elected to the Summit County Athletic Hall of Fame.

BY DOUGLAS M. PHILLIPS

(New Mexico '49)

President of the General Council

Past President John D. Millett (DePauw '33) was awarded the Gold Medal by the National Interfraternity Conference at its Bicentennial Meeting at Williamsburg, Virginia, on Dec. 2, 1976. This is the highest honor given by NIC and is given for outstanding service to the fraternity system. This award thus recognizes the many significant contributions made by Brother Millett in behalf of all fraternities.

Those of us who have been privileged to work with him have long been aware of the talent and dedication he has devoted to fraternities and to share the benefits of these activities. It is an honor he has richly deserved and all members of Phi Delta Theta, I know, join with me in extending our congratulations to him on this occasion.

This issue of the Scroll contains articles on the award and on other aspects of the NIC meeting. It is important to remember that the year 1976 marked the Bicentennial of the fraternity system as well as of the country. The meeting of the NIC in Williamsburg celebrated the founding of Phi Beta Kappa as the first general social fraternity in 1776 at William and Mary.

During the entire life of this country, fraternities have played an essential role in the development of the leadership among college men who in turn took essential roles in the development of the leadership of this country throughout the world. The present strength and continued growth of fraternities is evidence of the recognized value of fraternities and of the opportunities and challenges which are open to college men today only through fraternities and their legacy of leadership and service.

Chapter Officers and Advisers Conferences

The Chapter Officer and Adviser Conferences (COAC's) have been held as scheduled with members of the General Council and representatives of GHQ staff in attendance, together with Province Presidents, Chapter Advisers, and the undergraduate representatives coordinated through the host chapter. The reports of the COAC's held to date indicate that they have provided a forum for an active discussion of chapter problems and the training and the dissemination of information needed to resolve those problems.

The success of these COAC's is a credit to the participation of the active chapters and the Province Presidents and GHQ staff. Any comments or suggestions about the COAC's and their future improvement are always welcome since these are the single most important training vehicle for the officers of our undergraduate chapters and of our Chapter Advisers, the key to any successful chapter.

General Officers Conference

A Conference of all general officers of the fraternity was conducted Feb. 4-6 in New Orleans. The purposes of the meeting were a rededication of all general officers to the principles of Phi Delta Theta, providing all general officers a full knowledge of current fraternity operations, allowing a full discussion of the COAC's, and the work of the Province Presidents.

Pledge Training

Unfortunately, it is necessary to remind everyone once again that Phi Delta Theta is unalterably opposed to any form of hazing and will take immediate action to discipline everyone within its jurisdiction who indulges in any form of undignified treatment, physical or mental, of pledges or members. Section 135 of the General Statutes of the fraternity reads as follows: "No Chapter of Phi Delta Theta shall indulge in any abuse or undignified treatment of its pledges or members; any violation shall be punishable by the General Council."

Historically, Phi Delta Theta has never permitted any hazing activities in its chapters and every General Council has unanimously acted swiftly and surely to eradicate any form of hazing and replace it with constructive pledge education programs which are consistent with the purpose of Phi Delta Theta in training its members for positions of leadership.

The General Council and GHQ are fully devoted to the accomplishment of this purpose and will take prompt action to see that violations do not arise in any chapter. Anyone having any information about such activities or any suggestions concerning this topic may forward their correspondence to Bob Miller so that it can be directed to the proper channels.

This effort to maintain and improve our constructive pledge education programs depends on the support and active participation of all Phis and, as in all other areas of fraternity activities, the General Council is grateful to all members who have helped to uphold the heritage of the principles of Phi Delta Theta as established by our founders. ■

BY DOUG PHILLIPS (New Mexico '49)
President of the General Council

Founders Day, 1977, with functions that provide all Phis with an opportunity to rededicate their efforts to the principles of the Fraternity, has come and gone. All reports to date indicate that our alumni clubs and active chapters continue to enjoy their Brotherhood at Founders Day in more meaningful expressions than ever before.

Alumni clubs are expanding and searching for new activities through which they can participate significantly in all areas of Fraternity operations. These efforts by our alumni are supported by the resources of the entire Fraternity to the fullest extent possible.

At every opportunity, and especially at the recent Founders Day events, the General Council has again acknowledged the deep gratitude of the entire Fraternity to all alumni for their many invaluable contributions to Phi Delta Theta. Their financial support is essential to the conduct of important programs of the Fraternity, and alumni are continuing this support in growing numbers and greater amounts.

A list of the financial contributors appears in this issue of The Scroll and the General Council extends the sincere thanks of the Fraternity to these loyal Phis. Equally important and significant, however, are the host of other contributions made by alumni collectively and individually. These include all those who volunteer as chapter advisers, general officers, alumni club officers and those who participate in innumerable other events which promote the Fraternity.

These efforts are the backbone of the successful operation of the Fraternity and they eloquently demonstrate that Phi Delta Theta is indeed a "Fraternity for Life." We salute all these Phis who play such a key role in the success of Phi Delta Theta.

Because of the enormous importance of the work of all volunteer officers, one of the most difficult and challenging tasks of the General Council is the responsibility for making appointments of the general officers. Discharging this responsibility is affected by various considerations and is compounded by the abundance of outstanding and talented men with which Phi Delta Theta is blessed in its membership.

The General Council has followed only one policy in making these appointments — to select the Brother best suited to carry out the duties of each position in order that all our general officers can best serve the interests of Phi Delta Theta. The General Council has never been influenced by any possible personal favoritism in making appointments.

Those who are willing to work as a general officer commit themselves to spend considerable time and effort in one of the important and sensitive areas of activity assigned to the General Officers. They need your help and they deserve the support of all Phis. We are confident that you will provide that support and work with them in any way possible for the good of the Fraternity.

The General Officers Conference held in New Orleans February 4-6 was successfully concluded as a forum for an exchange of ideas and information for the general officers and the General Council. Recommendations were prepared and submitted to the General Council by the committees on awards and on General Council at its meeting in Memphis, Tennessee on April 22-23.

Attention was also focused on those few chapters currently in need of rebuilding programs and the further efforts needed to rebuild these chapters. This remains one of the most critical areas of the ongoing operations of the Fraternity. A study of these recent efforts indicates that the dedicated work of general officers, alumni, and active members has resulted in some improvement in these troubled chapters. The General Fraternity is deeply grateful to all those who have made a special contribution to these rebuilding programs and we look forward to realizing the full benefits of these sustained programs when they have been completed. ■

Phi Delt "Loaned" to New York City

In September, 1975 New York City teetered on the brink of default. In what seemed to be the Big Apple's darkest hour Mayor Abraham Beame named Kenneth Strong Axelson (Chicago '44) as Deputy Mayor for Finance.

Axelson, a senior vice president and director of finance and administration of J.C. Penney, was "loaned" to the city by Penney for 12 months. The charge for his services was $1.

Those 12 months have come and gone and Axelson will not soon forget the experience. "It seems like a century" he told Chain Store Age Executive. "My tenure with the city has been a totally different environment than Penney. I report to the chief executive of Penney. In government, everybody's your boss. Instead of just the Mayor, I've had to interface with the Emergency Financial Control Board, the Municipal Assistance Corp. (two bodies created to deal with the city's financial woes), the U.S. Treasury Dept., Congress, the Governor of New York and the Legislature.

"I've never seen so many auditors in my life; the city and state controllers, the Treasury and the General Accounting Office (of Congress). And these are in addition to all the program auditors."

Major Accomplishment

Looking back on the experience Axelson feels his most important accomplishment as deputy mayor will have been to launch a modern accounting system to monitor the city's finances and to bridge the gap between the mayor and controller.

"Most government accounting is an expenditure limitation device, rather than a management tool," he explains, pointing out that the systems are set up to prevent bureaucrats from exceeding their spending authority, and not to help them make management decisions. "But I just don't know how to manage anything without some method of reporting."

When he arrived on Sept. 15, 1975, he found a shockingly antiquated accounting system which, among other things, used one method of accounting to record revenues and another to record expenditures.

Lack of Team Work

The frustrations were many. The lack of "teamwork" still mystifies him. He told The New York Times that he was "shocked at the changing alliances and the cross-purposes of politics. 'The damn games they play,' he fumed. "The world collapsing around us — you would think people would go out of their way to pull together. I just don't understand it." Teamwork, of course, is the essence of corporate life.

But the 13-year Penney veteran believes that his New York experience will make him much more sensitive to the role of business in the community and in government. He says that his perspective on government and its problems has largely changed, and that he feels he will be more involved, though not in any direct political way.

Evaluations

Last November he addressed the Association for a Better New York to discuss his experiences and evaluations. The following is the bulk of that speech.

New York City, I found, was

Kenneth S. Axelson (Chicago '44) is a senior vice president for finance and administration of the J.C. Penney Company, Inc. He joined the company in 1963 as vice president and director of finance.

He has a rich accountant's background. Prior to joining Penney he spent 11 years with Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co., a New York City certified public accounting firm serving as partner in charge of management consulting services.

Axelson graduated from the University of Chicago in 1944 with an A.B. in business. At Chicago he was a John Crerar Scholar. A native of Chicago, he left the Windy City in 1946 to serve as a staff accountant for Arthur Andersen & Co. in Seattle.

He served briefly as controller of Columbia Lumber Company of Alaska in Juneau and as a management consultant of McKinsey & Company back in Chicago before coming to New York.

After joining Penney in 1963 he steadily worked his way up the ladder. He was appointed to be director of finance and administration in 1967 following election to the board of directors in 1964. He was named a senior vice president in 1974.

He serves as a director on the boards of Protection Mutual Insurance Company, Park Ridge, Ill.; The Discount Corporation of New York; and Grumman Corporation. He is a trustee of Dry Dock Savings Bank in New York.

In addition, he is a member of the American Institute of CPAs, the National Association of Accountants and the Financial Executives Institute in New York.

The Penney executive is a director of the National Retail Merchants Association and a member of the Security and Exchange Commission's Advisory Committee on the Implementation of a Central Market System. He is the recipient of the first annual Journal of Accountancy Literary Award, 1976.

Axelson is married to Roberta O. Bearhope of Indianapolis and they have four sons.

During Height of Financial Crisis

a perfect example of a city that went too far. The government and the services that were provided to New York's citizens cost more than they could afford to pay. To keep on providing those services, the City's government turned to a simple device: borrowing from tomorrow to live well today.

During the Sixties, when the City's economy was growing, it was possible to keep ahead of this borrowing. But as the growth in the economy slowed down and as the demands for services continued to increase, the City found itself incurring deficits.

State and Federal aid that had been anticipated and borrowed against was not realized. Real estate tax revenues, also borrowed against, were not realized. The result was that maturing notes had to be rolled over, piling up these debts.

Social Services

New York City has had a tradition of supplying social services. It was almost a point of pride. But the services grew in number and the number of people who needed to avail themselves of these services grew as well. But even as the deficits mounted, the City endeavored to maintain its position in social care.

And when things got pinched and there wasn't enough revenue to pay the operating expenses of the City, it was determined that some of these operating expenses could be funded in the capital budget. This means that the expenses were not paid out of current revenue but funded by long-term bonds. The result was that last year (1975) there were over 600 million dollars in operating expense items in the capital budget.

During this period, City employees were pressing for pay increases, and there was just no money any place. Employees were contributing to their pensions by deductions from their wages and salaries. The City agreed to take on the biggest part of that cost so that employees no longer had to contribute up to 5 per cent of their salaries to the pension funds. It was called "increased take home pay," and on it, there were no taxes, no withholding, no anything. What the City agreed to do was take on this obligation in the future. It seemed like a good arrangement. The employees went home with more money in their pockets, and the City was out-of-pocket appreciably less than it would have been had a wage increase taken place. But, there was a catch 22: pension funds became increasingly under funded.

Inflation

Then inflation caught up with New York City. If costs hadn't gone up, maybe the crisis wouldn't have occurred for several more years. But the guillotine fell on the City when the recession hit, and the economy of the City fell a lot further than elsewhere around the country.

The erosion in the tax base, inflation, and the catchup on all the debts finally brought the City to the crash point in Spring 1975.

MAC was formed to try to convert short term debt to long term debt. It did a great job and has sold almost four billion dollars of long term debt. But the market closed in on MAC. With that, the State enacted the Emergency Financial Control Board to take over the fiscal authority of the City. The idea was to provide a degree of supervision and a degree of control that could resist the political process and could insist on things that had to be done when they had to be done.

There was also another objective: that was to provide the legal authority to intervene in the independent agencies that have grown up in the City. These agencies were specifically structured over the years to make them independent of political influence from City Hall.

This was the situation in early September of 1975, when, at Mayor Beame's invitation and with the support of my Company - J.C. Penney - I became Deputy Mayor for Finance for the City of New York.

Assignment

Specifically, my assignment was to assist the Mayor in carrying out the fiscal reforms that were imposed by law and by necessity on the City, to install new financial control systems and introduce modern financial reporting techniques, to develop the first three year financial plan in the history of the City, to help work out credit arrangements for financing the City as it moved forward, and to carry out and oversee the problems of making the cuts and other accommodations that would be necessary within the City administration in order to arrive at a balanced budget.

What I learned immediately upon entering City government is that no successful politician works an eight hour day. They never heard of it. The day never ends, and the next one starts before the present one finishes. The energy that is required for a politician to succeed is enormous. I could leave Gracie Mansion at one o'clock in the morning and you know who would still be going strong when I left? The Mayor, and he's about seventy years old. And he was always on the job early in the morning.

