Frankly, Wright's Tops

I think we have a great website, and everyone involved is to be commended. In the interest of enhancing the content, I suggest we review our assessment of Frank Lloyd Wright—upward. I have spent a lot of time with the people at Taliesin West in Scottsdale and done a great deal of reading about him. I agree with architectural writer Robert Campbell who says “the greatest artist [Wright] this country has ever produced seems at last to be coming into his own. America’s other great artists – our painters, sculptors, composers—don’t really rank with the tops of all time. They are not Rembrandt or Michelangelo or Beethoven. Wright alone has that standing.”

—Bob Marcks, Northwestern '50

Proud To Be

On October 29, I ran in the Marine Corps Marathon in Washington, D.C. as part of the St. Jude Heroes program to raise money for cancer research. This was posted on the Phi Delt website and included a link to my personal website urging brothers and alumni to contribute. I'd like to thank you for this increased exposure.

Moreover, I would like to articulate my appreciation for Phi Delta Theta as an organization. During my college years, Phi Delt played an integral role in my life and helped shape me into the person

I am today. As a sophomore, I attended Leadership College and had the opportunity to share common experiences with a diverse group of Brothers from across the US and Canada. Because of my positive experience, the following year I decided to serve as president of my chapter. This was truly one of the best decisions I ever made. The responsibilities I faced as president forced me to grow as an individual, as a Fraternity brother, and as a member of the larger community.

Phi Delta Theta has undoubtedly given me a lot over the years. I am only hopeful that one day I will be able to give back in equal proportion. Thank you again.

Phis Support Fallen Brother

(The following is excerpted from a longer letter that appeared in the spring alumni newsletter of Kansas Eta.)

On June 2, 2003 at 7:15 a.m. Jared Michael Stubblefield, Bond #33, died in an automobile accident. Our son, Julia's brother, your Brother was gone. Just how strong is the “Bond?” How will this loss affect The Bond? These questions and many more will be asked and answered in the days, months and years to come. How strong is this Bond was answered just days later when 34 of the 36 men of Kansas Eta showed up to say good bye to a fallen Brother and comfort his family. The time they spent with us those two days were very special. Stories were told, cigars were smoked and toasts were made to Stub. There was also another Bond made when while at the cemetery you asked me to join you in The Bond. You have no idea how proud our family was of Jared and how honored I felt to be a part of this Fraternity and Brothers that Jared really loved! The Bond is real.

Since that dreadful week in June of 2003, the Brothers have adopted Julia as their little sister. Brothers have traveled many hours to attend activities that Jared would not have missed including basketball games, Winter Homecoming where Julia was a queen candidate, and graduation. Jolene and I did not ask these Brothers to do this; they took it upon themselves because of The Bond. We truly enjoy every e-mail, phone call, visit or card we receive because we can see, hear or read The Bond with Jared. The Bond is real.

Let us not forget the last line of the Phikeia Oath. “I will strive in all ways to transmit the Fraternity to those who may follow after, not only not less, but greater than it was transmitted to me.” We learn it. We love it. We live it. If you haven't got it by now, it's The Bond! This is what sets our Fraternity apart from the others. You are The Bond and yes, The Bond is real. The Bond is very real!

Foundation Establishes Scholarship/Fellowship Fund in Memory of Jordan L. Haines

Jordan Haines was surely one of Phi Delta Theta's most loyal – and some say most colorful – members. He was truly a giant, in every sense of the word. Brother Haines was a pioneering banker in the State of Kansas and was the longtime chairman of the Fourth National Bank and Bank IV. Jordan was a member of the Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation Board of Trustees from 1998-2000. He was devoted to his alma mater, the University of Kansas. He served as chair and a member of its Board of Regents and a member of the Executive Committee of the KU Endowment Association.

Shortly after he died in January of 2006, his friends and members of his family stepped forward saying they'd like to establish a fund within the Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation to award scholarships and fellowships in Jordan's name. In just a few months they had raised more than $100,000 to establish the fund. The first grants will be awarded for the 2007-2008 academic year.

Haines graduated from the University of Kansas in 1949. He was both a rabid Jayhawk fan and a loyal member of Kansas Alpha chapter throughout his life. The scholarships and fellowships generated by the Jordan L. Haines Fund are meant to encourage and recognize undergraduate and alumni leaders and scholars from his Kansas Alpha chapter.

The General Council members met in Washington in November. Here, Council Treasurer Mark Ochsenbein, member Chris Lapple, General Council President Rudy Porcivina, Reporter Scott Mietchen and member Rich Fabritius pose in front of the White House.

On November 9, our club sponsored a conducted tour, arranged by Doug Phillips, of the Da Vinci exhibit—a special exhibit traveling throughout the world. Following, at lunch Allan Hurst reviewed the current status of our Fraternity. The success of alcohol-free housing was especially well received, and news of the expansion and re-colonizing of nearby chapters was also warmly applauded. We are planning a tour of the newly redesigned Griffith Observatory, and Founders Day is being planned for late March.

