Jeff Johnson Wins Harmon-Rice Award

Jeffrey Johnson (Ripon '78), chapter president, Cum Laude graduate and the fraternity's all-time football career total offensive leader, ran away with the Harmon-Rice balloting for 1978. He scored first on five of the six ballots for 28 points.

Johnson, who compiled 5,411 yards in four years—also tops in Ripon history, was an All-Midwest Conference defensive back in 1975 and an All-Midwest quarterback in 1976 and 1977. He earned four varsity letters in both football and baseball and was captain in both sports.

He served Wisconsin Gamma as vice president in 1976 and president in 1977. In addition he was the chapter representative to the IFC from 1976 through 1978.

This year's winner has been described as a "triple-threat" in all phases of his collegiate life—athletically, fraternally and academically. He was selected to Omicron Delta Epsilon, an economics honor society: Phi Alpha Theta, a history honor society; the Rhodes Scholar nominee from Ripon; and the Marshall Scholarship nominee from Ripon. He served as a tutor in the School of Economics.

He won his school's top award, the S. N. Pickard Award, which is given annually to the best allaround Ripon College man on the basis of athletic ability, scholarship, character and college loyalty.

Second and third places in the balloting went to Mark Koening (Case-Western Reserve '78), a track and cross-country performer who scored 16 points, and Rich Walker (Puget Sound '78), a third team All-American basketball selection who tallied 14 points.

Koening had a 2.9 gpa on a 3 pt. system in chemical engineering. He was the recipient of three scholarships—the Case President's Merit Scholarship, the AAL All-College Scholarship and the Case Alumni Association Scholarship.

He was president of the Case Student Assembly and was named Case's Outstanding Senior Athlete in 1977-78. A two-time captain in both cross-country and track, he was named the Most Valuable Performer of both sports in 1977 and again in 1978.

Mark placed in the conference 800 meters all four years, winning the Presidents Conference title in 1978 and placing fourth in the NCAA Division III.

Walker scored a 3 pt. on a 4 pt. system with a degree in Occupational Therapy. He served as the chapter's rush chairman and was very active in the high school Young Life program. He is Phi Delta Theta's all-time leading basketball scorer with 1,946 career points and 682 career rebounds plus a fantastic free throw performance as a senior, hitting 86 of 98. He was a three-time All-Northwest Conference selection with a career scoring average of 16.1 per contest.

Others scoring ballot points were Michael Anderson (Willamette '78), president of Oregon Gamma and an NAIA Swimming All-American; Mark Barrington (Drake '78), chapter finance chairman and outstandgolfer; David Smithson (Georgia Tech '78), Georgia Delta president as well as an excellent scholar in industrial engineering and gymnastic performer; Clifford Canepa (Colgate '78), acting president with a 3.9 on a 4 pt. scale and his team's leading scorer in trackboth indoors and outdoors-for three seasons; and Dave Harvey (Wabash '78), four-year football and baseball performer who was named NCAA Division III and Kodak Coaches All-American with a career total offense of 4,365 vards.

The State of the Fraternity

BY ROBERT J. MILLER (New Mexico '50) Executive Vice President

At the ripe old age of 130, the Fraternity continues to grow and prosper. The past biennium saw many improvements, both internally and externally, in Phi Delta Theta operations. The statistics in the report which follows are based on data collected as of June 30, 1978, and, therefore, include action taken at the 62nd Biennial Convention held at French Lick, Indiana, in June 1978.

Since the Founders met in John McMillan Wilson's room on the second floor of "Old North Dorm" in December 1848, charters have been granted for the establishment of chapters on 182 campuses of North America. The charters of 33 of these chapters have been revoked for various reasons, while two have been lost through the merger of host institutions where chapters were located and three remain under suspension, leaving a total of 144 "active" undergraduate chapters.

Extension during the past biennium saw Phi Delta Theta expand to the campuses of Baylor University in Texas and San Jose State University in California. Also, during the past two years, chapters were reinstalled at McGill University in Montreal, where the Fraternity's first Canadian chapter was originally established in 1902, and at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, where the original chapter was established in 1857. In additional action, the past biennium saw the reestablishment of the Illinois Beta chapter at the University of Chicago, the charter of which had been under suspension for a short period of time.

Also included in the above figures is the loss of one chapter through revocation by the June Convention, upon recommendation of the Survey Commission. The Ohio Nu chapter at Youngstown State University, established in 1973, had difficulty from the very beginning in getting properly established on campus. The few members remaining in the chapter simply gave up the ghost in a spasm of exhaustion during the past academic year and careful study of the situation failed to give any indication that efforts at reestablishing the chapter would succeed.

The charters remaining in suspension are Kentucky Epsilon at the University of Kentucky, New Mexico Alpha at the University of New Mexico and Oregon Alpha at the University of Oregon. A colony is in existence at the University of Kentucky and it is expected that the charter will be returned during the coming biennium. One other colony was in existence at the close of business on June 30, that one located at Louisiana State University - Shreveport.

Since June 30, 1976, the Fraternity has witnessed the addition of 5,084 new signatures to the Bond, representing a small increase over the previous biennium. The current number of Phis on the roll has reached the grand total of 144,681.

Again, legacies played an important role in pledging activities during the past biennium. Among the men pledged in 1976-78 were 727 direct legacies, of whom 430 were Phi brothers, 345 were sons of Phis and 71 had Phi grandfathers. In addition, there were two great grandsons pledged. Within this

Chapter Services

During the biennium, the post of director of chapter services was ably filled first by Cary R. Buxton (Butler '73), and then by Arthur F. Hoge III (Westminster '75). Both men had served as chapter consultants before stepping into the new position. The Fraternity was fortunate to have the good services of both these brothers.

In addition to Hoge, Robert P. Roberts, Jr. (Ball

State '74), and Robert A. Biggs (Georgia Southern '76), served as chapter consultants during the first half of the biennium. Biggs was joined during the second half by Brian D. Dunn (Cornell '77), Pierre M. Menard (Michigan State '77) and Larry P. Wielgos (Indiana '77).

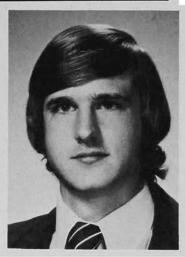

This staff was kept busy during the biennium, making a total of 435 visits to the chapters and colonies, as the result of 194 visits in 1976-77 and the balance of 241 in 1977-78. All chapters were visited at least once each academic year and, of course, there were many second and third visits to chapters in need of assistance as indicated on the accompanying chart.

Eighteen presidents made double visits in the first half of the period, while 15 officers reached this goal in the last half of the biennium. Triple visits were made each of the two years by C.T. George Notaras (Lawrence '53).

Chapter Officer and Adviser Conferences

The program of chapter officer education continues to grow in Phi Delta Theta. The popular and now well established system of officer conferences, which involve not only the chapter officers but advisers as well, continue to grow. There were 117 chapters represented by 430 undergraduates and 62 chapter advisers at the 1977 meetings.

These figures shifted slightly during the second year, with 435 undergraduates and 52 advisers from 121 chapters attending the meetings. Unfortunately,

Financial Support Remains Strong

This report will not attempt to reflect the strong financial condition of the Fraternity as a result of generous contributions from alumni during the biennium. The story is told in detail in the Summer issue of The Scroll each year and we refer readers to past issues for a full explanation. We did not want this opportunity to pass, however, without expressing the very sincere appreciation of the officers, both volunteer and professional, for the generosity of Phi Delta Theta alumni. Without the kind of support that has been exhibited in the past, many programs would either be discontinued or reduced significantly.

The 1500 Club

Accompanying this state of the Fraternity message is "The Roll of Chapters" giving statistical information on the 182 chapters of the Fraternity. There is also a chart showing those chapters which have initiated at least 1,500 members. The thirteen in this group two years ago have been joined by Indiana Theta at Purdue University, Georgia Delta at Georgia Tech and Mississippi Alpha at the University of Mississippi. Endangered Species Chapters

Each year, this section of the report provokes letters of praise and protest. Those who criticize the report indicate that we are "kicking the chapters when they are down" and making a public spectacle of them. Persons supporting the report contend that calling our attention to our problems is the first step toward resolving them. A case can undoubtedly be made for either point of view, based on the information which follows.

Of the seven chapters listed in critical condition two years ago, the charter of one has been revoked and the charter of another suspended One of the seven remains on the critical list for the coming year. The other four were removed, not only from the critical category, but from the entire "endangered species" list. One of these was awarded a Silver Star citation and two were presented with Outstanding Improvement Awards at the recent Convention. It is also encouraging to note that the list has been gradually decreasing in size.

With limited words of explanation, here is the current list of chapters in need of assistance. The following chapters are very unstable, in fact, should be considered in critical condition:

Arizona Alpha — University of Arizona Florida Delta — University of Miami

Minnesota Beta - Mankato State University

The chapters listed below have limited manpower but should be able to make substantial improvement if internal management is improved and a good pledge class, in terms of size and quality, is obtained during the coming year. In the meantime, their condition should be considered hazardous:

California Alpha - Univ. of California, Berkeley California Gamma - U.C.L.A. Maine Alpha - Colby College

The following chapters are performing well under improved management but have limited manpower:

Colorado Beta - Colorado College

Kansas Epsilon - Emporia State University

Montana Alpha - University of Montana

New York Beta - Union

The following chapters have sufficient or stabilized manpower, but need to improve leadership and management techniques:

Alabama Alpha - University of Alabama Indiana Kappa - Ball State University Kansas Beta - Washburn University

Added to the above list of "endangered species chapters" is a special category, including chapters which will remain under the watchful eye of officers during the coming year due to problems or situations peculiar to the campus and/or chapter:

Nebraska Alpha - University of Nebraska Ohio Kappa - Bowling Green State University Pennsylvania Beta - Gettysburg College Texas Beta - University of Texas Conclusion

In one phrase, it has been a good biennium. The 1978 Convention saw the presentation of more awards to more chapters and individuals than at anytime in the memory of any person present. This is a strong indication of improved operation at both the undergraduate and alumni levels. The forecast for the future is encouraging.

Even so, it is important to keep in mind that, on the whole, college enrollments will decrease during the coming biennium. This will result in smaller chapters and perhaps the loss of a few chapters, unless steps are taken to improve rush techniques, tighten financial operations and, in general, refine administrative procedures at the chapter level. Your general officers will be working toward that end in 1979 and 1980.

Cal Iota At San Jose State Installed

On May 13, 1978, the California Iota Chapter of Phi Delta Theta at San Jose State was installed fulfilling the dreams of many local alumni who had spent months in nurturing a colony along and planning for the installation.

Officiating in the initiation of 20 undergraduates and three others were Doug Phillips, president; Robert J. Miller, executive vice president; Charles E. Wicks, reporter; Don DuShane, Omicron North province president, Stephan Albers (California-Davis '75) and several other alumni from the Santa Clara Valley Alumni Association as well as undergraduates from Stanford, the University of California-Davis and Nevada. The initiation took place at 8 a.m. and lasted until noon.

The new initiates (in Bond Order) include John von Buelow (1), Stu McFaul (2), Gary Marr (3), Rick Dimmitt (4), Marv Idso (5), Terry Collins (6), Jeff Jackson (7), John McDonough (8), Paul Parenti (9), Dennis Sauer (10), John Buethe (11), Rick Santos (12), Michael Paoletti (13), Howard Freedman (14), Bob Bastian (15), Mario Osuna (16), Robert Dreibelbis (17), Rod Hoagland (18), Ernest Talone (19), Mike Miramontes (20), Gary C. Williams (21), James Watkins IV (22), and Theodore Montemurro (23).

A brunch was held at the Chapter House for the newly initiated members, their guests, alumni members, fraternity officials, the chapter's Little Sisters and members of other Phi Delta Theta chapters.

The installation ceremony took place at 3 p.m. in San Jose State Spartan Memorial. General Council President Phillips presided with Colony Adviser Albers presenting the group. Members of the installation team were Scott Wheeler, Mike Henry, Miller, DuShane, Gerald McKinney and Wicks.

It was a memorable ceremony for all and as it ended, Queen's "We are the Champions", the Cal Iota spirit song, was played on the organ for the recessional. Many brothers had tears in their eyes when they realized that the thing they had for so long strived for was now an actual reality.

That evening all of the initiates and their guests gathered at Rickey's Hyatt House in Palo Alto for a cocktail hour and banquet. Keynote speaker was Donald DuShane II. Wicks and Miller also spoke. Phillips presented Golden Legionnaires Granville Geisert (Butler '31) and Robert Fulton (Akron '31) with their pins and certificates. Gary Marr, alumni secretary, presented appreciation certificates to several of the local alumni who were instrumental in the colony's quick progression to chapter status.

CHARTER PRESENTATION: General Council President Doug Phillips presents John Von Buelow with the California Iota Charter in ceremonies conducted May 13 at San Jose.

Fraternity Honors Three For Service

At the Award Banquet of the 62nd Biennial Convention this past summer at French Lick, Indiana, the General Council presented two special awards for the first time to honor three Phi Delts for service to the fraternity. The following are remarks made by outgoing GC President Doug Phillips in presenting the awards to John Harding, Verlon Jenkins and Pete Stuart.

As you know, the General Council during this last biennium undertook to improve the level of performance of all chapters and to appoint an Awards Committee to review our awards program in order to provide suitable incentives to our chapters, to maintain excellence, and also in order to properly recognize them for doing so.

The number of GHQ plaques and gold stars awarded at our luncheon today amply demonstrates that our chapters have improved their operations significantly and that we are pleased and proud of these achievements of all undergraduates.

As you also know, the General Council has fully realized during this last biennium that Alumni who devote their time and energy to work as chapter advisers, province presidents, general officers, commissioners, and in other capacities, were all instrumental in providing the support and guidance necessary to assist these chapters in achieving these goals. And we have fully appreciated the fact that it is absolutely essential to the continued success of our Fraternity to select and retain the services of these loyal and dedicated Phis.

With this in mind, we decided to present two special awards to Phis who have demonstrated such continued and devoted service to Phi Delta Theta that it typifies the highest traditions and ideals of this Fraternity. Through the close cooperation of L.G. Balfour Company, we have been able to secure special medals which have been prepared for the purpose of signifying these new and special awards.

There are two co-recipients of the first award, and one recipient of our other award but there can be no question that all three of these recipients are fully entitled to the highest accolades which this Fraternity can confer.

The first award which will be presented is the Legion of Merit Award. The criteria for this award is as follows: The recipient must be a person who has rendered service to the Fraternity which is outstanding, and above and beyond the call of duty. The first of our two recipients of this award is Brother John E. Harding.

HARDING

Brother Harding was initiated into Phi Delta Theta as Bond #1 of the Texas Epsilon Chapter at Texas Tech University on May 2.

He became associated with Silver Key, the group which later became Texas Epsilon, in 1937 as a graduate student. He became its sponsor that year and provided the leadership which enabled the chapter to become one of Phi Delta Theta's outstanding chapters, having won the Harvard Trophy 10 times since 1953.

He was named president of Nu South Province in 1957 and served until 1962 when there was a reorganization of the area and he became president of Rho North Province, encompassing north Texas, which he continues to serve today.

Four chapters have been installed during Brother Harding's tenure as president of Rho North: Texas Zeta-Texas Christian Univ., Texas Theta-W. Texas State, Texas Kappa-Texas at Arlington, Texas Lambda - Baylor Univ. Brother Harding has served on various convention committees, having attended 12 conventions beginning with the 50th Convention at Maclenac Island in 1954.

Brother Harding, I congratulate you and present you with this Legion of Merit Award.

The second of the two recipients of the Legion of Merit Award is Brother Verlin P. Jenkins.

JENKINS

Brother Verlin P. Jenkins was initiated on Feb. 2, 1925, by the Ohio Epsilon Chapter at the University of Akron.

His active service in Phi Delta Theta has included that of Chapter Adviser to Ohio Epsilon, 1954-56, when he was named to the presidency of Sigma Province, where he currently serves the area of Michigan and Northern Ohio - at times this area has included as many as nine chapters.

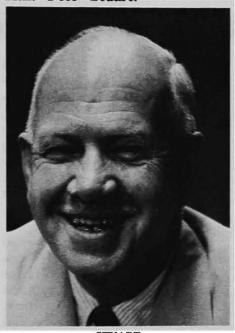

Brother Jenkins has been an active force behind the alumni strength in the Akron area over the years and continues to provide "a home away from home" for the traveling chapter consultants while they are visiting in the area. He has received recognition on numerous occasions for the service he has given Phi Delta Theta and the university community in the Akron area by both undergraduate and alumni groups - most recently the subject of a "roast" by the Akron Alumni Club (12/27/77).

Three chapters have been installed during his tenure as province president - Mich. Delta (GMI), Ohio Mu (Ashland) and Ohio Nu (Youngstown State).

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to present this Legion of Merit Award to Brother Jenkins.

Our second award which has been established by the General Council for presentation for the first time here at this convention is the Legion of Honor Award which is given for a life devoted to Phi Delta Theta based on the following criteria: (1)Made a major contribution of his time, effort and energy to serving the Fraternity and improving its stature; (2)has distinguished himself in representing the Fraternity principles of Friendship, Sound Learning and Rectitude; (3)Is widely recognized as a leader of Fraternity men and identifies with the promotion of Fraternities; (4)Has widely advanced and enlarged the opportunities for growth and leadership among college men through Fraternities.

We have chosen as the first recipient of this award Brother H.L. "Pete" Stuart.

On Jan. 12, 1918, Brother H.L. Stuart was initiated as as a member of the Pennsylvania Theta Chapter at Penn State University and since that date has maintained an active interest in his fraternity.

He has served as treasurer and president of Pa Theta's House Corporation, two terms as chapter adviser, president of Gamma Province (1950-54), before being elected to the general council at the 54th general convention.

He was re-elected in 1956 and served as treasurer. His fraternity career was climaxed at the 52nd General Convention in Ashville, NC, in Sept. 1958, when he was named president of the fraternity by acclamation.

Brother Stuart's service has encompassed many facets - including a service on the survey commission during the period 1962-68.

I know you join me in sharing our great pleasure in presenting the first Legion of Honor Award to Brother H.L. "Pete" Stuart, Mr. Phi Delta Theta.

SMU Grad Promoted to Marine Major General

On June 15, 1978 Marc A. Moore (SMU '49) was promoted from Brigadier General to Major General in the U.S. Marine Corps adding one more accomplishment to an already long list of achievements by him in military service to his country.

The new major general is the commanding general, 4th Marine Division, with headquarters located in New Orleans. The 4th Division is the ground reserve component of the Marine Corps with its units in 197 locations throughout the United States.

He was formerly director for operations, J-3, (National Military Command Center), Joint Chiefs of Staff, Washington, D.C. He has been around the world many times and has served in three military conflicts involving this country—World War II, Korea and Viet Nam.

He was first named as brigadier general on June 1, 1976, and assigned duty as Assistant Division Commander, 1st Marine Division, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, Camp Pendleton, Calif. His personal decorations include the Legion of Merit with Combat "V", the Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V" and gold star in lieu of a second award and the Air Medal.

Born in Dallas he first entered SMU in 1945 and completed one year before enlisting in the Marine Corps in 1946. He served with the Guard Detachment, Department of the Pacific, San Francisco and as an Assistant Drill Instructor, Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

After completing his enlistment in 1948, General Moore returned to SMU, graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English in 1951. While in college he joined the Marine Platoon Leaders Class program in 1948 and was commissioned a Marine second lieutenant in February, 1951.

In March, 1952, he was assigned to the USS Manchester as junior officer of the Mainre Detachment and served in that assignment during two combat cruises in Korean waters. He also served as a Naval Gunfire Air Observer, conducting shore bombardment strikes against North Korean and Chinese forces along the Eastern Coast of North Korea.

He was promoted to first lieutenant in December, 1952, and to captain in March, 1954. That June he was transferred to the 2d Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Subsequent tours of duty included such assignments as Officer Selection Officer, Dallas; Amphibious Warfare School, Quantico; and Headquarters, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, where he served as Headquarters and Service Battalion S-3 Officer and Aide to the Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific. He was promoted to major in March, 1962.

General Moore served two tours of duty in Vietnam. While serving with the 1st Battalion, First Marines he landed at DaNang in the spring of 1965. He served as S-3 Officer of this unit until transferred to the III Marine Amphibious Force as Officer-in-Charge of the Command Center during August.

He returned to the U.S. in December, 1965 and later earned a Master of Arts degree in Education from George Washington University in June, 1970. He was promoted to lieutenant colonel in November, 1966.

Returning to the Republic of South Vietnam in July, 1970, General Moore served as Executive Officer, First Marines, then Commanding Officer, 3d Battalion, First Marines. He brought that unit back to the States in May, 1971, and assumed command of the First Marines in June.

After being promoted to colonel in April, 1972, he attended the National War College in 1973-74 and was then assigned as Marine Corps Representative and Director of the Division of English and History, U.S. Naval Academy. After his promotion to Brigadier General he was assigned duty as Assistant Division Commander, 1st Marine Division, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, Camp Pendleton, Calif. He assumed his current assignment in September, 1977.

General Moore and his wife, the former Mary Donahue of Long Island, N.Y., have four children, Daniel, Mary Ellen, Virginia and Andria.

Mississippi Phi Owns Distinguished Naval Record

Rear Admiral Robert P. Hilton (Mississippi '48) is another in a long line of Phi Delts who have distinguished themselves with a record of high achievement in the Armed Services.

He is presently serving as Director, Strategy, Plans and Policy Division, Office of the Chief of Naval Operations in Washington, D.C.

In addition to the Distinguished Service Medal, Defense Superior Service Medal, Legion of Merit, Bronze Star and the Joint Service Commendation Medal, Rear Admiral Hilton has the World War II Victory Medal, Navy Occupation Service Medal, National Defense Service Medal with bronze star, Korean Service Medal, Vietnam Service Medal and the United National Service Medal for Korea.

He also has the Republic of Korea Presidential Unit Citation, the Republic of Korea Chung Mu with Silver Star, and the Republic of Vietnam Gallantry Cross with Silver Star.

Born in Atlanta he attended Schley County High School in Ellaville and served one year in the Army ROTC at North Georgia College before enlisting in the naval service in 1945.

He had training at the Naval Air Technical Training Center in Memphis for five months before attending Mississippi for one year as a student in the V12 program. Upon discharge he continued at Ole Miss in the Naval ROTC receiving a BA in Political Science. He was commissioned Ensign in the Navy on June 4, 1948.