All of the stereotyped images I had of politicians have vanished. What I found were not smoke filled rooms where money changed hands and deals were made, but rooms where men and women faced tough, excruciating decisions.

We in business look at a situation from the point of view of the bottom line. In government, this isn't the prime consideration. Rather, it's the constituency you serve, and social equations must be factored into decision making.

After a year at City Hall, I think I have a pretty good understanding of the complex and emotion-filled issues that have encouraged fiscal excesses. New York City is changing the way its fiscal affairs are managed. Some of the problems, of course, will require additional State and Federal actions to solve them - such as welfare, health care, and mass transit.

But in addition to resolving these underlying problems, it is essential that we restore investors' confidence in our City's future.

Credibility

Credibility begets confidence - that means telling it like it is. And to tell it like it is, New York City - and municipalities generally - need the discipline - and investors the assurance - of generally accepted accounting principles.

For a business corporation, presentation of the income statement and balance sheet and, indeed, all its financial reporting must comply with accounting principles that are primarily reflected in the opinions and statements of the Financial Accounting Standards Board and its predecessor organizations. These principles have evolved over an extended period of time and have been the subject of investigation, analysis, and debate by issuers, investors, analysts, regulators, and others involved in or related to the corporate financial process.

Recommendations

On the other hand, municipal accounting practices have never had anywhere near the same degree of attention, and I believe that the time is overdue for the financial community to give its attention to the area of municipal accounting practice and to subject differences in municipal accounting to the same rigorous conceptual challenge and analysis that has gone into the formulation of generally accepted accounting principles for corporations. Specifically, therefore, I would call for: First, an examination by the Financial Accounting Standards Board into the differences between municipal accounting principles and those generally accepted for business corporations and the promulgation of a Financial Accounting Standard dealing with this subject. In this way, those differences in accounting principles that are appropriate to municipal issuers will have an adequate weight of theoretical and authoritative support, and at the same time unnecessary differences will be eliminated.

Second. Establishment by investors of the requirement that a municipality adopt and follow such authoritative accounting practices in order to have continuing access to the financial markets. This is what is today practiced in the corporate financial markets, and there is an urgent necessity that the same approach be followed in the municipal markets.

During the past year, the New York State Controller and City officials have worked together to establish a group of accounting principles that reflect good municipal accounting practice. These have been promulgated by the State Controller in the form of Accounting Systems Directives.

New York City has implemented these accounting policies, and its recording and reporting practices reflect this. Thus, the adoption of conservative accounting principles is one of the cornerstones of fiscal reform that New York City has placed in effect.

Conservative accounting principles are the foundation of these fiscal reforms and broad-based support within the financial community and the accounting profession for municipal accounting principles would greatly enhance New York City's program for regaining access to the capital markets. It would also hasten the day when close State jurisdiction over the City's day-to-day financial affairs would no longer be required and when Federal intervention and assistance would happily be a thing of the past. The discipline of the marketplace is, I believe, one of the best assurances that investors can have that New York City's financial affairs — or any city's financial affairs — are being properly and prudently managed.

The alternative to the discipline of the marketplace, as I see it, is greater State and Federal intervention. This to me — and I'm sure to many of you — is contrary to our concept of democracy and home rule.

But it can happen. And the likelihood of its happening will be much greater if the City fails to balance its budget for the year ended June 30, 1978. It is critical that this budget be balanced. This discipline is imperative if investors' confidence in New York City's ability to manage its fiscal affairs is to be restored.

The Role of Business

What can you and I do? Well, I intend to stay involved and help in any way I can. And I would encourage you to get more involved too — especially at a high level where you can influence policy.

What do businessmen bring to City government? An independent point of view, a degree of credibility that is not always accorded to political figures, and access to expertise and experience that political leaders may lack.

And for the individual, let me tell you, it's a fascinating experience.

I believe the City would welcome dollar-a-year men, as well as volunteers from business who would devote what time they could to giving the City their know-how.

I think business must involve itself in City government not only because we cherish this greatest City in the world, but because, in the long run, it is good for us. ■

Ammerman Sent To Congress

"I could be described as someone who has a small town outlook on fiscal matters . . . but a person who is inclined to be moderately liberal in matters of human rights."

Such is the political philosophy of Rep. Joseph S. Ammerman (Dickenson '46), a Democrat who unseated a Republican incumbent in Pennsylvania's 23rd congressional district last November.

He sought and obtained membership on three House Agriculture subcommittees of interest to members of his sprawling district, Dairy and Poultry, Forests and Investigations.

Ammerman will also serve on three subcommittees of the House Administration Committee, one of them with jurisdiction over the Library of Congress and the Smithsonian Institution.

His seat on the full House Administration Committee had been held by Wayne Hays, the controversial Ohio congressman who resigned last fall. He requested a seat on the committee because of a long held interest in election law reform. The committee has jurisdiction over the Federal Election Commission.

Another one of his interests is that of government reform. "We have a government which has grown so large it is out of touch with the people it is supposed to serve," he said. "We have so many bureaucrats who fail to keep in mind that they are servants of the general public."

The new congressman is no stranger to politics. He was first elected to office in 1954 as district attorney for Clearfield County, Pa. He served until 1961 when he became U.S. Attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania from 1961-63.

After returning to a law practice he was elected to the state senate in 1970 and reelected in 1974. He served as chairman of the Pennsylvania Senate Environmental Resources Committee from 1971-75 and was elected senate majority caucus secretary in 1973.

Ammerman was born in Curwensville, Pa. in 1924 and was educated in the local school system. He got his A.B. degree from Dickenson in 1948 where he graduated Phi Beta Kappa. He graduated from the Dickenson School of Law with a J.D. in 1950. Earlier, he served in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers from 1943-46 and earned the rank of captain.

He is a bachelor and shares a house in his district with his 82-year old mother, Katherine Shearer Ammerman. ■

Minnich Discusses Fraternity Funds

BY HAROLD A. MINNICH
(Akron '24)

Endowment funds established or sponsored by Phi Delta Theta provide substantial financial support for our fraternity programs and for the goals which we seek. Each one has been established and operated by fraternity statutes adopted in General Convention to direct their use and management. These special funds are:

1. Frank J.R. Mitchell Scroll Endowment Fund $1,360,000
2. Walter B. Palmer Foundation Endowment Fund 1,326,000
3. David D. Banta Memorial Library Fund 32,000
4. Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation 400,000

Total Assets: $3,118,000

The Frank J.R. Mitchell Scroll Endowment Fund was established in order to provide a perpetual source of income sufficient to defray cost of printing and publishing a lifetime subscription to the Scroll for every member. From date of the first issue of the Scroll in 1875, the fraternity had relied on individual subscriptions to defray the costs of publication.

Establishment of this endowment fund in 1920 was intended to place the magazine on a self-

Harold A. Minnich (Akron '24) was first elected to the General Council as a member-at-large at the Miami Beach Convention in June, 1974. He was re-elected at the Nashville Convention last summer.

Because of his excellent financial experience, the Council called upon him in 1967 to become Finance Commissioner and he has continued in that position to present day.

MINNICH He had been a member of the Board of Trustees of the Palmer Fund since 1933 when the account was transferred to the Central National Bank in Cleveland and he served as chairman from 1950 until his election to the GC in 1974.

supporting basis. Thereafter, the fraternity paid $10.00 of each initiation fee into the Mitchell Fund. Principal value of the fund grew steadily. However, the income return on monies deposited could not keep pace with steady inflation of publication costs. In 1974, the allocation was increased to $20.00 for each new member.

This Fund is managed by three Trustees, namely, N. Hall Layman (Illinois '35), James J. Porter (Williams '51), and Kenneth R. Keck (Colorado '60). Assets are held by The Northern Trust Company as agent and they provide investment recommendations which are subject to approval of the individual Trustees. Current assets are invested approximately two-thirds in equities and one-third in fixed income securities. Current gross income is about $78,000.00 per year. This covers direct costs of publication but does not pay for indirect expenses of general headquarters staff and facilities involved. To remedy this deficit, members have been requested to donate an additional $10.00 to the Endowment Fund.

The David D. Banta Memorial Library Fund, now qualified as a private charitable foundation, was established to provide an income to aid maintenance and development of the David D. Banta Library in our General Headquarters building. This Fund is held and managed by Philip M. Young (Allegheny '48), George Banta III (Wabash '28), and Robert Cerne (Case-Western Reserve '63), as Trustees. Current income of $1,200.00 per year supplies a portion of the total expense of maintaining the Library. As funds are available, they may be used to purchase new books or memorabilia. The Library has been designed to accumulate writings by members of the fraternity and unusual memorabilia which may be of general interest to the membership and the general public.

The Walter B. Palmer Foundation Endowment Fund was established in 1924. Its primary purpose is to provide loans to aid chapters and chapter house corporations finance the acquisition or renovation of chapter houses and to purchase new furnishings and equipment.

The Fund was started with donations from members aggregating $107,000.00. For some years additional capital was provided by allocating $10.00 of each initiation fee to the Fund. Although the Fraternity may make use of income for its general operations, it has allowed the income to accumulate in order to provide a growing fund to meet increasing loan requests. The assets are under the management of Philip M. Young (Allegheny '48), Richard F. Galloway (Akron U. '63), and Owen F. Walker (Brown '33), as Trustees. Assets are held in the custody of Central National Bank of Cleveland as agent for the Trustees. All investments are subject to direction by the Trustees. Current income amounts to approximately $65,000.00 per year and for the past four years no part of the initiation fee has been allocated to this fund by the fraternity, inasmuch as the current accumulation of income has kept pace with increasing loan demands.

This is the Fund that touches most closely on the operations of individual chapters. Through December 31, 1976, the Fund has granted a total of 188 loans to 95 chapters and chapter house corporations for a total of $2,977,050.00. Presently, the assets consist of the following:

Notes
and Mortgages:	$ 956,053.00
Cash:	95,356.00
Bonds:	275,134.00
Sundry:	1.00
Total:	$ 1,326,544.00
There are 44 loans presently outstanding. Commitments outstanding for loans which have not yet been disbursed cover three items totaling $53,500.00. In addition, there is $88,000.00 held in escrow for the benefit of California Gamma when and as they desire to purchase a new chapter house. Balance of the reserves are to protect any second mortgages on which a default may occur on the first mortgage debt and also to cover requested new loans. Inquiries indicate that there are three loans which may be granted soon for about $60,000.00. New loans granted during the past two year period ending June 30, 1976, were to 13 chapters or chapter house corporations for an aggregate of $378,400.00.

Loans are granted for a maximum period of 15 years and are based on (1) value of the security to be pledged; (2) active alumni backing; and (3) most importantly, the ability of the active chapter and its likely continued ability to pay a sufficient rental to the house corporation to cover taxes, mortgage commitments, insurance, and a reasonable reserve for maintenance of the property through the period of the loan.

During a half century of existence, a majority of the loans were made on security of a second mortgage. Although defaults occurred in a number of instances and required readjustment of payment terms, no loss of principal has occurred prior to 1976. That record was marred during the past year when a chapter was thrown off campus and the holder of a large first mortgage bought the property at foreclosure sale for much less than its lien. The Fund holds a judgment for the balance of $9,136.00 due on its second mortgage, but probably will sustain at least a partial loss even though it holds personal guarantees on the note.

The Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation was organized in 1960 as a public charitable corporation under the laws of Ohio by sponsorship of the General Fraternity. Internal Revenue Service has granted it a certificate of exemption from taxation and all donations to it are tax deductible.

The Foundation is managed by its six Trustees, who are appointed by Central National Bank of Cleveland as agent for the Trustees under the supervising management of an Investment Committee appointed by the Trustees. Numerous contributions have contributed to the steady growth of the funds. Currently, assets are invested 61.5% in equities and 38.5% in fixed income securities. Gross income is currently $20,000.00 and is used to provide scholarships. During the past year, 18 scholarships were granted to worthy applicants. The current objective of the Trustees to provide at least one scholarship for each Province in the fraternity.

Periodic reports and audits received on each of the Funds indicate that they are well managed and are fulfilling their purposes. ■

Barnard Elected In Georgia

D. Douglas Barnard (Mercer '43), who worked his way from a teller position to executive vice president of Georgia Railroad Bank and Trust Company, was easily elected as Georgia's representative to the House of Representatives from the 10th district last November.

The real issue was decided in the early morning of Sept. 1 when he unseated an incumbent in a run-off to determine the Democratic primary winner. He was a narrow winner, getting 51.8 per cent of the vote.

In the 95th Congress he has been appointed to the Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs Committees.

Barnard graduated with a B.A. from Mercer in 1943 and served in the U.S. Army from 1943 to 1945. He then reentered Walter F. George School of Law at Mercer and graduated with an LL.B. degree in 1948.

He took his first job as a teller with Georgia Railroad Bank and Trust Company in 1948 and then spent two years with the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta. He returned to the former company in 1950 and worked his way up to become executive vice president.

Barnard served as Gov. Carl Sanders executive secretary from 1963 to 1965. He also served as a member of the board of the state Department of Transportation from 1966 until 1976 when he resigned to run for Congress.

He is a native Augustan and was educated in the public schools of Richmond County. In that regard he is the first Augustan sent to the U.S. Congress since 1897.

He served on his city's Transportation Authority from 1973 to 1976 and was Augusta College "Alumnus of the Year" in 1966. He served as chairman of the Richmond County Democratic Executive Committee from 1955 to 1960 and was a member of the state Democratic Executive Committee from 1963 to 1966.

In 1957 he was named the "Outstanding Young Man of the Year" in Augusta.