We invite all Phi's to visit with us—contact our secretary Kern Rodeberg, kernrodeberg@earthlink.net.

On page 24 of the last issue, the photo labeled Mississippi Beta was actually Mississippi Beta Prime. Also on that page we listed the University of Kentucky as our Kentucky Epsilon chapter.

And on page 12, forty-three Phis received scholarships (not forty-three). Our apologies certainly go to the chapters, to Carmalieta Dellinger Jenkins and to our scholars.

Gardner Award Goes To Richard Foley

In December of 2005, a scholarship fund was established at the University of Illinois to honor Richard Hamilton Foley, '50, to encourage incoming students from Paris High School or other high schools in Edgar County, Ill. who display and aspire to pursue a life of high moral character, integrity, leadership, personal discipline, dedication, determination, perseverance, loyalty, commitment, and service to country and community.

These are exactly the attributes that describe Richard Foley, the 2006 Gardner Award winner. He has demonstrated a lifetime of service and dedication to his alma mater—the University of Illinois, the Illinois Eta chapter and his community—Champaign, Illinois. As an undergraduate, Dick played on the varsity basketball team that reached the Final Four in 1952. As a University of Illinois alumnus, Mr. Foley has endowed several student scholarships to assist graduates of his alma mater, Paris High School. He played an instrumental role in the fundraising for the Alice Campbell Hall, the University of Illinois' new alumni center. As a professional, Foley, as an associate in the firm Felmley-Dickerson, assisted in the building of Assembly Hall, the University of Illinois landmark that hosts men's and women's basketball games and doubles as a performance and event center. Furthermore, as an invaluable member of the community, Dick is an active member in his church and served on the Champaign School Board. As an alumnus member of the Illinois Eta chapter of Phi Delta Theta, Mr. Foley spearheaded the recent Golden Legion ceremony to honor the members who graduated fifty years ago and has played a chief role in numerous capital campaigns for his Fraternity.

The award committee was overwhelmed with the number of sincere recommendations for Dick Foley that included letters from Congressman Tim Johnson, University of Illinois Foundation President Sid Mycek, University of Illinois Alumni Association President Loren Taylor, University of Illinois Athletic Director Ron Guenther, US District Judge Justin Quackenbush, Champaign Mayor Jerry Schweighart, Past President of the Phi Delta Theta General Council Doug Phillips, as well as letters from current chapter members, business associates, numerous Phi Delta Theta alumni, family and friends.

The words of Foley's Phi grandson, Michael Bell, '08, are a special tribute. "As a new member when I began to learn more and more about the cardinal principles adhered to by Phi Delta Theta, I began to see these qualities more clearly represented in my grandfather. His friendship is shown every time I am with him. He truly knows no stranger, and if there is someone he does not know, he makes a point to meet and ultimately befriend them. His sound learning is not only shown by his scholastic achievement while he was in college but by his continual intellectual pursuits long after his graduation. Finally, his rectitude is by far unmatched by anyone I know. Every single person I come into contact with who knows my grandfather will never fail to remark on his upstanding moral character and integrity. Without his living example as a proud member of Phi Delta Theta, I would not have been able to achieve and grow from all of the great experiences I have had in my college career."

“...his rectitude is by far unmatched by anyone I know. Every single person I come into contact with who knows my grandfather will never fail to remark on his upstanding moral character and integrity.”

Educational Foundation Announces $7 Million Dollar Campaign

The Trustees of the Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation publicly announced a $7 million dollar campaign during the Fraternity's Convention this past summer. The campaign will conclude during the 2008 Convention as we celebrate the 50th anniversary of the creation of the Educational Foundation.

"Leadership for a Lifetime—The Campaign for Phi Delta Theta" is the theme of this campaign. Its purpose is to provide additional endowment support for the leadership and educational programs as well as additional scholarships and fellowships provided by the Educational Foundation.

The heart of the experience

Educational and leadership programs are at the heart of the Phi Delta Theta experience. A wide range of interactive and innovative programs complement our members' classroom experiences, contributing to their education in practical and powerful ways.

That is why "Leadership for a Lifetime" plans to increase funding to the following current and proposed leadership programs.