Hilton was the first NROTC graduate from Ole Miss and the first graduate of the post-war NROTC program to be promoted to flag rank.

Early in his career he studied both Russian and French at Navy Schools and joined the USS NOA, which operated with the Second and Sixth Fleets, as operations officer in July, 1950. From July, 1953 until January, 1955 he served as Assistant Intelligence Officer on the staff of Commander Blockading and Escort Force, U.S. Pacific Fleet; concurrently, he served one year as Aide and Flag Lieutenant. Then he joined the USS Roanoke as Main Battery Officer, deploying to both Sixth and Seventh Fleets.

From July, 1959 to June, 1960 he was Executive Officer of USS Haynsworth, deploying with both the Sixth and Second Fleets. In July, 1961, he became Commanding Officer of USS Camp, which under his command participated in operations in the vicinity of Cuba and Northern Europe.

He reported in August, 1962, as executive assistant to the Director of the Joint Staff, Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington and while there received the MA degree in Russian Affairs from Georgetown University.

In 1966 he commanded USS Davis participating in operations in the Vietnam area. USS Davis received "E's" for excellence in 1966 and 1967.

After additional time back in Washington where he served as Navy member of the Chairman's Staff Group he assumed command of Destroyer Squadron Fourteen deploying with the Second and Sixth Fleets in January, 1972. In October, 1972, he reported as Assistant Chief of Staff for Logistics on the staff of the Commander in Chief Allied Forces, Southern Europe in Naples, Italy.

Hilton subsequently advanced in rank to that of Rear Admiral on July 1, 1973. From September, 1974 until July, 1976 he served in the Organization of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Plans and Policy Directorate as Deputy Director, Force Development and Strategic Plans.

From July, 1976 to September, 1977, he served as Director, East Asia and Pacific Region, Office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense (International Security Affairs), being awarded the Defense Superior Service Medal upon detachment.

An avid tennis player he is married to the former Joan M. Mader of Miami, Florida, and they have two college-age children, Robert P. Hilton, Jr. and Wendy M. Hilton.

Good Office Design Promotes Efficiency, Morale

By David F. Cooke (Hanover '70)

Congratulations! Your firm has grown substantially in the last five years, and you are considering a move to larger, more adequate facilities. Or, the space adjacent to yours has become available, and the extra square footage would help ease the overcrowding you have experienced lately. Or, the facility you occupy is adequate but needs a "new look" since your business has grown or changed its services.

Although the reasons differ, they will have the same end resultan office move. A move that can create confusion, frustration, loss of productivity, and disappointment. But with foresight and proper planning, your move could be a positive experience for all concerned. The simplest benefits of a well planned facility can include improvements in internal operations, efficiency, and better employee morale. Documentation of recent projects has shown that clean, well planned office facilities with good lighting and flexibility have been so well received by employees and employers that they are willing to come to work as much as 15 minutes earlier and stay later each day. On a yearly

David F. Cooke (Hanover '70) is presi-

COOKE care,

sident of Design Collective, Inc., a consulting firm in Columbus, Ohio, and president of the Ohio Regional Chapter of the Institute of Business Designers. Cooke's firm has recently been listed among the top 75 design firms in the United States. He has consulted on major projects in the areas of health care, recreation, food service, and finance, and has been involved in assisting the move of several thousand workers annually. Cooke shares a proven procedure for any anticipated office move.

basis, this means many additional man-hours from salaried employees.

Okay, your mind is made up; the move is definite. Who is available to professionally assist you?

From the beginning of the evaluation of a space and lease negotiation through selection of furniture and coordination, the contract designer is educated and trained to make your move a success. A relatively new profession, contract design reflects the degree of specialization that has occurred in the office environment of today. The contract designer differs from an architect and interior "decorator" in that the emphasis is placed on space planning and efficiency in nonresidential facilities. The contract designer is not only interested in aesthetics, but also in the impact of the working environment. A good design service might include architectural design and coordination, procurement, and management coordination.

How were your present facilities developed? Were they actually planned or did they grow out of a need for small amounts of additional space? Has new furniture happened by buying low-priced, odd items with no thought to office standards? Have your spaces become merely dead end "clusters" centered around poor circulation corridors? How have new office machines and equipment like CRTs and word processors been integrated?

Let's examine the steps a professional contract designer might use to properly plan a business environment.

Challenge and Review

My office prefers to establish a set of parameters with our clients by working directly with the "end user" (people who will eventually use the facility) on an intensified basis. By doing this, the designer learns how the client uses his office and knows his current problems and concerns.

Almost every client has an idea of how he would like to improve his present work situation, but a good consultant can often show more than one alternative. That is what is meant by "Challenge and Review"—first, study the clien't problem, and then, constructively challenge the alternatives to find the best solution. A good solution can often save thousands of dollars or reduce the man power needed to complete a task.

One Challenge and Review session recently showed a client the way to avoid buying $60,000.00 worth of CRT units by modifying the existing equipment. Another client was shown that the use of open plan would reduce the square footage requirements for housing department workers, thus reducing the client's overall rent expenditure.

Data Collection

Whether base data is collected and recorded by hand or by computer, good questioning at this phase of any project will save error and oversight in the end (typical base data is found in the questionnaire at the end of this article). This information will also be useful for other office decisions such as communication systems, inventory, and office interaction studies

This is the time in a project to evaluate buying or leasing phone equipment, explore sound masking systems, and determine fire code restrictions and requirements for the handicapped. Again, a good professional designer can advise you of what others have already learned.

Purchasing

Purchasing of equipment and contracting of services (carpeting, drapery installation, indoor plant leasing, etc.) have become more complex with many variations throughout the United States and Canada. We advise our clients to allow the independent (non-dealer) contract designer to do the shopping. Sometimes it is advantageous to competitively bid, while other times it is wise to negotiate for the equipment or service package.

Move-In

Move-in and employee orientation are critical whether we are speaking of moving 4 people or 400. The fact remains that a move with uninformed people will cause problems for everyone. Simple orientation programs in advance of the move can be done over coffee, or more elaborate programs for corporations can be designed to explain new equipment, office systems, and amenities such as the corporate exercise room and new art program.

When everyone knows the "whys" of a move, confusion is minimized. It is important to remember that each employee views the old office desk territorially as his or hers. Even with new equipment, better facilities, correct lighting, and other improvements, the space will be new and foreign. Time is needed for both adjustment and acceptance. A well planned orientation is not just a thoughtful gesture, but a means to speed acceptance.

Coordination

Coordination is the essence of any project. Unrealistic scheduling, building delays, careless installation, back orders, etc. can destroy the efforts of all. Regular job meetings, good communication, and an organized team of professionals can avoid the previously mentioned pitfalls.

Remember, these six basic steps: Challenge and Review, Data Collection, Design, Purchasing, Move-In, and coordination are essential to the relocation of a one man office as well as the move of a major corporation. The contract designer uses the same premise of "plan and anticipate" regardless of the scale or scope, and any project can benefit from good planning.

Your mind is made up; the move is definite. How do you get started? The questions below will help you prepare, and I personally suggest that you review them with a professional contract designer. The Institute of Business Designers, 1155 Merchandise Mart, Chicago, Illinois 60654 (312-467-1950) will be happy to provide you with a list of designers in your area.

1. What kind of space is really needed today, and what will be required in five years?

2. How much growth is anticipated in the next few years? Review the growth over the last three years.

3. What is the desired image? What image will be created by the choice of location?

4. What is the budget? Remember to include operation expenses, equipment purchase, structural expense, moving cost, and contingency.

5. What type of "work station" or work space is needed? How many clerk stations, management stations, executive stations, etc.? What is the potential for "recycling" existing equipment and office machines?

ATLANTA

The Atlanta Alumni Club celebrated its Annual Founder's Day Banquet at Capital City Country Club at Brookhaven on May 12, 1978.

Brother W. Stell Huie (Emory '52) past president of the club, conducted the Golden Legion Ceremony and presented 50 year certificates to the following new Golden Legionaires: Benjamin H. Askew (Georgia '32); John W. Burroughs (Georgia '31); Thomas M. Callaway, Jr. (Mercer '29); S. Clayton Callaway (Mercer '29); Thomas J. Crittenden (Georgia '30); G. Clyde Dekle (Mercer '30); Charles S. Fincher, Jr. (Georgia '31); and Frederic C. Thum (Arizona '31).

The Ward Wight Trophy for outstanding scholarship was presented to the Brothers of Georgia Beta at Emory Univ. by W. Sam Smith (Emory '48); past president of Epsilon Province.

The Frank Carter Trophy for all around chapter excellence was presented by Thomas D. Body, III (Georgia '60), past president Epsilon North Province, to Georgia Tech.

The new trophy known as the Michael S. Irby Memorial Trophy for the outstanding senior in Epsilon North Province was presented to Bill Ward (Emory '78), past president of Georgia Beta, by Alton F. Irby III, (Georgia Tech '60). Brother Irby is the brother of the late Brother Michael S. Irby (Georgia Tech '64), who passed into the Chapter Grand in November, 1977.

Special awards for meritorious service were given to J. Broadus Carmichael (Georgia Tech '45) for outstanding service to the Georgia Delta House Corporation by John B. Jackson, Jr. (Georgia Tech '45), executive vice president of the Atlanta Alumni Club. Brother Carmichael has served as secretary-treasurer of the Georgia Delta society-house corporation since 1946 and is also a past president of the Atlanta Alumni Club.

A second trophy for meritorious service was presented to Thomas D. Body, III (Georgia '60) for his outstanding contributions during his term as President of Epsilon North Province from 1972-1978.

The new officers of the year 1978-1979 are Thomas T. James, III (Georgia '67), president; Allen P. McDaniel (Vanderbilt '64), vice president; J. Rodgers Lunsford, III (Vanderbilt '65), vice-president; J. Lane Nally (Washington & Lee '74, treasurer. John B. Jackson, Jr. (Georgia Tech '45) will continue as executive vice president.

DALLAS

The officers for the Dallas Alumni Club elected for 1978/79 are: Bill Conger, president; Pat Wiggins, vice-president; Craig Scott, treasurer; David Shuttee, secretary; Roy Campbell, membership chairman; and Jack Gosnell, events chairman.

HOUSTON

The Houston Chapter of Phi Delta Theta Alumni held their fall party at River Oaks Country Club on Sept. 7, 1978. The next function will be the Christmas Party for members, wives and dates at a members home. The date will be Dec. 9, 1978. For more information contact Bart Bentley at P.O. Box 22028, Houston, TX 77027 or 224-3330. Annual dues are $25.00 and are payable any time.

LOS ANGELES

The Phi Delta Theta Alumni Club of Los Angeles honored the two men responsible for the recent tremendous resurgence in Los Angeles Alumni activity at their annual meeting June 29 at the Jonathan Club. In 1976 the local membership was 89; today it stands at 360 and will be much higher next year. Bob DeWeese (So. Cal '50) and Phil Gainsborough (So. Cal '60) were the men who created the changes in format and supplied the enthusiasm that made this growth possible.

DeWeese, as president, was the force behind the new policies. He was the recipient of a beautiful "Phi of the Year" award. Gainsborough, who as vice president enthusiastically contributed his ideas and his support, was elected president for a term to run through the end of 1979.

Officers elected to serve with Gainsborough were: Steve Lock (UCLA '65), vice president and program chairman; Bill Bedford (So. Cal '57), reporter; Frank Marshall (UCLA '49), executive secretary; and Bill Handy (UCLA '48), treasurer. Proving that a new broom does not need to sweep clean to be effective, Marshall and Handy were reelected to positions they have ably held for an eon, at least. Tremendous appreciation to them for their efforts over the years was voiced at the annual meeting and their continued help is essential as we continue to grow.

Future alumni club elections will be at an annual meeting in December, with the Club year to be on a calendar basis. The new format of quarterly luncheons, rather than monthly, at the downtown Jonathan Club with a speaker, was by acclamation made a part of regular club policy. It is felt that this style, combined with that hard work of Gainsborough and DeWeese, resulted in the soaring interest.

A very complete and attractive membership directory, the completion of a year of effort, was distributed at the meeting. Any Los Angeles area Phis who have not received the new directory should contact us at 610 Shatto Place, Los Angeles, California 90005. The directory includes alumni from 78 chapters.

PALM BEACH COUNTY

Palm Beach County Alumni Association had its annual summer rush party at Palm Beach Shore's Private Beach Pavilion on Singer Island on Saturday, Aug. 12.

The party was a barbecue with 60 alums, undergraduates and rushees (plus wives and dates) in attendance. Thirty-five were rushees and their dates.

The purpose of the party was to assist in rushing all young men who were going off to various colleges and universities nationwide. It was a great party and reunion which lasted from 5 p.m. until 11 p.m.

Our monthly meeting day has been changed to the third Tuesday of each month at 6 p.m. We will meet at Greenhouse (525 South Flagler) in West Palm Beach.—Ron Rountree.

PALM BEACH: Jack Thomas sells raffle tickets to other brothers at a meeting of the Palm Beach Alumni Club.

ST. PETERSBURG

Highlights of the brotherhood's annual golf sojourn and tournament held at the Plantation Inn, Crystal River, Florida, was the presence of ex-major league baseballers Max Lanier (St. Louis Cardinals), Roger Maris (New York Yankees) and Rudy Wache (St. Louis Browns).

Brother Fred Houser lead the gentlemen's division with the low gross followed within one stroke by runner-up brother Ord Fink. Brother Dean Hoffman took low net honors and Brother Richard Davis won the "Lucky A Hole". The ladies division also included a "Fink", namely, Amy, who won the low gross followed by another "Hoffman", namely, Lib, who was the runner-up. The other half of the Houser family, namely, Lou, was the low net winner. Trophies for this event are to be awarded during the forthcoming Founder's Day celebration.

A most enjoyable long three day week-end was concluded by this event and a warm companionship continued its meaning that "Membership in Phi Delta Theta is but a Campus Interlude". — Dean Hoffman.

SAN ANTONIO

The San Antonio Alumni Club served as host to four Phis celebrating a 40th anniversary on June 5. The Phi Delts, all from the University of Akron, included Anthony J. Coscia ('39), Robert P. Higley ('37), Col. Lucien F. Keller ('39) and Phillip E. Snyder ('39).

Also in attendance at the luncheon was Harry Gerlach (Miami-Ohio '30), present member of the Survey Commission. Gerlach had signed some of the group's membership cards when they were initiated as he was then an assistant to Executive Secretary Paul Beam.

Landon McCollister and Glen Foster made the local huncheon arrangements in San Antonio. Earlier the group had received telephone calls from three other members, one call coming from Rome while another came from Brussels.

SANTA CLARA VALLEY

The Santa Clara Valley Phis held a summer picnic at Huddart Park in Woodside in July. About 50 people enjoyed the BBQ and games. Those planning the family fun were Brothers Bill Reagan, Don DuShane, Rick Deutsch, Adrian Nelson, Wayne Leslie, Dennis Fernandez, Bob Bastian and J.R. Myers.

Brothers DuShane and Reagan participated in a rush party put on by the Univ. of Reno-Nevada Phi Delts at the Lake Tahoe home of Bill Harrah.

A big 1978-79 program of activities is planned, including a concentrated drive for new members, a tailgate party before one of the San Jose State football games, a Halloween party, and a rematch of the Alum-Undergraduate football game. — John Jackson.

Council Considers 'Game Plan' For the Biennium

Planning for the future and a series of routine agenda items consumed a full day of work for the General Council at its first meeting since the summer convention in Cincinnati on Sept. 14.

Council President T. Glen Cary urged fellow council members to help him come up with a "game plan" for the biennium. A number of areas were discussed with final decisions to be made at another Council meeting in November.

Members spent a good portion of the early stages of the meeting discussing problem chapters. As a result of reports and discussion the Council voted to suspend California Alpha at Berkley for sub-par performance.

Bob Biggs, director of chapter services, discussed plans for this years Chapter Officer and Adviser Conferences. Four had been scheduled at the time of the meeting with numerous others in the planning stages.

The Council reviewed the proposed budget and approved it. The bottom line budget figure for the biennium will be $1,279.00. As part of budget considerations the Council heard reports from Scroll Editor Bill Dean on economic considerations concerning the magazine for the next two years.

It was agreed to send a First Class mailing to approximately 33,000 members who have not responded to the Council's request to mail back their magazine labels if they want to continue receiving the magazine. The number also excludes graduates of the last 10 years, any Phi who has made a financial contribution and other

Phis from whom various communications have been received.

The annual audit was reviewed and concern was expressed over the possibility of an adverse ruling by IRS following an audit of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity regarding investment income. Members asked Bob Miller, executive vice president, to keep an eye on the Beta situation.

The work of province presidents was reviewed and several new appointments were made pending approval by chapters involved. The Council did vote to move Florida State to Epsilon Province.

Plans for the upcoming General Officers Conference at Scottsdale, Arizona on Feb. 2-4 were discussed. Newly elected council member Tal Bray was placed in charge of the program for the meeting.

Tim Shea Joins

Timothy Edward Shea (North Dakota '78) is the newest chapter consultant. He joined the staff in August and began chapter visitations immediately.

He received his B.S. in Biology from North Dakota this past spring. He first attended Regis College on a track scholarship where he lettered in cross country and track. At North Dakota he won the Frank C. Smith Scholarship in 1975 and 1977 for outstanding service to his chapter. He was named the "Outstanding Greek" in 1975 for contributions to the university and the Greek system.

At North Dakota Alpha he served as president, vice president, co-historian librarian and intramural chairman. He was the Warren Smith, province president of Zeta Province, was selected to head next year's Awards Committee and Cary was elected to be the council's representative to Edgewater and NIC.

The Council reviewed results of a poll conducted at the 62nd Biennial Convention in June regarding selection of a fraternity ring. The ring will be offered for sale to members by the fraternity.

Pending approval of the Survey Commission the Council voted to approve the University of Tampa for colony status.

Attending the meeting were Cary, Treasurer Bruce Thompson, Reporter Charles Wicks, Membersat-large Bray and Bob Dinkel along with Miller, Biggs and Dean.

Consultant Ranks

chapter's IFC representative and served as treasurer, IFC and Panhellenic Greek Booklet editor and chairman of the public relations committee.

He was a member of the ND Ski Club, Karate Club, and the American Red Cross where he was a water safety instructor trainer. He served for a period of time as an announcer and programmer for KFJM Radio.

The new consultant is a registered SCUBA diver and has served as a swimming instructor for the handicapped. He has been active in a variety of Red Cross programs in water safety.

Shea lives in Minot where he attended Bishop Ryan High School

Vic Bost To Head Delta South

William "Vic" Bost (North Carolina '63) has replaced John Poole

(North Carolina '65) as president of Delta South Province which includes the chapters in North and South Carolina.

He is in the private practice of law in Salisbury, N.C., having served previously as a professor of business

BOST fessor of business law and vice president for student affairs at Catawba College and assistant to the vice president for student affairs at Clemson. While at Clemson he served as adviser to the Phi Delt chapter.

The new consultant received a B.A. from North Carolina in 1963 and an M.A. in English the following year. He also got his J.D. from North Carolina in 1970.

From 1965 to 1970 he was an instructor of English at Clemson where he taught all freshmen and sophomore courses and one upper division elective in film. He was the adviser to Delta Phi Kappa.

The next three years he assumed his administrative role in student affairs where he advised all funded student organizations and arranged space and service requirements for all university organizations. He also worked under the University Counsel on assigned cases in labor relations and student constitutional rights and contracts.

He moved onto the post at Catawba from 1973 to 1976 where he drafted the school's Title IX Compliance Plan. Following a year as assistant professor of business law he began his own law practice.

Bost is a member of both the North and South Carolina bars associations as well as the ABA. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta Law Fraternity and the local Lions Club. He is an active participant in the First United Church of Christ where he is a youth director.

Three Ommitted From Listings

NEWSFRONTS

Four Phi Delts at Indiana State University have recently been initiated as charter members of Order of Omega. They include Michael Gavin ('71), public relations; Carl Melby ('78), speech communications; Virgil Pund ('78), marketing; and Mark Raabe ('79), criminology.

They were selected because they distinquished themselves as Greeks at ISU by promoting the quality and ideals of the Greek System. Order of Omega was founded at the University of Miami in 1959 to recognize a group of outstanding fraternity men for service to the Greek community and the university.

Congressman D. Douglas Barnard (Mercer '43) recently presented the general fraternity with a 5' x 8' American flag to be contributed to the Benjamin Harrison Memorial Home. Barnard is a Democrat from Georgia's 10th Congressional District.

Beginning in 1965, Phi Delta Theta has provided a flag which has flown over the Nation's Capital for the Harrison Home in Indianapolis, Indiana. Harrison was the twenty-third President of the United States and a member of Phi Delta Theta.

Phi Delts at the University of Cincinnati recently supported a campus wide volunteer escort service for women of the university. Volunteer escorts worked one, two-hour shifts a week between 6 p.m. and midnight during which they would walk with women from and to any point on campus.

Among those attending the 62nd Biennial Convention at French Lick Indiana this summer were some real Phi "veterans." Ed Williams (Colorado College '17) represented the Orange County, California, Club. James B. Wallace (Miami-Ohio '12) of Cincinnati was long associated in the exotic food business. Grosvenor Stewart McKee (Ohio '16) represented the Broward County, Florida, Alumni Club. He lives in Ft. Lauderdale and was, for many years, a vice president and director of Talon, Inc. Zippers. This was his 16th convention. He was the first president of the Educational Foundation.

Virginia Beta at the University of Virginia celebrated its 105th anniversary Nov. 10-11 in Charlottesville. The celebration began Nov. 10 with a band party at the house and continued Saturday with a pre-game brunch at the house, followed by the Virginia-Maryland football game.

After the game there was a special reception and that evening the activities were capped off with a dinner-dance at the Boar's Head Inn.

Phis Active in SMU Athletic Structure

There is certainly no shortage of Phi Delts in the Southern Methodist University Athletic structure. As a matter of fact, the top two men on the staff were in the same chapter at the University of Maryland.

On June 1, 1978 SMU named Russ Potts (Maryland '64), one of the pioneers of promotion in college athletics, as director of athletics. Shortly thereafter Potts named John Twining (Maryland '64) as assistant athletic director with primary responsibilities as the business manager of the athletic department. That brought the total to three Phis as Bob Cohen (SMU '78) has been assistant sports information director at SMU since 1976.