While at Mercer he was named "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" and was a member of Blue Key Honor Society.

He is married to the former Naomi Elizabeth Holt and they have three children; Mrs. Pamela Holt Barnard Chafee, born 1952; Lucy Irene Barnard, born 1955, and D. Douglas Barnard III, born 1957. ■

McGuire Named 'Phi of the Year'

Clarance McGuire (Kansas '28), president of Hoover Brothers, Inc., in Kansas City, has been named winner of the Raymond L. Gardner Award as "Phi of the Year" for 1976.

He was presented the award in a surprise ceremony at the Kansas City Alumni Club's Founders Day dinner on March 23. He was nominated by Kansas Alpha at the University of Kansas.

The award is presented each year by the Seattle Alumni Club in memory of Raymond L. Gardner (Washington-Seattle '18), a member of the General Council from 1952 to 1956. It is presented annually to an alumnus who best exemplifies the teachings of the Bond through participation in fraternity affairs, activities in higher education and community service.

McGuire, a basketball and golf letterman at Kansas, served as chapter adviser for Kansas Alpha in the 1930's, worked to raise money for a new addition to the chapter house in the 1940's. He is currently president of the Kansas Alpha Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation which, in its ten years of existence, has raised over $200,000 for house renovation.

The renovation began in the summer of 1974 and each summer since vast improvements have been made to both the exterior and the interior. This summer the final touches will be added as work will be completed to the first floor.

McGuire was the 1965-66 president of the University of Kansas Alumni Association and served an automatic five year term on the board of directors. During his tenure he served as membership chairman. He had previously served a term on the board of directors starting in 1943. He is also a member of the board of trustees of Park College in Parkville, Missouri.

He was named "Phi of the Year" in 1950 by the Greater Kansas City Alumni Association. He was presented the Silver Beaver by the Boy Scouts of America for service to youth. In addition, McGuire won the Howard McCutcheon award for civic service in the Kansas City Area and is listed in Who's Who in the Midwest.

In 1959 he was the Protestant nominee by the National Conference of Christians and Jews in the Greater Kansas City area. He also received the Catholic Community Service Citation for outstanding service to the community. In 1970 he received a citation for distinguished service from the University of Kansas Alumni Association.

As an undergraduate McGuire served as president of Kansas Alpha in 1928. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Schem, senior men's honorary society.

McGuire is a member of the Second Presbyterian Church and has served on the board of deacons, trustees and elders. He has been active in men's council work for many years and is a past president of the National Council of Presbyterian Men.

He is a member of the board of directors of the Boy Scouts of America in Kansas City and is a past president of Club 13 of Rotary. In 1958 he served as general chairman of the United Funds campaign. In 1953 and 1954 he was president of the Kansas City Metropolitan Board of the YMCA and he is a member of the board of directors of Mercy Hospital and was personally involved in a major fund raising drive.

He is described by Kansas Alpha President Jeffrey Millikan as "standing out among many dynamic alumni. His continued devotion to Phi Delta Theta is an inspiration to each member of Kansas Alpha." ■ Missouri Gamma Phi Heads Bemis Corp.

Richard A. Young (Washington-St. Louis '37) has spent his life shattering tradition.

On May 11 he became chairman of the Bemis Company, Inc. of Minneapolis, a diversified manufacturing company with 81 plants in 24 states and 10 other countries. His appointment ended 119 years of management by a Bemis family member.

Young joined Bemis as president in 1971, having been a member of its Board of Directors since 1964. He assumed the additional role of chief executive officer on Jan. 1, 1976.

The firm manufactures more than 10,000 products for some 20,000 industrial customers — including nearly all major U.S. corporations. In the 1971-74 period, Bemis enjoyed a 62 percent gain in sales and more than 275 percent increase in earnings.

In 1975 the company sales and earnings sagged, as anticipated by the company, reflecting the downturn in the U.S. economy and depletion of inventories in the firm's primary markets such as paper and plastic packaging materials and fashion fabrics. By 1976 however Bemis was on an uptrend.

A native of St. Louis, Young was chairman and chief executive officer of American Zinc Company in that city and a prominent business leader there prior to joining Bemis.

Young was named "Phi of the Year" by the St. Louis Alumni Club in 1967. While an undergraduate at Missouri Gamma he lettered in varsity football and served as rush chairman and president of his fraternity. He was a delegate to the 1934 General Convention at Mackinac Island.

He graduated in 1936 with a degree in chemical engineering and then earned an M.B.A. from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration in 1938. That same year he joined American Zinc Company as assistant to the plant manager at Fairmont City, Ill., zinc smelter.

In 1944 he was named vice president of American Zinc Company of Illinois and then he was elected vice president of American Zinc, Lead and Smelting Company (now Azcon) in 1950. In 1951 he transferred to the company's headquarters in St. Louis and was elected a director of the company in 1953.

Young is a director of the First National Bank of Minneapolis and is active in civic and youth organizations. He is a trustee of the Twin City Area Educational TV Corp. and a director of the Greater Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce.

He was recognized for "Outstanding Contributions to Chemical Engineering" in 1960 by Washington University in St. Louis and received a national award as "Outstanding Layman" on June 6, 1968, from Religious Heritage of America, Inc.

He is a member of American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers and the Mining and Metallurgical Society of America. He also serves on the board of the First National Bank of Minneapolis, the Soo Line Railroad Company and Morgan Adhesives Company of Stow, Ohio.

Young resides with his wife, the former Janice Westmoreland of Amarillo, Texas, in Wayzata, Minn. The couple has three children. ■

George Capps Named St. Louis 'Man of Year'

NOTE: In the Jan. 2, 1977 St. Louis Globe-Democrat's Sunday Magazine the featured story was on George Howard Capps (Washington-St. Louis '37), the "1976 Man of the Year" of the publication. Portions of that story are printed below with permission of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

George Howard Capps (Washington-St. Louis '37) runs a world-wide conglomerate that stretches from here to Hong Kong with the skill and savvy of the board room and the genial gusto of an ice cream social.

But with it all, he never really leaves the warm and special world he shares with Helen Capps and their family of seven. All during their growing-up days — their youngest child is now 16 — it became a world of stern discipline tempered with laughter, of rules and regulations laced with love.

He is the human heart of a far-flung empire, president of Capitol Coal and Coke Co. and Volkswagen Mid-American Inc., chairman of Capitol Land Co. and operating head or partner in multiple subsidiaries and ventures, the corporated children of the parent firms.

In his 25-year climb from selling coal to heading a conglomerate, Capps has moved swiftly into the board room and executive suite and into the rarefied climate of civic leadership. He is on 17 corporate, community, hospital, university, agency boards, has been cited for community service, leadership in promoting harmonious human relations, business acumen.

Slim, ramrod straight, 6 feet tall, his 175-pound weight watched meticulously, the now-balding businessman grew out of a childhood bout with allergies into a self-professed "health nut," with a gym in his basement, a swimming pool and tennis court in the backyard and a closet full of vitamins. He neither drinks nor smokes, never takes coffee, offers apples instead to office visitors.

Capps got his first taste of the business world in 1934 when he sold telephone service for Southwestern Bell — not realizing he someday would sit on that utility's board.

He went on to graduate from Washington University in St. Louis, where he was an active Phi Delt, associate editor and business manager of the yearbook and business manager of the newspaper. He stayed on to obtain his law degree.

He enlisted in the Navy in October, 1940, and served aboard the U.S.S. Arkansas. While still in service he was accepted by the FBI, where he met his wife, Helen. He stayed in the bureau until 1950 when he returned to the family coal business.

With the company's growth came, for the embryo empire builder, a testing and proving time. There were new ideas to be explored, business needs to be met, new companies to be formed, opportunities to be grasped. He was struck with the potential business in foreign autos and when one of 14 Volkswagen distributorships in the country was offered him, he snapped it up.

That, in turn, led to the formation of his own truck line to deliver the cars more economically to dealers' showrooms.

Like a quickly spreading stream, the infant conglomerate began to form and to absorb subsidiaries, partnerships, syndicates, joint ventures. There are now 50 on the list.

Capps has some definite ideas about business in this country. "Why should business have a black eye in our society?" he asks. "Without business there wouldn't be money for hospitals, universities, welfare programs. If everyone who criticizes business today would just get exposed to it, he would be hooked for life."

He also has some definite ideas about his country. Disappointed when a student commencement speaker bemoaned the low ebb of U.S. prestige Capps wrote the following to each of the graduates: "If we start thinking about what's wonderful about America it must start with our religious faith. A nation not believing in the Eternal Father of us all is a nation which cannot long endure . . . I hope you will always love our country . . . as it deserves to be held high and revered and respected."

When honored on Eagle Scout Recognition Day in 1963 he said: "Left wing radicals have tried to belittle and poke fun at our heritage. They call us flag wavers if we say or do something patriotic; they ridicule the battle cries which have brought us victory, not compromise. But as Astronaut John Glenn said, 'Freedom, devotion to God and country are not things of the past. They will never become old-fashioned.'" ■

Bicentennial Edition of Baird's Manual To Appear in 1977

A new edition of Baird's Manual of American College Fraternities, the first since the 18th Edition of 1968, has been planned for publication on July 31, 1977.

This "Bicentennial Edition" will be a testimonial to the accomplishments and the growth of the American college Greek-letter society throughout its remarkable 200-year history. Contents include:

*Updated chapter rosters of the men's and women's national social fraternities, men's and women's national professional fraternities, national honor and recognition societies, and miscellaneous Greek-letter organizations.

*Revised historical section on the American College Fraternity. The nature of fraternity is explained to show how this vital campus institution has contributed to America as a civilization.

*A directory of universities and colleges, where there are Greek-letter societies, describes the institution briefly and lists the societies that they shelter.

The pre-publication price of the Bicentennial Edition is $15 postpaid, after publication, $17.50. Address orders to Baird's Manual Foundation, Inc., 744 Lake Crest Drive, Menasha, Wisconsin 54952.

DALLAS

Bill Clements, former deputy secretary of Defense in the Ford administration and chairman and chief executive officer of SEDCO, Inc., was the featured speaker of the Dallas Alumni Club's Founders Day banquet at the Bent Tree Country Club, March 30.

HOUSTON

The Houston Alumni Club popped the cork on a new year with its annual Founders Day celebration March 22 at the Houston Country Club with 105 brothers attending.

The brothers welcomed two special guests—Earl Lockhart, Jr., the new president of Rho South Province, and Rob Miller, Jr., the son of Executive Vice President Robert J. Miller.

Three brothers were inducted into the Golden Legion and the following slate of new officers was elected: President Larry Peterson, Vice President Fisher Trigg, Treasurer Ed Frank, Social Chairman Bart Bentley and Secretary John Shirley.

Still to come in 1977 are three more functions including a casual "couples" party in early summer, a fall stag Mexican buffet dinner at the River Oaks Country Club and our traditional Christmas cocktail party for members, wives and dates to be held this year at the River Oaks home of Jesse and Hetta Heath.

I would like to extend to any brothers living in the Houston area a personal invitation to look into the benefits of membership in our club. With 225 active members from a variety of schools plus a diversified and imaginative social line-up we're a hard act to beat for the annual dues of $25.00. For further information write Bart Bentley at 2508 Reba, Houston, Tx. 77019. —Larry A. Peterson

LUBBOCK, TEXAS

Over 100 alumni, actives and Phikeias attended the Lubbock Alumni Club's Founders Day dinner March 15 at the Texas Epsilon lodge.

The program was informal with no guest speaker. Gary Phillips (Texas Tech '78) was in charge of the traditional candle lighting service to honor the six founders. Rex Isom (Texas Tech '78), chapter president, presented a chapter report for the past year and John Harding (Texas Tech '37), Rho North province president, discussed the status of the chapters in Rho North Province. He paid particular attention to the recent installation of our newest chapter at Baylor.

Alumni club officers elected for the coming year include Fred A. Undersood (Texas Tech '69), president; Alan Hale (Texas Tech '75), treasurer; and Steve Hurt (Texas Tech '71), member-at-large. Hurt is the outgoing club president.

NORTHERN NEVADA

With brothers from both Nevada Alpha and the Northern Nevada Alumni Club in attendance, Brother James W. Barnhill (Kentucky '29) was initiated into the Golden Legion on January 22 at his home in Reno. He was one of the nation's early pilots and eventually worked for many years with the Federal Aviation Administration before his retirement.

The club celebrated Founders Day

SAN ANTONIO

Dr. Richard Edward Wood Adams (New Mexico '53), professor of anthropology and Dean of Humanities and Social Sciences at The University of Texas at San Antonio, was the featured speaker at the San Antonio Alumni Club's Founders Day dinner March 20. His topic was the archaeological project he participated in at the Maya Lowlands. He illustrated his talk with slides.

Adams had been a member of the club 15 years ago before he left on the archaeological expeditions. The dinner was held at the San Antonio Country Club.

Moore Honored by San Diego

John H. Moore, who entered Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., in 1897 and joined the Bond of Phi Delta Theta in 1898, reached his 100th birthday hale and hearty on Jan. 28.

A resident of San Diego since 1910 and a practicing attorney there until he retired when he was 85, Moore was honored with a citation commemorating his long and honorable membership in the fraternity, his service to his community and his many contributions to the legal profession.