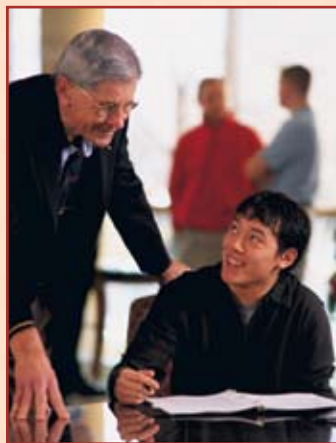

- Leadership College
- Presidents Leadership Conference
- The Accolade Member Development Program
- Leadership Consultant Program
- Scholarships and Fellowships
- Ongoing Annual Support for Leadership Initiatives

Our vision of leadership

The effects of Phi Delta Theta leadership ripple through society like waves. The first man on the moon was a Phi. So was the inventor of "The Whopper." We have led major corporations like General Motors and Johnson & Johnson. We negotiated the end of the Cold War with the Soviet Union. Generals, senators and opinion-makers have all been Phis.

They come to us around 18 years of age from the shrimp beds of Louisiana, the fir forests of Oregon, the ski slopes of the Rockies, the hip urban streets of New York, and the wind scoured plains of Saskatchewan. Leadership skills emerge and are polished through chapter and campus politics, academic mentoring, networking, community service, social life, and through all-night discussions that only lose their energy with the gray hint of dawn in the windows.

For many of us these were among the best times of our lives. We carried these lessons into society. We have literally changed the world in many ways. This is the experience we want to preserve for the Phi Delta Theta leaders of the future.

Creating the leaders of the future

The chapter house is an important incubator for the development of leadership skills. The self-discovery, camaraderie, and confidence help young men see their own potential for success.

The opportunities for dialogue and collaboration help create sound judgment, maturity, and strong self-esteem. We foster communication, trust, and interpersonal skills as Brothers work together to build and govern their chapters.

These emerging skills need to be molded and enhanced to become effective lifetime tools. That is why our leadership education programs are more ambitious than ever before. We are providing young men with the kind of real world, hands-on leadership education that is difficult to find anywhere else.

To achieve this level of leadership education, we are pleased to announce a four-year capital campaign called "Leadership for a Lifetime." It is designed to raise $7 million by 2008, the 50th anniversary of the Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation. The programs it will fund will equip Phi Deltas with leadership skills like no other program can. Society needs good leaders today like never before. With your help, we're in the position to create these leaders of the future.

How you can help

We are pleased to share this exciting news about the campaign and earnestly hope that every member of the Fraternity will join in this effort to help create the leaders of the future. Please contact the Phi Delta Theta Foundation for more information by calling (513) 523-6966 or emailing Rusty@phideltatheta.org.

The success of the Foundation is directly tied to our ability to positively impact our undergraduate members and maintain Phi Delta Theta as a premiere Fraternity.

Braves' Smoltz Wins Lou Gehrig Award

Winner of the Lou Gehrig Award is John Smoltz, All-Star pitcher for the Atlanta Braves. "John Smoltz is the perfect recipient for this year's Lou Gehrig Award," says Sean Wagner, spokesman for the Lou Gehrig Memorial Award Committee. "He and his wife, Dyan, are an integral part of their community. Their commitment to giving is extraordinary, both in personal time and financial resources."

The award is presented annually by Phi Delta Theta to the Major League Baseball player who best exemplifies the giving character of Hall of Famer Lou Gehrig, who was a member of the Fraternity's Columbia University chapter. The award was first presented in 1955 and is permanently maintained at the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown, New York.

Representatives of Phi Delta Theta and the Lou Gehrig Memorial Award Committee presented the award during pre-game ceremonies at Turner Field on Friday, September 15, 2006.

John Smoltz was an All-State baseball and basketball player at Waverly High School in Lansing, Mich. before the Detroit Tigers drafted him in the 1985 amateur draft. He developed in the Detroit farm system until August 1987 when he was traded to the Atlanta Braves. He made his Major League debut on July 23, 1988 and made twelve starts that season. He hurled a complete game shutout against the Pittsburgh Pirates in the seventh game of the 1991

National League Championship Series, propelling the Atlanta Braves to their first World Series ever.

On the field, Smoltz has developed to be dominant as both a starter and a closer. In three full-seasons as a closer (2003-2004), he had 55, 45 and 44 saves, and in 2004 he posted a 1.12 ERA. As a starter he has had 11 seasons with 10 or more victories, including going 24-8 in 1996 and 17-3 in 1998. During 13 post-seasons, he has accumulated a 15-4 record with 4 saves and a 2.65 ERA. He has also appeared in 6 All-Star contests. Smoltz won the Cy Young Award in 1996 and the Silver Slugger Award in 1997.