Potts is a 1964 graduate of Maryland who majored in journalism.

After graduation, he was sports editor of the Winchester Evening Star from 1964-70 in Winchester. Va. He won six awards including two first places in the Virginia Press Association. He hosted a daily radio talk show over WINC Radio in Maryland in 1970. In 1966 he was named to the edition of "Outstanding Young Men in America." Potts also served as executive director of the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival, the largest spring festival in the United States, which draws over 300,000 people a year.

Potts comes to Southern Methodist from the University of Maryland where he was director of promotions. The 39-year old Maryland native was the first college promotions director in the country when he joined the Maryland staff in 1971. Since that time more than 30 promotions directors have been named at NCAA schools.

In just a few short months, SMU has felt the effects of Russ Potts. On Sept. 9, Potts established the Jerry Lewis Bowl to benefit muscular dystrophy. The famous entertainer was present at the game between SMU and Texas Christian University to receive a check generated by attendance at the game. Delayed football telecasts are something totally new to the Southwest Conference and Potts has pioneered that area also in his short stint at SMU. The Mustangs will be carried on the local NBC affiliate on a delayed basis on four occasions and a fifth game will be broadcast live. Potts is also making an attempt to get live television coverage for the SMU basketball team. But more than anything else Russ Potts has been dedicated to getting more people into the stands for SMU football and basketball games.

TWINING

John Twining, a brother also coming from the University of Maryland, brings a strong business background to SMU. Twining received his B.S. degree in economics in 1964 and received his M.A.

in public administration in 1966 from Maryland. Twining served as Deputy Director for Administration for the Maryland Water Resource Administration in Annapolis, Md., the state's regulatory authority for water pollution control.

In that position, Twining had responsibility for the administration of a five million dollar budget, as well as responsibility for the personnel for an agency which totalled 250 employees. Twining served the position for four and a half years. Prior to that the Doylestown, Pa. native was an assistant professor of political science at Prince George Community College in Washington, D.C. for seven years. Twining was granted tenure and during his final two and a half years was department chairman.

In addition to Potts and Twining there is a third brother in the bond in the athletic department at SMU. He is Bob Cohen who has been assistant sports information director since 1976. Cohen, a senior at COHEN Southern Methodist, is the Voice of the Mustangs basketball and baseball teams. He was also named producer and host of the Ron Meyer Show, a television highlight show with the head coach of the Mustangs. Cohen is the youngest person in the country hosting a coach's television highlight show at a division I NCAA school.

Four Phis were among 19 Buckeyes inducted into the Ohio State University Athletic Hall of Fame during halftime ceremonies at the Ohio State-SMU game in Columbus. They included: PETE STINCHCOMB, a 1920 All-American halfback and NCAA long jump champion of 1921; GEORGE TRAUTMAN ('14), long-time head of Minor League Baseball and the individual for who Phi Delta Theta's Collegiate Payer of the Year is named; RICHARD C. LARKINS ('31), former Buckeye football great and long time athletic director; REX KERN, All-Phi quarterback as well as the Harmon-Rice winner in 1971 and quarterback on three Buckeye Rose Bowl teams. KERN ('71) only one of the three still living, was present to accept his award. He played pro football as a defensive back with the Baltimore Colts.

WEEB EWBANK (Miami-Ohio '28), the only man to coach champions in both the National Football League and the AFL, was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canon, Ohio, in July. He was coach of the NFL champion Baltimore Colts in 1958-59 and the AFL New York Jets in 1968 . . . BOB HOL-LWAY (Michigan '50), an NFL head coach and assistant coach with several clubs has moved from the Seattle Seahawks to join BUD GRANT (Minnesota '50) as an assistant with the Minnesota Vikings . . . DON "SKIP" HOOVLER (Ohio '65), a three-time All-Mid-American Conference selection as well as a All-Phi football choice, was recently inducted into the Ohio University Hall of Fame . . .

GEORGE WEIKER (Davidson '76), a baseball performer and All-Sports Honor Roll selection for three years, has improved his hitting with Nashville after spending last year with Three Rivers in the Eastern League . . . HAROLD N. MCELHANEY (Duke '57), former Blue Devil football and wrestling performer who has been athletic director at Allegheny College since 1970, was named athletic director at Ohio University in late July . . . ORD J. FINK, SR. (Syracuse '38) was named in the spring as a nominee for Letterman of Distinction at Syracuse . . . JOSEPH A. PLATT (Valparaiso '70) was named this summer as associate baseball coach at the University of Alabama-Birmingham. He has completed six years at Shelay State Community College in Memphis with a record of 179-73. He was also named to the "Outstanding Young Men of American" this year . . . HARRY GIVAN (Washington-Seattle '35) was honored in July by The Pacific Northwest Golf Association as one of the organization's first recipients for distinguished achievement in Amateur Golf competition ...

Since Arizona Alpha is temporarily without a chapter house they could have been at a competative disadvantage during rush had they not been creative. The brothers parked their rented Phi Delta Theta Winnebago right on Fraternity Row and rushed from it. The result was a pledge class of 13—a very competative number on campus.

The brothers of Cal Theta Irvine have a very inventive and popular rush function. The "sewer party" is held in a room decorated with trash, black paper and black lights. To enter you have to walk through a sewer tunnel. The chapter's little sisters dress as "sewer rats."

In the fall of 1978 Montana Alpha's active membership was down to six men. One year and 55 pledges later membership stands at 20 and there are 19 pledges. What was the key? "Phi Delta Theta is such a great thing that all we had to do was get out and tell as many people as possible about it," responded one member. The results speak for themselves.

The brothers of Wyoming Alpha have invited the brothers of Utah Alpha up for a weekend of fun and brotherly competition. The two chapters will stage a game prior to the Utah-Wyoming football clash and hope the events will become an annual affair.

TOM HARMON (Michigan '41) and BOB UFER (Michigan '43) were installed as charter members of the Michigan Hall of Honor at athletic department's first Scholarship Celebrity-Pro Golf Tournament Aug. 9. Special guest of honor was former President Gerald R. Ford. Also present was former Michigan athlete E. REED LOW (Michigan '37).

HARRY GIVAN (Washington '35) was elected to the first annual Pacific Northwest Golf Association Hall of Fame on July 13, 1978. He has also been named Seattle Man of the Year and to the Washington State Hall of Fame. He is the

IN THE HOUSE

A recent pledge class at Colorado Beta constructed a fully equipped sauna in the basement of the chapter house as their pledge project. Not only is the sauna popular with the brothers but it is quite an attraction in rush.

Phi Delta Theta's newest chapter at San Jose State not only has found housing, it has two houses. As a result of the desire of the brothers to "live-in" an extra house was acquired to accomodate the brothers.

ON CAMPUS

Despite the fact that Phi Delta Theta at San Jose State has only been in the IFC a few months a Phi Delt is solidly as its helm. Brother Stu McFaul has found time to lead the IFC into some new and innovative areas.

Lawrence Honors Late George Banta

BY DR. JOHN DAVIS, JR. (Washburn '38) Sports Editor

The beautiful Lawrence Bowl, the gift of an "anonymous friend of Lawrence University" was dedicated on Oct. 2, 1975. That "friend" was one of the 5,400 fans in the stands.

In addition to generous annual support of Lawrence's current requirements, this "friend" and trustee was always watching for scholars and athletes who might come to his college. But the football stadium was his pet project. He supervised every detail of construction and landscaping with loving concern. He had always said that his gift was to be anonymous during his lifetime.

George Banta, Jr. (Wabash '14) the "friend" and donor, died on Jan. 18, 1977. On Sept. 23, 1978, the stadium was posthumously rededicated and renamed The Banta Bowl as a tribute to the memory of this man who contributed so generously over a span of many years to the enrichment of Lawrence University, the George Banta Publishing Co., the City of Menasha, Phi Delta Theta, and the Banta Greek Exchange, an interfraternity journal.

To quote Thomas S. Smith, president of Lawrence University from the Renaming Program: "To Mr. Banta we owe the existence of what until today, has been of what until today, has been called The Lawrence Bowl. Mr. Banta provided the gift for its construction but preferred that he not be known publicly as the donor. As with many other things he did, he felt it was the gift, not the giver, that was important.

"On this occassion, we rename the field The Banta Bowl. By doing so, we honor a staunch friend who gave his time and energy as a Trustee of the University, who assisted students and alumni of Lawrence in many ways and who shared his wealth to make this beautiful facility possible.

"The Latin inscription on the placque is as appropriate to Mr. Banta and this field as it was as an epitaph to Sir Christopher Wren: Si monumentum requiris, circumspice - If you are seeking his monument, look around."

George Banta, Jr. (see Scroll, p. 59, Spring, 1977 and pps. 110-113, Fall, 1977) was elected to Phi Delta Theta's General Council as a member-at-large in 1926. He became reporter in 1928 and president in 1932. Earlier he served as editor of The Scroll and following his General Council service he was on the Survey Commission from 1940 until 1951. He served as chairman of the building committee that planned the construction of the fraternity's general headquarters building in Oxford, Ohio, completed in 1947.

When someone mentions alcohol abuse, we always conjure up an image of some Skid Row bum. Certainly these are not the only individuals that suffer from this problem.

In fact, if we were really honest with ourselves, we can recognize individuals with drinking problems right in our own chapter. The biggest problem with drinking in our chapters is not the broken windows or furniture, the bad reputation on campus or even the decreased involvement of the brotherhood. The biggest problem is getting the people to realize that too much drinking is a problem.

Sure we laugh at ourselves and others when we have one too many but sometimes that laughter is covering something deeper. We must ask ourselves what it is about being in college and having a few drinks that gives us license to do things that we would consider anti-social in any other age group or context.

Let's face it, there's nothing manly about drinking a lot of beer if it makes us sick or even worse, if it makes us act in a manner that we'll later regret. Too often brothers are encouraged directly or through peer pressure to drink to excess. It is at this point that we not only abandon our responsibility as brothers, but we may be hurting the chapter as well.

The costs to the chapter really fall into five areas. There are legal, moral and actual costs as well as problems with attitudes and reputation. First, if anything happens as a result of a chapter-sponsored event where alcohol is served, there are legal precedents which have held the chapter and the officers liable for personal and physical damages (this is especially true in cases where there is underage drinking).

Even worse, I am certain that we would all feel moral responsibility for some accident which was the result of too much drinking if we had participated in the event. It may sound far-fetched, but there are drinking related deaths every year. Drinking involves a number of actual costs as well.

Alcohol itself is rather costly, but the real problems arise when damage occurs due to the behavior of individual brothers who have had too much to drink. This usually entails breakages within the chapter house or even outside of it. If you look around the chapter, you may be able to pick out a few individuals in your mind who drink too much. These brothers often make less of a contribution because they are not living up to their potential. This is the invisible cost of reduced chapter involvement. As long as it is kept to about two or three brothers, the problem is minimized, but think what it would be like if the majority of the chapter were composed of such individuals.

Finally, there is always one fraternity on campus that has the reputation for being drunken rowdies. Whether deserved or not, this is an image that has serious implications socially, with the administration and in rush. It is a label that is easier acquired than lost.

Danger Signs

It is difficult to diagnose such problems within ourselves and in our chapters. As a result, certain "danger signs" have been developed which could highlight real or potential problem areas.

Situations that should trigger concern are:

- when plenty of alcohol is considered an acceptable substitute for innovative and creative rush or social functions
- when the only thing the brothers and pledges brag about is how much beer Phi Delts drink
- when the same brothers always seem to be hanging the bar
- when windows and furniture always seem to get broken during and after parties
- when the Phi Delts have the reputation of being the big drinkers and general rowdies on campus
- when every rush function is centered around drinking
- when more than 50% of the social budget is spent on alcohol

- 8) when there is a rash of drinking related accidents
- when the president starts sending out letters of apology for brothers' behavior
- when there is nothing available for non-drinkers at parties
- 11) when drinking is the essential theme or practice at pre-initiation week

So far we have broached the question that maybe drinking problems are closer to home than we originally thought. Once acknowledging the existence of the potential dangerous situations it becomes obvious that there are certain inherent costs which accompany excessive drinking by the brothers. It is all find and good to recognize that the problem exists and to know its detrimental effect, but the real test is in our ability to overcome it.

Face the Problem

The first step is getting a few key people to stand up to the problem. Many brothers drink too much simply because they think it will make them more acceptable. If peer pressure and positive reinforcement are used to encourage moderation then the effect could be just as powerful in the opposite direction.

The second step would be to encourage the respective officers to be innovative and to come up with social, rush and pledge functions that do not depend solely on alcohol to be a success.

Finally, stress the chapter's strong points to the rushees, the pledges, outsiders and even the brothers themselves. Too many times all that is heard about is how well the chapter parties or how much beer it consumes.

All too often when confronted with this problem the response is "I'm not going to impose my standards on anyone else." But, the Fraternity has survived and prospered because we have been able to do just that. We seek out high quality individuals and then build them into something we consider to be worthy of the name of Phi Delta Theta.

Every person who wears our letters represents us and we have every right to demand and expect that he live up to certain standards. It is these standards that make Phi Delta Theta something to be proud of.

As a social medium, alcohol is an excellent device. But, let's make sure it's a means and not an end because that end might just turn out to be our chapter's. Think about it.

SMU Phi Applies Lessons of Bible to Business

George Fooshe (SMU '52) is what you might call an uncommon man—especially for one in the business of collecting bad debts.

He is the president of Credit Adjustment Company in Wichita and the motto of his firm states that it collects debts "For the glory of God." He has recently written a book entitled You Can Be Financially Free, published in April, 1976 by Fleming H. Revell Company.

Since 1974 he has spoken about personal finances over 45 times to audiences in excess of 4,500 in 11 states. He has appeared on 12 college campuses in convocations and chapel services and has also been on local and national radio and television.

Fooshee, an ardent member of Central Christian Church, teaches a Sunday School class emphasizing the religious need to stay out of debt. He gives one-tenth of his gross income to his church and maintains a small warehouse of food near his office for desperately needy persons from who he is required to collect debts.

His 123-page book is full of quotations from the Scriptures in that he has tied Biblical principles to the book. "The Bible's a book about living," he said, "so it must tell you something about people."

"The Bible says you'll reap what you sow. If your're overspending, what you reap is debt. Debt is a trap easy to get into and hard to get out of."

His inability to become personally involved in straightening out other persons' finances prompted him to write the book. He sees no conflict with Christianity and running a collection agency. "Many people are grateful for the help I offer them," he said.

His overall philosophy is best stated in an article he recently wrote for Decision Magazine which is Billy Graham's Evangelistic Association's publication. The article appeared in the April, 1978, issue and is reprinted here with the permission of Decision Magazine.

Inflation!

With the cost of almost everything increasing steadily, most of us are struggling to keep our spending in line with our income. A balanced budget is as tough for Christians as it is for others. Many have lost the spending battle and are mired deep in the debt trap.

Are you aware that the Bible presents practical principles to help control spending? God's Word has guides which result in a twofold benefit: money saved and God's blessing. As we learn to spend wisely, we will also be able to increase our giving to the Lord.

God is our source

The most important principle of money management is that God is our source. Some people think it's their university degree or their work ethic that gets them ahead. But the Bible says, "My God will supply every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus." We are directed to "ask" and are told that "it will be given" to us. God is interested in every one of our needs—large or small.

Give

The second principle is that of giving. We receive from God and are directed to give in different ways. We are told, "Honor the Lord by giving him the first part of all your income, and he will fill your barns with wheat and barley and overflow your wine vats with the finest wines."

We are called upon to tithe our income. The purpose for tithing is to teach us "always to put God first." In our churches we hear a lot about tithing 10 per cent. I have found that if the 90 per cent is out of order the 10 per cent is in jeopardy.

God asks us to give to others as well when he says, "He who gives to the poor will not want, but he who hides his eye will get many a curse." We can give money to the poor and our presence to the lonely. We cannot outgive God in any way because as the Bible says, "Give and it will be given to you... For the measure you give will be the measure you get back."

Save

Principle three has to do with saving money, and God directs us to the example of the ant. The ant isn't strong, but it stores up food for the winter.<sup>7</sup> We are directed to do likewise as God tells us, "The wise man saves for the future, but the foolish man spends whatever he gets."<sup>8</sup>

Saving is part of learning to live on a margin. A margin means planning ahead by allowing extra. Living on a time margin means planning to arrive five minutes early. In finances we need that margin not only for emergencies but also for the future—for college for our children, retirement and other financial goals.

Keep out of debt

The fourth principle tells us to keep out of debt. The Bible says, "Owe no one anything, except to love one another," because "just as the rich rule the poor, so the borrower is servant to the lender." 10

We are given a direct Biblical explanation on how to keep out of debt: "Make do with your pay!" If you don't have it, don't spend it. Do without. Postpone. Fix it up.

Without a financial margin, most people do what comes naturally—overspend. Deficit-spending is not God's way of making do with your pay. The results of debt are bondage and loss of peace., plus repayments and interest—far from the abundant life Jesus promised.

If you are already in debt, how do you get out of the trap? Again the Scriptures explain: "Don't withhold repayment of your debts. Don't say 'some other time,' if you can pay now." The way to come out of debt, then, is to make regular payments.

Be content with what you have

A frequently violated command in Scripture is the one to be content with what you have. The New Testament says, "Keep your life free from love of money, and be content with what you have." And Paul says, "I have learned how to get along happily whether I have much or little . . . I have learned the secret of contentment in every situation, whether it be a full stomach or hunger, plenty or want." 14

One example of discontentment centers on the car. Most people plunge into debt the first time for a car, and usually not just a car. but a new car. Others plunge deeper into debt when they trade off their old car. I'm not opposed to new cars, but I am opposed to people spending money that they don't have to buy cars they don't need or more of a car than they need. Take the example of trading off an old car. People trade for three reasons: the car is too old, has too many miles on it, or is in need of repair. There's no reason for trading a car just because it's too old or has a certain number of miles when it may still have plenty of good use left in it. And to trade off a car just because it is in need of repair makes no more sense than to commit suicide because vou need a little surgery.

Keep records

A key Biblical principle is that of keeping records. Scripture tells us, "Any enterprise is built by wise planning, becomes strong through common sense, and profits wonderfully by keeping abreast of the facts." People usually don't get into trouble when they handle their finances carefully be keeping records and by budgeting.

Most people don't plan their spending. Jesus instructs us to count the cost, "For which one of you, when he wants to build a tower, does not first sit down and calculate the cost, to see if he has enough to complete it?" It is my experience that if you are not operating on a budget you are wasting between $50 and $125 a month.

Budgeting is also a way of training children in money management. When each of my daughters was in kindergarten, I started her on a budget using three boxes with these words written on them: five cents saved, five cents spent, five cents to give. Every Sunday I gave each girl her budget of a nickel for each category. Beginning at an early age, they started budgeting and have continued to do so throughout the years. They learned so well, in fact, that when one daughter was in her first year of college and living on a set budget, she came home once and said, "Hey, Dad, you've been sending me too much money. I can get by with $25 a month less!

Work

The seventh financial principle is that of work. The Bible begins with God at work, "In the beginning God created." In another passage we are told, "Work brings profit; talk brings poverty!" The solution to many fiancial problems today could be put into that one word—work. And yet, while we are to work, God also set a rhythm between work and rest with the instruction to "work six days only; the seventh day is a day of solemn rest, a holy day to be used to worship Jehovah." 19

Seek godly counsel

And finally, we are to seek godly counsel in our money matters. We are to seek God's counsel directly from him through prayer and also to seek the counsel of godly people. The Bible tells us, "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly." As Christians we are to go to another Christian for counsel one who knows the Word of God and who can give competent advice in our specific area of need.

The Bible's financial principles are simple and sound. God says he will bless when we obey. In James he says, "He who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres . . . he shall be blessed in his doing."<sup>21</sup>

By standing on God's Word, giving to the glory of God, spending money to the glory of God, and keeping out of debt to the glory of God, we reap not only exciting experiences of saving money but also the Lord's blessings.

Educator Discusses Fraternity Influence

BY DR. VERNON I. CHEADLE (Miami-Ohio '32) Chancellor Emeritus Univ. of California — Santa Barbara

F or the first time in years on our campus, recently members

Dr. Vernon I. Cheadle (Miami-Ohio '32) retired as Chancellor of the University

CHEADLE Ph.D. to 27 at present. Undergraduate majors have grown from 36 to 100.

He was formerly a professor of botany at UC Davis, where he also was a botanist at the experiment station, chairman of the department of botany and acting vice chancellor.

His awards include one from the California Academy of Sciences which named his a Fellow, a Fulbright Fellowship, membership in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and honorary LL.D. degrees from the University of Rhode Island and Miami (Ohio) University.

Dr. Cheadle was also the recipient of a certificate of appreciation from Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, a certificate of merit from the Botanical Society of America and an Outstanding Civilian Service Medal from the office of the Secretary of the Army.

Former president of the Botanical Society of America, Dr. Cheadle has served as that organization's membership committee chairman, general section chairman, journal editorial committee and vice president.

Other memberships include the American Institute of Biological Sciences, the Torrey Botanical Club, the Society for the Study of Growth and Development, Society for the Study of Evolution, the American Society of Naturalists, Phi Beta Theta, Sigma Xi, Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi.

Dr. Cheadle attended South Dakota State College, received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Miami and the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard. of both fraternities and sororities aggressively answered those who wrote disparagingly in the student newspaper about Greek social societies. This was a great satisfaction to me personally, because for over a decade members of social societies had not seen fit to defend their organizations effectively.

Often the very people who have complained about not having enough personal autonomy wish to deny or at least denigrate the rights of those who wish to take advantage of their personal desires to join with others in fraternal groups of one sort or another. Indeed, membership often suffered because of the inability of "Greeks" to maintain the credibility of their beliefs, of their rituals, and their life styles in general.

Fortunate it is that we are undergoing further rejuvenescence of the fraternal spirit, for that spirit incorporated an element of continuum so important in maintaining the strength and longevity of choices of incoming students for social outlets of a deeply personal nature. Among individuals choosing to embrace it, this spirit is generated by orientation regarding the history, rituals, ideals, and practical nature of fraternal life.

Details may differ among different social fraternities but I venture to say that none will survive unless new members successively understand the origin and interrelationship of fraternities. So pledge classes and all reasonable comparable means of appropriate instruction should never fail to be provided, or thought in any degree to be unimportant.