The occasion was the regular monthly luncheon of the San Diego County Alumni Club of Phi Delta Theta on Feb. 15 at the San Diego Hilton, president Ed Harloff presiding and Russ Crane presenting the guest of honor. The club meets at The Hilton at noon on the third Tuesday of each month, June through August excepted. —Deke Koppes, club reporter

John H. Moore (Allegheny '00), the honored guest of the San Diego County Alumni Club, is flanked by J.T. (Terry) McCullen, (Minnesota '23), treasurer; and Ed Harloff (North Dakota '49), president.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN Φ Δ \ominus

Texas Placed on Three-Year Probation

The Texas Beta chapter at the University of Texas-Austin was placed on probation for three years by the General Council at its Feb. 4 meeting in New Orleans.

The probation came as a result of a hazing incident involving pledges during a chapter initiation week. Chapter representatives Wales Madden III, immediate past president; Randy Ames, a recent initiate; Patrick Oles, current president; and alumni representatives Lewis Little (Texas '51) and Wales Madden, Jr. (Texas '52) met with the Council before the decision was reached.

Five Conditions

The probation carried five conditions. The chapter must adopt and enforce house rules and by-laws which prohibit any physical abuse or undignified treatment of its pledges or members. The chapter must adopt and enforce a written pledge training program. Every active and pledge must in writing agree to conduct himself in accordance with the rules and pledge training program. An alumni advisory board must be constituted to monitor the progress of pledges. Finally, a full written statement of the hazing incident must be submitted to the Council.

The Council also reviewed reports on chapters experiencing problems. Specifically, the members visited with Omega Province President Wes Harris to discuss problems at Arizona Alpha (University of Arizona) and New Mexico Alpha (University of New Mexico).

Routine Matters

The rest of the meeting was mostly routine.

The Council reviewed the work of province presidents and appointed each to a two year term, subject to the approval of the chapters in each area. Seventeen chapters, located mostly in provinces without a president, had not yet been visited. Thirty-seven had received at least two visits.

Cary Buxton, director of chapter services, reported on plans for Chapter Officer and Adviser Conferences during the balance of the academic year.

Colony status was granted to McGill University, which had petitioned for the return of the Quebec Alpha chapter. The group has the support of local alumni.

The Council appointed Stanley D. Brown (Nebraska-UCLA '36), T. William Estes, Jr. (Vanderbilt '55), Robert S. Dinkel (Alberta '53), Harry M. Gerlach (Miami-Ohio '30), and W.C. Whitlow (Westminster '40) to serve on the Survey Commission for the next two years. Brown will be chairman.

Robert P. Roberts, Jr., a chapter consultant the past two years, was granted a $1,000 fellowship by the Council.

The Council authorized Bob Miller, executive vice president to negotiate an agreement for the manufacture of an official fraternity ring.

Chapter Adviser Award

In reaffirming its belief in the role of the chapter adviser the Council voted to continue the program of recognizing the outstanding adviser each year. Appointed to serve on the selection committee were Michael Gavalas (Florida St. '72), Durke G. Thompson (Maryland '64), Doug Larson (Mankato '69) and Oliver J. Samuel (Kansas '46). Samuel will be chairman.

The Council reviewed plans for the publishing of an updated issue of Baird's Manual of American College Fraternities and, while encouraging the project, refused to commit the fraternity to underwrite the cost of 150 copies totaling $2,250.

Brian Dunn Set For Fall Service

Brian D. Dunn (Cornell '77), Cornell's delegate to the 61st Biennial Convention last summer, has joined Phi Delta Theta as a chapter consultant and will be visiting chapters this fall. He just graduated this June with a B.S. degree and a Dean's List for his scholarship.

He won the Clem Miller Government Fellowship and was elected to the Senior Men's Honorary. He served as a state senatorial legislative assistant and as a U.S. Congressional assistant. He was vice president of Cornell's IFC and served on the University's Academic Integrity Board.

In his chapter he was a member of the Steering Committee for three years, edited the chapter newsletter, directed the 1976 Community Service Project and served as alumni secretary, academic chairman and social chairman. He was also the captain of three intramural teams — softball, volleyball and soccer. He was his chapter's delegate to the 1975 Bi-Provence Conference as well as to the Knoxville Convention.

He was host and staff writer of WCIC-TV programming of "Crossfire Ithaca" and was host and producer of WVBR-RM's Sports Call. In addition, he won a New York Times Writing award. ■

MORRISON Morrison is assistant director of the Lehigh University Office of Publications. He received his B.A. in Journalism from Lehigh in 1973. In Pennsylvania Eta he served as house manager, social chairman, alumni secretary and president. He was also secretary of IFC and served on the Fraternity Management Association board of directors. He has been a member of the house corporation and was recently the recipient of the "Outstanding Service Award" at the Pennsylvania Eta Centennial last fall.

He is a member of the Elkins Park Volunteer Fire Company, the Suburban Public Relations Club and the Pennsylvania Abolition Society. He is author of one book, A Guide Book to Historic LaMott, and is in progress on another, A History of Pennsylvania Eta of Phi Delta Theta.

SCHUEMANN Schuemann, a vocational counselor in the Occupational Development Center at Valparaiso, is a former chapter consultant. He served the fraternity from 1971 to 1973, following which he pursued his master's degree at Memphis State, while serving as assistant to the Dean of Students.

He then returned, in 1974, to Valparaiso to become Director of Financial Aid. He has served as adviser to Indiana Iota for the past two years.

His current job is connected with a federally funded program that assists economically disadvantaged individuals obtain marketable job skills and education so that they may be employable. It serves a four to six county area of Northwestern Indiana.

Schuemann received his B.S. degree from Valparaiso in 1971. While an undergraduate he served as pledge class president, rush chairman, IFC president, vice president and president.

LOCKHART Lockhart is the owner of an Austin, Texas, real estate company and is a licensed broker and realtor in the state of Texas. He is a member of the Commercial and Investment Division of the National Institute of Real Estate Brokers and has been active throughout his career in a number of professional real estate organizations.

In addition, he has taken an active role in many community activities, including the Exchange Club, Community Chest, YWCA, YMCA, Boy Scouts, Boys' Ranch, Citizens Advisory Council to the mayor of Austin, Toastmasters International and Lions International.

He graduated from Texas Tech in 1950 with a BBA degree majoring in sales and advertising. He did post-graduate study in real estate law and creative thinking. He was named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities as an undergraduate and was a member of Delta Sigma Pi, the Wesley Foundation and the Tech Chamber of Commerce.

He served from 1945 to 1946 in the U.S. Army Engineer Corps. After graduation from Tech he went to work as a salesman and associate realtor with J.W. Chapman and Sons in Lubbock, Texas. In 1959 he then took a management position in Lubbock with Landmark Homes, Inc. He started his own real estate firm in 1961 and later relocated in Austin. ■

Reports, Information Highlight Meet

General officers were brought up to date on developments within the fraternity and participated in workshops designed to help them do a better job for the fraternity at a three-day General Officers Conference in New Orleans, Feb. 4-6.

In conjunction with the officers conference the newly appointed Awards and the Nominating Procedure committees both held meetings throughout the period.

Doug Phillips, president of the General Council, opened the meeting on Feb. 5. He reviewed the Council's decision to place Texas Beta on a three-year probation (see story this issue) and then presented Jack Cozier (Oklahoma St. '53), Nu Province president, with a plaque for 10 years of service as a province president.

Recent Developments

Bob Miller, executive vice president, discussed the recent installation of Texas Lambda at Baylor University in Waco, Texas, where 57 new members were initiated and the reactivation of Illinois Beta at Chicago where 21 men were initiated. He discussed suspended chapters at Kentucky and Oregon and colonies at LSU-Shreveport, Wisconsin and McGill. He also covered troubled chapters at Arizona, New Mexico and Youngstown State.

T. Glen Cary, treasurer, gave a quarterly financial report for the period ending Dec. 31, 1976.

Bruce Thompson, reporter, called on Bill Dean, editor of the Scroll, and Doug Wilson alumni commissioner, to give reports on their areas of activity.

Hal Minnich, finance commissioner and council member-at-large, presented a financial report on the various fraternity funds (see article, this issue).

Ray Hunkins (Montana '61),

Community Service Day Chairman, gave a general report on plans for this year's CSD. He indicated that more and more chapters are going to year-long community service projects.

Stan Brown (Nebraska-UCLA '36), Survey Commission chairman, reviewed the work of this group and indicated several areas where the fraternity might want to colonize.

Canadian Presentations

Bob Dinkle (Alberta '53), member of the Survey Commission, presented Miller with a plaque commemorating his 25 years of service to the fraternity on behalf of the Canadian chapters. He then presented Phillips with an authentic Eskimo carving and a plaque in recognition of the Bi-Centennial celebration of the United States, also on behalf of the Canadian chapters.

The session was concluded with a panel discussion led by Hugh Hines (Centre '60), president of Eta North Province, related to the work of the province president. Others on the panel included Wes Harris (Utah '67), Omega Province President; Durke Thompson (Maryland '64), Gamma South Province President; Sam Furrow (Tennessee '65), Eta South Province President and John Harding (Texas Tech '37), Rho North Province President.

The session on Feb. 6 was opened with a panel discussion led by Dr. Charles Wicks, member-at-large of the Council, on how to run a Chapter Officer and Adviser Conference. Others included George Notaras (Lawrence '53), Kappa South Province President; Thompson and John Poole (North Carolina '65), Delta South Province President.

Tal Bray (South Florida '65), Epsilon South Province President, gave a report on the recommendations of the Awards Committee of which he is chairman. The committee was unable to finish its work at the conference but hoped to have a final report by the General Council meeting in April. All committee recommendations are subject to approval of the council.

Nominating Committee

Oliver Samuel (Kansas '46), Mu West Province President, reported on the recommendations of the Nominating Committee. Their recommendations would call for a committee to be composed of the past president, three general officers, three actives and two alumni.

The committee would be appointed during the fall prior to the convention and would present one name for the office of president and at least four names in nomination for the council.

The committee would meet prior to the convention and would actively solicit names of nominees from Bi and Tri Province meetings, from chapters, alumni clubs and the fraternity in general.

They would make known to any proposed nominee the responsibilities and duties involved and would require a biographical sketch and photo from each nominee. Each nominee would be given time to meet with delegates during the convention.

Nominations from the floor would be screened by the committee. Nominating speeches would be limited to two for a total of five minutes.

The positions of treasurer and reporter would remain appointive as they are now. The term of office on the council would not be limited.

Adoption of the recommendations by the Council and then the Convention would require changing Statute 40 of the Code. ■

NEWS NOTES

Illinois Beta at the University of Chicago was removed from suspension earlier this year with the initiation of 21 new members. The initiation culminated several years of work by alumni and headquarters personnel in reviving the chapter.

Over a year ago, Stephen M. Dunne (California-Santa Barbara '75) requested that his chapter aid him in efforts to send a friend to the village at San Antonio Agua Calientes in Guatemala on a restoration program. The town was damaged very heavily by the Guatemalan Earthquake and, as a result, the village had lost her best school.

It was necessary for each volunteer to pay his own way on the expedition. The chapter responded immediately to his request and contributed one-fifth of his total costs. The new school is under construction and Dunne reports that he has a tremendous feeling of pride in the efforts of California Eta in regard to the project.

Three members of Missouri Alpha at The University of Missouri have been named to Phi Beta Kappa, the first recipients of the honor at the chapter since 1960.

Michael Seneff, a senior majoring in chemistry; David Tolo, a December '76 graduate who will enter medical school this fall; and Gary Powell, a May '76 grad now attending the University of Missouri law school, all fulfilled the requirement of a 3.61 gpa in order to be inducted into the prestigious organization.

Seneff has served as secretary and vice president of the chapter while Powell has served as historian and president. Tolo has been a service project chairman and intramural coordinator.

In addition, seniors Jim Leimkuhler, an advertising major, and Mark Fitzpatrick, a news-editorial major, were inducted into Kappa Tau Alpha, the journalism honorary.

Sigma and Zeta provinces held a Chapter Officer and Adviser Conference Nov. 12 and 13 at Denison University's chapter house in Granville, Ohio. The meeting was under the supervision of Albert Clarke of the host chapter.

There were five groups in the work sessions on Nov. 12. They included house corporations and chapter finances, chapter advisers, scholarship, pledge programs and alumni relations.

Hobart S. Boyd (Illinois '00) recently celebrated his 100th birthday. The occasion was marked by a dinner in Lewistown, Illinois, attended by members of his family and friends.

He was born in Lewistown on Oct.

SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION: A new school building is being constructed for the village at San Antonio Agus Calientes in Guatemala, a village heavily damaged by the Guatemalan Earthquake. Assisting in the project is Stephen M. Dunne (California-Santa Barbara '75) who received funds from his chapter to help him make the trip to Guatemala.

Wieglos Named As Consultant

Lawrence P. Wieglos (Indiana '77) has joined the headquarters staff as a chapter consultant and will be visiting chapters with the start of the fall semester.

WIEGLOS

Wieglos, who graduated from Indiana with a B.S. degree majoring in marketing and advertising, was president of Indiana Alpha and was a delegate to the 1976 General Convention at Knoxville.

17, 1876, and has lived his entire life in that city. He began the practice of law there after graduating from Illinois in 1900 with an L.L.B. degree.

He was elected County Judge of Fulton County in 1910 and was twice reelected. He served as president of the Lewistown National Bank for more than 50 years until his resignation in 1965.

He is reported in excellent health and is quite alert and interested in the activities of the Illinois State Bar of which he is a 50-year member.

Boyd, however, is not the oldest living Phi. He is at least second in that category to Albert E. Smith (Iowa Wesleyan '97). Smith celebrated his 100th birthday last May. He joined the fraternity in 1894. When he retired in 1932 he and his wife moved to Seattle. He now resides in Spokane.