Smoltz and his wife, Dyan, have created The John and Dyan Smoltz Foundation, with the primary pursuit being quality education. During his recovery from surgery in 2000, Smoltz dedicated himself to the development of a new Christian school in the metropolitan Atlanta region. The foundation has donated over one million dollars to Kings Ridge Christian School in Alpharetta, GA. Smoltz has also personally raised more than $4 million for the school. He began a relationship with the Atlanta Community Food Bank in 1992 and the "John Smoltz Golf Tourney" benefits Atlanta's Table, a Food Bank project that rescues prepared perishable foods from the local hospitality industry and distributes it to local nonprofit hunger-relief agencies. Another Food Bank project was initially called "Strike Out Hunger," then renamed "Close Out Hunger," and then renamed back to its original name. The campaign annually raises thousands of dollars and thousands of pounds of food. Since 2001, Smoltz has supported Thanksgiving Dish, an annual event where local reporters, Food Bank staff and professional athletes join forces to cook prepared dishes that benefit local nonprofit hunger-relief agencies. Additionally, Smoltz has helped cook more than 6,000 meals to feed the area's hungry.

General Council Member Rich Fabritius congratulates Smoltz

Smoltz hosts his annual "John Smoltz Celebrity Pro-AM Golf Tournament" and its proceeds benefit Children's Healthcare of Atlanta. Each year, he purchases 25 season tickets as part of a program that donates passes to fans that might not otherwise be able to attend a baseball game. He also supports The Alpharetta Police Athletic League (PAL). Not forgetting his hometown, Smoltz has lent his name to the Capital Area Youth Sports Association (CAYSA) of Lansing, Michigan for their primary tournament. In 2004, CAYSA honored him with their Distinguished Alumni Award. The Braves have honored Smoltz by presenting him with the Roberto Clemente Award for community service and the Braves Chairman's Award, which is presented to the Braves player who has exhibited exemplary community service.

Smoltz is the fifth member of the Braves franchise to receive the Lou Gehrig Memorial Award, joining Warren Spahn (1961), Hank Aaron (1970), Phil Niekro (1979), and Dale Murphy (1985).

Colonizations

Indiana Delta (Franklin College): Phi Delta Theta returned to Franklin's campus on October 14 amidst the College's Homecoming celebrations. Close to 75 students, alumni, administrators, family, and friends were in attendance to see the colonization take place at the chapter house. Indiana Delta is home to many famous Phi Deltas: George Banta (Second Founding Father), Terry Hoepfner (Head Football Coach-Indiana University), and Roger Branigin (Former Governor of the State of Indiana).

Indiana Alpha (Indiana University): The Indiana Alpha chapter of Phi Delta Theta became the Fraternity's second chapter in 1849. After a brief absence from campus, Phi Delta Theta re-colonized on October 15 following a staff-driven recruitment effort. The colonization ceremony took place at Indiana University's famous Memorial Union. The colony will be working to achieve three main goals: To once again become a chapter of Phi Delta Theta, to reoccupy its castle-like chapter house, and to bring back the Phi Delt Bike Team that participates in Indiana University's annual Little 500 race.

Ohio Alpha (Miami University): Phi Delta Theta returned to its birthplace on Saturday, October 28. After a staff-driven recruitment effort, Phi Delta Theta hosted the colonization ceremony at the General Headquarters in Oxford. The colony members, who are all upperclassmen, will continue to recruit throughout the fall while working to recruit a freshman class this Spring. Big plans have been made to renovate the chapter house as the colony works towards becoming a chapter. The Ohio Alpha chapter boasts such famous alumni as: Benjamin Harrison (23rd U.S. President), Weeb Ewbank (NFL Hall of Fame Coach), and John Smale (Former Chairman of Proctor & Gamble and General Motors).

Installations

Texas Tau (The University of Texas at El Paso): The initiation and installation ceremonies of the Texas Tau chapter at UTEP took place on November 10–11 respectively. The chapter at UTEP became Phi Delta Theta's 14th active chapter in the state of Texas, and became the Fraternity's second Tau chapter (California). General Council Member-at-Large, Chris Lapple, presided over the weekend's activities alongside Province President, John Jones, GHQ staff members, local alumni volunteers, and undergraduates from the Arizona Gamma chapter at Northern Arizona University. Dr. Diana Natalicio, President of UTEP, Dr. Richard Padilla, VP of Student Affairs, and Amy Maczko, Greek Advisor all attended the installation luncheon and addressed those in attendance.

Pennsylvania Iota (The University of Pittsburgh): The Pennsylvania Iota chapter at Pitt was first installed on January 2, 1918. After being absent from campus for nearly a decade, an interest group emerged on campus and quickly led Phi Delta Theta to success. General Council Reporter, Scott Mietchen, presided over the weekend's ceremonies alongside Province President, Chris Brussalis, Pittsburgh Alumni Club President, Dan DiMarco, GHQ staff members, local alumni volunteers, and undergraduates from Clarion University (Pa. Xi), Robert Morris University (Pa. Pi), and West Virginia University (W.Va. Alpha). Greg Dell'Omo, President of Robert Morris University and father of chapter President Nick Dell'Omo, was initiated with the rest of the brothers. The initiation of the Phi Delta Theta's newest members took place at the world-renowned Cathedral of Learning on Pittsburgh's campus.