If fraternities did not fill some perceived need among young men, surely fraternities would not have survived and prospered. They just as surely will help continue to lead us out of these years of meism, in which the individual must be served what he wishes regardless of the costs, or impact, on the current social order or organization that makes our lives possible. The group efforts and the teamwork, along with informed individualism within them, provide models that most will follow in their later lives.

The pride of membership, the lingering memories of intimately shared episodes of many kinds, the deep satisfaction of having helped to support the longevity of new chapters, all these stimulate alumni to relive events that have had life-long meaning. Yes, those same factors bring alumni back to the site of their experiences, often frequently and over long periods.

As I look back over many years of sharing thoughts with succeeding generations of Phi Delts — and others as well — the deeply personal nature of fraternity life lingers most strongly in my mind. Superlative intellectual, cultural, and material outcomes of many kinds are characteristic of those who graduate from fine colleges and universities, but for many men nothing quite equals the sheer satisfaction of the memorable growth undergone in a full fraternal experience.

In any event, I was fortunate to be a part of fraternal life in one way or another nearly fifty years as student, teacher, and administrator. And so it is clear to me that the advantages of being part of Phi Delta Theta outweigh any momentary loss of discipline or compassion for others our fraternity might suffer. Every Phi Delt, and especially active members, should realize how essential it is to preserve the alternative of fraternity experience for those still to come to our campuses. Six members in two generations of my family joined Phi Delta Theta; I hope many more in the future will.

Don Kessinger Wins Gehrig Award

on Kessinger, veteran shortstop who launches a new phase of his career as player-manager of the Chicago White Sox in the 1979 season, is the latest winner of Phi Delta Theta's Lou Gehrig Award.

The 36-year-old onetime University of Mississippi basketball star was a standout defensive player for the Chicago Cubs for 10 years. giving him the unusual status of enjoying success with both Windy City franchises.

Long active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Kessinger is one of the charter members of Baseball Chapel, which sponsors non-denominational services every Sunday morning in baseball clubhouses.

"I remember when Ron Santo was presented this award a few years back when we were teammates on the Cubs and I thought to myself what a great honor to be linked with the previous winners," Kessinger recalled. "It sounds like a Who's Who in baseball."

As a member of Sigma Nu, Kessinger is familiar with the fraternity system and did not have to ask questions as so many other winners have felt necessary.

The easy-going Kessinger's career was nearly short-circuited very early when the Cubs rushed him to the major league level long before he was able to cope with big league pitching.

After his Ole Miss career where he earned All-Southeastern Conference honors in both basketball and baseball, the Cubs signed Don after his graduation in June of 1964 and assigned him to their Fort Worth, Texas, farm club, a high level of pro ball for a beginner.

The next year, with the team floundering in last place and desperate for a shortstop, Kessinger was called up from Fort Worth and played in 106 games but was an "automatic out" with a .201 batting average and only seven extra base hits out of 309 official at bats.

Fiery Leo Durocher was hired as manager of the Cubs in the off-season and one of his first statements was "we've got to find ourselves a shortstop.'

"That didn't do very much for my confidence," confesses Kessinger. But Don simply bore down and surprised a great many people by adjusting his batting style to a "small man's swing" and wound up with a .274 average.

By 1969 when he won National League Golden Glove honors at his position, he played 54 consecutive games at his difficult position without an error.

Traded to the St. Louis Cardinals, he shifted to second base in 1976 to make way for young shortstop Garry Templeton and was waived to the White Sox in August of 1977.

"The 1978 season was a very satisfying one for me," Kessinger explained, "because in St. Louis, they had decided I could no longer play every day. With the White Sox, I was in the lineup regularly and felt I contributed to the team."

Bill Veeck, the celebrated baseball maverick who runs the White Sox, started thinking of Kessinger as managerial material when Chicago fans turned out to honor Kessinger on a "night" in his behalf late in the season.

A native of Forrest City, Ark., he makes his home in Memphis with wife Carolyn and sons Keith, 11, and Kevin, 8.

Kessinger owns racquetball clubs in Memphis and Little Rock and operates a boys camp in the summer.

"I've known Don Kessinger for a long while now and never found him anything but pleasant and accomodating," says Ritter Collett (Ohio '42), chairman of the Gehrig Award selection committee and Sports Editor of the Dayton Journal Herald. "He's an athlete who never gives less than his

Appointments—Meetings—Announcements

Council Handles Numerous Items In Denver Meet

Plans for February's General Officers conference occupied a large portion of a General Council meeting Nov. 10 in Denver.

Council members voted to install a new chapter at Louisiana State University-Shreveport and approval was given to the call for a vote from the chapters in the province on the matter. The Council also authorized a vote of the chapters in Epsilon South Province on the possible chartering of a new chapter at the University of Tampa.

A series of appointments was made by the Council including Phillip N. Young (Allegheny '48) to a six-year term as a Palmer Fund trustee, Nelson Hall Layman (Illinois '35) to a six-year term as a Mitchell Fund trustee, Roger E. Cerne (Case-Western Reserve '63) to a six-year term as a Banta Fund trustee and John Worsham (Texas '51) and David Ross (Ohio Wesleyan '60) to three-year terms as Educational Foundation trustees.

Ray Hunkins (Montana '61) was reappointed Community Service Day chairman and Doug Wilson (Miami-Ohio '64) was reappointed as Alumni Commissioner along with seven alumni commissioners to serve with Wilson on a newly created Alumni Commission.

Members expressed appreciation to Council Member Charles Wicks who has served as Scholarship Commissioner since 1973 and appointed C. Arthur Sandeen (Miami-Ohio '60) to that position.

Tom Priebe (Wisconsin '61), president of Iota South, discussed a proposed group life insurance plan which would include an automatic assignment of dividends to the fraternity's Educational Foundation. The Council, after considerable discussion, decided to defer a decision on whether or not to participate in such a plan until a later date.

Priebe also discussed some concerns of his regarding house corporation management within his province.

Members expressed considerable pleasure in a report from Bob Miller, executive vice president, regarding the current status of the province president visitation program.

Brief reports were given by Bill Dean, editor, regarding The Scroll and Bob Biggs, director of chapter services, on the progress of the Chapter Officer and Adviser Con-

Exum to Head Delta South Post

William T. Exum (Mercer '65), who has been serving as adviser to the Georgia Gamma chapter, has been named president of Epsilon North Province replacing Cary Buxton (Butler '73), who resigned because he has moved out of the area.

Epsilon North includes all of the Georgia chapters.

Exum, an attorney in Macon, has been active in many community organizations, including the Exchange Club, Toastmasters, Arabian Horse Association and B.P.O.E. He is a member of the Georgia State Bar Association and various professional organizations.

He is married and has three children.

ferences. Biggs also reported on the chapters on the "Endangered Species" list.

The Council discussed possible sites for the 1980 General Convention and set a series of Founders Day appearances. Possible locations for the Convention are Denver, Kansas City, Nashville, New Orleans and St. Louis.

Members worked out a "game plan" for the 1978-80 biennium, noting primary objectives, identifying the problems and discussing possible solutions.

Present for the meeting were T. Glen Cary, president; Bruce Thompson, treasurer; Dr. Wicks, reporter; Tal Bray, member-atlarge; Bob Dinkel, member-atlarge; Miller; Biggs and Dean.

NEWSFRONTS

The Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, acting through its High Council, has initiated charter revocation proceedings against its 81-year-old Texas Gamma Eta chapter at the U. of Texas at Austin because of individual and group actions deemed to be conduct prejudicial to the best interests of the Fraternity.

Following a late August incident, three students — one initiate and two pledges — were indicted by the county grand jury on charges of aggravated assault for an alleged attack on a freshman.

However, the High Council — five alumni and two undergraduates who form the Fraternity's equivalent of a board of trustees — has stayed the revocation proceedings and instituted terminal probation provided the chapter "conducts itself as a viable subordinate body of said Fraternity in conformity with the law of the Fraternity and the rules and regulations of the University of Texas at Austin."

John Poole (North Carolina '65) has accepted an appointment to the fraternity's Survey Commission. He had served as president of Delta North Province until business committments forced him to resign early last year.

The general Council has authorized distribution of a specially prepared cassette which was recorded by "The Buckeye Four" from Ohio Zeta at Ohio State (see cover, Fall 1978 Scroll). Additional copies of the cassette may be purchased from General Headquarters for $3.00.

A lengthy article in the Oct. 22 edition of the Los Angeles Times discussed the revival of Greek organizations at California institutions. The article reports that last fall California campuses reported their best rush numbers since the Greek comeback began five years ago.

UCLA had a spectacular revival on Greek Row as numbers going through rush broke all records. Over a 1,000 pledged the 24 fraternities and another 1,000 pledged 18 sororities.

The article reports that "some regard the success of Animal House — although hardly a flattering portrait of Greeks as a Rush Week asset this fall."

"Everyone's talking about it. There are guys who pledged only because they saw the movie," said Joe Hayes of Lambda Chi Alpha at California State University, Fullerton.

"I don't think anyone really believes this is the way fraternity houses are today. But that's the way there were you know, like 16 or 20 years ago."

Also pictured in the article are three Phi Delts from UC Irvine—Geoffery Hichborn, Chuck Mulligan and Greg Roche.

Fred Riedman ('79) of Utah Alpha carried a Phi Delta Theta flag on a mountain climbing expedition which he hoped to plant at the top of Mount McKinley, North America's highest peak. Unfortunately, an illness prevented him from making the last 400 feet to the summit.

Todd Williams, an active at Indiana Zeta, has become a victim of bone cancer. He was a patient at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota, for ten days and is now recuperating after surgery at his home in Terre Haute. Active on the DePauw campus and presently secretary of the chapter, Todd has been an inspiration to all his brothers. The chapter is receiving any donations for him in care of the Todd Williams Fund, Phi Delta Theta, Greencastle, Indiana 46135.

Doug Hayward, president of New York

Schuemann Named to Position

Bob Schuemann (Valparaiso '71) has been appointed to serve as Alpha at Cornell, serves as the vice president of the Sphinx Head Society, an organization that recognizes fraternity leaders from the 48 fraternities on campus.

Jon Kessler of New York Zeta at Colgate was declared the second best debater in the English speaking world in a competition in London last spring. He was recognized as the number one debater in the U.S. in a preliminary competition.

The chapter house of New York Epsilon at Syracuse has recently been declared a state landmark. The former Wilkenson home (of Wilkenson Swords) has as one of its most interesting aspects the Moorish room. It is of old Arab design with a vaulted ceiling and gold leaf paint on the wall.

ST. PETERSBURG

The St. Petersburg Alumni Chapter of Phi Delta Theta held its annual Christmas Cocktail Party on Dec. 21. Numerous members of the club were in attendance, along with representatives from various active chapters who were home for the Christmas holidays.—Mark Lewis president of Epsilon South Province, replacing C.T. "Tal" Bray (South Florida '65), who was elected to the General Council last summer.

Epsilon South includes the chapters in east Florida.

schuemann He served as a chapter consultant for the General Fraternity from 1971 to 1973, following which he pursued his master's degree at Memphis State University while serving as Assistant to the Dean of Students.

In 1974 he returned to Valparaiso to become Director of Financial Aid. He served as chapter adviser to Indiana Iota and as president of Kappa North Province. He resigned the province presidency when a decision to become a partner in the family business necessitated his moving to Palm Beach Gardens, Florida.

THE PHI CRIER

Spring 1979

IN THE HOUSE

*North Dakota Alpha celebrated its "last hurrah" at the "Castle on the Cooley" and will move into its new $600,000 Georgian architecture house for the 1979-80 school year.

*Washington Gamma at Washington State enjoys the experience and talents of a housemother/cook who has been with the chapter for 21 years. Mrs. Esther Willis is a veritable storehouse of stories and antidotes about the Brothers and alumni. Mrs. Willis is a well loved "institution" in the chapter.

*Phis at Syracuse have had its chapter house selected by the Syracuse Landmark Preservation Board and designated by the Common Council as a "protected site." As a result the actives and alumni have initiated a restoration fund drive to preserve and restore the elaborate interior of the building.

*After 20 years Wyoming Alpha celebrated its final house payment by burning their mortgage at 1978 Homecoming activities.

*Manitoba Alpha's chapter house is located approximately 5 miles from the University of Manitoba campus. But, since most of the students are communitors, they are able to stop by the house on a regular basis.

*Alberta Alpha's chapter adviser, Don Matheson, has served in that capacity for 28 years. Countless brothers have profited from his guidance and assistance. The continued prominance of Phi Delta Theta at the University of Alberta is a credit to his efforts. Don has brought a brother, a son and three nephews into the Bond.

*After three years off campus the brothers of British Columbia Alpha are the proud owners of a brand new chapter house. The brothers have extended an invitation to all Phis to stop by and share some of their Canadian hospitality.

*The brothers of Texas Epsilon turned their chapter lodge over to the Lubbock, Texas, March of Dimes during the month of October so the MD chapter could conduct its annual fund-raising "Haunted House." Its local house had been condemned by city authorities so, without the help of the Phi Delts, the March of Dimes campaign would have suffered a significant loss.

*The brothers of Penn Zeta have had a walking-talking-living history in the person of their houseman, Henry Garry. Henry has been working at the house since the 1930's.

The chapter house at the U. of Pennsylvania has been declared a national landmark by the Historical Society of Pennsylvania.

*Ohio Epsilon celebrates annually the original founding of the fraternity, Dec. 26, with an event known as "Lovefeast."

*The grand old chapter of Penn Theta at Penn State will be celebrating its 75th year on campus this spring. The events to commorate the fine history promise to be well attended by many of the 1,035 men who have signed the Bond since Leroy Warrick Cooper first signed it on May 10, 1904.

ON CAMPUS

*Stephen Kushner of Alberta Alpha is vice president of the Student Union at the University of Alberta. In his position as head of external affairs he travels widely throughout Canada representing the university and Phi Delta Theta.

*Colorado Beta Phis at Colorado College have nine blocks of courses rather than semesters. For three and a half weeks each student studies just one course and needs a total of 36 units for graduation.

IN THE COMMUNITY

*The brothers of Washington Alpha sponsored a Dance Marathon with the Gamma Phi Beta sorority last winter which netted $31,000 for the Epilepsy Foundation. The marathon lasted 24 hours and couples from all sorts of Seattle groups competed. The brothers will be putting on the Fourth Annual Dance Marathon this year and hope to exceed last year's record-breaking income.

*Pledges from Minnesota Alpha had coverage from the three networks plus the local press when they dressed in togas to go see National Lampoon's "Animal House."

*The annual CSD for Idaho Alpha Phis is their Turtle Derby. The brothers serenade each sorority and present them with a turtle. The women then raise money to "bet" on their turtle. The groups that raise the most money gets a trophy as does the sorority whose turtle wins the race. It is usually a large and well-attended event that nets in excess of $1,000 for charity.

*Four members of the Idaho Alpha chapter were members of the University of Idaho Budweiser Superstars competition that won the national championships in Tampa, Florida.

IN SPORTS

The Puget Sound football team derives its defensive punch and offensive drive from Washington Delta Phis Dond Mounter ('81), linebacker; Mark Madland ('79), linebacker; Tom Combs ('81), tight end; Keith Claypool ('79), linebacker; Dan Moore ('79), quarterback; Dave Allison ('81), defensive tackle; and Mike Raine ('81), defensive back. These Phis gain support from up and coming Phikeias Kurk Kettle ('80), offensive tackle; Dave Lind ('82), tight end; Ted Perry ('82) offensive guard; and Montey Laughlin ('82), place kicker.

*The Puget Sound soccer team enjoys the talents of Washington Delta Phis Mark Campbell ('81), Terry Griswald ('81) and Steve Norland ('81).

*The Oregon Gamma chapter boasts four NAIA All-American swimmers in Mike Anderson ('79), freestyle; Rod Cook ('80), backstroke; Randy Randolph ('81), butterfly; and Chris Doering ('82), freestyle. Steve Nowak ('82), butterfly, and Phikeia Andy Taylor ('83), freestyle, hope to join their fellow Phis in this year's All-American rankings.

*The Oregon State Beaver football teams gets its quickness and punch in the defensive secondary from starting Phis Rick Rae ('78), cornerback; Tom Stevens ('79), strong sfaety; and Steve Edwards ('80), defensive end. Phikeias All Lindenburger ('82), defensive end; Mark Hettum ('81), cornerback and Steve Holsbury ('82), cornerback, promise to provide a great future talent to the Beaver squad.

*The Whitman College athletic program is largely dependent on Washington Beta Phis for its talent. All nine starters on the baseball team are Phis as well as all 11 starters on the Rugby team. The top four tennis players are Phi Delts along with six of the eleven starting soccer players. Two of the five starting basketball players are Phis.

NEW IDEAS

*Of their $18,000 budget the brothers of Manitoba Alpha generate $15,000 from their "for profit" socials. They sponsor dances and discos on campus and make between $1,000 and $2,000 on each one.

*The pledges of Washington Gamma held their annual pledge party this fall but added a new twist. The caveman/pajama party required that all who attended crawl through a tunnel, slide down a chute and then enter a cave decorated with a steaming volcano, dinosaurs and cave drawings.

*The brothers of Oregon Gamma welcome each new sorority pledge class at Willamette by seranading their respective sororities. Each new pledge is given a carnation and a kiss by a Phikeia. The brothers visit all four sororities on a pre-arranged night. At the same time each Phikeia is introduced to the sororities.

*At Oregon Beta the Phis have a brass piggy bank that is kept at the dinner table. The "pig" is passed to a brother who has displayed improper table manners who in turn must "feed" it with a small fine. The money is used to purchase athletic equipment.

*At Washington Beta the brothers have raised over $11,000 from their alumni in the past year through a direct solicitation program. A complete program of what the money would be used for with a solicitation letter was supplemented by letters from various alumni to their classmates.

All-Phi Bud Browning Dies

Omar M. "Bud" Browning, (Oklahoma '35), one of the finest basketball players and coaches in Phi Delta Theta history, passed away suddenly at his home in Fort Collins, Colorado on Sept. 10, 1978.

I selected Brother Browning to the All-Phi Basketball Board over two decades ago. When he retired after 25 years of faithful and dedicated service, the 1973-74 All-Phi Cage Team was dedicated to this original member of the Board.

When I named the Scroll Anniversary All-Phi Basketball Team for the first 100 years of Phi Delta Theta, he was selected as a guard with these credentials — All-Big 6 1933, 1934 and 1935; Collegiate All-American 1935; AAU All-American 1935, 1936 and 1937; coach of the 1948 U.S. Olympic Basketball champions and coach of seven National AAU Championship Teams for the Phillips Petroleum Company.

Thus Brother Browning follows

a trio of Phi basketball immortals
. . . Forrest "Red" Di Bernardi,
Armory "Slats" Gill and Harry
Kipke to the Chapter Grand.—
John Davis, Jr., Secretary AllPhi Board

SPORTS SHORTS

MIKE PECK (Stanford '78), a three-year All-Phi honor roll performer who tied for the PAC Eight title this year, lost in the semi-finals of the U.S. National Amateur Golf Championship to the eventual champion one-up on the 20th hole. His semi-final finish assures him a Masters invitation next year which will be forfeited if he turns pro . . MIKE ADAMLE (Northwestern '71) former All-Phi, All-Big Ten and the wildcat's all-time rushing leader, is now with NBC Sports handling halftime game reviews on NFL '78 . . . RED HOGAN (Kansas '50), ex-Jayhawk and Air Force quarterback, won his second consecutive Kansas State Senior golf title this fall

GAYLORD "PETE" STINCHCOMB ('21) and the late GEORGE M. "RED" TRAUTMAN ('14) were inducted into the Ohio State University Sports Hall of Fame in halftime ceremonies Oct. 7. STINCHCOMB was Ohio State's second All-American offensive back in 1920 and was elected to the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame in 1973. TRAUT-MAN was Ohio State's head basketball coach (1920-22) and assistant athletic director (1921-29). He lettered in football, basketball and baseball and, from 1947 to 1963, he was president of the National Association of Professional Baseball (minor) Leagues...

The late WILBUR "DOC" BOHM (Idaho '19) was inducted into the Washington State University Athletic Hall of Fame on Nov. 3. He came to Washington State in 1962 as a trainer and coach of the weight events in track and field and remained there for 17 years. He was an AAU champion in the discus and served as trainer for the Washington Redskins from 1943-48. He also had stints with the Cincinnati Reds, Calgary Stampeders and the baseball and football Cardinals. He is also a Helms Foundation hall of famer and served as a trainer for five U.S. Olympic teams.

A pair of Phi football coaches recently lost their jobs. LYNN STILES (Utah '63) was fired at San Jose State in October after posting an 18-16 mark for three seasons and BILL GILES (Nebraska '54) was dismissed at Fort Hays (Kansas) State after seven seasons with a 24-44-3 mark...

he 1978 All-Phi football team is paced on offense by two-time A.P. Little All-American center Frank Bouressa (Lawrence '79) and a trio of Florida State standouts - quarterbacks Wally Woodham ('80) and Jimmy Jordan ('80) plus end Kurt Unglaub ('80).

The defensive team is led by Jeff Hughes (Ripon '79), the top career interception leader in fraternity history with 26, and an All-Midwest Conference selection in 1976-77-78.

This year's honorary team is loaded with super quarterbacks. Woodham, a repeat choice, hit 98 of 169 passes for a 58% completion mark and 1,222 yards while alternating with Jordan, who completed 108 of 199 for a 54.3% figure and 1,427 yards. Both had games in which they threw four touchdown passes.

Completing the all-quarterback backfield is Jim Petran (Lawrence '80), who had 2,204 yards and 20 touchdowns in 1977 and 2,260 yards for 26 scores this year.

The wide receiver is Bill Rankin (Washington-St. Louis '79), who had 47 receptions this year for

Six Schools Dominate Little All-Phis

Almost one-half of the 1978 Little All-Phi football team was selected by the board for the All-Phi team and 29 honorary selections were from the usual Phi dominated teams of Lawrence, Ripon, Wabash, Ashland, Valparaiso and Washington-St. Louis.

On the offensive team every wide receiver, tight end and flanker was on the All-Phi team. These include Bill Rankin (Washington-St. Louis '79), Brian Fero (Lawrence '80), Alan Malik (Case-Western Reserve '79) and Mick Martin (Wabash '80). Jim Meyer (Washington-St. Louis '79) was a repeater on this team from last year.