He also served the chapter as housemanager and was named "Best Pledge" while he was a Phikeia. He won the Indiana Daily student scholarship for his work in advertising. He had had the responsibility for 30 accounts with the student newspaper as an account representative since 1974.

Prior to coming to Indiana he traveled extensively. He lived and worked in the Virgin Islands and has made two tours of Europe as well as the West Indies and other Caribbean Islands.

Wieglos, who is from Hammond, Indiana, has also been a volunteer Motor Corp Driver for the American Red Cross and has done work for the Bloomington Hospital as a Volunteer Weekly Redcoat.

While in the Virgin Islands he worked with Litwin Construction Company as a cost clerk. He has also worked as a vending route man for Macke Corporation in Gary and has done inventory and costing for Seward and Company in Bloomington.

The new consultant is a professional clown and has owned his own franchise in three cities. He enjoys swimming, sailing and scuba diving. ■

Four Unanimous Choices Top All-Phis

BY DR. JOHN DAVIS, JR.
Scroll Sports Editor

Four of the top five 1976-77 All-Phi basketball team were unanimous selections of the board.

They include Rick Walker (Puget Sound '78) and Tim Evans (Puget Sound '78) from the nationally ranked NCAA Division II Puget Sound team, Kim Stewart (Washington-Seattle '78) and Jerry Marifke (Northwestern '79). Completing the honorary first team is Bill Caskey (DePauw '78), a second team choice last year.

Walker and Evans, both first team repeaters from last year, were both AP Little All-Northwest selections and paced all scorers with 555 and 480 points plus 208 and 138 rebounds respectively. Walker was his team's leading scorer in 15 games with top games of 32 against both Portland and Gonzaga and 31 against Portland State. Evans was the leading scorer in 11 contests with his top game being 32 against Chicago.

Stewart carried a 13.1 scoring average and a 1.9 rebound mark per contest plus 111 blocked shots. His top games were 22 points against both Duke and LaSalle.

Caskey carried an 11.0 scoring average through 24 games and had 220 rebounds plus 70 assists. His best game was 17 points and

Pacing the second team are a pair of unanimous choices—Greg Hickman (Whitman '77) and John Ridall (Denison '79). Others include Bill Faloon (Allegheny '77), with 17 ballot points, and Ray Burke (Knox '77) with 12, Bob Estey (Colgate '78) and Mike George (Washburn '78), with 9 each.

Hickman, team co-captain and repeater from last year, came back from knee surgery with an 8.0 scoring average plus a 5.0 rebound mark. In his career he scored 843 points and grabbed 410 rebounds.

Ridall topped his team in playing time with 870 out of 980 minutes. Through a 24-game season he had an 11.5 scoring average, 115 rebounds and 120 assists. Burke had a 4.4 scoring average plus 87 rebounds for the Knox Midwest Conference Western division champs. His top game was 15 points against Augustana.

Faloon had a 3.8 gpa on a 4.0 system in pre-medical studies plus winning the Alden and Doane Distinguished Scholar awards. He had an 8.9 scoring average and a 9.0 rebound mark. He was his team rebound leader in 10 contests with a top game of 18 against Lock Haven. In a 76-game career he tallied 684 points and grabbed 583 rebounds.

An unusual situation found Estey and George tied with nine ballot points each. Estey was valuable in every Red Raider game of an 13-11 season with a 5.6 average while George scored 178 points for the Ichabods with a top mark of 15 against Emporia State.

Phikeia Dave Lawson (Whitman '80) is the outstanding pledge basketball performer for the 1976-77 season. He led the Missionaries in scoring. His top offensive games were 23 points and 13 rebounds against Lewis and Clark at home and 22 points and 9 rebounds against Lewis and Clark on the road.

1976 Contributions Exceed $100,000

BY ROBERT J. MILLER
New Mexico '50
Executive Vice President

First, a word of thanks to Phi Delta Theta alumni who contributed so generously to the 1976 fund raising campaign. Both the Loyalty Fund, which is used for general operations, and the Educational Foundation, where the income is used for scholarships, benefited from your magnanimity.

Although the 1976 gross figures do not quite measure up to 1975, there are some interesting contrasts. First of all, the most recent campaign fell only $800 short of the record setting 1975 drive. However, the 1975 campaign benefited from a gift of almost $6,000 from the Wisconsin Alpha House Corporation which was not made available in 1976. Had this generous stipend been duplicated, 1976 would have been another record year for the Fraternity.

The 4,536 alumni who made an average gift of $15.96 to the Loyalty Fund built up a total of $72,410.67. The number of donors fell 14 percent, while the total amount donated declined only 7 percent.

On the other hand, 834 alumni made an average contribution of $41.82 for a total of $34,879.88 to the Educational Foundation. In this category, the number of contributors was up 6 percent, while the total amount given ascended 33 percent.

One minor campaign may have had an influence on the total amount given to the Loyalty Fund. One hundred forty-one brothers contributed $1,869 to the Mitchell Fund in answer to a special appeal made by PGC Lothar A. Vasholz early in the calendar year. Most of the Phis in this category donated only to the Mitchell Fund and many may have done so in lieu of making a gift to the Loyalty Fund.

Phis who contributed $100 or more are recognized by membership in the Sword and Shield Society. The total enrollment for 1976 increased by 34, to a total of 175, representing a 22% growth. Phis who contribute between $25.00 and $99.99 are recognized as members of the Azure Association. The number in this group grew by 349 to a total of 1,830, an improvement of 24%.

The trustees of the Educational Foundation have again announced that 18 scholarships of $600 each, plus the Priest Award of $800, will be granted in 1977, thanks to the continued generosity of alumni.

Contributions to the Loyalty Fund have enabled the Fraternity to continue its chapter visitation program, and the popular Chapter Officer and Adviser Conferences.

Once again, we extend sincere gratitude to our loyal alumni.

BY DOUG PHILLIPS (New Mexico '49)
President of the General Council

This issue of The Scroll contains a special notice to all alumni readers that they will be required to furnish their correct address and inform us that they wish to continue to receive The Scroll, including the summer supplement in tabloid form which prints the chapter newsletters. A similar notice will appear in the three following issues, thereby advising all alumni over a period of one year of this requirement.

If a person fails to return the corrected address notice from The Scroll but makes a financial contribution during the year, he will remain on the mailing list. We do not want to drop any of our regular contributors just because they failed to return The Scroll notice.

At the end of one year, alumni who have not responded once during that year to indicate their correct address and their desire to receive The Scroll will be dropped from the mailing list. If a member is removed from the mailing list and wishes at a later time to receive the magazine, he will be restored to the mailing list upon notification to General Headquarters supplying his correct address.

This action was authorized by the General Council after long and extensive surveys of the current distribution and readership of The Scroll. These surveys have indicated that many of the present addresses on the mailing list are no longer valid and that some alumni simply do not have sufficient time to read The Scroll. Each initiate of Phi Delta Theta is entitled to receive The Scroll under his lifetime subscription provided in the General Statutes. Because it constitutes the basic medium of communication between all levels of the Fraternity, considerable amounts of time, effort and money are devoted by the Fraternity to the publication and mailing of The Scroll in the face of constantly rising costs.

To the extent that copies are sent to addresses where they do not reach an alumnus, this communication is not realized and the fundamental purpose of The Scroll is lost; as a result, the Fraternity suffers a financial loss, and both it and the alumnus suffer a loss of communication. The same is true of copies which reach alumni who do not have the time to read The Scroll.

It seems obvious that if copies of The Scroll were sent only to active members and interested alumni of Phi Delta Theta, our communications would be strengthened and the Fraternity would save the costs of publishing and mailing copies which are never read by a Phi. These twin objectives are the goals sought to be achieved by the action of the General Council. We are confident that this one-year notice to our alumni will provide a reasonable opportunity for every interested reader of The Scroll to continue to receive it, and at the same time permit the Fraternity to streamline its distribution of The Scroll so that copies are published and sent only to interested readers who can mutually benefit from communication with the Fraternity. We believe that this will, in turn, permit the Fraternity and its members to realize the full potential of The Scroll.

We should again note that the General Council is fully confident in Brother Bill Dean (Texas Tech '60), who continues to do a truly outstanding job of editing The Scroll. Not only has Brother Dean maintained the highest professional standards of journalism in achieving communication through The Scroll with all areas of the Fraternity, he has also introduced many features which have reduced the overall costs of The Scroll. All Phis are indebted to him for the excellent work he has done.

Province Presidents

This past academic year has been a banner year for the Province Presidents in their visitations to their chapters. Final figures indicate that our 33 Province Presidents made more than 280 visits to more than 140 chapters and colonies. These volunteer efforts, together with the volunteer efforts of Chapter Advisers, House Corporation members, alumni clubs, and others, are directly responsible for the success of our chapters. The General Council has voted a special message of thanks to the Province Presidents for their devoted efforts during the past year.

Tributes Paid to George Banta, Jr.

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the Spring, 1977 issue we reported the death of George Banta, Jr. (Wabash '14), former president of the General Council (1932-34), who died Jan. 18, 1977. Since then we have been collecting tributes to him from various fraternity leaders with whom he worked in his long years of service to Phi Delta Theta. They are presented here as a memorial to Brother Banta.

By Dr. Clem E. Bininger
(Centre '31)
President, General Council,
1960-62

From my initiation into Phi Delta Theta on the unusual date of February 29, 1928 (less than a year to the Golden Legion) at the Centre College of Kentucky, the name of Banta has been indelibly impressed upon my mind from the reading of The Scroll and Banta's Greek Exchange.

Little did I realize that I'd later be privileged to serve as Province President and as President of the General Council . . . and get to know so well the late George Banta and his Phi Delta son, Bud Banta.

The family devotion to fraternities and sororities was honored in a unique way when Brother George served as President of Phi Delta Theta at the same time his beloved wife was serving as President of Kappa Alpha Theta.

An officer in the First Presbyterian Church of Neenah, Wisconsin, along with another Past President of the General Council, the late John Wilterding, Brother George was also an outstanding Board member at Lawrence College.

In the finest sense of the word Brother Banta was "a Christian gentleman of the old school", and I doubt that we shall see his like again in Phi Delta Theta. The Chapter Grand has been enriched by his induction into its Halls where he has been reunited with his distinguished Phi father and where his wife is doubtless a Phi Delta sweetheart as she was upon this earth.

By Ray Blackwell
(Franklin '24)
Scholarship Commissioner 1937-42
Alumni Secretary 1958-67
Scroll Editor 1965-67

During the many years I was privileged to serve Phi Delta Theta, I had the rare opportunity of becoming personally acquainted with a large number of extremely loyal Phis. I never met one who was any more devoted to the fraternity tradition or to his own fraternity than the late George Banta, Jr.

As a very young Phi my first meeting with Brother Banta left a profound impression upon me of the man himself, but more especially of his unquestioned love for Phi Delta Theta. As my responsibilities increased, my contacts with George became more frequent, and my respect for him grew on each occasion to observe him in action.

Upon my visits to Menasha during my editorship of The Scroll he would always clear his calendar so that we could discuss frankly some of his concerns about fraternity affairs in general. We did not always agree in our thinking but in the rare instances when we disagreed, I never once doubted that he was acting solely for the good of Phi Delta Theta as he viewed it.

George did not hesitate to voice his opposition to any proposals which he did not consider in the best interests of the fraternity. He was particularly disturbed by any appearance of rowdiness or "horseplay" in connection with fraternity activities.

George Banta, Jr., treasured historical significance of individuals and objects and did all any man could to preserve the past for the benefit of future generations of Phis.

The entire fraternity world owes much to George not alone for his own tireless activities but for the example he set and encouragement he gave others associated with him in his business, each to serve his own fraternal group in any and every way possible. If such service encroached upon office time—well, it was in a worthy cause! Phi Delta Theta drew heavily and effectively from the Banta reservoir for many of its leaders. So did other fraternities.

In so many ways Phi Delta Theta, indeed the entire collegiate and fraternity world, is indebted to George W. Banta, Jr., the man, the editor and publisher, the business executive, the fraternity proponent, the devoted Phi, and a loyal friend. Thank you, Brother Banta!

By John C. Cosgrove
(Penn State '05)

Finance Commissioner 1950-66

Your letter informing me of the death of Brother George Banta is quite a shock even though we all know we have to go sometime to the great beyond. Although I haven't seen George Banta recently, I realize his fine work for our fraternity, and I am sure that you and the other administrative officers will miss your intimate contacts.

In our loss of George Banta, a devoted Brother in the Bond, we have lost one of the men who has worked very hard in directing and managing our fraternity. Our grief is softened by the knowledge that our fraternity will continue to benefit from the wonderful contributions he made in his lifetime.

By Russell H. Fitzgibbon
Scroll Editor 1932-36

The announcement in The Scroll of the death of George Banta, Jr., must have come as a shock to the thousands of Phis who knew him. To me it brought especially poignant memories of the close associations I had with him in the 1920s and 30s when I was much more active in fraternity affairs. Those relationships were most direct in the years when I edited The Scroll, 1931-36, and they involved, in addition to constant correspondence, many meetings at conventions, officers' conferences, and on other occasions.

George was less than ten years older than I, but I always regarded him as an almost infallible source of fraternity wisdom, knowledge, and devotion. There was doubtless a bit of hero worship at least unconsciously involved in my attitude—it was a time when such men as George, Dean Hoffman, Art Priest, Bill Bayes, and others were providing inspired leadership for Phi Delta Theta.