How Phi Delta Theta expands

- Have you ever wondered how new colonies of Phi Delta Theta develop?
- Do you constantly wonder when your chapter is going back on campus?
- If so, the following information will help explain the protocols Phi Delta Theta's expansion program uses to establish new colonies.

Cold Start Expansion Projects

Phi Delta Theta's expansion program schedules three to five "cold start" expansion projects each year. "Cold start" projects are scheduled at campuses where we have previously been or at new campuses that our Survey Commission deems ideal. For those projects that involve a return to campus, the expansion team collaborates with that chapter's alumni to create a Chapter Advisory Board, House Corporation Board (if applicable), and a recruitment strategy. A month-long period of the school year is then allocated for the Fraternity's expansion consultants to begin recruiting on campus. During the month, the expansion consultants execute a marketing/advertising campaign, make presentations to student organizations and sororities, meet and begin forming relationships with key leaders and personnel on campus, host large group recruitment events, conduct one-on-one meetings and interviews with potential members, plan a colonization ceremony, and facilitate the colony's first goal-setting retreat, executive meeting, and colony meeting. The goal is for the expansion "cold start" calendar to be planned and kept full for three years into the future.

Uprising of interest groups

TENNESSEE ALPHA

UNIVERSITY

Many times, a group of college men will contact the Fraternity about their desire to start a chapter of Phi Delta Theta. Interest groups form at both campuses where we have previously been and new campuses. In most cases, an interest group is led by a legacy of Phi Delta Theta or a friend of a Phi Delt. These campuses are generally not on the expansion calendar, but the formation of an interest group expedites the process of waiting in line on the "cold start" calendar. An effort is being made to seek referrals of student-leaders on campuses where Phi Delta Theta is not present, who may have the desire and initiative to start a chapter. Once an interest group forms, the expansion team makes a visit to that campus to meet the interested group of students. If the character of the group is one that our General Council and Survey Commission finds attractive, the expansion teams moves forward in the development of a new colony.

Alumni-driven recruitment efforts

The prerequisites for this model include:

1. Phi Delta Theta has been on campus before,
2. A group of at least 20 alumni are willing to form a "Phi Development Team" (which transitions into a House Corporation and Chapter Advisory Board,
3. The chapter has been closed for four or more years (unless the University has agreed upon an earlier return),
4. The University supports our return, and
5. The General Council and Survey Commission approve the campus. The Phi Development team is trained by GHQ staff members to perform similar actions taken on a staff-driven "cold start" project. This protocol allows those closed chapters with outstanding alumni support to work hand in hand to bring their chapter back sooner.

Merging local fraternities into colonies of Phi Delta Theta

Throughout Phi Delta Theta's history, the Fraternity has periodically transitioned local fraternities into colonies of Phi Delta Theta. Generally, local fraternities come to us desiring the benefits of being associated with an International Fraternity. In these cases, an in-depth evaluation of the local fraternity is made by the GHQ staff. With the support of the General Council and Survey Commission, a decision is made whether or not the group would be a positive asset to Phi Delta Theta. If so, an extensive educational plan is carried out by the expansion team to create a smooth operational transition.

Most recent local group merger:

Scholarship-driven recruitment efforts

MISSOURI BETA PRIME

The presence of scholarships on a local level or the allocation of funds to go towards a scholarship creates a useful resource for the recruitment efforts on a specific campus. If this situation presents itself, scholarship applications are sent to targeted students on that campus. The completed applications create a pool of students to recruit. Once this pool of students is created, the expansion team and local alumni work to present both the scholarship(s) and the Fraternity to these students. Those students who are interested in starting a chapter begin working towards colonization.

OU Alpha House Refurbishment Project

The Oklahoma Alpha chapter of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity has a long and distinguished history on the University of Oklahoma campus, dating back to 1918. This includes many outstanding awards including the Harvard Trophy in 1957. The chapter was off campus during a brief period in the 1990s and returned to campus in 2000. In six short years, the chapter ranks have grown to over 75 members and 48 phikeias. The chapter was recognized as a Harvard Trophy Honorable Mention chapter at the 2006 Biennial Convention held in Kansas City. The chapter was also the recipient of the coveted President's Trophy presented by OU President David Boren to the most outstanding organization on the OU campus in 2005.