The offensive tackles are All-Phi selections Mike Dodds (Valparaiso '79) and Scott Roeper (Lawrence '80) along with Brian Gutherie (Ripon '80), Mark Zimmerman (Franklin '80), John Hornbrook (Ashland '79) and John Cavolo (Gettysburg '80).

The guards are paced by All-Phis Russ Campbell (McGill '79) and Bob Graumann (Case-Western Reserve '80) and repeaters Tom Steib (Allegheny '79), team captain, and Bob Holshouser (Knox '79), team co-captain. Rounding out the guards are two-year starters Tim Violand (Ashland '79) and Allen Cole (Hanover '80).

Anchoring the line is All-Phi Frank Bouressa (Lawrence '79) along with David Donaldson (Davidson '80) and Alan Alexander (Centre '80).

A quartet of backs named to the All-Phi team also pace the offensive backfield. They include Jim Petran (Lawrence '80), Cortie Wilson (Valparaiso '80), Ken Biel (Valparaiso '80) and Bruce Barkwell (Lawrence '80). The others include Bryan Powers

(S.W. Oklahoma '80), who gained 876 yards; Tim Sievert (Lawrence '79), who had 409 yards rushing; Ray Eaton (Wabash '80), who gained 290 yards; Brian Sullivan (Knox '79), winner of the Tom Dean Award with an eight-yard average per carry; and Jay Pirtle (DePauw '79).

The defensive team is paced at end by a pair of All-Phis—Keith Dare (Ashland '79) and Ken Garland (Willamette '80). In addition, there is Chuck Smith (S.W. Oklahoma '80), who had 55 tackles; Kevin Mahoney (Gettysburg '79), who had 47 tackles; and Bill Simon (Lawrence '80), an All-American baseball catcher who had four fumble recoveries.

The tackles are a trio of All-Phi choices, Bob Eddy (Lawrence '79), Rick Shaver (McGill '79) and David Wong (Willamette '81), along with Frank Fields (Davidson '79), team tri-captain, and Medio Monte (Allegheny '79).

The nose-guards are George West (Hanover '80) and Jeff Gabrielson (Ripon '80).

All-Phis Bill Cannon (Wabash '79), Mark Madland (Puget Sound '79) and Bruce Niem ('79) anchor the linebacking corps backed up by George Ballentyne (Washington & Lee '79), who had 75 tackles, and Terrell Rhye (Davidson '79).

The defensive backs are four senior repeat choices plus another fine quartet including a pair of outstanding sophomores. The All-Phis are Jeff Hughes (Ripon '79), Glenn Stallings (S.W. Oklahoma '79) and Jim Robertson (Washington-St. Louis '79). The other senior repeater is Richard Rubio (Gettysburg '79), team captain with 62 tackles.

STORY AND LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS BEGINNING ON PAGE 72

Thomas Selected As Phi of the Year

Russell D. Thomas (Emory '48) has been named winner of the Raymond L. Gardner Award as "Phi of the Year" for 1978.

The presentation was made March 23 at the Founders Day banquet of the Sarasota Alumni Club by Bob Miller, executive vice president. Thomas is a Sarasota attorney.

Tied for runner-up in the balloting were Robert L. Trescher (Pennsylvania '34), a Philadelphia attorney, and Robert Lee Steed (Mercer '58), an Atlanta attorney.

The award is presented each year by the Seattle Alumni Club in memory of Raymond L. Gardner (Washington-Seattle '18), a member of the General Council from 1952 to 1956. The annual award is presented to an alumnus who best exemplifies the teachings of the Bond through participation in fraternity affairs, activities in higher education and community service.

Nominated By Sarasota

The attorney was nominated by the Sarasota Alumni Club. Roger E. Tegenkamp (Florida '59), club president, writes that the nomination was based on service to his fraternity, his community and his church. "There is little doubt in my mind as well as others in our club that Brother Thomas has been the main reason the Sarasota Alumni Club is active today," said Tegenkamp. "He is the 'glue' which has held it together over the past 22 years."

Born in Americus, Georgia, in 1925 Thomas entered Emory in the fall, 1942, where he pledged Phi Delta Theta. He left in April, 1943, to serve in the U.S. Army, seeing foreign service in Europe. He returned to Emery after his discharge in December, 1945.

After receiving an AB in political science in 1948, Thomas attended the University of Virginia Law School and graduated with an LLB in 1951. He practiced law in Americus from 1951 to 1954 and then in Palmetto, Florida from 1954 to 1955.

In 1953 he was named the "Outstanding Man" by Americus citizens. He moved his law practice to Sarasota in 1955.

Elected Judge

He was elected Sarasota County Judge and served from 1957 to 1961 when he returned to his law practice. His election was especially significant in that he was the only Democrat to be elected to office in his county that year.

Thomas has been very active in Kiwanis International since he first joined in 1953. He has served three terms on the board of directors of the Sarasota Club in addition to serving as vice president and president. He is currently Lt. Governor of District 21 (Florida). In 1978 he was awarded the organization's Legion of Honor.

"More than any one person, he is responsible for the Kiwanis Club of Sarasota gaining prominence as a real force for community, charitable and educational good in this community," said Robert A. Kimbrough (Davidson '55), a Sarasota attorney.

Phi Activities

Right from the beginning Thomas proved himself to be an outstanding member of the fraternity. He received the Georgia Beta "Outstanding Phikeia Award" and went on to become chapter rush chairman, vice president and president.

He was a founder of the Americus Alumni Club and has served three terms as president of the Sarasota Club. He was a delegate to the 1946 Convention and attended the 1948 Convention.

At Emory he was also a student council member and editor of the school yearbook. He has maintained interest in the university through the Emory Alumni Association and is also a member of the Virginia Alumni Association.

Community Activities

Thomas, in addition to his work with Kiwanis, has been president of the Sarasota Jaycees and chairman of the United Appeal. He has served on the boards of the Sarasota Mental Health Association, the Manatee-Sarasota Guidance Center, the Sarasota Council of Aging and the County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

He is a Mason and a trustee of the First Baptist Church were he has taught Sunday School for over 25 years.

Professional Activities

He is a member of the American Judicature Society, the American Bar Association and Florida Bar Association and the Sarasota Bar Association. In 1960 he was president of the Florida Council of Juvenile Judges.

He was married to Ruth Prior Marshall of Americus in 1953 and they have four children, two boys and two girls.

Nine Phis Elected to U.S. Congress

William Wyche Fowler, Jr. (Davidson '62) heads a list of nine Phi Congressmen in the U.S. House of Representatives following the fall elections.

He won a special election on April 5, 1977 to fill Andrew Young's seat in Georgia's fifth Congressional district and then was reelected to that seat last November.

The fifth district represents the 450,000 people in north Fulton County and Atlanta.

Other Winners

Other Phis winning re-election to Congress include Richard Bolling (Sewanee '37), Demo., Missouri's 5th; James T. Broyhill (North Carolina '50), Rep., North Carolina's 10th; Barber B. Conable

(Cornell '43), Rep., New York's 35th; Robert C. McEwen (Vermont-Penn '42), Rep., New York's 30th; Paul N. "Pete" McCloskey, Jr. (Stanford '51), Rep., California's 12th; James M. Collins (SMU '37), Rep., Texas' 3rd; Berkeley Bedell (Iowa '44), Demo., Iowa's 6th; and D. Douglas Barnard (Mercer '43) Demo., Georgia's 10th.

Joseph S. Ammerman (Dickinson '46), Demo., Pennsylvania's 23rd district, was defeated for re-election and Paul G. Rogers (Florida '42), Demo., Florida's 11th district, retired.

Phi Senators Remain

All three Phi Senators will remain in that they were not up for reelection in 1978. They include Sam Nunn, Jr. (Georgia Tech '60), Demo., Georgia; J. Bennett Johnson (Washington and Le '54), Demo., Louisiana; and Dennis W. DeConcini (Arizona '59), Demo, Arizona.

The lone remaining Phi governer is George Busbee (Georgia '50) in the state of Georgia.

Two other Phis hold important positions in the Carter administration. They are W. Hamilton Jordan (Georgia '66), political adviser to the president; and Brock Adams (Washington '48), former Congressman from Washington's 7th district who is serving as Secretary of Transportation.

Fowler's Committees

Fowler currently serves on the Committee on Ways and Means and the Select Committee on Intelligence. Citing his dual responsibility in Congress he said, "My role is to represent the people of the Fifth District in the U.S. Congress and at the same time present to my constituents the resources and services of the government."

He served as president of the Atlanta City Council from 1973 until his 1977 election to Congress. He was elected to the Board of Aldermen in 1969 (before a change in the city charter made it the City Council) at the age of 28.

In 1972, he was selected by the Atlanta Jaycees as one of Atlanta's "Five Outstanding Young Men." The following year, he was selected by the state Jaycees as one of Georgia's "Five Outstanding Young Men." He has also been awarded the Myrtle Wreath Award from Hadassah for his efforts on behalf of Soviet Jewry.

He has strong ties with many civic organizations, including the American Legion and the Atlanta Historical Society. He serves on the boards of Atlanta Music Festival, Atlanta 2000, and the Alliance Theater. He is also active in the Georgia Conservancy and the Central Presbyterian Church of Atlanta.

LSU-Shreveport Installed in February

Louisiana Delta at Louisiana State University-Shreveport was installed Feb. 24 with more than 100 Phi Delt alumni, wives and friends attending the ceremony at the Shreveport First Methodist Church.

This was the fourth chapter chartered in Louisiana, the most recent being Louisiana Gamma at University of Southwestern Louisiana 11 years ago.

The activities began early that morning when 22 active members and 11 colony alumni were initiated by T. Glen Cary, president of the General Council. He was also the principal speaker at the installation banquet held later that evening.

Cary was assisted by Robert J. Miller, executive vice president; Bob Biggs, director of chapter services; Billy Stitt, Theta West province president; and members from Arkansas Alpha, Louisiana Beta, Louisiana Gamma and Mississippi Alpha.

The installation team included Cary, Miller, Stitt, Calhoun Allen, Milton Crow, Towner Pringle and Casper Tooke. Colony Adviser David Hendrix acted as warden and presented Ed Jenkins, colony president, to Cary who officially presented Jenkins with the charter.

A buffet luncheon was conducted at the conclusion of the initiation ceremony and reception was held in honor of the new chapter members immediately after the installation followed by the evening banquet.

Jenkins acted as master of ceremonies during the affair at which special recognition was given to Neil Hohmann and Pringle for their services rendered to the chapter. Hendrix was given the Founders Award for his uncomprising years of dedication and hard work devoted to the colonization effort. A gift of $650 was given to Jenkins from the Shreveport alumni for the chapter paraphenalia. At the conclusion of the banquet Hendrix presented Crow with the Golden Legion award.

The colony was first formed in 1976 following efforts by more than 100 alumni living in the Shreveport area. The other Greekletter social organizations on campus include Delta Sigma Phi, Kappa Alpha Order, Alpha Phi, Delta Delta Delta and Zeta Tau Alpha.

The university itself was established in 1965 and is a liberal arts coeducational institution.

PRESENTATION: Ed Jenkins, colony president, receives the Louisiana Delta charter from T. Glen Cary, president of the General Council.

BROWARD COUNTY

The Phi Delta Theta Alumni Association of Broward County held its annual cocktail party on Jan. 13 at the home of John W. Conness. There were approximately 65 Brothers in attendance with their wives and dates and a good time as usual was had by all.

Brother Ralph O. Taylor, Jr. came all the way from Wisconsin aboard his new Yacht, "Tigertayl" and arrived the day before the party. Brother Taylor said he was hurrying south through the Mississippi River and across the Gulf so that he could make it to the cocktail party. He really had some interesting tales to tell about his trip.

Everyone is looking forward to next year's party. - John W. Conness

FRANKLIN

1979 hopes to be a very active year for the Franklin Alumni Club. We hope to gain more of the area alumni interest with varied activities throughout the year. At this time, the annual Founders' Day celebration has been held with the active chapter of Indiana Delta. Everyone enjoyed a delightful ceremony involving alums and active brothers, not to mention a delicious dinner that followed.

Something new that proved to be a good time was a softball game challenge by the actives. With their honor to defend, as well as their fragile bodies, the more daring alums took to the field. After the game and a good supply of Ben Gay, both teams joined forces to celebrate a contest well fought with refreshments provided by the less fortunate team. By the way, if you want to know who won, contact any of the participants.

Other things in the planning stages are: a summer outing such as a picnic: Homecoming at Franklin College; another possible active-alum outing; and a dinner party. All alumni of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity are encouraged to participate in any or all of these.

The Franklin Alumni Club would like to request one thing of all Phi Delt Alumni. If any of you know of young men in your community who will be enrolling in college this fall and whom you feel to be potential fraternity men, please contact the active chapter on that campus as well as personally contacting the young man. With help as only you can provide, 1979 can be a great year for Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

The Franklin Alumni Club wants this to be the best year ever but to accomplish this we need only one thing — YOU!

HOUSTON

The Phi Delta Theta Alumni Club of Houston held its Annual Founders Day Party with a cocktail buffet on March 20 at the Briar Club. Brother Frederick F. Dexter, Jr. was present to receive the Golden Legion Certificate which has been traditionally awarded at this event.

The new officers for 1979 were elected by the membership and are as follows: Fisher Trigg, president; Bart Bentley, vice president; David Brollier, treasurer; Ed Neuhaus, secretary; Cline Young, social; and Jack Pendergrast, membership chairman.

The next function will be held this summer at a date to be announced later.

Annual dues are $30.00 and can be mailed to the Alumni Club at P.O. Box 22028, Houston, Texas 77027. For more information contact Bart Bentley at (713) 224-3330. — Fisher Trigg OREGON REUNION

Sixty-four Phi Delts and their wives attended a 50 year University of Oregon class reunion on June 8, 9 and 10, 1978, at Lincoln City, Oregon. Classes of 1920 through 1935 were invited.

The highlight of the affair was a sing-song featuring Brad Collin and George Weber, who both had bands of their own and are still very adept at the piano. George Mimnaugh was general chairman.

Much concern was expressed by those attending regarding the formation of a Phi Delta Theta chapter at the university.

Spearheading the drive to install the chapter is Roger Martin, a long-time member of the state legislature, and George Scharpf, president of the house corporation. Others include Tony Boisen, Art Larsen, Bill Ledford, Herb Lombard, Steve Nosler, Glen Porter, Jim Stevenson and Greg Vik.

Several house corporation meetings were held early in 1979 and Martin reports that he has a group of about 25 freshmen ready to organize a colony with the university's blessing. — Steve Fletcher

ST. PETERSBURG

A Past President's function has been added to the annual activities of the St. Petersburg Beach Alumni Club.

To initiate the affair, six of the club's eleven past presidents, namely Brothers C. Richard Davis, Dean Hoffman II, Fred H. Houser, Ord J. Fink, Pat Cosgrove and Lyman C. Cherry, along with their respective ladies and guests, attended a formal dance at "The South's Finest", the Coliseum Ballroom in downtown St. Petersburg to hear "The Big Band Sound" of the fabulous Glenn Miller Orchestra led by Jimmy Henderson.

Preceding the dance, the group enjoyed cocktails and dinner at the Cheyenne Social Club, a well-known area drinking and eating compound.

During the festivities, a toast was offered to those past presidents not in attendance, namely Brothers Dean Hoffman I, a member of the Chapter Grand, Mark I. Shames, whose becoming the father of a young'un has left him on "Cloud Nine", and W. Leonard Smith who, along with J. Auten Reid and John Edward Stambaugh, had a conflict.

A concluding note to the affair indicated that the immediate past president will assume responsibility for the future gatherings as to what, when and where. — Dean Hoffman, II

REUNION: University of Minnesota Phis from 1941-42 gathered in Minneapolis on Sept. 15 to reminisce. They included STANDING-Dick Wildung ('43) Minneapolis, an All-American football tackle who played with Green Bay; Don Nolander ('43), Albert Lea, another football player who spent some time with the Cleveland Browns: Joe Lauterback ('43), Harland, Iowa, who was also a football player; Conway Marvin ('43), Tumbrota; Jim Teale ('44), San Juan, Puerto Rico, who was the NCAA golf champ while in school; and Charlie Sandberg ('45) Zumbrota, another former football player; SEATED-Chuck Dellago ('45), Minneapolis, a football team member; Jim Preston ('45), Minneapolis; and Stu Olson ('44), Rochester, who was a catcher on the baseball team and won the Big Ten Scholastic Award for athletic and scholastic achievement.

Appointments—Meetings—Announcements

General Officers Receive Good Financial News

Good financial news tempered with concern for the future highlighted a General Officers Conference in Scottsdale, Arizona, Feb. 2-4.

The Loyalty Fund solicitation totaled $220,000 in 1978 from 9,200 contributors, a record. Contributions have more than doubled in a two-year period and the number of contributors has risen almost 46%.

However, Treasurer Bruce Thompson expressed concern about rising costs in all areas with a possible decrease in male enrollments predicted for most colleges and universities. He also voiced worry over whether or not income from various fraternity funds could keep pace with the current high rate of inflation.

Bill Dean, Scroll editor, accented Thompson's concern by telling the group that he was experiencing price increases in the cost of typesetting and the cost of paper. One factor that is unknown regarding Scroll expenses is how a proposed reduction in the mailing list will be reflected in final cost figures.

The reduction program is now in its final stages as Robert J. Miller, executive vice president, reported. It is estimated that between 25,000 and 30,000 names will be deleted.

Dean also reported on a critique of the magazine obtained through a program offered by the American Society of Association Executives.

Doug Wilson, commissioner of alumni affairs, discussed how new alumni clubs are formed. He reviewed specific activities in Miami, Chicago and Dayton, Ohio. Wilson met during the conference with five of the seven new alumni commissioners present for the meeting.

T. Glen Cary, GC president, opened the meeting by complementing the province presidents for their efforts. Province presidents visited more chapters in the first quarter of the Biennium than any other similiar period in our history.

He cautioned province presidents to avoid the "this is how they do it at my chapter" approach when visiting chapters and also urged them to work closely and be supportive of chapter consultants.

Cary discussed the "game plan" of the current General Council emphasizing the need to do a better job of selecting, training and motivating both province presidents and chapter advisers. He also pointed out the need to develop an "understudy" program to move people into key jobs as individuals become too old to serve effectively or move to other positions in the fraternity.

Stan Brown, chairman of the Survey Commission, explained to new province presidents how the Survey Commission operates. He indicated that the fraternity now has three colonies at the University of Kentucky, Louisiana State Shreveport and the University of Tampa. In the possibilities list he included Florida Central University at Orlando, Ohio University at Athens, Southwest Texas at San Marcos, Texas A&M at College Station and Oregon at Eugene.

Bob Biggs, director of chapter services, moderated a panel including chapter consultants Tim Shea, Glen Smith, Brian Dunn and Pete Menard on the work of the consultants.

Warren Smith, Zeta Province president, chaired a discussion on the role of the province president that included Don Stewart, Omicron South president and Billy Stitt, Theta West president. That concluded the Saturday portion of the meeting.

On Sunday the officers were broken into three groups to discussion a variety of problems and then report back to the entire conference. The group also heard a presentation by Doug Larson, Lambda Province president, on management by objectives.

Council member Tal Bray was in charge of the conference.

DEPAUW COMMUNITY SERVICE: Tom Bridges and Peter Melberg were among several DePauw Phikeias who spent a day doing volunteer work for the Putnam County (Indiana) Headstart Center. The pledge class built partitions for the Center to enable Headstart teachers to gain maximum use of the limited space available to them.

THE PHI CRIER

Summer 1979

IN THE HOUSE

*California Beta was actually founded before Stanford University was begun. Twentythree days after the university began operations the Atlanta convention granted a charter to a group of men that had been organized before the university opened its doors on Oct. 1, 1891.

*The brothers of Pennsylvania Epsilon have the services of "The Padre" as their chapter adviser. The Reverend Cannon Kermit Lloyd is their adviser and he is the Episcopal Bishop for Central Pennsylvania.

*During the three-day rush at MIT rapid communication is a must so there are phones installed in each room of the chapter's five story house. The phones are tied directly to the "command center" where brothers can vote on a rushee or get his current status. The MIT IFC keeps track of the current location of every rushee by computer. The rushee is required to check in and out with the computer when he enters or leaves a fraternity house.

*Fifteen classes at MIT have enjoyed the cooking of John Parle. The MIT brothers have also benefited from the extended tenure of houseman, Mr. Leroy Walker, who has been at the chapter since 1960.

*In 1921 New York Alpha completed its second chapter house at a cost of over $350,000. A recent estimate put replacement costs at well over a million dollars. The house at Cornell boasts a great hall with a 40 foot ceiling, stained glass windows, solid oak dining table and chairs, three foot thick exterior walls and a subterranian chapter room.

*The chapter house at USC is a stately mansion that was once the Spanish Consulate in Los Angeles. It has a very unique "round room" that is circular with a 60 foot vaulted ceiling. It has interesting acoustics in that a whisper can be heard clear across the room.

*The brothers at California Delta are proud of their share of the national title in football. As a result of USC's continued success in football a number of "skins" which have been won from other chapters decorate the house. The loser of a football contest gives the winner a piece of leather with the two chapter names, the score of the game and the Phi Delt crest on it.

*Since losing their old house the brothers of California Eta at the University of California at Santa Barbara have taken a small apartment complex. They have converted a carport into a chapter room and are enjoying their new life style.

*Fall, 1978, marked the dedication of Kentucky Theta's new chapter house. A first for the chapter, the house is located three miles from campus and provides the brothers with a real "home away from home." Spring, 1979, will mark the chapter's tenth anniversary as well as the 11th consecutive semester that the chapter has been first scholastically on campus.

*The Phi Delt house at Arizona State was designed by Brother Frank Lloyd Wright. It is an impressive structure.

Wright, It is an impressive structure.
*It looks as if Arizona Alpha will be retiring its Winnebago as a rush tool. The good news from Tucson is that the alumni are closing the deal on a new chapter house right on fraternity row. The brothers are certain that if they could double their membership rushing out of a Winnebago motor home that they should do even better rushing out of a new house.

IN THE COMMUNITY

*Plans are underway for Tennessee Gamma Phis to assist the YMCA in renovating a day camp that has been in existence since 1923. Duties will include cleaning the grounds and reroofing cabins, as well as re-landscaping the various trails.

*Brother Steve Sommer of Nevada Alpha has written a book called Kingdom. Doubleday has secured the publishing rights and plans to release it in two volumes in the near future.