They were succeeded by other equally devoted and talented leaders, but perhaps in the days of one's youth, admired and loved leaders tend to assume a larger-than-life stature. It was certainly true of George Banta, Jr.

In the countless conversations I had with George and in the scores of letters I received from him, never once did he express a petty attitude toward anyone, never did he reflect a position on fraternity policy or problems that was not based on a profound devotion to and understanding of the role of the fraternity system in American higher education. Coupled with that he was a very human person, a completely efficient and genial host at the one or two Menasha-based officers' conferences I attended, a witty and effective speaker.

Others will write more knowledgeably on George's many specific contributions to the fraternity and the fraternity system. I would simply like to attest to his indelible niche as a statesman in both. He is truly one of the Phi immortals along with his own father, Walter Palmer, and others. A tablet in St. Paul's in London has a Latin inscription regarding the cathedral's architect, Christopher Wren, "If you would see his monument, look about you." Though George would have been the first to insist that others share the accolade, we can extend the Wren tribute to him: Phi Delta Theta in 1977 is no small measure a monument to George Banta, Jr.

By Harry M. Gerlach

Scholarship Commissioner
1947-49, 1962-71

I joined the General Headquarters staff on Oct. 1, 1932. At that time George was a member of the General Council. I do not remember when he became President of the General Council. I do remember that he, and possibly one or two other members of the General Council, personally endorsed notes so that money could be borrowed from a local bank to enable the General Headquarters, and thereby the General Fraternity, to function during the depression years of the thirties. Initiation fees from the chapters were not sufficient to meet the budget of the General Fraternity.

MR. AND MRS. BANTA: Mr. and Mrs. George Banta, Jr., rarely ever missed a Phi Delta Theta Convention. This one was the 1966 Convention on the Grand Bahama Islands.

George also contributed money to make the David Demaree Banta Library possible when the new General Headquarters building was erected. In all probability he made other dollar contributions about which I have no knowledge.

Dollar contributions are no measure whatever of George's tremendous loyalty to Phi Delta Theta. Throughout his more active years he was known as "Mr. Phi Delta Theta". His influence upon Phi Delta Theta, and the fraternity world, was significant. I don't suppose the minutes of the General Council through all those years he served as a member will tell the whole story. Only very old members of the fraternity who were active for some of those years can know a little of the story.

Together they probably can produce a tremendous record of George's devotion.

I surely hope that someone will bring together a true statement of the facts and that the fraternity will produce an adequate memorial in his name. Most regrettably his death signals the end of the influence of a Banta upon Phi Delta Theta.

By Walter Havighurst
Librarian

Back in 1945 when the Building Committee was planning the new Headquarters, George Banta quickly and warmly responded to the proposal of two facing murals in the foyer—one picturing the rustic Old Miami of 1848 and the other showing the widespread fraternity on the map of North America.

No other Phi had so balanced a sense of Phi Delta Theta's small beginnings and its destined enlargement.

By Emmett J. Junge

President, General Council 1948-50

My long active service in Phi Delta Theta as a province and national officer began in 1932

PHI FAMILY: The Phi Delta tradition runs deep in the Banta family. Present for the 1966 Convention were George Banta III (Lawrence '45), George Banta, Jr. and Bob Banta (Duke '69).

when Brother Banta was elected president of the General Council at the Estes Park Convention. I always looked to him for counsel and advice whenever I needed guidance or inspiration.

I always found George to be very fair in his decisions, thinking first of his fraternity and its future. His whole life, except for his family and his publishing business, was dedicated to Phi Delta Theta and the leadership that it should provide in the college fraternity world. I know that through his constant interest and attention he influenced many outstanding brothers into active participation in our alumni affairs and also helped many others like myself who did not have the long fraternity background to properly consider and solve the many problems that arose.

If there ever was a "Mr. Phi Delta Theta" it was George Banta, Jr. He served us with honor and dignity, and I will greatly miss his visits at future national conventions. I personally appreciated his help during my presidency of the General Council when we were involved in our controversial membership clause problems.

From the time I first met George Banta in 1934, he was an idol of mine, one to be looked up to at all times, one whose judgment always inspired confidence, one whose character and integrity were beyond question, one who represented the best in American business and, above all, one who represented the very best in Phi Delta Theta and best exemplified the teachings of the Bond. He will be sorely missed, but his memory will always inspire us to be better members of Phi Delta Theta.

By Fred J. Milligan, Sr.

I, too, was saddened by the death of George Banta, whose contributions to Phi Delta Theta were practically unlimited.

When I became National Traveling Secretary in 1928, George Banta was a member of the General Council and consequently I became well acquainted with him. Since this was my first year out of college, I admired him particularly because he gave me good advice on how to maintain cordial relations with the chapters and at the same time deliver the General Headquarters message effectively.

Later, George Banta proposed me as Dean of Men at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wisconsin, and at his invitation I visited the institution. After agonizing for some time over a decision, I decided to accept an offer by then Attorney General John W. Bricker to become an Assistant Attorney General of Ohio. But I never forgot the expression of confidence and warm friendship displayed toward me by George Banta. Believe me, it was mutual.

The passing of Brother George Banta, Jr., has taken from us a third generation of loyal Phis who have contributed so much to the traditions and ideals of Phi Delta Theta. Throughout his lifetime, he contributed his talents and his resources to build a stronger fraternity for his undergraduate brothers and to promote a brotherhood for life.

For more than three decades, I worked with George at and between conventions. Whenever debate on controversial issues became heated on the convention floor and threatened unity of our purposes, George stood up before the delegates, with a string of convention ladders hanging to his knee, and calmed the tempers by a few clam reminders that we came together to solve our problems for the ultimate good of all.

In his quiet manner, he worked with me for months to establish the David D. Banta Memorial Library Foundation as a means of relieving part of the financial burden on the fraternity for maintenance and expansion of the library at General Headquarters. In many other instances, he has helped chapters and brothers who needed financial backing.

I shall always treasure the memories of Brother Banta as one who was a living example of the principles of Phi Delta Theta among his brothers and in his community.

U.S. Naval Institute
Proceedings, April 1977

George Banta, Jr.

In January 1922, a young man from Menasha, Wisconsin, convinced the Naval Institute's Board of Control that the printing company founded by his father, the George Banta Company, could print the Proceedings while meeting the three essential criteria desired by all magazine publishers—high quality work, punctual performance, and reasonable cost. Mr. George Banta, Jr., delivered on his promise, for in January 1977, 55 years later, the George Banta Company continued as the printer of Proceedings, The Blue-jackets' Manual, and many additional Naval Institute books.

Mr. Banta passed away on 18 January 1977 at age 83. Under his guidance, the George Banta Company had grown into a nine-division corporation serving thousands of customers, domestic and foreign; but, more importantly, he had influenced the lives of thousands of men and women whom he had personally touched with his impeccable integrity, his abundant generosity, his pervasive love of his fellow men, his devout adherence to high Christian ideals in both his personal life and business activities, and a personal grace which set him clearly apart as a very special man.

The members of our Board of Control, staff, and Naval Institute join together in a heartfelt expression of sympathy to Mr. George Banta, Jr.'s family members and countless friends, all of whom had their lives so enriched by having him among them for so many good years.

Member at Large
General Council 1950-54

George Banta, upholding in his long and distinguished business and fraternal career, the great Banta name with very special honor, will always occupy an unparalleled niche among my memories of the immortals of Phi Delta Theta.

AT MENASHA: The Phi tradition also runs deep in the George Banta Company in Menasha, Wisconsin. Looking at an issue of The Scroll were John H. Wilterding (Lawrence '23), past president of the General Council (1954-56); George Banta, Jr.; and Haywood Biggers (Lawrence '32), former editor of The Scroll. All three company executives and fraternity leaders are now deceased.

GROUNDBREAKING: George Banta, Jr., turns the first shovel at groundbreaking ceremonies in 1945 for the new headquarters building on the Miami campus at Oxford. Banta spearheaded the drive that resulted in the construction of the building.

Georgia Phi in Key White House Role

One of the most influential individuals in the White House staff assembled by Jimmy Carter appears to be the President's long-time aide and campaign director, Hamilton Jordan (Georgia '66).

Jordan, 32, is one of the young Georgians in the White House staff whose name seems to constantly pop up in the country's leading news magazines, newspapers and electronic media when they attempt to analyze the new power base forming in Washington, D.C.

He was recently referred to as "The second most powerful man in Washington" by Washington Post writer Sally Quinn (Washington Post, Jan. 16).

He was appointed to the position of Assistant to the President in January, 1977. He and his immediate staff make up what is known as the "political coordination" unit within the White House. His duties are general and his influence appears to be considerable.

Prior to being appointed by Carter, he served as campaign director of the Carter Presidential Campaign. From March, 1973, to December, 1974, Jordan was campaign director for the Democratic National Committee.

From February, 1969, to January, 1971, he was campaign manager for Carter's campaign for governor of Georgia, and from January, 1971, to March, 1973, he served as the Governor's Executive Secretary.

In Atlanta Carter's staff was marked by a fairly "loose" and congenial relationship among aides who had worked for the Governor for several years and who were equal in his eyes and their own. This same atmosphere seems to prevail at the Carter White House.

He recently told a group of reporters that when the rush of making administration appointments finally dies down, he would like "to spend a lot of time trying to see that certain things work right."

He mentioned specifically such matters as paper flow and scheduling, the concerns of a man who intends to remain at the center of power. "I hope to have time," he said, "to reflect and plan beyond the next day."

Hamilton Jordan was born Sept. 21, 1944, in Charlotte, North Carolina. He went to Albany High School in Albany, Georgia, and received an A.B. degree from the University of Georgia in 1967.

He met his wife Nancy at the University, where her sorority sister (Kappa Delta) was engaged to a Phi Delt brother. They dated casually, then didn't see each other until he came back from Viet Nam. He was a volunteer with the International Voluntary Services and served in South Viet Nam in the area of refugee relocation from July, 1967, to February, 1969.

When he returned both he and Nancy found themselves working for Jimmy Carter. They were married in 1970 right in the midst of the Carter gubernatorial campaign. They live in Washington in a small house she picked out herself.

There is a long-standing Phi Delt tradition in the Jordan family. His father, Richard L. Jordan (Mercer '29) and his grandfather, Hamilton McWhorter, Jr. (Georgia '01) were both Phis as is Richard L. Jordan, Jr. (Georgia Tech '62), a brother.

He has two Phi Delt uncles—Albert B. Jones (Georgia '38) and Frank J. Jordan (Mercer '28) and a Phi cousin, Albert B. Jones, Jr. (Georgia '66).

Jordan and his staff made the initial White House staff selections and it is generally conceded by observers that his role seems certain to remain strong and influential. ■

DeConcini Well Grounded in Politics

Member of an Arizona family that has been prominent in government, the law and business, Dennis DeConcini (Arizona '59) is well into his first year as a freshman senator from Arizona in the 95th Congress.

He resigned from his post as Pima County Attorney in 1976 to campaign for the Senate seat of retiring Republican Senator Paul Fannin and defeated Republican Rep. Sam Steiger to gain his seat.

The freshman Senator has received unusually good committee appointments to the Appropriations and Judiciary Committees and the Special Committee on Aging.

Until his election, he had been active in the business community as a director of a statewide savings and loan association. As an officer of several family businesses, he has had primary responsibility for real estate management and development.

From 1968 to 1973 he was a member of the law firm of DeConcini and McDonald, practicing with John R. McDonald, J. William Brammer, Jr., and his father.

His political roots date back to 1958 when he was elected Precinct Committeeman at the age of 21. He was a member of the Pima County Democratic Central Committee for more than 12 years and served on the State Executive Committee for 10 years. In 1964, Dennis was a member of the Arizona delegation to the Democratic National Convention and in September of that year was elected State Vice Chairman of the State Democratic Committee.

DeConcini was active in numerous state and federal campaigns, including the campaign organizations of former Arizona Governor Sam Goodard in 1962, 1964, 1966 and 1968. In 1974, he was the General Campaign Manager for Raul H. Castro's gubernatorial race.

He served Governor Goddard as Special Counsel from January through September of 1965 and as Administrative Assistant from September, 1965, until January, 1967. In November, 1972, he was elected Pima County Attorney and commenced a four year term on Jan. 1, 1973. Governor Castro appointed him Administrator of the Arizona Drug Control District in July, 1965.

During his tenure as Pima County Attorney, his programs to assist consumers, deal fairly with first-time offenders, protect the environment and wipe out the flow of hard drugs brought national recognition to his office. The National District Attorneys Association named it the model office of its size in the country for the implementation of standards and goals. He was elected president of the Arizona County Attorneys and Sheriffs Association in 1976, and was awarded the County Attorney of the Year award for 1975.

DeConcini attended Tucson public schools with the exception of four years in Phoenix schools from 1948 to 1952. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Arizona in 1959 majoring in political science and minoring in history.

He was commissioned Second Lieutenant in the Adjutant General's Corps where he served for one year. He obtained his law degree from the University of Arizona College of Law in 1963, and the same year entered the private practice of law with his father and brother, Dino.

He served the Judge Advocate General Corps, U.S. Army Reserves, from December, 1964, through May, 1967, at which time he was honorably discharged.

His father, Evo DeConcini, has combined a successful Tucson law practice with service to the state as Pima County Superior Court Judge, Arizona Attorney General and Justice of the Arizona Supreme Court. His mother, Ora, is an active Democrat and currently Arizona Democratic National Committeewoman.