The Oklahoma Alpha house was designed by architect Frank Lubbock Davies, Jr., Oklahoma Alpha '46, in the late 1950s. The chapter house has always had the reputation of being one of the most attractive houses on campus. Since returning to campus, the Oklahoma Alpha chapter has worked to restore the house to its past glory without incurring needless debt. The house had been leased to another Greek organization that destroyed key elements of the house. Furniture was brought in from garage sales and other random sources strictly for utilitarian purposes. Slowly the chapter has attempted to repair damage as funds allowed. This has been accomplished through a partnership with the chapter, led by President Eric Walker, and the University of Oklahoma Phi Delta Theta Parents Association that has provided manpower and money to make needed repairs. This past spring, parent volunteers offered to spearhead an effort to redecorate the main rooms of the house. ASID Designer Sally Heard Davies, an alumna of the University of Oklahoma and wife of Oklahoma Alpha alumnus Buck Davies, was selected to formulate an interior design concept for the house. Her ties to the origins of the chapter house are even deeper than imagined as Buck's father is Frank L. Davies, the original architect. Mrs. Davies had experience with the redecoration of other Greek houses in Oklahoma. Thus, the chapter and Parents Association embarked on a project to refurbish the Oklahoma Alpha chapter house.

A fund raising event held during the chapter's Moms' Weekend in March of 2006 netted the majority of funds raised. Parents of chapter members enthusiastically endorsed the project and contributed generously at this event. Several alumni of the Oklahoma Alpha pledge class of 1970, Bruce Holmboe, Keith Hopkins, Dan McAdams, Bill Pruitt and Tom Pruitt, sponsored key items for the design.

The parents of one of the chapter's members donated a four by five foot carved mahogany replica of the Phi Delta Theta crest to serve as the focal piece of the main reception room. Kurt Moessner, "The Sign Carver", of Palmyra, Pennsylvania, was retained to carve the crest. This truly became an artistic challenge as Mr. Moessner painstakingly carved the intricate details of the Phi Delta crest including the foliate scroll and banner. He used gold and palladium leaf for certain elements of the crest and even located a blue topaz for the sword. The results were spectacular and Mr. Moessner freely admits that this was the project of a lifetime. The combination of artistic and technical talents needed to produce the end result demanded years of expertise in the field. The crest arrived in July of 2006 and has been hung over the fireplace in the main reception room, a tribute to an outstanding chapter, the national Fraternity and a dedicated artisan.

Mrs. Davies and parent volunteers participated in the purchase and installation of the entrance hall and main reception room décor. The results truly highlight the original beauty of the architect's design. Artifacts from the chapter's history and pictures of the Fraternity's founders fill the walls. The furniture reflects the history of the University of Oklahoma with elements dating back to the Mission style period, popular when the University was founded in the late 1800s but with a decidedly modern approach. Mrs. Davies' placement of furniture allows for comfortable seating areas throughout the room, all the while allowing the original masterful architectural elements to shine through.

The dedication of a plaque honoring those who participated in the fundraising efforts that brought about this incredible transformation was held during the annual Parents' Weekend in November. Enthusiasm is also building for further refurbishment projects throughout the house. The room settings now more accurately reflect a chapter with a distinguished past and an even brighter future. The chapter welcomes Phi Delta Theta alumni to stop by the house when on campus to see the results. Chapter president, Eric Walker, also welcomes any further questions or comments at ewalk@ou.edu.

On October 7, undergraduates and alumni gathered for a presentation to honor our longtime chapter adviser Stephen Jones, '69. In a total surprise to "Jonesy", a new patio garden in the front of our chapter house was named "The Stephen C. Jones Alumni Garden." The dedication was presided over by DePauw's Director of Media Relations, Ken Owen, '82. On October 28th, alumni, active brothers and Phikeia alike celebrated Phi Delta Theta's 45th year at Drake University by hosting a luncheon and reception at the chapter house. The chapter was lucky enough to be able to honor John "Jack" Fletcher, Iowa '51, one of the Des Moines area Phis instrumental in bringing a chapter to Drake 45 years ago. Brother Fletcher went on to serve on the Iowa Delta Householding Corporation for the next 35 years and continues to advise the current housing corporation on day-to-day operations.

The housing corporation also kicked off its first annual "Ghosts for the Future" capital campaign and formed the Ghosts for the Future Campaign Committee. The committee is named for the "Ghosts of Past" party that the actives host for the alumni during the Drake Relays each year. The committee will conduct fundraising operations dedicated to making much needed capital improvements to the chapter house. Any alumni interested in participating in or donating to the campaign should e-mail Tim Coonan (#713) at drakephidelts@hotmail.com. The committee is planning a dinner in Des Moines on the Friday of Relays (April 27, 2007) for alumni and significant others. This dinner will coincide with the 30-year reunion for the class of 1977. More details to follow. —Gerald Hacker

In September, we had our third annual Greek Charity Volleyball Tournament. This year's tournament benefited three-year-old Charlie Hawkins, son of Kevin Hawkins, '93. Charlie has left hemiplegic cerebral palsy, and while he has made significant strides, his treatments are very expensive and not covered by traditional insurance. We raised $2,500 and the tournament winners, Chi Omega and Kappa Sigma, each received $500 to donate to their favorite charities. We would like to thank our event corporate sponsor Northeast Mississippi Coca-Cola Bottling Company. You can learn more about Charlie's condition at www.childrenlikecharlie.org.