*The brothers of California Beta sponsored the film "2001: A Space Odessy" on campus. With the proceeds they brought 25 fatherless boys from the "Big Brothers of America" to Marriot's Great America.

*Nine of the 18 members of the Sewanee, Tennessee, volunteer fire department are active Phi Delts at the University of the South.

*The brothers of Centre College, after collecting pledges from local businesses in Danville, Louisville and Lexington, rolled a key in a ricksha device 150 miles to the Cerebral Palsy School in Louisville.

*In addition to responsibilities within the chapter house, Brothers Joe Garrett and Battle Brown of Kentucky Alpha-Delta serve the Danville area as volunteer fire fighters.

*California Theta at Irvine has added a new dimension to its community service program. The entire chapter goes up and spends a weekend at a local YMCA camp. While staying at the camp they do a number of winter repairs as well as having time for a chapter retreat. This is a weekend of service and unity for the brothers.

ON CAMPUS

John "Bear" Pentland ('81) is the chairman of the All-Greek Mardi Gras at the University of British Columbia. This week long affair, with events every night, is designed to raise money for M.S. "Bear" expects that approximately $5,000 should be raised. The Phi Delta are sponsoring a road rally in the Mardi Gras line-up.

IN SPORTS

*Phi Delta Theta has won every intramural championship in the fraternity division at Arizona State University since 1973. The chapter has also won the University championship in all but one of those years. True to form they are leading in both divisions again this year.

*One of Arizona Alpha's new initiates, Jim Harris, has not only been a mainstay of the chapter, he is a standout on the U. of A. swim team. Jim swims the 100 and 200 freestyle sprints. He has already qualified for the PAC 10 championships and is a good prospect for the NCAA finals in both events.

NEW IDEAS

*Before all social events with a sorority the brothers at Syracuse have a pre-party "fire-up." The night before the party they all go over to the respective sororities and seranade, put on a skit, decorate the house and leave their composite or in some other way show they are "fired-up" for the party. The "fire-up" usually reflects the theme of the upcoming party.

*With a large senior graduating class approaching Indiana Alpha has taken steps in their pledge program to resolve the potential problem. At present there are three different pledge masters eaching having a pledge class during the same semester. Their goal is to initiate 50 or more Phikeias.

*When the brothers at New York Zeta at Colgate hosted the Alpha-Beta Bi-Province conference this fall they assigned one brother to host one of each of the nine visiting delegations. This process assured each delegate was properly taken care of and that each brother in attendance enjoyed good Phi hospitality.

*The brothers at Randolph-Macon have split the chapter into three groups of ten each to raise money for rush. Each group must raise a minimum of $150 or pay it out of their pockets.

*During roll call at Maryland Alpha each member, rather than saying "here" gives a different chapter designation.

*Since the brothers at UCLA have no chapter house they have had some difficulty establishing a presence as well as having a problem with internal communication. To overcome both these problems they have been placing ads in the "personals" of the student newspaper's classified section on a regular basis.

SAMUEL: Oliver J. Samuel (Kansas '46), president of MU West Province, is congratulated by Glen Cary, GC president, for ten years of service to the fraternity as his wife Mary Gayle smiles approval. The presentation took place at the recent Officers Conference in Scottsdale, Arizona.

WOMSLEY: Howard J. Womsley (Dickinson '57) receives a plaque from Glen Cary, GC president, recognizing his ten years of service to the fraternity while his wife Kay watches. Womsley is president of Upsilon Province.

Alumni Were Great in '78

BY ROBERT J. MILLER Executive Vice President

Phi Delta Theta Alunni are loval every year but this was especially true in 1978 when we put out our annual call for financial support of the Fraternity.

To be exact, 8,917 Phis answered our call for assistance in the form of contributions to the Loyalty Fund and Educational Foundation in the United States and the Lovalty and Scholarship Funds of Canada. This represented a significant increase of 17% over the number of donors in 1977.

Similarly, the amount contributed to the four funds increased by 19%. See the chart in these pages fully describing the details of the campaign just completed. Note that there are 341 members of the Sword and Shield Society ($100 donors), a 21% increase. Quite interestingly, there are 650 members of the Helmet Society ($50 donors), the exact number registered in 1977. Perhaps the most significant change in the Azure Association consisting of $25 donors. The figure for 178 is $3,728. an increase of 41%.

Finances Remain Solid

All this increased income to the Loyalty Fund means several things. For one thing, it means that the Fraternity will remain in a solid financial position for an additional year. It means that money will be on hand to meet the increasing costs of running a society such as ours, much of it caused by that old bugaboo, inflation.

It also means that we will continue our educational Chapter Officer and Adviser Conferences wherein key Fraternity leaders are exposed to advanced administrative techniques. And, it means that our Chapter Consultant program of visitations which assures a minimum of one visit to each chapter will be pursued. Of course, chapters in special need will continue to receive as many as five or six visits per year.

Educational Contributions

The total amount of money contributed to the Educational and Scholarship Funds in 1978 actually decreased by 1% but even so over $51,000 was added to these two important foundations. The Trustees of the Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation have already announced that as many as 24 scholarships totalling almost $25,000 will be awarded this year. One of these will go to a student from a Canadian university financed with proceeds from the Scholarship Fund in that country.

As we indicated earlier we love our alumni from all classes but we are especially proud of the "top 10" as listed in the accompanying box. The class of 1950 continues to hold down the number one spot it held last year for total contributions.

CLASS TOP TEN TOTAL CON-TRIBUTION Year Total $7336 1. 1950 $5175 2. 1949 3. 1930 $4877 $4743 4. 1951 $4730 5. 1938 $4700 6. 1960 $4619 7. 1945 $4592 8. 1952 $4414 9. 1969 10. 1961

This list has changed significantly in the past year with the classes of 1924, 1929, 1933 and 1953 being replaced by the classes of 1938, 1951, 1961 and 1969. Traditionally, alumni just a few years out of school have not been especially strong in their financial support of the Fraternity. As might be expected, young alumni tend to lose touch with the General Fraternity for a short period of time until they get settled in a permanet job.

There was much less change in alumni support based on chapter of initiation. When considered on the basis of number of donors, only Washington Alpha at the University of Washington was replaced by the chapter at Iowa State in the number ten position. The other nine chapters switched around slightly but the top three chapters remained in the same relative position as in 1977 with the Miami chapter again in first place.

When considered from the standpoint of total dollars contributed, however, we have a new leader in our University of Washington chapter - that same one mentioned above. Even though the alumni of this chapter failed to make the Ten rooms were decorated as foreign countries and food and drink from those lands were dispensed. For a small fee a passport to this exotic adventure could be purchased.

*Each initiate of MIT has given $25 a year to the alumni fund. The assets of the fund are approximately $250,000 and it has been watched over carefully by the Alumnus Treasurer Art Sharpe who has served in this position since 1926. As a result MIT alumni are seldom bothered for donations by the

Why Give?

At a Fraternity function this past year, the writer was asked by an alumnus why he should give financial support to the Fraternity. He commented that the undergraduates have been pampered long enough and if they could not pay the full price of admission, we ought to curtail services accordingly.

A third party in the group spoke up and asked if he could please answer that question. Said he, "We all know that the broad translation of our open motto is 'We enjoy life by the help and society of others.' Many of us have forgotten that the strict literal translation is 'One man is no man.'

In my mind, that's why we, as alumni, ought to give financial support to the General Fraternity.

'All by himself, man is nothing. The hope of our world is in the young people who depart high school and college with their own ideas of how to solve the world's problems. A gift to a fraternity like Phi Delta Theta where a love of fellow man is developed, a thirst for knowledge is encouraged and the pursuit of a righteous life is promoted if not always attained, is a sound investment for us as alumni. That's why we ought to give financial support to the General Fraternity.'

What else could we say but "Amen."

ALUMNI CLUBS: Providing programs and speakers for alumni club meetings such as Founders Day requires fraternity financial support. Here Georgia Governor George D. Busbee (Georgia '52) (second from left) was extended an invitation on Feb. 7 to speak at the Atlanta Alumni Club's Founders Day banquet. Extending the invitation were John B. Jackson, Jr. (Georgia Tech '45), executive vice president; Thomas J. James, III (Georgia '67), president; and Frank Horne (Georgia '68), state representative in the Georgia Legislature from Bibb County.

All Five All-Phis Unanimous Selections

BY DR. JOHN DAVIS, JR. (Washburn '38) Scroll Sports Editor

Each position on the Honorary All-Phi basketball team for 1978-79 was a unanimous selection by the All-Phi Board. Geographically the South dominated with three selections while the Midlands and West had one each.

The backcourt pair were both regulars from the nine-ranked North Carolina Tar Heels, the Atlantic Coast Conference champions. They are Dave Colescott ('80) and Ged Doughtan ('79).

Colescott had an 8.0 scoring average in 23 games plus 29 steals and 36 assists. He hit 31 of 36 free throws. His top games were 21 points against Cincinnati, 16 points in the NCAA Regional loss to Pennsylvania and 14 points in each win over Michigan State, Maryland and William & Mary.

Doughtan had a 4.2 average in 26 games with 16 steals and 33 assists while hitting 21 of 25 free throws. His top games were 10 against Maryland, 8 against Virginia Tech and 6 in three other games.

Kyle Rich (Rollins '80) paced the forwards with a 15.8 point average and a fantastic 176 rebounds. He is a two-time All-Sunshine State Conference selection and led Rollins to a conference title with a 17-10 record. He won the Jack McDowall Award as his school's top athlete and scholar. His top offensive performance was 37 points against the University of Central Florida head basketball coach at Virginia since 1975, has agreed to serve on the All-Phi Basketball Board.

Brother Holland was an All-Phi basketball selection while playing for Davidson in 1962-63-64. He is HOLLAND listed in the Phi Basketball Records with 1,067 career points. As a senior in 1964 he ranked third in the NCAA field goal shooting accuracy with a mark of 63.1%.

and 29 points in an NCAA Division II first round win over Northeast Missouri.

The other forward is Doug West (Franklin '79), a four-year starter and tri-captain who had a 15.4 scoring average plus 6.5 rebounds per contest. He had a perfect game in a 114-83 win over I.U. Southeast when he hit 10 of 10 from the field and 7 of 7 from the line. His top games were 28 points each games against Indiana Central and Thomas More.

The center is Eric Brewe (Puget Sound '81) who had a 15.1 scoring average plus 5.2 rebounds per contest. Puget Sound was the No. 1 ranked NCAA Division II school with an 18-5 record. His top game was 25 points against Montana State and 12 rebounds against Santa Barbara.

Heading the second team are a trio of unanimous choices led by Larry Crouch (Rollins '80), who had a 10.9 scoring mark with 101 rebounds in 25 games.

Bruce Turner (Allegheny '80) had a 6.8 average with 84 rebounds in helping his team win the Presidents Athletic Conference title. His top games were 17 points against Hiram and 16 points

Thomas C. Eakin (Denison '56) and Jimmy Crum (Ohio '52) were among 13 receiving Ohio's highest token of appreciation, the Governor's Award on Feb. 8.

The awards, presented by present Governor James A. Rhodes, recognizes Ohio natives and residents whose careers have "benefited mankind and brought honor to their state.'

Eakin, who concedes he is a baseball "nut", received an award in 1975 from the Ohio Association of Historical Societies for his work as national chairman of the Cy Young centennial and founder-director of the Cy Young Baseball Museum at Newcomerstown. The museum, designated as Ohio's Baseball Museum, was opened July 4, 1975.

He is also the founder and president of the Golf International 100 Club, "Try" (Target/Reach Youth), and founder and chairman of a Rotary student exchange program.

A Message from the President . . .

By T. GLEN CARY (Texas Tech '56) President, General Council

Since January 1, the general officers of Phi Delta Theta have been especially busy. They attended the annual General Officers Conference and they have been performing their duties in an exemplary manner. This is appreciated because their contributions are essential if we are to reach our near term and long range objectives.

Our experience indicated that where we have effective chapter advisers, we have good chapters; where we have effective province presidents, we have good provinces. However, it is not easy to find capable business executives and professional men to serve. Why?

Recently, my good friend, Adele Redditt Williamson, Phi Mu, and National Panhellenic Conference Chairman, wrote an article that explains our dilemma.

Wanted

"Wanted: Professional in the field of law, money management, public relations, public affairs, program planning and career development. Must often work weekends and overtime. Must work out of home. Occasional travel required. No salary available..."

This describes very well the duties of a volunteer who serves his fraternity as a general officer or chapter asviser. Is it any wonder that these jobs are hard to fill? Would you apply for such a job if you saw it advertised in The Wall Street Journal?

Fortunately, a large number of Phis have accepted such jobs and serve every day without pay. What professions and businesses do they represent: law, corporations (presidents and vice presidents), colleges and universities (professors and administrators), real estate, insurance, banking, medicine and various sales organizations.

We have had ministers, college and university presidents, judges, medical doctors, bankers, teachers, various corporation executives and sales personnel serve Phi Delta Theta and, in essence, accept a position similar to the one advertised by Mrs. Williamson.

Why Serve?
Why do these extremely busy people sacrifice to serve?

They believe in fraternity. They believe in the objectives declared in the Bond of Phi Delta Theta:

- 1. The cultivation of friendship among its members;
- The acquirement individually of a high degree of mental culture; and
- The attainment personally of a high standard of morality.

These brothers sincerely believe that our chapters can create an atmosphere favorable to and in support of the maximum opportunities for cultural, spiritual and social growth. They recognize that the average student does not of himself and without influence come to a balanced maturity out of the classroom any more than he develops in class without instruction.

What Phi Delta Theta can do and frequently does for an individual when a chapter is properly directed MOTIVATES Phis to serve and become a part of a great organization.

To these dedicated Phis and to those who join their ranks, I say thank you. And to those who provide the financial support to make this service possible, I express my sincere appreciation.

Working together, we can and we will promote friendship, sound learning and rectitude. Surely our world needs this today as much as it was needed in the past.

Have It Your Way Jim McLamore!

Have it your way" was the theme of a highly successful Burger King advertising campaign several years ago. It is also the theme of the corporation's highly successful founder, Jim McLamore (Cornell '42). He has been doing it his own way and having it his own way for 32 years.

Shortly after graduation from Cornell's College of Hotel Administration in 1947, he opened a small, 14-seat counter service restaurant in Wilmington, Del. In 1954, together with David R. Edgerton, he organized Burger King Corp. First year sales were less than $40,000.

Today, Burger King has grown into a world-wide organization of over 2,150 restaurants with systemwide sales of $1.4 billion per year—the second largest restaurant chain in the world.

"I was one of four incoming freshmen in Cornell's program," he recalled. The food business just wasn't too appealing to the average college student in the early 40's."

After his first year, he joined the Navy and they sent him back to Cornell in 1944. He not only graduated in 1947 but was married to his wife Nancy, who he had met on campus.

Initial Experience

"My first job was in Wilmington as director of food service for the YMCA at $267 a month," he said. "I had noticed a Toddle House across the street. There was a building for rent right next door, so I rented it and put in a 14-seat restaurant. We had basically the same menu as the Toddle House—only our food was better. It was a short order restaurant specializing in hamburgers."

His wife's family lived in Miami, and while there for a vacation in January 1949, McLamore noticed that a new office building was being constructed, so he decided to rent the ground floor and put in a restaurant. He hired a manager for his Wilmington operation and, along with Edgerton, opened up an "Instant Burger King" after obtaining a franchise for Dade County from a group already operating in Jacksonville.

"We put up $20,000 each and bought an automatic hamburger broiler and an automatic milk shake machine," he said. "It was really the first time anyone had come up with the idea of having customers come to the counter and serve themselves. We sold hamburgers for 18¢, shakes for 18¢ and fries for a dime. People didn't exactly rush in. I think they felt that nothing could be too good for those prices."

Expansion
Despite limited initial success

(It was six months before they had a $100-day), the pair began to expand. They bought a couple more locations and began to develop a system of efficiency and high productivity. The Jacksonville operation was having difficulty, so they took over and began the national franchise operating in 1954.

"All this coincided with the development of television in the mid-50's and the big expansion of large cities," he stated. "Our concept was simple. We offered a few items and a good price. It was easy to train personnel. We were also about to pool the strength of our advertising dollar."

"We consider ourselves pioneers in the fast food business along with Kentucky Fried Chicken and McDonalds. McDonalds actually started a year later than we did but went into the business faster and more aggressively. They are now about twice our size."

In 1967, McLamore agreed to merge the corporation with Pillsbury. He stayed on as president until 1972 and as chairman of the board until 1976. He is still a director, and the corporation has opened several new companies including the Steak and Ale restaurants.

"I think we really built the business on the promotion of The Whopper," he said.

"For a time, we were the big hamburger specialist, while Mc-Donalds was the small hamburger specialist. Now we are selling all sizes and even beginning to consider dinner-type operations. Mc-Donalds, of course, has entered the breakfast market. In a way, we have come full cycle in 25 years—from dinner service to a speciality approach and now back to a more full offering of items."

Community Involvement

Always an active community citizen, McLamore serves as vice chairman of the board of trustees of the University of Miami and chairman of Miami's community television station, WPBT/Channel 2.

He is a trustee of the Northfield Mount Hermon School in Massachusetts, past president of the National Restaurant Association, a member of the Orange Bowl Committee and a director of a number of community organizations and hospitals.

He is a director of the Southeast First National Bank of Miami, Burger King Corp., Calder Race Course, The Pillsbury Co., Ryder System and Storer Broadcasting System.

The Burger King innovator is a four-handicapper in golf and loves gardening. He is a trustee of the Fairchild Tropical Garden in Miami and takes great pride in his association with the organization.

"I like to speak to groups about our free enterprise system, and I usually get a good reaction," he said. "Audiences want to hear this.

Free Enterprise
"Our whole heritage in this

country is a tribute to the free enterprise system. It's come under attack recently from many quarters. In fact, an entire socialisticthinking philosophy is being promoted throughout the country by several groups. This can be seen in bigger government and greater government control of industry. All this tends to have the effect of limiting the thrust of free enterprise.

"In looking around, we also see trends throughout the world toward socialistic thinking. Great Britain is a good case in point. I think the majority of our people believe in our system. But the regulators and legislators are often influenced by those groups who speak the loudest.

"Institutions that reflect the free enterprise system need to be protected, and I have attempted to do that in the speeches I have made."

McLamore and his wife have four children, three girls and one Phi Delt son, Whit McLamore (Tennessee Tech '77). But the fraternity made a strong showing, anyway. Two of the girls married Phi Delts — John J. Maddox (Tennessee '70) and Jay Tucker McCormack (SMU '77).

Florida Theta at U. of Tampa Installed

Beginning with one undergraduate and one volunteer worker in February of 1978, a year of intense effort resulted in the installation of Florida Theta Colony at the University of Tampa -, March 23 and 24, 1979.

The activities began with the initiation of 44 undergraduates and 3 alumni of the Phi Delta local Fraternity on Friday afternoon at Hillsborough Masonic Lodge in Tampa.

T. Glen Cary (Texas Tech '56), president of the General Council. presided at the initiation and installation and was the guest speaker at the Founders' Day/ Installation banquet. C.T. Bray (South Florida '65), member-at-large of the General Council; Robert J. Miller (New Mexico '50), executive vice president; Robert Biggs (Georgia Southern '76), director of chapter services; Robert Schuemann (Valpariso '71), Epsilon South province president; Michael D. Ward (South Florida '67), chapter adviser at the University of South Florida and president of the Tampa Alumni Club; and Michael Gavalis (Florida State '72), chapter adviser of Florida Gamma, assisted in the activities.

Also assisting in the initiation were Robert Morency (Florida CHARTER: Ronald J. Garon, Florida Theta president, receives his chapter's new charter from T. Glen Cary, president of the General Council. State '76), Tom Morrison (Maryland), Kenneth Stephens (Auburn '78) and Elp Helton (Rollins '76). Morency is the chapter adviser for Florida Theta. Joining in the initiation ceremonies were undergraduate brothers from Florida Epsilon chapter at the University of South Florida and Florida Beta chapter at Rollins College.

One of the highlights of the initiation was the initiation of alumni. The alumni included Doyle Cotton, Nick Gavalis, and William Loving. Loving has been and continues to serve as chapter adviser to Florida Beta.

Following the initiation the new brothers of Florida Theta hosted an alumni reception on the campus of the University of Tampa.

On Saturday, Cary and the installation team attended a luncheon in honor of Cary hosted by Dr. Richard Cheshire, President of the University of Tampa.

Installation Ceremony

Following the luncheon, the installation ceremony of Florida Theta was conducted in the Ballroom of Plant Hall at the University. Brother Robert Morency, acting as Warden, presented Ron Garon, president of the Phi Delta local, to Cary. In a beautiful ceremony, led by Cary, the chapter was formally installed and Garon was presented with the Charter. Portraying the Founders in the formal ceremony were Miller, Ward, Bray, Schuemann, Morrison, and Bruce Bates (Florida'76). To conclude the ceremony the Brothers of Florida Theta were administered a pledge to uphold the principles of Phi Delta Theta.

Saturday's evening activities began with a reception, again hosted by the Brothers of Florida Theta and attended by alumni from the Tampa, St. Petersburg. and Sarasota area, as well as undergraduates from several chapters. The banquet which followed was held in the Flecher Lounge of Plant Hall, said to be one of Tampa's most beautiful rooms. A distinguished head table included Dr. Richard Cheshire. president of the University; Ward, president of the Tampa Alumni Club; Cary, Miller, Bray, Schue-mann, and Morency; the chapter adviser. Joining these brothers were the original four brothers of the local fraternity; Ron Garon; Guy Euliano, Tom Slaymaker, and Larry Baratta.

Other distinguished guests included Dr. Elden T. Smith (Ohio Wesleyan '32), past member of the General Council; Dr. Carl Hite, Dean of Students at the University of Tampa; and Roger Tegencamp, President of the Sarasota Alumni Club.

Presentations

The activities began with the introduction of President Cheshire who made a warm, formal welcome to the group on behalf of the University; and were highlighted by the presentation of the Raymond L. Gardner Alumni of the Year Award to Russell Thomas (Emory '48). After a presentation of Thomas' many activities on behalf of the Fraternity and in his home community of Sarasota by Brother Tegencamp, the award was presented to Thomas by Executive Vice-President Miller.

Cary then gave the principal address of the evening; a humorous, but most inspiring, told on the Fraternity and its long lasting effects in developing men and leaders.