DeConcini is married to the former Susan Margaret Hurley, a member of a pioneer Phoenix family. They have three children: Denise, Christina and Patrick Evo. ■

Hoge Discusses New Role at GHQ

BY ART HOGE
(Westminster '75)

Director of Chapter Services

In beginning a new phase of fraternity service, it is interesting to note the fraternity system as a whole, where it once was, where it has recently been, its present position and its future.

Through my travels the past two years as a Chapter Consultant,

Arthur F. Hoge, III (Westminster '75) has replaced Cary Buxton (Butler '73) as director of chapter services. Hoge has served for the past two years as a chapter consultant.

While in Missouri Beta he served as librarian, scholarship chairman, assistant treasurer, treasurer, member of the steering committee and delegate to the Biennial Convention at Miami Beach in 1974. He was elected "Outstanding Senior" and won a Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation scholarship.

On campus he served in the Westminster college student assembly and was a member of the student publications board. He played on the varsity soccer team and was captain of the varsity rifle team.

He received a Bachelor of Arts degree and majored in mathematics, graduating with a 3.24 overall average and 30 in a class of 143. He received a math department assistantship and belonged to Pi Mu Epsilon, national honorary in math, and Mu Alpha Theta, another math honorary. He was a charter member and president of the former, and founder and president of the latter.

He also belonged to Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary leadership fraternity, and Epsilon Beta Alpha, honorary business fraternity. In 1975 he was selected Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

In addition he still found time to edit the school yearbook and newspaper and serve one year as business manager of the school newspaper. He was also involved in the Army ROTC program and won a scholarship which he declined.

Hoge makes his home in Oklahoma City.

I have noticed, as have others, a revival in the system, a blossoming spring after a hard winter freeze. It is not uncommon to see chapters, once on the verge of extinction, rise rather rapidly to successful levels. In general, the viewpoints of students have and are changing once again, and this particular change happens to be a healthy one for the fraternity system.

In viewing my role with Phi Delta Theta and its chapters, the General Fraternity is more than a central organizational structure. It should also be a guiding source for experienced and knowledgeable assistance. Without this, the advantages to belonging to such an international organization would be far diminished.

The Feeding Point

The chapter, feeding point of the fraternity, is constantly in a state of change. Approximately a quarter of its membership will leave each year, officers usually change more frequently, and yet the management required to run such an organization successfully calls for the skills necessary for the operation of many businesses. Such an organization is certainly prone to problems, and we find that the more successful chapters are the ones that continually work to improve their management principles. Some may believe the prosperity of any particular group is due to some form of favorable fortune, should occur by itself or is a result of a particular campus.

While each campus is different and certainly influences the type of group which can survive within its premises, successful fraternities can be found on each and only the key needs to be found which will open the lock. Helping the chapter find this key is an area in which the General Fraternity should assist.

Three Common Elements

Prosperous chapters have common elements, three of which are brotherhood, organization and alumni support. This leads into the major portion and most important asset of the fraternity—its alumni. The fraternity relies heavily on this source to provide the guidance and support necessary to insure a chapter's continued existence. It has often been said the most important position in the fraternity is the Chapter Adviser, for from this volunteer worker comes that continuity and guidance on a day-to-day basis that is vital to a chapter's performance.

To really solidify a chapter's position, however, the alumni backing should go further than this. It is interesting to note that many chapters go up and down in their performance, but those that are continually healthy and are able to steadily advance through difficult times are those with a strong alumni structure. This guidance often is a result of individual alumni support, House Corporations and/or alumni clubs.

The Future

The composition of the fraternity is an interesting one—I would relate it to a triangle—each point needed to complete the framework yet each relying on the other. For the future there will most certainly be problems, some to the degree (if not greater) experienced during the past decade. Noting the leadership and support the fraternity has received in the past, Phi Delta Theta should continue to be a highly respected fraternity. Its outstanding record can continue with the proper leadership and support from all three points of the triangle. Helping to coordinate this support and leadership is the general goal I have established for myself. ■

Council Wrestles with Mailing Problems

The general problem of maintaining accurate mailing addresses for initiates highlighted a mostly routine General Council meeting at the Sheraton Inn-Memphis Airport in Memphis on April 22.

The Council agreed that the editor of The Scroll should publicize for the next year a decision by the Council that would require each subscriber to return his mailing label off the back cover of the magazine as an indication that he wanted to continue receiving the magazine. If the address on the label is incorrect and the magazine had been forwarded to the member, he will be asked to note his correct mailing address before returning the label.

The action was taken because of test samples that indicate that a significant percentage of the addresses on the master mailing list are inaccurate.

The Council also reviewed a report on the so-called "Endangered Species" chapters as submitted by the headquarters staff. It was agreed that the names of such chapters should be printed annually in The Scroll and that in the case of critical chapters, drastic action should be taken to separate from membership or place on alumni status those members who are not supporting a program for improvement.

Upon reviewing the recommendation of Province President Earl Lockhart the Council voted unanimously to remove the Texas Gamma chapter at Southwestern University from probation.

Reports submitted by the Texas Beta chapter officers at Texas in response to the probationary status of the chapter were reviewed and approved. The chapter was placed on three years' probation by the General Council at its previous meeting for violation of the fraternity's anti-hazing ordinance.

The continuing problem of chapter delinquencies was reviewed by the Council as well as a discussion of alumni club activity. The suggestion was made that the Alumni Commissioner promote the development of alumni clubs in retirement areas such as those located in Arizona, California and Florida.

The Council discussed possible meeting sites for the 1978 General Officers Conference and listed as its first choice San Antonio with the meeting scheduled for the first weekend of February.

Robert S. Dinkel (Alberta '53) was named to serve as chairman of the 1978 Convention Committee on Constitution and General Statutes.

The reports of the Nominating Procedure Committee and the Awards Committee were studied in detail by the Council members. The Awards Committee report was referred back to the committee for additional refinement and recommendations.

It was noted that 263 visits have been made to 141 chapters by province presidents during the current academic year. Only six chapters had not been visited as of April 20.

The Council, by unanimous vote, named the firm of Ernst and Ernst to prepare an audit of the fraternity's financial condition for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1977. Also by unanimous vote the Council elected to

Lendman Associate Career Help Still Available

Phi Delts seeking career assistance may still qualify to participate in Lendman Associates' Career Conferences held nationally throughout the year.

Every week in major U.S. cities, Lendman Equal Opportunity Career Conferences are being conducted, offering literally hundreds of career opportunities.

The first evening involves listening to representatives from 25 to 50 local and national companies describe their current professional positions. Later in the evening you may personally meet the individual company representatives of your choice in hopes of securing an interview the following day.

Over 2,500 of the nation's top hiring companies have successfully used the Lendman system, and over 20,000 men and women have been placed as a result of their participation.

To qualify you must possess a minimum of a four-year college degree. Additionally, related work or military experience is required. However, candidates having earned an engineering degree or graduate level degree need not necessarily possess related work skills.

Menard Joins Consultant Ranks

Pierre M. Menard (Michigan State '77) has joined the headquarters staff as a chapter consultant and is currently beginning his first round of chapter visitations.

Menard received a B.S. in psychology from Michigan State last spring and was very active in chapter affairs of Michigan Beta. He was chapter secretary, served on both the pledge program committee and by-laws committee, and was elected president for the spring 1976 and winter 1977.

On campus he worked as research editor for the Michigan State Network news department and was later promoted to continuity director.

He is a native of Central Falls, Rhode Island, where he attended high school. He was the recipient of the Le Foyer Educational Foundation scholarship. He lists as hobbies hockey, writing, television and radio. ■

Dan Keck Named To Head Province

R. Daniel Keck (Oregon State '71) has been named by the General Council to serve as president of Pi South Province replacing Doug Grim (Washington St. '67).

Pi South includes two chapters in Western Oregon—Oregon State University and Willamette.

Keck formerly served the fraternity as a chapter consultant and was later named director of alumni services. He is a sales representative with the Container Corporation of America in Tualatin, Oregon. ■

Chapters In Distress — An Update

By ROBERT J. MILLER
(New Mexico '50)
Executive Vice President

For the past several years, the General Council has asked the Headquarters staff to prepare a list of Phi Delta Theta chapters which fail to measure up to minimum standards of operation.

In doing so, the staff has chosen to divide chapters into a number of categories under a title, which for lack of anything better, has been called the "Endangered Species Chapters." Early in the game, the list was held confidential, being distributed only to a limited number of officers.

In the State of the Fraternity Report for the 1974-76 biennium, the Executive Vice President chose to publicize the list of sub-par chapters. After all, word that such a list existed had spread from coast to coast and its existence was known by significant numbers of undergraduates and alumni.

Identifying the chapters on the list caused furor in a number of quarters, but there is reason to believe that it may also have contributed to the improvement of several chapters. In any event, the General Council has since endorsed the publication of the list and has requested that this follow-up report be submitted, along with the publication of a new "Endangered Species" list for 1977.

It is a special pleasure to report, first of all, that the list has been reduced in size. Twenty-two chapters appeared on the 1976 list as opposed to 18 chapters in 1977. Additional good news is that the following chapters have been removed from the list because of the improvement exhibited during the 1976-77 academic year: Louisiana Beta—Louisiana State University; New York Beta—Union College; Nova Scotia Alpha—Dalhousie University; Ohio Epsilon—University of Akron; Pennsylvania Gamma—Washington & Jefferson College; Pennsylvania Epsilon—Dickinson College; Texas Gamma—Southwestern University; Texas Iota—Lamar University; Utah Alpha—University of Utah; and Virginia Eta—Virginia Polytechnic University.

The General Officers of the fraternity wish to express appreciation to undergraduates and alumni alike who devoted time and talent to the improvement of the above chapters.

Special note should also be made of three chapters which, although still on the "Endangered Species" list, have shown significant improvement. With a repeat performance in 1977-78 of the kind of dedication and devotion experienced in 1976-77, the following three chapters will doubtless be off the list very shortly: Pennsylvania Beta—Gettysburg College, Pennsylvania Theta—Pennsylvania State University, and Vermont Alpha—University of Vermont.

With so much good news out of the way, we regrettably turn our attention to the negative side of this report.

The "Endangered Species Chapters"—1977

The following chapters are in a very unstable condition, and they are listed as "critical." Without substantial alumni support, in cooperation with dedicated, sincere effort at the undergraduate level, there is some doubt whether these chapters will be in existence a year from now: Arizona Alpha—University of Arizona; Florida Delta—University of Miami; Georgia Gamma—Mercer University; and New Mexico Alpha—University of New Mexico.

The chapters listed below have limited manpower, but, even so, should survive the 1977-78 academic year, especially if efforts are undertaken immediately to improve chapter management: California Alpha—University of California, Berkeley; Minnesota Beta—Mankato State University; and Ohio Nu—Youngstown State University.

The chapters in this third category are performing well under improved management techniques developed during the past year. Were it not for limited manpower, they would be considered in good condition. However, it is essential that these chapters devote additional effort to their rushing techniques in order to increase chapter size during the coming year: Florida Alpha—University of Florida; Montana Alpha—University of Montana; Pennsylvania Theta—Pennsylvania State University; and Vermont Alpha—University of Vermont.

The final category is a listing of chapters which have sufficient size to operate successfully, but there exists a need to improve leadership and management techniques: Manitoba Alpha—University of Manitoba; New York Zeta—Colgate University; Oklahoma Alpha—University of Oklahoma; Oregon Gamma—Willamette University; Pennsylvania Beta—Gettysburg College; Virginia Delta—University of Richmond; and Virginia Zeta—Washington & Lee University. ■

In the Summer, 1977, issue on page 99 it was stated in a cutline that Stephen M. Dunne (California-Santa Barbara '75) had gone to Guatemala to aid the village at San Antonio Agua Calientes. The village was damaged by the Guatemalan earthquake. Dunne did not make the trip but did help raise funds from the chapter at Santa Barbara that paid a portion of the travel expenses of a friend for the journey.

AMARILLO

The Amarillo Alumni Club has grown and prospered during the last two years. Not only has membership grown but the club is in its best financial condition ever. In the Amarillo area, there are approximately 200 Phis, of which 130 are graduates of Texas Theta at West Texas State.

Founder's Day was celebrated March 24, 1977, at Sutphen's Barbeque Restaurant in Amarillo. Some 70 Phis enjoyed cocktails, barbeque and an excellent speech by new head football coach at West Texas State, Bill Yung.

The traditional Amarillo Alumni Club Christmas Reception was again a huge success as 60 club members and their wives or dates gathered at Foxfire Apartments Clubroom. Earlier in the fall, the Alumni Club sponsored a reception at Homecoming at West Texas State.

Upcoming events will include a summer picnic, sponsorship of rush parties, periodic luncheons as called and Homecoming and Christmas receptions.

Recently the Amarillo Alumni Club was deeply saddened by the death of Brother Rip C. Underwood, 71, a long-time Amarillo businessman.

Any Panhandle-area Phi interested in Phi Delta Theta should contact Gary Culp, 8608 Wilshire, Amarillo, Texas 79110 or call 806/352-1954.—Gary R. Culp

HARRISBURG

The Harrisburg Alumni Club met at the Carlisle, Pa., Embers Restaurant to celebrate Founder's Day on April 15, 1977. The ceremony was performed by Brother Ted Brookhouser, who acted as master of ceremonies, with the assistance of six brothers, all Golden Legionnaires. Inducted into the Golden Legion were Maurice E. Shaffer (Dickinson '30), and Fred T. Wolf (Dickinson '30).

The speaker of the evening was Brother Art Hoge, chapter consultant.