We have accomplished much in the past year. Not only did we receive a Community Service Citation, Improvement Citation and Recruitment Award for the second year, but we also went from 17th (out of 21 fraternities) to a sixth place academic standing for the spring.

We welcomed 16 new Phikeia this fall bringing our chapter count to 69 with Brothers from all over the United States. We have six members on the football team and three on the lacrosse team.

The wonderful condition of our house is a major deciding factor for rushees, and we appreciate all the support from our alumni. Please feel free to stop by during basketball or football games, or any time you are passing through Chapel Hill.

With the leadership of Shoff Allison, '98, we established a new professorship that is only the second endowed chair to be funded by a fraternity at UNC. 243 donors raised nearly $736,000 in gifts and pledges for the Phi Delta Theta/Matthew Mason Professorship, named in honor of the late Matthew Mason, a beloved, long-time employee of our house. The professorship qualifies for a matching grant of $334,000 from the North Carolina Distinguished Professors Endowment Trust Fund, bringing the endowment to more than $1 million.

On September 17 we presented 22 scholarships to undergraduate students at the University. Both current chapter members and incoming first-year students not affiliated with Phi Delta Theta were recognized with scholarships ranging from $250–$2,500. The funds for these are managed by the Educational Foundation and come from contributions from alumni and undergrads. The Kautz Family Foundation of Tucson, Ariz., provided a generous gift for this year's program. Over 100 alumni, students and families attended the reception and dinner. University of South Dakota

Throughout the recent years, we have worked hard to uphold the honor and dignity of Phi Delta Theta, and the spring semester of 2006 and the current fall semester have been no different. We took home the Outstanding Chapter Award and awards for excellence in scholarship, campus leadership, Greek leadership, and risk reduction and management from the

USD Greek Awards Ceremony last May. With these and the awards at General Convention (Kansas City Trophy, House of the Year, Biggers Ritual Trophy, Gold Star, #1 Scholarship, and Community Service), the stage is set for the current school year as we celebrate 100 years of existence. As part of Dakota Days, our Homecoming celebration, we made a serious effort to bring back as many alumni as possible. We had a social gathering at the Silver Dollar, a local restaurant, with 150 Brothers, followed the next day by our house corporation meeting and a luncheon at the house following the parade. —Adam Roseland

The Brothers of Texas Delta recently threw a surprise 81st birthday party for brother J. Quincy Adams Jr., '49, in Dallas. More than 150 Phis showed up to express their gratitude.

Quincy had been chapter adviser there for 15 years. He also received the Fraternity's Raymond L. Gardner Alumnus Award for 1966 and the Legion of Honor for 2000.

Texas Delta Chapter presented Quincy with a plaque commemorating its grateful appreciation for his 50 years of alumni service (1955-2005). The Fraternity then presented him with "birthday greetings" signed by Educational Foundation President Rusty Richardson, General Council President Mike Scarlatelli and Executive Vice President Bob Biggs. Also presented (but not read) was a "spiteful" birthday letter to Quincy from former Executive V.P. Bob Miller, another in their long and bitter dispute as to who is the older. They both attended the Centennial Convention.

Many more, Brother Adams!

2006-2007 FELLOWSHIP GRANTS

Educational Foundation Fellowships: An Unprecedented Year!

By Carmalieta Dellinger Jenkins

Twenty graduate and professional students have received graduate fellowships from the Educational Foundation for the 2006-2007 academic year. They were chosen from a field rich with thirty-nine applicants. Each of the recipients received a grant of $3,000.

The Foundation owes very special thanks to the men who judged the fellowship applications this year. Dr. Edward G. Whipple, Hanover '74, once again served as chairman. Also serving again on the judging committee were Dr. C. A. Sandeen, Miami '60; Kenneth E. Glass, Cincinnati '63; George R. Porosky, Akron '63 and Norman E. Allen, Pacific '88.

Marvin J. Perry
Maryland '53

When Marvin J. Perry walked into the General Headquarters in the winter of 1953 to begin his 26-month service as a Field Secretary, Phi Delta Theta became a better Fraternity. Indeed, it was a sad day when he left, but Brothers in this position were expected to remain on the job for only two years and Marv had already exceeded the requirement by two months. There was never any question about the sincerity of his devotion to Phi Delta Theta, especially his involvement with the chapter of his initiation. He was soon named president of Delta Province which included the states of Maryland and Virginia, a position he held for over nine years. He was elected to the Board of Trustees of the Fraternity's Educational Foundation in 1985 where he greatly assisted the growth of that fund over the following twelve years. All the time, he retained a day-to-day interest in Maryland Alpha and the institution it represents.