The evening concluded with presentations of awards including plaques to the faculty adviser, Dr. Robert Kerstein; the chapter adviser Morency, and Council Member Bray for their work in establishing the Chapter.

The events of this weekend that saw the beginning of Florida Theta Chapter were the climax of a year's dedicated effort on the part of the new Brothers and local alumni, in establishing a local fraternity and, then, a Colony.

Shortly after taking office as Province President in 1975, Bray met with John Meyer (Cincinatti '67), then the Dean of Students of the University of Tampa and the Director of Activities, Mr. David Jackson.

Having received great encouragement from the University Administration, Brother Bray began the initial work of approaching the Survey Commission, gathering facts on the University and the Greek system on the campus.

Plans Develop

In February of 1978, having secured the interest of the Survey Commission and the University; one student, Guy Euliano, was identified as having interest in wanting to establish a new group. With the meeting of Bray and Euliano, began a year of work that resulted in the establishment of a chapter in a time frame that may be unparalleled in our Fraternity. By the following week, Brother Euliano secured the interest of four other students, Ron Garon, Larry Baratta, Tom Slaymaker, and Gary Weiner. At his first meeting with the group Bray, assisted by Morency, presented films and other information about Phi Delta Theta. With great excitement the group of five began to plan and organize a local Fraternity known as Phi Delta.

Several weeks after their first meeting, the excited group of young men were ready to hold their first rush party. This function was held on the campus and aided by Bray, Morency, and Ward and a number of undergraduate Phis from Florida Epsilon chapter at the University of South Florida, a successful rush party was held and seventeen new men pledged themselves to the Phi Delta local.

Later in the Spring, William Estes (Vanderbilt '55), a member of the Survey Commission, visited the campus as did a chapter consultant. Upon Brother Estes' recommendation, the efforts of the group were approved; and it was suggested that Euliano attend the French Lick Convention, which he did.

Returning in the Fall semester, 19 Brothers of the Phi Delta Local began their first solo rush program and after a week's activities, 24 men had pledged and numerous campus and social activities had been planned.

Colony Status

Also in the Fall of 1978, after the approval of the Survey Commission and the General Council, the Phi Delta Fraternity was officially recognized as the Florida Theta Colony of Phi Delta Theta. At this point, the organization had selected a group that had the highest grade point average of any on campus and were well on their way to setting records. The group included numerous members of the student government, holding several of the top elected campus positions; the editor of the newspaper and the editor of the yearbook; several varsity athletes; residence halls' counselors; and the leaders of most other student organizations.

With the opening of the Winter semester, the Colony group began rush and again were successful with 12 new pledges and the fund raising drive intensified. The General Council approved the charter for the group to be installed as a Chapter on Feb. 2, ten days less than a year from the time that Bray and Euliano first met.

With all the activities working as planned, the installation day approached and 44 new Brothers were initiated. This included Tim Morrison who was the first legacy of the new Colony and the son of Tom Morrison who was on hand to participate in the weekend.

The new Brothers of Florida Theta Colony in order of Bond number are: Guy Euliano, Lawrence Baratta, Ronald J. ## Kentucky Returns to Phi Delt Ranks

Kentucky Epsilon at the University of Kentucky campus was reinstalled on April 21, in an initiation ceremony at the Helen King Alumni Building on campus followed by a banquet at the Hyatt Regency Inn in Lexington.

Tal Bray, member-at-large of the General Council, presided over the initiation ceremony assisted by Bob Biggs, director of chapter services.

The chapter's charter was suspended due to financial mismanagement which led to the loss of the chapter house in 1970. Membership began to decline in 1972 and the charter was given up with hopes of recolonization in the future.

Alumni Association

In 1975, an alumni association was started which hand-picked a core of members to petition for colony status. After four semesters of hard work the charter was presented to Frank Steiner, chapter president by Bray.

During the banquet, Amos Lawrence was inducted into the Golden Legion by Jack Atchison, the alumni club president. Following the Golden Legion ceremony, speeches were made by Bray, Assistant Dean of Students Michael Palm, Province President Hugh Hines, Biggs and Steiner.

After the speeches, appreciation plaques were given to the chapter adviser Kenneth Scroggins, Past Alumni club president Richard Hulette, and Dean Michael Palm. The Most Valuable Phi Award was given to Steiner and the Most Valuable Alumnus Award was given to Kenneth Scroggins.

Brown Attends

There were many Phis attending the banquet including members of Kentucky Alpha-Delta, Kentucky Eta and Kentucky Theta. Also, Kentucky's Democratic Nominee for Governor, John Y. Brown, Jr. and his wife, Phyllis George Brown, were in attendance.

During the next morning, an initiation ceremony was held for colony alumnus member, Tom Howald. The reinstallation of Kentucky Epsilon had been long awaited but proved to be a memorable occasion.

Initiates

The following colony actives were initiated: Jim Horne, Jim Crouch, Robert Burnley, Frank Steiner, Jim McCarty, Luke Williams, George Simpson, Dwight McCarty, Dave Mansfield, Dhaval K. Shukla, Jay Patton, Kip Eberwein, Robert Hart, Tom Million, Garrett Shropshire, Richard Edwins, Joe Cartwright, Chris Schalk, Mike McCord, George Isaacs, Roy Leeper and Tom Howald.

RE-INSTALLATION: Newly initiated members of Kentucky Epsilon at the University of Kentucky are all smiles upon the re-installation of their chapter on April 21, 1979.

DePauw Senior Named Priest Winner

Timothy Terrell Casady (De-Pauw '80), a 4 pt. economics major, has been named winner of the Arthur R. Priest award for 1978-79.

The award is given annually to the undergraduate Phi who excells in scholarship, chapter service, campus activities and community involvement. It is the highest honor the fraternity can give to an undergraduate.

He will receive an $800 scholarship that accompanies the award, which is named for former Executive Secretary Arthur R. Priest (DePauw '91). Priest was appointed the first traveling secretary of the fraternity in 1921. He served as executive secretary for 16 years and helped establish 14 new chapters while reviving five old ones. He rewrote the pledge manuel and put it in its current format and also compiled a Phi Delta Theta songbook.

Tim's high grade point average has led to membership in the usual academic honor societies, a major Kiwanis Scholarship and a semifinalist position in the Truman Scholarship competition. He was one of only three juniors inducted into Phi Beta Kappa last spring.

"If anything; Tim's record of campus service is even more notable than his academic achievements.' said John R. Mohr, associate dean of students. "He participates with faculty members on the most significant faculty committee at the institution, which deals with academic policy and planning, and is assuming the role of chairman of a group of economics majors who are interviewing new faculty members for that department."

He is immediate past president of the student body, having been elected as a sophomore. He is also on the varsity cross country and track squad, a member of Duzer Du theater honorary and an active participant in both campus and state political organizations.

The Speedway, Indiana, native has still found time to devote to his fraternity. He has served as social chairman, representative on the chaplain's living unit council, chairman of the committee to revise the chapter by-laws and winter term president.

"Undoubtedly Tim's greatest contribution to the house has been his ability to encourage and get people involved both within the house and outside of it," said Bud Compher (DePauw '79), past president. "In part due to his enthusiasm and total commitment to whatever he does Phi Delt underclassmen are major forces now in campus student government, administrative committees, drama and studying."

Tim has also demonstrated an interest in political activity. He was a founder and past chairman of the DePauw College Republicans and spent two summers working with Dr. David Crane, a recent candidate for the U.S. Congress.

One of those summers he was a paid staff member and the other summer he was a volunteer. He is the immediate past state chairman of the Indiana College Republicans. He has also worked at Detroit Diesel Allison, a local industry, as an intern.

The '79 Priest winner is a member of the Speedway Christian Church and is a past board member of the Speedway Civic Committee. He still finds the time to serve as a waiter at a sorority house to help defray his college expenses.

Patrick Aikman, director of public relations for DePauw and chapter adviser to Indiana Zeta sums it up: "Tim Casady is a terrific young man - poise, humor, intellect, articulate, attractive, principled, cheerful, athletic. He's got it all!"

PHI BETA KAPPA: Upon induction into Phi Beta Kappa in the Spring, 1979. Casady is congratulated by Thomas Binford, Chief Executive Officer of the Indiana National Bank.

RECENT ADDITIONS TO THE

DAVID DEMAREE BANTA LIBRARY

Collett, Ritter (Ohio University '42). Men of the Reds Machine. Dayton: Landfall Press, Inc., 1977. 254 pp. Given by author.

The 1927 Yankees of Babe Ruth and the original Murderer's Row... the 1934 St. Louis Cardinal "Gas House Gang" with Dizzy Dean and Ducky Medwick... the Brooklyn Dodgers of the 1960's with Jackie Robinson and Roy Campanella...

All time superteams of years gone by who captivated the imagination of fans across the country. They come along but once a decade.

Cincinnati's Reds of the 1970's are just such a superteam, winning five division championships, four pennants and two World Series in the first seven years of manager Sparky Anderson's reign. They've also dominated All-Star play.

Superstars like Pete Rose, Joe Morgan, Johnny Bench and Tony Perez lead a team of some of the game's most fascinating athletes, players whose exploits have fired the imagination of fans everywhere.

Men of The Machine reveals for the first time the human side of this incredible assortment of talent, who they really are, where they came from and how they got that way.

Ritter Collett was in the press box in Crosley Field when the Cincinnati Reds opened the 1946 season, and the sports editor of the Dayton Journal Herald hasn't missed an opener since then.

There isn't much else about the Reds that he's missed over the years either. His closeness to the team that won back-to-back World Series in 1975 and 1976 lends both an insight and an authenticity to "Men of the Machine."

Ritter's father and uncle published a familyowned newspaper in Ironton, Ohio, where he literally grew up into the business. After graduating from Ohio University into the military service in 1942, he spent three and a half years in World War II and found himself separated from the Air Force at Wright-Patterson AFB in Dayton.

A job in sports on the old Dayton Journal turned into a career. When the Journal Herald was formed in a 1949 merger, he was named sports editor at age 27 and is still going strong.

Millett, John D. (DePauw '33). New Structures of Campus Power. San Francisco Washington London: Jossey-Bass Publishers, 1978. 294 pp. Given by author.

During the 1960's, the structure and practice of campus governance changed substantially. Although faculty senates or academic councils have long been a part of college and university governance, new forms of institutional decision-making bodies emerged that included students, administrators, and sometimes nonacademic staff as voting members. Evaluation of such recent innovations in governance has been minimal. Have they succeeded? If not, what are the reasons for their failure? This new book — the result of a major two-year national study — provides a full analysis and report on these new structures of campus power. It is concerned with what has happened in decision making, leadership, and management.

John Millett describes in detail the governance patterns on 30 campuses, including state, comprehensive, and research universities, independent institutions, and general baccalaureate colleges. He shows the extent to which the new forms of governance have realized their objectives, points out their implications for other institutions, and offers recommendations for the future of campus governance. His proposals include restricted roles for college councils or university senates, separate faculty and student governance, and the continuation of major leadership roles for presidents.

The Author. John D. Millett has been senior vice-president of the Academy for Educational Development since 1972. He received his doctor's degree in government from Columbia University in 1938 and began his academic career in 1946 as associate professor of public administration at Columbia. In 1953 he became president of Miami University, and in 1964 he became the first chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents. Millett is the author of 15 books on public administration and higher education and coauthor of 6 others.

Randel, William Pierce (Denison '31). The Evolution of American Taste. New York: Crown Publishers, Inc., 1978. 212 pp. Given by author.

For over 200 years, Americans have been free to do and say as they please. But for most of that time, Americans accepted foreign rule over how they dressed themselves, the shape of the chairs they sat in, and the style of the buildings they lived and worked in. In The Evolution of American Taste, William Pierce Randel reviews the transformation of America from an importer of fashions and styles to a dynamic and imaginative creator of taste.

The first immigrants to America tried to recreate here what they had left behind. But the new land they encountered was not empty: the food, the weather, and the native Americans all forced immediate changes that these Europeans had to make in their lifestyles. Even after they had won their freedom and had begun calling themselves Americans, they persisted in following the guidance of Europe in matters of taste.

But the evolution of American taste had already begun. The shapes of plows made by American blacksmiths, the lines of Paul Revere's silver and Lambert Hitchcock's chairs, the forms of Shaker boxes and benches — in all of these instances and hundreds more, Americans were already creating for themselves their own style. The Evolution of American Taste covers the growth of American style through food, clothing, literature, architecture, painting and sculpture, furniture — the entire spectrum of American taste.

The Evolution of American Taste deals with one of modern history's most exciting and fascinating events. American taste is the incredible result of myriad cultures, commonsense ingenuity, and pure genius. It has never sought to define itself—it is based on the freedom of choice, the freedom of each American to be his own tastemaker.

William Pierce Randel was born in New York City and educated in the public schools of Mount Vernon, New York, and at Denison University, the University of Michigan, and Columbia University. He has taught at college level — he was the Lloyd H. Elliot Professor (of English) at the University of Maine — and has lectured widely in this country and abroad on American civilization. This is his fifth book on the subject.

ALBERTA ALPHA

Alberta Alpha announces the formation of an alumni club in preparation for its 50th anniversary to be celebrated in conjunction with Founders Day in March, 1980.

At the Founders Day Stag in March, 1979 the following club officers were elected: Michael F. Juthner, president; David S. Welsh, vice president and secretary; and Frank G. Gibson, treasurer.

These individuals were elected also as the new officers of the Phi Delta Theta Society of Alberta and their responsibilities will include the administration of the proceeds of the successful lawsuit against the University of Alberta, paid in March, 1979. We owe the outgoing executive of the Society a huge debt of gratitude for pursuing that litigation over a period of ten years from the expropriation of our chapter house. Thanks to Robert V. Loyd, Don Matheson and Terry Cockerall as well.

The club has begun to plan festivities for the 50th anniversary. Reservations have been made for over 500 at the gala Chateau Lacombe in Edmonton. For further information contact Mike Juthner at Box 500, Ledue, Alberta TOE2Y3 (Phone 986-3070) or Dave Welsh at 8203 138St. Edmonton, Alberta T5ROE1 (Phone 483-5036).

BOISE

The Annual Founder's Day Banquet and Golden Legion ceremony was celebrated March 15 in the Capitol City Room of the Hoff Building by the Boise Alumni Club.

Fifty-three members and wives attended to welcome Ernie J. Palmer (Idaho '28) into the ranks of the Golden Legion.

After a great steak dinner, the group was treated to a double-barreled program of speakers. Jerry Davitch, head football coach at the University of Idaho, outlined the football program at Idaho, as well as pointing out long range goals and directions of the entire athletic department. His humorous presentation manner was a delight to all.

Bruce Pitman, assistant to the Dean of Students at the University of Idaho, whose primary responsibility involves supervision of the Greek community on campus, presented an up-to-date report on the status of Idaho Alpha in Moscow, as well as an overall view of all the Greek living groups. All present were pleased to hear that the Phi Delta Theta chapter at Idaho had received national recognitions the most improved chapter for the 1977-78 college year.

Dick Lueck was elected president of the Denver Alumni Club on May 7 at a meeting attended by 19 Phis.

Other officers elected included Pat Clowers, vice president; Dick Zerzan, secretary and Dave Rynyon and Lother Vasholz, advisers.

Future meeting sites and activities were discussed. Also considered was the possible expansion of the fraternity to Colorado State University at Fort Collins, Colorado Mines at Golden and University of North Colorado at Greelev.

HARRISBURG, PA.

The Harrisburg Alumni Club celebrated its annual Founders Day Banquet at the Embers Restaurant near Carlisle Pa. May 11, 1979.

Brother Maurie Shaffer (Dickinson '30), president of the Club, conducted the Golden Legion ceremony and presented 50 year certificates to the following new Golden Legionnaires: Robert V. Green (Duke '32) John H. Kirkpatrick (Dickinson '32) Donald M. Stoner (Gettysburg '30) James W. Lenny (Missouri '32) and Standley E. Walker (Gettysburg '32).

Sixty-six Phis, their wives and guests were priviledged to hear Brother David Morrison, president of Gamma Province, who spoke on the celebration of Pa. Theta's 75th Anniversary at Penn State on May 7. He also informed the Club that all the chapters in his province were doing well this year.

We also had the honor of listening to Mr. Hipp, an outstanding speaker on U.F.O.s, who endeavored to inform us on the facts and fictions of such objects.

The celebration ended with outstanding entertainment from a local magician who kept us well amused for the balance of the evening. —Ted Brookhouser

HONOLULU

The historic Cannon Club on the slopes of Diamond Head provided the site for our annual Founder's Day meeting. Thirty-three Phi alumni and their sweethearts were present to reminisce and affirm that Phi Delta Theta is not a mere campus interlude.

Six Golden Legionnaires, Louis Lyman Gowans (Utah '16), Joe A. Reynolds, (Oregon State '21), Charles K. Fletcher (Stanford '24), Dr. John F. Fox, (Westminster '24), Robert H. Lloyd (Swathmore '24), and George Neale (Oregon '24) each shared interesting anecdotes of their experiences. Brother Charles M. Cooke III (Stan-

The Club continues to meet regularly at noon on the first Thursday of the month except March at the Flamingo Chuckwagon. Out-of-state Phis are especially invited to drop in. Call Raymond Gould, Hono 422-6220, for information about other Phis living in Hawaii.

PALM BEACH COUNTY

The Phi Delta Theta Alumni Association for Palm Beach County Florida held its annual Founder's Day banquet on April 27 at the Sailfish Club in their beautiful private dining room overlooking the Intracoastal Waterway in the Town of Palm Beach.

As usual, a large turnout from active Palm Beach County Phis and their ladies made for a super fun evening with the best of club facilities and fine food, as well. The joining together of Phi Delt brothers from many different age groups and geographic locations typifies the bond of Phi Delta Theta. Each man senses the link between these previously unknown brothers and the closer brothers he was initiated with often many years ago.

Brother George Frost (Florida '51) led our ceremony inducting Charles R. Wilson (Georgia Tech '32) and Reginald A. Cook (Iowa St. '30) into the Golden Legion of Phi Delta Theta. A few words from each of these venerable Legionaires reinforced the feelings of brotherhood in the room, followed by a rousing standing ovation.

PALM BEACH COUNTY OFFICERS: New Club officers include Burton L. Moore (Idaho '29), president; Ronald L. Rountree (Univ. of South Florida '71), vice president; William Roger Cummings (Miami '68), secretary and Bob Schuemann (Valparaiso '71), treasurer.

Brother James R. Knott (North Carolina '32), a retired Circuit Court Judge and community leader, was unable to attend the ceremony and received his Golden Legion induction privately, in the presence of Brother Wilson. These two men were close friends and brothers during college days and both have kept close relationships with the members of their chapters and each other over their Golden span.

President Don Brooks (Richmond '70) recognized the chairman of the nominating committee, John F. (Cactus Jack) Thomas Jr. (Emory '43), one of our local founders and past president, to introduce the suggestions for office. The election followed with the unanimous support of our members for the new officers: Burton L. Moore (Idaho '29), president; Ronald L. Rountree (Univ. of South Florida '71), vice president; William Roger Cummings (Miami '68) secretary and Robert B. Schuemann (Valparaiso '71). Brother Schuemann is also our province president in Epsilon South.—William Roger Cummings ST. JOSEPH, MISSOURI

The festivities commenced with a cocktail hour before the Brothers sat down to a special prime rib dinner. Brother Gilbert Tootle gave the invocation prior to dinner.

Chapters represented were Colorado Alpha, Kansas Alpha, Kansas Gamma, Illinois Alpha, Illinois Beta, Missouri Alpha (17), Missouri Beta (3), North Carolina Alpha, and Ohio Theta.

Special recognition was given to the St. Joseph Golden Legion Brothers. They include Brothers Conger Beasley, Ned Biles, Francis Lucas, Elliott Marshall, William Morton, Barton Pitts, Sr., Beverly Pitts, and Noel Wiehl.

Brother Thomas Hayward presented a slate of officers for election and all were unanimously voted into office. Brother William Mytton will serve as president for the next year with brother Edward Barlow as vice president, Brother Benjamin Vineyard as secretary, and Brother Richard Paul as treasurer.

Walter R. Klostermeier was presented with the "Phi of the Year" award for his outstanding achievement in the business community and his contributions to civic and charitable organizations. Klostermeier is a senior vice president at the First National Bank in St. Louis and senior vice president of First Union Bancorporation.

Seven members of the fraternity were presented with the Golden Legion Award for 50 years of association with Phi Delta Theta. These members included General William H. Harrison, William N. Sauer, Charles Babington, Edward Clayton, Richard P. Edwards, Hollister Smith and Francis Wielandy.

The new officers elected for the coming year are Scott J. Wilson, president; C. Thomas Lamkin, vice president; Michael S. Pappas, secretary; and Paul Compton, treasurer.

SAN ANTONIO

The San Antonio Alumni Club of Phi Delta Theta held its Founders Day with a dinner at the San Antonio Country Club on March 11, 1979. There were 39 in attendance. The speaker was Province President Earl Lockhart and at the Los Gatos Lodge and was a great success. resident Bill Reagan ran a smooth program, and the meal and fellowship were excellent.

Keynote speaker was Charles Wicks, professor of chemistry at Oregon State Univ., and member of the General Council. A Golden Legion ceremony was performed to honor Brother Jonathan E. Tracy.

Outstanding undergraduates of the San Jose State chapter, Stu McFall and John VonBuelow were recognized with a cash award from the alumni club. This will be an annual award and a plaque with the winners' names will be displayed at the chapter house.

Brother John Jackson humorously reported on the Alumni versus undergraduate sports competition that has been held over the past year or so. John Buethe was honored as the undergrad "Super Athlete, and Don DuShane as alumni "Old-Jock-of-the-Year" The alumni are ahead overall in the various sports, but the undergrads are coming up fast, and in fact recently won the softball game 14 9. Look out alums!

Newly elected officers are: Bill Reagan, president; Steve Albers, vice president; Dennis Fernandez, executive excretary; Dick Irion, treasurer; Bill Gustafson, corresponding secretary; and John Jackson, Reporter.

The evening was completed with some good old Phi Delt songs . . . and the third annual "Big Event" was history. They're getting better every year!

Earlier in the year a successful Halloween party was held at the home of Dick Irion. A not-so-successful football game (from the Alum point-of-view) was waged with the San Jose State undergrads and the latter defeated us "oldsters" 18 - 2. Well, we beat them last year! The fellowship was great however, and we look forward to sports competition throughout the year — football, basketball, softball, tennis and golf.