HOUSTON

On Friday, June 10, the Houston Alumni Club threw its second party of 1977 as HOUSTON: Members and their wives (top and bottom) enjoy the fun and good food at the Houston Alumni Club's poolside party and hamburger fry.

120 brothers, wives and dates gathered to enjoy a poolside party at the Tanglewood home of Bill (Texas Tech '63) and Cheryl Jeter. Festivities began in the early afternoon with a doubles tennis tournament at the River Oaks Tennis Club. The contest was won by Jesse B.

Heath, Jr. (Texas '63) and Louis Brandt (Miss '59), and rumor has it that Heath has been clandestinely investigating into the whereabouts of his trophy ever since.

The party then moved to the Jeter's home where an open bar, a cool breeze (which was warmly welcomed), and charcoal broiled hamburgers were the order of the evening. All in all, it was a lot of fun for all present, and our thanks go out to the Jeters for their gracious hospitality.

Our next function will be a stag Mexican buffet dinner at the River Oaks Country Club. Tentatively set for Wednesday night, September 14, this evening of beer, margaritas, and south of the border cuisine is always an annual favorite with the area brothers. At this time, we would like to invite any graduating seniors who may be moving into Houston as well as all other area brothers who have not yet signed up this year to attend the September function.

We would also like to extend a special invitation to the Houston alumni of Baylor's "Tryon Coterie" fraternity who have recently been initiated into Phi Delta Theta following the "Tri-C's" recent charter as Texas Lambda, our newest Texas chapter. With our annual Christmas party for members, wives and dates (at the River Oaks home of Jesse and Hetta Heath) still to come, we still have plenty of entertainment to offer for the annual dues of $25.00.

For more information please write our Social Chairman, Bart Bentley, at 2508 Reba, Houston, Texas 77019.—Larry Peterson

MISSOURI ALPHA

Missouri Alpha celebrated its 107th year on the University of Missouri campus during the 1977 Founder's Day Banquet March 4.

It was the first Founder's Day celebration at Missouri Alpha in several years. Alumni secretaries Dan Ward and Prince McDougal did an excellent job organizing the dinner, which promises to be an annual event. More than 50 alumni attended this year's dinner.

Greg Walker ('73), former president of the chapter and currently news director at KWIX Radio, Moberly, served as master of ceremonies.

Four brothers, including Earl Moore, Mexico, (Westminster '29), John Fellows ('30), Sidney B. Neate ('28), and Frank G. Harris ('29), all of Columbia, were initiated into the Golden Legion, commemorating 50 years of membership in the fraternity.

Bud Werner ('54), vice president of R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., delivered the after-dinner talk. Brother Werner, a former president of the chapter, is the father of Mark Werner, a sophomore at Missouri. Brother Werner of Winston-Salem, N.C., was also honored for having traveled the longest distance to attend the banquet.

Dick McDougal ('50), of Sikeston, was honored as "Phi of the Year" for continuing service to the fraternity. Brother McDougal is the father of Prince McDougal ('79).

Russell Coats ('72) was honored by the chapter for five years of service as chapter adviser.

Following the dinner and a social hour, a group of actives and recent alumni spent the rest of the evening and a good portion of the next morning at several Columbia gathering spots.—Dave Busse

NORTHERN NEVADA

Founder's Day was held at Brother John Ascuaga's Nugget in Sparks on March 19, 1977. Dr. Robert Kinney, Dean of Students at the University of Nevada-Reno, was the guest speaker.

Dr. Kinney informed the brothers and their guests of the status of the Greek system at UN-R, pointing out several weak spots in which their help was needed.

Brother Dave Harvey was elected president of the Northern Nevada Alumni Club for the 1977-78 year; Charles Saladino, vice president; Lloyd Dyer was re-elected treasurer; Alan Glover, secretary; and El Frazer was elected as the new member of the Housing Corporation.

PHOENIX

The 1977 Founder's Day Banquet for the Greater Phoenix Alumni and ASU undergraduate chapter was held at one of Brother Marriott's finest hotels, the Camelback Inn. Over one hundred attended this fine event which honored Arizona Beta founder, Emette V. Graham.

Arizona Beta has continued to be one of the outstanding chapters in the country. Their attendance and contribution to Founder's Day was impressive, to say the least. Brother J.A. "Ted" Riggins (Arizona '36) kept the evening alive as speaker with great stories of days past. Special thanks must go to Brother Tom McCarthy (Montana '68) who was the "fire" behind this year's committee. Tom is a truly dedicated Phi and active Golden Legionnaire.

Steve Butterfield was elected alumni president and plans to have more alumni events if the budget can hold up. With over 700 alumni in the valley, it would be a shame if we couldn't get together more than once a year.—Richard A. Dow

The Richmond Alumni Club held its annual Founder's Day Banquet on April 15, 1977, at the University of Richmond. The dinner was preceded by a cocktail party at the Virginia Delta Lodge and was well attended by alumni and actives.

The evening was highlighted by the

The coming year will bring the 100th anniversary of the Richmond Alumni Club, and plans are underway to make the year one that will not be forgotten.—Stran L. Trout

ST. LOUIS

On March 30 the St. Louis Alumni Club held its annual Founder's Day banquet at the Sheraton Westport Hotel. In addition to the opportunity the banquet affords old friends to reunite and swap memories, Founder's Day provides four traditional highlights to St. Louis-based Phis.

First, actives from the three Missouri chapters are invited to attend and meet their alums. Again in 1977, the invitation was accepted by a large number. Each chapter gets a portion of the program to give the alumni a "State of the Chapter" report. This year's reports were well given and warmly received.

Next comes the Golden Legion ceremony to honor Phis with 50 years of membership. We were lucky to be able to honor a large number of our brothers.

Then the St. Louis Alumni Club announces its "Phi of the Year" selection. Brother R.C. Coburn (Missouri '23) presented the symbolic gavel to this year's recipient, Brother Robert H. McRoberts (Cincinnati '16) for his long and valuable service to his community.

Last, but probably most important, is something that occurs whenever Phis meet. They mingle, they talk, and they leave with a renewed commitment to Phi Delta Theta. As the evening winds down, it's easy to see that the attendees, all of whom enjoyed themselves and the chance to meet with the others, are indeed "Proud to be Phis."

ST. PETERSBURG BEACH

Newly elected officers of the St. Petersburg Beach Alumni Club are: Mark I. Shames, president; Henry E. Lewis, vice president; C. Richard Davis, secretary; Lyman C. Cherry, treasurer; Warren L. Smith, chaplain; Richard E. Raymond, historian; Fred H. Houser, warden; and Dean Hoffman, reporter.

Meetings of the group are held the last Friday of each month (except during July and August) and are two-fold in nature. On even numbered months there is a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. in the Pass-a-Grille Yacht Club, and on odd numbered months there is a dinner at 7:30 p.m. in varied locations as announced at the previous meeting.

SAN ANTONIO

San Antonio Alumni Club observed Founder's Day on March 20, 1977, with a good crowd of about 40 people. There was one Golden Legionnaire, Brother William F. Calohan (Chicago '30), who was introduced by Brother Leonard J. Otten (Maryland '40). The new officers of the Alumni Club were installed at Founder's Day. They are: Landon A. McCollister (Oklahoma '25), president; William C. "Nemo" Herrera (Southwestern Texas '22), vice president; and Glenn Foster (Indiana '18), secretary-treasurer.

The highlight of the meeting was an illustrated lecture by Brother Richard E.W. Adams (New Mexico '53) on the Maya Lowlands. Brother Adams is professor of anthropology and Dean of Humanities and Social Sciences at the University of Texas at San Antonio and spoke on his recent experiences in Guatemala and Yucatan.

SANTA CLARA VALLEY

The newly-formed Santa Clara Valley Alumni Club held its first Founder's Day Banquet in early April, and it was a great success. Officers of a fledgling club always wonder how such a first-time event will turn out, but President Dennis Fernandez did a masterful job of putting together an excellent program with the grand "coup" being the appearance of General Council President Doug Phillips as our guest of honor.

Brother Jerry Halverson obtained the site (Los Gatos Lodge) and an excellent menu for us. Club vice president Wayne "the voice" Leslie took us through a few Phi Delt songs (he only had to use the songsheet once!)

Brother Don DuShane, Jr., directed a meaningful Golden Legion ceremony honoring Monty Hawks (California '18), John Porter (California '16), and John Jensen (Idaho '30). Brother Jensen's wife, Dorothy, was present to see her husband inducted into the Golden Legion. Later in the evening, Dorothy was asked to pick the door prize tickets out of the hat . . . what ticket did she pick? That's right, husband John!

Brother Steve Albers was instrumental in inviting potential Phis to our banquet. A nucleus of outstanding undergraduates at San Jose State University has formed and shown great interest in our fraternity. Brothers Albers and DuShane have worked with these fellows, and it appears that a colony and future chapter will be coming soon. This group was a fine addition to our Founder's Day program, and we enjoyed having them present.

Treasurer Dick Irion says we're solvent . . . he's a banker and ought to know! We are a growing club, having a good time and doing things to strengthen the fellowship of Phi Delta Theta. We welcome area Phis to join us . . . give Dennis Fernandez a call at 252-6452, or meet us any third Monday, 11:45 A.M. at the Victoria Station Restaurant, corner of Wolfe and Homestead in Sunnyvale.—John Jackson

WASHINGTON, D.C.

The annual Founder's Day Banquet was conducted at the Kenwood Country Club on March 16. Over 100 Phis and their ladies attended the dinner.

The program included reports from the presidents of Maryland Alpha and Maryland Beta, and the induction of five brothers into the Golden Legion. Those Phis are Wellington Barto (Dartmouth '30), Clarke Stout (Kansas '27), Jerrome Kuykendall (Washington-Seattle '30), John Horner (Randolph Macon '30), and George Huguely (Duke '30). Brother Huguely's son, George (Virginia '54), accepted the award for his father.

Congressman Robert McEwen (Vermont-Pennsylvania '42), was toastmaster, and General Bernard Rogers (Kansas State '43), was the main speaker. General Rogers, Army Chief of Staff, spoke on the role of the fraternity.

The club also elected officers for the coming year. They are President Beatty R. Julien (Valparaiso '24), Vice Presidents Daniel Shaffer (Cincinnati '65) and Randolph Dove (Western Maryland '74), Treasurer John Flood (Gettysburg '53), and Secretary James Kinsel (Maryland '43).

Again, as in so many past years, Brother Carl Scheid did an outstanding job in arranging the banquet.

The Washington Alumni Club meets the third Thursday of every month in the Army-Navy Club at noon. Interested brothers should contact any officer for information.—Randolph V. Dove FEATURED SPEAKER: The featured speaker at the Washington, D.C. Alumni Club's Founder's Day dinner, General Bernard Rogers (Kansas State '43), visits with Congressman Robert McEwen (Vermont-Pennsylvania '42) following the banquet. General Rogers is now serving as Army Chief of Staff in the nation's capitol.

Jim Otto (Miami-Florida '60) and Andy Olson (Northwestern '76), both members of the World

OTTO the field in competition, both have spent many years with the game.

Jim Otto is best known for his many years of outstanding play as an All-Pro center in the AFL and NFL, and for his jersey number "00" which is famous as his trademark throughout the nation. Olson spent four years at Northwestern on the sidelines as a football manager, and for the last two summers he was a member of the College All-Star Game staff prior to joining the Raiders.

The Raiders' domination of the Minnesota Vikings was a special triumph for Otto, who played for the Raiders for 16 years and held the NFL record of playing in 210 consecutive games. Year after year the Raiders, captained by Otto, were in the playoffs, and year after year their dynamic efforts were stymied. In 1976, however, the Raiders attained their Crowning Glory.

OLSON Jim Otto had to watch from afar as the Raiders narrowly defeated the New England Patriots in an exciting playoff game, and then cheered along with millions as the Silver and Black demolished their nemesis, the Pittsburgh Steelers. For the last two years in a row the Steelers had kept the Raiders out of the Super Bowl, and now revenge belonged to "The Good Guys".

Otto, currently the Business Manager for the Oakland team, was an all-state linebacker and center at the University of Miami-Florida where he graduated with a degree in education. He pledged Florida Delta and become one of the most famous Phis in all of professional football. Born in Wassau, Wisconsin, Jim and his wife Sally now live in Yuba City, California.

Andy Olson, who is just concluding his internship with the club, joined the Raiders at the start of the 1976 pre-season just after his work with the College All-Stars in Chicago. He was pledge trainer, alumni secretary, and treasurer of his Illinois Alpha chapter, and prepared the nomination of Harmon-Rice Award winner Carl Patrnczak ('75). Now living in Alameda, California, Olson originally comes from Glen Ridge, New Jersey.

The greatness of the Oakland Raiders lies in its future, and these Phi Delts will be there to share in the glory. ■

Notice to All Subscribers

The General Council is going to make an attempt to update the fraternity mailing list so that the magazine goes to the home of each Phi rather than to his parents, his former roommate or some other nondescript place.

The Council will make this effort in the next four issues of the magazine.

If you want to continue receiving the magazine you should clip out that portion of this cover (to the right) with your address and identification number on it and mail it to Box 151, Oxford, Ohio 45056. This will be an indication that the address is a good one and that you want to continue receiving the magazine at the address you have clipped out.

If the address on this cover is incorrect and the magazine has been forwarded to you, then you should clip it out but indicate on it your correct address. This will be an indication that you want to continue receiving the magazine at the correct address.

If the general fraternity has received nothing from you by Aug. 1, 1978, you will be dropped from the mailing list of The Scroll.