Brother Perry was born in Burlington, Iowa and served in the U.S. Army in Germany in the late 1940s before entering the University of Maryland. In 1955, he founded Marvin J. Perry & Associates in Kensington, Md. as a wholesale furniture business working with the interior design trade, the hotel industry and federal agencies. In the 1960s he had an exclusive contract to provide furnishings for the homes of State Department employees and other federal workers around the world.

For his untiring efforts on behalf of his Fraternity, he was presented the organization's highest award, the Legion of Merit, in 2000. The University of Maryland Alumni Association granted to him the Tyser Gottwals Award for his service to the University, and Drexel Heritage Furniture Industries, Inc., with whom he was associated for many years, named him "Salesman of the Century" in 2003.

He is survived by his wife, Carol Ann, three daughters, a sister, a brother and 11 grandchildren.

Gifts in memory of Brother Perry may be made to the Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation, 2 S. Campus Avenue, Oxford, Ohio 45056 or online at www.phideltatheta.org.

Theodore G. Maragos
University of North Dakota '55

Former General Council member Ted Maragos died October 25, 2006 after a battle with cancer. Brother Maragos served on the General Council from 1966-1970, and also worked as a chapter consultant for the General Headquarters from 1956-1958.

Professionally, Maragos was an attorney and served as the youngest legislator ever elected to the North Dakota House of Representatives and was voted the most outstanding legislator during the 1960-1962 session.

Ralph O. Taylor
Missouri '40

Ralph O. Taylor, the 2000 Raymond L. Gardner Alumnus of the Year, passed away on September 6, 2006 at the age of 87.

Brother Taylor was a champion for his family, the Fraternity and his alma mater. He best expressed this sentiment on April 8, 2000 when he threw the first pitch at the new University of Missouri baseball field, "The Ralph and Debbie Taylor—Phi Delta Theta Stadium."

Born in Kansas City, Missouri in 1919, Brother Taylor spent most of his life in and around this Midwestern city. He attended the University of Missouri, where he was initiated into the Fraternity and graduated in 1940 with a bachelor's degree in Business and Public Administration.

In 1942, Brother Taylor joined the United States Navy, and was active in amphibious landings in the South Pacific, Guadalcanal area and Mediterranean Sea. He received an honorable discharge from the Service in 1946, but not before being decorated with the Bronze Star for extreme bravery.

Upon returning to civilian life, he began a career as a home builder in the Kansas City area and was an active member of the Kansas City Alumni Club of Phi Delta Theta. Brother Taylor was a charter member of the National Association of Home Builders, and he served as the president of the Home Builders Association of Greater Kansas City for several years. In 1979, he was recognized as the Builder of the Year. During his career, the company he led, Sturgeon & Taylor, developed over 20 subdivisions and built over 3,000 homes.

He retired to Fort Lauderdale in the mid-1980s and pursued his passion for pleasure boats. He became active in the Ft. Lauderdale Alumni Club of Phi Delta Theta and took a great interest in the club's community service endeavor, the Florida Ocean Science Institute (FOSI), a program designed to help wayward boys and girls.

Brother Taylor is survived by his wife, Debbie; a son, R. Bradley Taylor, Kansas State '68, and his wife, Marilyn; a daughter, Nancy Stevens; sister, Janet Ludwigs; four grandchildren; and one great-grandchild.

Our Hall of Fame...The Living Bond Society

We have a "Hall of Fame" at Phi Delta Theta, a place where we honor individuals and couples with outstanding insight and discernment. Visionaries who look beyond the here and now to the then and there. Futurists. Donors who are perceptive enough to see that we begin meeting tomorrow's needs today by making planned gifts and bequests.

We call our Hall of Fame, "The Living Bond Society." Our heroes include those who have named the Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation in their wills. They have designated a portion of their estate to be used for one of the many educational and leadership programs or for unrestricted purposes for programs with the greatest need.

Honorees include those who have obtained a charitable gift annuity with the Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation. These philanthropic Hall of Famers have released assets now to the Foundation while maintaining an income stream for as long as they live.

Members of The Living Bond Society also include donors who have placed major assets in a charitable trust, not only to meet personal income needs during life, but to also benefit Phi Delta Theta in the years ahead. They, too, deserve a standing ovation.

We likewise applaud our Brothers who have named the Phi Delta Theta Educational Foundation as a beneficiary of their individual retirement account or an insurance policy. These Phis reveal a winning attitude as they invest in the future of Phi Delta Theta. They excel in their commitment to permanence.

It's not the amount you give that earns you a place in The Living Bond Society. Rather, it's the excellence of your astuteness—seeing tomorrow's needs today. Joining The Living Bond Society is a wonderful way to leave your own legacy and pay tribute to your membership in Phi Delta Theta.

We would like to induct you into The Living Bond Society, our planned giving Hall of Fame. We want to honor you and place your name beside other champions who have made similar gifts to Phi Delta Theta.