And speaking of basketball . . . that's where we alums shine, having just won the second annual Alum-Undergrad game 70 - 46! Brother Don DuShane was voted MVP (that's Most Valiant Phi) because he finally got the gym lights turned on. Brother Rick Deutsch was our "Master of the boards", and Steve Alber's shot from mid-court at the half-time buzzer was exciting to the fans and the TV audience.

Renew your college ties, and make some new ones . . . join us in some good Phi Delt fellowship. Call Brother Bill Gustafson at 297-2520 for info.—John Jackson
ST. PETERSBURG BEACH

The pretension "that membership in Phi Delta Theta is but a campus interlude" was most certainly exploded when the alumni club of St. Petersburg Beach proudly accepted the privilege of participation as sponsor of the Golden Legion Ceremony in recognition of Golden Legionnaires Walter H. Beers, Fred H. Geneva, Lewis B. Grafft and Harold K. Sterrett during our recent Founder's Day Banquet within the Bath Club on Redington Beach, Florida.

At the conclusion of a very sumptuous banquet menu presided over by acting president Lyman Cherry, the awards based on the previous year's annual Alumni Club Golf Tournament, were presented to the brothers and spouses who participated, namely, Fred Houser (Male champion-Low Gross), Ord Fink (Male Runner-up-Low Gross), Dean Hoffman (Male Champion Low Net), C. Richard Davis (Lucky "A" Hole), Amy Fink (Female Champion - Low Gross), Lib Hoffman (Fernale Runner-up - Low Gross) and Lou Houser (Female Runner-up - Low Net).

TOPEKA

Three Phis were honored at the Kansas Beta Founder's Day Banquet. The banquet was held March 21 on the Washburn University Campus.

The first presentation was for the Outstanding Active of Kansas Beta and was awarded to Mark Thorne ('79). Mark has served as president, treasurer, rush chairman, and chaplain of the chapter. He is a senior and will graduate with a degree in business. One brother and two of Mark's brother-in-laws are Kansas Beta Phis.

Next to be honored was Edwin P. "Ed" Carpenter ('68) as Topeka Phi of the Year. Dr. Art Markendorf (Michigan '48) the previous years recipient made the award. Ed is the chapter advisor for Kansas Beta and a member of the Alumni Board of Directors. He has three brothers, Clarence ('66), Kenneth ('75), and Dave ('80), who are also Washburn Phis. Ed is a partner in the Topeka law firm of Hiatt, Crockett, Hiatt, and Carpenter.

The Kansas Beta Trophy honoring Dr. John Davis, Jr. (Washburn '38), the Scroll sports editor, was presented to Jerry Calovich. Jerry is a Kansas Alpha Phi Delt. The Jayhawks were blessed with Jerry as a defensive end this year. He made the All-Phi second team defense football team. He sparkled in the 17 16 loss to Oklahoma with nine tackles. Jerry is a senior who will be missed at Kansas.

In winning the Davis Trophy Jerry joins such notables as Steve Renko, David Jaynes, and Tom Dinkel, the 1977 winner. The winner is selected by the active members of Kansas Beta from Phi athletes in the state.

Kansas Beta's Founders Day also witnessed the kickoff of a House Restoration Campaign to upgrade the physical condition of the house. WASHINGTON, D.C.

The Washington, D.C. Alumni Club of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity held its Founder's Day Banquet on April 25 at the Kenwood Country Club in Bethesda, Maryland. Over 100 Phis and their ladies attended the annual dinner.

The Honorable Francis C. Browne (Akron '36), trial judge for the U.S. Court of Claims, was toastmaster for the evening. He read letters of greetings from several Phis who are members of the 96th Congress.

Judge Brown introduced the speaker for the evening, the Honorable Oren E. Lewis (Hanover '24). Judge Lewis related his impressions of Phi Delta Theta as an undergraduate and what the fraternity has meant during his professional career.

Six brother Phis were inducted into the Golden Legion in a ceremony conducted by province president Frank Abernathy. The inductees are: Henry Noel, Robert Vannice, Dr. Milton Cobey, James Glading, George Fouch, Ohio State; and Carl Scheid.

New officers for the coming year were approved. They are Brad Gustin, president; Asa Bates, vice-president; and John Flood, secretary-treasurer.

All Phis in the Washington metropolitan area are invited to participate in the club's activities. For more information contact Brad Gustin at 457-8800.—Randolph V. Dove

Sixteen Texas Alumni Celebrate 50-Year Reunion

This may be considered a continuation of the account of the famous "25th Phi Houseparty" of Texas Beta which appeared in The Scroll, September, 1954.

This was the story of an idea for a weekend outing that became an annual houseparty of Phis and their wives, lasting 50 years - uninterrupted, even during the War II years when only a few were able to assemble.

The tradition grew from an idea shared by brothers and University of Texas classmates Jack Foxworth and Charles Adleta, both of Dallas. They were the housekeepers and the business managers. They arranged for the lodging and all necessary provisions, and later, each year, they sent out individual financial statements.

Brother Adleta passed away in the early '70's. Foxworth has since taken the lead.

This year's Houseparty was held at Horseshoe Bay, near Marble Falls, Texas. It was the 50th, and the last. Why? The ranks are beginning to thin, too fast. Twentyfive years ago the group of Phis was alive and well enough. During the last 25 years six Brothers from the Houseparty group have joined the Chapter Grand.

The fellowship, the group camaradare, has grown deeper over the years. The sentimentality, however, is getting the best of us (at our age) that's why we are calling it: The 50th, and the Last.

REUNION: Sixteen members of Phi Delta Theta, Texas Beta Chapter (initiates or affiliates) gathered May 29-June 1 for a 50-year reunion. They include — Standing: Ben Boren, Jim Riddle, Tommy Hughes, Johnny Furrh, Gardner Duncan, Bill Ford, Dudley Taylor, George Seay, J.W. Rutland, Jr., and Richard Blalock; Seated: Ayres Compton, Walker White, John Pace, Jack Foxworth, Louis Page and R.G. Scurry. Six of the original Houseparty brothers (1930) are now deceased, viz: Charles Adelta, George W. Comegys, John Lovejoy Comegys, James B. Rutland, Dr. M.M. Scurry and W.C. Scurry. Six were absent for health or other reasons. They include Roland Boyd, Max Eversbert, W.P. Hargrove, Doyle Perkinson (Phikeia), Harry C. Webb and Paul C. Young.

REUNION CRUISE: Six Phis had a reunion on a Caribbean Cruise, Feb. 10-17, aboard the M/S Boheme. They included William H. Smith (DePauw '40), Robert B. Probeck (Purdue '49), Willard C. Stamper (Butler '33), Charles H. Blemker (DePauw '40), Lyman C. Cherry (DePauw '40), and William B. Askew (DePauw '41). Cherry and Blemker joined by DePauw alumnus Robert McBane were members of the ship's orchestra. Their wives were also present.

War College Commandant Enjoys Varied Career

Major General DeWitt C. Smith, Jr. (Maryland '43) embarked on what would prove to be an extraordinary military career when he entered the US Army as a private in World War II. At the request of the Army he returned to active duty in 1978 and is presently Commandant of the Army War College at Carlisle Barracks, Pa.

Actually, he first entered military service as a private in the Canadian Army serving a very brief period.

Seeing action in World War II, Korea and Vietnam, General Smith has received the Distinguished Service Medal, Silver Star, Legion of Merit (four times) Bronze Star (twice), Army Commendation Medal, Purple Heart (three times), Korea Chung Mu with Gold Star, Combat Infantry Badge, Presidential Unit Citation and French Fourragere.

He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, the International Institute of Strategic Studies, the Newcomen Society, Ends of the Earth and the Association of the US Army.

Additionally he is a Fellow of the Inter-University Seminar on Armed Forces and Society; a Counselor, Army Mutual Aid Association; a board member of the Civilian-Military Institute; and a board member of the Kennedy Institute of Ethics, Georgetown University.

In 1977, General Smith was the US Army's Kermit Roosevelt Lecturer to the United Kingdom. He is a member of the Infantry OCS Hall of Fame and is listed in Who's Who in America.

The Bethesda, Maryland, native was commissioned through the Officer Candidate School and served in Europe as an armored infantry commander in the 4th Armored Division in World War II. He was wounded three times in campaigns extending from Normandy to Czechoslovakia, serving mainly with spearhead elements at Patton's 3d Army, including the relief of Bastogne.

At the end of the war General Smith returned to civilian life and covered the US Congress as a reporter for a newsletter service. He then became assistant to the director of the National Social Welfare Assembly and also studied at Columbia University. With the onset of the Korean conflict he volunteered for return to active duty.

In the years since he has worn the insignia of and had troop assignments in three of the combat arms—infantry, armor and artillery; held commands at every appropriate level; served on unit staffs, and within NATO, the Army General Staff, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and the offices of the Secretary of the Army and Secretary of Defense.

In fact, he has worked closely for four Secretaries of the Army and the Deputy Secretary of Defense. He has also served as aide to the Army Chief and Staff and twice has worked in the staff group of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

More recently, he has been a brigade commander; an assistant division commander at Fort Carson; the Army's Deputy Chief of Information; Assistant Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel of the Army; from 1974 to 1977, the Commandant of the Army War College; and finally served as the Army's Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel.

A one-time regional Junior Davis Cup tennis player, General Smith now plays golf and is interested in the study of American history, world politics and all the arts. He has written and spoken widely throughout his career. He is married to the former Betty Bond, who has also had an active career serving as a radio announcer, secretary, nursing aide, school teacher, artist and model. They have six children.

Six Named to New Commission by Doug Wilson

Six alumni have recently been named to the newly created Alumni Commission headed by Doug Wilson (Miami-Ohio '64), commissioner of alumni affairs. One commissioner for the mideast has yet to be named.

"The fraternity is too big for just one man," remarked Wilson during the recent Officers Conference in Scottsdale, Arizona, where the commissioners met for the first time. "We need to expand our alumni club program and the new commission is designed to assist me in this effort," he concluded.

New commissioners are Marvin Perry (Maryland '53), Sam Furrow (Tennessee '63), John Zaplatynsky (Manitoba '67), Alan Glover (Nevada '72), Richard MacInnes (Iowa State '73), and Bill Beuck (Texas Tech '67).

Perry is no stranger to fraternity work having served as a chapter adviser and province president. He was in charge of local arrangements for the Washington. D.C. Convention in 1970. He is the president of Marvin J. Perry and Associates in Kensington, Maryland, and will represent the Northeast.

Like Perry Furrow has been active in previous fraternity work serving as a province president. He is the owner of Furrow Auction Company and Furrow Machinery Corporation in Knoxville, Tennessee. He will represent the Southeast.

Zaplatynsky is a former field secretary, now chapter consultant. He is the merchandise manager of T. Eaton Company, Ltd. in Edmonton, Alberta in Canada. His territory will be the Northwest.

Glover, who is a legislator in the Nevada House of Representatives, was active in the creation of Nevada Alpha at the University of Nevada. He is an independent insurance agent with Charles B. Marriage Company in Carson City and will represent the Southwest.

MacInnes, who is currently chapter adviser at Iowa State, will represent the Midwest. His work was recognized this past summer at the French Lick Convention when his chapter was named co-winner of the Harvard Trophy. He is a staff supervisor for interior planning with Northwestern Bell Telephone Company in Omaha, Nebraska.

Beuck joined Woodbine Development Corporation at Dallas in May, 1973, as vice president. He has key responsibility for the 1,000acre Fossil Creek development located in northeast Fort Worth.

and the review of a proposed Hyatt Regency Fort Worth.

He previously served as vice president of Brookhollow National Bank in Dallas. While at Texas Tech he was student association president as well as Texas Epsilon president and IFC president. He is active in civic affairs of Fort Worth serving on the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce and is an active member of the Arts Council of Fort Worth and Tarrant County. His territory on the alumni commission will be the South.

Berkley Chapter Suspended by GC

California-Berkley had its charter suspended by the General Council at a Denver meeting April 13. The action followed repeated warnings by the Council.

In action of a more positive nature colony status was granted to groups at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos, the University of Central Florida in Orlando and Ohio University in Athens.

Most of the other action was routine.

The Council voted to change the

Fall 1979

On Campus

*The recent elections at the University of Tampa saw six Phi Delta win Student Council offices of 11 open. Among these are president, treasurer, attorney general and three senator seats. The editor of the yearbook is also a Phi.

*Former Ohio Epsilon President Guy Spiers won the "Entertainer of the Year for 1979" award recently with a piano solo. He also played accompaniment with the Phi Delt Chorus, which along with the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, won the best mixed gless club award at the Greek Songfest.

*Washington University-St. Louis has an annual "Thurtene" carnival which attracts 20,000 people from all over the U.S. The Phi Delts build a large facade and inside they showed parodies of current movies. This year the brothers have produced a hilarious spoof on "Saturday Night Fever."

*Every Wednesday night the brothers at Missouri Beta have a formal dinner to which they invite local alumni, faculty members and members of the Westminster administration. This tradition has greatly enhanced the reputation of the fraternity with alumni and the college community. After dinner, while the brothers are still in coat and tie, they retire to the chapter room for a formal meeting.

*Indiana Delta Phis are well represented on the Franklin campus. The student congress president, Larry Bradley ('80), past IFC president, James Price ('79) and current IFC vice president, John Blomeke ('80), are all Phis. There are two more brothers on student congress and two on the student activities committee.

*For the second consecutive year the Phi Delts at Ashland College have won the prized "President's Club." This annual award is given for the fraternity achieving overall excellence in scholarship, intramurals, community and campus service projects and leadership.

*In order to build good relations with sororities and to introduce Phikeias to more females, the pledges each week invite a sorority pledge class down to formal desserts. The ladies are escorted down to the chapter house for cherry cheesecake and then they retire to the living room where the Phikeias sing to the girls. The girls then return the favor with songs.

*In Indiana Kappa's brief ten-year history they have won the homecoming float competition ten times.

In The Chapter House

-In the chapter room of Illinois Eta at the University there is a plaque containing a piece of the grave marker noting the final resting place of one of the six founders, John McMillan Wilson. He is buried in Benton, Illinois.

*Despite the chapter's young age Wisconsin Gamma has some illustrious alumni. Not only was last year's Harmon Rice trophy winner a Phi from Ripon, but Spencer Tracy was a member of the local "West Hall" fraternity that became Phi Delta Theta in 1960.

*The chapter at Indiana State resides in what was formerly the stately mansion of the late Tony Hulman, owner of the Indianapolis 500. The chapter house has parquet floors and stained glass windows.

*Brother Brian Swales has developed a solar powered lawn mower for the Indiana Kappa chapter at Ball State. Having secured a patent on the invention many corporations are bidding for the rights. He has also developed a device to use solar energy to heat the new party room that was built inside the garage.

*The brothers of Indiana Iota publish a miniyearbook of the chapter each spring outlining all the chapter's accomplishments and achievements. This yearbook is mailed to all alumni and every few years the issues are bound for a permanent record of the chapter.

*Every spring the Phis at Valparaiso "toast and roast" their graduating seniors at a special senior banquet. At this time each senior is recognized and reminded of his past accomplishments and follies. In this way the seniors are given a warm farewell from the chapter that has played such a big role in their lives.

In Sports

*Not only does Illinois Alpha provide Northwestern with a good percentage of players on the football, baseball and rugby teams, they have enough athletes left to assure that the fraternity will once again be winners of the intramural trophy.

*Nearly two-thirds of the Ripon College football team are members of Wisconsin Gamma of Phi Delta Theta.

*The athletic program at Knox would certainly falter without the participation of Phi Delts. Not only do Phis comprise a good percentage of the varsity letterman but 11 captains of various sports are brothers.

*Robert Beaudin, a Quebec Alpha Phi, has scored over 102 points for McGill University's football team by kicking extra points during the past three seasons. Another Phi, Kevin Smith, quarterbacked for McGill this past year and had 309 yards in passing.

*The brothers of Missouri Gamma are well on their way to a third consecutive All-University Intramural title. They have been victorious over the other eight fraternities as well as countless independent teams.

*Richard Bader (Clemson '80), swim team co-captain who won the consolation title in the 100 meter breast stroke and took second in the 200 meter breast consolation, has qualified in the 200 IM and is a top contender in the 100 and 200 Breast Strokes in the NCAA and AAU short course nationals. He currently holds four individual school records and is the anchorman for three more record relay teams. Last summer he was in the top 20 in the world and was named to the USA Travel List and has prequalified for the Pan-Am Games.

*The Ohio Zeta chapter at Ohio State sponsored a soccer tourney for 16 fraternities from the Mid-Ohio regional schools this spring. The winners were from Ohio Beta and Ohio Wesleyan.

New Ideas

*The brothers of Illinois Beta have an interesting program that both improves their reputation with faculty and provides them access to some of their professors. Formal dinners are held to which faculty members are invited and asked to speak. The program has been a great success as the president of the University was a recent guest.

*The brothers and pledges of Iowa Delta at Drake hold an all-chapter retreat prior to initiation. This weekend is set aside for discussing the past and future of the fraternity and building a cohesiveness within the brotherhood. The absence of beer and women makes the atmosphere conducive to solemn thought and honest dialogue.

*During "Inspiration Week" at Iowa Wesleyan the pledges take on an improvement project on campus. This year the pledge class renovated a dorm library. A plaque commemerates the action by the pledges.

*Missouri Alpha sponsored an all-state Founders Day for Missouri this year and T. Glen Cary was the featured speaker. Missouri Beta Missouri Gamma participated.

*William "Biff" LaTourette of Missouri Beta has recently obtained his new license plates from Missouri which read "Go Phi". In Ohio, Executive Vice President Robert J. Miller has plates which read PDT - 1.

*The five-man pledge class at Indiana Delta managed to raise over $1,000 in the course of their pledgeship by hiring themselves out to do after hour clean-up work at the local Ponderosa Steak House. They also obtained contracts to rake leaves and shovel snow.

*An interesting rush idea employed by Indiana Eta is their "Phi Boy" Club. At this party non-alcoholic drinks are served by sorority women dressed as bunnnies. There are also a number of skits about the Phi Delts put on by various sororities.

In The Community

*The brothers of Illinois Alpha have an interesting tradition in their community service program. Each year they throw an "All-Campus" and request a donation at the door. They also sell pizza at the party with all the proceeds going to Easter Seals.

*The brothers of Iowa Delta have come upon a very interesting idea for their community service project. To raise money for the Des Moines Variety Club they have, for the past two years. run across the state of Iowa. The chapter splits in two groups with half the

Scarborough, Haynes Selected

In recent developments Terry Scarborough (Texas Tech '68) has been named to replace Earl Lockhart (Texas Tech '50) as president of Rho South Province and Erin Haynes (Oregon State '72) has been picked as president in the new Pi South Province.

Rho South includes the chapters in South Texas while Pi South is a newly created province that includes the chapters in Oregon.

Scarborough is an Austin attorney who is director of District 10 of the Texas Young Lawyers Association and has recently been nominated to serve as presidentelect of this organization. In addition to belonging to several bar associations, he has served as assistant district attorney for Travis

SCARBOROUGH County.

A member of Phi Alpha Delta and Beta Alpha Psi he has been serving as chapter adviser for Texas Gamma at Southwestern and was named one of five outstanding chapter advisers in the nation in 1978.

He has been nominated for the 1979 Outstanding Young Men of America Award and currently is on the Board of Directors of the Austin YMCA. While attending Texas Tech he was a member of the varsity football team.

They also voted to adopt a proposal by Doug Larson, president of Lambda Province, to incorporate a management-by-objectives program into the next General Officers Conference.

Bill Dean, Scroll editor, reported on the current status of the magazine including a financial report after which the Council received the fraternity's quarterly financial report and voted to continue with the auditing firm of Haskins and

The Council also reviewed the province president visitation program and this year's Chapter Officer and Adviser Conferences.

In attendance were T. Glen Cary, president; Bruce Thompson, treasurer; Dr. Charles Wicks, reporter; Tal Bray, member-atlarge; Bob Dinkel, member-atlarge; Bob Miller, executive vice president; and Dean.

chapter running from Davenport to Des Moines and the other half running from Souix City to Des Moines. The brothers switch off every mile. Each brother gets pledges before they leave and money is also collected along the way.

Virginia Delta has adopted a senior citizen, Frank Crump, who is 80-years old. Frank is visited three or more times weekly. The brothers bring food and conversation. He is not capable of moving without assistance and likes to go for car rides so the brothers carry him down to a car and drive him around.

Old world craftmanship still exists at Iowa Alpha. Brother Bruce Roberts builds grandfather clocks from scratch. For a mere $600 you can be the proud owner of a custom-made grandfather clock.

*This past semester has been one of contribution and togetherness that N.Y. Epsilon can be proud of. In the annual Syracuse University Dance Marathon for Muscular Dystrophy, which raised over $60,000, the combined efforts by the Phis managed to raise $1,050. Along with these efforts, the chapter saw three brothers, Jim Sabaitis, Tony Muscarella, and Nevin Hofing, dance in the 48-hour marathon. Physical stamina and a drive to excell went beyond the dance floor as Peter Henriques and Art Sibley tryeled with the S.U. national championship crew squad to compete in the San Diego Crew Classic.

*To raise money for charity the Phi Delts of Indiana Eta rolled a key from Terre Haute to the Budwieser Brewery in St. Louis. The brothers got per mile pledge for the 180-mile trip across Illinois.

Scholastically

*While it may not seem like any big deal to rank in the top ten fraternities scholastically on most campuses - it is at the University of Illinois where there are no less than 51 fraternities. The Phi Delts enjoy the honor of being ranked among the best at the U. of I.

NEW GENERATION ADDED: Glen Foster (Indiana '18), whose father Dow B. Foster (Indiana '92) preceded him in Phi Delta Theta, congratulates his grandson Richard G. "Rick" Foster (SMU '81) while T. Glen Cary (Texas Tech '56), General Council president; and John Foster (Southwestern-Texas '51), Rick's father, approve. Rick had just completed initiation and was also named the outstanding pledge of his Phikeia class.

Introducing the New PHI DELTA THETA Signet Ring

designed and created by

This handsome, newly created ring was developed as the result of a poll of undergraduates and alumni attending the 62nd Biennial Convention at French Lick, Indiana. Signet rings have always been preferred by fraternity men and currently are, by far, the most popular type of ring on the market. Using the signet style, this ring was specially designed by Balfour for Phi Delta Theta.
